POETRY.

IN THE GARDEN PICKING PEAS.

I.

I've gone the rounds of Saratoga
And summered at Cape May,
Where catching husbands is in vogue,
At least when it will pay;
But never thought to change my state,
A bachelor at ease,
Till blue-eyed Nellie sealed my fate,
In the garden picking peas.

II.

For folly's flounce and furbelow
I never cared a pin;
They are but silken nets to throw
To catch a husband in;
But how it was I cannot tell,
She won my heart with ease
When first I strolled with bonnie Nell,
In the garden picking peas.

III.

I firmly vowed there should be one
To spurn a woman's thrall;
Though beauty's self should tempt me on
I'll tease and shun them all.
But why should I the truth deny?
'Twas on my bending knees,
Sweet Nellie bound the silken tie
In the garden picking peas.

IV.

Ye bachelors, take my advice,
And you will quickly prove
That man is never truly wise
Till he is deep in love.
And would you learn the surest way
To fall in love with ease?
With some sweet Nellie take a stray
In the garden picking peas.

THE COMING.

It came with the early daybreak—
None abroad but the fisher boy—
It came with a cry like anguish,
But it was the cry of joy.

The robins knew of its coming,
The blue-eyed violets knew;
The robin's song was sweeter,
The violets sweeter blue.

There had come another singer,
(The robins well might sing),
And another blue-eyed playmate
Unto the flowers of spring.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

THE FAMILY PLATE.

Towards the close of September, Charley Dunham sent word to me to come down into Mapperley Wood and have some shooting.

"Besides," wrote Charley, "a fellow named Hatfield is here, courting sister May. She got acquainted with him at the seaside last Summer, and they are going to be married about Christmas. He is a curious chap, and I want you to give me your opinion of him."

I had already had some experience of the hospitality of Mapperley House, and I was nothing loth to accept Charley's invitation. The blue eyes of his sister May were well worth going a long way to look at, and I had some curiosity to see the man who was to be made happy for life in their light.

So on the day following the receipt of Charley Dunham's invitation, I packed up a carpet bag and took the morning train for Mapperley House.

When I reached the house I was introduced at once to Hatfield, who was standing on the steps with May, awaiting my arrival. He was a soft voiced, pleasant-looking man, not over twenty-five, and with the easy air which is ever captivating to the feminine heart.

I shook hands as cordially as a man who was unable to feel otherwise than a little jealous of him could, and having saluted May Dunham, we all went into the house together.

One morning while hunting, Charley and I unbushed a flock of partridges, and when they settled again the dogs were unable to find them.

In our endeavors to discover the lost birds we became widely separated, and at last, towards twelve o'clock, tired with the morning's work, I resolved to return to the house.

As I approached the grounds of the mansion I heard voices in the shrubbery, one of which I recognized as Hatfield's, and so stopped to listen whether the other was not Charley's.

"I tell you," said Hatfield, "that I must have more money."

"And I say," returned the other, who I instantly perceived was not Charley, but a stranger, "that I have advanced all I am going to on this cursed nonsense. I don't see any likelihood of getting a return for my investment."

"I've done all that I agreed to do," said Hatfield.

"You promised to marry the girl," said the other.

"Well, I am engaged to be married to her."

"But you have fallen in love with her, too."

"What of that?"

"Much. If you have got spooney in the matter, there is very little chance of my getting my money back. When we struck this bargain, Daniel Hatfield, it was to be merely a business arrangement. Now you've broken faith and got sweet on her, and you know as well as I do, that if you marry her, not one dollar of her money shall I ever set eyes on."

"Tom Burns," said Hatfield, "I told you when I was in trouble six months ago, that if you would pay off my debts and advance me enough to live on until next year, I would undertake to marry a rich girl, and that you should be paid for your investment at least four fold out of my future wife's estate. May Dunham will be worth a million on her father's death, and her marriage settlement will not be less than quarter of that. And if you hold to your bargain as I have so far held to mine, you must let me have another installment at once."

"I have a better plan than that in my head," returned the other. "Walk down toward the town with me while I explain it to you. This is a dangerous place to discuss a secret like ours."

I parted the branches with my hand and looked through upon them as they moved away.

The stranger was a thick-set, red-haired man, with heavy jaws, and carried in his hand a stout stick.

The couple walked slowly down the lane toward the road, the stranger gesticulating in an explanatory manner, while Hatfield ever and anon interrupted him with a graceful movement of his arm, as though deprecating what his companion was saying.

Here was a conspiracy in good earnest. I leaned back against the fence considerably astonished and not a little bewildered at what I ought to do. Finally, however, I resolved to keep quiet at present and say nothing about it.

A day or two after this, while we were at breakfast, there came a letter in the morning post, addressed to Charley.

"That looks remarkably like the governor's handwriting," said Charley, looking at it and breaking the seal. "What's up now, I wonder?"

He dived at once into its contents, and in a moment pushed his plate away with a movement of annoyance.

"He's coming home day after to-morrow," he said. "Bother! Why couldn't he stay his time out?"

May looked at him out of her tender blue eyes reproachfully.

"That isn't the worst of it, either," continued Charley, not heeding her. "He's going to bring company with him—old Mr. Pedroncelli and his wife."

"Mr. Pedroncelli!" exclaimed May.

"Yes. We'll all have to toe the mark while he's here, confound him. Coming events cast their shadows before. Here's a postscript about the family plate."

"What about the family plate?" asked May.

"He says it must be got home and rubbed up in honor of our distinguished visitor, who is of a very aristocratic family and used to considerable splendor in all his surroundings. He says we must fix up the north chamber as handsomely as possible. I see we are to have a regular old martinet with us. Good-bye to all our fun."

The necessary orders were given, and on the following day the plate came home. It was a most elegant service and consisted of a great many pieces, so many, in fact, that the three housemaids were kept busy throughout the whole day in scouring it up and getting it ready for use.

At night it was arranged upon the various tiers of the great oak sideboard in the long dining-room and covered up with a green cloth.

The room assigned me during my stay was in the east gable of the house and directly over the dining-hall.

The family retired to rest about the usual hour, but I was unable to sleep. The dog, Cruso, too, seemed unusually wakeful. He came beneath my windows at intervals of five or ten minutes and vented his uneasiness in a series of low howls, so lugubrious that I jumped out of bed at last, and opening the window, reproved him sharply.

I attributed the dog's nervousness to the approaching storm, and finally, unable to endure his noise any longer, went down stairs into the front hall and let him in.

No sooner had I opened the door than he bolted past me like a shot and disappeared.

Supposing that the dog had been frightened at the wind and sought a place of safety under the stairs or somewhere else, I gave up the search and returned to my room, laughing at Charley's faith in the courage of his mastiff.

Toward midnight I must have dropped asleep, for it was not long after that when I awoke with a sudden start and a vague sensation of terror.

It seemed to me that a terrible crash had rung through the house, so loud and fearful that the very foundations of the earth had been shaken.

I arose and threw open the shutters. The night was still intensely dark and the west was echoing with the low mutterings of distant thunder.

"I have been dreaming," I thought, "and the wind had frightened me."

Once more I returned to bed and this time did not awake till the daylight, cold and gray, came struggling through the window.

I had not finished my morning toilet before I heard a piercing scream in the hall below and a hurried scampering up stairs. Then Charley came dashing in, flushed with intense excitement.

"Come down stairs," he cried. "For God's sake, keep this thing from May."

"What do you mean?" I said standing still in amazement.

He made no reply, but taking me hurriedly by the arm, led me down the stairs. Pushing open the door with his foot he pointed to a dark object lying at the farther end of the dining room.

The floor and the walls of the apartment were half covered with blood, and a little red and sickening stream was flowing silently across the carpet and trickling beneath the door.

Cruso, the mastiff, his jaws reeking with blood, stood in the centre of the room growling fiercely, while the elegant service of plate was scattered about in dire confusion, some of the salvers and pitchers battered and bruised, and tinged, like everything else, with the dreadful hue of blood.

I went with Charley across the room and looked at the dark object in the corner.—With a cry of horror I started back aghast, for the face of the corpse was turned toward me, and the face was that of Daniel Hatfield.

We hardly knew how to relate the dreadful news to May, but we mustered courage at last and told her all. Poor thing! It stunned and bewildered her at first, but time brought healing to the cruel wound, and when I told her of what I had heard in the shrubbery, she thanked God for her fearful escape.

The letter from Charley's father had been a forgery from first to last, and a clever ruse to get the plate into the house.

It would have been an easy matter then to secure it, had the dog remained outside as usual. But fate had ordered otherwise.

Burns made his escape in time, and we never heard anything of him again. The two had played a desperate card, but it was Cruso who held the trumps.

BARRING OUT THE MASTER.

"My early life was made miserable by one Mulberry Bangs, a gentleman of the old school, who devoted himself to reading, writing and arithmetic, and the general use of the stick. Upon my head and other parts of my person he imprinted himself so positively that I can see him now as plainly as if we had parted but yesterday. He was a stout man, who made in his figure, when made in profile, Hogarth's line of beauty, being round shouldered and crooked in the legs. He was a blonde. The hair of his head had that sunny tinge so much admired to-day, and when rubbed down with a tallow candle, as was his wont to dress it, was so smooth and straight that the boys believed that the flies slipped down it and broke their legs. His eyes were dark and fierce, and hid under the cavernous recesses made by his bushy red eye-brows, seemed to watch like evil spirits over his precious nose. The nose was a ruby nose, bottle in shape, and when Bangs was angry, which appeared to be all the time, it glowed like the headlight of a locomotive. His mouth was finished without lips, and resembled a slit in a piece of sole leather. * * *

"Old Bangs was famous for his power of resistance, and boasted that no school of his had ever succeeded in barring him out.—There were two big boys in school named Bill Henning and Bob Strong. They were knotty-headed, broad shouldered and hard-fisted fellows, who worked through the summer for means to attend school during the winter. Each in turn had been unmercifully whipped by the master, and it was understood throughout the school that the barring out of Master Bangs was to be accomplished, and old scores settled. The evening before the general engagement Bill and Bob, our noble leaders, with a few confederates, stole back to the school-house, armed with hickory poles. Breaking open the door, they whittled one of these tough saplings to a point, and then hardened the points in the fire. Then placing them in a corner, ready for use, with a stout [illegible], they gave orders to the boys willing to take part in the fight to be on hand at the school-house before daylight the next morning.

As the time approached for the master's coming a dread silence fell upon the [illegible], so that when he did come we could hear his heavy tread upon the [illegible] their posts on each side of the door, and, on being ordered to surrender, boldly demanded a week's holiday and a treat of cider and apples. This was sternly refused. 'Fire!' cried Bill and Bob, and two poles were thrust out with all the strength the stout arms could give them. They took the indignant pedagogue in the sides with such force that but for a thick flannel overcoat holes might have been made in his wicked body. As it was, he staggered back, and for twenty minutes or more we saw him sitting upon a log catching his breath and rubbing his wounded sides.

"At the end of twenty minutes the master arose. Digging a large stone from the snow he approached and threw it with great violence against the door. The stout oak batting fairly shook under the blow, but held its own. Another and another followed, amid jeers and laughter, encouraged by our noble leaders to keep up the courage of their followers. The fourth stone split the door, and the fifth broke the upper wooden hinge, and but for the barricade within, the breach would have been available. The enemy now being aware of the defense within suddenly dropped the stone and ran in at the door. We were not to be taken by surprise. Again were the sharp lances thrust out. One hit with decided effect in the commissary, vulgarly called stomach; the other, as he stooped double by the pain, in the face, inflicting an ugly wound, from which the blood flowed in profusion. He retreated, and we saw him fairly dance with rage and pain. The more of this he indulged in the wilder grew our delight, which we testified in screams of laughter. He soon ended this exhibition and disappeared around the school-house, evidently on a reconnoissance. There was dead silence, and we realized that which we have so often felt since the unknown movement of a silent enemy. This was ended by a noise upon the roof and soon a volume of smoke pouring into the room told us that strategy had taken the place of assault. We were to be smoked out. Then Bill and Bob, selecting four of the stoutest poles, thrust them up the chimney, and at the word we gave, to use our own phrase, 'a bloody hist.' The consequences were a rattling of falling boards, with the unmistakable thump of a heavier body upon the ground. We found afterward that the master had not only covered the chimney with boards, but had seated himself upon them; the sudden and unexpected 'hist' had tumbled him off. We heard dismal groans and cries for relief from the enemy. Some were in favor of going at once to his assistance; others, more cautious, opposed such a merciful errand. 'He's hollerin' too loud to be hurt much,' said shrewd Bob.

"We had a division in our council of war. This ended in a call for a volunteer to make a sortie and investigate. Jack Loder, one of the most daring and active among the younger boys, responded. A shutter, on the opposite side, to the cries for help was opened quickly, and Jack thrust out. The result of this was not only a cessation of groaning, but a chase that was witnessed through the port-holes. Jack was a good runner, and when the two disappeared over the meadow into the willow thicket, Jack was gaining on him, and we had good hopes of his escape. To our dismay and horror, in half an hour we saw the master returning with poor Jack in his grasp. He had a hostage, and was swift in his use of the advantage. Stopping before the house he began whipping the poor fellow unmercifully. Jack's cries were piteous. 'Oh, let him in, boys; let him in; he's a killin' o' me!' rung in our ears. There was a hurried consultation. The benches and desks were quietly removed from the door. A sortie had been determined on. The master stood at the side of the house south of the door, and as soon as the opening was made, Bill unclosed a shutter and proposed a parley. The answer was a rush at the open window by the master, who began climbing in. Brave little Jack seized him by the legs, and before he could kick him off a dozen stout lads were clinging to them, while as many more held him on the inside. Bill seized the rope and attempted to pass the noose over his arms. In the hurry and confusion of the fight he succeeded only in getting it over his head. Pulling it as the boys did, there was a fair prospect of ending the useful labors of this teacher by strangulation. That he deserved it, no one of us doubted; but Bob, having climbed over the master in the window, and with all the school pulling at the ends of old Bangs, was soon master of the situation. Getting hold of the rope, and assisted by Bill, he succeeded in tying the arms of the almost exhausted man to his sides. He was then tumbled from the window as unceremoniously as a pig.

"'Will you give up?' demanded our leader.

"'No,' gasped the master.

"'Then we'll put you down the well, hanged if we don't!'

"The brave old pedagogue still refusing, he was dragged, rolled and tumbled to the well curb.

"'Will you give up, dern you?' demanded Bob.

"'No; I won't!'

"He was shoved inside of the bucket and orders given to lower. But the weight proved too much for the lads, and, the crank of the windlass slipping from their grasp, the learning of our district went whirling to the bottom with a thundering noise befitting such an exit. This was more than we bargained for. Had we really murdered the master? Bob and Bill, assisted by the stoutest, began pulling up the unfortunate old fellow. It was hard work, and, tugging at the windlass, they just caught a glimpse of his blonde head when a wild cry of 'Fire!' caused them to let go, and again the venerable Bangs rattled down with a splash in the water. The school-house was on fire; the chunks pulled out by the boys had communicated to the floor and the dry old concern was in a blaze. A few neighbors who just then arrived gave the alarm, and attempted to extinguish the flames. To do this, they called for water, and the first bucket brought up contained the vanquished teacher. He came up with his teeth chattering, and, when lifted out and untied, was too weak to stand or sit. The school-house burned down. The master was carried to a neighbor's house, and for weeks hung between life and death. We felt ourselves to be little heroes for a while, but as we grew older and felt how very badly we had acted, there was not one of us but would have given something to be able to wipe out from memory's page the account of our "barring out the master."

THE TWO BILLS—A FABLE.

Two bills were waiting in the bank for their turn to go out into the world. One was a little bill—only one dollar; the other a big bill—a thousand dollars. While lying there side by side they fell a talking about their usefulness. The one dollar bill murmured out:

"Ah, if I were as big as you, what good I would do. I could move in such high places, and people would be very careful of me wherever I should go. Everybody would admire and want to take me home with them, but, small as I am, what good can I do; nobody cares much for me; I'm too little to be of much use."

"Ah, you think so?" said the thousand dollar bill, and it laughingly [illegible] up its well trimmed edges that were lying next the little bill in conscious superiority.

"That it is so," it repeated. "If you were as great as I am—a thousand times larger than you are—then you might hope to do some good in the world." And its face smiled into a wrinkle of contempt for the little dollar bill.

Just then the cashier comes, takes the little murmuring bill, and kindly gives it to a poor widow.

"God bless you!" she cries, as with a smiling face she receives it. "My dear hungry children can now have some bread."

A thrill of joy ran through the little bill as it was folded up in the widow's hand, and it whispered:

"I may do some good, if I am small."

And when it saw the bright faces of the fatherless children it was very glad it could do a little good.

Then the little dollar began its journey of usefulness. It went first to the baker for bread; then to the miller; then to the farmer; then to the laborer; and then to the doctor; and then to the minister; and wherever it went, it gave pleasure, adding something to their comfort and joy.

At last, after a long pilgrimage of usefulness among every sort of people, it came back to the bank again, crumpled, defaced, ragged, softened by its daily use. Seeing the thousand dollar bill lying there with scarcely a wrinkle or finger mark upon it, it exclaimed:

"Pray, sir, and what has been your mission of usefulness?"

The big bill sadly replied:

"I have been from safe to safe among the rich, where few could see me, and they were afraid to let me go out far, lest I should be lost. Few indeed are they whom I have made happy by my mission."

The little dollar bill said:

"It is better to be small and go among multitudes doing good than to be so great as to be imprisoned in the safes of the few."

And it rested satisfied with its lot.

Moral: The doing little every day duties makes one the most useful and happy.

A SUDDEN THOUGHT.

Just after dinner the other day, as a citizen was about to enter the City Hall, he was observed to come to a sudden halt, slap his leg, and then heard to call out:

"Well, I'll be hanged!"

"Lost your wallet?" inquired a man on the steps, who knew him.

"No!" replied the first, as his hand went up his breast pocket. "I just happened to think of something. I went before a justice of the peace this morning and made affidavit that I heard a certain bargain between Smith and Jones about building a fence."

"Well! isn't that all right?"

"All right? No! I just happened to think that it was a bargain between Brown and Davis about a wagon that I heard."

"Well, it's all the same thing, I suppose?" carelessly remarked the man on the steps.

"Oh yes! I suppose so. But it sorts o' hurts me to find that I'm getting a little absent-minded—just a little forgetful."

Rahway talks of adopting the bill relating to the government of cities, made for Plainfield.

The movement to elect a "Citizen" or "Non-Partisan" ticket at the recent charter election of Orange, N. J., failed, the Democrats electing their entire ticket excepting in one ward.

The extra session of Congress convened at Washington on Tuesday last, choosing Mr. Randall as Speaker. No better choice could have been made.—Important appropriation bills will come before that body during their deliberations.

Now that the walking mania has about reached its zenith, we suppose the next fever will be that of Base Ball. We hope our home club, the "Crescents," who have won such laurels in times gone by, will put their grounds in good shape, re-organize with a good nine, and show their usual good record at the close of the season.

The fishing fleet which has been missing from Gloucester, Mass., has not as yet been heard of, and there are many desolate homes and hearts in consequence. Thirteen vessels in all are supposed to have been lost, carrying with them 143 men, and causing 53 widows and 137 fatherless children. Some of these vessels have been absent for from five to six weeks, and there can scarcely be ground for hope of their safety. Others have been gone for a short time.

The six day's walking contest at Gilmore's Garden, New York, for Sir John Astley's belt, came to an end Saturday night last, with Rowell, the English walker, ahead, Ennis second and Harriman third, O'Leary having withdrawn on the third day of the contest. Rowell made 500 miles, Ennis 475 and Harriman 450. The amount taken in from all sources was $54,314.40, of which Rowell received $18,398.30; Ennis, $11,038.98 and Harriman, $3,679.66.

Justice sometimes speedily overtakes the guilty. Within a week, two thieves entered a gentleman's residence in New York, while a third stood guard outside. One of those in the house was killed, his companion was captured, while the third escaped. Saturday the one who was caught was called up for sentence, and pleaded intoxication as the cause of the unpleasant dilemma in which he found himself. Receiving a severe lesson from the judge, he was sent to State Prison for eighteen years.

It is computed that there are eight million Catholics in the United States, and of these not more than one million five hundred thousand are heads of families. To pay Archbishop Purcell's debt would require from these three dollars a head. A pretty heavy tax now-a-days. "And remember," says a prominent Catholic publisher of New York to a New York Herald reporter, "that nine-tenths of the Catholics belong to the poorer classes, and, even as it is, they are fairly ground down under the weight of their church contributions."

Frederick W. Foote, editor and proprietor of the Elizabeth Daily Journal, died suddenly of Apoplexy at his residence, Tuesday evening last, in the 63rd year of his age. Mr. Foote was born in Newtown, Conn., sixty-three years ago, and has successfully conducted the Journal for the past seventeen years. He was a strong party man, a Republican, and was highly esteemed by all who knew him as an honest and pure-minded Christian gentleman. As a journalist he had but few equals among the fraternity in this State. His funeral occurs this (Friday) afternoon from St. John's Church, Elizabeth, at 3, P. M.

THE CATTLE DISEASE.

In accordance with the act passed by the last Legislature to prevent the spread of contagious or infectious pleuro-pneumonia among cattle in this State, Gov. McClellan has appointed Col. William H. Sterling as his agent and assistant to carry out the provisions of the act.

The act is very full and adequate in the provisions for the detection of the disease where it exists in this State, and the prevention of the introduction of diseased cattle in to the State.

Col. Sterling has proceeded to work under the authority conferred on him, and has taken hold of the subject intelligently and, as we believe will be proven, effectively.

PLAINFIELD'S NEW CHARTER.

Next week we shall publish in full the bill passed by the late Legislature, entitled "An act concerning cities having less than ten and more than six thousand inhabitants," which applies to Plainfield so that our citizens may then have a chance to peruse its provisions. We advise every subscriber in the city to preserve the same for future reference. We make no comments on the bill this week, having had no chance to study its entire provisions, but will do so in a future issue. The bill, however, has had the commendation of the best men in the State, and we have every reason to believe it is a popular and a well-drawn document, and should be carefully read by every voter. The Committee having the matter in charge to secure its passage, also those gentlemen who drew it up are entitled to credit for their labors, whether the bill becomes a law for Plainfield or not.—They did the work in an expeditious manner. Should the Common Council at their next meeting decide to call an election for the adoption of its provisions, the same would, in all probability, not occur before the middle of May, as thirty days notice must be given of such election by Ordinance. The Committee on passage of the bill speak in the highest commendation of the assistance rendered them in its passage by Hon. Benj. A. Vail.

A SPECIMEN "REFORM" BRICK.

The late Legislature, in its efforts to secure a reformation in the matter of official salaries, was decidedly uncertain and erratic. It made a great deal of difference whether the offices to be affected were likely to be occupied by Democrats or Republicans. When by the former, the knife was most liberally and heroically applied; in the others, very sparingly. So, in the case of the engrossment of papers in the several courts, the law, as amended, will provide various prices for exactly the same work, according to whether it is done by County Clerks, Sheriffs, Attorneys, or the Clerk of Chancery or the Supreme Court. Similar discrepancies occur in the other objects of their attention, and prove the whole scheme to have been illy considered and more than illy executed.

Under a pretended fear of the constitutional provisions, they limited the decrease to future incumbents, and in the only case in which they undoubtedly had the power to make a reduction—that of their own officers—they not only failed to do so, but on the contrary, actually increased the compensation.

The session of 1878 lasted from Jan. 8th to April 6th, a period of thirteen weeks. This year it commenced on Jan. 14th and ended on March 14th, a period of nine weeks, or very nearly one-third shorter, and yet both Houses increased the salaries of their officers, as follows:

Secretary of Senate,	$1,500	$1,700
Assistant Secretary,	1,200	1,350
Engrossing Clerk,	1,200	1,300
Journal Clerk,	1,000	1,150
Sergeant-at-Arms,	600	700
Clerk of House,	1,500	1,700
Assistant Clerk,	1,200	1,350
Journal Clerk,	1,000	1,150
Engrossing Clerk,	1,300	1,400
Sergeant-at-Arms,	700	800

When it is remembered that the session lasted but nine weeks, it will be seen that the increase even in days not of "reform" was most uncalled for. In the case of the Secretary of the Senate the pay amounts to $188.88 per week or $9,821.76 per annum. In the case of the Assistant Secretary of the Senate, a position which called for and received the sagacity and wisdom of an ordinarily intelligent bull calf, the pay was fixed at $150 per week or $7,800 per annum—for work which took so little of the time paid for as not to interfere with the ordinary duties of the incumbent.

The same Legislature which made this increase has cut down the compensation of Justices of the Supreme Court, a position which calls for the greatest ability and highest integrity, to about $4,500 per annum, less proportionately than was paid to the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Assembly.

Truly such folly and ignorance and inconsistency never have before been exhibited by any legislative body.—Trenton True American.

The fact that the Greenbackers voted with the Republicans at the late Township elections, is explanatory of the fact that the Board of Freeholders of Union County is Republican. The Legislature was secured by them in the same way last Fall.

For "The Constitutionalist."

FROM METUCHEN.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

Metuchen is not far distant from Plainfield, and it is one of the places which needs be reported once in a while.

It is, as you are probably aware, quite a flourishing little town; and it contains a miscellaneous dose of animals, such as mew cats and roosters, which crowed tremendously on Election day, which is not to be wondered at.

Some of its inhabitants are extremely benevolent, particularly that "Temperance troop," which is edifying and reforming everything from a chicken to a duck, afterwards pulling out the feathers and making every poor sinner estimate himself at a lower rate than he is.

Such is the fact.

On election day, if you can't see and hear roosters and hens crow everywhere, then you must be deaf and dumb and blind; and it is especially a fact that only two or three of our candidates for office endeavored to crow the other Tuesday at the polls, evidently picturing a good hot dinner way off in the future.

On that day the tickets had been outrageously de and inter sected, and friend Board had about as much as he could do to "count them," while there was a terrible string of blood, and all sorts of shot, eyes riveted upon him to see how it went.

One of the tickets read "5 cents for working of roads;" another "2 cents for the poor" and so on. It was awful.

It was evident that a great many were not interested about "The Town," for otherwise so many tickets would not have been so foolishly "cut up."

Almost every one, on the ticket for a high office, was keeping "tally"—even outsiders—for, perhaps, they wanted to see whether they were being cheated or not.

Well, the Township possesses a good man for Collector, Hon. Manning Freeman, who was "put up" by 18 majority. Mr. F. is a thorough and confident business man, as many of you know, and a better man than he for that office could not possibly be found. His opponent was John J. Clarkson, who keeps a grocery store on the corner of Main Street and Essex Ave.

In Raritan the Democratic ticket had 70 majority, and it was Democratic from head to foot.

And we've got Joseph Marcell, for Justice of the Peace, to fill the unexpired term of William H. Lane, Esq., who, a little while ago, impelled himself into another State to escape the New Brunswick Court, which would have held him a little while, certain.—Marcell seems to be indifferent as to liking the office. He hadn't cared whether he would be elected or not, and he says he'll fill the "Chair" when the "injunction" comes out and not before. He's just the man we want.

And there is an awful lot more to be said about officers—young men straining their nerves to the utmost for it; but if I should say more it would make you sick enough to dispatch a doctor.

R. O. Arnold is disposing of dry goods in his store like hot cakes in the Winter time. Last Saturday evening he sold quite a pile by auction. We understand he will abandon the business entirely, and take a vacation for a while.

Jos. Longinotto and Gil. Gadsay have gone to Florida. They will return in a month or two.

L. E. Hayward is off on business again. He is a business man.

And I want to say a little more in this wise, and I have done:

Some months ago there came to Metuchen a curious looking, slim legged chap. He hailed from Dunellen, a little town near Plainfield, and he was a reporter, he said; and I suppose he's one still.

He was a fearless and bold fellow, and he didn't hesitate to ask questions.

A day or two previous to his appearance in this place, a boy and a couple of girls and a driver had been riding between Metuchen and New Brunswick. The driver had, somehow or other, got drunk, and the horse didn't go as right as he should. So there was quite a catastrophe.

That was all.

The reporter came to the young man who had been driven by the intoxicated individual, and asked him for some information in regard to the escapade, which the innocent chap refused to give, saying that if he (reporter) did "learn," he'd hurt him.

It was said that the reporter wanted to gain some "hush up money."

The young man doggedly dared the reporter to publish a thing about the escapade; and if he did he'd be sorry—terribly sorry.

The journalist said he wouldn't and unceremoniously took his leave, and a day or two after there was two or three columns in the paper respecting the little "wagon—turn over matter."—It was exaggerated, slanderously, revengefully written, and the following is pasted up with beeswax:

"If that slim-legged composition of sweet meats and slippery elm bark saunters about Main Street, or any other of our streets again, for little trifles out of which to make big and extravagant sensations, he'll wish he'd never come, and impell himself shutterward like a stray New Foundland dog who had felt the contents, northerly, of a well-loaded double barreled shot gun, for slopping in somebody else's swill barrel. He'll think it's Christmas. He'll get the impression into his limited organ of brains that mosquito and fly time had come and that Metuchen, after all, contains a tougher crowd than he anticipated."

Now, if the milksop, in question, had not rushed in where he had no business and where he never was before, 'and never will be again,' the above remarks would not have been contemplated.

"Bees hate to be disturbed."

March 14, 1879. SYE.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

You will see by the following letter from Iowa, that the citizens of other states have been called upon to settle, by the Green Well extortionists:

DES MOINES, IOWA.

Dear Sir: The other day J. N. Parsons, Green's lawyer, sent an agent to West Union, Fayette Co., Iowa, to collect royalties. He was visited by a committee and told that it was not safe to go out in the country on that business. He went back, when Parsons went himself. He was visited by a committee who informed him they would not be responsible for his safety after the arrival of the first train on which he could get out of town. If the people had got to defend themselves against robbery by shooting, it didn't make much difference when they begun. He took the first train home.

It is very unhealthy up that way now for driven well agents and royalty collectors.

They are forming associations all through the West to resist this fraud, the Legislature of Minn. have made an appropriation of $7,000, and the State Anti-Well association has several thousand dollars in bank, and intend to contest it to the bitter end. Associations have been formed here and elsewhere in this State; why not get up a State association and have it fairly contested through the Supreme Court.

A challenge was issued to the Westfield Gun Club to shoot a match at glass balls in this city, at such time as may suit their convenience. Other matches with "foreign" clubs are on the tapis, due notice of which will be given in this column.

George Bryant, Train Master at High Bridge, N. J., and Wm. Hibbler, Conductor on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, were fishing from the Newark Bay Bridge three years ago. Bryant lost his sinker and substituted for it a Central Railroad switch-key. He got a "huge bite," and in drawing in his line discovered a large eel on his hook; but before he could land him, the eel broke loose, carrying away the hook and the switch-key. Eight months after an eel was caught by Captain Simon Chapman in an old barge at Chapman's wharf, on the Thames River three miles above New London, Connecticut. When the eel was cut open the lost Central Railroad switch-key was found inside of it. Last evening, on Conductor Hibbler's train, the son of Captain Chapman introduced himself to Mr. Hibbler and said his father still had the key in his possession. Arrangements were made to have it returned to Mr. Bryant at High Bridge.—Exchange.

Snipe (English) are "on," and our sportsmen are wild, some of them even riding a dozen miles over the heavy roads to get a shot at the advance guard, without scaring the foreigners a mite. The main flight is expected on shortly.

Fish Warden Bishop, in company with Mr. A. A. Anderson, who has charge of the fish hatching establishment at Bloomsbury, N. J., on Wednesday last distributed 10,000 trout fry in the streams of Somerset County.

The introduction of carp in our waters will be the next feature of the Fish Commissioners.

It is prophesied that shad will be plentiful when the season opens. The reason given is that the large quantity of ice that will melt will freshen the waters of the Hudson and shad will make their appearance sooner and in larger numbers than usual.

Woodcock are "on," and should be protected now by our Game Protective Societies. Let every pot-hunter and violator of the game laws feel the effect of the law on the subject of illegal shooting.

An adjourned meeting of the "Central New Jersey Game Protective Society" was held at Chamberlain & De Camp's Hotel, this city, on Saturday evening last, which was largely attended, and matters of much interest to the Society and its objects discussed. The next meeting was appointed for March 29th, at same time and place.

The work of tearing down Christ Episcopal church, at Bordentown, to give place to a new structure, has commenced. The church was erected in 1836, and its first organist was Madame Murat, the wife of Prince Lucien Murat, recently deceased in France.

The Boonton Iron Works and Nail and Keg Factories, with a capacity of 25,000 tons of metal per year, are offered for sale. It is said it will require $65,000 to place the works in proper repair.

It is stated that the control of the newspaper business of the Central R. R. passed out of the hands of the Union News Co., yesterday (Thursday) into that of Mr. L. A. Dunn, of Elizabeth.

The Morris Canal Company are making arrangements to resume navigation about the 25th of this month.

The snow still lies quite deep in some of the upper parts of the State.

Now and Then.

Akin to a curiosity-shop was the old-fashioned cupboard, with its pills and bottled nostrums. These nauseous nominal remedies are, to-day, supplanted by remedies purer and almost tasteless. Worthy of illustrative mention is Peter Moller's COD-LIVER OIL. This limpid, pure and palatable preparation has long had the highest praise of physicians and the household.

ENJOY LIFE.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means for enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worried out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint is the direct cause of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

For sale at Voorhees' Drug Store, Front Street.

Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine,

Is eminently a Family Medicine; and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.

After over Forty Years trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent physicians commend it for all diseases of the Liver.

AS AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC

Opinion of the Clergy.

Simmons' Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure. If any of our fellow beings are suffering from hepatic disorders and have doubts in relation to the efficacy of this popular preparation, we can only offer them the simple and sundry argument of Phillip to Nathaniel. "Come and see." Try the proposed remedy and then you can judge for yourselves. Rev. David Wills, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Macon, Ga.

TAKE

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR

The Symptoms of liver complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side.—Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for Rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, Debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them, but the liver is generally the organ most involved.

The Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World!

For Dyspepsia, Constipation, Jaundice, Bilious attacks, Sick Headache, Colic, Depression of Spirits, Sour Stomach, Heart Burn, &c. &c.

THE teachers of the Public School will take a vacation of the week commencing April 1st—so will the scholars.

DR. WARD is again visiting our city, and can be consulted at his rooms, City Hotel. See his adv. in another column.

STREET Commissioner Angleman should fill up that hole on the road bed of Front street, nearly opposite Church street, before the city has to pay damages.

THERE was an unusual large congregation present at the Congregational Church Sunday evening last, to hear the eloquent discourse of Rev. Clearfield Park.

STREET Commissioner Angleman, having filed his bond with the proper officers, can now clean the streets without fear of being disturbed in the performance of the same.

READ Pope Bros. adv. in this issue. This old established house is too well known for fair dealing and low prices to need any puffing from our pen. Their adv. tells their intentions.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY, March 17th, proved to be very rainy and disagreeable. There was no parade or demonstration in this city by our Irish fellow-citizens, who, as a rule, quietly observed the day.

THE handsome residence of Mr. John Harberger, on Front Street, is being improved in looks by the addition to the same of a large tower on the northwest corner, which also makes more commodious room in the building.

THE "Bound Brook Hotel," kept by Mr. H. K. Ramsey, has been thoroughly renovated and re-painted inside, giving the same a pleasing appearance to the eye. This Hotel has become very popular since Mr. R. assumed management.

WE notice that our young friend, Dick Randolph, is in copartnership with Mr. Osborne, now has charge of the "Dunellen Hotel." We wish him success in his new venture. The traveling public will find him an accommodating landlord.

THE first thing that attracts the eye, upon applying at the delivery window in the Post Office, is the following written notice:

"When you write and post a letter,
It is well, and it is better,
On the upper right hand corner
Put your stamp, as you ought'er."

DAVID RUNYON, sign writer and painter, has invented a new wire screen sign board, which is bound to come into general use by merchants and others. Mr. R. is an adept in the art of painting signs or hanging shades. His office is in Flagg's building, North avenue.

MR. C. SCHEPFLIN, on Friday last, purchased at public sale, the plot of ground between his property and the engine house on Front Street, belonging to the Elston Marsh estate. The plot is 92 feet front by about 200 feet in depth, extending back to the Brook. The price paid was $8,055.

MANY of our citizens will change their places of residence this year. To all who do so, and who may be subscribers to THE CONSTITUTIONALIST, "Cooky," the irrepressible carrier of that journal, desires that the location of a subscriber's new home be sent to this office, so that they may expect to receive their paper regularly.

DEMAREST, the grocer, has decided to give up the sale of family liquors and also in connection with his business, and will dispose of his stock at a reasonable figure. Mr. D. is one of our most successful grocerymen, and finds that it is as much as he can attend to to look after that business, without having the sale of liquors a branch of the same.

FOUR of our Plainfield mechanics, Messrs. Marvin Lewis, Geo. McGinnis, Andrew Long and Wm. Hune, lost all their tools by the burning of Messrs Hall, Hatt & Parker's sash and blind factory at Newark last Sunday, they having been employed in the establishment for several weeks back. The loss falls heavy upon them, as they are all poor and industrious men.

S. C. LILLIENTHAL, the popular clothier of Plainfield, will open the store 519, 8th Ave., cor. 36th street, N. Y., on or about the 1st of April, when he will be happy to see his old friends from this vicinity. He will guarantee to make the prices such that it will pay them to call on him prior to removing. He wishes to inform the public that he is selling his stock here at cost, so the public had better call on him at his old stand.

THE N. Y. Herald, of a recent date, contains a statement that the Plainfield passengers crowd the ferry boats at Communipaw ferry, causing discomfort to Newark passengers, and insinuates that the Plainfielders rarely give up their seats to accommodate those standing. This statement we think is insulting to our Plainfield commuters, who are proverbial for their politeness and courtesy. The writer very truthfully remarks, however, that the Company should run more boats or on quicker time.

AN Ecclesiastical Council convened at Jordanville, N. Y., on the 11th day of March 1879, pursuant to an invitation from the "Warren Baptist church," for the purpose of ordaining to the ministry J. Judson Pierson, of North Plainfield. The council was organized by the choice of Rev. A. A. Watson, as Moderator, and Rev. J. H. Messenger, clerk. The Moderator then called for the credentials of the delegates and the reading of the minutes of the church authorizing the call of the Council. The candidate related his christian experience, call to the ministry and doctrinal views of the scripture. The examination followed; this was short and thorough. The Council then retired for deliberation, and after a few minutes, reported they had voted to proceed with the ordination. Rev. T. A. Batson and Rev. W. F. Purrington conducted the opening exercises. Rev. F. W. Finn, of Winfield, preached an eloquent sermon from the text, Acts, 20, 28. Rev. L. Cooler offered the ordaining prayer; with the laying on of hands by Rev. A. A. Watson and Rev. T. A. Batson. The charge to the candidate was given by the Rev. A. A. Watson, to the church by the Rev. J. H. Messenger. The service was largely attended. The Pastor and church seemed to be in full sympathy and have great reason to rejoice over the fruits of their united labors.

DR. H. H. LOWRIE has just received from Washington, his appointment as Examining Surgeon for Pensions for this District; truly a well deserved honor. The Doctor's long service in the army during the late war, fully qualifies him for the position.

WE were in error last week in stating that Mr. Dunlap had purchased of the Marsh heirs the part of the building on Front St., now occupied in part by Green & Co. It should have read the corner portion of the block, occupied on the lower floor by Peck, Dyer and Mrs. Barnes.

THE flattering complimentary notice passed by Council at their last meeting, upon the resignation of Policeman Edward Laing, was but a just tribute to that officer's excellent record since he has been on the force. He deserved the notice. His successor, Mr. Hugh McDonald, is one whom we think will make a capable officer. Mr. Laing will engage in business under Mr. Geo. Pound, at that gentleman's tallow and hide establishment.

PARTIES desirous of purchasing first-class mill property, should not fail to attend the sale of the Randolph property, this city, on Monday, March 31st. The water power of this mill is one of the best in the State the year round. On the grounds are located the track of the Plainfield Athletic Club, which the present season will be the scene of many a spirited contest. The mill is in good condition, with plenty of power, while the privilege of water is life long. The property to be sold extends nearly from Washington Ave. to Harberger's lane, a distance of over two blocks in a fine portion of the city. The homestead property, facing on Front Street, will be sold on the same day.

A QUESTION of much importance was decided on Wednesday, March 5th, by the Hon. Vice Chancellor Van Fleet, in the case of Brunson vs. Ferguson and others. Augustus Hoyt who bought the mortgage premises, had inserted in the deed that he took the premises subject to the mortgage held by Brunson, and it was contended on his behalf that as the deed did not contain an assumption of the mortgage he could not be held for deficiency. Brunson claimed that Hoyt leaving at the time he purchased the mortgage premises, orally agreed with the party of whom he purchased them that he would pay off the mortgage was equitable liable to the mortgagee to do so. The Vice Chancellor decided that Hoyt was liable, and that Brunson was entitled to a personal decree against Hoyt for the full amount of his mortgage. It further appeared in the case that while Brunson's suit was pending, the parties holding a first mortgage commenced to foreclose it, and sold the premises under it before the sale under Brunson's mortgage could be had. The Vice Chancellor decided that this did not in any way effect Brunson's right to a decree for deficiency. From this decision it would appear that a written agreement is not necessary in order to hold a person liable for deficiency; an important thing to bear in mind in buying real estate. Messrs. Suydam and Jackson of this city appeared for Brunson, and Messrs. Kingsley and Stetson of Orange for Hoyt.

Missionary Meeting.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society connected with the Presbyterian Churches of Plainfield, will hold its Seventh Anniversary on Friday, March 21st. The afternoon service will be in the Chapel of the Crescent Av. church at half past three o'clock. In the evening at 7½ o'clock Rev. Dr. Ellinwood will address the audience in the Crescent Ave. church. He has recently made the tour of the world, stopping at all our principal Missionary stations. He is universally admitted to be a very effective and interesting speaker, and one who knows whereof he affirms. The public generally are invited to attend.

MRS. WM SCRIBNER, Sec.

Charity Concert.

Considerable interest has been excited by the announcement of a Concert by Amateur performers, residents of Plainfield, to be given at the Methodist Episcopal church on Tuesday evening next, in aid of the Relief Association. The Concert will be under the direction of Mr. E. J. Fitzhugh, and the programme will include bright selections of part-songs, trios, duets, choruses, &c., besides songs and ballads by some of our best soloists, and piano solos by Miss Wotherspoon and Mrs. Rowe Babcock. The funds of the Relief Association have had very heavy debts this winter, and it is to be wished that this Concert will bring them a liberal reinforcement. Tickets may be obtained at the Drug stores, and from the ladies of the Committee.

Good Flour Makes Good Bread.

Messrs. French Bros., desirous of supplying the citizens of this city, and all who love good bread, biscuit, &c., with the best flour, have just purchased and put into successful operation a little machine called a "Steam Wheat Heater," whereby the wheat is run into the stone thoroughly dry, and consequently very tender. By the old style of making flour, the wheat was often run into the stone damp, in fact sometimes wet. By the aid of the heater above mentioned the wheat passes through it and is subjected to a heat of from 40 to 90 degrees Fahrenheit, and all the moisture taken out by the steam being let into the heater in any quantity desired, by simply keeping a small pressure on their boiler in the engine room. By this simple, yet valuable invention, the firm are manufacturing the very best flour, meal, bran, feed, &c., as a trial of their goods will demonstrate. They have also discarded their stove in the office and now heat the same by steam conveyed through pipes to a radiator.

A Useful Invention.

Letters patent have been applied for by one of our well known fellow townsmen, Levi Hetfield, Esq., through Sarrell & Co., for an improvement on coal cars, which consists of a sheet iron covering over the top of the car, with staple and ring at either end, so that the cover, which is in folding shape, may be locked when the car leaves the mine and unlocked only by the parties to whom it was consigned, when it arrives at its destination, thus avoiding stealing of the coal and the great detriment to dealers in having a consignment of coal arrive at their yard in a compact and frozen state in consequence of having to pass over the road in rainy and freezing weather. The cover keeps the coal dry, and by the simple turn of a screw, the bottom of the car falls, letting the coal run out, dry and free from snow and ice, into the dump below. The invention is a valuable one, and Mr. H. is to be congratulated upon the perfectness of the same. We hope he may realize a fortune from it.

Bill-Poster in Trouble.

Matthew Whaley, a New York bill-poster, was arrested at Elizabeth, on Saturday last by officer Walker, for posting bills in violation of a city ordinance, which prohibits persons from destroying, in any way whatever, any printed or written notice lawful and proper to be made public until after full and sufficient time shall have elapsed to answer every of just intended by such advertisement or notice. Whaley was posting advertisements for the Black Crook performance at Niblo's Garden, and it is alleged by the officer that he covered, in several instances, bills of the Celebrated Case Company, and New York Mercury. He said that he was employed by Mr. William A. Mulford, Jr., business manager of Niblo's Garden. If he had violated the laws he did so without intent. He did not recollect of covering any new advertisements, but posted his bills on ash barrels and boxes. Justice Osborn said that the offence against the prisoner had been of too frequent occurrence in Elizabeth, and must be stopped. He imposed a sentence of $5 fine or ten day's imprisonment in the County Jail. Whaley was unable to pay the fine and was committed.

On Monday last, as several young lads were playing in front of the "Blue Front" at the Somerset St. bridge, the pavement suddenly gave way under them and they were precipitated into the water below, fortunately, however, without serious injury. The cause of the accident was ascertained to have been caused by the side wall along the stream under the "Blue Front" building, which extends under the sidewalk, having been undermined by the waters and caved in. The wall which is on the property of Mr. A. Berry, will be repaired in a sufficiently safe and strong manner immediately.

New and Beautiful Songs.

Just published at A. Vanderbeek's Music store. "My Grandmother's Watch," "I'll see that your Grave is kept Green," "One Sweet Kiss before we Part," "Only a Word." Song by Wetnbold.

Personalia.

Mr. Wm. P. Hughson, former proprietor of the City Hotel, graced our sanctum with his genial countenance this morning, looking as smiling as a "basket of chips." Mr. H. is now located in Chester, Morris County.

Rev. Dr. Smith, on Wednesday last removed his family to Brooklyn, N. Y. We are sorry to loose the presence of this excellent divine and family from our midst.

More Honors for Plainfield.

At the 45th Annual Commencement of the College of Pharmacy of New York city in Chickering Hall, last Tuesday, Mr. Greenleaf Voorhees, brother to Dr. Wm. H. Voorhees, of this city, graduated with honors and received his diploma as a pharmacist. Although not one of the lucky ones who received a medal, Mr. Voorhees is to be congratulated upon his high standing in the graduating class.

Rapid and Cheap Transit.

The New Jersey Association, No. 11, Coal and Iron Exchange, 17 Cortlandt St., N. Y., invite a meeting of the New Jersey traveling public to take place in the above rooms, Thursday, April 10th, at 3:30 p. m., for the purpose of discussing the subject of cheaper and more rapid transit to compete with the elevated roads of New York, which is sure to take residents from New Jersey if something is not done to check the same in the way of cheap transit. Those who desire to sign a petition in favor of the move are invited to call at this office where one may be found.

"Mansion House."

The friends of Messrs. Thorn & Young will be pleased to learn that numerous applications have been sent them for rooms and board in their finely located family Hotel. These enterprising proprietors have the congratulations of the citizens of Plainfield, and the adjacent towns, and we all look for their business to be of the most thrifty sort. Mr. Thorn's large acquaintances from Philadelphia to New York, with his equinimity of manner, and Mr. Young's genial hospitality, will certainly render their Hotel a most acceptable place to stop at. With Mr. Breslin at the Netherwood, Geo. De Revere at the Park House, Chamberlain & DeCamp, (Laing's Hotel,) and Euclid Young at the Mansion House, Plainfield must become a popular resort during the coming season.

Serious Runaway

Yesterday (Thursday) forenoon a horse attached to Coriell's meat wagon, and driven by Mr. Geo. Shepherd, took fright at a passing train when under the Cherry Street railroad bridge, and defied every effort of the driver to stop his progress. He turned into North avenue, upsetting the wagon and throwing the driver with violence to the sidewalk. With only the running gears the animal took the sidewalk, in front of McIntyre's new building, leaving the same there after striking the corner of the building, and continued at a terrific pace through the row of hacks standing in front of the depot, fortunately, however, coming in contact with none of them. A man and woman who were proceeding along the sidewalk, had barely time to seek shelter in McIntyre's building to escape collision with the runaway, undoubtedly saving them from serious injury.

A Thieving Coon.

Last Tuesday evening, a strange colored man went to Marshall's Livery stables and representing himself as a Philadelphia detective, showing a badge as same, and giving his name as Peer, asked for a horse and buggy to go see his girl near Rahway, giving for reference as to his character, a colored man named Johnson, an ex waiter and barber, of this city. Mr. Marshall called upon Johnson, who affirmed that the stranger was all right, whereupon Mr. M. let him have the turn-out. Wednesday morning, the stranger not returning, inquiries were made, when it was ascertained that Johnson had gone with the stranger. Mr. Geo. Marshall immediately went to Rahway, and not hearing anything from the twain, left his horse and buggy there, and went to Newark. Here he learned that the pair had been there and had secured another buggy, after the one they had started from Plainfield in had broken down. Peer had here shaken Johnson and taken another African as his companion, and drove away. Johnson was found and detained. Mr. Marshall then went to New York, but could gain no tidings of the colored sports, but learned on Wednesday evening that the companion picked up at Newark had returned to his home there, and stated that Peer had given him the shake in New York, also giving information where the horse was in this city. State Detective Breen went to New York on Thursday (yesterday) to track the fellow up. It is stated that Peer has two indictments now hanging over him for obtaining goods under false pretences at Morristown.

By the same—the following:

WHEREAS, The city of Plainfield is indebted to the Washington Fire Insurance Company, of this city, for balance of claim of D. D. Rogers, for surveying new Street sewer, amounting to $209 and interest from Sept. 1st, 1878, and as Mr. E. E. Pope, Treasurer of the Insurance Company, has made a request for the payment of the amount, but consents to wait until the city is in receipt of funds from taxes of 1879; therefore,

Resolved, That as an expression of the views of this Council we will endeavor to pay the above claim in the month of November, 1879, if money in the possession of funds available for this purpose; and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to E. E. Pope, Esq., Treasurer of the Insurance Company.

Plainfield, March 17th, 1879.

On motion, adopted.

Mr. Lithgow, from Fire, Water & Lamp Com., reported as correct the claim of Plainfield Gaslight Co., $218 20, N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gaslight Co., $117 19. Report received and claims referred to Aud. Com.

Mr. Stover, from Law & Ord. Com., reported that the two ordinances relative to raising money by tax, are in accordance with the charter, and would recommend their adoption. Report accepted.

By the same—"Your Com. on Laws & Ords., to whom was referred the petition of sundry persons whose names are thereto affixed, asking relief as to an assessment for the New Street sewer, beg leave to report that they have made an examination of the matters and claims contained in said petition, and would recommend that the Council take no action in the premises." Report received and recommendation of Com. adopted.

Mr. Coriell, from Police Board, would report as to the resignation of Policeman Laing; regret very much the loss of so good and faithful an officer, but at his earnest request would recommend that the Council accept his resignation. Report received and resignation accepted.

Mr. Finch, from Street Com., reported the claim of St. Com'r Angleman, presented this evening. Report received and claim referred to Aud. Com.

By the same—the following reports;

To the Hon. the Common Council of the city of Plainfield.

The undersigned beg leave to report that pursuant to the instructions of the Common Council estimates have been obtained of the cost of graveling Front street east of Peace street to Richmond street, and of grading and graveling the same between Richmond street and Farragut road, and that the lowest proposal made to the committee was made by Mr. John E. Dowley, who offers to do the work between Peace street and Farragut road for $964.70, estimating the grading at $125.00, and the graveling at $178.[illegible]

The undersigned also beg leave to submit the accompanying map prepared by J. R. and F. A. Dunham, Civil Engineers and Surveyors, showing the proposed grade of Front street between Farragut road and Richmond street which has received the entire approval of the property holders in that section, also the accompanying petition, signed by numerous residents on Front street.

To the Common Council of the city of Plainfield.

GENTLEMEN:—It is well known that the oldest and principal street of the city has had scarcely any attention from the authorities for many years. Such improvements and repairs as have been made, have been for the most part paid for out of private purses. As the main thoroughfare through the city, and between neighboring towns, it is subjected to a heavy traffic, and at the present the necessity for gravel repairs is very pressing.

The undersigned residents on East Front Street, from the present unfortunate condition of the street as a matter of experience, beg to urge your Honorable Body will give the matter immediate attention.

The expense of the grading need not, it is believed, be a charge on the city, even temporarily. A sufficient amount of private cash subscriptions can, as the undersigned believe, be raised to defray such expense, and perhaps something additional as a voluntary contribution toward the gravel repairs.

Will you kindly order the work taken in hand so that, at least, between Farragut Road and Peace Street, the necessary repairs may be made.

Signed—Lawrence Myers, D. O. Wotherspoon, Charles Hyde and others.

On motion, laid over until New Business.

The Street Com. recommend the appropriation of a sufficient amount to put Front Street in proper condition from one end to the other, as its present condition, a portion of it, is absolutely dangerous. Laid over until New Business.

Also, in matter of W. E. Low and others for repairing crosswalk at 9th Street and Park Ave., would report the owner of property out of the city, and had directed the owner's agent to put walk in proper repair. Report accepted.

Also, would report favorably upon petition of Levi Hetfield for the vacating and opening a portion of 3d St. Report accepted.

Also, as to petition of A. D. Holmes, 99 W. 5th St., would report its reference to the Board of Health. Agreed to. Also, the dumping ground on 9th St., to the Board of Health.

Also, would report the inspection of nearly every street of the city, and finding many of them almost impassable, &c., and urging immediate repairs, to be under the direction of the Com. on Sts., and estimate that $3,000 will put the streets in fair condition. Laid over until New Business.

Also, would report the granting of petition of M. M. Thorn and others, for a crosswalk on 3d St. and Madison Ave., to be 2ft. wide, and the cost not to exceed $25. Report accepted.

Also, the Com. would recommend that the petition of John Burke be granted, in reference to using patent pump for the cleaning of cesspools, &c., during the day time. Agreed to.

Also, in reference to filling up gravel pits, would report that the expense would be too great, and the Com. recommend that the matter lie over for the present. Adopted.

Also, in reference to the acceptance of Park Place, the Com. would recommend that it be accepted after it has been put in good condition, graded and gravel in center, subject to the approval of the St. Com'r.

Considerable discussion was had in this particular by members of Council, pro and con. Mr. Stover thought that the street should be opened, as the property owners on the line of this street pay their taxes, and should receive some of the benefits therefrom. After some further discussion, Mr. Stewart moved that the report be accepted. Adopted, Mr. Stover voting in the negative.

Also, as regards the petition of James Merritt and others, the Com. would recommend that Broadway be put in a possible condition, gutters widened and cleaned, so as to admit of a free passage of water; the matter of turning the water from Putnam St. into Kensington Ave. and thence into Broadway, be left without action upon it, as the repairs proposed to be done to Broadway may correct whatever difficulty may exist.

Mr. Stover thought the property owners should have their requests granted, and after some further discussion, Mr. Stover offered the following:

WHEREAS, A petition of various property owners on Broadway and Kensington avenue, was some time since presented to the Common Council, [illegible]

WHEREAS, in the opinion of the Common Council, there is but one just and lawful way to treat this matter, which is to allow the water to take its natural course down Putnam street, which it would take were it not for the obstructions which have been placed at its intersection with Kensington avenue, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Street Commissioner be authorized and directed to at once remove the obstruction, by placing a culvert on each side of Putnam street at the crossing of Kensington avenue, thus allowing the water to follow its natural course down Putnam street to Cedar Brook.

On motion, ref'd to Law & Ord. Com.

Mr. Simpson, from Aud. Com., reported the following claims as correct: J. S. Cotter, 3 bills, $153 36; N. W. Shive, $61; Plainfield Gaslight Co., 2 bills, $448 90; James Lunger, $21; N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gaslight Co., 2 bills, $234 38; Chas. Austin, $1 50; F. A. Dunham, $8; John Linberger, $5; Geo. M. Angleman, $167 50; Wm. B. Smith, $8; T. J. Pruden, $153; Wm. B. Ayres, 2 bills, $18; Chas. Hyde, $9. On motion of Mr. Depew, the Poor Fund claims were laid upon the table, (no funds) and the claim of Geo. M. Angleman, St. Com'r, having gone beyond the appropriation made by Council of $100, lie upon the table until further appropriations are made on streets to cover the difference; on the balance of the claims warrants were ordered drawn for the several amounts. All aye.

Mr. Lithgow called from the table the report of the St. Com. in the matter of Front St., and offered the following:

WHEREAS, It appears by the Report of the Street Committee that the lowest proposal made to the Committee for the graveling of Front St., East of Peace Street, and of grading and graveling the same between Richmond Street and Farragut Road, was that made by Mr. John E. Dowley, who offers to do the work for $964.70;

WHEREAS, It is desired by the citizens and necessary for the good of the city that such work should be done if it can be done at the expense to the city not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), therefore, it is hereby

Resolved, That the Street Committee be and it hereby is authorized and directed to cause the work of grading and graveling to be done in the manner proposed from Farragut Road to Peace Street at the sum named, to wit: nine hundred and sixty-four dollars and seventy cents ($964.70); provided that four hundred and fifty-four dollars and seventy cents ($454.70) of that amount be subscribed by valid subscriptions by responsible parties on or before the 15th day of April, A. D., 1879, and that none of such work be ordered done until such last mentioned amount shall be so subscribed; and it is further

Resolved, That in case the work is done as aforesaid, the Street Committee is authorized and directed to employ (at a cost to the city not to exceed $30) the Civil Engineers and Surveyors, J. R. and F. A. Dunham, to superintend the said work, and see that the same is done in accordance with the map made by them thereof and the specifications made therefor.

Considerable discussion was had in the premises, pro and con, and upon a vote being taken, Mr. Lithgow's res. was lost, as follows: Ayes—Depew, Finch, Lithgow, Redfield, Stewart—5. Noes—Coriell, Mayer, Potts, Rushmore, Simpson, Stover—6.

Mr. Stover then offered the following res. relative to the $3,000 to be expended on Streets:

Resolved, That one thousand dollars be appropriated to be expended on the streets in the discretion and under the direction of the Street Com'r.

Amended by Mr. Lithgow—"That the Com. on Sts. expend the greatest amount of said sum of $1,000 where the largest amount of money is subscribed by the property owners as in their judgment the public good may require."

Mr. Stover thought that that amendment would give the property owners on Front Street just what they had petitioned for. He should certainly vote against the amendment.

Amended still further by Mr. Stewart—"That the Com. expend the appropriation pro rata as to the amounts each subscribed on said streets. Lost.

A lively discussion was had on Mr. Lithgow's amendment, when it passed by the following vote:—Ayes—Coriell, Depew, Finch, Lithgow, Potts, Rushmore, Redfield, Stewart—8. Noes—Mayer, Simpson, Stover—3.

The original res. of Mr. Stover's was then taken up and adopted, all aye, with the exception of Mr. Stover, who said he could not vote for the expending of money in that way.

Mr. Simpson presented a res. relative to the matter of Geo. W. Moore, for collection of delinquent taxes, referred to Corporation Counsel by Council of 1878, requesting him to report in the matter at next meeting of Council. So ordered.

On motion of Mr. Stover, the amendment to the license ord. relative to closing of saloons, was read 3d time and passed.

Also, by Mr. Stover, the ords. relative to the raising of money by tax, ($3,500 and $10,000) and the ord. relative to 3d Street, were read 2d time, and ordered engrossed and to a 3d reading. All aye.

Also, by Mr. Stover, the following:

WHEREAS, Edward Laing has tendered his resignation as a regular Policeman of the city of Plainfield, by the acceptance of which his official duties will cease on the first day of April next, therefore be it

Resolved, That by the resignation of officer Laing, the city of Plainfield loses a valuable and efficient officer, and that we hereby tender him the thanks of the inhabitants of this city, for the able and faithful manner in which he has performed the duties of his office, and wish him every success in the new sphere in which he is to be employed.

Adopted, unanimously.

Mr. Lithgow presented an ord. establishing the grade of Front St. from Richmond St. to Farragut Ave. Ref'd to Com. on Sts.

Mr. Coriell presented bond of Constable Amos Moffett, which was read and accepted.

Mr. Depew presented bond of L. E. Clark, Collector, which was read and accepted.

Mr. Stewart called from the table the com'n of His Honor, Mayor Harper, presenting Hugh McDonald's name as regular policeman in place of Edward Laing, resigned. Upon a ballot being taken, McDonald was declared unanimously elected.

Mr. Rushmore moved that the rules be suspended, and the Ord. relative to establishing grade of Front St., from Richmond St. to Farragut Ave., have its 2d reading to-night. Read 2d time, and ordered engrossed and to a 3d reading. All aye.

Mr. Depew presented bond of St. Com'r Geo. M. Angleman, E. P. Thorn and E. A. Campbell being said bondsmen, which was read and accepted.

Pres. Potts, at this juncture, vacated the chair, (Mr. Stover taking the same) and presented the following:

To the Honorable Common Council.

The Committee appointed by you at a special meeting of the Council held Monday evening, February 24th, to take charge of and urge the passage through our State Legislature of an act entitled "An act concerning cities having less than ten and more than six thousand inhabitants," said act having been drawn by a committee appointed at a citizens meeting held Nov. 19, would respectfully report that in pursuance with your directions they took the bill to Trenton on Monday March 3d, where it was immediately presented to the Senate, and that on the 13th of March the act had passed both houses of the Legislature and was signed by the Governor, and is now a law of our State.

The expenses incurred by your Committee in the passage of the act will be presented to the Council by Mr. Lithgow, who acted as Secretary and Treasurer of the Committee.

Your Committee would also report that they have ordered from the Secretary of State a certified copy of the act for the use of your Honorable Body, which will be prepared and forwarded at once, which will add about twenty-five dollars to the expenses already incurred.

Your Committee having completed all the duties for which they were appointed, would now respectfully ask for their discharge.

W. E. POTTS,
Chairman of Committee.

Plainfield, March 17th, 1879.

Mr. Depew moved that the report be received and ordered filed, Com. discharged, and a vote of thanks extended them. So ordered.

Mr. Lithgow moved that a vote of thanks be extended to Messrs. J. W. Yates and R. W. Runyon for their untiring efforts in getting the new charter passed at Trenton, (touching also upon the prompt action taken by the Legislature in passing the bill, and the short time after its passage being signed by the Governor, &c.) Adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

On motion, Council then adjourned.

NORTH PLAINFIELD PARAGRAPHS.

The new Town Committee of North Plainfield Township met for organization on Monday evening last, and elected Mr. David Weaver, Chairman and Mr. Harrison Coddington, Treasurer. All the officers were sworn in by Clerk Schutt and the Committee then adjourned to meet next Monday evening.

Mr. C. C. Day is improving the appearance of his residence, corner of Deer Street and Park Place, by treating it to a coat of paint.

At a meeting of the legal voters of School District No. 14, (North Plainfield) held in the [illegible] building, on Tuesday evening, 18th inst., the sum of $2,600 was voted to be raised for the purpose of conducting the schools for the next school year.

Edward R. Vail, Alfred B. Conway, Garret V. Freeman and Jacob Long, are the Petit Jurors from North Plainfield, for the April term of Court at Somerville, commencing April 15th.

We are informed that the U. S. Marshal is on hand with a new batch of summons in the interest of the Green Patent hole in the ground, new name for "Driven Wells." We have not time to give the public all the information we have on hand, in reference to this great extortion and tax on the water we drink. We will show in our next communication, that several different parties claim the same patent, and that Green did abandon his claim and only recently revives his scheme to extort. We are informed from reliable parties, residing in the District, wherein Mr. Green obtained his favorable decision that the suit was only a friendly suit, and therefore went nearly by default, so far as the defendant was concerned. There is plenty of evidence now to defeat Green's claim, and if the people of Plainfield allow themselves to be swindled in this matter, they will be the exception, as vigorous measures are being taken by the people, and even the Legislature of other States to oppose it.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

At the school meeting, last Tuesday evening, held in Academy Hall, the friends of a liberal education, scored a complete victory again, over its opponents and voted $1,000 for school purposes.

Now that the frost is out of the ground and the roads are pretty well settled, it would be a fine improvement to Park Avenue to have it gone over several times with a heavy scraper.—By this means it would be put in a condition to be appreciated by the very many who patronize that thoroughfare.

At the Road meeting held in the Fanwood Park District, last week, Samuel Vanderhoff was elected Overseer. At the same time $50 extra was voted for repairs of roads, and $25 for repair of sidewalk, between Midway Avenue and depot.

The new Town Committee met last Saturday afternoon, and organized with John J. Marsh, as Chairman, and Lewis Miller, Jr., as Treasurer. Henry Clay Randolph is the other member and T. J. Nicholl, Clerk.

Mr. James B. Farley, "Chief of Police" of Fanwood, has taken a contract to make some extensive repairs on the house of A. De Baud, Esq., on Front Street, Plainfield.

The Rev. B. F. Liepsner, A. M., of Red Bank, N. J., delivered his matchless lecture on "The Humor and Pathos of Abraham Lincoln's Character," in the Baptist Church, last Monday evening. As might have been expected of March 17th, it proved true to its record and made this no exception to the rule, for it rained nearly all day and snowed at night; nevertheless a respectable audience turned out to hear the brilliant author and orator delineate the true character and life of the great Liberator. The lecture is a complete affair from beginning to ending, and betokens throughout the work of a master-mind. The speaker bids fair at no distant day to become one of the best Elocutionists in this country. At times he had his audience in an exceedingly jubilant state of mind, and again in a few seconds many would be in tears. At its close it was voted the very best lecture ever given in the place. Many expressed a desire to have it repeated. No one can afford not to hear it.

The good people of this village were much disappointed on Sunday last by the failure of Elder Jabez Swan, of Conn., to preach at the Baptist Church, as had been announced. Quite a number were attracted thither from Plainfield and neighboring towns, to hear the great Evangelist peel forth in thunder-tones his anathemas against the "powers of darkness." It appears that Elder Swan was prevented from fulfilling his engagement, because of the serious illness of his son, Rev. C. Y. Swan, D. D., of Newark, who is now suffering from Hemorrhage of the Lungs. The venerable Divine will, in all probability, it is said, preach here the last Sunday of this month, 30th inst. The Rev. T. W. Conway, of Vineland, preached last Sunday.

The Rev. Henry B. Waring, of Lake Mahopac, N. Y., who preached at the Baptist Church, on the 9th inst., with so much ability, will supply that pulpit again next Sunday.

We are sorry to be compelled to chronicle the death of Mrs. Susan Schuyler, wife of Andrew Schuyler, Esq., which occurred on Saturday evening last. The deceased, who was the only daughter of the late Oliver Hand, was well-known for her industrious and frugal habits, and for her charitable disposition. She was buried in the Baptist Cemetery. Funeral services were held on Wednesday at the M. E. Church, the Rev. Mr. Quigley officiating.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

The new Town Officers were sworn in on Saturday last, by Town Clerk, Chas. R. Clark, who had previously been sworn in by Commissioner Marsh.

A fire occurred last week in Branch Mills, which could have proven very serious but for the timely appearance of the baker boy, Caspar Heinzer.—While Mr. Aaron Parkhurst and family were absent the smoke house got on fire, and was discovered by C. H., who called for help and thus saved the adjoining buildings.

Tuesday morning last the alarm of fire was sounded in our streets, it being rainy and early in the morning no one seemed to feel inclined to arise. A few of our Fire Department turned out, and with the outside help they had they repaired to the scene of the conflagration, which proved to be the old Photograph shanty by John Tyler's, and inhabited by the Russian, "Rudolph Gindy," who is now in jail for stealing chickens. The rain prevented the barn of Mr. Isaac Trager from catching fire. Nothing could be done to save the [illegible] possible to state. The late occupant had moved out March 14th, and Thos. Anderson was to move into it the same day.

Starr & Wheeler have removed into the Lyceum store on Broad Street.

Mrs. Mary Grogan, aged 49 years, 6 months, died suddenly, March 13th of pneumonia.

The walking mania has taken hold of some of our youths and the circle on the north side of the R. R. Station has been the scene of a great many runs during this week. Next Saturday a two hour walk is to come off between some of the Academy youths.

Our Fire Department elected new Officers on Tuesday night, as follows: C. W. Harden, Foreman; Dr. Gale, 1st Ass't; A. J. Chambers, 2d Ass't; G. W. Tice, Treas.; J. R. Connolly, Sec.

The School will give an entertainment on Friday night.

Fred. Morris, the Wheelwright, has gone to Elizabethport.

The School meeting on Tuesday last passed off very quietly. $1,700 was voted for free school in Dist. 10, $300 less than last year.

Joel Moffett has the contract for building a new house for Mr. L. V. Clark, on Clark St.

Mr. Chas. Wall has moved into the Father Midsiol house on North Ave.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union Co.

[Official.]

ELIZABETH, March 6th, 1879.

Pursuant to adjournment the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the county of Union met in regular monthly session, on Thursday, March 6th, at two o'clock p. m.

Present—Director C. W. L. Martine and Freeholders Briant, Doty, Forsyth Irving, Isenmann, Nolte, Randolph Roll, Runkle, Thos. H. Smith and Thompson.

Absent—Freeholders Crowell, Hubbard, Kennedy, Pierson and S. C. Smith.

The minutes of the last meeting were read (with exception of a portion of the County Attorney's opinion in "the matter of Mill Race bridge, Rahway," and list of bills ordered paid which were on motion omitted), and the minutes as read were approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

County Collector's report—Relative to arrears in taxes in cities and town ships.

COUNTY COLLECTOR'S OFFICE,
ELIZABETH, March 6th, 1879.

To the Honorable the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County:

Since my report of February 6th, to the Board, the payments made, leave the cities and townships in arrears for taxes as follows, interest to be included:

Rahway—
Balance taxes due for 1877	$1,656 70
Taxes due for 1878	22,961 40
Total due by Rahway,	$24,618 10
Plainfield—
Balance taxes due for 1877	$3,108 99
Taxes due for 1878	10,315 37
Total due by Plainfield	$13,460 36

Elizabeth—Balance taxes due for 1878, $56,008 56.

Clark—Balance taxes due for 1878, $411 31.

New Providence—Balance taxes due for 1878, $3,414 98.

Summit—Balance taxes due ——, $6,956 68.

Linden—Balance taxes due for 1878, $3,532 56.

School orders are to be deducted when taxes due are paid.

Respectfully submitted,
F. SHERIDAN,
County Collector.

Freeholder Randolph moved that the report be received and spread upon the minutes.

Which was carried.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

From Committee on Milton avenue draw-bridge, Rahway:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Your Committee to whom was referred the matter of a draw-tender for the Milton avenue bridge, Rahway, would report that they find that the bridge was built in the year 1871, with the understanding between the Building Committee and certain parties interested that the city of Rahway would furnish a tender for the draw, if the county would build the bridge, as the city has done until recently. At our last meeting the city formally notified the county they would no longer maintain such draw-tender. The bridge is over a tide water stream, and is of course a national water course, and must be kept open and unobstructed by some one. As no formal agreement was entered into between the city of Rahway and the Freeholders of the county, your Committee and your County Attorney is of the opinion that the county will be compelled to maintain a draw-tender for the bridge in question, and your Committee would recommend in this connection the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Milton avenue draw-bridge, Rahway, be instructed to make a contract with some suitable person to properly tend the draw in question for a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars per year.

Respectfully submitted,
GEO. W. F. RANDOLPH, } Com.
WILLIAM I. THOMPSON, }
March 6, 1879.

Freeholder Runkle moved that the report be received and recommendation granted.

Which was carried.

From Committee on Bonds:

To the the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Your Committee on Bonds beg leave to report that they have exchanged registered bonds for coupon bonds held by the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York; that such coupon bonds have been duly cancelled and pasted in Redeemed Bond Book, and that all expenses incident to such exchange was paid by the Mutual Life Insurance Company, for whose benefit the exchange was made.

Respectfully submitted,
THOMAS H. SMITH,
WM. H. BRIANT,
GEO. W. F. RANDOLPH,
Committee.

Freeholder Doty moved that the report be received and placed on file.

Which was carried.

RESOLUTIONS, AC.

By Director C. W. L. Martine;

Whereas, The various Boards of Chosen Freeholders, of this State, have power in the language of the statute, "whenever they may think proper to build or purchase workhouses at such places in the county as the said corporation shall think proper;" and

Whereas, A Committee appointed by the Board of Chosen Freeholder, of this county, Sept. 6th, 1877, to report among other matters, "as to the necessity and practability of a work house and its probable cost," did report as to the work-house, "that they had examined into the subject as to the workings and expense of the various work-houses in the counties around us, and they found the men working on the grounds or breaking stone, &c., &c., the work constant and hard, and the discipline very severe, still the prisoners, even at those places, were gradually on the increase, many serving out their fourth and fifth terms;" and in regard to the tramp question they reported, "that the best interest of the county and economy demanded that such city, borough and township act for themselves, under the act of 1876, as the nearer the remedy is to the people the better it would be for the State, the county and the people;" and after giving the matter considerable attention, and taking into consideration the expense of the same, they farther reported "adversely to either purchasing or building;" therefore be it

Resolved, 1. That this Board is opposed to the bill now under consideration in the Legislature of this State, compelling Boards of Chosen Freeholders to build work-houses contrary to their best judgment as to the interest of their counties.

2. That the Board of Chosen Freeholders of this county is opposed at this time of business depression to engage in the expense of building a work-house.

3. That in the event of the passage of the bill becoming a foregone conclusion, then our representatives be requested to use their best efforts to so amend the bill as that it shall not apply to the county of Union, because the small number and short time of commitments in our county will not warrant the expense.

4. That the Clerk of the Board send a copy of these resolutions to our State Senator and each of our members of the Assembly.

Freeholder Randolph moved the adoption of the resolution.

Which was carried.

Bill of Justice Osborn, on motion of Freeholder Doty, was referred to County Attorney for information.

On motion of Freeholder Randolph the Board adjourned to Thursday, April 3d, 1879.

JOHN L. CROWELL, Clerk.

It will be good news to all women who use the sewing machine to learn that a man in Brooklyn, New York, has patented an invention by which all light machinery can be run by electricity. The machinery necessary to run an ordinary sewing machine needle through any thickness of cloth is contained in a box eight inches square and four inches deep A small battery furnishes the electricity and may be at any distance from the machine, the distance governing the size of the wire connecting the two. The expense is small, as the battery is the only constant expense, and this costs only a few cents a day, while it is in use.—The speed at which the machine is run and the stopping and starting are entirely under the contol of the operator, being governed by a switch on the cloth-plate.

An old building, said to be the oldest house in the quiet town of Shrewsbury, Monmouth county, was pulled down a few days ago. A brick found in one of the chimneys bears the inscription: "Michael White, his brick, 1746." The house is said to have been a rendezvous for Tories during the revolution, who used to meet there and plot and scheme for the crushing out of the "rebellion."

[BY AUTHORITY.]

Laws of New Jersey.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

An act respecting foundries and machine companies.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That where any foundry and machine companies have been organized under any law of this state and are carrying on the foundry and machine business, it shall not be necessary, from and after the passage of this act, that a majority of the directors of such company be residents of this state, provided, that at least one of said directors be resident within this state.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved February 27, 1879.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

An act relative to the publication of the minutes and proceedings of the several municipal boards of the cities of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in any city in this state the minutes and proceedings of the municipal boards of which were authorized by act of the legislature, to be published and the official newspapers for such publication were to be designated by one or more of said boards, if the said board or boards or any or either of them so having the right to designate as aforesaid, shall have designated a newspaper or newspapers as official to publish all legal notices required by the city charter, and the newspaper or newspapers so designated shall have published the official minutes or proceedings of said board or boards, although not designated as official newspapers for that especial purpose, said newspaper or newspapers having been designated as official to publish the minutes and official proceedings previously to the designation to publish said legal notices, and having published said previous minutes and official proceedings and received compensation for such publication, it shall be lawful for the proprietor or proprietors of said official newspaper or newspapers to receive and recover from the city, the board or boards of which shall have made the designation to publish all legal notices as aforesaid, compensation for the publication of said official minutes and proceedings subsequent to said designation according to the rates fixed by said board or boards for such publication, or paid by them to such newspaper or newspapers as were especially designated for that purpose; provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply, except in cities of this state having over fifty thousand inhabitants at the last state census.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved February 27, 1879.

CHAPTER XXXVIII.

An act to amend "An act respecting the orphans' court, and relating to the powers and duties of the ordinary, and the orphans' court and surrogates," [revision], approved March twenty seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the one hundred and fifty-ninth section of the act, of which this is amendatory, and which is in the following words:

"159. And be it enacted, That all examinations to be taken and made use of at the hearing of any cause in the orphans' court of any county, may be taken and reduced to writing before the surrogate of such county, or a master in chancery; which examinations shall be taken on ten days' notice of the time and place of taking the same, given by the party or his attorney to the opposite party or his attorney; and either of the parties may, in person, or by his attorney, be present and examine and cross-examine such witnesses; and the examination so taken shall be of the like force and effect as if taken in the orphans' court, before the judges thereof, and shall be filed with the clerk of the said court, and read in evidence upon the hearing of the cause, saving all just exceptions" be and the same is hereby amended to read and be in the following words:

159. And be it enacted, That all examinations to be taken and made use of at the hearing of any cause in the orphans' court of any county may be taken and reduced to writing before the surrogate of such county, or a master in chancery, which examinations shall be taken, on ten days' notice of the time and place of taking the same, given by the party or his attorney to the opposite party or his attorney, and either of the parties may, in person or by his attorney, be present and examine and cross examine the witnesses testifying at such examinations; and the examinations so taken shall be of the like force and effect as if taken in the orphans' court, before the judges thereof, and shall be filed with the clerk of said court, and read in evidence upon the hearing of the cause, saving all just exceptions; but in any particular cause it shall be lawful for the president judge of said court, with the written approval of the justice of the supreme court holding the circuit in that county, to employ a competent stenographic reporter to take down the evidence of such witnesses as may be examined in that particular cause, for the use of the court, and the parties in the case, for the use of the court, and the parties in the cause, and to fix, allow and tax the fees and compensation of such reporter for taking down and writing out such evidence, and to apportion the same between the parties in the same manner as the fees of examiners are apportioned; and each party shall forthwith pay the part so apportioned to him, which shall be part of the taxable costs in the cause.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved February 27, 1879.

CHAPTER XLIII.

An act concerning veteran associations.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever any lawfully organized association of veterans from the late war in this state shall apply to the governor for the temporary loan of camp and garrison equipage, ordnance or other military stores, for any purpose whatsoever, not in conflict or violation of the peace of the laws of this state, or the laws of the United States, the governor shall examine into such application, and upon finding it a just and proper demand he shall have the power to order and authorize the issue of the stores asked for in the application; provided, however, the applicants be required to furnish good and sufficient bonds for the value of the stores issued, which bond shall first be approved by the governor, and to remain on file in the office of the quartermaster general of the state.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

3. And be it enacted, That this shall be deemed a public act and go into effect immediately.

Approved February 27, 1879.

Smalley's Defiance Asparagus.

NEW VARIETY.

The merits and claims of the "Defiance," are as follows: It is earlier, a larger grass, softer, more tender, free from wood, the flavor sweet and very delicate, far superior to all other varieties: It will produce double that of the "Colossal" and can cut it longer. It will continue to grow longer than any other sorts. It has been tested for the past three years. I know my roots and seeds to be strictly pure, as I am the sole originator of it; shall not put any seed in the market this year, as I intend planting it myself. It is the best Asparagus grown, either for private use or for market. We would recommend it in preference to all others. Price $3 per 100, and $25 per 1000. No charge for boxes or packing.—Purchasers pay their express. Orders must be accompanied by a remittance, or satisfactory reference. Will be sent by express C. O. D.

ABRAHAM SMALLEY, Bound Brook, N. J.

We, the undersigned, have tested the above variety of Asparagus, and unhesitatingly recommend it as all that is claimed for it, in fact it is a marvel in the shape of this delicious vegetable: Hon Alvah A Clark, John H VanCleef, John F Babcock, Geo. CAUTION!

The undersigned would caution the public against using or sinking driven wells under Nelson W. Green's patent, unless the same are put down by him, as all parties using the same—otherwise put down, or sinking such wells will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, he having the exclusive right to sink driven wells in Plainfield. The following is a decision recently rendered by Judge Benedict, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Wm. D. Andrews, owner of a patent granted to Col. Nelson W. Green, for a driven well, sued Theo. A. Carman some time ago to restrain him from the use of the patent in the manufacture of a similar well. The testimony filled over four thousand pages and counsel were over two weeks in summing before Judge Benedict in Brooklyn. The patent is worth a million dollars. The well is an air-tight iron tube, driven into the ground until it reaches water-bearing stratum. An air pump is screwed on the top of the tube, and the other end is of steel, made sharp and perforated. Many thousands of the wells are in use. Carman is accused of using a similar well. Counsel for the defence contended that the patent was merely a new plan of more easily reaching the water bearing strata, and could not be held patentable. Judge Benedict held that the idea of forcing water from the earth into a well pit by artificial means was new, but was not patentable, but that the method by which the idea is made available was patentable. He decided that the infringement had been clearly proved.

Maria Fisher, Administratrix of Jeremiah Fisher, deceased.

On application of the above named Administratrix it is ordered that said Administratrix give public notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administratrix.

f21w9 BY JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

In Chancery of New Jersey.

To Kate E. Fuller:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day and date hereof, in a cause wherein Samuel K. Kiltie, acting Executor of Mary B. Bancroft, deceased, is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear and plead, answer or demur, to the bill of said complainants, on or before the fifth day of May next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a certain mortgage given by Moses Ritenhouse and Rebecca L., his wife, to said Samuel K. Kiltie, acting Executor as aforesaid, on lands in the City of Plainfield, dated December 20th, 1876, and you, Kate E. Fuller, are made defendant because you hold encumbrances on said lands.

Dated March 4, A. D., 1879.

Laws of New Jersey.

CHAPTER LXXXIV.

An act concerning cities having less than ten thousand inhabitants and more than six thousand inhabitants.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in this state having less than ten thousand inhabitants and more than six thousand, according to the last preceding census, taken by authority of this state or of the United States, may adopt the provisions of this act in the manner hereinafter provided; the common council of such city may at any time provide by ordinance for the holding of an election by the legal voters thereof, for the purpose of deciding whether such city will adopt this act as its charter; and it shall be the duty of such common council to pass such ordinance whenever fifty or more of the legal voters of such city shall petition therefor; such election shall be by ballot and shall be conducted, as far as may be, in the usual manner of holding elections in such city; and such ordinance shall prescribe the time and place or places of such election, and shall contain such other regulations respecting the same as may be deemed necessary or proper; notice of such election shall be given at least thirty days prior thereto, by advertisements published in two newspapers printed in such city, if so many there be, and by printed notices put up in at least five public places in such city; if a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be in favor of adopting this act, then the mayor shall within ten days thereafter cause a certificate of the result of such election, signed by himself and the city clerk, and attested by the seal of the city, together with a certified copy of the said ordinance, and proof by affidavit that due notice of such election has been given, to be filed in the office of the secretary of state; and from the time of such filing the provisions of this act shall be the charter or form of government of such city, and shall so remain until changed according to law, notwithstanding any subsequent increase in the population of such city, provided that no election shall be held under the provisions of this section more than once in any one year.

2. And be it enacted, That any city adopting this act shall continue to be a body politic and corporate in fact and name, and shall have perpetual succession, with all the grants, powers and privileges theretofore held by the said city and not modified or repealed by the provisions of this act; and all acts or parts of acts in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act when the same shall have been adopted in any city, are hereby superseded so far as they relate to such city, and such acts or parts of acts are to that extent only repealed; this act or the adoption thereof by any city, shall not prejudice or affect any right accrued or legal proceeding commenced, by reason of anything contained in acts or parts of acts hereby superseded or repealed, and so accrued and commenced before this act takes effect by adoption in said city, except so far as herein specially provided for; the ordinances of the common council of any city adopting this act, in force at the time of such adoption, are hereby revived and continued in full force as city ordinances, subject to modification, amendment or repeal by the common council of such city.

3. And be it enacted, That all the following sections of this act, the words "the city" or "said city," shall be held to mean any city which shall have adopted this act as aforesaid, and the words the "county" shall be held to refer to the county where such city is situated.

4. And be it enacted, That if the city shall have more than six thousand inhabitants, according to the last census, and shall not have been divided into wards, it shall be the duty of the common council as soon as practicable after the adoption of this act, to pass an ordinance dividing the city into wards and fixing the boundaries thereof, but such division shall not be made within sixty days immediately preceding the annual election of city officers; the common council shall have power to pass ordinances changing the boundaries of wards, and the numbers by which they may be designated; and creating new wards.

5. And be it enacted, That the annual election shall be held on the first Tuesday of December in each year, at such place or places as the common council shall appoint, the city clerk shall, at least ten days prior to such annual election, cause an advertisement to be set up in at least five public places in the city, and to be published in two newspapers, if so many there be printed, therein, specifying fully the officers to be elected, and the time and place or places at which such election is to be held.

6. And be it enacted, That the poll of each election shall be opened and closed at the time appointed by law, and the judges and inspectors of election in each election district shall be the officers of said election; and in case of the absence, death, disability or refusal to serve, of any of said officers of election on the day of election, the lawful voters present shall elect, viva voce, a person or persons to supply such vacancy or vacancies; that the name of each voter at such election shall be written on the poll list by the clerk, and after the poll shall be closed, the said judges of election shall immediately count the votes given for the several candidates, and certify the result under their hands and seals, and deliver such certificate to the clerk of said city, who shall file and preserve the same in his office, and the persons having the greatest number of votes shall be deemed to be elected to the offices for which they shall be voted for respectively, and shall hold their offices for the terms specified in this act.

7. And be it enacted, That all persons residing in said city, entitled to vote by the constitution of this state at elections by the people, shall be entitled to vote at all elections under this act, and the said citizens so entitled to vote, shall be capable of holding any office in the city; provided, that no person shall be elected or serve as mayor or common councilman, unless he shall have resided in said city at least one year immediately preceding said election.

8. And be it enacted, That at every annual election, there shall be chosen from among the citizens at large one assessor, one collector, one treasurer, two chosen freeholders, two constables and three commissioners of appeal, all of whom shall hold office for one year; the mayor shall be elected biennially, and shall hold office for two years; the city judge shall be elected triennially, and shall hold office for three years; in cities not divided into wards, there shall be elected, by and from the citizens at large, eleven members of the common council; in cities divided into wards, the members of the common council shall be elected by and from among the citizens of the several wards, except as hereinafter otherwise provided; if there are two wards there shall be five councilmen from each ward; if there are three or four wards, there shall be three councilmen from each ward; if there are more than four wards, there shall be two councilmen from each ward; whenever the whole number of councilmen elected from from the wards shall be of an even number, there shall be one additional member of the common council elected by the citizens of the city at large; the term of office of members of the common council shall be one year; at the first annual election held after the adoption of this act, there shall be elected by and from among the citizens at large, four excise commissioners, who, together with the mayor, shall constitute a board of excise, which board shall, at its first meeting, decide by lot which two of its members, other than the mayor, shall hold office for one year, and which two for two years; and at every subsequent annual election there shall be elected two excise commissioners, whose term of office shall be two years; there shall be elected at every annual election one judge of election, one clerk of election and two inspectors of election for each polling district in said city; in cities not divided into wards the judges, clerks and inspectors of election shall be elected by and from the citizens at large; in cities divided into wards such officers shall be elected by and from among the voters of such ward for each of the polling districts in such ward; until the division of the city into wards, justices of the peace shall be elected according to the law applicable thereto before the adoption of this act by such city; after such division there shall be elected by and from among the citizens of each ward, in cities having not more than five wards, one justice of the peace, who shall hold office for five years from the first day of May next succeeding his election; provided, that any city which may, at the time of the adoption of this act, have its full number of justices of the peace, shall elect no justices of the peace at any annual election unless before the next annual election the number of justices in office will be less than the number required by this act, and then only so many shall be elected as shall be necessary to supply such deficiency; vacancies that have occurred or may be about to occur, shall be filled from the different wards in their numerical order, beginning with ward number one, and after each ward shall have elected a justice of the peace; an election to fill this office shall only be held in each ward when a vacancy has occurred or will, by the expiration of a term of office before the next annual election occur therein; the several justices of the peace shall hold their courts in the wards from which they are respectively elected; the terms of office of all officers except justices of the peace and chosen freeholders shall begin at noon on the first Monday of January next after their election.

9. And be it enacted, That officers who may have been elected before the adoption of this act shall hold their offices respectively for the terms for which they were elected, and until the terms of office of their respective successors shall begin.

10. And be it enacted, that the mayor shall be the chief executive officer of the city, and shall see that the laws of the state and ordinances of the city are faithfully observed therein; he may recommend to the common council to pass such measures as he may deem necessary or expedient for the welfare of the city; he shall maintain peace and good order therein, and in case of a riot or tumultuous assembly, may take command of the police force of the city to suppress it; in cases of persons violating, or being suspected by him of violating any criminal laws of this state, or penal ordinances of the city, he shall possess the same power and authority which justices of the peace possess in criminal cases; he shall sign all licenses directed to be issued by the common council, and no bonds, obligation or other evidence of indebtedness issued by the city shall be valid unless signed by him; he shall nominate and by and with the advice and consent of council appoint one chief of police and as many regular and special policemen as the common council may by ordinance direct; the policemen to be selected, as nearly as may be, in equal numbers from the different wards; in case of emergency, he may appoint as many additional special policemen as he may deem necessary, which last mentioned appointments shall be reported to the common council at its next meeting; he shall also nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of the council, appoint the corporation counsel, street commissioner, overseer of the poor and all officers of the city whose election or appointment is not in this act otherwise provided for.

11. And be it enacted That the duly elected members of the common council of said city shall meet in the council chamber on the first Monday in January, at the hour of eight P. M., for the purpose of organizing for the transaction of business, and should the said common council not then organize it shall be the duty of the city clerk to call the members together for that purpose within ten days thereafter.

12. And be it enacted, That the persons elected for members of the common council, or a majority of them, shall have power to appoint the city clerk and janitor of the council chamber to hold a common council within said city, at such time and place as may be appointed by the ordinances and resolutions of the said common council, to meet upon their own adjournments, and to call special meeting by request of any three members of said council in writing, addressed to the clerk of said council, or by order of the president of said council, and that the whole legislative power of the corporation of said city shall be exclusively vested in the said common council; provided, that no ordinance or by-law shall be at any time enacted or passed, altered or repealed, except by a concurrence of a majority of all the members of said common council, and unless the same shall have been introduced before the said common council at a previous meeting.

13. And be it enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the common council of said city to pass such ordinances or by-laws as to them shall seem meet and necessary for regulating, leveling, grading, paving, macadamizing, graveling, cleansing and keeping in repair the streets, roads, highways, alleys and cross walks in said city;

For preventing or removing all obstructions, encroachments, encumbrances and nuisances, or any of them, from the streets, roads, highways, sidewalks, alleys, enclosures and lots in said city;

For ascertaining and establishing the grades and boundaries of all streets, alleys and sidewalks in said city;

For preserving peace and good order;

For preventing and suppressing all gaming and disorderly houses;

For regulating and preventing the carrying on of any trade, business or manufacture likely to promote or cause fire or otherwise to endanger the health or well-being of the inhabitants of said city;

To regulate and control the manner of erecting dwelling houses and other buildings, and to prohibit within certain limits, to be from time to time by it prescribed, the building or erection of any dwelling-house, store, stable or other building of wood or other combustible materials;

To prevent the setting up or construction of furnaces, stoves, boilers, ovens or other things in such manner as to be dangerous;

For the sewerage or drainage of said city;

For laying down pipes for the conveyance of water or gas in the streets, highways, alleys and sidewalks of said city, and for regulating the same;

For the protection of trees, buildings and fences from mutilation or defacement;

For preventing and punishing injuries to public lamps and lamp posts;

For abating and removing nuisances of every kind, and for compelling the owner or occupants of any premises wherein may be carried on any business, operation or calling, or in or upon which there may exist any matter or thing which is or may be detrimental to the health of the inhabitants of said city, or any part thereof, to cleanse, remove, disinfect or abate the same as often as may be necessary, at the expense of such owner or occupants;

For offering and paying rewards for the apprehension and conviction of criminals, or violations of any of the city ordinances;

For the suppression and punishment of vice and immorality;

For regulating the licensing of taverns and saloons, and for the prevention of illegal traffic in spirituous and fermented liquors;

For licensing and regulating public hacks, carriages, carts, trucks, horse cars or other cars used for local passenger travel and other vehicles used for hire;

For licensing and regulating peddlers, hucksters, and other street venders;

For regulating the construction and cleansing of privies and cess pools;

For regulating awnings, posts, signs and banners;

For licensing auctioneers, and regulating the sale of goods by auction;

For the care and improvement of public parks;

For the numbering of streets and buildings;

For regulating cemeteries;

And the said Common Council shall or may enact or pass such and so many other ordinances or by-laws for the peace, good government, order, well-being and convenience of the said city as they may deem necessary, proper and expedient, not repugnant to this act, or to the constitution of this state, or of the United States.

14. And be it enacted, That the Common Council of said city shall have the power of licensing all circuses, or other shows and exhibitions whatsoever, proposed to be performed or exhibited within the limits of said city, on such terms and subject to such restrictions as the said Common Council may prescribe.

15. And be it enacted, That the Common Council may, by ordinance, delegate to the mayor and city judge, or either of them, the power of granting all licenses, except the licenses mentioned in section thirty eight of this act, and all moneys which may be derived from granting any licenses whatever under this act, shall be paid to the treasurer for the use of said city.

16. And be it enacted, That the Common Council of said city shall have power, by ordinance or resolution, to grant or allow such fees or compensation to the several officers of said city, and commissioners appointed under this act, as to the said Council shall seem necessary and proper; provided, that the members of the Common Council shall not receive, directly or indirectly, any compensation for the performance of their official duties.

17. And be it enacted, That the place of meeting of the said Common Council shall be open for the admission of all peaceable and orderly persons who shall be desirous of being present while the said Council shall be in session on public business, and the said Common Council shall have full power to enforce the preservation of order.

18. And be it enacted, That every vacancy happening in any office created and made elective by this act, by death, resignation, permanent disability, removal or otherwise, except in officers of elections on the day of election, shall be filled by the said Common Council within thirty days thereafter, and the said appointment shall continue until noon of the first Monday of January succeeding the next annual election, and no longer; and if, from any cause whatever, the mayor shall be temporarily prevented from discharging the duties pertaining to his office, then such duties shall devolve upon and be discharged by the president of the Common Council.

19. And be it enacted, That every ordinance and supplement to an ordinance passed by the Common Council of said city, shall, before it takes effect and becomes a law, be at once presented to the mayor by the city clerk, with a certification by said clerk as to the date of such presentation, and if the said mayor approve of it he shall sign it, if not, he shall return it with his objections, and file it and them with said clerk, within ten days after he received it; and the said Common Council shall at its first meeting thereafter, or at the first subsequent meeting, enter the said objections at length upon its journal and proceed to reconsider such returned ordinance or supplement, and if a majority of all the members of the said Council agree to pass the same, it shall take effect and become a law; but in every such case the vote shall be taken by ayes and noes, and entered upon the journal; and if such ordinance or supplement shall not be returned within ten days, as aforesaid, it shall take effect and become a law in like manner as if the mayor had signed it; and each and every ordinance or supplement so passed, as aforesaid, shall be attested by the city clerk and published in two newspapers printed in said city, if so many there be, ten days before such ordinance or supplement shall go into effect; and like public notice shall be given of the intended adoption by the said Common Council of any ordinance or supplement, at least fourteen days before such adoption.

20. And be it enacted, That the ordinances of the Common Council of said city, shall begin in the following manner, to wit: "The inhabitants of the city of (naming the city) by their Common Council do enact," as follows.

21. And be it enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the Common Council of said city to order and cause to be assessed and raised by tax, in any one year, such sum or sums of money as may be necessary for the support of the city poor, and to pay the interest upon any existing bonded debt of said city, and the principal thereof when necessary; and such further sum, not exceeding ten thousand dollars, as they shall deem expedient for the current expenses of said city, and for all other objects and purposes authorized by this act which amounts shall be assessed and collected in the same manner as the assessors and collectors of townships are, or may be by law required to assess and collect the state and county taxes, which taxes, when collected, shall be paid into the hands of the treasurer of said city, and be subject to the order of the said Common Council; provided, that in cities where no other sufficient provisions exist for the support of the public schools or of the fire department, the Common Council shall caused to be assessed and collected such further sum as may be necessary for said purposes, or either of them.

22. And be it enacted, That whenever a greater sum of money than the said sum of ten thousand dollars shall, in the opinion of the said Common Council, be necessary to be raised in any one year for the uses of said city, then in such case, the said Common Council are hereby authorized to give notice to the inhabitants of said city, by advertisements published in two newspapers printed in the said city, if so many there be, at least fifteen entire days before the day of holding any election hereinafter mentioned, and by printed handbills put in five of the most public places of said city for a like period that an election will be held at the time and place therein mentioned; the said time and place to be designated by the said Common Council, to vote such a sum of money to be raised by tax in the said city as said Common Council may think necessary to be raised for the uses of the said city, and which sum of money shall be stated in the said notice; at which said election, only such persons shall be entitled to vote as may be entitled to vote at any regular annual election of said city, the voting to be by ballot, written or printed, or partly written and partly printed, for or against the sum of money proposed by the said Common Council in and by their said notice; which said ballot shall contain the word "money," or the words "no money;" the time of opening and closing the poll at such election, and the mode and manner of conducting the same shall be as is prescribed by this act for annual elections; and every sum of money so voted by any resolution of the said Common Council to be raised by tax in the said city, and approved of by a majority of the whole number of lawful ballots cast in any such election, shall be assessed, collected and regulated according to the forty-fourth section of this act, excepting so far as relates to the time of assessing and collecting said taxes, which time shall be fixed by the Common Council.

23. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the Common Council of said city to authorize and direct the mayor and city treasurer to borrow on the credit and in the name of said city, in anticipation of the collection of taxes in any one year the sum of $7,500 00, and every such temporary loan or loans shall be fully paid and redeemed out of the moneys first received from the year's tax collection so anticipated.

24. And be it enacted, That the amount authorized to be annually raised by taxation for city purposes as set forth in section twenty-one of this act may be increased or diminished whenever such change is authorized by a vote of the people at any annual city election, notice having been given by authority of the Council and in the manner prescribed in section twenty-two of this act, that such proposed change will be submitted to the people at such election, and in like manner it may be provided that the amount to be raised by taxation for said purposes shall be instead of any fixed sum, such sum as a prescribed percentage upon the taxable property of said city will produce; and the Common Council may make all needful regulations for carrying out the provisions of this section.

25. And be it enacted, That the city judge shall be, at the time of his election, a practicing attorney-at-law; he shall have all the powers of justices of the peace in criminal matters, and in addition thereto he shall have jurisdiction and is hereby empowered on oath or affirmation made according to law, that any person or persons has or have been guilty of a violation of any of the ordinances of said city, to issue a process, either in the nature of a summons, or of a warrant, as to him may seem most advisable, against the person or persons so violating such ordinance, which process shall, when in the nature of a warrant, be returnable forthwith, and when in the nature of a summons, be returnable in not less than three nor more than six days; that such process shall state what ordinance the defendant or defendants named therein has or have violated, and in what manner the same has been violated, and on the return of such process, or at the time to which the city judge shall have adjourned the same, the said city judge shall proceed to hear the testimony, and to determine and give judgment in the matter, without the filing of any pleadings, and the city judge shall, if judgment be rendered for the plaintiff, forthwith issue execution against the goods and chattels and against the body of the defendant or defendants; provided, that in all cases when the fine or penalty shall exceed twenty dollars, or when the punishment may be imprisonment, and in no other cases, there may be a trial by jury, to be conducted as in cases now triable by jury in courts for the trial of small causes.

26. And be it enacted, That the common council may prescribe by ordinance what shall be the extreme penalty for each violation of any of its ordinances; such penalty shall not exceed one hundred dollars fine, or sixty days imprisonment, or both; and the court may, in its discretion, impose the same or any less penalty than that prescribed by said common council; and if the fine imposed be not paid, the party convicted of any such violation may be committed by the judge of said court, in his discretion, to the city or county jail, or such other place as the common council may provide, for any period not exceeding twenty days; all suits for the enforcement or violation of ordinances shall be brought before the city judge, or in the event of his absence or inability to act, from sickness or otherwise, then the said suits shall be brought before the mayor; and the proceedings before the mayor shall be conducted in the same manner as before the city judge, and the said mayor for the purposes of such trials shall possess all the powers vested in the city judge; the judgments rendered by the city judge or the mayor, when acting in the absence of the said judge, may be executed by any policeman of said city, and in the manner prescribed by the warrant, writ, execution or other process issuing out of the said court, and the said policeman to whom such process shall be delivered shall execute the same and make return thereof as set forth in such process, and the city judge or the mayor shall have power to commit to the jail of the county, and the jailor of said county shall receive and safely keep all persons who may be committed to the jail of said county by the city judge or mayor for the term expressed in the warrant of commitment, or until lawfully discharged, and all the expenses of keeping such persons shall be borne and paid by the said county.

27. And be it enacted, That all suits for the violation of ordinances may be brought and prosecuted in the name of "The people of the city of ______" (naming the city) and the book of records of the ordinances and by-laws of the common council shall be taken and received as evidence of the due passage by said common council of all ordinances and by-laws reported therein, and the publication by the authority of the said common council, of their ordinances and by-laws in a volume or pamphlet, shall in like manner be taken and received as evidence of the due passage thereof, and the publication of the said ordinances and by-laws in the public newspapers shall be presumed to have been made until the contrary be proved.

28. And be it enacted, That upon the trial of any issue, or upon the judicial investigation of any fact, to which issue or investigation the city is a party or in which it is interested, no person shall be deemed an incompetent witness or juror by reason of his or her being an inhabitant of said city; and that if any person shall be sued or impleaded by reason of anything done by virtue of this act, it shall be lawful for such person to plead the general issue, and to give this act and the special matter in evidence at the trial.

29. And be it enacted, That the city judge shall have all the rights, powers and jurisdiction that justices of the peace have for the trial of civil actions before them; his court shall be a court of record, the proceedings in which shall be the same as in courts for the trial of small causes, and subject to the same laws as far as applicable; judgments rendered in said court may be appealed from in all cases in which appeals are allowed in courts for the trial of small causes, in the same manner, and the common council shall provide a suitable and convenient place where the court of the city judge may be held.

30. And be it enacted, That the name of the court in which the city judge shall hear causes shall be "the city court of ______" (naming the city); in proceedings for the enforcement of city ordinances, he shall have the same powers as in the trial of civil actions; the impression of a seal, the device of which shall be prescribed by the common council, upon any process or paper signed by him, shall be sufficient for all purposes; at the time specified in any process returnable before him, or to which any matter was adjourned, he may proceed to hear and dispose thereof; whenever it shall be necessary to give evidence of a judgment or other proceeding before him, the entry of such judgment or other proceeding on his docket, or a transcript thereof certified by him under his hand and seal, shall be sufficient evidence thereof; judgments rendered in said city court may be docketed in the office of the clerk of the county in the same manner, subject to the same restrictions and with the same effect as judgments rendered in courts for the trial of small causes.

31. And be it enacted, That all cases and matters pending in the city judge's court at the expiration of his term or resignation, or death, or inability to serve, shall be continued before his successor, who shall have full jurisdiction of the same; all books and records of said court shall be the property of the city, and as such shall be preserved and transferred by the city judge to his successor.

32. And be it enacted, That the officers empowered to serve processes issued by the city judge shall be, besides the constables elected or appointed within said city, the policemen of said city, and said processes shall be returned in the same manner, so far as circumstances may permit, as warrants for the arrest of persons issued out of the courts for the trial of small causes are returned, and the defendant or defendants named therein shall, if the city judge sees fit to adjourn the hearing of the charge made, and so orders, enter into recognizance, as near as may be in the manner directed in the courts for the trial of small causes, in the amount of penalty named in the process, or in any proceedings to be brought for the recovery of the same, with such surety as may be approved by the city judge unto the said city, by its corporate name for his or their appearance on the day to which said hearing may be adjourned, and in default of such appearance, the said recognizance may be prosecuted and collected in the same manner as the same might have been if the said recognizance had been taken in a proceeding in courts for the trial of small causes.

33. And be it enacted, That the policemen of said city shall have the power to arrest and take into custody, without warrant, any offenders against the by-laws and ordinances of said city, and to confine said offender or offenders in a place provided by the said common council, until a hearing can be had before the mayor or the city judge of said city; provided, that such hearing shall be held within twenty-four hours after the arrest of said offender or offenders, unless such arrest is made after two o'clock, p. m., on Saturday, in which case the hearing shall be had before twelve o'clock m., on the following Monday.

34. And be it enacted, That every conviction had before the city judge, either with or without a jury trial, may be reviewed by appeal to the court of common pleas of the county, in the same manner and upon the same terms as appeals are or may be taken from justices' courts; but such appeals shall be upon questions of law only, and in case the judgment appealed from shall be imprisonment, the said city judge, or any judge of the court of common pleas, may admit to bail the party appealing during the pendency of his appeal; but no judgment for the violation of any ordinance shall be reversed for any imperfection, omission, defect in or lack of form, nor for any error except such as shall or may have prejudiced the defendant in maintaining his defence upon the merits.

35. And be it enacted, That in all cases in which persons shall bring certiorari to remove the order, proceedings or judgment given or made by the said city judge, it shall be lawful for the said city judge to charge and receive before delivery of the return thereto at the rate of ten cents per folio for the same.

36. And be it enacted, That no justice of the supreme court shall grant or allow any certiorari to remove any order, proceeding or judgment to be had or made by the city judge of said city, unless the party applying for such certiorari shall become bound to said city by its corporate title in the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars, with one or more good surety or sureties, conditioned that such applicants shall prosecute such certiorari in the supreme court and shall pay the penalty recovered before the said city judge with interest and costs, if the judgment be affirmed, and shall in all things stand by and abide the judgment of the supreme court respecting the order, proceeding or judgment given or made by said city judge, which said bond shall be tendered to said justice granting such certiorari, to be by him filed with the clerk of the supreme court for the benefit of said city, and on failure thereof no certiorari shall be allowed.

37. And be it enacted, That if any proceedings of the said city judge shall, on removal by certiorari, be affirmed by the supreme court, the plaintiff in certiorari shall pay to the defendant all costs on such suit in the supreme court, but if such proceedings be reversed, then the plaintiff in certiorari shall not be liable to pay any costs; the provisions of this section and of the last preceding section shall extend to the circuit court of the county.

38. And be it enacted, That the excise board shall have the power of granting licenses to keep taverns and saloons and to sell spirituous and fermented liquors therein; and also to grant licenses to grocers for the sale of such liquors in bottles, casks, or demijohns; provided that such grocer's license shall not authorize the sale of liquor to be drank on the premises; the common council may regulate by ordinance the form, manner and contents of all applications to said excise board for licenses and the amounts to be paid therefor; and such ordinance may also prescribe the hours during which the sale of liquor shall be lawful and make other proper regulations respecting the same; but the granting or refusing of all licenses for the sale of liquor shall be in the discretion of the excise board.

39. And be it enacted, That no person shall in any manner sell or dispose of spirituous or fermented liquors unless licensed so to do by said excise board, but this prohibition shall not include the sale by apothecaries of liquors for medicinal purposes.

40. And be it enacted, That whenever it shall appear by the judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction that any person licensed to sell liquor has wilfully violated any law or ordinance respecting the sale of liquor, or has knowingly permitted such violation by any person in his employ, his license may be revoked by said board; and no part of the money paid for such license shall be refunded on account of such revocation.

41. And be it enacted, That the treasurer and collector, before they enter upon their respective offices, shall each execute a bond to the city, conditioned for the true and faithful performance of all the duties of their said offices, in such sums and with such freehold security as the common council shall approve and direct.

42. And be it enacted, That the clerks of election, judges of election, and inspectors of election, assessor, collector, and commissioners of appeal, shall respectively possess the powers and perform the duties of like officers in each township of this state, so far as shall be consistent with the provisions of this act; the city clerk shall attend all meetings of the common council of said city, keep accurate minutes of their proceedings, and record them in a book to be provided for that pur-

The Constitutionalist.

VOX POPULI.

Democrats are justly entitled to rejoice, because, after many years of bitter partisan Republican and corrupt Carpet Bag sway, both branches of Congress are now controlled by honest Representatives of the people, through the grand old Democratic party.

It is a glorious event, and proclaims in thunder tones the invincibility of Democracy, that it is proof against every species of opposition, be it ever so malignant, and that it remains to-day, as it was when Jefferson and Jackson lived, not only the sturdy defender of Constitutional integrity, but the sure refuge of civil and religious liberty, of peace and permanent prosperity.

It is an honor to be a Democrat!

What other party could have survived one quarter of the venom and falsity that unprincipled opponents have hurled against the Democracy!

None that ever existed in these United States or that ever will exist.

The Democratic party has outlived its enemies and is a giant power in the land, strong and robust. It has year after year closed ranks and fought gallantly for the triumph of sound principles. Often defeated and defrauded, but never dismayed, it has boldly waged battle for the right, until now it holds the legislative fort and the country is safe.

Let corruptionists rave and pigmies fret.

The House is Democratic with speaker Randall in the Chair.

The Senate is Democratic with Bayard and Thurman at the helm.

Truth is mighty and has prevailed.

Truth lives forever and so will Democracy.

VOX POPULI.

CHICKENS.

It is a homely saying that chickens are sure to come home to roost.

It is the truth.

A large sized bird flapped his wings and scratched the face of Republican consistency in Washington last week.

The electoral Commission, that trick framed for the purpose of counting Hayes in and Tilden out, decided that the certificate of a Governor was supreme and there was no going behind it.

Florida then had a carpet bag Governor.

The chicken is coming home.

A Democratic member of the present Congress from Florida appeared, duly armed with documentary evidence from the Executive of that State, when the Republicans objected to his being sworn in, because of some asserted irregularity in the election returns.

No you don't, cried the Democrats. Read what your own Electoral Commission declared—that no human power could go behind a Governor's certification. What was sauce in '77 shall be sauce in '79. Swallow your own physic. The gentleman from Florida shall be sworn in.

The Democrat took his seat.

The saintly Republicans eyed the roost and fell into deep meditation.

They saw a very large sized chicken perched thereon.

They are destined to see more.

THE NEW CHARTER.

On the outside of this issue will be found the law enacted at the last Legislature regarding the regulation of cities and which was framed for Plainfield's benefit. This bill was carefully prepared by a Committee composed of some of our most respected and thoughtful citizens, who have the future welfare of our beautiful city at heart, and who certainly would not be apt to frame a law, after weeks of tireless labor, which would be detrimental to the best interests of Plainfield, should its citizens adopt the same as the charter of our city. Of course it is to be expected that all will not like or favor the bill. There will be objectionable parts pointed out and criticised according to the reader's own peculiar views. The question to be considered is, whether by adopting the same as our own charter, the interests of the community in general will be benefitted by it or not. Therefore every citizen should carefully peruse and study its provisions before voting on it. The election for its adoption or rejection occurs June 3rd, and every one will have a chance by that time to become fully acquainted with the merits or demerits of the bill.

WOODEN BUILDINGS.

Considerable discussion is rife among our citizens regarding the action of the Common Council in allowing the construction of wooden buildings within the fire limits of the city. The action of Council in the matter is to be deprecated, and it is hoped that no more buildings of the kind will be allowed constructed. Not only are the unsightly wooden structures along North Avenue dangerous, from the fact that they are located in the heart of the city, and might cause a serious conflagration in the event of a fire breaking out in one of them, but they are also a detriment to the growth of our fair city, from the fact that "first impressions are lasting," and a stranger stepping from the cars at the depot with the intention of locating here, would naturally take a return train in disgust after glancing at the surroundings of the "handsomest depot on the line," imagining that the balance of the city was composed of such buildings, as the the before mentioned structures. Again, it is stated that New York capitalists refuse to loan money to parties here on good business property, in consequence of it being impossible for good property to command the rents it should, owing to the erection of such flimsy and cheap store rooms. What would Front street resemble to-day, had burned-out property owners of wooden buildings been allowed to re-construct of wood instead of brick? After the horse has been stolen we suppose the Council will now see that the stable door is locked, as there seems to be quite a breeze blowing about the matter. What is the use of ordinances if they are not enforced?

GENERAL LAWS FOR CITIES.

The Commission appointed by Governor McClellan to prepare a system of general laws for the government of municipalities, met Wednesday of last week at the State House. The attendance was full, the following gentlemen being present: Messrs. John Clement, Barker Gummere, William J. Magie, Frederick H. Teese and Leon Abbett. After some interchange of views as to the scope of the work and the best way of doing it, the Commission was organized by the selection of Hon. John Clement, as Chairman, and J. L. Naar, as Secretary.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA IN CATTLE.

This fatal epidemic among cattle, which has caused so much loss among the herds of farmers in every section of the country, prevails to a limited extent around Yardleyville and vicinity, in Bucks county, Pennsylvania. The New York papers in discussing this disease in cattle, attribute its prevalence to the importation of fresh, healthy cattle from the West, and on their arrival subjecting them to a change of diet to swill feeding in close and impure pens. No doubt this has an important influence upon the health of cattle, producing in time a degree of disease that may threaten serious results to the consuming community. But this mode of feeding cannot be charged against feeding upon farms, where the disease is sometimes quite perplexing to the community. Is it not possible, nay highly probable, that the atmosphere or weather has something to with the disease? Pneumonia in humanity is a contingency on exposure to damp and chill atmosphere—standing upon a cold, damp pavement or in a draft. Do not the same influences effect cattle, horses, etc.? If we attribute a portion of the disease to malaria then we must look to the health of cattle by giving them high-ceiled, dry-floored pens and overshoots, where they can be protected from the easterly storms, and yet have ventilation, which is equally important to cattle as to humanity.

Col. W. H. Sterling, in answer to letters of inquiry directed to persons in various portions of the State, received a large number of replies of varying character, which indicate that the disease to some extent prevails in certain localities in this State, also, in a form, however, amenable to the influence of a system of quarantine. The principal effort, therefore, will be directed towards preventing the introduction of the disease into the State by cattle from other States. This will be done at the principal points of entrance of cattle trains, such as Phillipsburg, Trenton, &c.

Whenever cases of the disease are reported within the State, a very careful examination is to be made by competent veterinary authority, and if found to exist in a character warranting suppression, the duties imposed by the law, in reference to the matter, will be performed in the mildest form consistent with its requirements. There is no intention, so far as we can learn, to harrass or disturb any one unnecessarily, and it will only be in well authenticated cases that the power given in the act will be used at all. In such cases it will be limited to the least interference consistent with the end desired.

The latest reports show that the disease is mainly confined to the Northern and Eastern portions of the State, Essex, Hudson, Bergen and Morris Counties having the greatest number of cases. As yet, we have heard of no cases in Union County. It is very desirable to thoroughly eradicate this disease, that the farmers and owners of cattle should give free and full information to the duly authorized agents of the sanitary condition of their herds.—There should be no withholding of such information through the fear that infected cattle will be killed. There is no need of that, and such measures will not necessarily be resorted to. No cattle will be killed unless it is absolutely necessary to save the herds or prevent the spread of the disease.—Col. Sterling has issued the following circular:

TRENTON, N. J., MARCH 27, 1879.

"Inasmuch as inoculation of cattle for Pleuro-pneumonia serves to spread the disease instead of suppressing it, all owners of cattle are warned against the employment of this process as a preventive measure, and all persons are forbid to practice it within the State of New Jersey from this date.

WM. H. STERLING."

There have been twenty-nine Speakers of the House of Representatives, and forty-five Congresses. Singularly enough, Pennsylvania claims the honor of having had the first Speaker, and it has the present one. Henry Clay saw the longest term of service—having been chosen six times. New Jersey has had two Speakers, Jonathan Dayton and William Pennington, the former a native of Elizabeth. The Northern States have had sixteen Speakers, and the Southern States thirteen, but the South occupied the Chair fifty years to the North's forty-four.

Gen. McClellan on Saturday last signed the Firemen's Fee bill. Those opposing it declare their intention to contest the matter in the Courts.—Heretofore two per cent. of the premiums of all risks taken in each city by foreign insurance companies was by law payable to the Secretary of State, to be sent by him to the Treasurer of the Fire Department of such city, for the benefit of indigent and disabled firemen, their widows, children, etc.

If Ben Butler expects to be elected President of the United States by the votes of female citizens he must not attempt to bulldoze the Widow Oliver. She seems to have a good case against the gay old deceiver Simon, and it will go hard with Ben's Presidential prospects if he denies her fair play.

New Jersey was honored in the appointment of Committees at the opening of the special session of Congress, by Senator Randolph receiving the Chairmanship of the Committee on Military Affairs and Mr. McPherson that of Chairman of Committee on Naval Affairs.

It is now about time that prophets came forward and begin to announce that the fruit crop has been destroyed by a certain insect or blasted by a cold snap. Speak out, prophets: don't be backward.

Old Simon Cameron is in the toils. The suit of the widow Oliver against him for $50,000 damages for breach of promise to marry, is now on trial in the Washington courts; Ben Butler defends Simon. He may succeed in proving her a very untrustworthy person, an adventuress, perhaps, but then the evidence shows that Simon has been a very, very naughty man, even if he is a widower.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

[Under the above head we shall endeavor each week to give items and news of interest to the lovers of fishing, gunning, yachting, athletic and other sports. We shall be pleased to receive contributions or items for this column from all interested in such matters].

We are indebted to Major E. J. Anderson, Fish Commissioner of this State, for a copy of the Annual Report of the Fish Commissioners of the State for 1878. In the report they say that they deem the introduction of black bass into this State an event of the utmost importance. Their presence in the Delaware has aroused some opposition from those who feared that they would seriously diminish the number of young shad. Bass live mainly above tide-water, and the young shad after being hatched in the head-waters of the rivers, must, in making their way to the sea, pass through the regions inhabited by the bass. It is not now generally believed, however, that any considerable number of infant shad are sacrificed to the voracious appetite of the bass. It is true that bass prey upon other fish, and it is equally true that they will eat young shad, but it is the opinion of close observers that they will not eat young shad if they can get any other kind of small fish. The Commissioners have frequently seen a black bass in full chase after a fleeing "minnow," while the water was fairly alive with young shad, with which he could have gorged himself had he been so disposed; and they have repeatedly found the stomachs of bass filled with some other kinds of food, when the fish has just been taken from water in which young shad could be seen in thousands. It is not proposed to offer any explanation of this singular conduct on the part of the bass. It is simply given as a fact in opposition the belief that bass are largely destructive to shad.

Much of the prejudice in the minds of persons living on the upper Delaware, against the presence of bass in the river has disappeared since the multiplication of shad nets in the lower part of the river has so interfered with the migration of shad as to render the shad fisheries above Trenton comparitively valueless. The bass have to some extent supplied the place of the shad, which a few years ago were reasonably abundant, and the bass being in season at a different time of year have furnished food, occupation and enjoyment to many persons to whom the shad was an object of little or no interest.

An adjourned meeting of "The Central N. J. Game and Fish Protective Society" will be held at Chamberlin & De Camp's Hotel, this city, Saturday evening, March 29th, at 8 o'clock "sharp."

The Plainfield Gun Club will meet at Force's Hotel, Monday evening, March 31st, at half past seven o'clock. "sharp."

THE DEATH-RATE OF Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that, in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a Doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine,

Is eminently a Family Medicine; and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.

After over Forty Years trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent physicians commend it for all diseases of the Liver.

AS AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC
Opinion of the Clergy.

Simmons' Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure. If any of our fellow beings are suffering from hepatic disorders and have doubts in relation to the efficacy of this popular preparation, we can only offer them the simple and candid argument of Philip to Nathaniel. "Come and see." Try the proposed remedy and then you can judge for yourselves. Rev. David Wills, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Macon, Ga.

VOGEL, the Clothier. Read his adv. in another column. The house is a reliable one.

MR. J. Y. WILSON has opened in this city a branch laundry of a Troy firm, for doing up linen of all kinds.

THE Rev. Clearfield Park will preach at the Congregational Church morning and evening, next Sabbath, March 30.

THE ladies of the First Congregational Church will hold a Church Sociable and Pound Party in the Church Tuesday evening, April 1st.

SUYDAM & JACKSON have moved into their handsome and commodious law offices in Martin's new building, corner of Park Ave. and Second St.

IN consequence of the opening of the Erie Canal the unsightly locomotives of the P. & R. Railroad will not run over the Central R. R., for a time, at least.

A. BURDETTE SMITH'S catalogues of celebrated patterns of Spring styles for the ladies are now ready to be given away at Mrs. W. L. Force's, No. 8 Park Avenue.

IT was fully demonstrated last Thursday to certain parties that slush thrown from a high roof to an extension below, will break plate glass if it encounters the same.

WE understand that three separate writs of certiorari have been issued by citizens against the city in the matter of Park Ave. Assessment. W. J. Magie is counsel for plaintiffs.

MR. DANIEL ROBERTS, the Livery merchant on Park Ave., has exchanged a farm for a handsome residence on Fifth Street, above Peace, and will shortly remove thither with his family.

MEHAN, the celebrated awning man, of No. 123 Liberty St., N. Y., whose card appears in another column, will put up good substantial awnings at reasonable prices. He is a reliable man.

WARNOCK, the baker, has just laid in an immense amount of choice flour in barrels, which he is daily converting into large size loaves of the excellent bread for which he is noted as baking.

WORKMEN under the supervision of Isaac Melbourn, are engaged in making alterations to the interior of the "Mansion House," transferring the bar room from its present to its old location, facing Park Ave.

ENGINE 161, attached to the Mail train, due at this city at 8:46 a. m., broke one of her connecting rods on the fireman's side of the engine, near Whitehouse station, on Tuesday of this week. No other injury was done. The train was delayed about one half hour.

HUNT, the Photographer, Stillman's Block, has handsomely re-furnished his pleasant rooms, with brussels carpets on the floors, &c., and is liberally patronized by the public. He can take as good a picture and cause a crying child to smile easier than any one we know of in the business.

DR. BURLINGHAM, of this city, and President of the "Union Co. Medical Society," which meets in this city next month, has received from Mr. Noah W. Pike a paper reciting the mysteries of a death of a patient attended by a member of the above Society, and strongly reflecting a case of unprofessional conduct, and asks that some action of this Society be taken.

A "LIGHTNING CALCULATOR," edified a large crowd on Somerset Street last Friday evening, by reckoning with remarkable rapidity difficult sums in figures. While listening to him we mentally wished he could calculate how soon it will be when certain delinquents on our books would "settle up." That is a problem we have given up solving ourselves.

THE Sixth Anniversary of the Woman's Baptist Missionary Society, of Plainfield, N. J., will be held Friday, March 28th, inst. in the First Baptist Church. The afternoon meeting at 2:30, will be addressed by Miss Susie Haswell of Moulmain, Burmah, and Miss Harriet Brittain of Zenana Mission, India. The evening exercises will commence at 7:30, when reports of the Secretary and Treasurer will be read, and Rev. A. Bunker of Toungoo, Burmah, will deliver an address.

Charity Concert.

Charity concerts are events of rare occurrence in Plainfield, but when the opportunity is given to help a benevolent Society by patronizing a Concert given for its benefit, Plainfield people are just liberal enough to pay their fees and get their money's worth. Last Tuesday evening, March 25th, the Plainfield Relief Association entertained their friends, fifty cents worth, at the Methodist Episcopal Church. An appreciative audience, and one in a peculiarly indulgent frame of mind, encouraged the singers at the proper times. The display of flowers made one wonder in which direction "Charity" had turned itself. The vocalists consisted of chosen members from the Vocal Society, and were under the leadership of Mr. E. J. Fitzhugh. To say that the choruses were fine and rendered in the very best style is entirely unnecessary. To Mrs. Rowes Babcock and Miss Wotherspoon was entrusted the instrumental music. These ladies were entirely successful in their efforts, and more than merited the applause they received. Both ladies responded to enthusiastic encores with selections evincing the very nicety of taste. Mrs. Medina sang with skill a solo, "Within a Mile of Edinboro' Town," which was entirely satisfactory. Together with her sister, Mrs. Dr. Hart, a duet was sung in Part I. of the programme. This was received well as was also the duet by Mrs. de la Montayne and Mr. Cook. This last lady sang a beautiful solo entitled "Little Nannie," in a very effective manner. These solos and duets were interspersed with the choruses. Financially a success, artistically a success, and a thorough success in its effects makes the Charity Concert of last Tuesday one of the notable events of the season.

Suit Against the Central R. R.

Sarah Scheidecker, residing on Church St., this city, has instituted a suit against the Central R. R. Co. for damages in slewing up Church St., when the railroad embankment was built. The case was moved through her Counsel, Wm. B. Maxson, before Vice-Chancellor Van Fleet, at Newark last week, and adjourned to April 23d next.

New Bakery.

L. L. Compton has now, his new bakery establishment on Front St., nearly opposite the Post Office, in full blast, and is meeting with great success in the sale of his 2½ pounds of bread for ten cents. All of Mr. Compton's bread, cake, &c., is baked in a new and improved oven, Messrs Nicholls, of Westfield, patentee, which is said to be far superior to the old mode of baking. His adv. in another column tells what are his intentions.

A Good Change.

The Central R. R. Co. have leased the right of their road and its branches to Mr. Lewis A. Dunn, of the late firm of Dunn & Case, News Dealers, as a newspaper route. Last year the Union News Company had the right of the road, and considerable dissatisfaction was expressed by the public on the upper part of the line in consequence of delay in receiving their papers daily. We are confident that through the management of Mr. Dunn, no such complaint will hereafter be made.

Another "Hotel" Less.

On Monday last, by order of the Sheriff, constable Moffett set into the street the goods and chattels of Chas. Heyder, who kept the "Cosmopolitan Hotel" on North Avenue, the same being done at the instance of the landlord, Mr. Wm. Harney, for rent, due him by Mr. Heyder.—The goods were afterward attached by Mr. G. Krueger, a beer brewer, of Newark, by virtue of a chattel mortgage held by him against the same. Heyder disappeared immediately after his ejectment, and his wife and family, thus left alone, were kindly taken in charge by neighbors for the night.

Society Notes.

A large and fashionable assemblage gathered at the residence of Mr. John Crawford, North Plainfield, Tuesday evening, March 25th, in honor of Mrs. C's birthday. The occasion was a most enjoyable one, and the supper and music excellent. Mr. & Mrs. C. have a pleasing way of entertaining their friends on such occasions.

There was a pleasant gathering at the residence of Dr. Wm. H. Voorhees this city Thursday evening last, at which were present many of our fashionable people. Mrs. V. and her charming daughter gracefully did the honors of the evening.

Railroad Accident at Dunellen.

Engine No. 139, attached to a Somerville local train on the Central Railroad, broke down last Friday morning, and the train attached was taken to New York by a Philadelphia train. After a partial repair the engine was started under charge of the engineer at nine o'clock down the road.—When near Dunellen, she crashed into the rear of a coal train, smashing things generally, blockading the three tracks and interrupting traffic for upwards of two hours. The engineer said he could not stop the engine, but himself and fireman saved their lives by jumping. Fortunately no persons were injured so far as heard from, and the whole damage was broken cars and tracks.

Express to New York.

We learn from Mayor Harper that the Central Railroad Company intend, in the course of a few days, putting on an Express morning train to New York, leaving here at 8 o'clock, stopping only at Elizabeth, and making the time between the two cities about fifty minutes. That will prove a great public accommodation, and for it the thanks of our citizens are due to Receiver Lathrop, and to Superintendent Moore and Assistant Superintendent Stearns, who have treated the petitions sent in most handsomely and evinced friendly feelings toward Plainfield. The desired fast train out in the evening will have to be deferred until the time table is re arranged in June, and at present, there will be no change other than the additional train above mentioned.

The Best and Most Interesting Lecture

Ever given in St. Joseph's Church, was the one delivered on St. Patrick's Eve, by Father Downes, of New Brunswick. The eloquent divine gave a beautiful, enthusiastic and patriotic picture of the brave deeds, sufferings and sacrifices, and of the actual feelings of the nations in the times of their religious persecution, and also of the loyalty to their faith.

The various narratives of the past and present, together with the heroic boldness, were very instructive, and frequently moved the audience to tears of sympathy.

The proceeds showed that the audience was never so large before; the Church was crowded to excess, for which they are greatly indebted to Father Morris, of Plainfield, who, with a large number of his parishioners, made the lecture a complete success.—Bound Brook Cronicle.

Citizens' Building Loan and Savings Association.

The following notice has been sent to members of the above Association:

PLAINFIELD, N. J., March, 18th, 1879.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held March 17th, 1879, the following was adopted:

That the members of the Association be notified that at the next stated meeting, to be held April 21st, 1879, a vote of the stockholders will be taken as to the prosecution of the suit ordered against the former Board of Directors, and as to the mode of defraying the expenses of the same. Also on the adoption of the Amendment to the Constitution, "allowing Borrowers of the Second Series, paying for the full term of ten years and ten months, to retire, and receive their securities. The subject will be taken up at 8 P. M., and its importance should secure your presence.

By order of the Board,
GEO. W. APPLETON,
Secretary.

A Needed Improvement.

Mr. J. E. Dowley, who made that excellent piece of road in front of J. T. Johnson's property on Front Street, is now engaged in repairing the same thoroughfare from Cole's Hill to the city line, (Terril Road) in a like manner, Mr. A. B. Whitney, one of the property owners along the road bearing the expenses. This portion of Front Street has for years been in a wretched condition, especially when the "breaking up" occurs in the Spring, and it belongs to the city to cause the same to be put in proper shape. Failing, however, to secure the sufficient appropriation from Council, Mr. Whitney has determined to have the work done himself. The blessings of the community who travel over the road hereafter will be freely accorded him. The fact of such a capable man as Mr. Dowley being engaged to do the work is sufficient guarantee that the same will be done in just such an efficient manner as that in front of Mr. Johnson's property.

Mr. John Egbertson is making improvements to his property, corner Seventh St. and Central Avenue.

Personalia.

This time it is our esteemed friend, Geo. Cook, who has led to the altar Miss Addie DeHart. Mr. C. is engaged in a flourishing business at Madison, N. J., and his partner for life hails from the same place. We wish the newly married pair a life of happiness and connubial bliss. Rev. Mr. Aikman tied the knot last Wednesday week, and the happy couple proceeded to visit friends in Pennsylvania on a wedding trip.

We are pleased to note that Mrs. Geo. B. Hoadley, who met with an accident in alighting from her carriage a week or so since, is once more able to be out of doors.

Postmaster Vail has been confined to his room for the past week in consequence of a severe cold.

Samuel E. Perry, Esq., of Flemington, N. J., a former Clerk of the House of Assembly, has opened an office in Lambertville, N. J., for the practice of law. Mr. Perry is counsel for State, the man indicted for killing a German at High Bridge some months since. As we go to press we learn that friend Sammy has taken unto himself a partner for life, the lady hailing from New York State. We extend our congratulations.

Y. M. C. A. Reception.

Last Thursday evening, March 20th, the members of the Y. M. C. A. regaled their numerous friends with another Reception, which has since been termed, and we think not unjustly, "the best of the season." The entertainment consisted of Readings by Mr. Chas. W. Fuller, of Bergen Point, and singing by Miss O. A. Kinney of Newark, and a male quartette from New York. Mr. Fuller was somewhat unfortunate in the selections for the early part of the programme, but with the rest no complaint could be made. Miss Kinney is almost an entire stranger to the singing circles of Plainfield, but she came here with an enviable home reputation. Her first solo, "When the Tide comes In," was sung by the lady not quite as well as she might have sung it, owing no doubt to a little pardonable embarrassment. But with her solo, "Ye Merry Birds," which was appointed for the second part of the programme, she was eminently successful and fairly won the applause that was awarded her. The principal, and we were about to say, the only feature of the male quartette, was the singing of Mr. A. D. Woodruff of the English Glee Club. The other gentlemen of the quartette conscientiously and satisfactorily performed their part and altogether their efforts were very pleasing. We know not whether the members of the Association intend to keep up these monthly entertainments through the Spring, but we do think they have had reason to believe that their work has been truly appreciated.

An Unlucky Week.

In our last issue we recorded a runaway, occurring on North Ave., the property belonging to Mr. W. W. Coriell, and the animal a new purchase. On Friday last, another horse belonging to the same gentleman, took fright while a barrel of potatoes was being put on the truck to which it was attached in front of Clifton & Coriell's meat market, Front Street, and ran away, colliding with a buggy wagon standing in front of Rogers' market, capsizing the vehicle and throwing out a woman and child who were seated therein, badly frightening, but not injuring them. The horse was captured before going far, the truck being but slightly damaged, but the buggy pretty thoroughly demoralized. Again on Saturday forenoon, as Messrs. W. W. and R. Coriell were driving the first mentioned animal through Madison Avenue, the beast took fright at something after passing under the railroad bridge. Mr. W. W. Coriell, who was driving, attempted to check his running by tightening the reins, when the same broke, and the now thoroughly frightened horse ran at a breakneck pace toward Front Street. Both brothers jumped safely to the ground from the rear end of the truck when they found they could not check the runaway, who turned into Front Street, and made for his stable. In swinging into the narrow entrance leading to the same alongside his owner's store, the truck collided with Mr. Craig's grocery wagon standing on the opposite side of the street, overturning the same and damaging it considerably. As the runaway made the turn into the lane leading to his stall, he fell to the sidewalk and was captured by bystanders. The truck was badly damaged. A painter, who was on a ladder erected against the side of Coriell's building, in the lane, engaged in painting, would have imagined that there was an earthquake about had the runaway effected an entrance through the passage. It is fortunate that no more serious results happened from these runaways, as Front Street was crowded with pedestrians, children and vehicles. "Wally" should lose that horse to some first class bone yard.

Common Council Proceedings.

MONDAY EVENING, March 24th, 1879.

Council met in special meeting.

Present—Coriell, Depew, Lithgow, Mayer, Potts, Rushmore, Redfield, Stewart, Stover. Absent—Finch, Simpson.

President Potts in the chair.

On motion of Mr. Stover, the reading of the minutes of the last meeting were dispensed with.

The Pres. then stated the object of the meeting to be the calling of an election to ratify the new charter, and stated that the Citizens' Com. and Com. of Council had consulted together and agreed upon holding the election, (if agreeable to Council) on Tuesday the 3d day of June.

Mr. Stover moved that the rules be suspended for the evening, as he had an Ord. relative to this election he wished to present. So concurred in.

Mr. Stover then presented "An Ordinance for the holding of an election for the purpose of deciding whether the city will adopt new charter." The ord. calls for the election to be held on Tuesday the 3d day of June, 1879 [illegible].

Mr. Coriell moved that the Ord. now pass to its 2d reading.

Mr. Redfield offered a suggestion that the election be held on the 30th day of May, (Decoration Day) as it would be more apt to draw out a larger vote, &c.

Mr. Stover thought that it would not give the [illegible] the requisite time for publication.

Mr. Depew thought that the 30th day of May being a holiday, whether an election on that day would be legal, &c.

After some further discussion, the motion of Mr. Coriell was complied with.

The ord. was read 2d time, and on motion of Mr. Stewart it was ordered engrossed and to a 3d reading. All aye.

Mr. Lithgow asked for right of privilege, as he had a matter he wished to bring before the Council.

Mr. Stover thought that no other business could be transacted this evening, (according to the Rules of Order) other than that already acted upon.

Permission, however, being given by Council, Mr. Lithgow then read a petition presented to Council Feb. 17, 1879, by Mr. Wm. Addis, for permission to erect a one-story frame building on North Ave. Mr. Lithgow stated that permission was granted Mr. Addis, but he understood that the building was to be erected on the R. R. property, opposite the depot, &c.

Mr. Stover thought that nothing could be done in the matter this evening, and, if there is no further business, would move that we now adjourn. Agreed to.

A Chance for the City

To [illegible] a valuable piece of property (if the [illegible] can be procured) is offered in the [illegible] of the lands of the late Phineas Randolph, adv. of which appears in another column. That portion now used by the Athletic Club would make an excellent and desirable "Park." The mill property to be sold at the same time should attract the attention of parties engaged in the milling business, [illegible]

A Singular Robbery.

Last Friday morning, March 20th, the residence of Mr. Wm. C. Stanbery at Scotch Plains, was entered by a thief or thieves, between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock, and $1,450 stolen. The circumstances of the case are as follows: The evening in question, Mr. and Mrs. Stanbery had retired as usual to their bedroom on the ground floor. Their son Willie, a young man of about 21 years, retired also to his room on the second floor. Having been indisposed for several days, his mother importuned him to keep a light burning in his room all night, as he probably might have occasion to arise before morning. Her wishes were complied with, and the family and servant retired at the usual hour. About twenty minutes to one o'clock, Mrs S., having the thought of her son on her mind, was awakened by a slight noise in the neighborhood of his room, which she at once attributed to his having arisen. She at once repaired thither, in the dark, and when in the vicinity of the room discovered that the light from his lamp was out; at the same time she heard him exclaim—"Where is my pistol? there is a man in the room." She called to him to be quiet—that it was only his mother, thinking, of course, that he was dreaming, or had been awakened by her footsteps. Willie, however, insisted in calling for his pistol, and in stating that there was a man in the room, as he had felt the hand of a person passing over his face. A light was procured, and the fears of the son endeavored to be quieted by the mother, Mr. S. joining in the same, he having been alarmed by the outcry. Nothing would however, satisfy young Stanbery until he had descended to the lower rooms, and pushing open the dining-room door, leading into the main hall, exhibited to the astonished gaze of his parents, the sight of family silver ware strewn over the floor of the hallway, also jewelry and bonds, supposed to be in a safe hiding place, promiscuously displayed and scattered over a table. An investigation immediately followed, which elicited the fact that entrance to the house had been effected by a thief or thieves, by pushing the key inward from the lock of the front door, the same being afterward unlocked in some way. Systematic proceedings had been commenced to unearth a treasure from a hiding-place which Mr. Stanbery never had any idea of a thief discovering. The hiding place consisted of a closet located in the dining room, but Mr. S. having conceived the idea of making a receptacle for private property below the seeming bottom of the closet, had caused a false bottom to be put in, which left a space of about six inches in depth, and the width of the closet. In this space he had for the past 20 years deposited moneys and valuables without fear of thieves, who would naturally look for such in a place where lock and key held them safe. This receptacle was known only to the members of the family, the carpenters who constructed it and two trusted servants, one of twelve and the other of four years service in the family. The robbery was evidently committed by some one thoroughly conversant with the house and its "safe." Mr. Stanbery had but recently received the money and intended investing the same about April 1st in a manner which would be beneficial to himself pecuniarily. The fact that the thieves did not take any of the silver ware or jewelry, points conclusively to the idea that their object only was "greenbacks." It is supposed that the thief who was in young Stanbery's room was alarmed at the footsteps of Mrs. Stanbery, and in endeavoring to find his way out placed his hand over the sleeper's face in groping along the side of the bed. On the bureau stand lay a gold watch and a $100 bill, which was not touched by the robber. The matter was put in the hands of detective Brown, of this city, the following morning, to ferret out, if possible, the guilty party, but since that time extraordinary developments relating to the robbery have occurred, which places a new phase on the matter. It seems that on Monday morning last Mr. Stanbery received an anonymous letter through the Post Office at Scotch Plains, purporting to come from a female, written in block letter style with a lead pencil, stating that she, (the writer) had found a large sum of money on the person of her husband, who came home drunk the day following the robbery, and believing that the money was a portion of that stolen from Mr. Stanbery, she had determined to return the same. She therefore stated that at such a time that night, $1,000 of the stolen property would be found under a stone, near a certain tree in the front yard, and promised the return of the balance as soon as the writer could get possession of it. Mr. S. scouted the idea of such a case of "quickened conscience" as ridiculous. Mrs. S. and son urged him to look under a stone as he was about departing for Plainfield some hours before the appointed time. Although incredulous, he turned over a small stone about the size of a person's double fist, at the point indicated, and lo and behold! there lay ten $100 greenbacks neatly folded and damp from the exposure to the dampness of the night before. Then was there great rejoicing. Such another case of miraculous restoration has not been heard of since Elizabeth's fit of "quickened conscience." The balance of the stolen funds have not as yet been reported on.

Public School Entertainment.

On Friday evening last, we had the pleasure of attending an entertainment given by the pupils of the public school at Westfield. A large and appreciative audience greeted the children with many rounds of applause as they most successfully performed the various parts assigned them in the evening's exercises. Recitations, dialogues, solos, duets, choruses, tableaus, calisthenics and walking matches, kept the audience in a continual state of interest and merriment. The principal and teachers must indeed have taken great care and exercised an immense amount of patience in drilling and arranging for so successful an entertainment. The pupils too, must have manifested a lively interest in this matter, for their's was certainly an important part and one that was well performed. We have neither time nor space to enter upon a full description of the various exercises, hence we will select a few of those that seemed to please the audience most. The tableau "Flower of the Family," was certainly beautiful and well appreciated. As the curtain rose an old flour barrel was seen standing on the stage, bearing on the top of it a card with the following inscription: "Matt. Clark's XXX Best" self-rising. At a given signal the old barrel, under some magic influence of cords and pulleys, suddenly opened, showing an inside lined with gold and silver paper and a little girl sitting on a low chair; no sooner had the old barrel opened than the beautiful little flower quickly rose to her feet, thus verifying the "self rising" properties indicated on the outside of the barrel. The dialogue "The Horrid Cats," caused much laughter. Masters Grant, Van Dyke, Harden, Clark and Chamberlain, were having a feast in their room at boarding school when the old professor was suddenly heard coming up the stairs. No chance of escape being open to them, they hid in different parts of the room. After a short time the professor lay down to sleep, when the boys were quickly changed into cats, and as these animals were by no means among his favorites, and he not possessing any too much courage when in their presence, the boys soon had the room to themselves. The tableau, "Transition of a Peasant into a Fairy," showed how much dress changes the appearance. A poorly clad and sorrowful looking child stood in the midst of a number of fairies, clothed as such sprites of the air are supposed to be clothed, when suddenly, by the waving of their magic wands, the whole scene is changed; the old garments disappear, the sad face grows bright, and lo! the peasant child stands clothed a fairy with the rest. "Pocahontas Saving the Life of Captain John Smith," was a tableau, the history of which we presume all understand. The Indian brave [illegible] certain death to the victim, when lo! an Indian maiden, the only daughter of the chief, bends over the prostrate form and begs that the stranger's life be saved. Her prayer is granted, and the captain rises to thank his deliverer. The Calisthenics showed most careful drilling on the part of the teachers, and close attention on the part of the pupils. "Johnny Schmoker" and "Brannagan's Band" made music for the boys. The music which was an important feature in the entertainment, showed most conclusively that Prof. Baxter knows well how to train children in this direction. His teachers are among the most faithful and competent in the county, and undoubtedly rendered him valuable assistance in preparing for these exercises. Among the audience we noticed the well loved and faithful County Superintendent, Prof. N. W. Pease, Prof. B. Holmes, of public school No. 1, Elizabeth, and Mr. Lester, who had long been connected with education in said city. We also noticed Mr. Hagee and Dr. Tuck of the Board of Trustees. We did not see Mr. Baker, the other Trustee, and we presume he was unavoidably detained at home. The large audience present showed that the people of Westfield are not losing any of their old interest in their public school.

FIRE MATTERS.

Zephyr H. & L. Co. No. 1 have caused to be copied and framed, likenesses of all deceased members of their Company, and suspended the same against the walls of their parlor.

Tuesday morning last about 1 o'clock, a large grocery store and dwelling combined, at Sterling, N. J., occupied by Mr. F. A. Peterson, and owned by a Mr. Barnhaus, of Morristown, was destroyed by fire, the origin of the same being unknown. There was an insurance of $1,400 on the stock and furniture belonging to Mr. Peterson. The light of the conflagration was plainly seen in this city, and came near causing an alarm of fire.

A light in the direction of New Brunswick on Wednesday night last, caused an alarm to be rung from "Warren's" bell, and the hose boys had a run to Front Street.

No fires or alarms makes it monotonous for the boys, who say—"it ain't like it used to be." True, very true.

Election for two members of the Fire Board, April 14th, between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m.

The election for Chief and Assistants, and Company officers of the various Companies, occurs on Monday evening, May 5th, 1879, between the hours of 7 and 9.

NORTH PLAINFIELD PARAGRAPHS.

Judge Dixon, of the Supreme Court, Trenton, on Monday last, granted a preliminary injunction against Messrs. P. M. French, William E. Gardner, Daniel Van Winkle and Wm. L. Smalley, restraining them from using the driven wells on their premises.—They will contest the same to the bitter end.

If you want to view a substantial public improvement visit the corner of Duer and Emily Streets, and pass your opinion upon the new culverts put in at the expense of Shotwell, the Grocer. For durability and finish, we think the job a good one.

Several new houses are in course of erection in this section. Moore & Milligan, masons, have just completed a fine house for Mr. C. L. Thompson, on Madison Avenue, Garrett Van Winkle, carpenter.

Voehl, the baker, now has a large sale of the celebrated Vienna Bread and Rolls, of his own manufacture, supplying customers who formerly bought that excellent make of "the staff of life" out of town. Give it a trial.

The following is the Roll of Honor for Public School No. 38. Standard 100:

Grammar Department—Daniel Nolen, Charles Taynor, Lizzie Keegan, Belle Lunger, Lizzie Smalley, Lizzie Wilcox, Louise Trembley, Annie Woodland, Florella Case, George White, Lizzie McMurtrie, Mamie Whitlock, Daniel Adams, Ida Burgess, Winnie Conover, George Steiner, Charles Powlison, Harry French, John Titus, John Drayton.

BASKING RIDGE ITEMS.

Vendue notices seem to be the order of the day.

Our Township officers have been sworn in, and, as we predicted, P. F. Randolph was elected Town Clerk, but as there were several tickets in the field, C. D. Smith, a Republican, was elected Collector and S. W. T. Meeke, (Dem.) Assessor.

Among the numerous changes to be made, we notice the advertised public sale of the household effects of Mr. J. L. Van Liew, our popular Undertaker, who has purchased the Undertaking Business at Dover, N. J. Mr. V. will leave behind a host of friends, also a worthy successor in the person of Mr. Robert C. Bishop, who is always ready to lend a helping hand in a just cause.

Our fellow-townsman and student-at-law, Atwood Decoster, met with a serious accident by being thrown from his carriage by the horse suddenly taking a turn from fright. Mr. D. received severe bruises about the head and face, and a broken nose. His brother Charles, who was with him at the time, was also shaken up, but not so severely injured.

Mr. J. W. Dally, Pastor of the M. E. Church, who has been with us three years, goes to new quarters this Spring and a new Pastor will be sent by the Conference to us.

Clinton Lodge, No. 8, F. and A. M., will hold a Special Communication, Saturday evening, March 29th, A. L. 5879, A. D. 1879, by order of C. H. Ames, W. M.

The West Line Railroad is in good running order and Summer boarders need not be afraid of it as it has been strengthened by being thoroughly overhauled, and two trains each way daily ply between here and New York, and friend D. Hinson is still Conductor.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

A case of pedestrianism extraordinary was witnessed in this place last Wednesday. The participants were three young ladies, members of the Senior Class, Plainfield High School.—The names of the fair walkists were the Misses Cora B. Smalley, of Fanwood, Annie D. Cooper, of Westfield and May L. Bolton, of Plainfield.—The starting point was the High School Building, Plainfield, and terminus, the Railroad Station, Westfield. Distance, by the route taken, seven miles. Time seventy minutes. Next.

The Baptist Church were to have called a Pastor at a meeting held on Wednesday evening last. The vote was very evenly divided on two candidates.

The Rev. C. Y. Swan, D. D., has written the Baptist Church Clerk that his father, the Rev. Jabez Swan, will positively spend next Sunday in Scotch Plains. The great Evangelist will preach at the Baptist Church, at the usual hours of holding services.

Mr. W. W. Elston has not let his new house yet, and proposes to "hold the fort" until he is enabled to secure a more desirable tenant.

Road Overseer Henry Goodman was out with his "scraping machine" last Wednesday, adding very much to the appearance of our streets, and the comfort of all that have occasion to use them.

The Rev. Mr. Quigley, of the M. E. Church, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday. So that another Scotch Plains Church is without a Pastor.—Mr. Q. leaves behind him hosts of warm friends, who wish him the greatest prosperity and happiness in his new field of labor wherever it shall be.

The Baptist Church will meet in Parish meeting, next Monday evening, to elect a new Board of Trustees. The present Board are as follows: David Hand, Pres't.; L. H. K. Smalley, Treas.; T. R. Mead, Clerk; W. Van Valkenberg, Norman Dunn, A. L. Jimerson and Wm. Archbold. By an act of the Legislature passed this Winter a minority representation from the congregation may be elected.

Next Sunday afternoon, the teachers, scholars and officers of the Baptist Church Sunday School will hold an election for a new set of officers. The present are, L. H. K. Smalley, Supt.; R. C. Treadwell, Sec.; John Thys, Librarian.

There will be an auction sale of goods and chattels, stock, &c., on the premises of Richard H. Nodyne, on the old road between Scotch Plains and Westfield, on Wednesday, April 2nd, at 1 o'clock, P. M., which we advise all those in want of such articles to attend.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

Constable John Marsh has arrested Geo. and Jas. Schindler, reputed members of the thieving gang about Westfield and Cranford, and lodged them in Elizabeth jail. They were tracked to Otsego County, New York, by Mr. Marsh and ex-Chief Keron, and arrested upon a requisition from Gov. McClellan to Gov. Robinson.

Numerous new buildings are in course of erection and in contemplation.

The Village Improvement Committee of the Lyceum gave a pleasing entertainment on Tuesday evening last, at which eminent speakers expatiated on what could be done to improve our village. Another like entertainment will be given next Tuesday, the proceeds of which will go toward putting shade trees along our sidewalks.

The meetings of the new Town Committee are getting to be lively. At the last one, a petition was presented declaring the election of A. L. Roff, as Overseer of Road District No. 4, to be illegal, in consequence of the proper election notice not being given. Laid over for action at a future meeting.

The new Collector, W. W. Connolly, is after the delinquent taxpayers with a sharp stick.

John Knapp, a young lad, came near losing his life a day or two since, by jumping on a passing train, escaping with a few mashed toes. Try again, John, and give the Coroner something to do.

Mr. Wm. Stitt has rented his beautiful dwelling house to New York parties.

The Fire Company are endeavoring to raise funds for a bell to be put on top of their house.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

Can you inform us why permission has been given for the erection of on many frame buildings along North Avenue. The Ordinance prohibiting such structures, except by consent of the Council, within certain specified limits, was a wise and necessary measure for public safety, and why it has been discarded through the wholesale erection of wooden shanties, and they of the most flimsy character, we cannot understand.

MANY CITIZENS.

We cannot answer the above propounded questions. The Ordinance in question gives Council permission to grant such favors. We think that no such discretionary powers should be allowed.—[EDS.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

The Central Times of to-day has the following in its column of items, viz.:

"No man can get his morning bitters at the saloons, after this, until six o'clock. See new Ordinance."

Upon reading the above I scanned the Times to find the Ordinance spoken of, and found it no Ordinance at all, as the enacting clause is not in conformity to the Amended Charter of 1872. Section 16 of which reads as follows:

"And be it enacted, That the Ordinances of the Common Council of said city shall begin in the following manner, to wit: 'The Inhabitants of the city of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:'"

The said Ordinance, therefore, is not legal; has no capacity, force or cogency, and is null and void, as any one may see by reading its title.

And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the treasurer of said city to receive and pay out all moneys belonging to the said city, under the direction and by authority of the said common council; to make out annually, on the second Monday in December, or oftener, should the said common council so require, and publish in two newspapers printed in said city, if so many there be, a detailed and true statement of all moneys received into the treasury and of all moneys disbursed therefrom, from the commencement of his official year to the date of such statement.

44. And be it enacted, That the city assessor shall with strict impartiality assess taxes upon all taxable persons and property within the said city between the first day of May and the first day of July, annually, and the city collector shall collect the same between the first day of July and the first day of September, annually, and shall, on the first Monday in September, annually, return to the city judge the names of all delinquents with the sums due from them, respectively; said city judge shall thereupon issue his warrant or warrants to the city policemen, or any of them, or such other person as the common council shall for that purpose nominate and appoint, requiring him or them to levy the tax so in arrears in the manner in which taxes are levied in the townships of the state; and such officers shall be entitled to the same fees as are paid for the like services in such townships.

45. And be it enacted, That the commissioners of appeal in cases of taxation shall meet annually on the third Tuesday of July, and at such other times as the common council may designate, in the event of extra tax so ordered to be raised, to hear and determine all complaints of unjust taxation; they shall sit from two o'clock p. m. until five o'clock, p. m., or longer if deemed necessary, to dispose of all cases submitted to them for consideration, and shall give public notice of the time and place of such intended meeting in two newspapers printed in said city, if so many there be, at least ten days previous to such meeting.

46. And be it enacted, That the constables, pound keepers, and the overseer of the poor, shall perform such duties as by the laws and usages of this state now appertain to and devolve upon such officers in the townships of this state, subject to the provisions of this act, or any ordinance or ordinances passed by virtue thereof, and the collector of revenue shall pay over all moneys received by him for the city as soon as collected, to the treasurer of said city, who shall pay over to the collector of the county the full quota of taxes required by law to be raised in said city for state and county purposes, so far as the same may have been collected.

47. And be it enacted, That the corporation counsel shall appear for and represent the city in all suits, actions, and special proceedings to which it is a party; he shall also give his opinion on any question of law that may be submitted to him by the mayor, common council, or board of excise; provided, that such question shall concern the rights, powers or duties of the city, or of some officer or department thereof.

48. And be it enacted, That all officers appointed by the mayor, with the advice and consent of council, shall hold office during the term of the mayor by whom they were appointed, and until who ought to have paid the same; and the assessments aforesaid and proof of payment shall be conclusive evidence in said suit; and in all cases where there is no agreement to the contrary, the owner or landlord, and not the occupant or tenant shall be deemed the person who ought to bear and pay every such assessment.

69. And be it enacted, That in case any assessment made as aforesaid, shall not have been complied with by the payment of the sum thereby assessed, within thirty days, as aforesaid, the common council shall cause a notice to be published in one or more public newspapers printed in said city, for at least one month, requiring the owner or occupant of such lands, tenements and real estate respectively to pay the sums at which the same shall have been assessed, together with all the interest, costs and expenses that shall have accrued thereon, to the treasurer of said city; and that in default of such payment, such lands, tenements and real estate will be sold at public auction, to satisfy such assessment, and the interest, costs, charges and expenses thereof, which notice shall be signed by the city clerk, and shall contain a brief description of the premises to be sold, and shall state the purpose and amount of the assessment against the same, with the costs, charges and expenses, and the day, hour and place of such sale; and copies of such notice shall be posted in five public places in such city at least four weeks before such sale; it shall be lawful to sell said land and premises, pursuant to said notice at public auction for the shortest term for which any person or persons will agree to take the same and pay such assessment, interest, costs, charges and expenses; if at any such sale, there shall be no other bidders, the city treasurer may, in the name and for the use of the city, purchase the property offered for sale for the term of one hundred years; and the city treasurer shall execute under the common seal of said city a certificate of said sale, and deliver the same to the purchaser or purchasers within ten days after the sale; provided, that it shall not be lawful to sell the same until sixty days after the completion and return of said assessment, nor until thirty days after the owner or owners of said real estate shall have been notified to pay said assessment; such owners shall be notified by the service of a written notice upon each of them personally, or by leaving the same at his place of residence or business, with some person, of the age of fourteen years or over, or by affixing the same to the outer door of the house wherein such owner resides; but if any owner do not reside in the state of New Jersey, or if their places of residence or business cannot with reasonable diligence be ascertained, the publication and posting of notices hereinbefore directed shall be deemed sufficient notice to them; provided, that in every case where the post office address of a non-resident owner shall be known to the city clerk, or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained by him, a copy of such notice shall be deposited in the post office directed to him at such address, with the postage prepaid.

70. And be it enacted, That the owner, mortgagee, occupant, or any person or persons, having a legal or equitable interest in any lands or real estate sold for assessments, as aforesaid, may redeem the same at any time within two years from the time of such sale, by paying to the city treasurer, for the use of the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, the said purchase money, together with any other assessment properly chargeable thereon and which the purchaser may have paid, with the interest on said purchase money, at the rate of twelve per centum per annum, from the time of such sale or from the time of such payment, and the certificate of said treasurer, stating the payment and showing what property such payment is intended to redeem, shall be evidence of such redemption, which sum of money so paid, the said treasurer shall cause to be refunded to the purchaser, his heirs and assigns.

made or allowed after the expiration of three years from the time the land is taken or the damage suffered.

103. And be it enacted, That the commissioners in behalf of the mayor and common council of said city, and all persons acting under their authority shall have the right to use the ground or soil under any road, railroad, highway, street, lane or alley within ten miles of the boundary line of said city for the purpose of constructing the works contemplated by section ninety-eight of this act, on condition that they shall cause the surface of such road, railroad, highway, street, lane or alley to be restored to its original state, and all damages done thereto to be repaired.

104. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed and taken to be a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 12, 1879.

Smalley's Defiance Asparagus.

NEW VARIETY.

The merits and claims of the "Defiance," are as follows: It is earlier, a larger grass, softer, more tender, free from wood, the flavor sweet and very delicate, far superior to all other varieties: It will produce double that of the "Colossal" and can cut it longer. It will continue to grow longer than any other sorts. It has been tested for the past three years. I know my roots and seeds to be strictly pure, as I am the sole originator of it; shall not put any seed in the market this year, as I intend planting it myself. It is the best Asparagus grown, either for private use or for market. We would recommend it in preference to all others. Price $3 per 100, and $25 per 1000. No charge for boxes or packing.—Purchasers pay their express. Orders must be accompanied by a remittance, or satisfactory reference. Will be sent by express C. O. D.

ABRAHAM SMALLEY, Bound Brook, N. J.

We, the undersigned, have tested the above variety of Asparagus, and unhesitatingly recommend it as all that is claimed for it, in fact it is a marvel in the shape of this delicious vegetable:

CAUTION!

The undersigned would caution the public against using or sinking driven wells under Nelson W. Green's patent, unless the same are put down by him, as all parties using the same otherwise put down, or sinking such wells will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, he having the exclusive right to sink driven wells in Plainfield. The following is a decision recently rendered by Judge Benedict, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Wm. D. Andrews, owner of a patent granted to Col. Nelson W. Green, for a driven well, sued Theo. A. Carman some time ago to restrain him from the use of the patent in the manufacture of a similar well. The testimony filed over one thousand pages and counsel were over two weeks summing before Judge Benedict in Brooklyn. The patent is worth a million dollars. The well is an air-tight iron tube, driven into the ground until it reaches water-bearing stratum. An air pump is screwed on the top of the tube, and the other end is of steel, made sharp and perforated. Many thousands of the wells are in use. Carman is accused of using a similar well. Counsel for the defence contended that the patent was merely a new plan of more easily reaching the water bearing strata, and could not be held patentable. Judge Benedict held that the idea of forcing water from the earth into a well pit by artificial means was new, but was not patentable; but that the method by which the idea is made available was patentable. He decided that the infringement had been clearly proved."

In Chancery of New Jersey.

To Kate E. Faller:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day and date hereof, in a cause wherein Samuel K. Kille, acting Executor of Stacy B. Barcroft, deceased, is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear and plead, answer or demur, to the bill of said complainant, on or before the fifth day of May next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a certain mortgage given by Moses Rittenhouse and Rebecca L., his wife, to said Samuel K. Kille, acting Executor as aforesaid, on lands in the City of Plainfield, dated December 30th, 1876, and you, Kate E. Faller, are made defendant because you hold encumbrances on said lands.

Dated March 4, A. D., 1879.

Laws of New Jersey.

CHAPTER LXXXVII.

An act to authorize the formation of associations and societies for the more effectual protection of game and game fish.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for ten or more inhabitants of this state, above the age of twenty-one years, to form an association and society for the better protection of game and game fish, and for that purpose they shall make and sign articles of association, which shall set forth the names of the persons forming said association and society, with their places of residence, the names of not less than five and not more than ten directors, who shall manage the affairs of said association and society, for the period of one year, and until others are elected in their stead and place, and the name adopted by said association and society as its corporate name, which articles of association shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, who shall endorse thereon the day they are filed, and record the same in a book to be by him kept for that purpose; and upon filing said articles of association in the secretary of state's office, said persons who shall have signed said articles of association, and all being citizens of this state above the age of twenty-one years, shall thereupon become members of said association, and shall be a corporation by the corporate name mentioned in said articles of association for the purpose aforesaid, and as such corporation shall have the power to make and use a common seal, to sue and be sued, and generally to have the privileges and immunities incident to bodies politic, and be subject to the liabilities and restrictions imposed thereon.

2. And be it enacted, That the object of said association and society shall be the better protection of game and game fish, and to aid in carrying out the laws of this state for the protection of the same.

3. And be it enacted, That in order to carry out the objects aforesaid, it shall be lawful for such associations and societies to have the power to make and adopt a constitution and by-laws, and regulations for the admission and fee of members, for the safe keeping of its property and funds, and from time to time to alter and repeal such constitution, by-laws and regulations, by a majority of its members present at any regular meeting, upon notice being given at any regular preceding meeting, for the assessment of its members, fine on officers and members, for failure and neglect of any compliance of the constitution, by-laws and regulations thereof; and said fees, assessment, and fine shall be collected in the name of the association and society, by its corporate name, against the delinquents, as debts of like amount may now or hereafter be collected by law.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1879.

CHAPTER LXXX.

An act to increase the jurisdiction of justices of the peace.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That every suit of a civil nature at law where the debt, balance or other matter in dispute does not exceed, exclusive of costs, the sum or value of two hundred dollars, shall be and hereby is made cognizable in any court for the trial of small causes of this state where the same may be heard and determined according to law; provided always, that this act shall not extend to any action of replevin, slander, trespass for assault and battery or imprisonment, nor to any action wherein the title to any lands, tenements, hereditaments or other real estate shall or may in anywise come in question, nor to any cause of action over which any district court of this state now has or hereafter may have exclusive jurisdiction; and provided further, that it shall be at the option of the plaintiff in any suit at law to bring the action in the circuit court; and provided further, that no justice of the peace in any city where a district court now exists, shall exercise jurisdiction over any cause cognizable in such district court.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts, inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed, except such acts or parts of acts as give to certain district courts jurisdiction over suits mentioned in the [illegible] class may be re-elected, if they shall possess the qualifications hereinafter mentioned, the meeting shall also determine on what day in each year the future annual elections of trustees shall be held," be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any number of persons residing in this state, not less than seven, who shall desire to form an association for the purpose of procuring and holding lands to be used exclusively for a cemetery or a place for the burial of the dead, may meet at such time and place as they or a majority of them may agree, and appoint a chairman and secretary by the vote of a majority of the persons present at the meeting, and proceed to form an association by determining on a corporate name by which the association [illegible]

POETRY.

For "The Constitutionalist."

RESPECTFULLY DEDICATED TO "SIR PERCY LLWYN."

BY "VIOLETTE."

Tho' but a few short months have flown,
Since first I met thee,
Tho' 'tis brief since I've thee known,
Yet ne'er will I forget thee;
Thy noble form and manly grace,
Will not from mem'ry perish,
And kindly thoughts, time ne'er 'll efface,
I e'er for thee shall cherish.

Thy soft dark eye that sparkles bright,
With mingled pride and pleasure
Thy jetty locks that vie with night,
Are nature's gift a treasure;
The flushes warm that o'er thy cheek,
Steal silently unbidden,
Methinks of motives pure they speak
From idle gazers hidden.

And now a tribute to thy fame,
Allow me in conclusion,
To render to thy honored name
(By no means an effusion).
Thy muse indeed has favored thee,
And by her inspiration,
Many a gem of poetry
Solicits admiration.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A PRINTER'S DREAM.

A printer sat in his office chair, his boots were patched and his coat threadbare, and his face looked weary and worn with care. While sadly thinking of business debt old Morpheus slowly around him crept, and before he knew it, he soundly slept, and sleeping, he dreamed that he was dead; from trouble and toil his spirit had fled, and that not even now a cowbell tolled for the peaceable rest of the cow hide sole. As he wandered about among the shades that smoke and scorch in lower Hades, he shortly observed an iron door that creakingly swung on hinges ajar; but the entrance was closed with a red-hot bar, and Satan himself stood peeping out waiting for travellers thereabout, and thus to the passing printer spoke:—"Come in and tarry awhile, my dear; it shall cost you nothing, and never fear. This is the place where I cook the ones who never pay the subscription sums; for though in life they may escape, they'll find when they're dead it is too late; I will show you the place where I melt them thin, with red-hot chains and scraps of tin, and also where I comb their head, with broken glass and molten lead; if of refreshments they only think, there's boiling water for them to drink; there's the red-hot grindstone to grind their nose and the red-hot rings to wear on their toes; and if they mention they don't like fire, I sew up their mouths with red-hot wire; and then, dear sir, you should see them squirm, while I roll them over to cool and turn." With these last words the printer awoke, and thought it all a practical joke; but still, at times so real did it seem, that he cannot believe it was all a dream; and often he thinks, with a chuckle and grin, of the fate of those who never pay the printer.—Unknown Poet.

Moral culture is of far more value to every human being, during the first ten years of his life, than intellectual culture. If our public schools are to fit the people for a correct life, it is more important that they be schools of correct morals than that they should excel in imparting a knowledge of reading, writing, arithmetic, geography and grammar. Once the original American people believed the public schools were the safeguard of our republican institutions; they were right. Then our schools taught more of good manners, "the lesser morals," and of morality, than they did of mere book knowledge.—N. E. Journal of Education.

ATTENTION! DEMOCRATS!

The time has arrived when the Democracy should wage a bold and determined contest for the re-establishment of their worth proven principles and measures throughout the entire land, and for the complete triumph of such an all important cause, it is now the duty of every individual Democrat to thrust aside any personal opposition he may have harbored, to totally ignore non-essentials, to turn a deaf ear to the cunning cant of the enemy, to abjure isms of every shade, and come forward a ready and enthusiastic worker in the organization of party for the sake of a free and prosperous country.

The Democratic party is strong when rallied beneath its own proper banner. By that sign it has ever conquered and will conquer. Weakness has only been its portion when supposed expediency supplanted principle, or poison coated compromises were accepted for wholesome precedents.

We want no more false issues, no further hypocritical pretensions, no more swindling arrangements, but an open and undisguised warfare.

Democrats! Come together and concentrate your strength for action!

HOW THE MONEY GOES.

A few days ago United States Marshal Kerns, of Philadelphia, testified before a Congressional Committee, that he appointed 773 Deputy-Marshals for the November election in that city, at $10 each for two days services, all of whom were political Republicans, and in answer to a question whether the election would have been safe from disorder and fraud without such interference, he declared that in his judgment it would.

That reveals an ugly fact.

Nearly eight thousand dollars of the peoples' money squandered on a regiment of mercenary partisans, hired to obstruct, not protect the purity of the ballot box.

If that large sum of money was spent in Philadelphia alone for such purpose, what an immense aggregate must have been filched from the Government Treasury last November.

It was a public outrage. To call it robbery comes nearer the truth.

Did the people of this country know one half the amount annually devoured by such political cormorants, there would be music in the land and not to the tune of Hail Columbia!

$7,730 for Republican leeches at one election in a single city.

How much did the extracting process cost the whole United States?

Republican Congressmen object to its repeal.

The reason is plain

THEN AND NOW.

In 1872, the Republican majority in the House of Representatives at Washington, led on by Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, and in bold defiance of a protesting Democratic minority, attached to an Appropriation bill the nefarious proviso authorizing Federal interference with elections.

Then it was Republican orthodoxy and every way proper to so treat an act making appropriations for the public service.

In 1879, the Democratic majority in the House propose inserting in a like bill a clause repealing the obnoxious partisan provision fastened on the country by Grantism seven years ago.

Now the same Mr. Garfield, speaking for the Republican minority, declares such treatment of an Appropriation bill unwarranted and even revolutionary.

Unfortunately for Mr. Garfield and his party, the past is a recorded fact, and the light of history does them no honor.

OUT AND IN.

The Republicans howl piteously over their loss of the United States Senate and evince anger because the majority in the exercise of a legitimate right, have turned Republicans out and ushered Democrats into the various offices attached to that body.

Poor fellows, it goes hard after so many years, of unbridled license to surrender power and patronage.

Yet such is not only political fate, but even-handed justice.

Who ever heard of a Republican Senate giving prominent offices to Democrats?

The thing never happened and never will. It is the very antipode of political Republicanism.

Occasionally, some old and efficient Democratic incumbent may have been retained in a petty place, but all lucrative and influential positions were the sure portion of extreme partizans, Forney, the renegade, and Gorham, the election fund purveyor, being specimen bricks.

The majority discharged duty in making a clean sweep, and we note with pleasure that every Democratic Senator stood manfully beside his party.

GEN. FITZ JOHN PORTER.

It is with gratified feelings that we report the complete vindication of the above named military gentleman, who is a resident of our fair city of Plainfield. A soldier, who faithfully and gallantly served his country in her hour of trial, he has, for years, borne the stigma of a coward, fastened on him by his enemies, but at last comes out of the ordeal with his reputation clear and unsullied. This is not only gratifying to us because we believe Gen. Porter to be a brave soldier and honorable man, but because he has for years past been one of our most respected residents, and has a host of friends here. The Military Commission appointed to review Gen. Porter's case, fully acquit him of the charges preferred and report that concerning the charge of which General Porter was found guilty—not having moved his command on the night of August 27, 1862, in obedience to an order from General Pope, that it was a manifest physical impossibility to march over that road that night; that nothing would have been gained by the attempt, and that it would have been wiser if General Porter had delayed the attempt still longer than he did; that he exercised the very ordinary discretion of a corps commander, and that it was his plain duty to so exercise it. The report closes as follows: "General Porter was, in effect, condemned for not having taken any part in his own battle. Such was the error upon which General Porter was pronounced guilty of the most shameful crime known among soldiers. We believe not one among all the gallant soldiers on that bloody field was less deserving of such condemnation than he. The evidence of bad animus in Porter's case ceases to be material in view of the evidence of his soldierly and faithful condition. But it is our duty to say that the indiscreet and unkind terms in which General Porter expressed his distrust of the capacity of his superior commander cannot be defended, and to that indiscretion was due in very great measure the misrepresentation of both his motives and his conduct and his consequent condemnation. Having thus given the reasons for our conclusions, we have the honor to report, in accordance with the President's order, that in our opinion justice requires at his hands such action as may be necessary to annul and set aside the findings and sentence of the court-martial in the case of Major-General Fitz-John Porter and to restore him to the position of which that sentence deprived him, such restoration to take effect from the date of his dismissal from the service."

THE NEW CHARTER.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

I have read the new Charter which we are to be called on to ratify June 3rd. Its powers seem to me to be ample, as much so as the most ardent "improvement" man could ask. I can find nothing in it to prevent "improvements" being made, without limit, as to extent or cost. It will be as easy to incur a debt of a million of dollars, as any smaller amount. As to the paving, macadamizing, &c., of streets, there appears to be a little check, as a certain proportion of the frontage owners may remonstrate successfully, if done very promptly. But when we come to the construction of Sewers and Drains, the building of Alms House or Work-House, City Hospital, City Hall, City Jail, and the erection of the great "Poudrette Factory," the Common Council are to have unlimited control. The assessment for street improvements is only to be to the extent of benefit received. The surplus is to be paid out of City Treasury.—Stone crosswalks may be laid at the general expense of the city. The "Poudrette Factory" may be within the city limits or outside. All annoyance from this Factory will be prevented by the use of deodorizing materials. The study of this process will be very interesting to the Council, and without doubt, the manufacture will be carried on with the highest intelligence and the most rigid economy. I suggest that liberal salaries be paid to the persons employed in this business, so that high capacity and strict honesty may be secured. We shall need not only capable officers to attend to the manufacture, but also to the sale of the Poudrette. The Common Council having absolute control of all cesspools in the city, will see the necessity of ordering their connection with the sewers, so as to secure a good supply of material for the Poudrette; the price to be paid for the water to be used in washing the waste through the pipes and sewers, into the Factory, will, of course, (being fixed by the Council) be so liberal as to ensure a good dividend to the Water Company, which will be a private concern. The power to build Sewers, City Hall, &c., is a power to contract a debt. The debt when contracted must be paid. A very liberal and extensive system of improvements can be carried out for one or two millions of dollars. This would be twenty or forty per cent. on an assessed valuation of the property in the city, of five millions of dollars. Those who hold bonds and mortgages would get their pay after the city debt was paid; this difficulty would only exist as to outstanding mortgages, as in the future it would be as difficult to get money on mortgage in Plainfield as it now is in Elizabeth or Rahway. As to City Bonds, none will be valid unless signed by the Mayor. If you can spare room and I get time, I would like to make some further suggestions about the license business and some more of the various matters in the Charter.

PARK AVENUE.

A Timely Suggestion

MESSRS. EDITORS:

Although it is not the province of an ordinary passenger to make time tables for railroads, it may not be entirely inappropriate for some one not specially interested in the Central R. R., or any station on the line of it, to submit a plan that has been approved by competent employees, whereby it will be not only possible but positively convenient, to run fast trains between Plainfield and New York at hours that will accommodate the largest number of commuters. The so called "Express" train to New York at 8 o'clock from Plainfield which commenced running on April 1st, is supposed to be the "quick" train promised by the Receiver in compliance with the request contained in two numerously signed petitions which were presented recently, but, as all will concede, it is only an aggravation, and affords but little accommodation compared with what we had a right to expect in a train to leave at 8 o'clock, which should arrive in N. Y. not later than 8.45 a. m. Such a train would carry the passengers who now take the 7.51, and nothing short of such a train will answer the requirements of commuters. The only obstacle in the way of the successful operation of a forty-five minute express at 8 o'clock, is the 8.00 from Roselle; by the plan proposed, it would only be necessary to delay the departure of that one ten minutes, to give the express a clear track to Jersey City, which could be reached in time for the 8.35 boat without the slightest inconvenience to any one. As to a 5.15 p. m. express from New York,—if run at same speed as the present 5.30 Philadelphia train, with the 5 o'clock put on the time of the 5.15, skipping Plainfield, there would be no interference on the road ordinarily, but in case of delay at the "draw," it would be so easy for the 5 o'clock to take the third track at Cranford, as for the 5.15 under the present arrangement. This suggestion is offered to the efficient Superintendent of the road, in the hope that it may be utilized for our mutual benefit.

SIMMONS' LIVER

REGULATOR

THE SYMPTOMS of Liver complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side.—Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for Rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, Debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them, but the Liver is generally the organ most involved.

TAKE NOTICE!

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 1st, 1879.

It being officially reported to me that contagious Pleuro-Pneumonia exists among the Cattle in the Counties of Bergen and Hudson, in this State, I do therefore, by virtue of the power conferred upon me by the Governor, under the law, declare the said Counties of Bergen and Hudson under Quarantine, and do hereby forbid, under penalty of the law, all movement of cattle to or from or within said Counties without a permit from me.—This, however, is not to apply to what is known as "Western Cattle."

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, March 21st, 1879.

Mary L. Hotchkiss, Administratrix of Horace Hotchkiss, deceased.

On application of the above named Administratrix, it is ordered that said Administratrix give Public Notice to the Creditors of the estate of said deceased to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also by advertising the same for the same time in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST, a newspaper published in said County. And any Creditor that neglects to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim within the said period of nine months, under oath after notice given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administratrix.

Original Pension.

Soldiers disabled by wound, injury or disease are entitled to Pension. If the soldier died in the service or since discharge, of wound, injury or disease contracted in service, the widow, minor child or children are entitled. If soldier was Pensioned and has since died of the cause for which pensioned, the widow, minor child or children are entitled. If the widow since pensioned has since died or is married, the minor child or children are entitled.

Increase Pension.

Thousands of Soldiers throughout the land are entitled to increase of Pension, because when first inscribed upon the rolls they are often pensioned at rates below what is warranted by their disabilities, and the report of examining surgeons to which every disabled soldier is entitled in case of disability; and a majority of those who have been pensioned for any length of time are entitled to increase, as it is the nature of most disabilities for which Pension is granted to increase with increasing years.

Arrears Pension.

You should apply for it at once, we have the blanks and instructions, it will cost you only fifty cents to complete and file your claim for all that may be due you.

COPIES of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST, containing the proposed new charter for Plainfield, may be had at this office.

MRS. C. M. FINE, private milliner, is meeting with success at her residence on Front Street, Mrs. Conklin's building.

PARTIES contemplating building the present season, are referred to the card of John Chandler, whose reputation as a good mechanic is first-class.

THE Board of Education should see that the board walk along side of the Public School, Union Street, between 4th and 5th, is repaired. It needs it badly.

CAMPBELL's celebrated stallion "Knox Chief," will make the season at Campbell's Club House, near the race track, Wm. L. Dean, Prop'r. For further particulars see handbills.

E. C. MULFORD reports the exchange of House and lot belonging to Talmage Ross, cor. Fourth and Union Streets, this city to a Mr. Powelson, of South Branch for a farm of 104 acres.

MESSRS. T. E. & J. W. Morris, of New Brunswick, advertise in another column, 25 horses of all descriptions for sale low. Their reputation as dealers is first class, and we do not hesitate to recommend them to those wishing to buy or trade.

MR. G. BACHMAN is fitting up his store building on Front Street, formerly occupied by D. Boehm, as a Dry Goods Store, and will open the same as such about the 15th of this month. His two sons, Henry and Edward, will take charge of the store.

LILIENSTERN & STONE, (formerly S. C. Lilienstern) Clothiers, of Front Street, have opened a Merchant Tailor and Clothing Store at 519 Eighth Avenue, New York, where they will be pleased to receive calls from their friends in this section. Read their adv.

MESSRS. Wm. Dean, proprietor of the Club House, Park Avenue, and Randolph & Osborne, of the Dunellen Hotel, were granted licenses for said places by the Middlesex County Courts on Thursday last. Also to Lloyd B. Nelson and Mr. Hulsizer of New Market.

As one of Mr. Sweeney, Jr's. hack wagons was passing through Liberty Street, last Thursday night, over that portion being repaired by Street Commissioner Angleman, the vehicle was upset and badly damaged. The horse or driver were not hurt. There is talk of a suit against the city.

IT is said to be bad luck to move a cat. We know of a lady who only moved one from one room to the other, despite the protests of her husband, when lo and behold! the old cat left the premises and refuses to return, leaving the good wife to look after and rear a litter of little kittens.

MESSRS. Seebring & Waldron have opened the store lately occupied by Swain, in Radford's building, Front Street, with a fine stock of picture frames, pictures, brackets, &c. Mr. Waldron was formerly in the employ of Mr. Swain. They invite an inspection of their goods and prices.

PASSENGERS in the smoking car of the train due here at 6.13 last Saturday evening, were startled by the crash of glass when near Richmond Street crossing. An investigation showed a small round in one of the window panes, as though a pistol ball had been fired through it. No trace of the bullet was found within the car.

A MOST attractive store is that of Mr. Swain, Stillman's Block, Front Street, where is displayed handsome pictures in equally handsome frames. As an art store, it is an ornament and credit to Plainfield. That the lovers of art can procure here their supplies at as fair prices as in New York is attested by the fact of Mr. Swain's increased patronage.

THERE was a large gathering of spectators on Front Street last Friday afternoon to witness the hoisting up of the handsome galvanized metal cornice to the top of Coward's new store building now in course of erection. When near the top, a portion of the hoisting apparatus gave way, and the unwieldy mass fell several feet downward, but luckily the tackling held it from falling to the ground.

MR. Thomas Paff has exchanged his store property on Front St., opp. Laing's Hotel, with Mr. Edward Vermeule, for a house and lot on Elm Street, (formerly Water). The former values his property at $6,500, and the latter his at $5,000. Mr. Vermeule intends taking immediate possession, and will use the lower floor as a salesroom for the tinware business, and the upper floor as his workroom or manufactory. The exchange was made through the Real Estate Agency of J. G. Cadmus, this city.

THE Drs. Stillman have removed their office and residence to No. 40 East Front St., formerly the residence of Elston Marsh. Upon personal inspection we find that they are causing certain improvements and alterations to be made in their property, including increased office accommodations, and a new brick carriage house and stable. We also learn that the old office at No. 36 W. Front St., which has been occupied as such for the past 35 years, will be used by Dr. Stillman, Jr., from 3 to 4 and 7 to 8 p. m., for purposes of consultation.

WE had the pleasure last week of meeting Mr. Moses Nicholl, the patentee of the famous oven now in use at Compton's Bakery, who explained the principle and gave an exhibition of its merits as a quick baker. Mr. Wm. H. Moore, of Westfield, is a member of the firm who are putting up these ovens, which are an entirely new thing. Titus, the well known baker, of Newark, is using one of them, and the firm have more orders to fill than they can conveniently attend to. They are now engaged in putting one up at Newburgh, N. Y. Call at Compton's and see the one there.

AT last the pet project (with some) of starting a daily paper in Plainfield has become a realization, and the streets resound with the cry of "Daily Bulletin" by the street gamin. The first issue of this independent fortune appeared on Monday last, with the name of E. Chamberlain, late Record reporter, flying at its mast head as editor and publisher. It professes to advocate the principles of the great Republican party which has misruled the country for the past 18 years. It is understood that the venture is backed by a number of Republicans of Plainfield who are dissatisfied with the course pursued by their party organ, the Times, and who desire to have an "organ" which will express their own peculiar views. It is a clean looking sheet, 11x20 inches in size and retails for two cents a copy.

FARMERS are plowing in this section.

IT is called the "Mansion House" now.

WE inhaled our "peck of dust" on Monday and Tuesday.

BILLY DEAN has leased the "Club House" for another year.

ON the outside of this issue will be found several laws interesting corporations and citizens generally.

DR. E. Rushmore has removed his office and residence to cor. of Sixth Street and Park Avenue.

MARCH came in "like a lamb and went out like a lion," Monday the 31st being a cold, raw, disagreeable day.

JULIAN FOSTER, the artist, is painting a portrait for County Clerk Vosseller, also for several other dignitaries of our city.

FROST your old hat and go to Vermeule, the Hatter, and get a new one. He has the latest styles. You can't beat his prices.

THE "Plainfield Driving Park Association" will soon commence operations again.—"Rus," stir the boys up. We'll help you.

THE roads, which have been horrible out of town the past three weeks, are becoming fine, owing to the late heavy rains and drying March winds.

JOSEPH MARTIN, a well known resident of Plainfield, died at his late residence, Pearl Street, North Plainfield, on Monday morning last, after a long illness.

SMITH, the tonsorial artist, in Flagg's building, North Avenue, has added to the attractiveness of his establishment by putting up neat lettered shades before his front windows.

MR. Geo. Andrews, formerly of Elizabeth, will open the store recently occupied by Gense, in Voorhees' Building, Front Street, in a few days, with a large stock of Dry Goods and Fancy Articles.

MR. SAMUEL D. JOHNSON has removed his harness shop from Second Street to No. 15½ Park Avenue, adjoining E. P. Thorn's late wholesale liquor store, where he will be pleased to see all his old customers.

WE again remind those who have changed their places of residence, that to insure a sure delivery of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST at their new homes, it is necessary they should send the location of their change to this office.

THE high winds of Monday and Tuesday played hob with the housewife's washing. We know of one lady who had a chase of a block after a dress overskirt, which was taken from her clothes line by the wind and wafted over houses to a neighbor's back yard where it gracefully settled upon a clothes line and was then captured.

PETER RICKERT's span of fine work horses, attached to a heavy truck, took fright at loose paper flying about them, while standing unhitched in front of the "Mansion House" on Monday afternoon last, and ran away, their course being up Second Street to Peace, through Peace to Seventh, where they were captured. Neither horses, harness or truck was injured.

THE teachers and pupils of the Public School are enjoying a holiday week, in consequence of its being moving week. This is the first time such a vacation has been given for that cause, although in Newark and other cities it has been customary for years for the public schools to suspend labors during the 1st week in April, which is moving time in New Jersey.

"BOUNCE" is his name, and he is a hound "dorg," who after being toted all the way from Chester by two of our well-known citizens, and confined in a barn for the night preparatory to consignment to the owner, "Little Rabbit," must needs go and borrow out of his place of confinement and skedaddle, since which time nothing has been heard of him. Perhaps "Bounce" is now quietly snoozing along side of his parental guardian, "June," from whence he came.

CAPTAIN DODD, of the Police force, is determined to see the orders of Mayor Harper and the police board carried out to the letter in apprehending parties selling liquor illegally without a license. Last week P. Flanigan was arrested for violating the license ordinance and taken before Judge Good, who mulcted him in the sum of $10 and costs. On Thursday last, a resident of Washington Valley appeared on the streets in a very bad condition; in fact he was in a comatose state. He was furnished lodgings and refreshments at Castle Dodd and released next morning after paying his lodgings to Judge Good. He will not get as Titus that again for some time, especially in Plainfield.

Pleuro-Pneumonia.

Col. Sterling, the agent appointed by Gov. McClellan, to suppress and stamp out the above-mentioned disease existing among cattle in the State, reports the work as progressing favorably as the following report to Gov. McClellan will testify:

TRENTON, March 28, 1879.

GOVERNOR:—I have the honor to report that in compliance with instructions from your Excellency on the 15th of March, I assumed the duties as your assistant and agent to carry out the provisions of the act of Assembly for the extirpation of the disease among the cattle known as Pleuro-Pneumonia, now existing in various sections of this State. In order to discover the localities where the disease existed, I caused circulars of inquiry to be sent to the Assessors of each township, as well as to farmers of prominence, and public officers of different villages throughout the State, and I am pleased to inform your Excellency with happy results. I find the citizens alive to the necessity of extirpating the dread disease, and, without exception, ready to furnish all the desired information and assistance. Dr. J. C. Corlies, Veterinary Surgeon, was ordered on the 16th inst. to inspect the Abattoirs at Communipaw and Jersey City, and he has reported that both places were in a cleanly condition and the cattle there seemingly healthy; he was then ordered to inspect Newark and its vicinity where he found a number of cases which he quarantined and has them now under observation. Having heard of a case at Hopewell, Dr. Miller, Veterinary Surgeon, was ordered to investigate and is now watching it. In the meantime Prof. A. A. Holcombe, Veterinary Surgeon, reported and was placed upon duty as Chief Surgeon and ordered to Lonnis and Ridgefield, in Bergen county, where he found the disease fully developed; he has quarantined the cases for the present. Dr. Rogers, Vet. Surgeon, was sent to Millington and Sterling, Morris county, where he reports some cases which were also quarantined. Mr. Watrous, of Perth Amboy, reported that the disease had broken out in his herd of imported Jersey cattle last November; they had since died, and now another one was showing symptoms of the disease. Dr. Corlies was ordered to Amboy, and as yet no report. During this time I have had the different points of entry from Pennsylvania inspected, it having been reported to me that the disease had been discovered at Yardley, Pa. But I have so far no reports of any at Camden, Trenton or Phillipsburgh, but have placed the Crossings under quarantine, forbidding the crossing of store cattle either way without permit. Having thus protected the western frontier, I now proceed to Jersey City and commence process of extirpation of the disease within the State. In closing my report I deem it but just to add that I am much indebted to Ezra M. Hunt, M. D., of Metuchen, for his invaluable assistance, and the co-operation of the State Board of Health; through him, their Secretary, his knowledge of the disease, as well as its history in this State, and its treatment have been of the greatest service to me. To General Patrick and Prof. Law, of New York, I am greatly indebted for advice and assistance in organizing, and to the Trenton and New York press I owe thanks for their valuable aid.

I am, Governor, with highest esteem,
Your obedient servant,
WM. H. STERLING.

To His Excellency, MAJ.-GEN'L. GEO. B. MCCLELLAN, Governor of New Jersey.

Adjourned Sale.

The sale of the property of the late Frances Randolph, at auction, by order of the executors, advertised for last Monday afternoon, was postponed to April 15th, at same hour and place. This property is a valuable one and should attract the attention of parties engaged in the mill business. See advertisement in another column.

Valuable Lots for Sale.

By virtue of right invested, Mr. E. P. Thorn, assignee of Wallace Vail, will sell at public auction, on Thursday, April 8th, at 2 o'clock, p. m., 19 valuable building lots on Somerset, Grove and other Streets, North Plainfield. These lots must be sold on that day. Now is the chance for a speculation.

Another New Bakery.

Mr. Jacob Laing, well known to most of our citizens, having been engaged in business here before, has returned to Plainfield and opened a bakery on Fourth Street, between Park Ave. and Union Street, where he will be pleased to see his old and new friends, guaranteeing to sell good bread at low prices. A confectionery is also connected with his bakery.

Velocipede Riders.

It is time the proper authorities of this city enforced the ordinance against riding velocipedes through the public streets. Horses are frightened by the rapid passage of these machines over the sidewalks and the limbs and lives of pedestrians endangered. Confine the practice of using velocipedes to the Public Park or some other locality. They are a nuisance on the public thoroughfares.

To Advertisers.

Now that the season draws nigh when merchants will look for the best means of advertising their wares, it will be well to bear in mind the fact that THE CONSTITUTIONALIST has by far the largest circulation of any other paper published weekly in Union County, and is therefore the journal to advertise in. It circulates largely in the adjacent towns and villages, and among the farmers.

Presentation of Resolutions.

Last Tuesday evening, a committee from Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, A. F. & A. M., of this city, composed of Messrs. Wm. B. Maxson, T. H. Morse and W. L. Gavett, presented brother Henry G. Latimer with a set of handsomely engrossed resolutions, in acknowledgement of his munificent gift of a $1,200 organ for the new Masonic Hall. The resolutions are signed by the committee, also by W. M., Jacob Kirkner and Sec. J. J. Perrine. They were executed by Mr. Andrew Gavett, of this city, and are now on exhibition at Shaw's Drug Store. Mr. Gavett is to be congratulated upon the artistic manner in which the resolutions are engrossed.

Central Baptist Church.

Some months since Mr. James E. Martine donated to the members of the above named church, a plot of ground on Park Avenue and Ninth Street, with the conditions that there should be erected thereon a church edifice within a period of five years. Since then the handful of members have been earnestly struggling to keep their organization alive and raise funds to erect the church. A capable architect has presented plans and specifications for a church edifice, and the same was a few weeks ago adopted by the church authorities. Last Wednesday evening a small number of the members met together and after canvassing the matter agreed among themselves to raise about about $3,000 in a very few minutes, there being some pledges of $500 each. More will soon follow, and the erection of the new church is a matter of fulfillment in the near future. Success to their efforts.

The Congregational Sabbath School

Was regaled last Sunday with one of the neatest and thoroughly interesting little treats that could well be introduced in connection with the appointed lesson. It being the last Sunday of the first quarter of this year, according to the international system, a general review of all the lessons of the quarter constituted that day's lesson. With the aid of several prominent teachers, the lessons were arranged in tabular form and responsive readings were adopted to the various divisions. Mr. J. R. France had prepared material for the building of a temple, and as each lesson of the quarter was made to represent some essential portion of the Temple of God. We have never, we think, seen anything that could even hope to equal the work of Mr. France's. The singing was properly disposed of at the convenient intervals, and the readiness of teacher and pupil, officers and school to do any part allotted, made the affair a truly successful one and one long to be remembered.

Relief Association Card—Thanks to the Vocal Society and Others.

"Poor naked wretches, wheresoe'r you are,
That bide the pelting of this pitiless storm,
How shall your houseless heads and unfed sides,
Your looped and windowed raggedness, defend you
From seasons such as these?"

Modern wisdom and practical Christianity have taught us how to answer this question, excited by pity, and so despairingly uttered in Shakespeare's day, by sheltering, feeding and clothing unfortunate humanity.

This work of benevolence, in which the Plainfield Relief Association has been so successfully engaged during the past winter, had reached a point, a few weeks since, when it was thought the important work must cease for want of funds. As soon, however, as the good people of Plainfield became aware of the fact voluntary contributions replenished the treasury, and to further increase the funds, at the suggestion of a lady interested in musical matters, a plan was finally developed by which an amateur concert should be given for the benefit of the Association. On the 25th of March the programme was most satisfactorily and successfully accomplished.

The ladies of the Association hereby desire to tender their most sincere thanks to all who participated, or in any way contributed to the success of the concert.

To Mr. Fitzhugh, the popular and able conductor, who is not a resident of our city, they would tender special thanks.

To Mrs. Babcock and Miss Wotherspoon, who so delighted the audience by their exquisite rendering of Mendelssohn and Liszt, and to Mr. Wotherspoon, who so generously furnished the piano, without expense to the society, the ladies take pleasure in tendering particular thanks.

To the members of the Vocal Society and others, who so kindly consented to lend their voices for the evening's entertainment, the ladies express gratitude.

Finally, to the trustees of the Methodist church, who so magnanimously declined to accept pecuniary considerations for the use of the church and expenses attending the warming and lighting, grateful thanks are rendered.

MRS. H. D. BURLINGHAM, Sec.

The Committee of the Relief Association take pleasure in placing before their friends the following statement of the Concert given on Tuesday, March 25th, 1879:

Received for Tickets sold		$282 60
Paid Force[illegible], advertising, less deduction	$7 25
" Runyon & Leonard, programs, less deduction	5 00
" Miss [illegible], platform decorations	3 00
" Sexton of Church	5 00
" Lumber for stage	1 00	21 25
Leaving a balance of		$260 [illegible]

As the result of the liberality of the citizens of our fair city, we would note the magnanimity of the Trustees in giving the use of the church, Mr. Fitzhugh in conducting, and Mr. Wotherspoon in furnishing the Piano. To those who devoted time and expense in arranging for this delightful entertainment, and who rendered so creditably and artistically the various numbers of the programme, the Committee desires to express its hearty and thorough appreciation.

Sad Accident.

Mr. Abram Sebring, a gentleman well-known in Bound Brook, met with a sad accident on Monday last, while assisting in moving his son. In passing through Dunellen his team of mules—spirited iron grays—took fright, and running away threw Mr. Sebring out, breaking his leg between the knee and ankle and badly injuring his head. We learn he has since died.

A Pound Party.

Did you ever hear of a Pound Party? Never! What, nev—. Help! Help! Well we don't care if the "devil" did almost choke us just now, this Pound Party matter must be settled. Last Tuesday evening the Congregationalists successfully "sold" numerous worthies, and were gratified in consequence. Potatoes, nails, prunes, frogs, sawdust, candy, salt, flour, hickory nuts, and other articles of like trifling value were palmed off upon people who were foolish enough to believe they were about to buy a fortune, more or less, for twenty five cents; but they were sold—SOLD—SOLD. Of course they were.

Personalia.

It is with pleasure we learn that Capt. Wm. H. Gill, of Elizabeth, has been appointed Secretary of the Military Committee at Washington, of which Senator Randolph is Chairman. The Capt. will make his home in Elizabeth, however.

County Collector Sheridan was in our city on Monday last, looking after the interests of the county.

We learn that it is the intention of Rev. Jessie Lyman Hurlbut, former pastor of the M. E. Church, to take up his residence in Plainfield shortly.

Mr. James Van Pelt, former proprietor of the County House, Somerville, paid us a flying visit last Tuesday. Mr. V. intends engaging in the hotel business corner of Washington and Liberty Sts., N. Y.

Mrs. Henry Wilson and daughter, of this city, propose making a visit to their married daughter in Europe, Mrs. Joseph M. Davis, the latter part of this month.

The genial countenance of Sheriff Ryder was observed on Park Avenue last Tuesday. He was here on unpleasant business to certain parties.

Important Laws.

Among the laws enacted at the last session of the Legislature, and which THE CONSTITUTIONALIST has been by law designated as one of the papers to publish, we this week publish on our 1st and 4th pages several enactments of more than ordinary interest to many of our citizens. One authorizing a change of election of school trustees from September to July 1st, and the other that the meetings of school boards shall be held monthly, on the first Monday of April, July, October and January. Another authorizes the trustees of any cemetery to levy an assessment not exceeding $1 per year upon each lot in such cemetery, for the purpose of beautifying and improving the cemetery grounds. It also provides that the assessment shall be a lien on the lots, and that no interments shall be made in any lot on which the assessment is not paid. This law appears to have been made for the benefit of country cemeteries, where there is often but little money to be used in beautifying the cemeteries, and where, in consequence, the grounds are sadly neglected. Another requires a newspaper to be two years old before legal notices may be published in it. An important feature for persons having such sales to publish to observe. Although the "outs" may think the publication of these laws are a "fat" thing for the "ins," they are nevertheless of great interest to our citizens and should be read by them.

All Fool's Day.

Many were the practical jokes played on citizens last Tuesday, which, being April 1st, was considered "All Fool's Day," this appellation being handed down from the ancients, who considered that day a time when practical jokes might be played upon each other without fear of the victim expressing anger or ill-feeling. The custom, was as usual, observed in Plainfield to quite an extent. Several parties attempted to pick up a horse shoe nailed to the road bed in front of Vanderbeek's Music Store. Another individual was sent a distance of over a mile with a wheelbarrow, only to ask the gentlemanly clerk in Berry & Thorn's Hardware Store for a "round square." Although that firm have almost everything in the way of hardware, agricultural implements, &c., they were just out of "round squares." Plethoric looking pocket books were picked up and hastily concealed by some, only to drop the same at a yell of "April Fool" from the small gamin watching around the corner. Tags and notices were pinned on the backs of pedestrians, who solemnly pursued their way innocent of the cause of the attention they attracted or the shouts of the street Arabs. There was considerable moving during the day, many families changing their places of residence. Unlike many of its predecessors, April 1st was a blustering day, causing many a tidy housewife trouble and anxiety as her worldly goods were being moved from one domicile to another in consequence of the clouds of dust which was whirled among them during their removal.

FIRE MATTERS.

The Firemen's Free bill, which passed the last Legislature, and has been signed by the Governor, is a law which should interest the attention of the Firemen's Relief Association of Plainfield. Heretofore two per cent. of the premiums of all risks taken in each city by foreign insurance companies was by law payable to the Secretary of State, to be sent by him to the Treasurer of the Fire Department or Relief Society of such city, for the benefit of indigent and disabled firemen, their widows, children, etc. There has always been more or less trouble in getting this fund, and out of nearly $20,000 paid into the Secretary of State's office last year, by foreign insurance companies, only about $7,000 has been received by the Fire Departments throughout this State. The new bill, which was severely opposed by the insurance companies, provides in substance that the two per cent. shall be paid by the agents for foreign insurance companies taking risks in this State, directly to the treasurer of the Fire Department of the city in which the risks are taken, and not to the Secretary of State. It further provides that if the Treasurer shall believe that the agents do not make full and proper returns, he may apply to the Court, have an investigation, and if it is discovered that his returns are false, the agent shall be fined $500. The law will enlarge the funds of the Fire Department considerably. To the efforts of ex-Chief Engineer Wm. Brown, of the Newark Fire Department, is largely due the passage of the bill. It is also proposed to hold a convention of the firemen of this State in August next to take measures looking to the best interests of firemen.

Next Monday week, April 14th, occurs the election for two members of the Fire Board. Zephyr H. & L. Co. No. 1 have placed in nomination Messrs. B. K. Case and L. E. Barkalow. Gazelle Steamer No. 1 and Warren Eng. No. 2 met on Wednesday night and renominated the present incumbents, Wallace Vail and Jacob Adams. Alert Hose Co. No. 1 have made no nominations.

A special meeting of Warren Eng. Co. No. 2 will be held on Tuesday evening next for the purpose of nominating a Chief and two Assistant Engineers, also Company officers.

The dwelling house of Henry Meyer, situate in Washington Valley, was destroyed by fire on the 22d ult., and but little of the household effects saved. There was an insurance of $800 on the building.

The Board of Fire Commissioners held their regular monthly meeting last Wednesday evening. Treasurer [illegible] presented his annual report which we will publish next week. Notice was ordered given for the election of two members of the Board and Chief and Assistant Engineers.

The Fast Train.

Much dissatisfaction is expressed by commuters on the fast (?) train added to the schedule of the Central R. R. between Plainfield and New York, which calls for "time" as follows: Leave Plainfield at 8 o'clock, a. m., Elizabeth 8:30, arriving at New York at 8:55 a. m. It was thought that the authorities would put on a train that would make the distance between this city and New York in at least 45 minutes, and even less, but we suppose that we must make the best of it, and plod along as of yore, until the Receiver takes it into his head to put on a faster train, which is needed. A correspondent gives his views of the matter in another column.

THE HIGHER GRADES.

The newspapers are just now discussing the question of the public school system, which question has been suggested by the complaints of tax-payers. The ornamental branches of study certainly ought to be dropped off as unnecessary. The Philadelphia Record has this to say about the matter:

"The indications are abundant that this matter of education is coming to be looked upon from a common sense point of view, and, when this movement shall have reached its fruition, there is every reason to believe that the 'high school' feature will cease to exist, save at the pleasure and at the direct expense of those who can afford the luxury of an academic education. That it is no part of the proper business of the State to furnish free instruction in the languages and the higher mathematics seems to be gradually but surely dawning upon the minds of those who carry on the work of society. In carrying out the high school idea the thing has been grievously over-done; that is all. Reform is sorely needed, but only in the direction of taking away from the school system the imaginary and unreal.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

Mr. L. V. Clark has sold his house and lot, on Clark Street, to Mr. S. J. Hickok, of New York. Mr. H. takes possession May 1st. Rev. C. A. Harris, who occupied the same, has taken F. T. Baker's residence on Westfield Avenue.

John Darsh has purchased the Newton Cook Hardware Store and dwelling on Broad Street.

J. C. Swan will shortly remove to Elizabeth. Westfield is sorry to lose him.

The Town Committee met last Thursday evening and transacted considerable business.

William G. Peckham, Esq., Township Counsel, gave his first opinion to Committee regarding the election of Overseer of Road District, at last meeting, as to the legality of the same.

Jane Johnson, infant daughter of John Johnson, was interred on Sunday last.

Lots of auctions.

The Young brothers remove to the Lee farm, on Mountain Avenue, owned by Hon. Amos Clark, Jr.

The entertainment given at the Westfield Lyceum, on Tuesday evening last, was well attended. The Readings and Recitations by Prof. W. W. Martin, was rendered in his best style; also the singing of Mr. D. T. Crispin, who gave their services gratuitously, as the proceeds were intended for the improvement of the village in planting shade trees, &c.

The house of Henry Shafer was entered on Tuesday night last by burglars. The thieves effected an entrance through one of the windows and took an overcoat, pocket book and about $1.50 in money. No clue.

The house of Job S. Williams, Collector of Union Township, at Roselle, was broken into on Tuesday evening last, and several small articles taken, among them a pair of spectacles.

The auction sale of Household Furniture, &c., the property of Mrs Letitia Miller, was well attended yesterday (Thursday) by spirited buyers. The goods sold well at fair prices.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

[Under the above head we shall endeavor each week to give items and news of interest to the overs of fishing, gunning, trotting, athletic and other sports. We shall be pleased to receive contributions or items for this column from all interested in such matters.]

A meeting of the "Central N. J. Game and Fish Protective Society," will be held at Chamberlain & DeCamp's Hotel, Plainfield, N. J., on Saturday evening, April 5th, at 8 o'clock, "sharp."

By order of
WM. H. STERLING, Pres't.

According to the provisions of "An Act for the Preservation of Fish," approved March 8, 1877, it is unlawful for any person to "haul any nets for the taking of fish in any of the waters of this State, above tide water." Spearing of eels and suckers is allowed.—Fish Warden Ohl announces that he will prosecute any person to the full extent of the law, who is found violating its provisions. Green Brook has been stocked with black bass and Cedar Brook with trout.

According to the late Annual Report of the N. J. State Fish Commissioners 58,000 land-locked salmon have been hatched and liberated in lakes in the Northern part of the State; 2,500 black bass distributed to lakes and ponds; 1,665,000 shad hatched and liberated in the Delaware river; 225,000 California salmon distributed in January, 1878; 500,000 California salmon hatched and now partly distributed, 42,500 brook trout purchased and distributed; 200,000 brook trout hatched and nearly ready for distribution; 100,000 white fish now in hatching house. Adding to this the number of smelt hatched and liberated in the Hackensack river—which number cannot be accurately stated, but which may be safely estimated at seven hundred and fifty thousand—an aggregate is presented of over three and a half millions of valuable game and food fishes added during the year to the supply already in the waters of the State.

The New Brunswick Fredonian says the first Raritan shad this season was caught on Tuesday, the 11th ult.

A splendid specimen of the marble seal species was shot at Cape May on Wednesday last, by Archie McNeal, off the East end of Five Mile Beach.—It measured 4 feet 4 inches and weighed 77 pounds.

NORTH PLAINFIELD PARAGRAPHS.

Another new house is to be built on the South side of Grove Street, near Linden Avenue, by Mr. Frank Runyon. A. J. Winkler will do the carpenter work and Theo. Adams the Mason work.

The Messrs. Staats Bros., proprietors of the Washington Rock House, contemplate making decided improvements in the road beds leading to this favorite mountain resort, whereby the ascent to the same will be made much easier.

New and reliable Garden Seeds for sale at Spencer's, No. 62 Somerset Street.

As an evidence of the high standing and popularity of Mrs. Austin's Craig Place School, we notice she is compelled to furnish additional desks and seats to accommodate new scholars.—Her school never was in a more flourishing condition.

Counsel for the parties on whom injunctions have been served against using water from driven wells under Green's alleged patent, will move to raise the injunction, so that the parties may use the water, and the cases will be carried to the higher courts and contested to the bitter end.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

A regular meeting of the Mutual Theft Detecting Society, will be held in their rooms, one week from next Monday night. We are glad to learn that the Society is in so prosperous a condition, as at their last meeting they were enabled to declare a dividend of five dollars per capita.

A social party gathered at the hospitable residence of Jared S. Stout, Esq., last Wednesday evening. It is needless to say that a very pleasant time was had.

If the several road districts around Scotch Plains were put in a little better order, the excellent condition of the village district would not stand out so prominently.

A considerable feeling has been manifested over the appointment of Tappen Townsend, Esq., to the office of Assessor, in place of Mr. S. M. Ball, resigned. Some think that the Greenback Bantling is getting too many picks at the little Township "nubin." But what's the odds so long as you get a good officer. Give him a chance.

Several changes of residence have been made and others are contemplated in this village. There has been only one removal from the place, and a number have and are to come to it.

The Public School, under its present superior management, is in an excellent and prosperous condition. It is no wonder that the people come forward in so liberal a manner to support a school of so high a character.

The M. E. Church is also without a settled Pastor. The Rev. Mr. Quigley, who had become so endeared to this flock, will be greatly missed by them. Their Pulpit will continue to be supplied, each Sabbath, until otherwise ordered, by Students from Drew Seminary.

At the close of the Bible School at the Baptist Church, last Sunday afternoon, an election was held for officers for the ensuing year, that resulted as follows: Superintendent, L. H. K. Smalley; Assistants, David Hand and Miss Mary B. Dunn; Librarian, John Thys; Assistant, Alfred McKown; Treasurer, John L. Brower; Secretary, Rolan C. Treadwell. This School, which numbers something over one hundred, is in a very healthy and flourishing condition.

A Parish meeting is advertised to be held in the Lecture Room of the Baptist Church, next Monday evening, for the purpose of electing seven trustees of the Church. By an act of the Legislature, passed at its last session, (a copy of which appears in this paper) the Society are privileged to elect three of the Board from the congregation, providing they contribute to the support of the Church.

STERLING SCRAPS.

The Button Factory, under the proprietorship of Mr. Joseph Naylor, is being run to its full capacity, the hands working over-time. This factory, which manufactures buttons from artificial ivory and other material, employs over 150 workmen, and has been one means of inducing families to locate at Sterling, whose members find employment within the factory walls. Mr. Lewis B. Mulford, of Plainfield, is employed at the factory as assistant Shipping Clerk. His services are highly appreciated by his employer.

It is rumored that a Rubber Manufacturing Company intend erecting a factory here this Spring.

The roads are in a horrible condition in this vicinity and need work on them during the season when the same can be done. The taxpayers think the matter should be attended to by the proper authorities.

The large, new hotel, for Summer boarders, is nearly completed, and Sterling looks for an influx of strangers within her limits the coming season, who desire pure air, water, scenery, and a quiet Summer life.

Two trains each way now run to and from New York daily over the West Line Railroad, which passes through Sterling. The road has been put in fine condition during the past year.

There is talk of erecting sixteen new cottages in the village for the accommodation of new arrivals.

The Concert given last Friday evening, in the Chapel building, by the young lady members of the Chapel, was largely attended and a success throughout. A handsome sum toward the bell fund was one of the results. Among the prominent movers in the affair was Mr. Joseph Blackburgh and lady, Miss Annie Young and the Misses Harris.

The Philadelphia medical and dental colleges have turned out 562 graduates this Spring, against 616 in 1878.

CHAPTER CXIII.

An act respecting religious societies incorporated under special acts.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That hereafter, in the election of the trustees of any religious society incorporated by special acts, it shall not be necessary as a qualification for such election that such trustees shall be members of the church in which such corporation exists; provided always, that they are attending members of the congregation, and contribute to the support of the church of which they may be elected trustees; and provided also, that at least a majority of the trustees elected shall be members of such churches in good and regular standing.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER LXVI.

An act to provide means to increase the fish production of the waters of this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That for the purpose of continuing the work of stocking the waters of this state with food fishes, there is hereby appropriated the sum of five thousand dollars, which shall be paid by the state treasurer on the warrant of the comptroller, to the commissioners of fisheries of this state, upon their requisition, to be by them expended in defraying the cost of procuring, hatching and distributing valuable food fishes to stock the rivers, streams, lakes and ponds of this state, and for such other purposes as they may deem advisable to restore and increase the fish production of the waters of the state.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 6, 1879.

CHAPTER XLVI.

A supplement to the act entitled "An act concerning public road boards," approved April twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any and all vacancies hereafter occurring by death, resignation, or any other cause whatever, in the board of commissioners of any public road board, lawfully created and existing in and for any county of this state (prior to the passage of the act to which this is a supplement, and not governed by the provisions of said act) shall be filled only by election or appointment, to be made by the board of chosen freeholders of such county, from the members of such board of chosen freeholders, for the time being; which persons so elected or appointed, shall continue in office as commissioners only during the term for which they shall have been elected such chosen freeholders, but shall be subject to removal at the pleasure of such board of chosen freeholders, and shall receive such compensation per diem (in lieu of salary), as chosen freeholders are entitled by law to receive; provided, that no more than three of the members of said public road board shall be of the same political party.

2. And be it enacted, That no roads or avenues or sections thereof, shall hereafter be laid out, constructed, or appropriated by any of the public road boards mentioned in the first section of this act, without the previous consent of the board of chosen freeholders of the county wherein said road or avenue may be.

3. And be it enacted, That no expense shall hereafter be incurred by any of the public road boards mentioned in the first section of this act, for repairs to any existing road or avenue, without the previous order or consent of the board of chosen freeholders of the county wherein such road or avenue is situate.

4. And be it enacted, That the said public road boards shall make reports in writing of their receipts and disbursements in detail to the directors of the boards of chosen freeholders, whenever and as often as required by the last mentioned boards.

5. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions hereof, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 4, 1879.

CHAPTER CXCV.

A supplement to "An act relative to the publication of the laws of the State in the newspapers," approved April twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That from and after the passage of this act, any sheriff, coroner, master in chancery, executor, administrator, guardian, commissioner, auditors or person authorized or required by any public statute or direction of any court of competent jurisdiction in this state to make sale of any lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate, may, and are hereby empowered to publish notice of such sale in two newspapers published in the county, of which two newspapers one may be a newspaper printed and published nearest to the place in the county in which such land is situated; provided, such newspaper has been regularly published for the term of two years or more.

2. And be it enacted, That any advertisement or notice published in said newspapers shall have the same effect, and be as legal as if published in any other papers in said respective counties.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXXIII.

An act extending the charters of the owners of certain fisheries.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That all acts for the incorporation of the owners of certain fisheries in any township of this state which according to the terms of their several charters and the amendments thereto, shall expire during this current year, be and the same are hereby continued and extended for and during the term of twenty years from and after the times in their charters limited for their continuance.

2 And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediatly.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER LI.

An act to provide for the organization of fire patrols or protective associations.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in any city in this state it shall be lawful to organize a fire patrol, or protective association, for the purpose of saving life and property from destruction by fire, which organization shall be effected at a meeting to be held for the purpose, and upon notice of the time and place of said meeting, which notice shall be published, not less than ten days, in a daily paper published in said city, and shall be signed by not less than three persons, who shall be officers of fire insurance companies in said city; at such meeting, for the purpose of organization, it shall be lawful for any fire insurance company in said city to be represented by an officer; and said officers shall have the right to participate in said meeting, and to vote therein; provided, however, that in case there shall be less than three fire insurance companies having their home offices located in such city, it shall be lawful for the officers of the company or companies located in such city, together with the duly accredited agents of fire insurance companies located elsewhere, but doing business in such city, to hold a meeting and effect an incorporation and to give notice thereof in the manner hereinabove set forth the whole number of such officers and agents together, being not less than three.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the persons so assembled, or any number thereof, not less than three, to make and sign a certificate, which shall set forth the general purposes of the organization, the period for which the association is to continue, not to exceed fifty years, and the particular name by which said association is to be known; and such certificate shall be sealed and acknowledged by the persons signing the same, before some officer authorized to take the proof and acknowledgment of deeds in New Jersey; and shall be filed and recorded in the office of the clerk of the county wherein such city is located; whereupon the persons so signing and acknowledging shall become and be incorporated by the name so chosen, as a body corporate in law; and they, and their successors, and all who shall become associated with them, shall, as such corporation, become possessed of the rights and privileges, and be liable to the duties of corporations of this state, as set forth in the general acts respecting corporations.

3. And be it enacted, That the said corporation shall have power to make all needful by-laws, not contrary to the provisions of this act, or the constitution and laws of this state, or of the United States.

4. And be it enacted, That said corporations shall have power to provide suitable rooms for the transaction of their business, and also to provide and maintain a corps of men, with proper officers, whose duty it shall be, so far as practicable, to discover and prevent fires; with suitable apparatus to save life and preserve property, at, or after a fire; and the better to enable them so to act with promptness and efficiency, full power is hereby granted to such corps, and its officers, to enter any building on fire, or which in their judgment is exposed to or in danger of taking fire from other buildings, to protect and save life and property therein; and to remove such property or any part thereof, at, or after a fire; nothing in this act, however, shall warrant any interference with the action of the firemen in their duties in extinguishing a fire; nor shall this act in any way be construed to justify the owners of any building, or personal property in the abandonment of their property.

5. And be it enacted, That in each year after the formation of such corps, an annual meeting of the corporation shall be held, on ten days' notice in one or more papers in such city, giving date, time and place of such meeting, at which meeting each incorporated insurance company or association doing business in said city, whether its officers or its agents be members of this corporation or not, shall have the right to be represented by one of such officers or agents, and each organization represented at such meeting shall be entitled to one vote for every one thousand dollar gross premium receipts from insurance on property located in such city, for the year ending December thirty-first next preceding; a majority of the whole number of votes cast shall decide upon the question of sustaining the corps hereinbefore mentioned, and of fixing the maximum amount of expenses which shall be incurred therefor during the fiscal year next to ensue; and the whole of such amount, or so much thereof as may be necessary, may be assessed upon the organizations belonging to said corporation, and upon all other organizations and agencies doing business in such city, in proportion to the several amounts of premiums returned, as received by each, under oath, as hereinafter provided; and such assessment shall be collectable by said corporation in any court of law of competent jurisdiction in the state of New Jersey.

6. And be it enacted, That to provide for the payment of persons employed, and to maintain the apparatus for saving life and property, provided in pursuance hereof, any corporation organized under this act is empowered to require a statement to be furnished, semi annually, by all corporations, associations, underwriters, agents, or persons, of the aggregate amount of premiums received for insuring property in the said cities for and during the six months next preceding the thirtieth day of June and the thirty-first day of December of each year, which statement shall be sworn to by the president or secretary of the corporation or association, or by the agent or person so acting and effecting such insurance in said cities, and shall be handed to the treasurer of said corporations within thirty days after the dates to which such returns are to be made.

7. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the treasurer or other appointed officer of said corporation, within ten days after the first day of July and the first day of January in each year, by written or printed demand signed by him, to require from every corporation, association, underwriter, agent, or person engaged in the business of fire insurance in the said cities, the statement provided for in the last preceding section of this act; and every officer of such corporation or association, and every individual, agent, or underwriter who shall for thirty days after such demand neglect to render the account, shall forfeit fifty dollars for the use of the corporation created by this act; and shall also forfeit for their use, five dollars in addition for every day he shall so neglect after the expiration of said thirty days and such additional penalty may be computed and recovered up to the time of the trial of any suit for the recovery thereof, which penalty may be sued for and recovered with costs of suit in any court of competent jurisdiction within this state.

8. And be it enacted, That the officers and men of said fire patrol or protective association, with their teams and apparatus, shall have the right of way, while going to a fire, through any street, lane or alley in the said cities, subject to the rights of the fire departments, and any violation of the rights of the said fire patrol or protective association shall be punished in the same manner as is provided for the punishment of violations of the rights of the fire departments of said cities.

9. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 4, 1879.

CHAPTER LXI.

An act to enable boards of education of cities to refund their indebtedness at a lower rate of interest.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for any board of education in any city, to issue bonds at any rate of interest not exceeding six per centum per annum, for the purpose of paying off and discharging its present indebtedness, which said bonds shall be issued in such amounts, and the principal and interest payable at such times, and in such manner as the said board of education may determine; provided, that the total amount of said bonds for any one board of education shall not exceed the sum of one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, and that they shall not be issued or used for any purpose whatsoever, except the redemption of outstanding mortgages and bonds already issued by such board of education prior to the passage of this act.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 6, 1879.

CHAPTER CLIX.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to incorporate trustees of religious societies," (revision), approved April ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the first section of an act entitled "An act to incorporate trustees of religious societies," (revision), approved April ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, which now reads as follows:

"1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That every religious society or congregation of christians entitled to protection in the free use of their religion by the constitution and laws of this state, are hereby authorized to assemble at their usual place of meeting for public worship, at any time by them to be agreed upon, giving at least ten days' notice of the time and purpose of assembling by an advertisement set up in open view at or near such place of meeting; when so assembled may by plurality of voices of such of the said society or congregation as are present, elect any number of said society or congregation to be trustees; which said trustees and their successors in office are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate in law, by whatever name they shall assume agreeably to the directions of this act," be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That every religious society or congregation of christians entitled to protection in the free use of their religion by the constitution and laws of this state, are hereby authorized to assemble at their usual place of meeting for public worship, at any time by them to be agreed upon, giving at least ten days' notice of the time and purpose of assembling by an advertisement set up in open view at or near such place of meeting; when so assembled may by plurality of voices of such of the members of said society or congregation who regularly contribute to the support of such society or congregation, male and female over twenty-one years of age, as are present, elect any number of said society or congregation to be trustees; which said trustees and their successors in office are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate in law by whatever name they shall assume agreeably to the directions of this act.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXXXIX.

A supplement to the act authorizing the incorporation of rural cemetery associations, approved March fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the tenth section of the act to which this is a supplement, and which section reads as follows:

"10. And be it enacted, That the cemetery lands and property of any association (and bonds and mortgages given to secure the purchase money by act of one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight) formed pursuant to this act shall be exempt from all public taxes, rates and assessments, and shall not be liable to be sold on execution or be applied in payment of debts due from any individual proprietors; but the proprietors of lots or plots in such cemeteries, their heirs or devisees, may hold the same exempt therefrom so long as the same shall remain dedicated to the purpose of a cemetery, and during that time no street, road, avenue, or thoroughfare, shall be laid through such cemetery, or any part of the lands held by such association for the purpose aforesaid, without the consent of the trustees of such association, except by special permission of the legislature of the state," be and the same is hereby amended so that the said section shall read:

10. And be it enacted, That the cemetery lands and property of any association (and bonds and mortgages given to secure the purchase money by act of 1868) formed pursuant to this act and actually used for cemetery purposes, shall be exempt from all public taxes, rates and assessments, and shall not be liable to be sold on execution or be applied in payment of debts due from any individual proprietors; but the proprietors of lots or plots in such cemeteries, their heirs or devisees, may hold the same exempt therefrom so long as the same shall remain dedicated to the purpose of a cemetery, and during that time no street, road, avenue or thoroughfare, shall be laid through such cemetery or any part of the lands held by such association for the purpose aforesaid, without the consent of the trustees of such association except by special permission of the legislature of the state.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXXXI.

Supplement to an act entitled "An act to establish a system of public instruction," approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the trustees of the public schools elected in each school district in this state, shall meet within ten days after said election, at the public school house, if there be one, or such other place as shall be previously designated, and organize by the election of a chairman and clerk, and that thereafter they shall meet on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in April, July, October and January during the year, at the same place, for the transaction of business connected with the public schools of their respective school districts.

2. And be it enacted, That all bills and demands for money expended for school purposes, and all contracts entered into, shall be presented and passed on in open session of the board of school trustees, and no bills or demands for money on that account shall be paid which have not been thus passed on and approved, and the orders for the payment of the same signed by the chairman of the board, and district clerk.

3. And be it enacted, That it shall be unlawful for any board of school trustees or board of education of this state to pay or disburse, out of the school moneys under their control, any sum for school supplies, books, maps, charts, globes, fuel, erecting, enlarging, repairing or improving school buildings and grounds, janitors' and teachers' salaries, unless the person claiming or receiving the said moneys shall first present to the board of trustees or boards of education, a detailed bill of items or demand, specifying particularly how such bill or demand is made up, and the dates thereof, and the names of the persons to whom the amount is composing such bill or demand is due.

4. And be it enacted, That any person or persons presenting any such bill or demand, shall make an affidavit that the goods or services, itemized in said bill or demand, have been delivered or rendered, and that the same is correct and true, and the clerk of any board of trustees or board of education is hereby authorized to take said affidavit without cost.

5. And be it enacted, That any member of the board of school trustees or board of education, that shall vote to approve and order paid any bill or demand, unless the necessary affidavit is attached, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months, or both, as the court may direct.

6. And be it enacted, That this act shall be a public act, and take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXXIV.

An act to facilitate the collection of certain premiums for the benevolent funds of fire departments of cities, from fire insurance companies not organized under the laws of this state, but doing business herein.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the agent or agents of any foreign fire insurance company doing business in any city of this state having a fire department relief fund, shall return to the treasurer of such fire department relief fund of the city in which he is doing business, on the thirty-first day of December, and the thirtieth day of June, of each year, a just and true account, verified by his oath, that the same is a true account of all premiums which during the six months ending on the thirty first day of December, or the thirtieth day of June, as the case may be, next preceding such report, or such portion of said periods as he may have acted in the capacity as agent for such foreign insurance company, has been received by him, or by any other person for him, or agreed to be paid for any insurance, or against loss or injury by fire upon property situate in such city, which shall have been effected for any individual or association not incorporated by the laws of this state.

2. And be it enacted, That such agent or agents of every fire insurance company aforesaid shall, some time in the months of January and July in every year in which he shall act as such agent, deliver and pay to the treasurer of the benevolent fund of the fire department of the city in which such agent is doing business, the sum of two dollars upon the hundred dollars, and at that rate upon the amount of all premiums which, during the six months preceding the thirty-first day of December and thirtieth day of June in each, or for such portion of said periods for which they may have acted as such agents, shall have been received by him, or by any other person for him, or shall have been agreed to be paid for any insurance effected, or agreed to be effected, or promised by him as such agent for premiums on any insurance against loss or injury by fire upon any property.

3. And be it enacted, That such agent doing business as aforesaid, shall keep accurate books of accounts of all business done by him, in which shall be put down the name of the insured, the date of insurance, the expiration thereof, a description of the property insured, its location, the amount of insurance and the premium paid therefor; and in case any fraud or dishonesty in the return made by such agent as provided for in section one of this act be apparent it shall be the duty of the treasurer of the benevolent fund of the fire department in the city in which such agent is doing business, to obtain order from the presiding judge of the court of common pleas of the county in which said city is located, compelling such agent to produce in said court his books of accounts for examination by said court.

4. And be it enacted, That every agent of any foreign fire insurance company who shall neglect to keep such books of accounts as aforesaid, or shall refuse to produce the same in the court of common pleas as aforesaid, upon an order of said court, or shall fail or neglect to report, and pay over the money due upon the premium, at the times and in the manner specified in the preceding sections of this act, or shall be found upon examination to have returned a false return of the business done by him, shall for each offence forfeit five hundred dollars for the use and benefit of the fire department benevolent fund of such city.

5. And be it enacted, That in case of making default in payment, or in case of the failure to pay and satisfy any forfeiture or penalty adjudged to be due to the provisions of this act, the same being reported to the secretary of state in writing, attested by the oath of said treasurer, the secretary of state shall forthwith revoke any certificate of authority previously issued under which such default shall have occurred, but such revocation of certificate shall not release any penalty or forfeiture previously incurred.

6. And be it enacted, That this act shall not alter or abridge any reciprocal legislation existing between the different states of the United States, in regard to the percentage of taxes collected by the insurance department of this state, but said amount of premiums paid by any insurance company to the treasurer of the benevolent fund of the fire department shall be deemed a part of said reciprocal tax now collected by the insurance department of this state.

7. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

Would call the attention of the public to their New Styles of

PARLOR STOVES,

Of original designs, superior make and finish, with the latest improvements. Special attention is invited to the

Astral and Lagrand

as being the best of this class. Their

Parlor Heaters

are perfect in construction, easily managed and warranted to give satisfaction. Attention is also called to their different kinds of

Cooking Stoves & Ranges

Of the former, their

"Plainfield Cook,"

With heavy durable castings, and extra large oven and low price, is well worthy of inspection. Of the Ranges, their

has superior Cooking and Baking qualities, having a reputation equal to the best in Market. Their cheaper kinds, by name—CLARION, ALPINE, MAYFLOWER and BEAUTY, (the last can be furnished with Symons' celebrated grate) have been well tested and stand No. 1 with those having them in use.

They are Sole Agents for the justly celebrated

Stag's Head Double Elevated Oven

RANGE. Other elevated oven Ranges have been taken out and the Stag's Head put in on account of their superior qualities.

Smalley's Defiance Asparagus.

NEW VARIETY.

The merits and claims of the "Defiance," are as follows: It is earlier, a larger grass, softer, more tender, free from wood, the flavor sweet and very delicate, far superior to all other varieties; it will produce double that of the "Colossal" and can cut it longer. It will continue to grow longer than any other sorts. It has been tested for the past three years. I know my roots and seeds to be strictly pure, as I am the sole originator of it; shall not put any seed in the market this year, as I intend planting it myself. It is the best Asparagus grown, either for private use or for market. We would recommend it in preference to all others. Price $3 per 100, and $25 per 1000. No charge for boxes or packing.—Purchasers pay their expenses. Orders must be accompanied by a remittance, or satisfactory reference. Will be sent by express C. O. D.

ABRAHAM SMALLEY, Bound Brook, N. J.

We, the undersigned, have tested the above variety of Asparagus, and unhesitatingly recommend it as all that is claimed for it. In fact it is a marvel in the shape of this delicious vegetable:

Hon. Alvah A. Clark, John H. VanCleef, John F. Babcock, Geo. W. Rockfellow, John P. Stelle, States F. Randolph, John Herbert, Jr., Peter Van Dripe, W. S. Stevens, A. L. Force, I. S. Brokaw, R. H. Brokaw, C. E. A. McGeachy, Alex. Manning, James M. Dunn, A. C. Mollison. 21w4

CAUTION!

The undersigned would caution the public against using or sinking driven wells under Nelson W. Green's patent, unless the same are put down by him, as all parties using the same otherwise put down, or sinking such wells will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, he having the exclusive right to sink driven wells in Plainfield. The following is a decision recently rendered by Judge Benedict, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Wm. D. Andrews, owner of a patent granted to Col. Nelson W. Green, for a driven well, sued Theo. A. Carman some time ago to restrain him from the use of the patent in the manufacture of a similar well. The testimony filled over one thousand pages and counsel were over two weeks in summing before Judge Benedict in Brooklyn. The patent is worth a million dollars. The well is an air-tight iron tube, driven into the ground until it reaches water-bearing stratum. An air pump is screwed on the top of the tube, and the other end is of steel, made sharp and perforated. Many thousands of the wells are in use. Carman is accused of using a similar well. Counsel for the defence contended that the patent was merely a new plan of more easily reaching the water bearing strata, and could not be held patentable. Judge Benedict held that the idea of forcing water from the earth into a well pit by artificial means was new, but was not patentable, but that the method by which the idea is made available was patentable. He decided that the infringement had been clearly proved.

LEGAL NOTICES

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, January 18th, 1879.

William Addis, Administrator of Bernard Mathews, deceased.

On application of the above named Administrator, it is ordered that said Administrator give Public Notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administrator.

Maria Fisher, Administratrix of Jeremiah Fisher, deceased.

On application of the above named Administratrix it is ordered that said Administratrix give public notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administratrix.

f11w9 By JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

In Chancery of New Jersey.

To Kate E. Fuller:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day and date hereof, in a cause wherein Samuel K. Ellis, acting Executor of Stacy B. Barcroft, deceased, is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear and plead, answer or demur, to the bill of said complainants, on or before the fifth day of May next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a certain mortgage given by Moses Rittenhouse and Rebecca L. his wife, to said Samuel K. Ellis, acting Executor as aforesaid, on lands in the City of Plainfield, dated December 20th, 1876, and you, Kate E. Fuller, are made defendant because you hold encumbrance on said lands.

And be it enacted, That in case any county clerk shall take any other or greater fees for the services hereinbefore specified than are by this act allowed, or shall take such fees without performing the services for which such fees are allowed, he shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay the sum of fifty dollars, to be sued for and recovered in an action of debt, with costs of suit, in any court of competent jurisdiction, by any person who shall be aggrieved by such taking.

3. And be it enacted, That the register of deeds and mortgages in any of the counties of this state shall be entitled to demand and receive, for the services they are or may be by law required to perform, the same fees as are hereinbefore allowed to county clerks for like services.

4. And be it enacted, That the clerks of the respective counties in this state and the registers of deeds and mortgages in any of the counties of this state, shall severally keep a true record of all the fees and compensation received by them for their own use under the provisions of this or any other act, and they shall make a report, under oath, to the county collector of their respective counties, on the first day of July next, and quarterly thereafter, of the gross amount of all such fees and compensation so received by them during the next preceding quarter; any such clerk or register who shall fail to make such quarterly report to the county collector of his county shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars for every such failure, which penalty shall be sued for and recovered in an action of debt in any court of competent jurisdiction, by the county collector of the county for the use of the county, and it is hereby made the duty of such collector to sue for said penalty.

5. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, be and the same is hereby repealed, in so far as they are inconsistent herewith, and this act shall be deemed and taken to be a public act, and shall take effect immediately; saving and excepting that so far as the same increases or reduces the fees, compensation or allowances of any of the officers herein named, now in office, it shall take effect only upon and immediately after the end of the present term of office of any of such officers, or upon the election of their respective successors.

Approved March 10, 1879.

CHAPTER CXX.

A supplement to the act entitled "An act to authorize the formation of gas light corporations and regulate the same," approved April twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall not be lawful for any gas light corporation to refuse to furnish or supply gas, to or for any building or premises, by reason of a gas bill remaining unpaid by any previous occupant of said building or premises: provided, the person or persons applying for gas shall not be in arrears to the said light corporation, for gas previously furnished to or for said building or premises or furnished to or for any other buildings or premises.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXII.

Supplement to an act entitled "An act to establish a bureau of statistics upon the subject of labor, considered in all its relations to the growth and development of state industries."

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the sum of two thousand dollars be, and is hereby appropriated for the current expenses of said bureau, which amount shall include every expense except printing; the printing of the necessary blanks, pamphlets, etc., shall be paid for in the same manner as is provided for all other state reports presented to the legislature.

2. And be it enacted, That the assistant provided for in the third section of the act to which this is a supplement, be and is hereby constituted secretary of said bureau, and he shall receive an annual salary of twelve hundred dollars.

3. And be it enacted, That the treasurer of this state is hereby authorized to pay from any money not otherwise appropriated, the sums provided for in the first and second sections of this act.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXIX.

An act defining the powers and duties of directors at large of boards of chosen freeholders.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That hereafter the powers and duties to be exercised by the director at large of each and every board of chosen freeholders of this state shall be as follows, viz: he shall act as the presiding officer of the board and perform all the duties usually appertaining to a presiding officer, but shall have no vote in the board except in case of a tie; he shall appoint all committees provided for by the board, by resolution or otherwise; he shall sign or countersign all warrants or orders for the payment of money; and he shall have power to veto or disapprove of any action of the board within ten days thereafter, but in case he does not veto or disapprove, he shall communicate in writing the cause or grounds of his disapproval to the board at the first meeting thereof, held for the transaction of general business, next after the expiration of said ten days, at which meeting the board, after directing the objections to be entered at large in the minutes, shall proceed to consider the same; and if the board shall not, by a vote of two-thirds of all the members thereof, decide to approve or ratify the action disapproved or vetoed by the director, then the same shall be void; in case he fails or neglects to sign or take action to approve or disapprove of any action of the board within the time above limited, then the same shall take effect as if it had been signed or approved of by him.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER XCVI.

An act concerning roads.

For commission on deposits, [illegible]
For searching the records, for each book, for each name, [illegible]
For drawing a certificate and seal, [illegible]
The clerk of the supreme court shall be entitled to receive:
For sealing every writ, [illegible]
For entering an action, eight cents;
For entering an appearance on default, ten cents;
For entering the return of a writ, ten cents;
For entering every rule, twelve cents;
For filing every writ, pleading or other paper, six cents;
For entering a retraxit, discontinuance or non-suit, eleven cents;
For entering a postea, fifteen cents;
For entering a judgment, nine cents;
For entering satisfaction on record, fifteen cents;
For copies and recording judgments, for each folio of one hundred words, six cents;
For taxing a bill of costs, thirty-eight cents;
For drawing a certificate and seal, fifteen cents;
For searching the records, for each book, for each name, three cents," be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

"3. And be it enacted, That the secretary of state shall receive a salary of six thousand dollars per annum, together with an allowance of four thousand dollars per annum for clerical assistance to be paid by the treasurer upon the warrant of the comptroller, which said salary shall be a full compensation for all services rendered by the said secretary of state, as secretary of state, clerk of court of errors and appeals, clerk of the prerogative court, and register in the prerogative office, clerk of the court of pardons, and commissioner of insurance, or in any other official capacity whatever and for all clerk hire, save and except, that the assistant secretary of state shall continue to receive the salary now provided by law for his services, and all fees now payable by law to him as secretary of state, clerk of the court of errors and appeals, clerk of the prerogative court, register in the prerogative office, clerk of the court of pardons or commissioner of insurance, or in any other official capacity whatever, shall be collected by him, and a statement thereof in detail, verified by oath, shall be submitted quarterly to the comptroller, and when audited by him filed with the state treasurer; and the said secretary of state shall within five days thereafter pay over the amount of such fees to the state treasurer, under a penalty of five hundred dollars for each day's neglect to file such certificate and to pay over such moneys, to be recovered in the name of the treasurer of the state of New Jersey for the use of the state in an action of debt, in the New Jersey supreme court:

The clerk in chancery shall receive no salary whatever, but shall be entitled to receive as fees:
For entering an action, ten cents;
For filing each pleading, or other paper, six cents;
For copies and enrolling proceedings, for each folio of one hundred words, six cents;
For entering every rule, ten cents;
For every commission issued, one dollar;
For setting down a cause for hearing, twenty-five cents;
For drawing, engrossing, taxing and filing each bill of costs, fifty cents;

For drawing a certificate and seal, twelve cents;
For searching the records, for each book, for each name, two cents;

3. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed, and this act shall be a public act and take effect immediately; saving and excepting that so far as the same increases or reduces the per-centage or allowance of any public officer now in office, during the term for which such officer was elected or appointed, it shall take effect only upon and immediately after the end of such term.

Approved March 10, 1879.

CHAPTER LXIX.

An act relating to the fees of sheriffs.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That hereafter the sheriffs of the respective counties of this state shall be entitled to demand and receive, for the services hereinafter named, the following fees as compensation, and no more, to wit:

For transporting offenders to the state prison, including sustenance, for a single offender, twenty cents per mile; two offenders, fifteen cents per mile, for each one; three or more offenders, ten cents per mile, for each one; when a sale is made by virtue of an execution, on all sums of one thousand dollars and less, one per centum on the amount of the sale; on all sums over one thousand dollars, and not exceeding three thousand dollars, one-half of one per centum on the amount of the sale; and on all sums over three thousand dollars, one-quarter of one per centum on the amount of the sale, when the execution is settled without actual sale, and such settlement is made manifest to the sheriff, he shall be entitled to the one-half of the amount of percentage above allowed in cases of sale, and no more.
For summoning a special jury, two dollars; summoning a jury of view, when not a special jury, one dollar;
attending with a prisoner before a judge, on his being surrendered by, or in discharge of his bail, and receiving him into custody, one dollar.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same is hereby repealed, in so far as they are inconsistent herewith, and this act shall be deemed and taken to be a public act, and shall take effect immediately; saving and excepting that so far as the same increases or reduces the fees, compensation or allowances of any sheriff now in office, it shall take effect only upon and immediately after the end of his present term of office or upon the election of his successor.

Approved March 10, 1879.

CHAPTER C.

An act to amend an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act concerning mortgages,'" approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, [Revision,] which supplement was approved February twenty-sixth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section numbered ten of said supplement, which reads as follows, viz:

"10. And be it enacted, That the fees of the solicitor for drawing and engrossing a bill in any suit shall be thirty cents for each folio," be and the same is hereby amended so that the same shall read as follows, viz:

10. And be it enacted, That the fees of the solicitor for drawing and engrossing a bill in such suits shall be five dollars, and no more.

2. And be it enacted, That this shall be deemed a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXVI.

An act to allow cities in the state of New Jersey to issue registered bonds in lieu of coupon bonds heretofore issued, or which are authorized by law to be hereafter issued.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in any city of this state where coupon bonds have been heretofore issued, according to law, or in which coupon bonds have been authorized by law to be issued, but have not as yet been issued, the proper financial authorities may hereafter issue, either coupon or registered bonds, where bonds have been authorized to be issued, but have not yet been so issued, and where coupon bonds have already been issued, according to law, such financial authorities may, upon the application of any legal holder or holders of such coupon bonds, and at their expense, issue registered bonds in exchange for such coupon bonds, to run for the period such coupon bonds have yet to run at the time of making such exchange, and at a like rate of interest, and the coupon bonds so received in exchange for such registered bonds shall be cancelled.

2. And be it enacted, That the authorities issuing such registered bonds shall provide for the registering thereof in proper books to be kept for that purpose, and for the transfer of said bonds upon said books, and shall have power to determine in what amounts such bonds shall be issued.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CIX.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act for the preservation of deer and other game, and to prevent trespassing with guns."

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons to kill, capture, hunt or shoot, or shoot at, in, on or over that part of the waters of Barnegat bay and its tidewater tributaries, north of a line from Good Luck Point to the hotel called and known as the Bond House, opposite to Good Luck Point, any geese, brant or ducks, at any time in the night, that is to say between sunset and sunrise; nor shall it be lawful, at any time, to kill, capture or hunt any geese, brant or ducks, in or over the waters aforesaid, except only between the fifteenth day of October and the first day of May, yearly and every year; provided, that there shall be nothing in this act to prevent shooting geese from the land north of the above mentioned line, between the fifteenth day of October and the first day of May, yearly and every year.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons, at any time, to kill, or shoot or shoot at any geese, brant or ducks from any boat or boats, vessel or vessels, propelled by steam or sail, or from any boat or boats or similar structure or structures, anchored or staked upon the waters of that part of Barnegat bay or its tidewater tributaries, north of the line mentioned in the first section of this supplement; provided, that nothing in this section shall prevent shooting from the [illegible]

3. And be it enacted, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful for any person or persons to kill, destroy, take, decoy or drive in batteries, on the waters or shores of Mosquito Cove, being a part or arm of Barnegat bay, or any of the creeks or streams emptying into said Mosquito Cove, any wood duck, black duck, teal or other kind of duck or brant, except only on Mondays, Wednesdays or Fridays, and then only between sunrise and sunset of each day of such week, between the first day of September and the first day of May yearly and every year.

4. And be it enacted, That every person offending against the provisions of this act shall, for each and every offence, forfeit and pay the sum of twenty dollars, to be sued for and recovered, with costs, in an action of debt, before any justice of the peace in this state, by any person who shall sue for the same, and on non-payment thereof such offender shall be committed to the [illegible] jail of the county for any period not exceeding sixty days, and until said fine and costs are paid.

5. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act, so far as they are inconsistent herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

POETRY.

LIVE FOR SOMETHING.

Live for something, be not idle—
Look about thee for employ;
Sit not down to useless dreaming—
Labor is the sweetest joy.
Folded hands are ever weary;
Selfish hearts are never gay;
Life for thee hath many duties—
Active be, then, while you may.

Scatter blessings in thy pathway:
Gentle words and cheering smiles
Better are than gold and silver,
With thy grief-dispelling wiles.
As the pleasant sunshine falleth
Ever on the grateful earth,
So let sympathy and kindness
Gladden well the darkened hearth.

Hearts that are oppressed and weary,
Drop the tear of sympathy,
Whisper words of hope and comfort,
Give, and thy reward shall be
Joy unto thy soul returning,
From this perfect fountain head.
Freely as thou freely givest,
Shall the grateful light be shed.

The Constitutionalist.

DEMOCRACY.

The principles of the Democratic party remain unchanged, and mean today, as they meant ninety years ago, the unabridged powers and privileges of free Constitutional Government.

Time has served to enhance those principles in the estimation of all impartial, truth-seeking and patriotic citizens, as recorded history, that faultless arbiter, attests that the best and most enduring prosperity the people of this country ever enjoyed was under Democratic administration of public affairs.

That fact stands forth a glorious feature in our national history. It cannot be overturned or refuted. All the jeers, insinuations and falsehoods that bitter partisanship can invent and hurl, have no more effect upon it than popguns against the mighty wall of Gibraltar.

The Democratic party has no new fangled inventions to barter for political success, no gaudily dressed impositions to allure and betray, no airy speculations and magnificent schemes to consolidate power and plunder, but based on the solid foundation of justice and truth, guided by the chart of practical experience, and aiming to promote the real welfare of every section and all classes, the poor equally with the rich, the weak as well as the strong, it looms far above every other party as the champion of popular rights, and conscious of its own integrity, bids defiance to all ungenerous opposition.

The Democratic party is invincible, because it is first, last and always for the people, and against tyranny of every name and degree, be it civil, military or religious. It makes open profession, of which the following are some of its prominent points:

Loyalty to the Constitution as it really is, both as regards its limitations and its liberties.

A Union of strictly co-equal States.

The sovereign authority of each State to exercise all powers not positively delegated through the Constitution to the General Government.

National freedom, not awed by central despotism, but encouraged and cemented by reverence for just rights, and mutual friendship between all sections—North, South, East and West.

A free and unpolluted ballot-box, secure alike from mercenary bayonets and partisan hirelings.

The unchallenged right of every legally qualified citizen to vote as he thinks proper.

Equal and exact justice to all the people, irrespective of birth, creed or condition.

Unrestricted liberty for every person to worship according to the dictates of conscience.

Gold and silver currency of the Constitution, or paper money redeemable on demand in gold or silver.

Free speech, free thought and a free press.

The civil power over the military and the Constitution supreme over both.

A tariff for revenue, so framed that every industry, whether Commercial, Manufacturing, Agricultural, Mechanical or Mining, may receive equal protection and encouragement, but not a dollar of special tribute to be levied at the expense of others.

Moderate taxation, equitably assessed.

Restricted and decreasing indebtedness.

Full maintenance of the public faith.

Strict economy in all expenditures.

Public improvements so far as the general good demands, but no speculative or artificial outlays of any kind.

Rigid accountability in every official position, from President down to Pound-keeper.

Protection to capital, but at the same time protection to labor and moderate or small business interests from the exacting greed of monopolized wealth.

Opposition to all monopolies.

Severance of all political rings.

Death to corruption of every kind.

That is Democracy, and around it we invite all to rally who desire a return of the good old times of solid prosperity.

For "The Constitutionalist."

MESSRS. EDITORS:

Having learned that Rev. Dr. Smith, a former pastor of one of your Plainfield churches, was preaching in Brooklyn, yesterday being such a beautiful day I thought I would go and hear the "man" whose eloquence I had heard so much of; although quite a distance out, in Brooklyn, yet I assure you I felt well paid for my time and trouble; his theme of discourse was "The Courtly Beggar." At the close of the service the people seemed of one accord in pronouncing it as a master-effort and were wrapped in amazement at his beautiful illustrations. It is no wonder that the people in that part of Brooklyn are so enthusiastic; with such an able and eloquent minister, they have great reason to be, so that Plainfield's loss is a great gain to Brooklyn. At present the Dr. is preaching in a large, handsome hall that will seat about 400 persons; he commenced in the hall late in January, with 40 persons present; the number has since increased to nearly 200 and new additions every Sabbath. The success of this enterprise is so certain that a Church Society has been organized, trustees elected, papers of incorporation filed, to be known as the "Gates Avenue Congregational Church;" and on Sunday next about sixty persons will unite themselves by letters from other churches and a profession of faith.—The field of labor, where the Dr. has planted himself, is destined to be one of the finest in the city of Brooklyn. Immediate steps will be taken to procure the ground, with a view of erecting a church building that will seat from 1,500 to 2,000 persons, and have the same ready for occupancy by early next Fall. The people think that if any person can draw and fill a large, commodious building, in that part of Brooklyn, that person is Rev. Dr. Smith, on whom they have planted their affections.

DEMOCRATIC RAHWAY.

Contrary to Republican expectations, Rahway on Tuesday last, at her charter election, elected two Democratic Freeholders and a Mayor. William Crowell, who has so ably represented Rahway in the Board of Freeholders for the past three years, was returned by a handsome majority, and Mr. Wm. Jewell, a gentleman of capability and worth, is sent to keep him company on the Democratic side. Good for Rahway. We forgive you for all past misconduct. Oh! SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

OBITUARY.

It is our sad and painful duty to record the death of Mr. Vincent L. Frazee, which occurred this (Thursday) morning at 4 o'clock, after a brief illness of three or four days, of pneumonia. Mr. Frazee was, at the time of his death, about 65 years of age, and had spent his whole life in this village. In early life he learned the trade of harness making and worked at it for many years, and although he gave up the business at least twenty-five years ago, there are still many specimens of his excellent workmanship in daily use in different parts of the surrounding country. It was always the rule and practice of his life to do whatever he had to do, well. He was for several years Postmaster at Scotch Plains, and for about twenty years Central R. R. Station Agent at the same place. At the time of his death he was sexton of the Baptist Church and Janitor of the Public School. In everything that he did, he was the very model of neatness. In politics he was an Old School Democrat, and was extremely ardent in the faith. In his religious sentiments he was a Baptist. His wife, whom he follows to the better land, was the daughter of the late Squire Parrett. He leaves five children to mourn his loss, two sons and three daughters. They are Mrs. Norman Littell, of N. Y., Mrs. Augustus Hetfield, of Dunellen, Mrs. Geo. Wendell, of Plainfield, Mr. Wm. Frazee, of N. Y., and Vincent Frazee, Jr., of Plainfield. Mr. Frazee's death was very unexpected, and he will be greatly missed by a very large circle of acquaintances.

Capt. Pierson and family have removed from the Grace place to N. Y. City. The premises will be occupied by another family from the city.

Mr. Charles Flanders has leased his large mansion and grounds on Front St., opposite Brittin's Hotel, to a party from Plainfield.

Mr. John E. Flannery (Ted) has made arrangements to occupy his time in the Henry Hand Blacksmith and Carriage Shop, Plainfield, where during business hours he will be exceedingly glad to see all his old customers and many new ones.

Mr. Anthony Dobbing has leased his Blacksmith Shop to E. Walpole, of Charlestown. Mr. D. will continue to "hold the fort" in his present quarters, giving entire satisfaction in every way to all who favor him with their work in the carriage line.

Mr. Clapp, of the "Cedar [illegible]," corner of Park Avenue and Midway, is now making arrangements to [illegible]

An indication of good feeling and happy hearts was manifest at the Baptist Church Dime Sociable that met last evening at the house of Mr. John Flannery, where several very pleasant hours were spent.

Dr. J. A. Coles' new cottage, which in architecture is so gothicky (?) is now about complete, and presents a pretty appearance.

The annual Parish Meeting of the Baptist Society was held last Monday evening. A considerable interest was taken in it, because of proposed change in the character of the Board of Trustees, which is now permissible, under the recent enactment, to give the congregation a minority representation, and the attendance was quite large. The new Board elected on that occasion are as follows: Messrs. David Hand, Wm. Archbold, Dr. J. A. Coles, Thos. R. Moore, Samuel Hayes, A. D. Shepard and S. M. Parse, the three latter names representing the congregation. This is a good Board of Trustees and the church people have done themselves credit in electing them.

The School Trustees met last Monday evening in the performance of their duties in the interest of the district.

The congregation of the Baptist church at Pemberton, according to previous arrangement, visited their esteemed pastor, Rev. J. C. Buchanan on Friday evening of last week, for the purpose of bestowing upon him some of the substantial and necessary things of this life. A large company were present, each of them contributing some little token of their love and friendship for him which amounted in the aggregate to quite a nice sum, in all $125. The presentation was made by Wm. E. Gaskill on the part of the donors, in a few well-chosen remarks, and was responded to in a feeling manner by Mr Buchanan, who has made many warm friends since he came to Pemberton.—Mt. Holly Herald.

ENJOY LIFE.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means for enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worried out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint is the direct cause of seventy-five per cent of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

For sale at Voorhees' Drug Store, Front Street.

Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine,

is eminently a Family Medicine; and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.

After over Forty Years trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent physicians commend it for all diseases of the Liver.

AS AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC

Opinion of the Clergy.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure. If any of our fellow beings are suffering from hepatic disorders and have doubts in relation to the efficacy of this popular preparation, we can only offer them the simple and candid argument of Philip to Nathaniel,—"Come and see." Try the proposed remedy and then you can judge for yourselves. Rev. David Wills, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Macon, Ga.

TAKE
SIMMONS' LIVER
REGULATOR.

THE SYMPTOMS of Liver complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side.—Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for Rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, Debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them, but the Liver is generally the organ most involved.

The Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World!

Original Pension.
Soldiers disabled by wound, injury or disease are entitled to Pension. If the soldier died in the service or since discharge, of wound, injury or disease contracted in service, the widow, minor child or children are entitled. If soldier was Pensioned and has since died of the cause for which pensioned, the widow, minor child or children are entitled. If the widow was pensioned and has since died or re-married, the minor child or children are entitled.

Increase Pension.
Thousands of Soldiers throughout the land are entitled to Increase of Pension, because when first inscribed upon the rolls they are often pensioned at rates below what is warranted by their disabilities, and the report of examining surgeons is quite very doubt that may exist as to real degree of disability; and a majority of those who have been pensioned for any length of time are entitled to increase, as it is the nature of most disabilities for which Pension is granted to increase with increasing years.

Arrears Pension.
You should apply for it at once, we have the blanks and instructions, it will cost you only fifty cents to complete and file your claim for all that may be due you.

GLASS Balls and all manner of sporting goods at Vanderbeek's, No. 33 Park Ave.

REUBEN DUNN, one of Plainfield's well-known citizens died from old age on Tuesday last.

THE boss ought to get right down to solid work now. Easter comes this year on the 13th of April.

GEO. W. FUNCK has a full line of Spring goods, (boots and shoes) which he is selling cheap for cash.

WE notice that Plainfield's delegation to Princeton College is home en masse for the Spring vacation.

THANKS to Voehl, the baker, for a quantity of his excellent Vienna bread and rolls. They are delicious.

OUR carpenters and masons are all busy, which speaks well for building improvements in Plainfield.

FULL and correct Council Proceedings will always be found in the columns of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

WHITNEY, the Dry Goods Merchant, will remove to his new quarters in Van Deventer's new building, this week.

T. J. PRUDEN has taken the store No. 12 west Front Street, and will open the same as a grocery store to-morrow (Saturday).

THE underbrush on top of the mountain, back of the "Notch", was on fire on Wednesday night last, making a fine illumination.

FROM present indications we think that with about two weeks more of this sort of weather everybody will shed their Spring overcoats.

ONE of the handsomest turn-outs to be seen on our streets is that of Mrs. J. C. Verin. The coachman wears a bottle green color livery.

IS it not about time for our base ball clubs to meditate upon the fascinations of that seductive game. Nominations for short stop are now in order.

THE season approaches when ice will be in demand. Tier & Co. are now ready to deliver prime ice at popular prices. See their advertisement.

THE Netherwood Hotel will be opened to receive Summer guests about the last week in May, under the proprietorship of Mr. J. Breslin, with Mr. Mower as Manager.

THE Y. M. C. A. Library Committee have just added to the Library about a dozen of the latest and most popular works of fiction together with a few of the more substantial sort.

TEN EYCK, the butcher, has just received fresh curiosities in the shape of two Buffalo calves. They look to us like veal, but then we are no judge until we test the meat.

LEVI HETFIELD, Esq., has commenced the grading of Third Street, in accordance with a recent decision of the Courts, ordering that thoroughfare opened to public travel.

NOW clean up your lanterns, for our economical Council have ordered the discontinuance of street light for three months, so as to raise money enough to repair the streets.

WM. ADDIS is now located in his new place of business on North Avenue, next to Flagg's Metropolitan Hotel, where he is ready to receive all orders for plumbing, gas fitting, &c., and execute the same at short notice.

BEING about to assume proprietorship of the "Mansion House," I will dispose of my large stock of Ales, Wines and Liquors at my present stand, No. 17 Park Ave., Plainfield, N. J., at reduced prices.

E. P. THORN.

THE Sabbath School attached to the Congregational Church, this city, contemplate having appropriate exercises next Sabbath (Easter Sunday) in the church, commencing at 3 o'clock P. M. A cordial invitation is extended to the friends of the Sabbath School.

AN editor whose head is level says that "correspondents should avoid unpleasant personalities, and never send an item the force of which is understood by only themselves and one or two others. A newspaper is in no sense an ambuscade from which to pepper somebody with small shot."

WORKMEN are busily engaged in making repairs to the fine store building formerly occupied by Ganse, on Front street, next to Voorhees' Drug Store, into which Mr. Geo. Andrews, formerly of Elizabeth, will open next week with a large and well selected stock of Dry Goods, Notions, &c.

REV. HENRY G. SPAULDING will deliver his two most popular illustrated lectures, at Seminary Hall, on the evenings of April 16th and 17th. The subject on Wednesday evening, "St. Peter's Church at Rome," on Thursday evening, "The Destruction of Pompeii." The illustrations are given in dissolving views by means of a powerful Stereopticon.

ACCORDING to the Brooklyn Eagle of April 2, a Miss Nellie West, alias Mitchell, a negress, hailing from Plainfield, New Jersey, was arrested in Brooklyn, April 1st, for appropriating to herself fine silk dresses, seal skin sacque, &c. She said she had also lived at 232 Bergen Street, Brooklyn. She pleaded guilty before Justice Selmer and was committed to await the action of the Grand Jury.

THE following circular has been promiscuously circulated throughout our city the past two days:

"WANTED!
A 'RAPID TRANSIT' train to Plainfield in 30 MINUTES.
Did you ever know a Corporation to accommodate the public?
Never.
What! never?
Hardly ever."

THE Union County Sunday School Association, which held a meeting at Elizabeth, April 7th, to effect an auxiliary organization in this County to the N. J. S. S. Association, elected the following board of officers: President, J. H. Vincent; Cor. Sec., W. D. Wood, of Cranford; Rec. Sec., T. R. White, of Roselle; Treas., C. P. Cheesery, Elizabeth. Messrs. Hurlbut, Lowry, Woodward and Miller, Executive Committee.

GEN. Sterling and Veterinary Surgeons A. A. Holcombe and T. B. Rogers, accompanied by an assistant, visited sections in Morris County on Wednesday, for the purpose of examining several herds of cattle affected by the disease, and found quite a number of cases, which were at once quarantined and are now awaiting results. Gen. Sterling is determined to stamp out the disease in affected districts. He has established his headquarters at 249 Washington St., Jersey City.

A FASHIONABLE wedding was an occasion of much interest to the colored people of our city last Thursday. In the Mt. Olive Baptist Church, Rev. Mr. Fairfax joined in the holy bonds of wedlock Mr. John Smith to Miss Lucy Perry. The bride was handsomely and tastefully arrayed. The affair was very aristocratic. Many white friends were present. The newly wedded pair proceeded to Philadelphia on a wedding tour, a brilliant reception awaiting them there.

A respectable and innocent lady was arrested in a Broadway dry goods store one day last week on suspicion of theft. This thing has been repeated about often enough to warn decent people to keep away from the crowded shops in New York. Our Plainfield ladies who are equally liable to such suspicions among strangers, would be placed in an extremely awkward and mortifying position if thus treated, and their safest and best policy is to buy of [illegible] home houses, where they are [illegible] better treatment.

NEXT Sunday will be Easter Sunday, and interesting services and fine music will be features of interest in the various churches.

STREET Commissioner Angleman is busily engaged, with a large force of workmen, in cleaning the streets, making necessary repairs, &c.

A. BURDETTE SMITH'S Fashion Books may now be obtained at Mrs. W. L. Force's Fancy Goods Store, No. 8 Park Avenue. All the latest styles will be found in it.

MR. E. P. THORN will dispose of his large stock of Ales, Wines and Liquors, before assuming proprietorship of the "Mansion House," at his old stand, No. 17 Park Ave., at reduced prices.

IT cost $1,000 to enable our citizens to proudly say—"We've got a City Park," and Wm. B. Maxson, Esq., receives that sum for legal fees in establishing the city's right of claim to it. Does that make it a Dear Park?

SUNDAY, April 13th, the Congregational pulpit will be occupied by Rev. Isaac L. Kipp, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. The following Sunday the Rev. Mr. Bradford, of the Congregational Church, Montclair, N. J., will preach.

THE attention of our lady readers is directed to the card of Mrs. E. W. Runyon in another column. Mrs. R. has had over twenty years experience in the use of the remedies she advertises, and asks only a trial from the afflicted.

Dime Savings Institution.

The Chancellor has ordered the Directors of the above Institution to pay a dividend of 10 per cent. on and after April 14.

Petit Jurors.

The petit jurors from Plainfield for the May term of Court are G. W. F. Randolph, Solomon F. Dunn, John F. McIntyre and F. A. Dunham. For Fanwood, C. Moesler, Jr., Parker B. Miller and Tappen Townsend. For Westfield. John C. Sandford.

Adjourned Sale.

The sale of the Mill Property and Homestead of the late Phineas Randolph, was adjourned from last Tuesday to Tuesday, April 15th. This is a fine property, and the opportunity to purchase the same at a low figure should not be neglected by capitalists. See advertisement in another column.

Attention, Gun Club!

The members of the "Plainfield Gun Club" are hereby notified that a meeting of the club will be held at Force's Hotel, this city, Monday evening next, April 14th, at 8 o'clock.

H. C. FITHIAN, Pres.
W. L. FORCE, Sec.

Opening the Range.

Brinton Range will be opened for the season on the 15th of April. On Tuesday, April 29th, at 3:30, P. M., the "Winchester Match" will be shot. Tuesday, April 22nd, at 3:30, P. M., the "Whitney Match." Saturday, April 25th, "Sharp's Match." April 15th, "Remington Match." April 19th, "Ballard Match."

Watson & Co.

The Newark Clothiers, are out this week in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST with their Spring advertisement. It is not our purpose to advise our citizens to go out of town to make their purchases, but we know that there is a class who do so. To them we would say that there is no better firm to deal with in Newark than Watson & Co.

St. Mary's Church.

Highly interesting religious ceremonies occurred at St. Mary's Church, Thursday morning, April 10th, of which we are disappointed in not receiving a full report, in consequence of our reporter not understanding the hour of commencement of services. We learn that a grand Fair will be given in the new Church edifice sometime in June, in aid of the building fund.

Adjourned Assignee's Sale.

No bidders were in attendance at the Assignee's sale of valuable building lots on Somerset Street, North Plainfield, last Tuesday, the same to be sold by order of E. P. Thorn, Assignee of Wallace Vail. The sale stands adjourned to Wednesday, April 16th. Again we say, here is a chance for any one with a small amount of money to make a capital investment. The lots must be sold if they do not bring $10 apiece. Lots adjoining cannot be bought for $600.

Mansion House.

This well-known house is rapidly filling up with guests, under the management of the popular Young & Co. It will be some days yet before Mr. Thorn can open the bar, clerk, reading and other rooms, in consequence of the extensive repairs being made in those departments. The work is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible by Messrs. Shepherd, Johnson & Godown, who have under their supervision the repairs in wood work, which is sufficient guarantee that the work will be well done.

French, The Clothier,

This week announces his intention in a column advertisement, to be found in this issue. Mr. French thoroughly understands the wants of the people of Plainfield in the matter of clothing, and we are glad to see him once more open a branch store here.—Having purchased his present stock of ready-made clothing at low prices, at Sheriff's sale, he can afford to sell the same low. In his custom department, a thoroughly competent cutter is employed.

Exit "The Daily Press."

It was predicted upon the issuing of first copy of the Daily Press in Plainfield, the job of keeping the thing alive would be a painful one, and so it proved. After three issues, announcement was made that the "press had broken down," "Will resume April 6th" (which came on Sunday.) Finally it was decided by Mr. Seth Wilbur Payne, the projector of this enterprise (conceived ten years ago) to migrate to Chicago, which he did on Tuesday last. Next.

Union County Medical Society.

The above Society held a full meeting of its members in the Council chamber, this city, on Wednesday last. Of course, the business being private, no reporters were allowed at their deliberations. Our secret service reporter, however, informs us that the communication, (referred to in these columns last week) from a citizen of Plainfield, preferring grave charges against members of the fraternity, was not opened. A Sun reporter, who was on hand to write up a sensational article, left minus any points.

The Savings Banks of the State.

The annual report of the statements of banking and insurance companies of New Jersey contains tables showing the number and localities of the several savings banks in New Jersey, their capital, assets and liabilities. There are thirty eight of these banks in the state. Their statistics recapitulated present this result as to the condition of the banks. Resources: Real estate, total value, $841,979 98; loans on bond and mortgage, $7,991,543 63; U. S. bonds, $3,632,221.33; other stocks and bonds, $1,840,632.79; call loans on collaterals, $655,181 92; other assets, $1,640,329.93. Total resources, $16,589,880 50. Liabilities: Due depositors, $15,749,319,76, other liabilities, $62,069.80. Surplus over liabilities, $778,480.94. Number of open accounts January 1st 1878, 55,254; number of open accounts January 1st, 1879, 42,790; number of accounts opened or re-opened during the year 1878, 20,127; number of accounts closed during the year 1878, 10,891. The Dime Savings Bank of Plainfield does not appear in the list.

Residences of New Jersey Senators and Representatives at Washington.

More Fine Roads.

Mr. J. E. Dowley has about completed the repairing of Front Street, from Johnston Avenue to the city line at Terrill Road, and to say that it is an excellent job is but telling the truth. Mr. Dowley will shortly commence repairing Front Street, from Peace Street to Farragut Avenue, in the same manner as that completed in front of J. Taylor Johnston's property. He has the right idea how the work should be done.—It will be observed by reference to Council Proceedings that the citizens residing along the road mentioned, advance the money to Council to do the work, the same being given to the lowest bidder.

Peck.

Who has not heard of Peck? His name has become a household word, and even the children cry to go to Peck's, where there is always such a pretty display of goods. And how has Peck become so popular? Why by advertising. For by advertising the public came to know that he was selling the best of goods cheaper than any other house in the city. He is one of the few, very few, also, who has been successful in doing a strictly cash business. The rich and poor are served alike by him. "Cash before delivery of goods" has been one secret of his success. For years past the name of Peck has been a prominent feature in the columns of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST. His advertisement is always fresh and readable, and we trust to see it remain in its present location for years to come. Go to Peck's.

Sent to Morris Plains.

Mr. Piatt Williamson, a well-known resident of Plainfield, has for some time past shown symptoms of derangement of mind, and on Monday last suddenly became very violent. It was thought best to remove him to the asylum for the insane, at Morris Plains, and the services of Dr. Tomlinson was called into requisition to quiet the patient. At the depot, preparatory to his intended departure by train, Mr. Williamson suddenly became demonstrative and violent, and breaking away from officers Conway and Eaton, ran down the railroad track, narrowly escaping being run over by a passing train. He was finally captured and conveyed in a carriage to the asylum by Mr. T. J. Gillies (overseer of the poor) and Dr. Tomlinson. It was necessary to confine his legs and arms with straps. The afflicted family have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

Personalia.

We had the pleasure of receiving a call last Monday from Gen. James S. Peck, Adjutant-General of the State of Vermont.—The Gen., who has been South for his health and was on his return home, stopped in our city to see his old comrade, Julian Scott, the artist, and other friends here.

H. H. DeCamp, Esq., and the junior "High," formerly connected with Laing's Hotel, but now located at Chester, paid a flying visit to Plainfield on Saturday last, and were warmly welcomed by their many friends in this section.

Our fellow-townsman, Col. Wm. H. Sterling has again been the recipient of executive favors, Gov. McClellan, having recently appointed him as Inspector-General of Rifle Practice of the National Guard, with the rank of Brigadier-General. The appointment is a fit one, and evidences the fact that "Little Mac" appreciates a soldier's worth. General, we salute you.

Relatives and friends of Judge Buchanan, throughout the State, will read with pleasure the following from the Trenton State Gazette, (Rep.):

"Judge Buchanan, who has filled the position of Law Judge of this county for the past five years, retired from office on Monday. He has made a very able, conscientious and upright judge, administering the office with exact and even-handed justice, and enjoying the confidence and esteem of all who desire an impartial enforcement of the law, and the faithful protection of the rights of the people. Judge Buchanan retires with the respect and esteem of this entire community."

Pleuro-Pneumonia.

The last number of the Scientific American contained a lengthy article on the above disease, from which we make extracts.

The cattle plague, which is creating so much anxiety throughout the Eastern States, is a contagious fever, affecting cows chiefly, characterized by extensive exudation into the respiratory organs, and attended by a low typhoid inflammation of the lungs, pleura, and bronchia. It has prevailed in Europe for ages, at times developing into wide-spread scourges, causing incalculable loss.—It was imported into England in 1839, and again three years later; and it was estimated that within twenty-five years thereafter the losses by deaths alone in England had amounted to $450,000,000. In 1858 the disease was carried to Australia by an English cow, and, spreading to the cattle ranges almost depopulated them.

In 1843 an infected Dutch cow brought the disease to Brooklyn, where it has since lingered, slowly spreading among cattle in Kings and Queens counties. In 1847 several head of infected English cattle were imported into New Jersey, and, spreading among a herd of valuable cattle, made it necessary for them all to be slaughtered, the only certain method of stamping out the disease. In 1859 four infected cows were imported into Massachusetts from Holland; the plague spread rapidly, and was stamped out only by persistent effort, the State paying for over 1,000 slaughtered cattle. Since 1862 the disease has not been known there. Meanwhile, the pest had invaded Eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland, where it has since prevailed in isolated localities. The absence of large herds of moving cattle in these districts, except for speedy slaughter, has prevented the disease from developing into a general plague. Professor Law, of Cornell University, one of the best informed veterinary surgeons, most emphatically opposes every attempt to control the disease by quarantining the sick or by the inoculation of the healthy. "We may quarantine the sick," he says, "but we cannot quarantine the air."

The symptoms of the disease are thus described in a work entitled "Agriculture of Massachusetts," by C. L. Flint:

"Hair rough and staring, frequent shivering, cough, grunting, and other indications of pain, quick pulse, sometimes drooling, and more or less dyspnœa, according to the extent of the disease and the existence of effusion in the pleural cavities. In the report of the Cattle Commissioners in 1865, in a case in which the disease was communicated by contact with a diseased animal, we find the following: 'The symptoms were, almost constant coughing, (a suppressed sore cough) eyes dull, head depressed, loss of appetite, great prostration, and we will add a quick pulse, sometimes reaching one hundred per minute."

TREATMENT.

The only safe treatment is the pole axe,—Kill the whole herd; bury the sick, and sell the healthy beef for what it will bring in the market.

Upon the first appearance of symptoms of the above disease, every owner of cattle so affected, should at once communicate the fact to Gen. Sterling, at his headquarters, 249 Washington Street, Jersey City, who will at once send an expert Veterinary Surgeon to examine the same.

FIRE MATTERS.

The reprehensible practice of making bonfires of old rubbish in the night time, should be abolished. These fires are liable to cause an alarm and bring out the department.

Next Monday occurs the election for two Fire Commissioners, to serve for three years. The nominees are Messrs. Jacob Adams, Wallace Vail (the present incumbents) and Rufus K. Case. Mr. Lewis E. Barkalew, who was nominated by "Zephyr" Co. with Mr. Case, has withdrawn his name from the field, in consequence of sickness in his family and having too many other matters to attend to. The polls will be opened at Laing's Hall from 2 until 4 o'clock p. m. Mr. Jacob Adams has served one term in the Board, and has held the office of Treasurer for three years. He is a strict and capable business man and is the right kind of an official to entrust with the affairs of the department. Wallace Vail has also faithfully served the people as Commissioner for the past twelve years. Both these gentlemen understand thoroughly the wants of the Fire Department. Mr. Case, too, is a gentleman who would fill the position creditably should he be elected. Every legal voter has a right to vote at this election.

A match carelessly flung into a worsted receiver, before it was extinguished, after lighting the gas in a room of Mr. Wm. Cook's residence on Fifth Street, above Peace, last Tuesday evening, set the receiver on fire, which communicated with the curtains and window casing. When discovered the fire had burned through to the outside of the building. By dint of hard work the flames were extinguished with pails of water. The damage will amount to about $50.

At a special meeting of Warren Engine Co. No. 2, held at their parlor on Tuesday evening April 8th, the company was presented with a handsome eight day clock by Wm. W. Springmann, a member of the company.

There was an alarm of fire Sunday evening, caused by the burning of brush back of Netherwood Hotel. No alarm was struck from the tower.

Steamer "No. 2" and "Alert" No. 1 Hose Companies were out for a "wash" and practice at the Crescent Avenue Fire Well on Tuesday evening last. The engine was in charge of the "Exempts," and under the management of Engineer Hedden, worked admirably. During the wash, an alarm of fire was sounded, caused by the burning of rubbish and dry grass near Putnam Avenue. Both companies "took up" and went nearly to the scene. After the wash, a fine collation was served at "Alert" house, under the supervision of Stewards Cathbert and Young, to which the "Exempts" were invited.

Andrew Smith, a member of Hibernia Engine Co. No. 6, was on Monday last elected Chief of the New Brunswick Fire Department over H. C. Hounsell, the present Chief, by 56 majority.

But little interest seems to be manifested among the firemen, regarding the approaching election for Chief and Assistants, which occurs the first week in May. Endeavors have been made to induce three of the ex-chiefs to run for the three offices, as follows: Wm. H. Voorhees for Chief, T. O. Doane 1st and John Chandler 2d Assistant. These gentlemen, however, are content to rest upon their past laurels, and do not court the honor of holding the positions. At a special meeting of Warren Engine Co. No. 2 held last Tuesday evening, Mr. T. O. Doane was nominated for Chief, Andrew Carney 1st and Fred. Dunn for 2d Assistants. Mr. Doane declines the nomination. There is time enough, however, before the election, to nominate a ticket. There are anxious ones ready to take their chances for the positions.

In our last issue we alluded to a law passed last winter known as the Firemen's Free bill, and remarked that the Department of Plainfield would be benefitted by it. That should not be construed as meaning the Fire Department proper, it is only Relief Associations that are benefitted by its provisions.

NORTH PLAINFIELD PARAGRAPHS.

Road Overseer John Whitlock has given the roads in his district a good scraping, and they are now in good order.

The rite of confirmation to several candidates was administered by Bishop Scarborough last Sunday at the Church of the Holy Cross, also Grace Church.

Mr. Peter B. Mathews of North Plainfield, came home last week for the rest of the College year from Cornell University. Mr. M. has been suffering from a combined attack of scarlet fever and diptheria, which left him in such a weak condition that his physician forbid any further study until Fall.

In the examination on Friday last, of Public School No. 38, North Plainfield, the following obtained a standard of 100:

Grammar Department—Class A.—Examination, Algebra—Daniel Nolan, Lizzie Keegan, Annie Woodland, Charles Taynor, Lizzie Wilcox, Fiorrella Case. Average of the class 98 3 10

Intermediate Department—Examination Geography—Emma Johnson, Mary Everitt, Julia Johnson, Gussie Lewis, Cappie Conover, Elston French. Maggie Van Deventer, 99

Primary Department—Fourth class—Examination, Arithmetic.—Nettie Shepherd, James Moore, Katie Stahl, John Watts.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

L. V. Clark is about erecting another fine house on Clark Street, opposite his present residence. Joel Moffett has the contract for the same.

William W. Connoly, Collector, is after the taxes of delinquent taxpayers. He has an easy way of doing business, giving satisfaction to all.

Parties have commenced grading Park Avenue, recently laid out by the Surveyors of Highway, from Hillside Ave. to Dudley Ave. When completed it will be one of the finest drives in the village.

The Gardner Manufacturing Co. are running their Factory night and day, thus giving employment to a large number of men and boys.

Ezra Miller captured a young eagle in the woods on Prospect Street, on Tuesday last, while after a load of wood. He had his hands pretty well scratched in the tussle to secure the bird alive.

Postmaster Decker has just placed a number of lock boxes in the Post Office. They are an ornament to the same, and nearly all have been taken. Fred says he will have to send for more.

P. Traynor, proprietor and owner of the Grocery Store, corner of Elm and Broad Streets, has just put a in new front with two show windows in the same, which makes a handsome improvement to his store.

The Lyceum Committee on Village Improvements will meet at their rooms, on Saturday evening, April 12th, to try and devise some means for the better drainage of our village, which it needs very much, and can easily be done if our citizens will only stand by them in their endeavors. The natural water-course, through the village, having plenty of fall to the sewer, it needs to be cleaned out to its proper depth and widened a little to prevent the overflow.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

(Under the above head we shall endeavor each week to give items and news of interest to the lovers of fishing, gunning, trotting, athletic and other sports. We shall be pleased to receive contributions or items for this column from all interested in such matters.)

Goldsmith Maid had a horse colt at the Fashion Stud Farm on Tuesday night. The colt is a very fine bay, and has no white on it. The sire of the animal is George Washington, and he by Jay Gould; dam, Lady Thorn.

The Fish Commissioners have sent 10,000 young trout to Passaic county, and will send about 8,000 to Monmouth county. Last week 10,000 trout fry were placed in the waters of Morris county, and the populating of natural trout streams in Hunterdon and Warren is being prosecuted with success.

Every seven years, according to tradition, pigeons flock north in large numbers. The last great influx was in 1872, when these birds were so plentiful in parts that they fairly obscured the light of the sun and alighted in such numbers on trees as to break the branches. This year being the seventh from the last migration, it is expected that these birds will again visit the North in countless numbers, and in anticipation of that event pot hunters are preparing for a harvest.

The "Morris County Farmer Orator," Oscar Lindsley, of Green Village, Morris County, shot a large grey eagle near his home last week, measuring four and a half feet from tip to tip of wings. The bird is being "set up" by a celebrated taxidermist.

During the snow squall of Friday last, a fine, large woodcock flew against the side of the brick building occupied by Rockfellow, corner of Park and North Avenues, and was killed. The bird was picked up by Mr. Ellis A. Campbell, who, we presume had the pleasure of dining off of woodcock out of season, and not illegally either.

"Lucy," the mate of "Goldsmith Maid," a well known trotter, had a fine bay horse colt at the Fashion Stud Farm on Monday morning last. Its sire is the same as that of the "Maid's" colt—"George Washington." If the young ones both live they will make a fine team.

We learn that the fishery laws are violated by parties taking black bass out of Milton Lake, near Rahway. Where are the members of the Game and Fish Protective Society in that section?

The New Jersey State Sportsmen's Association is making arrangements for a grand State shooting tournament to be held at the Waverly fair grounds some time in June. The affair will be the first of the kind ever held in the State, and will be under the auspices of the Jersey City Heights Gun Club. Mr. George B. Eaton, President of the State Association, says that the Association will furnish from seven to ten thousand birds, and when arrangements can be completed for the purchase of the birds, a day will be set for the opening. A meeting of the Association will be held at Newark, next Saturday, 12th inst., to perfect the arrangements. The "Central New Jersey Game & Fish Protective Society," and "Plainfield Gun Club," will send delegates to the convention.

SPORTSMEN are reminded that Berry & Thorn, Hardware Dealers, keep a large assortment of shells, wads, best brands of powder, soft and chilled shot, &c.

Common Council Proceedings.

MONDAY EVENING, April 7th, 1879.

Council met in regular meeting.

Present—Coriell, Depew, Finch, Mayer, Potts, Rushmore, Redfield, Simpson, Stewart, Stover. Absent—Lithgow.

Pres. Potts in the chair.

Minutes of last two meetings read and approved.

Mr. Coriell presented petition from Messrs. Kinstall and others for a crosswalk on Park Ave. at the intersection of 9th St. Ref'd to St. Com.

Mr. Stewart presented petition of Dr. Tomlinson for permission to enclose a portion of his verandah. Ref'd to Fire, Water & Lamp Com.

Mr. Stover presented petition of E. P. Thorn in reference to his transferring his saloon license for a Hotel license, viz: City Hotel, now "Mansion House," situate cor. Park Ave. and 2d St. The petitioner respectfully wishes that the Treasurer be directed to refund the money paid, less the amount pro rata for the time elapsing since said application was granted, to the time of refunding the same, and be allowed to make a new application for a Hotel license, &c.

Mr. Stover moved that the above petition be laid over until unfinished business, as he wished to present a report relative to the matter. So agreed to.

By the same—Petition of E. P. Thorn for a license to keep an inn and tavern and to sell spirituous and fermented liquors therein, in the building known as the City Hotel, now "Mansion House," situate cor. Park Ave. and 2d St. Ref'd to License Com.

Mr. Simpson presented petition of John Rafferty for a saloon license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors in the building situate on Park Ave. near North Ave. Ref'd to License Com.

Mr. Finch presented petition from R. K. Case and others in reference to encroachment on street line on 6th St. Ref'd to Law & Ord. Com.

Mr. Mayer presented com'n from Wm. Addis in reference to erecting a frame building on North Ave., denying positively of ever having any conversation with any members of Common Council in reference to locating the building, except in two cases, and did not include Mr. Lithgow; the only conversation that he had with the Chairman of the Com. on Fire, Water & Lamps was on the evening that the petition was presented, informing the Chairman that he intended petitioning Common Council for permission to erect a frame building on North Ave.; the reply of the Chairman was "that he would give the matter his attention," &c. The com'n was accompanied by an affidavit.

Mr. Stover said in justice to Mr. Lithgow, who was absent, that remarks reported to have been said by Mr. Lithgow, were greatly exaggerated, and would move that the com'n lie upon the table. So agreed to.

Mr. Simpson presented claim of Street Com'r Geo. M. Angleman, work done on Liberty and Front Sts, and Clinton Ave., $404 50. Ref'd to St. Com.

Mr. Stewart presented claim of Runyon & Leonard, printing, &c., $63 80. Ref'd to Com. on Printing & Stationery.

Mr. Simpson presented claim of ex-St. Com'r John Wilson, for work done on Streets during month of January, and one month's salary, $19 32. Ref'd to St. Com.

Mr. Depew presented the following claims: Jeremiah Van Winkle, $75; Morgan Bird, rent station house, $42 50; Wm. B. Smith, salary, &c., $78 50; J. O. Nodyne, do, $41 66; Bullard Reid, stationery, $15 20; Jas. Mullen, inspector money election, $5. On motion, the claim of M. Reid was referred to Com. on Printing & Stationery, and the balance of claims to the Com. on Sals., Offices & Elec'ns.

Mr. Stewart presented claim of J. E. Dunham, money election, $4; P. F. Good, salary, $75. Ref'd as above.

Mr. Rushmore presented claim of Berry & Thorn, repairs on lamps, &c., $16 55. Ref'd to Fire, Water & Lamp Com.

Mr. Coriell presented the following regular police claims for month of March: Edward Laing, Chas. Dodd, Geo. Eaton, each $41 67. Ref'd to Police Com.

The Clerk then read claim of Wm. B. Maxson, legal services, "Park" suit, $1,000. Ref'd to Law & Ord. Com.

Mr. Depew presented com'n from His Honor Mayor Harper, re supplementary ord. relative to Inns and Taverns, having been presented to him in regular order, and approved, although defective in form, lacking proper title; the enacting clause differs from the wording prescribed by the charter, and suggested a reconsideration of the vote, &c.

Mr. Stover moved that the com'n be received and placed on file, as he had a matter he wished to present later on relative to this ord. Agreed to.

By the same—Com'n from Mayor Harper relative to receiving an invitation from Sec. of "N. J. Assoc'n" to be present at a meeting called for Thursday, 10th inst., at 3:30 p. m., in Room 11, Coal and Iron Exchange, No. 17 Courtlandt St., N. Y. The meeting being called relative to rapid transit, a subject of great importance just now, thought it appropriate to lay the matter before the Council, if action should be deemed advisable, that a com. be appointed from Council to join in the official representation of Plainfield.

Mr. Stover moved that the Mayor's com'n be received and placed on file, and the chair appoint a Com. of three from this Council to attend said meeting. Adopted.

The chair appointed as such Com. Messrs. Stover, Depew, Redfield.

The Clerk reported that he had received for peddler's licenses since last report, $40, for which he holds Treas. receipt. Rec'd and filed.

Mr. Stover presented report of Corp. Counsel Maxson in reference to the collection of back taxes by Geo. W. Moore, that it is his opinion that Mr. Moore is not entitled to any extra compensation for collecting taxes above the rate allowed by the State law. Rec'd and filed.

Clerk then read claim of J. H. Ackerman, [illegible], $22 25. Ref'd to Law & Ord. Com.

Mr. Depew then presented Report of City Treasurer VanWinkle. [illegible] the number of outstanding warrants, the Clerk could probably inform the Council. At the request of Mr. Stover, Council took a recess for ten minutes. At the expiration of the ten minutes, the Clerk announced the finding of warrant of $1.10 unpaid, which would leave a balance of $1,000 30 in the Treasury.

Mr. Stover, from Law & Ord. Com., reported in reference to obstructions on Putnam St., at its intersection with Kensington Ave., that in their opinion the Common Council have the right and power to remedy the evil in the way and manner provided in the resolution, and after consultation with Corporation Counsel would recommend the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. Finch requested the matter be over until unfinished business, as he had a petition to present bearing on this matter.

Mr. Stover thought the matter had laid over long enough, and would call for the adoption of his resolution.

Mr. Finch thereupon presented petition of Messrs. Evan Jones and J. J. H. Polhemus asking for a hearing before the Com. on Sts. in regard to certain propositions to alter grades of certain streets in which above petitioners are largely interested.

Mr. Stover moved that the petition lie upon the table. At this juncture this matter was a subject of much discussion pro and con, and Mr. Stover's motion to lie upon the table was lost.

Mr. Stover moved that the Common Council go in a body and examine the premises in question. So agreed to. The chair appointed Wednesday afternoon next at 4 o'clock as the time.

By the same—That when this Council adjourn it adjourn to meet two weeks from to-night, when further action could be had relative to his res. So ordered.

By the same—In reference to Green Brook, would report that they have examined into the matter, and have met with the petitioners, &c., and would refer the same to the Health Board. Rec'd and recommendation adopted.

By the same—Would report upon petition of Messrs. Platt & Holly, Park Ave. assessment, that in their opinion the matter could be settled satisfactorily to all parties. After some discussion the matter was referred to Finance Com.

By the same—Would report relative to claims of Commissioners for opening Lindsley Ave., and for altering and widening Plainfield Ave., from Front St. to the city line, etc., that the said bills were first before the Common Council of 1875, and were reported upon and allowed payable out of the assessment made for the different purposes when collected, &c., and would therefore recommend that this Council take no action thereon. Rec'd and filed and recommendation adopted.

By the same—Would report in reference to petition of Edward P. Thorn, requesting that the saloon license granted to him on the 17th day of February, 1879, apply to his new place of business, viz: the City Hotel, on the cor. of Cherry and 2d Sts., that in their opinion the granting of such request would be in violation of section 12 of the License Ord., and would recommend that the request be not granted. Rec'd and filed and recommendation adopted.

Mr. Coriell reported as correct the claims of the regular policemen presented this evening. Report received and claims referred to Aud. Com.

By the same—Report of City Judge Good for month of March. Number of arrests, 8. Men, 8. Crimes committed, selling liquor without license, 1, drunkenness, 7. Nationalities, Irish, 5, Germans, 2, Americans, 1. No tramps. Rec'd and filed.

Mr. Stewart, from Com. on Printing & Stationery, reported as correct, claims as follows: Runyon & Leonard, $63 80; M. Reid, $11 25; W. L. Force & Bro., $80. Report rec'd and claims referred to Aud. Com.

Mr. Finch, from St. Com., reported favorably on crosswalk Park Ave. and 9th St., the cost not to exceed $25. Adopted, all aye.

By the same—In matter of John L. Brewster and others, that two wells be dug to receive the water, the cost not to exceed $60, of which the property owners pay $15. Adopted, all aye.

By the same—As correct, claim of ex-St. Com'r John Wilson, $19 32, and St. Com'r Geo. M. Angleman, $404 50. Report rec'd and claims referred to Aud. Com.

Mr. Stover moved that the amendment to the License Ord. be reconsidered. So ordered.

Ord. was then read by the Clerk, when Mr. Stover offered the following:

An ordinance to amend an ordinance entitled "An ordinance to license Inns and Taverns and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous liquors," adopted February 22d, 1873, and re-adopted March 8th, 1876, notwithstanding the objections of the Mayor:

"The Inhabitants of the city of Plainfield by their Common Council, do enact as follows:"

Ordered engrossed and to a 3d reading; all aye.

Mr. Redfield presented claim of Samuel Huntington, copying charter, $10 50. Ref'd to Finance Com.

Mr. Simpson, from Aud. Com., reported the following claims as correct: The police claims presented this evening, W. L. Force & Bro., $80; Runyon & Leonard, $63 80; M. Reid, $11 25; Geo. M. Angleman, 2 bills, $562 00.

Mr. Coriell moved that the report be received and warrants ordered drawn for the several am'ts.

Mr. Depew arose and stated that he would like to make an amendment, "with the exception of the Street bills."

Mr. Coriell would not accept the amendment, and upon a vote being taken it was carried, Mr. Depew voting in the negative.

Mr. Depew gave as his reasons for not having St. Com'r Angleman's bills paid that there was no funds to pay them with; it could not come out of the $1,000 appropriated a short time since, as that applied to the upper part of Front St., &c., and it was understood by several members of the Council that a res. was to be introduced this evening appropriating an additional $1,000 to pay Mr. Angleman's claims.

Several of the members wishing to have their vote reconsidered, Mr. Stewart moved that the vote be reconsidered on Mr. Coriell's motion. So agreed to.

Mr. Depew then offered the following:

Resolved, That the sum of one thousand dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated, to be expended on the streets of Plainfield, and that the bills of St. Com'r Angleman amounting to $167 50 and $404 50 presented to this Council and passed this evening, be paid out of such appropriation.

Several of the members wanted to know where this $1,000 was coming from.

Mr. Depew, with consent of Council, presented the following:

Resolved, That in order that the city may have sufficient funds to put the streets of said city in proper repair, that the Com. on Fire, Water & Lamps be instructed to cause the lighting of the lamps of the city, except those placed under the railroad bridges, suspended for the term of three months from this date, April 7th, 1879.

After some discussion, the above resolutions were adopted, all aye.

Mr. Simpson, from Aud. Com., reported as correct, also, the following claims: P. F. Good, $75; Wm. B. Smith, $78 50; Jeremiah VanWinkle, $75; Morgan Bird, $42 50. Report rec'd and warrants ordered drawn for the several amounts, all aye.

Mr. Stover called for their 3d reading, the Poor and General Fund Ords., Ord. relative to vacating and opening a portion of 3d St., and Ord. relative to New Charter Election. Read 3d time, and passed, all aye, with the exception of Mr. Simpson, who voted in the negative on the New Charter Election Ord.

Mr. Rushmore called up the Ord. for its 3d reading, establishing grade of Front St. to Farragut Road. Read 3d time, and after some discussion, was passed, all aye.

Council then adjourned.

CHAPTER XLVII.

A further supplement to an act entitled "An act to incorporate societies for the promotion of learning," approved April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the first section to the supplement to the act above mentioned, approved March first, one thousand eight hundred and fifty, and which is in these words:

"1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the members of the New Jersey annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church are hereby authorized and empowered, when in conference assembled, to found any institution or institutions in this state, whose object shall be the promotion of learning and for that purpose, when assembled as aforesaid, they are hereby farther authorized and empowered, from time to time, to elect from their own body or otherwise (with power at any time to fill vacancies), any number of persons, not exceeding eighteen, nor less than nine, as trustees of such institution or institutions, who shall be divided into three classes, of which the first shall remain in office one year, the second two years, and the third three years, so that one class may be elected every year; which said trustees and their successors are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate, in fact, name and law, to all intents and purposes forever, by whatever name the trustees, elected as aforesaid, shall take and assume in the manner specified in the second section of the act to which this is a supplement, and by that name they shall have perpetual succession." shall be amended so that the same shall read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the members of the New Jersey conference of the Methodist Episcopal church may, as heretofore authorized or together with the members of the Philadelphia conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, and they are hereby authorized and empowered, when in their respective conferences assembled, to found an institution, or organize any institutions already founded in this state, whose object shall be the promotion of learning, and for that purpose, when assembled as aforesaid, they, and each of them, are hereby authorized and empowered, from time to time, to elect from their respective bodies or otherwise (with power at any time to fill vacancies), any number of persons, not exceeding eighteen from each conference, nor less than nine from each conference, as trustees of such institution or institutions, which said trustees shall be divided in three classes of which the first shall remain in office one year, the second two years, and the third three years, so that one class may be elected by their respective conferences every year; which said trustees and their successors are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate, in fact name and law, to all intents and purposes forever, by whatever name the trustees elected by the two conferences aforesaid shall take and assume, in the manner specified in the second section of the act to which this is a supplement, and by that name they shall have perpetual succession.

2 And be it enacted, That the second section to the supplement to the act above mentioned, which is in these words:

"2. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the aforesaid trustees and their successors, to lay before the New Jersey annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, at each and every annual meeting thereof, the state of the institution, the situation of the funds, and the accounts, and transactions of the preceding year, previous to the election of trustees," shall be amended so that the same shall read as follows:

2 And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the aforesaid trustees and their successors, to lay before the New Jersey annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, and the Philadelphia annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, respectively, at each and every annual meeting thereof, the state of the institution, the situation of the funds, and the accounts and transactions of the preceding year, previous to the election of trustees.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 4, 1879.

CHAPTER CXVII.

Supplement to an act entitled "An act constituting courts for the trial of small causes."

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That when any judgment is obtained in any court for the trial of small causes in this state, and an execution shall issue thereon, and be returned by the constable to whom it has been delivered to be executed, endorsed to the effect that he could not find personal property of the party against whom the execution was issued, on which to levy, or that he had levied and and sold goods and chattels, and has made thereof part of said judgment, and that the same was not fully satisfied, and stating the balance still unsatisfied, and if the person against whom such execution shall have been issued, and returned as aforesaid, shall reside in or be possessed of goods and chattels, in any other county of this state, than that in which such execution shall have been issued and returned as aforesaid, then an alias or pluries execution may issue, as the case may be out of said court, directed to any constable in the county where said person against whom such execution may issue, shall at that time reside or be found, or be possessed of goods and chattels, and it shall be the duty of the constable to whom such execution shall be given to carry it to some justice of the peace, of the county wherein said person or goods and chattels may be found, and the justice to whom the same shall be presented, on proof being made to him of the hand writing of the justice of the peace who issued such execution shall endorse his name thereon, with an authority to make levy and sale of the goods and chattels of said person in the same manner as in other cases on executions issuing out of the court for the trial of small causes, which execution shall be returned to the justice issuing the same, in the same manner as in other acts.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXXII.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act for the settlement and relief of the poor," [Revision] approved March twenty-fourth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

Whereas, there exists in the several counties of this state duly incorporated charitable institutions known as "children's homes," having for their object the care, management and support of children who, from any cause whatever, may be considered entitled to charity and deserving of assistance, and affording them the advantages of moral, religious and useful training, thereby relieving the several counties of the support of such children at the county poor houses; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever any application shall be made to any overseer of the poor of any township of this state for the relief and in behalf of any poor child or children under twelve years of age; in accordance with section thirty-one of the act to which this is a supplement as now amended, it shall be lawful for a majority of the judges of the court of common pleas of the several counties where children's homes may be located to make an order committing such child or children to the care and control of the trustees or managers of any such duly incorporated children's homes, subject to the approval of such trustees or managers, and shall keep a record of the date of such commitment, the name and age of the child committed as nearly as can be ascertained; and the report same to the board of chosen freeholders of the said county who are hereby authorized and empowered to pay out of the funds belonging to said county, to the trustees or managers of such homes as have received the child or children so committed to them, a sum not exceeding one dollar and fifty cents a week for each and every child during their continuance in such home, as and for the board, maintainance and education of such child until it attains the age of fifteen years, and the county collector of said county is hereby authorized to pay the same upon an order drawn upon him for that purpose; and the said trustees or managers of such homes shall make an annual report to the said board of freeholders, giving the dates of all commitments made to them, the names and ages of all children so committed, and the places from which they were committed as nearly as can be ascertained, and the amount of moneys received by them each year for their support, so that said freeholders shall at all times be correctly informed as to the faithful disposition of the moneys appropriated by them for that purpose, provided that the provisions of this act shall not apply to counties in which there is a city of over twenty thousand inhabitants.

2 And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediatly.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER XCVIII.

An act concerning cities.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for the board of aldermen or common council or city council of any incorporated city of this state, to determine and fix the amount of salary or compensation which shall be paid to the comptroller of any city; provided, that this act shall apply only to cities having by the census of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, a population exceeding fifty thousand, and less than one hundred thousand inhabitants, in which the salary of the comptroller shall not exceed the sum of three thousand dollars per annum, and to cities having by the same census a population exceeding twenty-five thousand and less than fifty thousand inhabitants, in which the salary of the comptroller shall not exceed the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and to cities of less than twenty-five thousand inhabitants, in which the salary shall not exceed the sum of two thousand dollars per annum; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be construed or held to permit any increase in the salary of the comptroller in any city of this state, beyond that paid for the year eighteen hundred and seventy-eight.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the comptroller to give the board of aldermen or common council or city council a statement in detail of the financial condition of said cities at least once in each year, and oftener if required, by said board of aldermen or common council or city council, or on written application of one fourth of the members thereof.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately, and all acts and parts of acts repugnant to the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER XCIX.

An act for the appointment of a special tax commission.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the governor of this state, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, shall appoint a special tax commission for the purpose of investigating the subject of taxation in this state and the laws relating thereto, and advising such changes and improvements therein as to them shall seem most likely to promote the agricultural, commercial, manufacturing and other interests of the people of the state, and the governor of the state is hereby authorized and empowered to fill all vacancies which may occur in said commission.

2. And be it enacted, That the said commission shall make a full and thorough investigation of the manner in which the different kinds of property and the various industries and occupations of the people of the state are affected by existing laws relating to taxation, together with any defects, discrepancies or inequalities in such laws and shall report to the legislature at its next session; submitting with such report, if they shall deem it advisable, the provisions of a general tax law.

3. And be it enacted, That the members of said commission shall receive compensation for their services at the rate of five dollars each, per diem, for the time actually and necessarily employed in performing the duties prescribed in the foregoing sections together with their traveling and hotel expenses actually and necessarily incurred; provided, that the time for which compensation shall be allowed to any member shall not in any case exceed fifty days; and that a clerk may be employed by the commission at a compensation not to exceed two and a half dollars per diem, and for a period not to exceed sixty days.

4. And be it enacted, That the treasurer of the state is hereby authorized and directed to pay, on the warrant of the comptroller, the expenses incurred under the provisions of this act, and properly certified by the chairman of the commission, including the necessary cost of postage, stationery and printing, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CII.

An act concerning cities.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the common council or board of aldermen of any city of this state, shall have power to make, establish, publish, modify, amend or repeal ordinances, rules, regulations and bylaws for the following purposes:

I. To license and regulate cartmen, porters, hack, cab, omnibus, milk wagon, stage and truck owners and drivers, carriages and vehicles used for the transportation of passengers and merchandise, goods or chattels of any kind, auctioneers, common criers, hawkers, pedlers, hucksters, pawn-brokers, sweeps and scavengers, and to prohibit unlicensed persons from acting in such capacities, and to fix the rates of compensation to be allowed to them, and to fix the sums to be paid for such licenses to the city treasurer of any such city;

II. To regulate weights and measures in conformity with the standard of weights and measures established by law, and to require every merchant, retailer, trader and dealer in merchandise or property of any description which is sold by measure or weight, to cause their weights and measures to be sealed by the city sealer, and to be subject to his inspection; and to enforce the observance of all such ordinances and by-laws, by enacting penalties for the violation thereof, either by imprisonment in the county jail or city prison, not exceeding ten days, or by fine not exceeding twenty-five dollars, recoverable with costs in an action of debt in the name of the treasurer of such city, before the mayor or other magistrates thereof, for the use of the said city, and it shall be lawful for the mayor or other magistrate of any said city before whom any such judgment of imprisonment may be given, to carry such judgment into effect by warrant of commitment under his hand and seal directed to the keeper of the county jail or city prison.

2. And be it enacted, That the common council or board of aldermen of any city of this state may hereafter annually appoint, by a majority of the votes of all its members, a sealer of weights and measures for said city, who shall hold his office for one year, unless sooner removed, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, and who shall possess the powers and be subject to the obligations conferred and imposed on him by law or by the ordinances, by-laws, rules and regulations of the common council or board of aldermen of such city, and on application for that purpose the superintendent of weights and measures of this state, shall allow and assist any such sealer of weights and measures to compare and adjust the standard of weights and measures for said city, and shall certify and seal the same in the manner required by law; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall in any way effect any like powers heretofore granted to the common council or board of aldermen of any city of this state.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall be a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER XCVII.

A supplement to the act entitled "An act concerning inns and taverns," approved April seventeenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That hereafter, in all incorporated cities having a population of not less than four thousand, and not exceeding a population of six thousand, and in towns having a population less than one thousand, in counties of this state, such counties having a population of not less than thirty seven thousand, and not exceeding forty thousand, by the census of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, the license to keep inns and taverns, ale or beer saloons, shall be granted by the inferior court of common pleas of the county wherein such city and towns is located, and the money received for all such licenses shall be paid over, by the collector of such county, to the treasurer, collector or other proper financial officer of the city and towns in which such license shall be granted.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately, and that all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved March 13, 1879.

CHAPTER CV.

An act to provide for the establishment of schools for industrial education.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the state board of education may, in their discretion, establish schools for industrial education, upon the application of not less than ten citizens of this state, who shall agree to pay a suitable part of the expense of maintaining any such schools; and the said board of education shall have power to prescribe and cause to be enforced all rules and regulations necessary for carrying into effect the provisions of this act.

2. And be it enacted, That such schools, when organized, shall be for the training and education of pupils in any industrial pursuits now established in this state, including agriculture, so as to enable them to perfect themselves in the several branches of industry which require technical instruction.

3. And be it enacted, That there shall be a board of trustees of each of such schools, to consist of five members, who shall have control of the buildings and grounds owned or used by such schools, the application of the funds for the support thereof, the regulation of the tuition fees, the appointment of teachers, and the power of removing the same, the power to prescribe the studies and exercises of the school, and rules for its management, to grant certificates of graduation, to appoint some suitable person treasurer of the board, and to frame and modify at pleasure such by-laws as they may deem necessary for their own government; they shall report annually to the state board of education their own doings, and the progress and condition of the schools.

4. And be it enacted, That the said trustees shall consist of the governor, ex officio, who shall be president of the board, two persons to be selected by the state board of education, one selected by the citizens contributing, and one to be appointed by the common council or township committee of the locality where such school is established.

5. And be it enacted, That the said trustees shall receive no compensation for their services, but the expenses necessarily incurred by them in the discharge of their duties shall be paid upon the approval of the governor.

6. And be it enacted, That any city, town, township or county, shall have the power to appropriate for the support of any such school such amount as they may deem expedient and just.

7. And be it enacted, That the said school shall be supported, (1) by the amount received from tuition fees; (2) by the money contributed by the petitioning citizens; (3) by the amount appropriated by the city, town, township or county; and (4) by the amount contributed by the state board of education; provided, however, that the sum annually contributed by the said board shall not exceed the sum of one thousand dollars, nor shall any one school receive more than five hundred dollars of said amount, and the treasurer is hereby authorized to pay, upon the warrant of the comptroller, approved by the governor, such sum not exceeding the amount above specified, as may be called for by the trustees.

8. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

There are about 250,000 Indians in the United States and Alaska, and of that number more than half wear clothes like white men.

Three hundred quarts of strawberries from Florida arrived at New York city, by steamer, from Charleston, S. C., on Tuesday, and were sold at from $1 to $1.25 a quart.

According to a census just taken, the city of Genoa has 134,000 inhabitants, indicating a slow but steady increase in the population since the beginning of the present century.

The Nationals who expected to hold the balance of power in the House of Representatives and compel the Democrats to divide the spoils with them, found themselves "nowhere" when the votes were counted and now they are being ground to pieces between the upper and nether millstones of Democracy and Republicanism. The Nationals, Greenbackers, Labor Reformers, or whatever they may be called, mustered just 14 votes when the Speakership contest was fought, but one aged patriot, Wright, of Pennsylvania, who failed them in the supreme hour of their defeat by voting for Randall, properly belongs to their side of the House, so that their number is really 15, as follows: Barlow, Vermont; Delamatyr, Indiana; Ford, Missouri; Forsythe, Illinois; Gillette, Iowa; Jones, Texas; Kelley, Pennsylvania; Ladd, Maine; Russell, North Carolina; Stevenson, Illinois; Weaver, Iowa; Wright, Pennsylvania; Yocum, Pennsylvania. Of these, eight were formerly Republicans and seven used to train with the Democrats. That the Nationals were completely baffled in their plans may be shown by their manœuvres on Wednesday of last week, when a test vote was taken on the Florida contested case of Hull and Bisbee, the former holding the Governor's certificate, the latter holding a document from the Supreme Court of the State. The Democrats voted for Hull solidly and gave him 141 votes while the Nationals joined hands with the Republicans and together they counted 136, so that counting Hull, the Democrats have 142, the Republicans 121, and the Nationals 15. There is a vacancy by death in New York and four members are yet to be chosen in California, three of whom will probably be Democrats and the New York District is also naturally Democratic. Consequently, the Democrats are safely intrenched in the lower House as well as in the Senate against all opposition.—Hunterdon Co. Democrat.

The last Legislature passed a law requiring every county in the State to furnish a work house for its prisoners. This is a just law, as there is no reason why prisoners should not be set to work and help maintain themselves as far as possible. The County Jail as it now exists has no terrors for the criminal, and the tramp seeks it as an asylum of ease and comfort. By all means let them be set to work sawing wood and breaking stone and their numbers will soon be diminished.

The Southern Express Company refuses from this date until December 1 next, to receive for transportation bodies of persons who died of yellow fever in 1878.

During February there were shipped from the port of Jacksonville, Fla., 2,877,413 feet of lumber, 2,055,000 going to domestic and 818,413 to foreign ports.

The Methodist Protestant Church, recently reunited, has 44 annual conferences, 1,200 itinerant ministers, and 130,000 members. The value of the church property of the denomination is $3,000,000.

The statistics of the Baltimore Conference for the past year shows 4,960 members on probation; 32,025 full members; 36,985 lay members; 176 local preachers; 368 Sunday schools and 36,956 Sunday school scholars.

Smalley's Defiance Asparagus.

NEW VARIETY.

The merits and claims of the "Defiance" are as follows: It is earlier, a larger grass, softer, more tender, free from wood, the flavor sweet and very delicate, far superior to all other varieties: It will produce double that of the "Colossal" and can cut it longer. It will continue to grow longer than any other sorts. It has been tested for the past three years. I know my roots and seeds to be strictly pure, as I am the sole originator of it; shall not put any seed in the market this year, as I intend planting it myself. It is the best Asparagus grown, either for private use or for market. We would recommend it in preference to all others. Price $3 per 100, and $20 per 1000. No charge for boxes or packing.—Purchasers pay their express. Orders must be accompanied by a remittance, or satisfactory reference. Will be sent by express C. O. D.

ABRAHAM SMALLEY, Bound Brook, N. J.

We, the undersigned, have tested the above variety of Asparagus, and unhesitatingly recommend it as all that is claimed for it. In fact, it is a marvel in the shape of this delicious vegetable: Hon. Alrah A. Clark, John H. VanDuyn, John V. Babcock, Geo. W. Rockafellow, John F. Steele, States P. Randolph, John Herbert, Jr., Peter Van Dripe, W. S. Stevens, A. L. Force, I. N. Brokaw, S. H. Brokaw, C. E. A. McGeachy, Alex. Marsing, James M. Dunn, A. C. Mollison.

CAUTION!

The undersigned would caution the public against using or sinking driven wells under Nelson W. Green's patent, unless the same are put down by him, as all parties using the same otherwise put down, or sinking such wells will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, he having the exclusive right to sink driven wells in Plainfield. The following is a decision recently rendered by Judge Benedict, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Wm. D. Andrews, owner of a patent granted to Col. Nelson W. Green, for a driven well, sued Theo. A. Carman some time ago to restrain him from the use of the patent in the manufacture of a similar well. The testimony filled over one thousand pages and counsel were over two weeks in summing before Judge Benedict in Brooklyn. The patent is worth a million dollars. The well is an air-tight iron tube, driven into the ground until it reaches water-bearing stratum. An air pump is screwed on the top of the tube, and the other end is of steel, made sharp and perforated. Many thousands of the wells are in use. Carman is accused of using a similar well. Counsel for the defence contended that the patent was merely a new plan of more easily reaching the water bearing strata, and could not be held patentable. Judge Benedict held that the idea of forcing water from the earth into a well pit by artificial means was new, but was not patentable, but that the method by which the idea is made available was patentable. He decided that the infringement had been clearly proved.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, March 21st, 1879.

Mary L. Hotchkiss, Administratrix of Horace Hotchkiss, deceased.

On application of the above named Administratrix, it is ordered that said Administratrix give Public Notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in The Constitutionalist for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administratrix.

JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County Surrogate's Office, February 8th, 1879.

Maria Fisher, Administratrix of Jeremiah Fisher, deceased.

On application of the above named Administratrix it is ordered that said Administratrix give public notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in The Constitutionalist for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administratrix.

By JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

In Chancery of New Jersey.

To Kate E. Fuller:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day and date hereof, in a cause wherein Samuel K. Kline, acting Executor of Stacy B. Barcroft, deceased, is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear and plead, answer or demur, to the bill of said complainants, on or before the fifth day of May next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a certain mortgage given by Moses Rittenhouse and Rebecca L., his wife, to said Samuel K. Kline, acting Executor as aforesaid, on lands in the City of Plainfield, dated December 30th, 1876, and you, Kate E. Fuller, are made defendant because you hold encumbrances on said lands.

Dated March 4, A. D. 1879.

ALEXANDER B. BUTTS,
Complainant's Solicitor,
Plainfield, N. J.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County Surrogate's Office, February 26th, 1879.

Sarah A. Manning, Executrix of Abel R. Manning, deceased.

On application of the above named Executrix, it is ordered that said Executrix give public notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in The Constitutionalist for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Executrix.

By JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

Notice of Assignment.

Notice is hereby given that Charles E. Gasse, of the city of Plainfield, Union County, New Jersey, hath this day made an assignment to the subscriber of his estate, for the equal benefit of his creditors, and that the said creditors must exhibit their respective claims, under oath or affirmation, within the term of three months.

WILLIAM TAYLOR.

Dated March 1, 1879.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—between Ayers Codington, et al., complainant, and Sarah P. Wilson, et al., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-THIRD DAY OF APRIL, A. D., 1879,

At two o'clock, p. m., of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises situate, lying and being in the City of Plainfield, in the county of Union, and State of New Jersey:

Beginning at a point on the westerly side of Franklin Place said point being distant one hundred and fifty (150) feet along the said westerly side of Franklin Place, from the northerly side of Broadway; thence running along said westerly side of Franklin Place fifty (50) feet to a point; thence westerly and parallel with Broadway one hundred and fifty (150) feet to a point and corner to Edw. B. Edgar's line; thence southerly along said Edw. B. Edgar's line and parallel with Franklin Place fifty (50) feet; and thence easterly and parallel with Broadway one hundred and fifty feet to a point in said westerly side of Franklin Place, and place of beginning.

Being known as parts of lots 7 and 8 in plot J, as laid down on a certain map made by D. D. Rogers, C. E. and Sur., and entitled map of villa sites, and building lots in the city of Plainfield, N. J.—map dated October 14, 1873, and filed in Clerk's office for Union county at Elizabeth, N. J.

Being the same premises conveyed to Sarah P. Wilson, by deed of Joseph T. Vail and wife dated January 6th, 1877.

SETH B. RYDER, Sheriff.

CHAPTER LXXI.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning townships and township officers," approved April twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section five of the act to which this is a supplement, and which reads as follows:

"5. And be it enacted, That whenever it is deemed expedient to issue town or township bonds for any lawful purpose, such bonds shall be issued by such committee, and shall be signed by the chairman thereof and countersigned by the treasurer, and numbered and registered by him in a book to be kept for that purpose; provided, however, that before any such bonds shall be made or issued, the following conditions shall have been complied with and observed: a petition requesting the said committee to issue such bonds, specifying the amount to be issued and the purpose for which they are to be used, shall be presented to the said committee signed by taxpayers of said town or township, (not including such persons as pay a poll tax only) representing a majority in number and amount of the taxpayers, as aforesaid, and taxable property of said town or township, which petition shall be verified by the oath of the assessor of the said town or township that it is so signed; and before the issuing of the bonds as hereinafter provided, said petition and affidavits shall be recorded by the town clerk and filed in the office of the county clerk, and such petition and affidavits, or a certified thereof, shall be competent evidence of the facts therein set forth, in any court of this state; the said committee shall, on receiving such petition, cause a resolution to issue such bonds to be submitted to the legal voters for such town or township, by causing such resolution to be written or printed, on ballot, underneath which shall be written or printed the words 'for the above resolution,' or 'against the above resolution,' which vote may be taken either at the annual town meeting, or at a special town meeting to be called by the said committee for that purpose," shall be amended so as to read as follows:

5. And be it enacted, That whenever it is deemed expedient to issue town or township bonds for any lawful purpose, such bonds shall be issued by such committee or common council of any incorporated town or borough and shall be signed by the chairman thereof and countersigned by the treasurer and numbered and registered by him in a book to be kept for that purpose; provided, however, that before any such bonds shall be made or issued, the following conditions shall have been complied with and observed: a petition requesting the said committee to issue bonds, specifying the amount to be issued and the purpose for which they are to be used, shall be presented to the said committee, signed by taxpayers of the said town or township, (not including such persons as pay a poll tax only) representing not less than one third in number of the taxpayers of the said town or township; provided, however, that said one third in number of said taxpayers shall represent a majority in amount of the [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

POST-OFFICE RULES.

By recent decisions of the Government Post Office Department, the rules with reference to mailable matter, have been made very clear, and the following which is a summary of them, is given for the benefit of the public:

Pocket knives and scissors are unmailable.

It is the duty of a mail carrier to receive mail matter properly prepaid and enclosed in United States stamped envelopes, when one mile or more from a Post Office.

A mark calling attention to some particular paragraph in a newspaper does not subject it to additional postage.

Crayon drawings are subject to letter rates of postage, the same as any other matter produced by pen or pencil.

The postal laws prohibit the exchange of postage stamps of one denomination for those of other denominations.

Some part of a publication must be printed in the county wherein the claimed office of publication is located, to enable the same to be sent free to subscribers residing in said county.

There is no law excluding postal cards from the mails because of notices of indebtedness being printed or written thereon, but no indecent language, terms or epithets will be allowed in such notice.

All letters having one full rate pre-paid must be forwarded. Second and third class matter must be fully pre-paid.

The postal law forbids the renting of boxes in Post Offices to two families or firms.

A printed business card may be mailed at third class rates, provided it has no writing upon it other than the address.

Regular newspapers cannot be admitted to the mails at pound rates when a hand-bill or circular is enclosed.

The department rules that no Post Office shall be kept in a bar room or a room directly connected therewith, nor must any mail be opened or delivered in any such room.

Letters passing through the mails cannot be opened by any officers of the law for the purpose of detecting criminals.

The Post Office Department is not responsible for matter lost in the mails.

A STORY OF A TRAIL.

She was a tall, stout individual, and sprang out of the wagon as lightly as a spring chicken after a grass-hopper. He was a little, withered, dried up weasel, and followed slowly, bringing a basket of eggs with him. They entered one of our stores and she asked:

"What are you given' for eggs?"

"Eight cents," was the reply of the counter jumper.

"Well here are three dozen," said the fat party, "and I'll take it out in calico."

"But I want some yarn to mend up my socks," put in the old man.

"The weather is warm," replied the fat party, and you can go without socks.

"But my boots hurt my feet," insisted the old man.

"Go barefooted," said she rather sharply. Then, turning to the clerk, she changed her tone, and remarked: "Young man, please count out the eggs and give me four yards of calico to match this 'ere dress."

"But—" the old man was going to continue, when she raised her huge index finger and said: "Henry Winter Davis Spriggins, them 'ere eggs are mine; the hens what laid 'em are mine; the corn what fed 'em was mine, and I'm going to have a trail on this are dress as long as Betsy Gowen's, if every toe on your foot turns into gum-biles. Now, shut! An' you, youngster yank off four yards of that 'ere calico, or you will hear a bumble bee a buzzin."

The old man shut, and the clerk yanked off the calico.

A TOUCHING INCIDENT.

A lady in the street met a little girl between two and three years old, evidently lost, and crying bitterly. The lady took the baby's hand and asked where she was going.

"Down town, to find my papa," was the sobbing reply.

"What is your papa's name?" asked the lady.

"His name is papa."

"But what is his other name?" "What does your mamma call him?"

"She calls him papa," persisted the little creature.

The lady then tried to lead her along, saying: "You had better come with me. I guess you came from this way."

"Yes; but I don't want to go back. I want to find my papa," replied the little girl, crying afresh as if her heart would break.

"What do you want of your papa?" asked the lady.

"I want to kiss him."

Just at that time a sister of the child, who had been searching for her, came along and took possession of the little runaway. From inquiry it appeared that the little one's papa, whom she was so earnestly seeking, had recently died, and she, tired of waiting for him to come home, had gone out to find him.

Love levels all ranks, but it can't kill the rank smell of Limburger cheese.

Only men with iron constitutions will be able to serve as jurymen when women try the cases.

New French flowers are represented to be as large as life and about five hundred times as natural.

The first impulse of a young married man on being presented with his first baby, is to give it a-weigh.

Very large flowers are used in millinery this spring, a single rose in many cases forming the crown of a bonnet.

To go to Texas an actor need not be very talented, but he should be mighty quick on the trigger.

"Why not lay up something for a rainy day?" asks an exchange. Because we don't want any rainy day.

The Norristown Herald says that Cetywayo's nose is as flat as English humor and his mouth as broad as a Western joke.

It makes one grin to think of the "majesty of the law" when he sees a man beg a chew of tobacco from a Justice of the Peace.

An exchange asks the question: "How far can a hound run?" That depends something on the size of the can, and the way in which it is fastened on.

Prof. Malone, the brass and string bandit, was interviewed this morning by a man who wanted a situation in the band. "What can you play?" asked the professor. "Well I ain't much for fiddlin'; but, if you want wind stuffed into a cornet, or wind belted out of a bass drum, I'm your oyster." He was engaged.

The Tennessee Legislature has extended the time for the payment of taxes, and old Uncle Pete, in ignorance of the fact, went to Murfreesboro the other day to pay his poll tax. But on learning of the extension he declined to pay it: "Goes, a'goin' I was to die afore de Fall comes, don't you see I'd make a dollar, sir, hey?"

THE PRESIDENCY.

Some of the Republican journals are trying to make it appear that their partisans throughout the United States are clamorous for the third-term Presidential nomination of General Grant.

No doubt many Republicans of the Chandler-Robeson-Cameron stripe, who glory in sectional animosity, and long to reinstate the administrative corruption and reckless jobbery incident to the past eight years of Grantism, would jostle the universe, if they could, to have him again President, but, an immense number of other Republicans, thinking and honest members of the party, and valuing national unity and official integrity of far greater worth than political power and plunder, do not and will not sanction any third-term project. They well know what it means.

The proposition to again make Grant a candidate certainly savors of weakness and decay in the Republican party. Has that once proud organization, whose boasted strength and ability a little while ago formed the staple of editorial and oratorical effort all over the land, descended so low that not a single statesman can be found within its ranks fitted to wear Presidential honors? Shades of Lincoln and Sumner, how have the mighty fallen!

The Democratic party occupies a nobler position before the country. Its banner floats upward and onward. It has many statesmen, sound and proven, from whom a President can be selected. Tilden, Hendricks, Bayard, McClellan, Thurman and Randall, each and all come up to the Jeffersonian standard of excellence, and it is more than likely that one of these eminent gentlemen will be commissioned by the people to take charge of the White House, March 4th, 1881.

For President,
The nominee of the Democratic National Convention.

WATCH THE MONEY.

The determined spirit now evinced by the people that strict fidelity must be the governing rule of all men holding positions of official trust, and that condign punishment shall be meeted out to every such individual proven guilty of dishonest action or culpable negligence, is working a healthy and timely reformation.

The losses sustained by private investors, and by the payers of public taxes, in consequence of either positive rascality or gross neglect of duty on the part of those employed to handle the money and guard the interests of others, have aggregated during the past few years an enormous sum, and it is quite time the leakage was stopped.

It is to be hoped that the people will not falter in requiring the expenditure of every dollar raised by taxation to be made public in the clearest and most detailed form possible, and that shareholders in financial institutions, of every description, will insist upon like information. It has become a matter of absolute necessity.

If funds have been expended legally and prudently, all right, but, if otherwise, let the wrong be sternly and swiftly answered for, no matter who the culprit is. The people are justly aroused to the importance of greater scrutiny and surer penalty. The day for plundering and covering up tracks has passed by. Honesty is now the watchword, and any official or body of officials, be they great or small, public or private, who fail to respond in that particular, must suffer not only the condemnation of popular opinion, but the consequences of offended law.

Watch the money!

DOWN WITH MONOPOLIES.

There is a wide-spread and increasing evil in this country which should be met by public opposition and effectually put down, and that is the consolidation of financial power for the purposes of monopoly. It can be seen on all sides and in various shapes, and its effects upon the general public good are extremely pernicious.

Monopoly is cupidity of the worst grade, and cupidity rejects nothing to gain its ends. It willingly corrupts legislation, bribes, brow-beats and falsifies, and debars the honest masses from freely enjoying the rightful fruits of enterprise and labor.

We do not speak against the legitimate use of capital, as that is essential and beneficial, but we do contend that each and every individual citizen of small or moderate means has the same right and should be protected, in the equal opportunity of using his few hundreds or thousands as they who wield combined millions.

It is the small and prosperous capitalists who makes times good and a country substantially rich. They never create financial panics to rob industry of its reward and integrity of its character.

Bloated monsters live to destroy.

Down with monopolies!

Unless the courts interfere the Democrats of Rahway are likely to loose a portion of the benefits of their well earned victory of Tuesday of last week. The Republican Common Council met on Monday as a board of canvassers and declared Tier (Rep.) elected to the Common Council from the second ward, over Melick (Dem.), by two majority. This was done in the face of a strong protest by members of both parties. After the first count on Tuesday night, the vote for Councilman was declared to be a tie. A second count gave Melick one majority, and it was so announced by the Judge and Inspectors, a majority of whom were Republicans. On the following morning the Republicans demanded a third count, and gave Tier two majority. This was done by counting one more vote than (according to the tally-sheet) had been cast, and by counting for Tier one illegible vote which had been previously counted as blank. The Democrats have employed counsel, and will carry the matter into court. Elizabeth Herald.

PUBLIC LAWS FOR CITIES.

The Commission on General Laws for Municipalities held an important meeting on Saturday. Having for some time past considered the various questions which arise in the study of the subject committed to them, they have determined to visit various portions of the State, for the purpose of securing the views of citizens in regard to the subject generally. They have formulated the following queries, which will be addressed to the public and to prominent men throughout the State:

1. The general subject of legislation necessary or proper in respect to counties.
2. The general subject of legislation necessary or proper in respect to townships, including boroughs and incorporated towns.
3. The general subject of legislation necessary or proper in respect to cities.
4. The expediency of passing a general law adapted to municipalities, leaving to each the option of making use of the whole or portions of the powers granted, or of passing different laws adapted to different classes of municipalities.
5. The best mode of limiting expenditures for municipal purposes within proper bounds, and of securing a proper acountability on the part of all officials.
6. The expediency of prohibiting municipalities from incurring debts or obligations not immediately provided for by tax.
7. The best mode of dealing with the existing debts of municipalities.

The propriety of providing for the payment of existing debts by establishing a Sinking Fund under the control of the State.

The propriety of creating a State Commission for the adjustment of debts between defaulting cities and their creditors.

8. The propriety of prohibiting assessments for improvements based on the special benefit derived therefrom.

If the system of assessments special benefits be considered desirable, how to provide for the payment of the expenses of improvments, and the collection of assessments.

9. The best mode of providing for the collection of taxes within municipalities.
10. The best mode of providing for the control of public schools within municipalities.
11. The proper extent of municipal regulations respecting matters of public health.

The Commission will meet at the City Hall, Jersey City, on Saturday morning next, at 10:30 o'clock, for the purpose of receiving suggestions from citizens of that locality.

NEW JERSEY AND THE COMMITTEES.

Speaker Randall has named his Standing Committees, as it was supposed he would. New Jersey comes off as follows: Mr. Ross on Commerce, and Chairman of Militia; Mr. Clark on Post Offices and Post Roads, and on District of Columbia; Bingham on Public Expenditures; Voorhis on Private Land Claims; Smith on Manufactures, and Patents; Robeson on Foreign Affairs, and on Ventilation of Hall of the House; Blake on Railways and Canals, and Expenditures of Post Office Department. New Jersey has the chairmanship of one Committee, as will be seen, and that is on Militia—Mr. Ross of our own District being at its head.

The beautiful festival of Easter, which is growing into more general and more affectionate observance every year, was celebrated in New York with great splendor. The musical services in most of the Roman Catholic and Episcopal churches were very elaborate, and the decorations of flowers, which belong to this anniversary above all others, by association and exquisite fitness as well as by the order of nature, were in many cases exceedingly beautiful.

The result of the Jersey City charter election as finally ascertained, is a Democratic Board of Aldermen, a tie in the Police and Fire Boards, Democratic Boards of works and Education, and a tie in the Board of Freeholders, which, however, has a Democratic Director. In some parts of the city the republicans met with unexpected success, in consequence, the Argus intimates, of Democrats staying away from the polls because of nominations forced by factions.

It appears from the outgivings of the Grant papers that arrangements are to be made to get up a big show when Grant shall return. It is a part of the scheme to work up enthusiasm. There is to be, it appears, a monster excursion party from Washington and other parts about the 1st of August to receive and welcome General Grant on his return. The chronicler becomes poetic over this, and speaks of the return from the "Orient." It is said there will be from 50,000 to 75,000 excursionists, and that they will require from 100 to 125 trains of ten cars each on the Pacific Railroad. An effort will be made to secure reduced rates of fare for this army of office-seekers before public announcement is made of the programme. The Republican managers of this grand political demonstration beat Barnum all hollow in the show business.

Mr. Geo. W. Halsted, the last of the famous Halstead brothers of Newark, died at Mt. Holly on Sunday, of pneumonia, aged eighty-one years. Two years ago the eldest brother, ex-Chancellor Halstead, died at Elizabeth, aged eighty-five. Last year ex-Congressman Halsted died at Trenton, aged eighty-three years.

"The Senate is rebel once more," sings the Radical choir. That is to say, the Union is restored, and the South assumes its Constitutional right to be represented in Congress. The war was fought to keep the South in, and the Republican organs appear to be angry because the effort was a success.

Governor McClellan has signed Senate bill No. 200, "An act respecting the compensation of the Chancellor and Justices of the Supreme Court of this State." The last bill is the Governor's hands for action.

GLEANINGS.

B. A. Spencer, Democrat, was elected Mayor of Passaic Tuesday by a majority of 46.

W. D. Rose, of Linden, has been promoted from midshipman to ensign in the navy.

Hon. Wm. P. McMichael, of Bordentown, has been appointed Postmaster of the U. S. Senate for a term of three years.

In the charter election in Paterson on Tuesday, Joseph R. Graham, Democrat, was elected Mayor by 630 majority.

From every direction comes the announcement of Democratic victories in this spring elections. The people are awakening.

John Downs, switchman, of Somerville, N. J., was killed by a locomotive in the yard of the Central Railroad of New Jersey in Communipaw, on Tuesday.

Mr. Daniel F. Beatty, the famous dealer in organs and pianos, was elected by his fellow townsmen Mayor of Washington, N. J., on Monday last by a large majority.

Forty-three persons were killed and one hundred maimed and injured at crossings of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at Newark the past year.—Compare Plainfield with Newark.

Many Pennsylvania farmers have been victimized by traveling sharpers in this way. The sharper, pretending to be about to start in the poultry business, contracts to buy a large number of chickens, and pays $1 down as a bonus. He then writes a receipt in lead pencil, contriving to snap the point of the pencil off just as he is ready for the farmer to sign. Pulling a fountain pen from his pocket, he says: "Well, this won't break, anyhow," and the farmer's curiosity being raised, he eagerly seizes the fountain and scrawls his signature. The trickster then erases the pencil marks, writes a promissory note for a few hundred dollars and sells the note. One swindler is known to have pocketed $600 by the trick.

THE DEATH-RATE OF Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives lives in this way every winter, while had Boshee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a Doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine,

is eminently a Family Medicine; and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.

After over Forty Years trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent physicians commend it for all diseases of the Liver.

AS AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC
Opinion of the Clergy.

Simmons' Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure. [illegible] of our fellow beings are suffering from hepatic disorders and [illegible] doubts in relation to the efficacy of this popular preparation. We can only offer them the simple and candid argument of Philip to Nathaniel. "Come and see." Try the proposed remedy and then you can judge for yourselves.—Rev. TAKE
SIMMONS' LIVER
REGULATOR.

The Symptoms of liver complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side.—Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for Rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, Debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them, but the liver is generally the organ most involved.

German Church.
REV. H. VEITH, of Rome, N. Y., will hold service on Sunday 20th inst., at 3 P. M., at the "German Reformed Church," on Fifth Street, to which members and friends are cordially invited by THE CONSISTORY.

NOTICE.
The Trustees (Board of Education) School District No. 1, Plainfield, hereby give notice that they have by resolution agreed upon a sum of five-sixteenths of one per cent. of the total taxable valuation of the district, as necessary to be raised for the support of the public schools in said district during the ensuing year; and the Assessor and Collector of the City of Plainfield are hereby notified to assess and collect the same as required by law.

PATENTS.
Having been for ten years in different official positions in the War, Treasury and Interior Departments, Washington, D. C., which include the Adjutant General's, Pension, Second Auditor's, General Land and Patent Offices, and being in active practice before the Supreme Court, Washington, D. C., as Attorney and Counselor-at-Law just before taking up my residence in Plainfield, I have acquired such a familiarity with the laws, rulings and decisions therein as enables me to confidently secure all that I am prepared to procure patents and attend to every possible class of work before the different offices above mentioned, and the Supreme Court, Washington, D. C.

Arrears of Pay, Pension and Bounty.
And all other claims of Officers, Soldiers and Sailors and their heirs. I have recently taken up this branch in connection with my law practice, believing that there are hundreds of deserving persons in this section who are justly entitled to help on account disability contracted in line of duty, and only want some one to guide them and who would willingly forego all that the government would possibly pay them if they could be restored to the health and condition they enjoyed before entering its service.
Having served in the U. S. Army from the commencement until the close of the late war, I make no charge for this work where my comrades or his heirs are dependent.

Alexander B. Butts,
Counselor-at-Law,
PLAINFIELD, N. J.
Master in Chancery & Notary Public. fe21y1

A CARD.
I take this opportunity and method to thank my friends and the public in general for the very liberal patronage of the past, and to also inform them that I am still at the Old Stand, and have a large quantity of the very finest quality of Ice which I intend selling at Market Prices the coming Summer. I have taken my son in business with me, under the firm name of J. H. Tier & Son, and solicit for him and the new firm a share of the public patronage. Respectfully,

CAUTION!
The undersigned would caution the public against using or sinking driven wells under Nelson W. Green's patent, unless the same are put down by him, as all parties using the same therewith put down, or sinking such wells will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, he having the exclusive right to sink driven wells in Plainfield. The following is a decision recently rendered by Judge Benedict, of Brooklyn, N. Y.:
"Wm. D. Andrews, owner of a patent granted to Col. Nelson W. Green, for a driven well, sued Theo. A. Carman some time ago to restrain him from the use of the patent in the manufacture of a similar well. The testimony filled over one thousand pages and [illegible] over two [illegible]. [illegible] Judge Benedict in Brooklyn. The patent is worth a million dollars. The well is an air-tight iron tube, driven into the ground until it reaches water-bearing strata. An air pump is screwed on the top of the tube, and the other end is of steel, made sharp and perforated. Many thousands of the wells are in use. Carman [illegible] of using a similar well. Counsel for the defence contended that the patent was merely a new plan of [illegible] reaching the water bearing strata, and could not be held patentable. Judge Benedict held that the idea of forcing water from the earth into a well pit by artificial means was new, but was not patentable, but that the method by which the idea is made available was patentable. He decided that the infringement had been clearly proved."

WALLACE VAIL, P. M.

WEDNESDAY last was the first real Spring day of the season.

"A DUCK of a bonnet" is what they were called last Sunday.

PLAINFIELD rejoices in a resident named Abraham Lincoln. His occupation is a hatter.

PRESIDENT of Council, W. R. Potts, is one of the Committee appointed on "rapid transit."

THERE is talk of a branch railroad being constructed soon from Perth Amboy to Plainfield.

PARK avenue is being relieved of its surplus coating of mud by Street Commissioner Angleman.

DAN HETFIELD has some settings of eggs of imported breed of fowls, which he sells low. Read his advertisement.

Now is the time to set out your hedges. 20,000 Arbor Vitæ and Norway Spruce for sale very cheap by Wm. Brower.

"SWAPPING DIPHTHERIA," is what they call it now, when spoony lovers hang over the gate on a moonlight night.

THE City National Bank is meeting with success in the sale of the four per cent. $10 certificates. They are a good investment.

REV. Mr. Bradford of Montclair, will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational Church next Sunday morning and evening.

STREET Commissioner Angleman has caused the large stones to be picked off West Second Street, which has recently been repaired.

MRS. CORWIN, Front Street, opposite Redford's building, calls the attention of our readers to her stock of Spring Millinery, Notions, &c.

MR. John Rafferty has taken up and cleaned out the driven well pipes at the Netherwood Hotel and stables and put both in thorough order.

ROCKFELLOW, the grocer, corner of Park and North avenues, was selling strawberries on Saturday last. The "Junior" extends thanks for a basket of them.

A YOUNG daughter of Mr. A. I. Smalley, aged about 17 months, one day last week caught its foot in the carpet and fell headlong, breaking one of its arms near the elbow.

ALFRED Vail, agent for Vail's Premium Liquid Blacking, is now traveling through Hunterdon County, meeting with fine success in the sale of this really meritorious article.

MEEHAN, the awning man, whose advertisement appears in another part of this paper, was in our city the past week, putting up several fine awnings for different merchants.

A NEATLY furnished and carpeted waiting room or office is one of the signs of Mr. Alex Runyon, the Undertaker's growing popularity. Office in Redford's building, Front Street.

BE careful of your small boys; their legs are perfect gold mines. A man has recovered $10,000 from the Richmond and Danville R. R. Co., for spoiling the leg of his small boy.

THE Mill property and homestead of the late Phineas Randolph, was not sold at public sale on Tuesday last. But one bid of $13,000 was received. The sale was indefinitely postponed.

MR. J. E. Walker of this city and John Scott, of New York, an old hotel proprietor, will open the Locust Grove Hotel on Long Island about May 1st, under the firm name of Scott & Walker.

WHITNEY, the Dry Goods merchant, opened in his new store, Van Deventer's building, on Monday last. He has elegant quarters and a fine stock of goods, with attentive and obliging clerks.

R. MAC DONALD, the grocer, has a novelty in front of his store on Front Street in the shape of an illuminated clock, which attracts the attention of passers-by in these nights of "non-partizan" light.

A. J. BLEEKER, auctioneer, will sell the Bonnell property on Seventh street, near Union avenue, at public auction, Wednesday, April 23d, by order of G. C. Bonnell, Executor. See adv. in another column.

ON account of the continued and unavoidable absence of Rev. Mr. Ketcham, the pastor of the 1st Pres. Church, the pulpit will be supplied by Dr. Vincent next Sabbath morning. A full house may be expected.

MESSRS. Shepherd, Johnson & Godown have received a contract to build an extension to the Netherwood Hotel Stables, 32 x 44 feet in dimension, which will provide for 18 extra stalls. They will commence on same next week.

ALL indications point to a lively business, and we take this opportunity of saying that he who keeps his business before the people will be the one to profit by it. Printer's ink is to business what oil is to hinges, it makes things more lively.

THE street lamp in front of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST office will hereafter be lighted each night at the expense of the proprietors of that institution in conjunction with brother Vanderbeek, until the spasmodic "economy" fever of our non-partizan Council is over.

THE Elizabeth Herald says, in commenting on the action of Council in suspending the lighting of the street lamps that "the new charter with which the city was recently blessed is the cause of the trouble, and now some of the citizens wish it had not been granted." Give us a rest, Mr. Herald, we haven't voted on that new charter yet. The 3d of June is the time set for that business.

A COMPLIMENTARY Concert will be given to Mr. E. J. Fitzhugh at the Brooklyn Academy of Music on Thursday evening, 24th inst. A large chorus of well trained singers from Mr. Fitzhugh's New York and Brooklyn Societies, assisted by a delegation from the Plainfield Vocal Society, will sing on the occasion and Madame Lasar, soprano, Miss Wilkinson, contralto, Herr Wilhemj, the celebrated violinist, S. B. Mills and Miss Laura Fiske, pianists will also appear. Seats can be secured through Mr. R. J. Shaw.

EFFORTS are being made to establish a line of Telephones in this city. Mr. Charles Schermerhorn, telegraph operator, has issued a circular in which he states that if fifty orders can be obtained it is the intention to run a series of lines to center at the Western Union Company's office at the depot, and then run these on the same principle as the Telephone Lines are managed in New York city, to connect friends' houses in the city, and in connection with this to establish a system of Messenger Service, &c. The maximum price per year for use of the same will be about $35.

WE have been shown this week some beautiful Heliotype reproductions of old engravings. Mr. C. H. Prescott of Boston, who is stopping at the "Mansion House," is agent in this vicinity for a work entitled "Beauties and Curiosities of Engraving," published by Messrs. Houghton, Osgood & Co., Boston, Mass. The engravings are reproduced perfectly from very rare originals, representing many of the master engravers from Albert Durer of the fifteenth century down to Raphael Morghen and others of the present century. Mr. Prescott will remain in town several weeks and will give the lovers of art a chance to examine the contents of his portfolio.

Spring is coming, a man saw a cow slip yesterday.—State Register. Yes, and another man saw a dandy lying by the sidewalk the other day.—Clinton Herald. And a small boy tied a pan see, to a dog's tail.—Marshall Times. Another boy saw a Johnny Jump-up from an icy road.—Mt. Pleasant Journal. And a small boy felt a lady's slipper this morning before he started to school.—Keokuk Constitution. And that same boy gathered a lot of snowballs on his way to school.—Wallingford Forum. New Hose Wanted.

It is a fact no longer to be disguised, that should a fire break out in the business portion of our city, there is a likelihood of its extending to a serious extent in consequence of the rotten condition of the hose in the Department. At the fire last Tuesday evening, the steamer at work was obliged to stop every few minutes to substitute fresh for bursted lengths of hose, and that too, with the steamer working with a very light pressure upon the hose, and a thoroughly competent engineer handling the apparatus. The Board of Fire Commissioners should at once attend to the matter.

Grand Opening

Geo. Andrews to-day opens his handsome new Dry Goods store on Front street, next to Voorhees' Drug store, with a fine assortment of goods. The ladies will bear the same in mind.

Robbery.

The clothing store of R. Dunham, at Bound Brook, was broken into on Tuesday night last, and robbed of clothing, piece goods, &c., amounting to considerable. Detectives are working up the case.

Arrival of the Martens,

Those harbingers of Spring, the Marten birds, arrived at their old quarters, the bird houses in front of Laing's Hotel, on Monday last, the 14th, driving the sparrows away and taking possession of their snug summer residences.

An Obstreperous Steer.

A steer belonging to Mr. Insley B. Gardner, escaped from that gentleman's slaughter pen on Saturday last, and made a bee line for the mountains. After several days search the animal was found near Succasunna, Morris County, and was shot.

Adjourned Sale.

The Assignee's sale of building lots on Somerset Street, property of Wallace Vail, was again adjourned on Wednesday last, there be no bidders. Next Saturday, at 5 o'clock, the lots will be put up and sold to the highest bidder if they only bring $1 apiece. Now is the time for a paying investment.

Sheriff's Sale.

The attention of capitalists is directed to the advertised sale by Sheriff Ryder, between Ayres Codington et al., complainants, and Sarah F. Wilson, et. al., defendants, which takes place on Wednesday, April 23d at 2 o'clock, p. m. The property is a fine one. See adv. in another column.

Cuckoo!!

That is what she kept uttering as Capt. Dodd tenderly led her toward his castle on Thursday evening, after Judge Good had interviewed her. She didn't like the Judge, and probably thinking that as he was so small she could "get away" with him, undertook the task, but the little Judge was too much for her, and as Charley led her toward her domicile for the evening, she tenderly clawed at him and murmured "cuckoo, cuckoo," to the great delight of the small boys who followed in her wake.

Didn't Our Mouths Water?

We were just shown by M. M. Thorn a fine specimen of Brook Trout, weight 2½ lbs., direct from the Adirondacks. It was one from a package sent to our worthy citizen, Mr. Carmon Parse, who, with a few friends, was up in that region and a guest of Mr. C. Hathorn, who has for many years been a resident of the North Woods and is now proprietor of a house of entertainment for tourists on the Racquette Lake. Than this point there is no finer place for sportsmen in the great Northern Park.

Choice Stock.

At the auction sale of choice live stock, imported from Jersey and Guernsey, at Knapp's stables, New York city, on Tuesday last, Mr. John I. Holly, of Plainfield, was a purchaser of "Theresa," a Jersey, 2 years and 3 months old, color gray, bred by Francis Becquet, St. Peter's Parish, for $400; also Belle de Trodias, a 2 year old, for $500. Mr. Holly is the possessor of some of the finest bred stock in the country. His model farm is on the road leading to Metuchen, just off Park Avenue.

Serious Accident.

Mr. Theo. J. Pruden, of this city, went to Basking Ridge on Wednesday last, for the purpose of purchasing a horse from a man named Dillon. While trying him, the animal shied at a heap of lime along the road, and overturned the wagon. Mr. Pruden was thrown violently against the ground, breaking his left leg below the knee, and dislocating the same at the knee joint. The injured member was set by Dr. Pennington, of Baskingridge, and Mr. P. afterward brought to his home in this city, and placed under the charge of Drs. Burlingham and Hert.

Easter,

The Festival of the Resurrection of our Lord, or the Christian Passover, was celebrated last Sunday in the Catholic and Episcopal Churches of our city, with their usual floral decorations and fine music. The English name Easter and the German name Ostern, have been supposed by many learned and able writers to be derived from the name of the feast of the Teutonic Goddess, Ostera, (the Goddess of Spring) which was celebrated by the ancient Saxons in the Spring, and for which the early missionaries substituted the Christian Festival.

Cheap Transit.

In accordance with a resolution passed at the recent meeting on cheap transit, Mayor Yates, of Newark, has appointed the following gentlemen as a committee: Mayor H. J. Hopper, of Jersey City; Wm. Ryle (President Board of Trade), Paterson; Hon. Wm. Walter Phelps, Englewood; Hon. Amos Clark, Jr., Elizabeth; C. A. Runkle, (counsel for New York Tribune), New Providence; W. Rockhill Potts, Plainfield; John F. Babcock, New Brunswick; Alfred Speer, Passaic; Mayor Henry J. Yates, Newark; Wm. O. McDowell, Bloomfield.

A Good Move for Plainfield.

Messrs. C. Potter, Jr. & Co., the manufacturers of Printing Presses, and whose factory is now located at Rhode Island, contemplate erecting works in Plainfield for the manufacture of their justly celebrated presses. For that purpose they have purchased of the Central Railroad Land Improvement Company, a strip of land on South-avenue, east of Grant ave., lying along side of the railroad, on which they will at once commence the erection of three one story brick buildings, one as a foundry, 60 feet square, another as the machine shop, 60x234 feet and the wood-working building, 50x90 feet. When completed, the works will give employment to over 100 men.

The Vocal Society

Propose to close the season this year by giving a rather extraordinary entertainment and on a larger scale than Concerts are usually given in Plainfield. They announce a grand Combination Concert, which will include a fine orchestra, selected from the Brooklyn Philharmonic Society, piano, organ, three celebrated soloists, an eminent elocutionist, &c. The Society will be reinforced by a select chorus from the "St. Cecilia Society", of Brooklyn, and all will be under the direction of Mr. E. J. Fitzhugh, who is so favorably known as a musician of first rank. The programme will be bright and varied and will include Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Athalie," which will be rendered by the large chorus, assisted by full orchestra, organ soloists, elocutionist, &c. Further particulars will appear next week. The Concert will take place May 15th.

Look out for Burglars.

We learn that on Tuesday night last, one or more of these villains entered (by prying up a window on the front piazza) a dwelling situated on Front near Berckman street, and while collecting articles to be carried off, were alarmed by the barking of a dog in another apartment, when he or they fled without securing the expected booty, with the exception (as far as has been yet ascertained) of a solid silver soup ladle marked C. It was fortunate for them that they escaped when they did, for there were five men (members of the family) occupying the second and third story rooms with a sufficient number of loaded shot guns and revolvers, which would have been used without a moment's hesitation and without mercy to the invader. With our new unlighted street lamps we are more than ever exposed to raids by these midnight marauders, and it behooves our citizens to provide at once for the protection of their homes, a watch dog and suitable fire arms ready loaded to inflict upon the outlaws the penalty due to their crimes.

Union County Medical Society.

The 9th Annual Meeting of the Union County Medical Association was held in the Council Chamber, this city, on Wednesday, the 9th inst., after which a splendid collation was partaken of by the assembled members at the residence of the retiring President, Dr. H. D. Burlingham, of this city. The appointments for the ensuing year are as follows:

Pres't.—Dr. Stivers, of Rahway.
Vice Pres't.—Dr. Pettit, of Elizabeth.
Sec.—Dr. Stillman, Jr., of Plainfield.
Treas.—Dr. J. A. Coles, of Fanwood.
Reporter—Dr. M. B. Long, of Plainfield.

Sub Reporter—Elizabeth, Dr. Pettit; Rahway, Dr. Selover; Westfield, Dr. Harrison; Plainfield, Dr. Stillman, Jr.; Scotch Plains, Dr. Fithian; Cranford, Dr. McConnell; Dunellen, Dr. Endicott.

Standing Committee—Dr. L. W. Oakley, of Elizabeth; Dr. H. D. Burlingham, of Plainfield; Dr. H. H. James, of Rahway.

Delegates to State Medical Society—Dr. Stillman, Jr., of Plainfield; Dr. McLean, of Elizabeth; Dr. Probasco, of Plainfield; Dr. Selover, of Rahway; Dr. Green, of Elizabeth; Dr. Hart, of Plainfield; Dr. Coles, of Scotch Plains.

German Church.

Referring to the notice in another column of our to-day's issue, we observe with considerable pleasure the movement, which we understand began some time ago amongst our German fellow citizens for the re-establishment of religious service in their church on Fifth Street. A new consistory was elected in February, whose efforts to improve the condition of the congregation, to induce old members to re-join and to enlist new ones, have met with encouragement promising ultimate success for which they have our best wishes. It is particularly gratifying, that the Sunday School organized on the 23d of March, under the leadership of an able Superintendent, numbers already 64 scholars, and as many more will likely join, the present accommodations of the little church may soon prove too limited.

Personals.

The mother of ex-Councilman Morris is lying dangerously ill, at her home in Monmouth County.

Messrs. Daniel S. Burry and Charles Hedges started Saturday last on a trip through the South, to be absent until they come home. A dispatch to the elder Burry on Tuesday evening located the tourists at Savannah.

Our young friend W. T. Banks, concluding it is not well to live always alone, has taken unto himself a bonnie bride in the person of Miss Ella Dunn, daughter of Peter Dunn, Esq. We extend our congratulations to the newly wedded pair.

R. P. Baldwin, Esq., General Passenger Agent of the Central Railroad, has arrived home from his European trip.

Church Officer Election.

Last Monday evening the annual election of officers of Grace Church for the ensuing year resulted as follows:

Wardens.—John B. Dumont, W. R. Lowe.

Vestrymen.—S. Huntington, A. Pettibone, T. H. Pittis, G. Meyer, E. L. Finch, E. N. Erickson, C. Tweedy.

Delegates to Convention.—John B. Dumont, T. S. Huntington, W. E. Lowe.

Alternates.—E. L. Finch, T. H. Pittis, [illegible] Pettibone.

Delegate to Convention.—T. H. Pittis.

At the parish meeting of the Church of the Holy Cross on Tuesday evening the annual election resulted as follows:

Wardens.—James Mitchell, W. R. Potts.

Vestrymen.—Charles Graves, Eli Long, Chas. Gill, F. S. Brown, Jas. Lyon, H. E. Harris, J. E. Turrill.

Delegates to Convention.—Mason W. Tyler, E. T. Oissin, W. J. Leonard. Alternates.—Eli Long, Jas. Lyon, J. E. Turrill.

Delegate to Convention.—F. S. Brown.

Move On!

His Honor, Mayor Harper, has issued his first proclamation, which notifies all tramps that they are not wanted in Plainfield. Here it is:

By virtue of authority vested in me as Mayor of the city of Plainfield, I do hereby publish and make known, that by the laws of the State of New Jersey, all persons found within the corporate limits of the city of Plainfield, who come from any place without said State, or from any city, county, township, borough or place within said State, and have no legal settlement in said city, and are idle and without employment, and refuse to work for the usual and common wages given to other persons for like work in said city, or are found going about from door to door, or placing themselves in the streets, highways or roads to beg or gather alms, and can give no reasonable account of themselves, or their business in Plainfield, are tramps, subject to arrest and imprisonment. Every constable and police officer in the city of Plainfield is by law expressly authorized and required, on notice given him by any inhabitant, or without such notice on his own view, to apprehend and convey any such person before a Justice of the Peace or other Magistrate, whose duty it is, upon conviction before him of any such person, to commit him or her to the custody of the Street Commissioner or other person in authority, to labor upon the streets, roads and highways of the city, or to the common jail or elsewhere for a term not exceeding six months; and for each such arrest or commitment the officer making the arrest is entitled to 50 cents, and the committing magistrate to 25 cents. Every constable or police officer who shall wilfully refuse to make any such arrest will be subject to a penalty of ten dollars. These provisions of the laws of the State will be enforced, and to this end the undersigned invites the earnest co-operation of all citizens. Every tramp found offending will, upon conviction, be committed as the law directs.

NATHAN HARPER, Mayor.

Dated Plainfield, N. J., April 15th, 1879.

Pleuro-Pneumonia.

Gen. Sterling, the Commissioner appointed to carry out the provisions of the act of the late Legislature, made the following report to Gov. McClellan on Saturday:

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 12th, 1879.

Governor:—I have the honor to report that since my report of April 7th, 1879, I have reason to believe that the work of suppressing the disease of Pleuro Pneumonia is progressing favorably.

The order of quarantine is being observed by all parties so far as I learn, and the introduction of diseased cattle into the State is under better control.

The methods of procedure adopted by General Patrick, of New York, and myself, are in harmony, especially as regards the granting of permits for the transportation of cattle between the States.

Besides the order of April 4th to the ferry companies, I sent the following order under date of April 8th, to the steamship lines which bring cattle from abroad:

"To aid in carrying out the law of 1879 for preventing the spread of contagious pleuro-pneumonia, you are hereby instructed not to land any cattle within this State until a permit has been granted by me. On the arrival of any cattle, notify this office, and an inspection will be made at once."

Thos. J. Edge, Secretary of the Pennsylvania Board of Agriculture, writes me under date of April 8th that he has been commissioned by the Governor of Pennsylvania to carry out the provision of a bill similar to that of New Jersey, and will call on me shortly.

On April 7th Drs. Schmidt and Force were ordered to Bergen county; found no disease. Drs. Chambon and Rogers found at Jersey City Heights one infected stable, and placed it under quarantine.

April 9. Drs. Chambon and Miller found nine cases of pleuro-pneumonia in four stables on Jersey City Heights; each stable quarantined. Three stables in Jersey City were found infected, containing three cases, each quarantined.

April 10. Drs. Miller and Rogers in their inspection of Jersey City found three stables infected and five cows sick; each stable was quarantined.

April 11. Dr. Miller was ordered to Elizabethport to inspect a herd of twelve cattle and found two sick and placed them in quarantine. Dr. Chambon found five cases at Jersey City Heights.

Dr. Corliss was ordered to West Orange and found two cases, one belonging to Mr. Dale, which was in the last stages of the malady, and one belonging to Dr. Marcy, which case appears to be of a mild form; both places were quarantined.

On Wednesday, April 9th, Professor Holcombe, Drs. Rogers and myself went to Sterling, Morris County, N. J., and examined the herd belonging to Mr. D. F. Carle, and found the whole herd affected, more or less. Quarantine is continued and await results. I have reason to believe the above is the result of inoculation.

The results of inspection from April 7 to April 11, inclusive, are:

	Herds.	No. in Herds.	Sick.
Bergen county	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Hudson county	[illegible]	280	22
Union county	1	15	2
Essex county	12	79	2
Total	[illegible]	[illegible]	27

I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
WM. H. STERLING.

To His Excellency, Geo. B. McClellan, Governor.

Last Sunday afternoon the Congregational Sunday School celebrated Easter in a thoroughly "Easter" way. With the aid of a responsive arrangement of the day's lessons and Mr. J. R. France's ready pencil, Mr. Geo. W. Rockfellow, the Sup't, succeeded in entertaining and instructing a large number of visitors, as well as the school itself.

FIRE MATTERS.

Oliver Conlan was elected Chief of the Elizabeth Fire Department last Tuesday, with Hugh Brosnahan and John T. Brady as Assistants.

A lighted match or unextinguished cigar stump, carelessly thrown on the sawdust track in the club room of the Athletic Club, in Cotter's building, last Saturday night, burned a hole through the floor before it was discovered, and the flames extinguished by members of the Club, who happened to visit the rooms at a [illegible].

Now that the "boys" have [illegible] "say," who is going to pay Treasurer [illegible] the $1,000 he has loaned the Department to keep it going. P. S. who will be the next in the new Board to loan his money for the same purpose.

The truck ran against the curbing in turning the corner of Front and Somerset Streets, in going to the fire on Tuesday night last, breaking several spokes in one wheel, and throwing the tiller-man, Mr. R. R. Davis, skyward. A few bruises and a pair of torn pants was the result.

The new Board of Commissioners organize the first Wednesday in May.

Tuesday night last, about half past 9 o'clock, the attention of two young men, who were passing Mr. Lewis Blackford's residence on Grove Street, opposite "Lovers' Dell," was attracted by a crackling noise inside the building. They aroused Mr. Peter Warren, residing next door, [illegible] and with them proceeded to investigate, and found that the house was on fire. The alarm was given and efforts made to remove the household goods, the family of Mr. B. being absent from the dwelling.—The fire had made such progress, however, that it was impossible to save but few articles, the piano among them, one end of which was charred and the instrument ruined. By the time the fire department arrived on the scene, (the distance being long) the whole structure was in flame. The Truck Company pulled the frame down and No. 1 steamer put two streams on the flames, during intervals when the hose were not bursted, ten lengths of the rotten hose of the Department bursting under slight water pressure. Mr. Blackford was insured in the Washington, of this city, for $1,600 and in the Phenix, of Brooklyn, for $500 on the house, the latter Company also have $1,000 on the furniture. The house was a well built two and a-half story frame building. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Mr. Blackford desires through our columns to extend thanks to those citizens and neighbors, also the Fire Department, for their efforts in his behalf on the occasion of the burning of his dwelling last Tuesday night.

Look out for the "big fire" when our rotten hose will burst and leave the steamers powerless to work.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

The Commissioners of Fisheries last week sent ten thousand trout fry to Passaic county, and eight to ten thousand to Monmouth county. In both of these counties there are natural trout streams which, owing to excessive fishing, before the passage of existing prohibitory laws, have become depleted, and which the Commissioners believe can be restored by judicious restocking. The growing sentiment in favor of protection has encouraged the Commissioners in their work, and strenuous efforts are being made to replenish many streams and ponds in the State, as well as to introduce new varieties of fish which will furnish not only sport to the angler but food for the people. Week before last ten thousand trout fry were placed in the waters of Morris county, and the population of natural trout streams in Hunterdon and Warren counties is being prosecuted with vigor and success.

Major Anderson has received notice from the United States Fish Commissioner that twenty five thousand Sebcodic (land locked) salmon ova will be forwarded to the Commissioners of this State within the present month. These eggs will be hatched at the hatching establishment at Bloomsbury, which is now controlled by the State, and will be deposited, when of proper age, in suitable waters in the cold lakes in the northern counties.

There is no fish surpassing the land locked salmon in game or table qualities, and their introduction into the waters of this State has been one of the favorite objects of the Fish Commissioners, and cannot fail to be of immense importance to the people. They attain a weight of eight to twelve pounds, and are not inferior to the sea salmon in table qualities.

It is not yet decided by the Commission, whether to continue the artificial hatching of Shad this summer, although there exists no doubt of the benefits to the shad fishing interest of the work in this direction that has heretofore been done. The demand, however, for black bass, from all parts of the State, is so great that the Commissioners fear it will not be possible to both meet this demand and expend the necessary amount required to continue the work in propagating shad. It is to be regretted that the appropriation was not sufficient to allow all the fishing interests to receive due attention.

Pierre Lorillard's "Parole" won the New Market handicap, one-and-a-half mile dash, in 3.01, at New Market, (Eng.) on Wednesday, 16th inst. "America still ahead."

For some time past there has been a mortality noticed among the young black bass which were placed in the stream running through Warden Ohl's premises on the outskirts of Plainfield, numbers of them having been found dead. An examination showed that the fish were affected with oyster circus in the liver, a small parasite attaching itself to that part of the fish, causing its death.

A few English snipe have been killed on the meadows the past week. The birds seem to be scarce.

We are sorry to learn of the loss sustained by our friend "Rod" Robertson, he having lost a valuable setter pup from pneumonia, which was on exhibition at the dog show in Gilmore's Garden, New York, last week. "Di" was bred from P. C. Ohl's thorough-bred "Percy."

Brinton Range was formally opened on Tuesday last. There was a large attendance, and the shooting fine. Mr. F. Hyde was victorious in the match for a Remington rifle, scoring 44. The next contest will take place Saturday, April 19th, at 3:30 p. m., for a Ballard rifle.

Darkness.

Common Council have decided to cut off the street lights for three months on account of "economy." Their action is to be deprecated. The present is the season, when, above all others, Plainfield should appear attractive to strangers, who are searching for a comfortable and suitable summer residence. It seems to us like false economy to shroud the city in darkness with the excuse that the money necessary for the same must be expended on the streets. Granted that a portion of our thoroughfares are not in proper condition, we believe it would be much wiser to leave them as they are than to put them in a state of darkness, jeopardizing the limbs and lives of our citizens, who must stumble through the same, at the risk also, of violence from bad characters and robbers. Once before was the same "economical" idea carried into effect by the Common Council of our city and we believe the gentlemen composing that body are now rusticating in quiet, private life, the public not deeming their services necessary when re-election came. The present Council may learn a lesson, also. It is to be hoped that they will reconsider the resolution ordering the street lights discontinued. Public sentiment is against their hasty action.

Fire Commissioner's Election.

Monday last was an exciting day among the firemen of Plainfield, it being the occasion of electing two members of the Board of Fire Commissioners to serve for three years each. The nominations were Jacob Adams and Wallace Vail, the retiring members, and R. K. Case and Jeremiah Van Winkle, new nominations. Considerable feeling was manifest among the members and friends of the disbanded Company No. 2 against Messrs. Vail and Adams, in consequence of those gentlemen being members of the Board when the company was declared disbanded, and extraordinary efforts were made to defeat them. As but two hours is the time accorded by law to ballot for Commissioners, it may be imagined that "affairs were lively" when it is stated that 652 votes were polled in that time on Tuesday last, as follows:

Van Winkle	368	Adams	293
Case	365	Vail	271

The retiring members have faithfully served the public in their capacity of Fire Commissioners, Mr. Adams, six years and Mr. Vail twelve years. The newly elected members Messrs. Case and Van Winkle, are exempt members of the late No. 2. Co., Mr. V. having served in former years as Chief. They are in every way qualified for the positions to which they are elected.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

The funeral services of the late Vincent L. Frazee were largely attended. The Rev. Mr. Day of the M. E. church of Plainfield, officiated. There were many mourners in the audience, as they realized that they should look for the last time upon the familiar face and countenance of one they had known so long and favorably. The pall bearers were Messrs. S. M. Parse, L. H. K. Smalley, C. W. L. Martine, J. L. Spencer, Wm. Archbold and Levi Darby. The casket was of a beautiful design, covered with black cloth and heavily mounted with silver. A basket of flowers was placed on the casket in which was the word "Father." Interment in Baptist church cemetery.

The communion services at the Baptist church was deferred from last Sunday until next, when the Rev. W. B. Guircard, of Brewsters, N. Y., will officiate and preach morning and evening.

A regular meeting of the Scotch Plains M. T. D. Society was held last Monday evening, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the attendance was good.

Road Overseer Vanderhoof of the Fanwood District has betook himself at this early day to repairing the highways and by-ways of his district.

A society composed entirely of young ladies, has recently been formed, styling itself the elite. It is, as we suppose, a secret organization, but we are credibly informed that a very worthy object of a charitable nature is in view. Suffice it to say that the name of the society is strongly indicative of the character of its members.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

On Friday evening April 11th, inst., Mr. Simon Towle, brother of J. H. Towle, residing on Broad Street, who was on a visit at his brother's from the West, died suddenly of disease of the heart. The funeral took place on Monday last. Interment in N. Y. State.

The Lyceum Committee and other citizens met at the rooms of the Committee in Lyceum Hall on Saturday evening the 12th inst., and discussed the question of drainage of the village very thoroughly, and resolved to go at the work at once. A petition was drawn and signed by a large number of citizens to present to the Central R. R. Company, asking them to lower and widen the culvert north of the railroad depot at this village, in order that the natural water course through the village may be widened and lowered, which is the only possible way of preventing the flooding of property on Broad and Elm Streets during a severe storm, especially such a one as was witnessed by our citizens last year, when Broad Street needed a boat.

The Committee on village improvement in regard to the setting out of shade trees, commenced their work in earnest on Tuesday last. About one hundred trees of different varieties, a larger portion being Elms and Maples, were planted on the streets running toward the depot. The planting of the trees were under the superintendence of L. V. Clark, Esq., assisted by Jas. L. Miller and Geo. W. Tice, with a corps of workmen.

Eb. Hart, Esq., has added to the improvement of that portion of the village lying on the west side of Central Ave., and on the line of Quimby Street, by planting a fine row of Maple trees along the same in front of his property, and that of Mrs. Letitia Miller. Who will be the next to go and do likewise?

Some parties find fault with the overseer of Road Dist. No. 8 for placing the guide post and large rock on the corner of Broad St. and Central Ave. They are not in the road bed, but on the corner of sidewalk where wagons are not allowed to travel, which would seem to be all right. He cannot suit everybody.

C. O. Richardson, Esq., living on Jerusalem Road, who has been declared insane, was taken by his sister, assisted by J. M. C. Marsh, on Wednesday, to the insane asylum in New York. He has been living the life of a hermit for the past year, not admitting any person to his house nor speaking to them. The physicians think with proper care he may recover his reason. Mr. R. was a bookkeeper in the Ætna Ins. Co. of N. Y., for about 15 years.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

The World of Monday, under "Hints for house hunters," publishes an elaborate advertisement of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the suburban towns reached by it. In a description of Plainfield, the following sentence occurs: "It is a bustling place, with well-paved streets and well lighted ones, too." We object to the last clause. Evidently the writer did not speak from recent personal experience, or he certainly would have omitted those words. The recent action of our City Council has deprived us of gas in our streets, (save under bridges) and we must walk in darkness for the next three months. The Council are not responsible for this deprivation, unless, as we think, their action was an error of judgment as to the best way of spending the limited funds at their disposal. The responsibility lies beyond and below them. Our present condition is the direct result of that miserable, niggardly spirit which unfortunately actuates too many of the property owners of this city. It is the natural sequence of a well developed and aggressive opposition to all that is progressive. Between this covetousness and that extravagance which has burdened some of our sister cities with grievous debts, there is a happy medium which some citizens would like to see adopted, and which in their judgment would increase our permanent welfare. Let us do one of two things, have and pay for those improvements which are supposed to belong to all well regulated cities, or let us at once subside into an overgrown village. We need water and sewerage, but if we cannot at present have either, we can at least have our streets well lighted, and not be left wholly after nightfall to the protection of our able and efficient police. People will not always pay city prices and get few of city conveniences in return. Nearly one-half of the present population of this city came here from New York and Brooklyn, and know a street lamp when they see it, (they can rarely see one in Plainfield now after dark) and the purpose for which it is designed; and while they like the place and appreciate all of its natural advantages, they desire those comforts to which they have been accustomed, and the existence of which was held out to them as an inducement to settle here. If we expect to draw further from New York, or retain a majority of those who have come to us, we must have a little less "rottenness" and a little more "money."

WALL WISHER.

FRUIT PROSPECTS.

Although March was a wet and most unpleasant month it deserves at least a good word at our hands by reason of the fact that it was an excellent month for fruit of all kinds, and it is now apparent that there will be an abundance of all kinds the coming season. Prominent peach growers throughout this county say that the peach trees have wintered much better than usual. The buds are in fine condition and unless extremely cold and foggy weather prevails during the present month the ensuing crop will be the heaviest known for some time past. The grain is also said to have wintered finely; the prospect in that direction is considered excellent.—Iron Era.

The trial of Melick Staats for the murder of Joseph Doll was begun at Flemington, April 15th. On Dec. 20, 1878, Doll and his son were passing through a cut of the Central Railroad near Bloomsbury. Melick Staats and his brother John Staats were on the edge of the embankment above, and a large piece of coal, alleged to have been thrown by Melick Staats, struck Joseph Doll and killed him.

CHAPTER LX.

An act to repeal an act entitled "A further supplement to the act entitled 'An act concerning roads,'" approved April fifth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the act entitled "A further supplement to the act entitled 'An act concerning roads,'" which further supplement was approved April fifth, anno domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, be and the same is hereby repealed.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 6, 1879.

CHAPTER LXIV.

A further supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning corporations," [revision], approved April seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any company or association organized under the act to which this is a supplement, or otherwise may increase the number of its shares of stock by sub-dividing the amount of each share, including therein as well as the par value thereof, as also any assessments actually paid in thereon, into shares of such equal par value as it may agree on, by filing in the office of the secretary of state, the assent in writing of stockholders representing two-thirds in value of the capital stock for the time being, and also a certificate under the hands and seals of said stockholders or their legal representatives, stating the par value at which it is proposed to fix said shares, which certificate shall be proved or acknowledged and recorded as required of deeds of real estate, in the book kept for recording corporation certificates, in the office of the clerk of the county, where the principal office or place of business of such company in this state shall be established and after being so recorded shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and the certificate of the secretary of state that such assent and certificate have been filed in his office shall have taken and accepted as evidence of such sub-division of said shares and alteration of their par value in any court in this state; provided, however, that such assent and certificate shall be filed as aforesaid, within thirty days after the execution of the same by said stockholders; and provided further, that in no case shall the capital stock of any such company filing such certificate and assent be increased thereby beyond the amount limited in its charter or certificate of organization, except in the manner now provided by the act to which this is a supplement.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediatly.

Approved March 6, 1879.

CHAPTER CIII.

An act authorizing the counties of this state to renew matured and maturing bonds.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever any bonds heretofore legally issued by the board of chosen freeholders of any county in this state, under the authority of law, are now due and unpaid, or shall hereafter become due; the board of chosen freeholders of any such county may renew seventy-five per centum of such indebtedness, or any less part thereof, by the issuing of bonds for that purpose in the corporate name and under the corporate seal of any such county, signed by the director and attested by the clerk of the board of chosen freeholders of any such county; which bonds shall be made payable at periods of time not exceeding ten years from the date of issuing the same, and shall draw such rate of interest, not exceeding six per centum per annum, and be issued in such sums not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, as the said board of chosen freeholders shall by resolution determine, and which bonds shall have coupons attached for every year's interest until due, and which coupons shall be signed by the director of said board and attested by the clerk thereof, and numbered to correspond with the bond to which they shall be respectively attached, and all the bonds issued under this act shall be numbered and a register of such numbers, and the date of issuing, and the time of payment shall be made by the county collector or clerk of the said board of chosen freeholders, in a book to be provided for that purpose; which bonds may be sold at public or private sale for the best price which can be obtained for the same, but shall not be for less than the par value; and all the real estate and property within the county shall be liable for the payment of the principal and interest that may become due on the bonds to be issued by virtue of this act; but nothing in this act contained shall be held to permit any board to issue bonds the legality of which is now questioned or contested in any court of this state or of the United States, nor shall it be held to interfere with or affect the renewal of bonds renewed by virtue of the provisions of any special act heretofore passed.

2. And be it enacted, That the board of chosen freeholders of any such county shall have power and authority to provide by taxation for the payment of the said bonds, and the interest thereon, and shall yearly and every year until the said bonds shall be redeemed and paid off, order and cause to be assessed and collected by tax at the same time and in the same manner that other taxes in any such counties are assessed and collected, a sum of money sufficient to pay the interest on the said bonds as the same shall become due and payable, and to pay and discharge the principal at the several times it shall become due and payable.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXXXVI.

An act relative to the time of appointing tax assessors in cities.

Whereas, In cities whose charters provide for the appointment of a tax assessor after the charter elections occurring in the spring, great inconveniences arises from want of time to prepare suitable lists of ratables to present to the county board of assessors, which meets in the month of June; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in all cities of this state having between five and six thousand inhabitants by the last state census, and whose charter prescribe that a tax assessor shall be appointed by the municipal authorities thereof, said authorities may appoint such tax assessor during the months of February or March in the year of the passage of this act and during said months in every second year thereafter, who shall hold his office for the term of one year from the first day of April of the year during which said appointment is made, such office to be held subject to the provisions of the respective charters of said cities, except as herein provided.

2. And be it enacted, That should the powers granted under this act be exercised by the authorities of any city as above stated, then and in that case all acts or parts of acts and all and any provision contained in the charter or the supplements thereto of any such city so far as they relate to said city inconsistent with the provisions of this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXXXVII.

A supplement to the act entitled "An act to authorize the formation of gas light corporations and regulate the same."

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall be lawful for any gas company now existing whether by special charter or by organization under the act to which this is a supplement, or which may hereafter be organized thereunder, and which may be at any time actually engaged in the manufacture and supply of illuminating gas in the city, town or village for the supply of which the same was organized or chartered, to extend its main pipes to any neighboring city, town or village wherein no gas company already exists for the purpose of supplying the same with illuminating gas; provided, the common council, township committee or the municipal authority of such neighboring city, town or village shall grant permission for that purpose.

2. And be it enacted, That when such permission shall be granted the said gas company shall have the same rights and privileges of laying gas mains and the like to and in such neighboring city, town or village as it has under the original organization in the city, town or village where it was originally located.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXC.

Supplement to an act respecting conveyances, [Revision], approved March twenty-seventh, anno domini, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

Whereas, commissioners of deeds, in and for this state, in some instances have, through inadvertance or mistake, continued to take acknowledgments and proofs of deeds, mortgages and other writings, after their term of office has expired, and innocent persons may be subject to loss or injury thereby: therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That all acknowledgments and proofs of deeds, mortgages and other writings and certificates thereof, heretofore taken or made before or by any commissioner of deeds, in and for this state, whose term of office had expired or whose office had been vacated at the time of taking such acknowledgment or proof, and the certificate thereof, and the records of such deed, mortgages and other writings, are hereby confirmed and made valid, and legal and effectual to the extent that the same would have been valid, legal and effectual, if the term of office of the commissioner taking such acknowledgment or proof had not expired.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXCII.

An act for the relief of Peter F. Anderson.

Whereas, Peter F. Anderson, at the time a resident of the city of Trenton, county of Mercer, state of New Jersey, did on the twenty-sixth day of July, anno domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, enlist into the Military service of the United States, from the state of New Jersey, for the term of three years or during the war; and whereas, after being so enlisted he was placed in a New York regiment, to wit: "company 'D' forty-eight New York volunteers;" and whereas in consequence of his being thus placed in said New York regiment, he was refused payment of the sum of two dollars per month state pay for himself from date of enlistment to April sixth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, when he was married, and thereafter to September first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five when he was discharged, he was refused payment of the sum of six dollars per month state pay for the relief of his family, to which he should have been entitled under the laws of this state had he been placed in a New Jersey regiment; and whereas, he was refused payment of state pay by the state of New York for the reason that he was a citizen of the state of New Jersey, whose family continued to reside in the state of New Jersey; and whereas, said Peter F. Anderson has never received any state pay either from the state of New York or the state of New Jersey; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the treasurer of this state be and he is hereby authorized and directed to pay to the said Peter F. Anderson, a resident of the city of Trenton, county of Mercer, and state of New Jersey, the sum of one hundred and sixty-five dollars and sixty-six cents being the amount due to him for four years one month and twenty-five days in the military service of the United States.

2. And be it enacted, That the sum required to pay the said Peter F. Anderson, as provided for in the first section of this act, be and the same is hereby appropriated for that purpose out of any money or moneys in the treasury of this state not otherwise appropriated.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed and taken to be a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

JOHN L. CROWELL, Clerk.

April 3, 1879.

IMPORTANT DECISION—TAX LEVY BY CITIES TO PAY DEBTS.

A highly important decision has just been rendered by the Supreme Court of the United States. It is of peculiar interest to holders of dishonored municipal bonds. The case decided arose out of an application for a writ of mandamus to compel the authorities of New Orleans to levy a tax to pay certain judgments rendered against it upon bonds issued to the New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern Railroad Company. The city set up as a defence that there was no legislative authority for the levy of such a tax. The petitioner demurred to this answer, but the Circuit Court overruled the demurrer and denied the writ, whereupon the petitioner took an appeal. The court below held that the power of taxation belongs exclusively to the legislative branch of the government, and that the judiciary cannot direct a tax to be levied when none is authorized by the legislature.

The U. S. Supreme Court, however, holds in a careful opinion, delivered by Justice Field, that although the power of taxation is a legislative prerogative it may be delegated to a municipal corporation, and that when such a corporation is created, the power of taxation is vested in it as an essential attribute for all the purposes of its existence, unless its exercise is in express terms prohibited. When, therefore, authority to borrow money or incur an obligation to carry out any public object is conferred upon a municipal corporation, the power to levy a tax for its payment on the discharge of the obligation accompanies it, and this too, without any special mention that such power is granted. It is always to be assumed in the absence of clear restrictive provisions that when the legislature grants to a city power to create a debt it intends that city shall pay it, and that its payment shall not be left to its caprice or pleasure.

Whenever a power to contract a debt is conferred it must be held that a corresponding power of providing for its payment is also conferred. The latter is implied in the grant of the former, and such implication cannot be overcome except by express words of limitation. In the present case the indebtedness of the city of New Orleans is conclusively established by the judgments recovered. Owing the debt, the city had the power to levy a tax for its payment, and it was clearly its duty so to do. The payment was not a matter resting on its pleasure, but a duty to the creditors, and having neglected that duty a mandamus should have been issued to enforce its observance. The judgment of the lower court, must, therefore, be reversed, and the cause remanded, with directions to issue the writ in compliance with the petition.

The procession which is going out to San Francisco to meet Grant will be headed by Belnap, Robeson and "Boss" Shepherd. Zach Chandler declines to go because they cannot take enough whiskey on the train for the crowd, and the distance between the stations on the plains will make the time between drinks too long.

There is small chance of the Democrats losing the senate for years to come. The Republicans cannot regain control before 1883, and then only by holding all they now have and carrying New Jersey, Oregon and Illinois in 1881 and, two years later, California, Oregon and Indiana, if their success everywhere else is unopposed by defeat.

Smalley's Defiance Asparagus.
NEW VARIETY.
The merits and claims of the "Defiance," are as follows: It is earlier, a larger grass, softer, more tender, free from wood, the flavor sweet and very delicate, far superior to all other varieties: it will produce double that of the "Colossal" and can cut it longer. It will continue to grow longer than any other sorts. It has been tested for the past three years. I know my roots and seeds to be strictly pure, as I am the sole originator of it; shall not cut any seed in the market this year, as I intend planting it myself. It is the best Asparagus grown, either for private use or for market. We would recommend it in preference to all others. Price $[illegible] per 100, and $[illegible] per 1000. No charge for boxes or packing—Purchasers pay their express. Orders must be accompanied by a remittance, or satisfactory reference. Will be sold by express C. O. D.

We, the undersigned, have tested the above variety of Asparagus, and unhesitatingly recommend it to all that is claimed for it, in fact it is a marvel in the shape of this delicious vegetable:

Maria Fisher, Administratrix of Jeremiah Fisher, deceased.

On application of the above named Administratrix it is ordered that said Administratrix give public notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administratrix.

f21w9 By JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

In Chancery of New Jersey.

To Kate E. Fuller:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day and date hereof, in a cause wherein Samuel S. Kilbe, acting Executor of Stacy B. Bancroft, deceased, is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear and plead, answer or demur, to the bill of said complainant, on or before the fifth day of May next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a certain mortgage given by Moses Rittenhouse and Rebecca L., his wife, to said Samuel S. Kilbe, acting Executor as aforesaid, on lands in the City of Plainfield, dated [illegible] 20th, 1876, and you, Kate E. Fuller, are made a defendant because you hold encumbrances on said lands.

Dated March 4, A. D. 1879.

CHAPTER CXXVIII.

An act relative to taxes in the county of Middlesex.

Whereas, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven, in making the valuation of property in the city of Perth Amboy, in the county of Middlesex, the assessor illegally included in the said valuation the property held and owned by "the Easton and Amboy railroad company," and fixed valuation thereof at the sum of one hundred and five thousand six hundred dollars, the tax upon which said sum amounted, for state and county purposes, to nine hundred and fifty dollars and twenty-four cents, and the said illegal valuation having been returned to the board of assessors, and by them made a basis for determining the amount of state and county tax to be raised by the said city, which now stands charged in the accounts of said county, and it being just and equitable that the said city should not be required to pay tax upon such illegal valuation; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the city of Perth Amboy be and it is hereby released from the payment of state and county tax on such illegal valuation, which tax amounts to nine hundred and fifty dollars and twenty-four cents, and that the said assessment upon such illegal valuation is hereby declared null and void; and whereas, the said county of Middlesex has paid into the state treasury tax upon such illegal valuation amounting to three hundred and eighty dollars and sixteen cents; therefore,

2. And be it enacted, That the state treasurer be and is hereby required to pay to the county collector of the said county of Middlesex, for the use of the said county, upon a warrant drawn in the usual manner, the said sum of three hundred and eighty dollars and sixteen cents.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXCVI.

An act to amend "An act to provide for the regulation and incorporation of insurance companies," [Revision], approved April ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section four of "An act to provide for the regulation and incorporation of insurance companies," [Revision], Approved April ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and amended April fifth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, which reads as follows:

"4. And be it enacted, That when there shall exist in any city, borough or township of this state an organized fire department, and one or more charitable associations or organizations for the accumulation and disbursement of a fund for the benefit of disabled or incapacitated firemen or their families, all the moneys received by the secretary of state as herein provided, as payment of the tax of two per centum upon the premiums received by the agents of foreign fire insurance companies within the limits of such city, borough or township, shall be received for the benefit of, and be appropriated and applied to the use of the charitable fund of said fire department; and the secretary of state, before the first day of April in each year, shall upon due proof of the bona fide existence of such an organization, by the certificate of the president and clerk or secretary of the organized fire department in such city, borough or township, pay over the sums by him received for the benefit of said charitable fund during the preceding year, as above provided, to the officer or officers of said organization designated in said certificate, taking a proper receipt therefor; that every organization receiving or that have received such moneys as aforesaid, shall annually, on the first day of April, file with the secretary of state a detailed statement of all investments made of said fund, the amount thereof, and a detailed statement of all expenditures made therefrom, showing the date thereof, the amount, and the person to whom paid and for what purpose; and the said organized fire department, where there are two or more such organizations, may in case of neglect of any one to file such statement, or in case of misappropriation of said funds or of failure on the part of any such organization to expend said funds equally among all disabled or incapacitated firemen in said city, borough or township, direct such defaulting charitable organization to pay over all the funds received by it and unexpended according to law, to any other existing charitable organization for disabled or incapacitated firemen, named by said organized fire department, and may in case of refusal so to do, sue for and recover such sums by suit in law or in equity, and when recovered shall pay over the same to the said charitable organization so named by them as aforesaid; provided, that nothing in this section contained shall require any organization now existing under any present or past volunteer fire department to pay any of its funds to any organization under any present or future paid fire department," be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

4. And be it enacted, That when there shall exist in any city, borough or township of this state, an organized fire department and one or more charitable associations or organizations for the accumulation and disbursement of a fund for the benefit of disabled or incapacitated firemen or their families, all moneys received by the secretary of state, as herein provided, as payment of the tax of two per centum upon the premiums received by the agents of foreign fire insurance companies within the limits of such city, borough or township, for policies issued upon property within the limits of such city, borough or township, shall be received for the benefit of, and be appropriated and applied to the use of the charitable fund of the said fire department; and the secretary of state, before the first day of April in each year, shall, upon due proof and the bona fide existence of such an organization, by the certificate of the president and clerk, or secretary of the organized fire department in such city, borough or township, pay over the sums by him received for the benefit of said charitable fund during the preceding year, as above provided, to the officer or officers of said organization designated in said certificate, taking a proper receipt therefor; where there are two or more such organizations in any city, borough or township, receiving or that have received such moneys as aforesaid, each of such organizations in such city, borough or township, shall annually, on the first day of April, file with the secretary of state, a detailed statement of all investments made of such fund, the amount thereof, and a detailed statement of all expenditures made therefrom, showing the date thereof, the amount, and the person to whom paid, and for what purpose; and the said organized fire department, where there are two or more of such organizations, may, in case of neglect of any one to file such statement, or in case of misappropriation of said funds, or of failure on the part of any such organization to expend said funds equally among all disabled or incapacitated firemen in said city, borough or township, direct such defaulting charitable organization to pay over all the funds received by it and unexpended according to law, to any other existing charitable organization for disabled or incapacitated firemen named by said organized fire department, and may, in case of refusal so to do, sue for and recover such sums by suit in law or in equity, and when recovered shall pay over the same to the said charitable organization so named by them as aforesaid; provided, that nothing in this section contained shall require any organization now existing under any present or past volunteer fire department to pay any of its funds to any organization under any present or future paid department.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXXXV.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act relating to municipal or other authorities owning or managing works for the supplying of water to the public," approved March fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any municipal or other authority now empowered by law to use their discretion in fixing or omitting to fix annually a sum to be assessed upon vacant lots, and lots with buildings thereon in which water is not taken, may hereafter in their discretion, in lieu thereof, lay out a district in the territory through which their mains run or may from time to time be laid, to be known as the fire and water district, which district shall include all the real estate along which the mains run and extend in depth four hundred feet upon all lots whatever, and on all lots having buildings thereon two hundred feet beyond; provided, that when any lots having buildings thereon shall extend beyond the outside boundary line of said district so that any of said buildings shall be bisected by said line, then said outside boundary line shall be extended so as to include such buildings within said district [illegible]

CHAPTER LXXXVII.

An act to provide for the collection and care of specimens of artistic pottery, porcelain and glassware for industrial and scientific purposes.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the governor of this state be and he is hereby authorized to procure in the name of the state by gift or loan, a collection of objects of suitable designs in pottery, porcelain and glass, to serve as models and objects for the aid and instruction of potters, glass makers, designers, decorators and students; and the governor is hereby authorized to cause to be prepared a suitable room in the state house for the care and preservation of the said collection; and the said room shall be kept open at reasonable hours so that the said collection shall be at all proper times subject to examination by artists, designers, manufacturers and the public at large.

2. And be it enacted, That the expenses incurred by the governor in procuring the said collection shall be paid by the state treasurer on the warrant of the comptroller; provided, that the sum of the expense so incurred shall not exceed one thousand dollars.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 11, 1879.

CHAPTER LXXXVIII.

An act concerning cities.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in all cities in this state having, under the last state census, a population of not less than five thousand, and not more than six thousand inhabitants, that are divided into two precincts, and have nine councilmen, the said two precincts shall constitute two wards of said cities.

2. And be it enacted, That the legal voters of such cities shall elect, on Saturday, the fifth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, between the hours of seven a. m. and seven p. m., three commissioners, to be known as excise commissioners, one to be elected for one year, one to be elected for two years, and one to be elected for three years, and one annually thereafter, at the charter election; said commissioners shall be selected from each political party, and shall grant all licenses for the sale of spirituous, malt, and vinous liquors, and shall give bond in the sum of five hundred dollars for the faithful performance of their duties, such bond to be approved by the mayor and common council.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1879.

CHAPTER LXXXVI.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act to enable cities to supply the inhabitants thereof with pure and wholesome water," approved April twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in any city in this state having more than ten thousand inhabitants, wherein water works are or may be owned by the city, and controlled directly or indirectly by the city authorities, all assessments by whatever name designated for the use and supply of water furnished to the occupant or owner of any property, may be charged either against the said occupant or the said owner, at the option of the commissioners or other officials whose duty it shall be to lay such assessments; and, in either case, they shall be and remain a lien upon said property until they shall have been fully paid.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed a public act, and shall take effect immediately, and that all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith, be and the same are hereby repealed.

Approved March 13, 1879.

CHAPTER LXXV.

Supplement to an act entitled "An act for the preservation of fish," approved April third, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section four of the act to which this act is a supplement shall be so amended that it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm or corporation, to use or operate any pound, purse net, seine or seines, at any time of the year in the Shrewsbury or Navesink river, or the north or south branches of the said river.

2. And be it enacted, That for the purpose of this act the Shrewsbury or Navesink river shall be held to begin at the present most inland part of their respective waters and to extend to the mouth of the river to a line drawn east and west from the point of Spermaceti cove on Sandy Hook, in the county of Monmouth; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit persons from using fike nets, or crab nets known as scapp nets, or gill nets not exceeding sixty feet in length.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER CXCIII.

An act for the relief of the legal representatives of the late Timothy Field.

Whereas, the late Timothy Field agreed with the commissioners for the enlargement of the state prison to do certain iron work required according to a written contract made between the said parties; and whereas, in the said written contract, the price was, by a clerical error, fixed at one thousand dollars less than the sum total of the detailed estimates, as afterwards shown to the said commissioners, and on which the said contract was founded; and whereas, the said contract was fully performed by the said Field, and the said commissioners admit the error in the contract price as stated, and wish to correct it, but have no power to do so; now, therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the said, the commissioners for the enlargement of the state prison, be and they are hereby authorized and directed to audit and allow to the legal representatives of the said Timothy Field, the said sum of one thousand dollars in addition to the sum named in the contract between the said commissioners and the said Timothy Field, to be paid for work done in enlarging the state prison.

2. And be it enacted, That the said comptroller is hereby authorized to draw his warrant upon the treasurer for the said sum of one thousand dollars in favor of the legal representatives of Timothy Field, deceased, upon receipt of a certificate from the said commissioners, that they have audited and allowed the said sum, in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing section; the said sum to be paid out of the unexpended balance of the appropriation for the enlargement of the state prison, by act of March eighth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXCVII.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act to regulate elections," [Revision,] approved April eighteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey. That section forty-nine of an act entitled "An act to regulate elections," approved April eighteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, which reads as follows:

"49. And be it enacted, That the board of election shall make, or cause to be made, a copy of the statement of the result of such election, and the certificate thereto, which shall be made under the forty-fourth section of this act, and each member of the board shall sign his name thereto, with his own hand, and the clerk of such board shall attest the signing of the same by such board by signing his own name thereto, with his own hand," be amended so as to read as follows:

49. And be it enacted, That the board of election shall make, or cause to be made, a true and exact copy of the statement of the result of such election, and the certificate thereto, which shall be made under the forty-seventh section of this act, and each member of the board shall sign his name thereto, with his own hand, and the clerk of such board shall attest the signing of the same by such board by signing his own name thereto, with his own hand, and where there are two polling districts in any township the officers thereof shall perform their duties in like manner, and forward the return thereof to the clerk of the county, within the time provided by law, and such copy shall then be delivered by such board to the clerk thereof; and if such clerk shall be the clerk of the city or township in which the election shall have been held, he shall, as the clerk of such city or township, preserve such copy so delivered to him among the papers of such city or township in his possession, and deliver over the same to his successor, to be by him preserved in the same manner; and if the clerk of such board shall not be the clerk of such city or township, he shall, within two days next after the day of such election, deliver the same to the clerk of such city or township, to be by him preserved and delivered over to his successor as above directed; and every such copy in the possession of the clerk of any city or township, shall be open and subject to the inspection of every person who shall apply to such clerk for that purpose; and it shall be the duty of every such clerk to furnish a certified copy thereof to any legal voter in said city or township who shall apply for the same and make payment in advance at the rate of ten cents for every one hundred words.

2. And be it enacted, That any such board of county canvassers may, if necessary, in addition to the adjournment provided for in section sixty-one of the act to which this is a supplement, make a second adjournment, but not for a longer period than three days.

3. And be it enacted, That whenever any board of county canvassers shall find it necessary to adjourn as provided in the foregoing section, and in the aforementioned section sixty-one of the act to which this is a supplement, all statements of the result of an election in any township, ward or district which shall have been delivered to such board, or to any member thereof, shall, in the [illegible] like manner be subject to all the restrictions, limitations and regulations by the laws of this state imposed upon and applicable to such corporations.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for any corporation or private person, owning or operating a railroad located in whole or in part beneath the surface of the earth and used for transportation of minerals, and materials, implements and machinery used or to be used in the sinking or working of mines to charge for the transportation of freight upon so much of the same as shall be beneath the surface of the earth at and after the rate of twenty cents per ton per mile, and when the distance of transportation beneath the surface of the earth shall be less than one mile a fraction of a mile shall be considered as a whole mile for the purpose of fixing the amount to be charged for transportation.

3. And be it enacted, That when any corporation formed under the provisions of this act shall take legal proceedings to acquire the right of way for its proposed railroad beneath the surface of the earth, such right of way shall not include the right to permanently use or occupy the surface of the earth immediately above such railroad and where the same is not broken, but shall be confined to a mere right to tunnel and excavate the earth for its track, but such corporation shall nevertheless have the right to acquire by such proceedings so much and such parts of the surface as may be necessary or proper for the operation of its said railroad.

4. And be it enacted, That whenever it shall happen that any railroad in this state shall have been built upon, under or through any lands without acquiring the right to maintain the same from the owner or owners of the fee simple of said lands or any part thereof, it shall be lawful for the corporation owning and operating said railroad to take and prosecute all such legal proceedings to acquire the right to maintain and operate its said railroad that it would have the right to take and prosecute if such railroad had not as yet been built upon, under or through the said lands.

5. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1879.

CHAPTER XCI.

An act for the government of cities.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in all cities of this state having vacant corners at the intersection of any of the streets, the titles to which land is in the said city or cities, or in the inhabitants thereof, by virtue of will or grant, the city council or board of aldermen of such city or cities, by a two-thirds vote thereof, shall be authorized to sell and convey the same in fee, provided, that no sale thereof shall be made without the written consent of the owners of lots fronting on said vacant corners.

2. And be it enacted, That all moneys received from the sale of said vacant corners shall be paid into the treasury of the said city where said vacant lots are situate.

3. And be it enacted, That the provisions of this act shall not apply to cities of this state having, by the last state census, a population exceeding fifty thousand, and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1879.

CHAPTER XCII.

An act to provide increased facilities for lighting and heating the New Jersey state prison.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That if in the opinion of the governor of this state, it shall be deemed advisable and necessary to construct additional gas retorts and steam boilers, at the New Jersey state prison, the board of inspectors of the state prison shall have power to procure estimates of the cost of said work and to execute the same; provided, that the estimates and contracts therefor shall be first approved by the governor.

2. And be it enacted, That the cost of the execution of said work shall not exceed the sum of four thousand dollars, and be paid by the treasurer of the state, on the warrant of the comptroller, out of any moneys not otherwise appropriated; and that this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1879.

CHAPTER XCIII.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act to authorize the formation of railroad corporations and regulate the same," approved April second, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for corporations organized under the act to which this is a supplement, and the acts supplementary thereto, to issue, sell and dispose of tickets for passage upon the railroads of such corporations at less than the rates limited in the act to which this is a supplement; which tickets shall be good and shall entitle the holder or holders thereof to passage only for a limited number of days after the date of the issue thereof, which limit shall be clearly and fully stated and set out upon the ticket.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 13, 1879.

CHAPTER LXXXII.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act to regulate elections," approved April eighteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the notices of election and registry required to be given by the act to which this is a supplement, shall not hereafter be published in any newspaper, whether daily or weekly, published in any city or county of this state, unless said newspaper has been published for one year continuously prior to the time when said notices are required to be published.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall be a public act and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 17, 1879.

COMMERCE.

For many years the United States held foremost rank as a maritime nation, and ship-owning and ship-building interests were then not only an honor to her enterprise and skill, but a prolific source of national and individual wealth. The keels of American commerce furrowed every sea, and the merchants of America drew honest gain from all quarters of the globe.—Those were proud and profitable days for our country, but they are gone, and now, instead of the stars and stripes being its emblem, the ensigns of England, France, Germany, Italy, Norway and Spain proclaim commercial supremacy throughout the world.

Commerce, that grand enricher of people, from the days of ancient Tyre to the present day, has steadily forsaken the flag of the United States, until from being second only to England as ocean carriers, our vessels rank in the scale of tonnage even lower than those of comparatively imbecile nations.

Such is a lamentable fact, a withering reproach, and evidences culpable indifference to the general welfare on the part of those charged with the management of national affairs.

True, civil war crippled and dispersed a large portion of our merchant marine, but it is equally a truth, that fourteen years have elapsed since that unnatural conflict ended, a period of time amply sufficient to have regained losses and reinstated former commercial prosperity, had Cabinet and Congress been more solicitous for the public good than for the securement of political spoils.

It is also a matter of fact that steam is fast taking the place of canvas as the motor of ocean traffic, but why are American steamers almost entirely out of the race! Have our mechanics so completely lost their sturdy force and our merchants their enterprising spirit, that foreigners must monopolize our legitimate business and carry away its profits?

There is no reason why American commerce should not be re established as of former years, to the glory of country and the advantage of people. We can build steamers as well, if not better, than England, and send them as freighters over every ocean highway as triumphantly and prosperously as we once dispatched the world renowned clippers.

If the tariff discriminates against the important interest of ship construction, as no doubt it does, let the tariff be forthwith amended, for there cannot be an object more worthy of protection than commerce. It is the lifeblood of trade and imparts activity to every industry.

Other nations are increasingly in need of our varied products. Why should we throw away the gain of transportation? It is supreme folly.

To prove our assertion relative to the existing low condition of the American carrying trade, the following summary of arrivals at the port of New York, for two consecutive days last week, will suffice:

On those days there were 61 entries from foreign ports, namely—15 steamers and 46 sailing vessels, of which 12 steamers were British, 1 German, 1 Danish and 1 American; and of sailing vessels 9 were British, 9 Norwegian, 7 Italian, 3 German, 2 Austrian, 1 Dutch and 15 American, most of the American being schooners from the West Indies, while the foreigners were large craft from Europe and the East Indies.

That is the record of two days and it is a fair specimen of all present days.

The most vital question for Congress to consider and act upon is the permanent restoration of Commerce.

EXODUS.

The injury inflicted upon the colored people of the South by intriguing Republican politicians, wearing the mask of professed friendship, has been, to say the least, cruel in its effects. Not content with doing all in their power to foment discord between the Southern white and colored races and to thwart their mutual interests, and notwithstanding the frauds perpetrated on the confiding negroes by that grand political swindle known as the Freedmen's Savings Bank, another effort has recently been inaugurated to allure colored laborers from peace and comfort to disappointment and distress. That dodge is a plausible Emigration Society, presided over by a Northern Republican Senator, and engineered by deputies skilled in the work of deception, the artful scheme being to induce Southern laborers and their families, under flattering promises, to abandon their native and congenial clime and flock blindly to some inhospitable Western wild, to suffer and starve.

This Emigration project, like all similar interference with the South, clearly reveals the same old double breasted motive of the carpet-baggers, a revengeful desire to harm Southern white people, because they are Democrats, and an inordinate thirst to pilfer the property of others, even though it be the scanty earnings of poor negro field hands.

It is a premeditated outrage, as the duped colored people are finding out many of them being already in Kansas destitute and sick, with no earthly hopes before them and no means of getting back to their longed for Southern homes.

The New York Journal of Commerce says:

"In one of his strong cartoons in Harper's Weekly lately Nast cleverly hit off a topic of the day. A Chinaman and a negro, with kits slung over shoulder, stand facing in opposite directions at the foot of a guide-post.—The negro is about to obey the injunction, indexed above him, 'Go West,' while the Chinaman prepares to follow the order, or invitation, 'Go East.'

The negro is going West, but is coming back as fast as his means will allow. He finds no work and no welcome there.

The South has no real cause to be anxious. A few hundreds or thousands of freedmen have left for Kansas, but the millions remain behind. The significance of the migration is much exaggerated. It will cease as suddenly as it began, when the negroes who are able to return from their foolish wanderings bring back the true story of their disappointments and sufferings at the West. The South is their proper home, and they will never quit it to stay long while they are treated well by the dominant race."

MUNICIPAL GOVERMENT.

The State Commission on General Laws for Municipalities met at Jersey City, in the Council Chamber, last Saturday at half-past ten o'clock. The Commissioners present were Barker Gummer, of Trenton; Hon. Wm. J. Magie, of Elizabeth; Judge Frederick H. Teese, of Newark, and Hon. Leon Abbett, of Jersey City. The Secretary, Joseph L. Naar, was also in attendance.

The President, Judge Clements, presided, and a number of prominent citizens were present, in response to circulars sent out, to make suggestions on subjects connected with municipal government.

Judge Randolph, Hon. Leon Abbett, Mayor Meigs and Mr. Peter Bentley, discussed the methods of collecting taxes. Judge Randolph thought that a tax should be the same as a mortgage and that the fee should be sold to enforce it. Mr. Abbett suggested that the sale for a term would be better. The question of the number of which Boards of Freeholders should be composed and the powers they should exercise was discussed. Senator Magie, Messrs. Lippincott and Mullen took part in this branch of the discussion. Mayor Hopper submitted a general answer to the questions propounded by the Commission concerning municipal goverment. He favored the most simple form of city goverment, and a system requiring the putting of all expenditures required for a given year in the tax levy of the previous year.

Mayor Meigs suggested that a general system which should classify the cities, while at the same time certain common powers should be granted. He thought a charter might be made of a pyramidal character, so that the city should grow from one class to another.

Mr. Andrew Clark submitted his opinions in writing. He thought that the city goverment should consist of a Mayor and Aldermen elected and all other local officers to be appointed by them. He thought taxes should be a first lien, he favored greater economy in the city government and in the manner of collecting taxes. He thought that the property should be sold as now, and in case no one bid on the property the city could take possession and lease it for a ground rent until all taxes be paid.

President Krugler thought all the commissions should be abolished and chiefs of departments to be appointed by the Mayor, no removals from office except from cause. He objected to a State commission to adjust city debts; thought no public improvement ought to be ordered unless two-thirds of the owners consented.

Several other gentlemen offered their views in a general way.

On motion of Mr. Abbett the City Hall in Newark was selected as the next place of meeting, and the time next Saturday.

ROBBING A BANK BY DAYLIGHT.

VINELAND, N. J., April 22.—The Vineland National Bank was organized only a few months ago, with a capital of $100,000. A gang of expert thieves to-day succeeded in robbing it of $800, and but for the activity and strength of the cashier, they would have carried off as many thousand. At about noon, while the officers of the bank, with the exception of the cashier were at luncheon, a carriage, containing three men, was driven up to the door of the bank. The men were dressed in the garb of farmers, and they represented themselves as such to the cashier. The one who acted as spokesman said he desired to make a purchase in New York, and was afraid that if he sent the money in a letter it might be lost. The cashier suggested the purchase of a draft on New York. Thereupon the pretended farmer ordered a draft to be filled out for $75.

While the cashier was drawing up the draft, one of the thieves dodged behind the railing, opened the door of the vault, and seized a package containing about $8,000. As he was stealing out, he was seen and stopped by the cashier. They wrestled for nearly a minute, and the cashier wrestled the bulk of the money from the robber's hands. By an adroit movement, the thief broke away and ran out to his companions, who were seated in the wagon. He jumped in the wagon, and before aid could be summoned, the thieves had driven away. They secured just $800.

Dr. St. Louis, the wife poisoner, who was to have been executed at Washoo, Neb., April 18th, shot and mortally wounded himself at Fremont early that morning in his cell, where he was being confined. Preparations were being made at the time to convey him to the place of execution. He had tied a handkerchief around his head, and placing a revolver against it, fired, the ball striking his right temple. Death was momentarily expected. How he came in possession of the revolver is a mystery.

New Jersey has been put in quarantine, so far as the importation of cattle into the State of New York is concerned. General Patrick, who has charge of the diseased cattle in New York, has issued a proclamation, in which he says he has full evidence that the contagious pleuro-pneumonia of cattle is extensively prevalent in New Jersey, and that the herds of New York are being infected thereby. By virtue of the authority vested in him by the Governor of New York, he prohibits the importation into that State of any cows or other neat cattle from New Jersey. The order went into effect on Wednesday last, and "all persons are hereby forbidden to introduce or recive such cattle and all common-carriers by land or water to convey them into or within the State under the penalty imposed for disobedience of the Governor's orders."

About three more issues will complete the publication of the State Laws. So patience, friends. We can soon furnish our usual large variety of miscellaneous reading.

ENJOY LIFE.
What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means for enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worried out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint is the direct cause of seventy-five per cent of such maladies as Billiousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine,
Is eminently a Family Medicine; and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.
After over Forty Years trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent physicians commend it for all diseases of the Liver.
AS AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC
Opinion of the Clergy.
SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure. If any of our fellow beings are suffering from hepatic disorders and have doubts in relation to the efficacy of this popular preparation, we can only refer them to the simple and candid argument of Philip to Nathaniel. "Come and see." Try the proposed remedy and then you can judge for yourselves.—Rev. David Wills, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Macon, Ga.
TAKE
SIMMONS' LIVER
REGULATOR.
THE SYMPTOMS of liver complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side.—Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for Rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, Debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them, but the liver is generally the organ most involved.

The monthly is elegantly printed, has an engraved cover in two colors, and is an "ornament to any Piano." There are no advertisements scattered through its pages, but the music is entirely separate, and thus can be bound at any time into a book. The selections comprise Songs with Chorus, Ballads, Comic Songs, Waltzes, Polkas, Galops, Schottisches, Marches, Mazurkas, Nocturnes, &c., &c., all of which can be played on the Piano or Organ; in fact just the pieces you would purchase at the Music Stores for 30 or 40 cents each. Now we have sold many thousand single numbers at 25 cts. each, but in order that every player in the United States and Canadas may see the Magazine and judge of its merits, we will send it postpaid four months for only 50 Cents. Each number contains 12 pieces; thus you receive 48 postpaid for only 50 cents (cash or stamps.) Eight months (96 pieces) for $1. Owing to the expensive manner in which Musical Hours is issued, we cannot afford to send "sample copies."

ST. JOHN'S Commandery, K. T., of Elizabeth, talk of going on a visit to Allentown, Pa., some time next month.

THE Executors' Sale of the Bunnell property, on Wednesday, 23rd inst., was indefinitely postponed.

REV. Mr. Bradford of Montclair will positively occupy the pulpit of the Congregational Church Sunday April 27th.

A HANDSOME new barn is being built for Mr. J. W. Moore, corner of Grove Street and Holy Rood Place, North Plainfield.

THE moon changed last Monday. Members of the Non-partisan Council will please take notice. They ought to know the reason why.

A VALUABLE brown mare, belonging to Messrs. Wilson & Simpson, died suddenly, one day last week, from some cause unknown.

REV. H. Veith will occupy the pulpit of the German Reformed Church, on Fifth st., this city on Sunday afternoon, April 27, at 3 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY was more like a March than April day, clouds of dust obscuring the sight of those who were compelled to be on the streets.

FRENCH'S street sprinkler was out for the first time on Tuesday last and Park Avenue and Front Street residents were grateful for its appearance.

WALKING MATCHES are all the rage at present throughout the country. Where are the athletes of the P. A. C. Are they afraid to walk—in the dark.

THERE has been a constant rush to Whitney's handsome store since his "opening" day last week. The reason is obvious; he is disposing of goods at low rates.

MRS. JACOB THORN has rented her handsome residence on Grove Street, North Plainfield, to New York parties. She will take up her residence in this city with her son Albert.

BISHOP Scarborough was present at Grace Church, Linden, on Sunday last, and preached an interesting sermon, the occasion being the confirmation of a class of nine, adults and heads of families.

A NUMBER of our citizens have caused lamp posts to be erected in front of their residences, and placed lamps thereon each night. As they light them they drop a cuss word for the benefit of our non-partisan Council.

Two loafers named Wadsworth and Lloyd, who in pretending to keep a photograph gallery at Elizabeth, are charged with stripping and violating a young girl aged about 12 years, have been arrested and lodged in the county jail at Elizabeth.

WHEN you hear a person remark that "trade doesn't go up town," you tell him to follow it and see if Shotwell, on the corner of Peace and Front Streets, is not doing a good business in the Dry Goods line. If you don't believe it—read his advertisement.

Two members of the Elizabeth Common Council "came together" during a session of that body on Tuesday evening last, and "clawed and tumbled" about the room. Let us hope "our" non-partisan Council will not so disgrace themselves. Give us "Light."

THE Board of Health of our non partisan Council announced, with a grand flourish, after their appointment, that they should look after the sanitary condition of the city, and prosecute all irregularities. We hope they have not become lukewarm on the subject. Hot weather approaches.

HORACE F. J. DRAKE, of the Elizabeth Herald, is spoken of as one of the Tax Commissioners of that city. His nomination by the Mayor is urged by a large number of the respectable and wealthy citizens. From what we know of Mr. Drake, we think he would be a most competent person for the position.

THE Messrs. Martin Bros. are enhancing the value and improving the looks of their property corner of Park Avenue and Second Street, by laying down in front of the same a handsome blue stone flag walk, 16 feet wide on Second Street and 10 feet wide on Park Avenue. Vail & Shotwell have the contract, and P. Kiely, an excellent workman, superintends the work.

WE were shown a bed of beautiful blooming Crocus, Hyacinths and Tulips in the garden of Postmistress Vail this morning. The seeds which were planted by her, came from Messrs. B. K. Bliss & Sons, 34 Barclay Street, New York. Mrs. V. feels proud over this fine floral display, and well she may, for it is a rarity to see such flowers in bloom at this season in the open air.

APPLICATION was made on Thursday, the 24th inst., to the Somerset Circuit Court, by Suydam & Jackson, Attorneys for the Township of North Plainfield, for the appointment of Commissioners to make a reassessment of the costs, damages and expenses of grading and macadamizing Johnston Drive and Somerset Street, and of grading and paving the gutters of Grove Street Extension.

THE first fly of the season put in an appearance in our sanctum yesterday, alighting on a huge package of unpaid bills and calmly scrutinized the names of the delinquents, after which he flew away. We expect to hear of some awful bad words from the person with the largest amount set opposite his name, when that fly alights on his nose during the days of the heated term in the approaching summer.

Two of the members of Elizabeth's Common Council, Messrs. Bauer and Connelly, came to blows in the Councilmanic Chamber of that city last Tuesday evening, over a dispute about the distribution of public printing. Both survive, and Elizabeth's debt is not yet paid. A warning to our "Non-partizan" City Fathers. It is to be hoped that they will not "come together" unless it is to give us "Light."

A HORSE and harness was stolen from a Mr. Lane, in the vicinity of Two Bridges, in Bridgewater Township, Somerset County, last Monday evening, and a buggy and 2 blankets from John J. Vanderveer, residing near. The thief afterward "traded" animals with Mr. Samuel Merrell, of Dunellen, during the night, and in consequence of "no lights" in our public streets, safely passed through this city, our "police force" being unable to see them. No arrests or recovery of property up to date.

ANOTHER new Dry Goods Store opened in Plainfield. They are getting to be as thick as amateur (?) despoilers of the "fine art of printing," otherwise known as "blacksmiths." Nevertheless Bachman, at his opening to-day in his handsome store, No. 27 Front Street, displayed as large an assortment of goods of every shade and variety as can be found in Plainfield. But, pshaw, read his advertisement and give him a call, and you will know all about it. Mr. Bachman, Sr., is not unknown to many of our citizens as a successful Dry Goods merchant.

DESPITE the fact that we have Relief Committees and Charitable Organizations, the fact is apparent every day that all of the deserving poor do not receive the succor they need. We can cite a case where a man, not of the common tramp species, visited the swill barrel in the back yard of a resident of this city and picked from the barrel refuse victuals and ate them. When discovered in the act by one of the family, and furnished with suitable food from the table, he stated that he was "no tramp" and would not beg. He was out of work and would "sooner starve than beg."

THE hour for dinner at the Sheridan House has been changed from the middle of the day to six o'clock in the afternoon. This splendid family hotel is now taxed to its fullest capacity for the accommodation of guests, and those who patronize it speak in the highest terms of its cuisine and general management. The rooms are large, light, airy and handsomely furnished, and guests enjoy every comfort of a well regulated home. During the session of court a regular dinner will be served at one o'clock for the accommodation of those compelled to be in attendance at court.—Elizabeth Herald.

A Popular Magazine.

MUSICAL HOURS for April contains the following choice pieces: (Vocal) The old fashioned Well by the Wayside, I was a fair young Carlo then, Punchinello, Slumber Song, Darby and Joan, Think of Me nevermore. (Instrumental) Aria, (arranged from Verdi), Edith Belle Waltz, Haydn's Austrian Hymn, Lovely Polka, Pavilion Waltzes, The Captive Heart (Mazurka). This is one of the handsomest monthlies we have seen, and all who desire a first class collection of music at a low price should subscribe for MUSICAL HOURS. Published by G. W. RICHARDSON & Co., 27 Temple Place, Boston.

COONTOWN'S eloping pastor, Rev. George Bowers, who, it is stated, eloped with a married woman named Lecroft, after forging notes and raising money to the extent of some $7,000, has been arrested in Boston, Mass., whither he had gone with his love and other people's money. George will probably rusticate for a term of years in another kind of bower.

May Day Reception.

The ladies of the Children's Home announce that they will (if the day be fine) hold a May Day Reception at the "Home" on Grove Street, North Plainfield, from 4 to 10 o'clock, P. M., Thursday, May 1st, 1879.

Music Hath Charms, etc.,

And the Vocal Society of Plainfield propose giving the citizens of Plainfield, including Common Council, a fine treat shortly. Read their advertisement in another column. That is what it is put there for. Further particulars next week.

Becker's Steam Dye Works.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of the above establishment in another column. They claim to do work equal to New York and at low prices. Such being the case, we hope our citizens will heed their call and give them their work, instead of taking it out of town.

A Popular Song.

The Minstrel and Concert troupe are all singing Will L. Thompson's new Song and Chorus, "Golden Years are passing by." There is now such a mania for this beautiful piece, that dealers can scarcely get them fast enough to supply the demand. Every lover of a pretty song will want this piece. Send 35 cents to the publishers, W. L. THOMPSON & CO., East Liverpool, Ohio.

Fun for the Lawyers.

At a meeting of the Citizens' Building & Loan Association of Plainfield held last Monday evening, it was decided by a large majority vote to bring suits against the old Board of Directors of the Association for alleged irregularities when they were "ruling things." In the mean time, those who have money locked up in the Institution will have to grin and bear their pro rata of expense incidental to the suits when the lawyers get through the case.

Something New for the Ladies.

Messrs. Richardson & Clayton are agents canvassing this city for "Dean's patent Polishing, Smoothing and Fluting Irons," a most capital article, simple in construction and easy to manage. One of them may be seen at Mrs. Force's Fancy Goods Store, No. 8 Park Avenue. The agents will remain a few days longer at No. 12 East 5th Street, and will call at residences to show the article.

Bock Beer.

Fred Caspar, the beer caterer of Second Street, has made extensive improvements in his establishment, and desires the public to call and look at the same. He has also purchased a handsome wagon for delivery of goods. The lovers of good beer should call on "Fred." He knows how to entertain them, whether it is by furnishing an opportunity of playing a quiet game at the shuffle board or by practicing at nine pins or rifle shooting.

Adjourned Again.

What is the matter with our Real Estate speculators? Three times has the Assignee's sale of valuable building lots in North Plainfield (property of Wallace Vail) been adjourned in consequence of no bidders being on the ground at the time of the sale. Once more the Assignee, E. P. Thorn, has determined to test the buying propensities of the Plainfield public, or any one else that desires to secure a valuable plot of land for a mere song. Next Saturday, at 5, P. M., is the time set. There is no humbug in this sale. The property must be sold.—Read the advertisement in another column.

The Mansion House.

The above well-known Hotel, (late "City Hotel,") will be formally opened on Saturday next, April 26th, at which Mr. E. P. Thorn, proprietor of the Bar and Billiard rooms invites his many friends. Messrs. W. E. Young & Co., who have charge of the culinary department have met with satisfactory success since they took possession of the establishment, April 1st. The guests of the house speak in the highest terms of the cuisine under Mrs. Young's management. Mr. Thorn has been unable to open the bar at an earlier date in consequence of the extensive alterations and improvements that he has been making, at his own expense, to the interior of the house. The bar room proper is now about 30x25 feet in dimensions, with an arch way in the centre. A handsome bar 20 feet long extends across the room parallel with Second Street. On either end are beautiful bronze pedestal gas stands. Behind the bar everything is roomy and neat. A feature of the same is a number of elegant square shape bottles of fine glass, gilded about the neck and top, which were the property of the late Jacob Thorn, founder and builder of the Mansion House, and father of the present proprietor. The walls of the bar room are covered with handsome gilt paper, and the ceilings painted a light blue. Passing from the bar room guests enter the Clerk's Room, which is roomy and cheerful. Here one of Holmes' patent Enunciator's indicate when a call is required at the room of a guest.

Two cozy ante-rooms just off the Bar and Clerk's room affords opportunity for a quiet chat and smoke by those who so desire the same. The gent's parlor is located on the first floor as you enter the Park Avenue entrance. It is comfortable in every respect, with easy chairs and lounges, a large centre table, on which are always to be found the local and leading papers of the land. The billiard room is situated in the basement of the Hotel, and is a cool and pleasant resort during the summer for the lovers of the game, and contains three tables of Collender's celebrated manufacture. The ladies' Parlor is situated at the head of the stairs on the second floor at the main entrance on Park Avenue. The house contains 38 rooms, and has a number of permanent boarders. The rates are in keeping with the times. The bar is stocked with the purest brands of liquors, wines and segars. The work of repairing and refitting was done by the following named firms and persons: The mason work by Isaac Melborne, the carpenter work by Shepherd, Johnson & Godown, the painting and paper hanging by E. C. Morse, the plumbing by Wm. Addis. The paper came from the factory of our old advertisers G. F. & C. E. Brown, No. 321 Canal Street, N. Y. The pedestal gas fixtures from Gavett's. An enterprising feature in the new management will be the displaying of fair and foul weather signals from the flag staff on top of the building. In fair weather a white flag will appear at the top of the staff and on approach of foul weather a red flag with black centre will be displayed; for indications of a windy day, look out for a white flag with black centre.

"Plainfield Fair Grounds."

The natural position of Plainfield as the center of Union County is about to assert itself in the contemplated locating of the Fair Grounds of Union and Middlesex Counties within its limits. Although, strictly speaking, Avon Park is without the judicial supervision of the Plainfield Fathers, it is still within the arms of Plainfield's influence. It is at this most central location and natural position for anything of the sort that the proposed Fair Grounds are to be placed. For a number of years the project has been thought of, but the full need of such a thing and its absolute necessity was not fully apparent until the great interest manifested last Fall in the Somerville and Waverly Fairs demonstrated the want. The sum netted by the management of the Waverly State Fair, last season, was in the neighborhood of $6,000. The site of the proposed grounds, while not rivaling those of the State Associations in position, are so situated that the agricultural wealth of Middlesex and that also of Union would present no mean comparison with the displays at the Waverly Fair; while in its receipts the comparison would doubtless be as favorable to our proposed home association. The macadamized road between this city and the Park, and the hard road bed between that and Metuchen, with the three railroads in close proximity, seems to indicate nothing less than the success that such external auxiliaries always guarantee. The management of the affair in its internal arrangements, being under our own home enterprise, awakened to the want of a first-class Fair, will, of course, leave nothing to be desired in that respect. Subscription papers are now in circulation to obtain a sufficient amount to proceed with the erection of buildings and the preparation of the grounds for a Fall exhibition. The par value of the shares of stock are $10 (each share entitling to three admissions) and as soon as 500 shares are subscribed, work will be commenced upon the improvements necessary. In the distribution of the honors of the government of the Association, Middlesex County, as the larger and wealthier in an agricultural point of view, would probably receive a majority of the Directors. Plainfield will, however, be the focus of all the indirect immediate benefits that will accrue from having within its embrace a popular public institution such as this, and her business men as well as the farmers, who naturally are more immediately interested, should give it their hearty support. The project, as far as it has been canvassed, has been most enthusiastically received, and as it should be. Do further canvass will make the affair a certainty, we think.

Personalia.

Foreman Hurlbert of THE CONSTITUTIONALIST Office, celebrated the Tenth Anniversary of his marriage at his residence last Tuesday evening, and a most enjoyable occasion was the result. "Burt" has been with us now some ten years and no more faithful or competent employee have we had during that period. We wish him and his family a continuance of prosperity and happiness.

FIRE MATTERS.

On one of the outside pages of this issue will be found a law passed by the last Legislature, known as "Chapter CXCVI," which is of importance to the "Firemen's Relief Association," of Plainfield. The officers should cut the law from our columns and paste it inside their hats. There's money in it, boys.

Two fires within three days of each other, just out of the fire limits. Look out for the rotten hose when the "big" fire occurs within the limits. "An ounce of prevention, &c.," Messrs. Fire Commissioners.

The election for Chief and two Assistants of the Department occurs on Monday evening, May 5th. There does not seem to be any anxious aspirants for the office. There are too many "dam" words in store for them from a portion of the public who cannot seem to understand the true worth of a fireman in his endeavors to save property with a limited amount of means placed at his disposal.

The two story and a-half brick dwelling of Mrs. Robert Searle, back of Short Hills, just out of the city limits, was destroyed by fire on Monday night last, the family, comprising Mrs. Searle and three children, barely escaping with their lives. How the fire originated is a mystery, although the probable cause was a defective flue, as a hot fire had been in use during the day incidental to the completion of the family wash and ironing. The occupants had retired early, sleeping on the first floor. The eldest daughter was awakened during the night by a crackling noise, which she attributed to hail. Arising from her couch, she went to the door, and at a glance saw that the building was on fire in the upper story. Mrs. Searle awakened the other children, and all made their escape through a window. The eldest daughter succeeded in dragging out doors her sewing machine; everything else in the house was consumed, the occupants escaping only in their night clothes. The screams of the affrighted family brought to the scene neighbors residing quite a distance away, the first to arrive being Mr. Andrew Smith, who resides in one of Mr. Darling's houses with his sister, a widow lady named King. By him the family were removed to his residence, and suitable clothing furnished them. A subscription was started by Mr. Smith himself, Mr. Wm. Darling and other neighbors contributing liberally. A sufficient sum was raised to purchase a few household articles and necessaries of life, and Mrs. Searle will once more commence housekeeping life as soon as she can find rooms. Mr. Searle was not at home at the time, having left his family some four weeks ago to go to England in hopes of settling up some family affairs. There was no insurance on the building, a three years' policy having expired last September. The charitable spirit displayed by Mr. Smith and others in the interest of the deserving unfortunates, is to be commended. Since writing the above we learn that there was an insurance of $600 in the Westchester Insurance Company, W. C. Butler, Agent. Mr. Searle, before leaving for Europe had the building insured for the amount above mentioned.

Last Tuesday night, about half-past eleven o'clock, an alarm of fire was raised in this city, caused by the burning of Mr. Andrew Child's residence at Dunellen. Warren hand engine, Alert Hose and the Truck Company turned out and went towards the fire. By order of the officers of the two steamers, neither apparatus were taken out, or the alarm struck from the tower, as the fire was out of the limits of the department. The fire originated in the Billiard Room of the building. By the strenuous efforts of the citizens of the place a portion of the property was saved. This is the second time that Mr. Child's residence, on the same grounds, has been destroyed within 18 months. The loss is fully covered by insurance. Dunellen should have a Fire Department. Blazes are becoming too frequent there. Make it "Non-Partisan," and light your street lamps.

The Samptown Baptist Church, Middlesex Co., an old land-mark, was destroyed by fire April 23d. Cause of fire unknown.

Wednesday afternoon last, the house occupied by Mr. Wenzel on South Second Street, below Plainfield Avenue, took fire from sparks from a passing locomotive, and was utterly destroyed, despite the efforts of the firemen, who were unable to procure water to throw on the flames. The alarm was first sounded by the engineer of Spicer & Hubbard's Planing Mill, who blew the whistle of the establishment. Engine No. 2, under charge of the "Exempts" went to the brook in the rear of the premises of the late Phineas Randolph, which is situated some 1,500 feet away from the fire, and after a "lapse of time" succeeded in getting sufficient hose to reach the flames, doing efficient execution. The Zephyr Hook & Ladder boys did good work in "wetting down" the sides of adjacent buildings, which were in peril. The "Warren" laddies worked like trojans to get the "first stream on" and succeeded, taking suction from a well in the immediate vicinity of the fire; but "hand engines," like muzzle loading guns, are behind the age, and their efforts were futile to extinguish the fire. As was to be expected several lengths of hose were burst in consequence of their rotten condition, and the long distance through which water was forced through them, and the average grumbler, who "knows all about the workings of the Department," had his "cuss" against the Board and every one connected with the Department. The fire was finally extinguished, and the Insurance Company who had a risk of $1,500 on the structure (the "Hanover," of New York, B. F. Webster, of this city, Agent,) will promptly settle the same. The structure was known as the "Martin Building," having been built many years ago by the late Dr. Martin. It was of oak frame and filled in with brick, which accounted in a measure for its slow consumption by the fire fiend. After all the grumbling that was heard last Wednesday, it is a wonder if any of the "boys" want to serve the dear public in the capacity of firemen much longer.

At a special meeting of Gazelle, No. 1, held in their parlors on Wednesday evening last, T. O. Doane was nominated for Chief, Andrew Carney, 1st Assistant and S. T. Varian, 2d Assistant.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

[Under the above head we shall endeavor each week to give items and news of interest to the lovers of fishing, gunning, trotting, athletic and other sports. We shall be pleased to receive contributions or items for this column from all interested in such matters.]

The Annual Meeting of the "Central N. J. Game and Fish Protective Society," for the election of officers for the ensuing year, will be held at the "Mansion House," in Plainfield, on Saturday, May 31, 1879, at 3. P. M. Other important business will also come before the meeting. Notice of same will be found in our advertising columns.

The Raritan Boat Club of New Brunswick have selected their officers and crew, as follows: President, Charles W. Russell; Vice President, William M. Van Ness; Secretary, W. H. Way; Treasurer, H. L. Janeway, Jr.; Captain, James Anten; Crew—S. N. Warren, H. L. Janeway, Jr., A. Bishop and C. W. Russell. The rival organization from Rutgers College will elect their crew from Messrs. Todd, '79; Hill, '79; Vaughan, '80; Schenewelse, '81; Scudder, '82, and Baker, '82.

According to the revised statutes of New Jersey, Sunday gunning is punishable with a fine of $25, except for those who observe the seventh day of the week as the Sabbath, and they can gun on their own land only the first day of the week. Under the old Sunday law of the State, shooting on Sunday is punishable with fine or imprisonment.

The committee appointed by the New Jersey State Sportsmen's Association for the purpose of getting up a grand tournament of the different clubs throughout the State have had several meetings, and everything bids fair for a successful convention of sportsmen this spring. The tournament will continue three days, perhaps four.

A Grand Shooting Tournament is to be held at Freehold, Monmouth county on the 20th of May next.

Pierre Lorillard's "Parole" scored another victory in the English races on Tuesday last, winning the City and Suburban stakes at Epsom Downs on that occasion.

The Gentlemen's Driving Association of Newark, will open the season with trotting on the Waverly Fair Grounds on Saturday, May 3rd. In a conversation yesterday with Mr. Louis Dunham, who has in training several fine trotters belonging to Mr. Wm. Moore, of this city, we learned that the animals are in fine condition and a good record of them may be expected at the opening trots of the Association. There is no more careful or competent trainer than Mr. D. in the State, and Plainfield horse flesh may be expected to take some of the first prizes at Waverly the coming Summer.

Again is the American heart made to beat with pleasure. "Parole," Pierre Lorillard's wonder, has won the third race in England, (the Metropolitan purse) and Mr. L. is richer by many thousands of dollars. Take your old hat. Who next. Blood will tell.

At Brixton Range on Saturday last, Mr. W. M. Farrow won the Ballard rifle for the third time with a score of 89.

The new grounds of the Long Branch Gun Club, numbering about 250 members of the crack shots of America, were located last week by authority of the club, at Deal Beach, the terminus of the Ocean avenue drive from Long Branch, along the sea shore. The ground comprises ten acres opposite the Deal Beach station of the Central R. R. of N. J., so that visitors can reach it by rail or carriage from Long Branch in a few minutes. A club house and a stand will be erected immediately, the latter placed 35 yards from the traps, the traps to be shot at 18 yards' rise. The sports will be confined to glassball and pigeon shooting, the boundaries to be marked by lines of fences 80 yards distant from the traps. The club intend to have the house and grounds in complete order by July 1st.

A letter to Major Anderson, Fish Commissioner, states that Captain Decker caught 50,000 suckers at the Delaware Water Gap during last week, making three wagonloads, which were sold profitably in the vicinity.

The provisions of the law prohibiting fishing for shad on the Sabbath are being enforced throughout the State.

"Uncle Billy" Moore is happy and he has a right to be, for has not his favorite mare "Bee" given birth to a fine mare colt. The young wonder's sire is "Blackwood," Jr.

WILLIAM J. ROOME.

William J. Roome died at his residence in North Plainfield on Saturday evening last. He had been confined to his house for several weeks, and gradually becoming worse his demise was not wholly unexpected by his family and friends. Mr. Roome was born in the city of New York on the first day of August 1800, and at the time of his death was in the 79th year of his age. He studied law and was admitted to the bar in the early part of this present century and at once began the practice of his profession in the city of New York, where he continued to practice for nearly half a century. He always stood high among the profession. In 1865 he retired from active practice and came to North Plainfield, where he purchased a small farm, and has resided there since that time. Soon after he settled, he began to improve his property by cutting streets through and laying it out in building sites which made it very valuable; and by reason of the improvements made by Mr. Roome, Washington Park in North Plainfield is one of the most beautiful and attractive parts of that town. He was a man of public spirit and had his infirmities for the past three or four years not prohibited he would undoubtedly have added much more to the wealth and beauty of North Plainfield. So far as lay in his power he was always ready to do his share in advancing the interests of his section. It has been the privilege of the writer to have had an intimate acquaintance with him during the last few years. He was kind, affable, gentle, and in conversation very agreeable and entertaining. Many are the hours he has entertained his friends with his experience at the bar, in his business and in his contact with the old residents of New York, most of whom he survived. His life was filled with varied interesting incidents, because of his having been so acquainted and associated; for having been in the years gone by prominent at the bar he knew intimately most of the able lawyers of that State, who stood foremost at the bar when he began. He was a complete encyclopedia of reminiscences of the old times of New York, which his wonderful memory had vividly retained. For many years he has been an active consistent working christian man in the church and out of it. His large heart, his sound judgment, his liberal views, his impassionate utterances, his charitable disposition, his deep sympathy for those in suffering and poverty, ever made him a noble man in the highest sense of that word. No one could converse with him for any considerable length of time without feeling that he had been highly edified thereby. By his death another link is sundered, which binds the present with the past; and though gone—passed over and beyond into his final rest—safe on the other side—surely the life that he lived graced every step from the cradle to the grave.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

An adjourned meeting of the Improvement Com. was held April 19th inst., at 8 P. M., at the Lyceum Rooms, J. S. Irving in the Chair. In the absence of H. Horsford, Secretary, Frank T. Baker was chosen Secretary, pro tem. The Committee appointed at last meeting to confer with the property owners along the line of proposed improvement, reported that the owners had all given their consent to the same, a portion expressing their willingness to contribute toward the expense of the improvement. After considerable discussion how and in what manner the improvement should go on, on motion, Messrs. J. S. Irving, James L. Miller, John M. C. Marsh, Geo. W. Tice and John Darsh were appointed a Committee to make examinations of the work, take levels and measurements of the same and report probable cost at an adjourned meeting to be held on Saturday evening, April 26.

Overseer of Road District No. 8, should repair sidewalk on Prospect st., between Broad st., and North avenue, before an accident befalls some unlucky pedestrian on a dark night, as we have no gas.

Samuel M. Foster, who has been very sick for some time, was out on Monday attending to his business.

Dr. Harrison has commenced grading around his new residence, corner Broad and Elm streets. It can be made one of the finest places in the village.

A new residence is in course of erection on the east side of Westfield avenue, by Sparkman & Segar, for a lady in New York, to be completed by June 1st.

Brocksmith, our popular hotel keeper, has had the masons and carpenters at work the past week, giving the hotel a complete overhauling, cleaning the walls, and fixing up things generally.

Why were the flags flying at the top of the poles at Mugginsville on Saturday. Was it a holiday for that place?

Who will be the first to make complaint and an example of some of the young men, who on every evening during the week, and especially Sunday evenings, are making offensive remarks to ladies passing along the streets. The law is very plain regarding it: $20 fine or 30 days in the county jail.

Mrs. John Darsch and Mr. Heineke, of Westfield, and Mrs. Herman Darsch, of Cranford, sailed on Saturday, 19th inst., in the steamer Necker, for Bremen. They expect to be absent about three months.

Dr. Charles A. Kinch and family moved on Tuesday to New York city, where he intends establishing a practice. He will be missed by a great many in our village.

Geo. Godfrey, real estate agent, rented on Tuesday the residence of George Gardner, on First street, to a Mr. Marks, a lawyer of New York, who will take possession May 1st.

The suit of William Clark, qui tam, plaintiff, vs. Alzamory Buck, defendant, was tried on Saturday afternoon, the 19th inst., before George Godfrey, Justice. Suit was brought by Clark against Buck to recover the penalty for neglecting to scrape the roads of which Buck was overseer, before the 1st day of April. A jury of six men were duly summoned by J. M. C. Marsh, constable, consisting of H. J. Webb, Samuel Harris, C. L. Messler, N. R. Day, T. H. Clark and James W. Cox. James C. Bolton, of Plainfield, attorney for Mr. Clark, and Wm. C. Peckham, township counsel, representing Mr. Buck. At the time appointed for the trial—3 o'clock—Brocksmith's Hall was packed with the citizens of the village and those of Mugginsville and Branch. It was a suit that had been the talk of the township for two weeks or more. After the jury was sworn, Mr. Peckham, the defendant's counsel, asked leave to make a motion for nonsuit, making a very forcible speech, in which he pitched into plaintiff, overseer and constable. He showed the court the law under which the suit was brought, which is a very old road law, and then the law passed in 1860, repealing the same, which left no other course for the court to do but discontinue the suit and render judgment against Mr. Clark for the costs in the case, upon which Mr. Clark paid the same.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

Rev. J. H. Vincent will occupy the pulpit of the M. E. Church of this village next Sabbath morning, and will administer the holy sacrament. All are cordially invited to attend.

Common Council Proceedings.

MONDAY EVENING, April 21, 1879.

Council met pursuant to adjournment.

Present—Coriell, Depew, Finch, Lithgow, Mayer, Potts, Rushmore, Redfield, Simpson, Stewart, Stover.

Pres. Potts in the chair.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Mr. Lithgow presented petition of Lemuel W. Bennet and others as to bad condition of a portion of roadbed on Plainfield Ave., between Front St. and railroad. Ref'd to St. Com.

Mr. Coriell presented petition of Sarah L. Sheppard asking for permission to put up an addition to her frame building on Front St. Ref'd to Com. on Fire, Water & Lamps.

By the same—Petition of Gerome Fisk for permission to erect a wooden awning in front of his place of business on Park Ave. Ref'd as above.

Mr. Stover requested the petition of Mr. E. P. Thorn, relative to his Hotel license taken from the table. After its reading, Mr. Stover stated that it was the desire of Mr. Thorn to have the word "Hotel" changed to that of "Saloon" in his petition for license. So agreed to. Mr. Stover then presented Mr. Thorn's petition for a saloon license to sell spirituous and fermented liquors in the building situate cor. Park Ave. and 2d Street, known now as the "Mansion House." Ref'd to License Com.

Mr. Lithgow presented claim of Geo. M. Angleman, St. Com'r, work done on streets, $398 28. Ref'd to St. Com.

Mr. Redfield presented the following claims: T. J. Gillies, inspector of money election, $6; T. J. Gillies, salary, &c., $41 45; Alex. M. Runyon, burial of pauper, $9; S. B. DeCosta, Overseer of Poor, Basking Ridge, board, $12; Geo. Mohl, board, $34; Geo. Green, rent, $36; Geo. C. Owen, board, $5; Edward Connell, rent, $12. The claim of T. J. Gillies, $4, was referred to Com. on Sala., Offices & Elec'ns, and the balance of claims to Alms Com.

Mr. Depew, from Finance Com., reported as correct claim of New Charter Com., expenses at Trenton, $164 [illegible]. Ref'd to Aud. Com.

By the same—Claim of Platt & Kelly, amounting with interest to $92 62, as correct. Ref'd to Aud. Com.

By the same—That $500 remained in the Treasury.

Mr. Lithgow, from Fire, Water & Lamp Com., the following claims as correct: J. O. Nodyne, $44 50; Berry & Thorn, $10 95; Plainfield Gaslight Co., $222 99; N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gaslight Co., $115 32. Ref'd to Aud. Com.

By the same—That the petition of Dr. Tomlinson to enclose a portion of his veranda be granted. So ordered.

Mr. Rushmore, from License Com., reported the petitions for Saloon License of Wm. Sullivan, Patrick Day, E. P. Thorn and John Rafferty conformed to the License Ord. and moved the petitions be granted.

The petition of John Rafferty was acted upon, and license granted by the following vote: For—Depew, Finch, Lithgow, Mayer, Potts, Rushmore, Simpson, Stover—8. Against—Coriell, Redfield, Stewart—3.

E. P. Thorn, license granted by the same vote.

Wm. Sullivan, license granted by the same vote.

Upon petition of Patrick Day considerable discussion was had. Mr. Stover stated that he had been informed that Mr. Day's license expired on the 4th of February last, and would suggest that Mr. Day's license be dated from that time, &c.

Mr. Lithgow hoped that this license of Mr. Day's would not be granted at all. It was a bad place; women were in the habit of getting intoxicated and disturbing the quietude of the residents in the immediate vicinity of 2d St.; he hoped that this license would not be granted. After farther discussion on this license, it was, on motion, re-referred back to License Com. for investigation.

At this juncture, Mr. Depew arose and stated that it had since been learned that Sullivan's, on 2d St., was the place where disturbances were quite frequent, and as he had voted in the affirmative on Sullivan's license, would move for a reconsideration of the vote. So agreed to. Sullivan's license, on motion, was re-referred back to License Com. for investigation.

Mr. Lithgow, from Com. on Sala., Offices & Elec'ns, reported the following claims as correct: T. J. Gillies, J. B. Dunham and Jas. Mullen, each $5. Ref'd to Aud. Com.

Mr. Finch, from St. Com., reported correct claim of Geo. M. Angleman, St. Com'r, $398 28. Referred to Aud. Com.

Mr. Lithgow presented the following:

Whereas, Mr. Geo. W. Moore was duly appointed a special officer by the Council of 1878, and assigned by the Police Board to special duty; and whereas, no provision was made to pay him by said Council; and whereas, this Council believes that justice demands that services rendered by said Geo. W. Moore should be paid for, therefore Resolved, That the sum of $[illegible] per month be paid to said Geo. W. Moore, commencing September 20, 1878, and ending on the 1st of January, '79.

Considerable discussion was had on the above. Mr. Lithgow dwelt at some length in the matter in question, and thought that Mr. Moore should be paid for his services; it was honest, and it was right, and he hoped that the Council would pay this claim.

Mr. Stover thought that it would be making this claim a precedent. The opinion of the Corporation Counsel had been had in the matter, and he had decided that Mr. Moore was not entitled to any more pay than the State law allowed. [The opinion of the Corporation Counsel was here read for Mr. Lithgow's benefit, as he was absent at the last meeting of Council.] Several of the members thought that the claim should be paid, but did not see how they could go back of the opinion of the Corporation Counsel. Upon a vote being taken upon Mr. Lithgow's preambles and res. they were lost by the following vote: Ayes—Lithgow, Mayer, Potts, Rushmore, Simpson—5. Noes—Coriell, Depew, Finch, Redfield, Stewart, Stover—6.

Mr. Simpson, from Aud. Com., reported the following claims as correct: N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gaslight Co., $115 32; Plainfield Gaslight Co., $222 99; Berry & Thorn, $10 95; J. O. Nodyne, $44 50; T. J. Gillies, J. B. Dunham, Jas. Mullen, each $5; Geo. M. Angleman, St. Com'r, $398 28. On motion, report received and warrants ordered drawn for the several amounts, all aye.

Mr. Stover called from the table the report of the Law & Ord. Com. relative to Putnam Street. After the reading of the report Mr. Stover requested that his resolution relative to this matter be also read. So agreed to. The res. in question is as follows:

Whereas, A petition of various property owners on Broadway and Kensington Avenue was some time since presented to the Common Council setting forth their grievances caused by the wrongful turning of the water from Putnam St. through Kensington Avenue and thence into Broadway, which petition was referred to the Com. on Sts. and Public Health, they having just submitted their reports suggesting two ways of remedying the evil, and

Whereas, In the opinion of the Common Council there is but one just and lawful way to treat this matter, which is to allow the water to take its natural course down Putnam Street, which it would take were it not for the obstructions which have been placed at its intersection with Kensington avenue; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Street Commissioner be authorized and directed to at once remove the obstruction by placing a culvert on each side of Putnam street at the crossing of Kensington avenue, thus allowing the water to follow its natural course down Putnam street to Cedar Brook.

A lively discussion was had on this res. Mr. Finch spoke at some length, presenting a remonstrance signed by Evan Jones and others, map accompanying, giving the number of feet owned by the remonstrators, &c. Mr. Finch thought the Council had better let it alone, it would cost too much, and the city could not afford to lose several hundred dollars, etc. Mr. Stover thought this matter had been let alone long enough; the opinion of the Corporation Counsel had been had in the matter, averring that the Council had the right to go ahead with the work. After some further discussion, Mr. Finch moved that the report of the Law & Ord. Com. be not accepted. Upon a vote being taken, the Law & Ord. Com. were sustained, Mr. Finch voting in the negative.

Mr. Depew offered the following:

Whereas, The note given to the First National Bank of Plainfield January 19, 1879, for $3,500, will be due on the 22d inst.

Resolved, That His Honor the Mayor and the City Treasurer be and are hereby requested and empowered to borrow from the First National Bank the sum of $3,500 for a period of 3 months from date, and out of said sum to pay the $3,500 maturing on the 22d inst.

Plainfield, N. J., Apl. 21, 1879.

On motion, adopted, all aye.

Mr. Stover called from the table the supplement to the License Ord. relative to opening and closing of saloons, for its 2d Reading. Read 2d time, and on motion, passed. All aye.

Council then adjourned.

RAPID TRANSIT FOR JERSEY.

At a recent meeting of Jerseymen engaged in business in New York, to secure cheap and rapid transit, as well as more facilities for travel to and from suburban towns in New Jersey, a committe of ten was appointed to confer with railroad officials. This committee met in the Coal and Iron Exchange on Wednesday afternoon. There were present Mayor H. J. Hopper of Jersey City, William Ryle, President of the Paterson Board of Trade; William Walter Phelps of Englewood; Amos Clark, Jr., of Elizabeth; C. A. Rankle, of New Providence; William R. Potts of Plainfield; John F. Babcock of New Brunswick, and Mayor H. J. Yates of Newark. It was expected that some of the officials of the railroads running through the New Jersey towns would be present, but none attended.

Superintendent Jackson, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, sent a telegram saying that he had been called out of town. He said his company would give as low rates as would be remunerative, and by frequent and quick trains offer such inducements as to encourage the growth of towns in the neighborhood of the line of the road through New Jersey. A note was received from Anthony Reckless, of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, expressing his inability to attend the conference. Notes, in which the writers promised to co-operate in the movement, had previously been received from Mr. Jewett, of the New York, Lake Erie and Western, and Mr. Lathrop of the Central of New Jersey.

Mr. William Walter Phelps of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, said that he thought the railroads would willingly meet their patrons in the matter under consideration, both by running rapid transit trains morning and night, and by making the commutation in direct ratio to the time, so that a person who commutes by the month shall pay no more than one who commutes by the year, as at present.

A sub-committee consisting of Mayor Yates, W. R. Potts, and William O. McDowell, was appointed to prepare and present the views of the committee to railroad officials.

THE GRAVES OF THE NATION'S DEAD.

It is probably generally remembered that some years ago—in 1873—congress passed a law providing for the erection of durable head stones over the graves of soldiers of the regular and volunteer forces of the United States whose remains are interred in the National Military Cemeteries. This law has been carried out, and the graves of the nation's dead in these cemeteries are now permanently marked. At the instance of the War Department, Congress has recently authorized the erection of similar head-stones over the graves of the Union soldiers who are buried in private and village cemeteries. This will be done as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made. In the meantime the Quartermaster-General, at Washington, will at once proceed to collect the necessary information as to where these head-stones are required.

All persons having any knowledge of the burial places of soldiers in private cemeteries whose graves are not marked, are requested to communicate the fact to the Quartermaster-General, and give regiment, company, and date of death of deceased, if known. Similar information is desired from parties in charge of such cemeteries.

Of course it is not intended to furnish head-stones for graves over which monuments have already been erected by relatives or friends of the deceased.

The body of the girl found in the water at Sandy Hook on Sunday afternoon has been recognized by the clothing as that of Frances Eder, daughter of Jacob Eder of Sayresville, N. J. She was playing with her sister Maggie and Kate Mitchell on the ice, in the Raritan River, on the afternoon of Jan. 11, and the ice gave way. The accident was witnessed by two men in a sloop anchored near. The men found Maggie Eder, the eldest, clinging to the edge of the ice, and rescued her. Frances Eder, aged 10, and Katie Mitchell, aged 12, were both drowned. Jacob Eder employed a diver for two days to search the bottom of the river. The body of Katie Mitchell was recovered on Saturday last about two miles from the place of the drowning.

7. And be it enacted, That the governor and commander in chief be and he is hereby authorized to appoint and commission at his discretion, as in his judgment the public service may require, two assistant inspectors of rifle practice, with the rank of lieutenant colonel, or he may detail officers to act as such if he deems proper.

8. And be it enacted, That whenever the additional companies of the national guard drilled in the use of the gatling or other similar guns have more than fifty enlisted men, they shall be entitled to two second lieutenants, and two hundred and fifty dollars per annum in addition to the allowance now by law, the same to be approved by the major general of division.

9. And be it enacted, That the fourth section of the supplement of the act to which this is a supplement, which was approved March first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy, which reads as follows:

"4. And be it enacted, That in lieu of the term of seven years, as now provided by section seventy-one of the act to which this is a supplement, the term of service in the national guard shall be six years, in two terms of enlistment of three years each, and that every person having enlisted for and served faithfully for a term of three years, shall be entitled to and receive an honorable discharge, under such conditions as now exist in relation to discharges from the national guard, but shall not be entitled to any exemption or privileges as now provided by laws, and that every person who, having served one term of three years, shall re-enlist, either immediately or at any future time, for a further term of three years, and shall faithfully serve the same, shall be entitled to and receive an honorable discharge, under conditions as heretofore provided, and shall be entitled to and receive all the privileges and exemptions provided by law," be and the same is hereby repealed.

10. And be it enacted, That the ninth section of the supplement of the act to which this is a supplement, which was approved April fourth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, which reads as follows:

"9. And be it enacted, That in lieu of two terms of enlistment of three years each, the term of service in the national guard shall hereafter be five years, and that it shall be upon one enlistment; but that any person now serving in the national guard, who, under the existing law, has re-enlisted for his second term of three years, shall be entitled to a full discharge when he shall have served two years of his said second enlistment," be and the same is hereby repealed.

11. And be it enacted, That the seventy-first section of the act to which this is a supplement, which was approved March ninth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, which reads as follows:

"71. And be it enacted, That every officer, non commissioned officer, musician and private who is or may become attached to the national guard, shall ipso facto be held to be enlisted therein, and shall be holden to duty therein for the full term of seven years from the date of such enlistment, unless disability incapacitate him, or he shall remove from this state," be amended so as to read as follows:

71. And be it enacted, That the term of service in the national guard shall be five years, and every officer, non commissioned officer, musician and private who is or may become attached to the national guard, shall ipso facto be held to be enlisted therein, and shall be holden to duty therein for the full term of five years from the date of such his enlistment, unless disability incapacitate him or he shall remove from this state.

12 And be it enacted, That the seventy fifth section of the act to which this is a supplement, which was approved March ninth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty nine, which reads as follows:

"75. And be it enacted, That every officer, non-commissioned officer, musician and private, now belonging to or who shall hereafter enlist in the national guard, who shall serve faithfully therein for the term of seven years, shall at his request, receive a discharge from the commander in-chief entitling him to exemption thereafter from jury duty, and from all militia duty, except in time of war and insurrection; to entitle any such officer, non commissioned officer, musician or private to said privileges and exemptions, he shall have attended every division, brigade, regimental or battalion and company parade, or paid the fine for any delinquency, or have been excused therefrom by the proper authority," be amended so as to read as follows:

75. And be it enacted, That every officer, non commissioned officer, musician, and private now belonging to or who shall hereafter enlist in the national guard, who shall serve faithfully therein for the term of five years, shall at his request, receive a discharge from the commander in-chief entitling him to exemption thereafter from jury duty, and from all militia duty, except in time of war and insurrection; to entitle any such officer, non commissioned officer, musician or private to said privileges and exemptions, he shall have attended every division, brigade, regimental, or battalion and company parade, or paid the fine for any delinquency, or have been excused therefrom by the proper authority.

13. And be it enacted, That if any officer shall be guilty of neglect of duty, disobedience of orders, fraud, embezzlement, misappropriation of military funds, conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman or conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline while on duty, he shall on conviction thereof, by a general court martial, be punished by reprimand, cashiered or dismissed as the court may adjudge by its sentence.

14. And be it enacted, That the governor and commander-in-chief is hereby authorized, upon the recommendation of the state military board, to offer prizes for skill in marksmanship among the members of the national guard.

15. And be it enacted, That the first section of the supplement of the act to which this is a supplement, which was approved April fourth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy three, which reads as follows:

"1. And be it enacted, That whenever any regiment, battalion or battery shall be ordered to parade for inspection, transportation shall be furnished by the quartermaster general upon the requisition of the commanding officer of such regiment, battalion or battery, approved by the brigade commander," be amended so as to read as follows:

1. And be it enacted, That whenever any regiment, battalion or battery shall be ordered to parade for inspection, transportation shall be furnished by the quartermaster general upon the requisition of the commanding officer of such regiment, battalion or battery, approved by the brigade commander and division commander.

16. And be it enacted, That in addition to the number of days for drill, now required by law, all the national guard may, once in three years, when so ordered by the governor, be required to attend an encampment at such time and place as the commander-in-chief may appoint, which encampment shall continue at least five consecutive days, during which time the troops shall be exercised in company and battalion movements and target practice, and be carefully instructed in the whole routine of camp and field duty.

17. And be it enacted, That whenever any existing company of the national guard is to be furnished for the first time with the regulation uniform adopted by this state, the quartermaster general is hereby authorized under the approval of the governor and commander-in-chief to furnish the same, at the contract price upon the requisition of the regimental or battalion commandant, properly approved; and it shall be the duty of the quartermaster general to notify the comptroller of the treasury, on or before the first Monday in April of the sum charged against such company, battalion and regiment for uniforms so furnished, tested to them by the quartermaster general, and that one-half of the amount so reported shall be by the comptroller of the treasury deducted from the annual appropriation from such company, battalion or regiment.

18. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

"MY SARVANT DORR."

A CORRESPONDENT of the Morning Star reproduces this old story which ought to go the rounds of the religious press:

There are found, now and then in a church, one or two persons who stand by themselves in strong and steady opposition to the wishes and feelings of the majority, believing any course wrong which they do not advocate, and every one right which they adopt. If others say build a meeting-house on the hill, they will do nothing if it is not placed in the valley; they oppose the coming of a pastor, or the stay of a pastor, whom they do not happen to fancy; they firmly declare that the cause will suffer if their plans, in church or in Sunday-school, are not adopted; they always prophesy evil because "they have not been consulted;" all the while intimating that they "represent a respectable minority." We produce, as best we can from memory, a story we read some time since, having a pleasant bearing upon this phenomenon.

A certain church in Connecticut had been, for a long time, afflicted with a "respectable minority;" but that minority consisted really of but one individual by the name of Dorr. Its pulpit was vacant, and seemed likely to remain so for a long time; candidate after candidate had been heard with acceptability, and with the coming of each, the church hoped that its desires for a pastor were about to be realized; but at each meeting held for the purpose of issuing a call, Mr. Dorr so effectually represented the wishes of a "respectable minority," that the church was discouraged. At length, a meeting was held for the purpose of calling a very excellent minister. There seemed to be a happy prospect of securing his services until Mr. Dorr arose, and as usual, opposed the settlement, declaring; also, that he represented "a respectable minority." The hopes of the company fell, and they were about to adjourn effecting anything, when a simple minded man arose and said that before the meeting adjourned he would like to tell a dream which he had the night before. No one objecting, he went on to say. Last night I dreamed that I died and went to satan's abode. On entering, Satan bade me welcome and asked me what news from Blankville. When I replied that they were about to settle a minister. "Settle a minister," rejoined his majesty, "give me my boots, I must go and prevent it if possible." While he was drawing on his boots, I remarked that I had understood that a Mr. Dorr was was opposing the settlement. "My sarvant Dorr," exclaimed Satan," "my sarvant Dorr, Oh, then there is no need of my going at all, he will do efficient and successful work," said his majesty, pulling off his boots.

The anecdote had the desired effect. Mr. Dorr offered no further opposition, and the settlement was effected; but until his death the unfortunate opposer was known and spoken of as "my sarvant Dorr."

WHAT IS THOUGHT OF HIM.

We take the following extracts from an article in the Evening Telegraph, of Philadelphia, a Republican organ, commenting on the chances of Gen. Grant for the next Presidency:

"It is one of the possibilities of next year that General Grant may be nominated Republican candidate for the Presidency in 1880, but that he will be elected President in 1880 is beyond the pale of possibility. The people of this country are not fools, nor are they of defective memory. There is nothing in his record of President to commend him to the favor of intelligent, patriotic men. The most gigantic failure in the Presidential history of the republic is that of President Grant—a failure so dire that he himself, in his last message, delivered to Congress on the 5th of December, 1876, in a manner that would have been pathetic had it not been so weak, apologized for it and asked for it the considerate forbearance of his countrymen. That which he confessed his countrymen already knew, and of them all none knew it better than the political leaders who then used and abused him, and who are now scheming to re-elect him to the place that he so signally dishonored."

"In what has General Grant changed since he retired from the Presidency? Has his absence abroad, his hobnobbing with kings and emperors, his intimacy with the heads of strong Governments made him a more desirable candidate than he originally was? He was the representative of centralization; he embodied, as no other President ever did, the idea of personal rule; his methods of civil government were according to the military plan; he had an iron will and a despotic hold on his office; he reigned, he did not serve.—What is there in his late experience to make him different now? He was a gift-taker; the crony of bribe-takers and embezzlers; he filled the offices with bad men, who plundered the Treasury right and left without punishment; he stepped between Justice and her victims with whole reams of pardons; political corruption asserted itself from the tide-waiter in the Custom House to the Secretary in the White House."

"What is it except the demand of the eighty thousand office-holders and their henchmen, who want the corrupt old times back again, that brought General Grant's name again before the people as a candidate for the Presidency? Is there in all this vast country of 40,000,000 of people no other, better man than he; has the Republic so degenerated that we must break down our law of custom in order to give a third term to one who disgraced the land all the world over for two terms. Is the breed of statesmen extinct that one cannot be found to be a candidate for Chief Magistrate of the Republic; is the Republican party so poor in patriots and men of honor and wisdom that it can find no successor but himself to President Grant? Should it so declare it will go into the campaign of 1880 capped and plumed for defeat. No other result is possible, for were he a thousand times nominated, the intelligent, patriotic men of this country will not vote to re-elect a candidate who twice dishonored his office, his country, and himself, when generously given as a reward for his great services as a soldier, the opportunity to honor himself, his country, and his office."

CAUTION!

The undersigned would caution the public against using or sinking driven wells under Nelson W. Green's patent, unless the same are put down by him, as all parties [illegible] otherwise put down, or sinking such wells will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, he having the exclusive right to sink driven wells in Plainfield. The following is a decision recently rendered by Judge Benedict, of Brooklyn, N. Y.:

"Wm. D. Andrews, owner of a patent granted to Col. Nelson W. Green, for a driven well, sues Thos. A. Carman [illegible] The patent is worth a million dollars. The well is an upright iron tube, driven into the ground until it reaches water-bearing strata. An air pump is screwed on the top of the tube, and the other end is of blank, [illegible] Many thousands of the wells are in use. Carman is accused of using a similar well. Smalley's Defiance Asparagus.

NEW VARIETY.

The merits and claims of the "Defiance," are as follows: It is earlier, a larger grass, softer, more tender, free from wood, the flavor sweet and very delicate, far superior to all other varieties: It will produce double that of the "Colossal" and can cut it longer. It will continue to grow longer than any other sorts. It has been tested for the past three years. I know my roots and seeds to be strictly pure, as I am the sole originator of it; I shall not put any seed in the market this year, as I intend planting it myself. It is the best Asparagus grown, either for private use or for market. We would recommend it in preference to all others. Price $2 per 100, and $15 per 1000. No charge for boxes or packing.—Purchasers pay their express. Orders must be accompanied by a remittance, or satisfactory reference. Will be sent by express C. O. D.

ABRAHAM SMALLEY, Bound Brook, N. J.

We, the undersigned, have tested the above variety of Asparagus, and unhesitatingly recommend it as all that is claimed for it, in fact it is a marvel in the shape of this delicious vegetable:

LEGAL NOTICES

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office,
March 21st, 1879.

Mary L. Hotchkiss, Administratrix of Horace Hotchkiss, deceased.

On application of the above named Administratrix, it is ordered that said Administratrix give Public Notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in The Constitutionalist for the same space of time; and in any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administratrix.

Maria Fisher, Administratrix of Jeremiah Fisher, deceased.

On application of the above named Administratrix it is ordered that said Administratrix give public notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in The Constitutionalist for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administratrix.

f21w9 By JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

In Chancery of New Jersey.

To Kate E. Fuller:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day and date hereof, in a cause wherein Samuel K. Kilbie, acting Executor of Stacy B. Barcroft, deceased, is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear and plead, answer or demur, to the bill of said complainants, on or before the fifth day of May next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a certain mortgage given by Moses Kitzenhouse and Rebecca L., his wife, to said Samuel K. Kilbie, acting Executor as aforesaid, on lands in the City of Plainfield, dated December 26th, 1876, and you, Kate E. Fuller, are made defendant because you hold encumbrances on said lands.

Dated March 4, A. D., 1879.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—Union Circuit Court—James B. Houston, Jr., vs. Benjamin S. Dean. In case, Fi. fa. de bonis et terris.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on at two o'clock, p. m. of said day, all that lot of land situate, lying and being in the township of Summit, county of Union and State of New Jersey:

WEDNESDAY, THE FOURTEENTH DAY OF MAY, A. D., 1879,

Beginning at a point on the northerly side of Park Avenue, at the southwest corner of a lot of land now or formerly owned by one George Spinning; running from thence northerly along said Spinning's lot 88 feet to land of John Kelly; thence northeasterly along said John Kelly's land 144 feet to land of The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company; thence along their land westerly 70 feet, more or less, to land of one Freeman; thence southerly along said Freeman's land 288 feet to the northerly side of said Park avenue; thence easterly along the northerly line of said Park avenue 10 feet to the point or place of beginning.

Also, all that lot of land situate, lying and being in the township of Summit, county of Union and State of New Jersey:

Beginning at a point on the southerly side of Park avenue, at northeast corner of land of Adam Woodruff; from thence running southerly along said Woodruff's land 80 feet to land of Benjamin S. Dean, recently conveyed to Jonathan Bonnell; thence along said Dean's land easterly 20 feet to land of Sylvester Dean; thence northerly along said Sylvester Dean's land 80 feet to northerly side of said Park Avenue; thence westerly along the northerly side of said Park avenue 25 feet to the point or place of beginning.

Also, the undivided two-thirds part of the following described tract or parcel of land and premises, situate, lying and being in the township of Summit, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey:

Beginning in the middle of the road leading from the Summit, past the residence of the said Dean to Springfield, over the center of a small culvert bridge, it being the southwest corner of the factory property, now owned by said Dean and Houston; thence binding with their line north 34 degrees east 145 feet 8 inches to a stake in the southerly line of a lot owned by Mary B. Wright; thence with her line north 67 degrees 30 minutes west 80 feet to a stake and corner of a lot owned by Elizabeth Ferdon; thence with her line south 20 degrees 30 minutes west 148 feet to a point in the middle of the aforesaid road; thence along the middle of the same south 72 degrees 30 minutes east 29 feet to the place of beginning.

Being land and premises conveyed by deed recorded in Book 32, page 209, &c., of deeds for Union County.

Laws of New Jersey.

CHAPTER XXIII.

An act to repeal all the acts respecting the apportionment of the several assembly districts of the state of New Jersey, which were approved during the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, and to revive and re-establish the apportionment of the several assembly districts of the state of New Jersey as the same existed on the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to reapportion the several assembly districts of the state of New Jersey,' approved March twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one," which supplement was approved April third, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, be, and the same are hereby repealed.

2. And be it enacted, That the act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to reapportion the several assembly districts of the state of New Jersey,' approved March twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one," which supplement was approved March fourth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, be, and the same is hereby repealed.

3. And be it enacted, That the act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'an act to reapportion the several assembly districts of the state of New Jersey,' approved March twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one," which supplement was approved March six, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, be, and the same is hereby repealed.

4. And be it enacted, That the act entitled "an act to amend an act entitled 'An act to reapportion the several assembly districts of the state of New Jersey,' approved March twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one, which act was approved March twelfth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, be, and the same is hereby repealed.

5. And be it enacted, That the act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'an act to reapportion the several assembly districts of the state of New Jersey,' approved March twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one," which supplement was approved April fourth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, be, and the same is hereby repealed.

6. And be it enacted, That the act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to reapportion the several assembly districts of the state of New Jersey,' approved March twenty-second, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-one," which act was approved April fourth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, be, and the same is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER CXXXIX.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning taxes," approved April fourteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That all debts due to the state of New Jersey and secured by mortgage to the school fund and sinking fund shall be deducted from the taxable property of the debtor claiming such deduction, provided that this act shall not apply to any county or counties in this state, where by virtue of any public or private acts the mortgagors or mortgagees are not permitted to deduct from their taxable property the amount due on such mortgage or mortgages.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXXXIII.

An act to extend the time for the completion of railroads whose charters shall expire by limitation during the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, where work has been performed on said railroads, or money expended thereon.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever the time limited for the completion of any railroad authorized to be constructed within this state, under special acts, shall expire during the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, such time shall be, and the same hereby is extended for a further period of five years; provided, however, that this act shall not apply unless money has been actually expended in surveys or locations of route, or in acquisition of rights of way, or in construction.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXLIII.

A supplement to the act entitled "An act for the punishment of crimes," [Revision], approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any person who shall directly or indirectly give, or receive, or promise, contract or agree to give, or receive, any sum or sums of money, or any goods, chattels, gift, lands or real estate, or any other thing, bribe, present or reward whatsoever, for, or to obtain, or for giving out the printing of blanks, notices, advertisements, or any other printing, or for, or to obtain, or for giving out any other work or thing connected with, or in or appertaining to, any office or department of this state, or any office or department in any county, city, town, township, borough, or other place in this state, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall, for every such offense, be liable to a fine not exceeding three hundred dollars, or suffer imprisonment at hard labor not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall be a public act, and take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

JOINT RESOLUTION—NUMBER.

Joint Resolution in relation to the appointment of a commission to inquire into the labor of the state prison.

Whereas, It is asserted and believed by large numbers of citizens of this state, that prison labor, as at present managed in the state prisons and penitentiaries of this and other states, affects injuriously the welfare and means of living of masses of our mechanics and workingmen, by maintaining an unjust competition with their labor; therefore,

1. Be it resolved by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the governor be and he is hereby requested to appoint a commission, to consist of five persons, who shall make a careful inquiry, into the subject of prison labor and whether it comes into competition with free labor, and if so in what manner and to what extent, and what, in their opinion, is the best means of preventing such competition, and at the same time providing proper maintenance for the prisoners; and said commission shall receive for their services and necessary expenses such compensation as may be approved by the governor and that they shall report to the governor on or before the meeting of the next session of the legislature.

Approved March 14, 1879.

JOINT RESOLUTION—NUMBER II.

Joint Resolution relative to the loan of state arms to Phil Kearney Post Number One, Department of New Jersey, Grand Army of the Republic.

Whereas, Phil. Kearney Post Number One, Department of New Jersey, Grand Army of the Republic, have petitioned for the loan of twenty-four stand of arms and accoutrements, to be used by said post for burial purposes; therefore,

1. Be it resolved by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the quartermaster general be, and he is hereby empowered and directed to forward to said Phil. Kearney Post Number One, Department of New Jersey, Grand Army of the Republic, twenty-four stands of arms and accoutrements, not otherwise in use or needed by the militia of this state, taking their receipt therefor, and their agreement to return the same upon demand, and to preserve and keep the same while in their possession in perfect order.

2. And be it resolved, That this joint resolution shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

THE PATRIOTISM OF DEMOCRACY.

The strongest guarantee of national perpetuity and prosperity is the maintenance of those cardinal virtues—Love, Charity and Justice, between all territorial divisions and all classes of people. That constitutes real and enduring unity, and that is the kind of Union the Democratic party always strove to uphold, and which it now sternly advocates against unprincipled opponents, who for partisan ends, would wreck it, if they could, upon the rocks of sectional hate.

To propose any other species of national harmony is to mock common intelligence and scorn the spirit of patriotism, whilst the idea of making bayonets and balls the preservers of Union, is simply to undertake the absurd task of weaving a rope of sand.

It is a mighty realm we possess as citizens of these United States. Stretching from ocean to far distant ocean, and from bleak Northern lake to tropic Southern gulf, our country embraces within its giant reach every diversity of climate, every natural and artificial source of material wealth, and every phase of social and domestic life.—Such a vast extent of territory must, necessarily, involve a radical difference in the manners, customs, pursuits, and even prejudices of its widely scattered inhabitants, yet it is easy and practicable for all to dwell harmoniously and with united intent beneath the emblem of a single nationality.

We have done so in the past; public duty and personal interest alike demand that we do so now and for all coming time.

Aspiring politicians of the Blaine and Conkling order, having no solid trading capital, for the purpose of extracting partisan support from the evil passions of human nature, seek to stir up and fan into renewed flame the dying embers of sectional animosity through false charges and dishonorable invective, and instead of invoking fidelity to the Constitution of a re-united Union, defiantly flaunt as their political banner the bloody rag of long ended civil war.

Such men are in effect traitors to the welfare of country and people. They may boast of "loyalty" as much as they please and shout "rebel" until they are hoarse, still they are enemies to the public weal, because, for mere partisanship, they would cloud the brightness of peace, block the wheels of returning national prosperity, and make violence and fraud paramount to reason and right.

Against that Jacobin spirit the Democratic party presents an unbroken and determined front. It is the voice of Democracy that is heard declaring with no uncertain sound—

Rebellion is at an end.

Let it be veiled in oblivion.

Leave the dead past and act well the living present.

We are a united Republic of co-equal States.

Let us remain such forever.

We admit no distinction between the North and South, the East and West.

THE COMMISSION FOR CITIES.

The Legislative Commission to prepare a system of general laws for the government of cities met at the City Hall, Newark, on Saturday. Controller Baker said he believed the charter of Newark to be the best in the State, although not perfect. The difficulties of general legislation for cities were apparently almost too great to overcome. He could not favor a State Sinking Fund Commission for city debts, but the State might be made receiver for cities which refuse to or cannot pay their debts. The Commission will meet in Elizabeth on Saturday next, May 3rd. A large number of citizens have been invited to attend and express their views on the subject.

Newark was in a state of fermentation on Sunday last, an old "Blue-law" being revived by the "Citizens' Protective Union" which prohibits any person from riding in the streets on Sunday, except when going to or from Church, the selling of any kind of merchandise or ware, &c. As a consequence, scores of detectives, in the employ of the Citizens' Protective Society, compelled the closing of news and cigar stores, stopped milkmen, etc., although East Newark, lying in the adjoining county of Hudson, accommodated all who were thirsting for beer. The idea is to make the State law so unpopular that its repeal or modification will be asked by those who on Sunday want the services of a barber, butcher, milkman, etc. In this repeal or modification the liquor dealers hope to have their traffic included.

VETO OF THE ARMY BILL.

As was generally expected, the President, on Tuesday last sent to Congress his veto of the Army Bill. It has been evident for the past ten days, from the tenor of the Republican press, that he would do so. It now remains to be seen what Congress will do with the appropriation bills. Two Democratic caucuses were held in Washington on Wednesday, the object being to discuss a plan of action to be pursued by the party in both branches of Congress with reference to the veto. The subject was briefly discussed and it was decided to refer the subject to the joint caucus committee appointed at the beginning of the present session of Congress, which is composed of Messrs. Thurman, Saulsbury, Kernan, Bailey, Jones, of Florida, Lamar, Voorhees, Whyte and Vance. The President by thus refusing to approve of a bill which grants free elections and restored rights, has not bettered the chances of the Republican party in 1880.

OUR MEMBER IN CONGRESS.

Hon. Miles Ross, Representative from this district, has introduced in the House the following bills: H. R. No. 191, relative to compulsory pilotage; H. R. No. 193, to provide for the construction of a light and fog station at Long Branch, N. J.; H. R. No. 194, granting a pension to Mrs. Ann Dobson. The first two were referred to the Committee on Commerce, of which Mr. Ross is a member, and the latter to the Committee on Invalid Pensions.

The Somerset Gazette, publishes the following predictions:

1. That a man who has scarcely been spoken of up to this time for the Presidency, will loom up strongly before the country ere the next year brings us to the national contest, and will nearly if not quite secure the Republican nomination. His name is John Sherman.

2. That Gen. Grant will be less strong as a candidate one year from this day than now, though he will be difficult to set aside.

3. That if Gen. Grant is selected as the Republican nominee, Sherman will be selected Vice President,

4. That the leading Democratic nominees will be Tilden, Bayard and McClellan, with the chances better for the last named, unless the nomination is purchased.

We should judge the Gazette is about right, in the first sentence of paragraph two.

By the caving in of a coal mine near Wilkesbarre, Pa., on Wednesday, April 23, seven miners were imprisoned in a portion of the mine until Monday night April 28th, when they were released through the efforts of a large party of workmen who by blasting and drilling succeeded in reaching their entombed comrades. They were found alive and well, having subsisted on the remains of a mule which they had killed.

Every voter should read the synopsis of the proposed new charter of Plainfield in another part of this issue with the comments thereon. We surrender the space for the same, crowding out much interesting local and reading matter to give our readers an intelligent view of the new law. Read it.

A recent decision of the Court of Errors and Appeals is of interest to lawyers and clients. In the case of Hopper vs. Ludlam, of Paterson, the court decides that a lawyer cannot collect his bill from his client unless he can prove an express contract, verbal or written.

FIRE MATTERS.

Next Monday evening the firemen will elect a Chief and two Assistants, also Company Officers. There seems to be an apathy among the firemen, the usual strife on such occasions not being observable. Is the Fire Department degenerating? As it now stands, Warren Eng. Co. No. 3 and Gazelle Eng. Co. No. 1 have nominated for Chief, T. O. Doane, from Gazelle and A. J. Gurney for 1st Assistant, from Warren.—Zephyr H. & L. Co. No. 1 have nominated with the above officers and B. R. Davis from their own Co., as 2nd Assistant.—Alert Hose No. 1 has made no nomination.

Chief B. F. Cowell was on Wednesday morning last presented with a handsome silver scarf pin in the shape of a fireman's hat, by Foreman Aug. Seltzman, of Alert, No. 1. On it was inscribed—"B. F. C., presented by Foreman A. Seltzman, Alert Hose, No. 1."

The last meeting of the present Board of Fire Commissioners occurs Wednesday evening, May 7th. The new Commissioners take their seats the same night.

STERLING ITEMS.

Three new brick buildings are being erected at Sterling to be used as stores. One of them is on the site of the one burned a short time since.

Ex-Minister Geo. W. Bowers used to preach in Sterling.

Work still continues active at the Button Factory.

A Liquor Dealers' Protective Society.

The liquor dealers of Elizabeth have formed a protective association, and are enrolling members very fast from the other storekeepers, exacting fifty cents a month from parties directly interested and ten cents a month from others. The avowed purpose of the association is to see that not only are liquor dealers closed but that all manner of traffic is stopped, milkmen, barbers, drug stores and all. The plan is after that of the Newark people who are just now having a [illegible] of Sabbath observance. It will be of great assistance to the Law and Order Society, in some respects, but on the other hand they will employ counsel to defend any of their members who may be caught napping.

For "The Constitutionalist."

The Law.

MESSRS EDITORS:

In these days of loyalty to law, permit me to make public, through your columns, the following extract from the existing statutes of New Jersey relative to the observance of Sunday:

"If any person, charged with having labored or worked on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, shall be brought before a justice of the peace to answer the information and charge thereof, and shall then and there prove, to the satisfaction of the said justice, that he or she uniformly keeps the seventh day of the week as the Sabbath, and habitually abstains from following his or her usual occupation or business, and from all recreation, and devotes the day to the exercise of religious worship, then such defendant shall be discharged; provided always, that the work or labor, for which such person is informed against, was done and performed in his or her dwelling house or work shop, or on his or her premises or plantation, and that such work or labor has not disturbed other persons in the observance of the first day of the week as the Sabbath; and provided also, that nothing in this section contained shall be construed to allow any such person to openly expose to sale any goods, wares, merchandise or other article or thing whatsoever in the line of his or her business or occupation."

That makes [illegible] to a worthy class of citizens, but, at the same time, it clearly defines what they cannot lawfully do.

Yours Respectfully,
C[illegible].

Rejuvenated.

The bar and billiard room of Force's Hotel has been rejuvenated by painting, &c., and a handsome new awning erected over the front entrance. There is no more handsomer or well-kept Billiard Parlor than this in the State. The room is large, well ventilated, clean, and contains five of Collender's latest improved tables. The bar is stocked with fine liquors and segars, and lovers of the game of billiards will find this the resort to visit.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

An adjourned meeting of [illegible], interested in the drainage of the village, was held Saturday evening, 26th inst., at the [illegible] Rooms. John S. Irving in the Chair. On motion, John H. North was elected Secretary. The Committee appointed at last meeting to make examinations, levels and probable cost of sewers, reported, through their Chairman, that in their opinion the brook at Woodruff's, on Broad Street, should be lowered below its present bed 2½ feet; at North Avenue, 3 feet; at Central Railroad culvert, about 2½ feet; to be at least four feet wide at bottom, banks to be properly sodded; and the brook, from Elm Street to Broad Street, to be lowered at least 18 inches from its present bed, and the probable cost of the same three hundred and fifty dollars. The report was received and adopted, and Committee continued. On motion, [illegible] L. Miller, John M. C. Marsh and Geo. W. [illegible] was appointed a Committee to circulate a subscription paper to raise the amount necessary to complete the work. The work to be commenced as soon as the whole amount is raised.

Addison S. Clark, Esq., has greatly improved the front of his property on Broad Street, by lowering the sidewalk and fence, and terracing the bank.

The North corner of Broad Street and Mountain Avenue, in front of Presbyterian Church lawn, has been greatly improved by re-laying the sidewalks, also setting out a fine row of shade trees, known as "Lindens," on each street.

Mr. Alpus, of Westfield Avenue, has rented the residence of E. W. Boyden, Esq., corner of Mountain Avenue and Orchard Street. Mr. A. takes possession immediately.

Westfield Township only has one Petit Juror for May term of Union County Court. John C. Sandford is the lucky person.

The Trustees of the Presbyterian Church have decided to grade the sidewalk on West side of Mountain Avenue, in front of the old Church yard. It will necessitate the lowering to the proper grade of the fine row of Elm and Maple trees along the same.

CRANFORD.

An attempt was made to enter the residence of Mr. Powers, Union Avenue, on Monday night last by burglars. The burglar alarm aroused the family, and the thief or thieves were frightened away.

The trial of the gang of reputed burglars and chicken thieves, that committed so many crimes last Fall and Winter in Cranford and vicinity, and who were arrested by ex-Chief [illegible] and John M. C. Marsh, is expected to come off in the May term of Court at Elizabeth.

ROSELLE.

Tunis Berry, of Roselle, had his horse, grocery wagon and harness stolen on Friday night, April 25th. No clue to the perpetrators; they drove towards Cranford, from the way the tracks show, and turned around on bridge over Cranford River, and went back again towards Newark.

Fifty Per Cent. Saved

by using HIGGINS' GERMAN LAUNDRY SOAP because it is pure. Ask your grocer for it, and give it a trial.

THE DEATH-RATE OF

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming; the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a Doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine,

Is eminently a Family Medicine; and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.

After over Forty Years trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent physicians commend it for all diseases of the Liver.

AS AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC
Opinion of the Clergy.

Simmons' Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure. If any of our fellow beings are suffering from hepatic disorders and have doubts in relation to the efficacy of this popular preparation, we can only offer them the simple and candid argument of Philip to Nathaniel. "Come and see." Try the proposed remedy and then you can judge for yourselves. Rev. David Wills, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Macon, Ga.

TAKE
SIMMONS' LIVER
REGULATOR.

The Symptoms of liver complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side—Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for Rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, Debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them, but the liver is generally the organ most involved.

Middlesex & Union Counties' Agricultural Association.

This Association having reduced the par value of its shares to ten dollars, has authorized its officers to make a further issue of stock, for the purpose of increasing its membership and means so that it may be enabled to hold an annual fair for the Counties of Union and Middlesex.

This is a matter of interest to all the citizens of Union and Middlesex Counties, and especially to farmers. Those desiring to join in the enterprise are invited to subscribe. It is requisite, in order to be in a condition to hold a fair in October, to have subscriptions made promptly.

Each share of stock will entitle the holder to three admissions.

No call for money will be made until five hundred shares are subscribed for.

Upon obtaining the necessary subscriptions, a meeting of the Stockholders will be called to elect a new Board of Directors.

A Subscription paper will be found at the office of The Constitutionalist.

NEW MUSIC.
48 CHOICE PIECES
For 50 CENTS.

Every number of Richardson's Musical Means contains 12 choice pieces, by the best composers of America and Europe. The monthly is elegantly printed, has an engraved cover in two colors, and is an "ornament to any Piano." There are no advertisements scattered through its pages, but the music is entirely separate, and thus can be bound at any time into a book. The sole tiers comprise Songs with Chorus, Ballads, Comic Songs, Waltzes, Polkas, Galops, Schottisches, Marches, Mazurkas, Nocturnes, &c., &c., all of which can be played on the Piano or Organ; in fact just the pieces you would purchase at the Music stores for 25 or 40 cents each. Now we have sold many thousand single numbers at 25 cts. each, but in order that every player in the United States and Canadas may see the Magazine, and judge of its merits, we will send it postpaid four months for only 50 Cents. Each number contains 12 pieces; thus you receive 48 postpaid for only 50 cents (cash or stamps.) Eight months (96 pieces) for $1. Owing to the expensive manner in which Musical Means is issued, we cannot afford to send "sample copies."

TESTIMONIAL:
PLAINFIELD, N. J., Nov. 26th, 1878.

MR. J. T. VAIL:
DEAR SIR:—I have sold and used your Liquid Oil Composition and Harness Paste, and I do not hesitate to say they are all you claim for them, and as almost all persons have use for one or both, I can recommend them as being unequalled by anything of the kind I have seen or used.
Respectfully,
THOS. WORTH.

PATENTS.

Having been for ten years in different official positions in the War, Treasury and Interior Departments, Washington, D. C., which include the Adjutant General's, Pension, Second Auditor's, General Land and Patent Offices, and being in active practice before the Supreme Court, Washington, D. C., as Attorney and Counselor-at-Law just before taking up my residence in Plainfield, I have acquired such a familiarity with the laws, rulings and decisions therein as enables me to confidently assure all that I am prepared to procure patents and attend to every possible class of work before the different offices above mentioned, and the Supreme Court, Washington, D. C.

Arrears of Pay, Pension and Bounty.

And all other claims of Officers, Soldiers and Sailors and their heirs. I have recently taken up this branch in connection with my law practice, believing that there are hundreds of deserving persons in this section, who are justly entitled to help on account of disability contracted in line of duty, and only want some one to guide them and who would willingly forego all that the government would possibly pay them if they could be restored to the health and condition they enjoyed before entering the service.

Having served in the U. S. Army from the commencement until the close of the late war, I make no charge for this work where my comrade or his heirs are dependent.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Largest circulation of any Weekly paper in Union County.

BOARD to be had at "Cottages." See adv.

POSTMASTER Vail was so unfortunate as to sprain his ankle on Tuesday last.

IT thundered for the second time this season on Monday afternoon last.

STRAW hats of every description at Vermeule's, Front Street, the old established hatter and furrier.

SHAD are cheap and plentiful on our streets. A small one for twenty-five cents, a fine one for 35 cents.

THE Rev. Clearfield Park will preach at the Congregational Church next Sunday, both morning and evening.

SEVERAL of our carpenters are, and have been for months, engaged in working on the erection of chemical works at Bergen Point.

THE next and the final meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of 1878 and 1879, occurs at the Court House, Thursday afternoon, May 8th.

A fair will be given by the Sunday School of Grace Church this (Friday) afternoon and evening, on Front Street, 3rd door from Washington Street. Tickets ten cents.

THE Second Sunday in May will be observed by the churches as "Temperance Day." All ministers are expected to preach on that subject at least once during that day.

MR. J. E. DOWLEY is rapidly progressing in the work of putting Front Street, from Farragut Avenue to Peace Street, in a proper shape. It will be "work well done" when finished.

We wonder if those citizens who were looking after a stolen horse on Monday found the animal. Perhaps it was a "cow" that was found. The "Astonisher" gathers in all the news.

Now that the moon is nightly mounting higher in the heavens, we occasionally observe one of our "non-partizan" City Fathers abroad in the evening, and they don't seem to fear being moon-struck either.

MR. LEWIS A. DUNN, News Agent, took possession of the news route over the Central Railroad and all its branches, yesterday (May 1st). His many friends will hail with delight the change of proprietorship.

MR. S. C. RYDER is now ready to sprinkle the streets, having leased steam power at the corner of Madison Avenue and the railroad, and procuring water from a two inch driven well pipe.

THE Grand Oratorio Concert to be given in this city by the Plainfield Vocal Society, Thursday evening, May 15th, will be something worth listening to. Mendelssohn's Oratorio of "Athalia" will be rendered.

MR. E. P. THORN the other day gave us a taste of some cider which was bottled by him for his father, Jacob Thorn, 17 years ago, and was 37 years old, having been in barrels the other 20 years. It was like nectar.

SEVERAL couples from this city went to Elizabeth last Monday evening to attend the Surprise Marriage Anniversary given to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lawson of that city. Franz furnished the music and of course there was a good time.

THE handsome new curtains over the windows of Martin Bros.' new store, were put up by Messrs. G. F. & C. E. Brown & Co., No. 321 Canal Street, N. Y. City.— The Senior member of the firm resides in North Plainfield.

PARTIES knowing of any nuisances existing which require the attention of the Board of Health, should report at once to the City Physician, Dr. Lowrie, before the hot weather sets in. He will see to it that the matter is attended to.

THE teachers of the Primary and Intermediate Departments of the Public Schools are drilling their scholars in the manner in which they should leave the school building in case of a fire occurring in the same. A wise and sensible idea.

PLAINFIELD Lodge, No. 44, I. O. of O. F., of this city, celebrate the 60th Anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship in the United States, on the 6th of May next, at their Lodge Rooms, Coward's Building. Ex-Gov. Newell is expected to be present. Opening exercises at 8, P. M.

THE Hunterdon County Democrat publishes a list of 28 residents of that County, whose aggregate weight is 7,230 pounds, and an average of 258 pounds to the man. Pshaw, Union County can produce her man who tips the balances at 348 pounds, and is not through growing yet, are you "Uncle Joe."

THUS far ten citizens residing between Peace Street and Farragut Avenue, on Front Street, have erected lamp posts in front of their residences, and cause the lamps therein to be lighted each night at their own expense. Our "non-partizan" Council should pass a resolution relieving them from a portion of their taxes.

WILLIAM NELSON has enjoined certain residents of this city from using driven wells put down by other parties than himself, claiming that he alone has the right to drive said wells. Ex-Mayor Male is one of the unfortunates. There is now more work ahead for the lawyers. This royalty business is getting to be a nuisance.

MRS. Elinor Ulrich, wife of Charles Ulrich, who pleaded guilty a few months since in the United States District Court at Trenton, of forgery, and who is now in the State Prison awaiting sentence, has filed a bill in the Court of Chancery of this State for divorce. The testimony will probably be taken the latter part of this week in Newark. The charge brought against him is that of adultery. Hon. T. S. Henry, of Newark, is engaged as her counsel.

THE Rev. Wm. Day and others, object to Mr. Jacob Jennings keeping his candy store on Second Street open on Sunday, whereby small children, who are given pennies to take to Sunday School and appropriate the same for the benefit of the heathens, are induced to spend them for candy at Jacob's store. His Honor, Mayor Harper, has been appealed to, and it is likely that a suit will grow out of the case. Mr. Jennings is a Seventh-Day Baptist. A correspondent quotes law on the subject in another column.

We find the following in Tuesday's New York Herald:

ENGAGED.

ABRAHAMS—CANTORWITZ—Abraham Abrahams, of Paterson, N. J., to Miss Dora Cantorwitz, of Plainfield, N. J. No cards.

Also, in the Sun of Thursday, the following:

DIVORCED.

HOLMES—In the city of New York on the 30th day of April, 1879, by the Hon. Abraham R. Lawrence, a Justice of the Supreme Court, Evelyn A. Holmes from John B. Holmes. Cause, adultery.

THE Messrs. Martin Bros. opened in their new store corner of Second Street and Park Avenue on Tuesday, and to say that their establishment is the most attractive of its kind in the city is doing no injustice to their competitors. The front is certainly a handsome one, composed as it is of glass on both Park Avenue and Second St. They have a fine stock to which they call the attention of the public in another column. They are running a new wagon built by J. P. Homan, the harness over the horse was made by S. D. Johnson, 15½ Park Avenue.

Cheap Carpets.

Pope Bros., Dry Goods Merchants, whose advertisement is crowded out this week, are selling English Body Brussels Carpets at 75 cents per yard. The goods are genuine, and are the cheapest carpets of the kind ever sold in this city. Other goods at equally low figures.

The New Masonic Hall

Of Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, will be occupied by that body in about three weeks. The Grand Organ, the magnificent gift of Mr. Henry Latimer, will be put up in a few days. The rooms will be furnished in a tasteful and elegant manner. A Grand Organ Concert will be given in the rooms previous to their dedication by the Lodge. We shall give a full description of these handsome Masonic quarters when the proper time arrives.

Personalia.

J. H. Cuthbert, Jr., sends us his compliments in the shape of a ticket to "Star Theatre," of which "Johnny," Jr. is the manager. Price 5 cents. The theatre is located on Fifth Street. Success to the management.

A. Aaoy, 1st mate of bark "J. L. Pendergast," arrived at his home in this city last Tuesday evening from Rio de Janerio, after a voyage of 46 days. He will spend a few days here with his mother and return again to the above place.

It is with pleasure we learn of the election of our old friend and former fellow-townsman, Walter Herring, to the responsible office of Justice of the Peace in the city of Trenton, by a handsome Democratic majority. "Walt" will be a terror to evil doers when he expounds the law to them.

Mr. Charles R. Miller, of this city, has just returned from the Southern portion of Georgia (Waycross) and reports himself thoroughly disgusted with the country.

We are glad to welcome back to Plainfield again, Mr. G. M. Rutter and family, who take up their Summer residence with us.

Rev. E. P. Ketcham, who has been absent from our city for several weeks, in company with two sons of ex-Mayor J. H. Evans, on a tour through the South, returned to his home a few days ago. All are looking and feeling better for their trip.

Why do they call them Trade Dollars?— Because every possessor of one wants to "trade" it off before he makes a deposit in the Bank.

Opening of the Mansion House.

Saturday last a large number of Mr. E. P. Thorn's friends called upon him at his new quarters in the Mansion House, and accepted his hospitality. A fine collation set on a side table attracted the attention of many, but there was enough for all. Mr. Thorn has one of the finest bar rooms in the State.

The Proposed Fair Grounds.

In another column will be found a notice from the Sec. of the "M. & U. C. A. Ass'n," regarding the subscribing of stock for the purpose of procuring sufficient funds for holding the First Annual Fair on the Association Grounds. We trust all those interested in such a worthy movement will at once affix their signatures to the subscription papers now in circulation, one of which may be found at this office.

Those Weather Signals

Which Mr. E. P. Thorn places over the Mansion House each morning, indicate as follows: A white flag denotes fair weather; a white flag with a dark centre is a precautionary signal, and indicates high winds or approach of storm. The red flag indicates foul and stormy weather. "Billy" Hedden is prompt each morning in hoisting the signals as soon as he hears from "Old Prob."

Judicious Appointments.

The Managing Committee of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital have made judicious appointments in those of Dr. H. D. Burlingham as physician-in-chief, Dr. Charles A. Hart as surgeon-in-chief and Dr. Charles H. Stillman as consulting physician. Dr. Hart has had long experience in surgery, and patients who may be so unfortunate as to require his professional services, will find him a skillful surgeon. The other appointees are equally efficient in their professional capacity.

Captured.

Officer Dodd on Tuesday last observed a person peddling along the public streets and demanded his license. The party said he had none, but would meet Dodd at such a time in front of Judge Good's and take out one. At the appointed time he was in the vicinity, but observing the officer, he started his horse up Front Street at a rapid pace. Officer Dodd impressed into service the team of Mr. Peter Rickert and overhauled the fleeing peddler at Richmond Street. When brought before Judge Good, he admitted having no license and asked the Judge how much the fine would be. He was told $1. "How much for a license for three months," said Charles W. Eyck, the accused, "Six Dollars" said His Honor. "I will take it," said Eyck, and did so, forking over the money.

A Grand Time Coming.

The German "Saenger-Bund" (or Singing Society) of this city, will hold a grand Picnic on the grounds adjoining Vail's Spring, on top of the mountain near this city, accessible by Johnston Drive, on Monday, June 16th, at which time there will be dedicated a handsome flag to the Society by Messrs. Schepflin, Baldwin, Tweedy & Co., of this city, through the medium of 12 young ladies, 6 of whom will represent the German and 6 the American colors. Voss' Brass Band of Newark will furnish music for the occasion, and a string band will draw inspiring strains from their instruments for the benefit of those who desire to dance on a large platform erected for the purpose. A grand Procession through the principal streets of the city will be a feature of the day, the line of march being taken up from the Society's Rooms, at Fred Casper's on Second Street. Tickets 25 cents. Refreshments will be served on the grounds.

An Interesting Evening.

Last Tuesday evening, the scholars, teachers and officers of the First Baptist Sunday School assembled in the Lecture Room of the Church for the purpose of bidding farewell and God speed to the beloved late Superintendent of the Sunday School, Mr. S. H. Burr, who is about to take up his residence in Harlem, N. Y., where he recently purchased property. The exercises of the evening were opened by a fine Piano Solo rendered by Miss Lucy Roberts, followed by Readings by Miss Laing—"The Basket of Flowers," which was finely rendered. Mr. O. B. Leonard then presented to the retiring Superintendent a handsomely engrossed copy of resolutions in behalf of the School in a few appropriate remarks.— Mr. L. V. F. Randolph next read a neat little address in the style for which he is so remarkably able. The scholars then presented Mr. Burr with four handsomely bound volumes of Encyclopedia, with appropriate remarks from Master B. Rush Reese. The teachers and officers presented him with a beautiful bronze and marble clock and vases to match through Mr. A. Gilbert, who made one of his characteristic speeches. Mr. Burr was completely overcome and affected to tears by these tokens of the love and esteem manifested toward him by his late School. A beautiful address by the Rev. Dr. Yerkes and a general good-bye shaking of hands with scholars, teachers, officers and friends closed the five year's Superintendentship of a very much beloved and faithful officer. Mr. Chas. E. McCutchen is now Superintendent of the School.

NORTH PLAINFIELD PARAGRAPHS.

There were no bidders at the third adjournment of the assignee sale of valuable building lots on Somerset Street last Saturday. Money certainly is scarce when no bidders can be secured for such bargains.

The "Rock House," situated on top of the mountain at that historic spot, "Washington's Rock," is being thoroughly renovated, re-painted, &c., in anticipation of the approaching season for summer boarders. The Messrs. Staats Bros., proprietors state the house will be open for guests about the latter part of May.

"Edgewood," Mr. Wm. Taylor's handsome residence on Somerset Street, presents an attractive appearance with its green lawns and fountains.

On Thursday night last an attempt was made by some miscreant to burn a small tenement house belonging to S. O. Horton, Esq., situated on Washington Avenue, just across Green Brook, and opposite the residence of J. F. Wilson, Esq. The would-be incendiaries had piled straw under the stairway in the cellar and also on the landing above, and then set fire to it. Workmen had been engaged during the day in painting, whitewashing, and scrubbing the floors, and the dampness of the rooms no doubt was the cause of the fire not making headway. As it was, the woodwork and door of the stairway was charred and blackened to a considerable extent. A family now occupies the house.

The regular meetings of the Township Committee will hereafter be held on the second Tuesday evening of each month.— The meetings are public and the taxpayers are invited to attend.

F. E. Gardner, Esq., has been appointed Treasurer of the Town Committee vice Harrison Coddington, resigned.

Township Clerk, W. A. Schott, has treated his residence to a fresh coat of paint.

D. J. Smalley is out with a new butcher wagon, which "Dave" says is "boss."

In the examinations on Friday last of Public School No. 28, the following pupils stood 100:

Class A.—Grammar Department—Daniel Nolan, Lizzie Wilcox, Annie Woodland, Fiorrella Case, George White and William Day.

Class B.—same department—Daniel Adams, Robert Schelereth, John Stagg, Charles Powlison, Harry Barnet and John Drayton.

The examination was on the subject of Arithmetic. The general average of Class A. was 98 and that of Class B. 96.

Intermediate Department—Benjamin Gavin, Charles Nolan, Hester Nolan, Emma Hartfelder, Thomas Waldron, William Coleman, Frederick Becker, Julia Johnson, William Smalley, Herbert Willet.

Primary Department—Nettie Shepherd, Eleanor Hoff, Nettie Kenney, James Duffy.

The examination in the Primary was in writing.

Speedy Justice.

About six weeks ago one Rev. Geo. W. Bowers, pastor of the Congregational Church, of Coontown, Somerset County, a few miles from this city, suddenly disappeared, as did also about the same time a married lady, Mrs. Annie E. Leighcraft, of Brooklyn, daughter of Mr. John Davis, of Liberty Corner. She is 25 years of age.— It was reported soon afterward that they appeared together at a musical entertainment in Warren Township, but this report was not confirmed, and seems not to be true.— Then Bowers's whereabouts became unknown. It now appears that he was sick two weeks at Mrs. Leighcraft's residence in Brooklyn, then returned to see his family for two or three days, after which he met Mrs. Leighcraft by appointment in New York, and they went to Boston, and put up at the Creighton House, 245 Tremont St., but week before last, they separated, and Mrs. L. went to a private boarding house. She had an engagement to sing soon at the Variety Theatre, and he was to lecture last Monday on "Home" for the Congregational Society, from whom he solicited employment. They passed as Mr. and Miss Henderson, brother and sister. Mrs. Leighcraft is said to be a fine singer and Bowers is a good musician, and they have sung at concerts together at various times. She married at 16, her husband being many years older, and their wedded life, we learn, has not been happy. It soon became known that Bowers had been engaged in illegal transactions for two years previous to his departure by forging notes and getting them discounted at the Morristown and Somerville banks, having them renewed from time to time when they fell due as he was able. Among the parties whose names he used were George Friday, Peter Friday, William Deelman, George Wolpert, Nicholas Bowers (his brother), Martin Miller (his father-in-law), Peter Wilhelm. Prosecutor Bergen promptly took the matter in hand, and dispatched detective Manning T. Crew, of Newark, to hunt the couple up. On the First of April he found them at Boston, Mr. Bowers stopping at the hotel and Mrs. L. at 349 Tremont Street. Telegraphing Prosecutor Bergen for a requisition, that gentleman went on to Boston the next day with the required document from Governor McClellan, and the prisoner, Bowers, was brought immediately to Somerville. Mrs. Leighcraft was sent to her father's at Liberty Corner. On Thursday, the prisoner was brought into Court for trial, and plead guilty to the five indictments against him. He was then remanded to jail and at 4 o'clock again brought in for sentence, which was "three years at hard labor in the State Prison and payment of costs." To sum up: at six o'clock, Wednesday evening, the prisoner left Boston for Somerville; at four o'clock the next day he had his sentence at the latter place. Before sentence was passed Bowers made a feeling speech in which he said: "better had it been that I had never learned to write my name, or that my right hand had been paralyzed, than that I should have committed this offence." He also prepared the following statement and sent it to the editor of the Somerset Gazette:

MR. BOWERS' LETTER.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

I feel in duty bound to make a brief statement of my affairs, which seems to be the gossip of my neighborhood and the people at large. While some things have been said which are true, and which I admit, very much has been said which is untrue, and it makes me feel sad. I am willing to bear all the blame I deserve. I have done wrong and confess it, for the benefit of my friends as well as the public. Those people who like to talk may do so, but I do not like to be abused. It was published in the New York Sun that Rev. Geo. Bowers had committed forgery "to the amount of $7,000." Now, this is false. I have done wrong, which I confess, and the parties interested in the matter know it, and have known it for some time. I am sorry it is done. I was not myself when I did it. Being financially embarrassed and my mind confused, I adopted measures which were wrong, but not with evil intent. I always meant well, and did not intend to defraud or cheat any of my creditors. All I asked of them was time to meet the liabilities. I did not squander away the money. Luck always seemed to go against me.

It was alleged also in the Sun that I had a grand opportunity to get along and make money, and that my congregation at Coontown paid me $1,600 a year, and that I was getting salary at Plainfield and Somerville. The people among whom I labored know better. I did not receive more than $350 all told from Coontown, and not $100 from the other appointments. That certainly is not $1,600.

That wonderful orb, the Sun also stated that I had stolen the wife of another man. Now, it is true that Mrs. Leighcraft accompanied me to Boston for the sole purpose to assist me in giving concerts, because she sings, and there is no criminality in the case whatever, however much it may be talked about. We did not try to conceal our whereabouts, or we would not have written home. I know very well that public opinion would not favor a man in like circumstances; nevertheless, truth will always remain truth.

In regard to my financial affairs and the mistake I have made in that direction, I am very sorry, and in dust and ashes I have repented of my wrongdoings. And while perhaps men are slow to forgive, I am confident that my Father in Heaven has freely forgiven me, and has not cast me from His bosom. I have always loved Him from my youth up, and love Him still, and His cause is ever dear to me. I sorrow most because the world [illegible] another preacher of the gospel fallen, [illegible] what can we expect from [illegible] would have very little sympathy, because they do not realize that preachers are poor mortals as well as other men.

Dear Editor, it was very hard for me to be brought up here as a criminal and to have the finger of scorn pointed at me, and crowds gathering [illegible] a broken reed, but I state with pleasure that while some of those who called themselves my friends have turned their backs upon me in my trouble, there are others who are still friendly to me, and not a few of them in Somerville. With a feeling of gratitude I clasped their hands, and it is a great comfort for me to know that they sympathise with me in my affliction.

It is hard for me to mention my own family, because it almost breaks my heart to think of their condition, and the thought of being separated from them breaks me almost completely down, because I love them. But I quietly submit to the Divine will, earnestly longing for an opportunity to build up what has been broken down.

Yours as ever,
GEORGE W. BOWERS.

SYNOPSIS OF THE PROPOSED CHARTER, WITH COMMENTS.

Section 1st. Provides that any city having less than 10,000 or more than 6,000 inhabitants, according to the last preceding census, taken by authority of the State, or of the United States, may adopt the provisions of this Act, by a vote of the people.

Thirty days' notice of the intention to hold an election must be given. If the Charter is adopted by the majority of the votes cast, then the Mayor shall, within ten days thereafter, cause a certificate of the result of such an election, signed by himself and the City Clerk and attested by the seal of the city with proof by affidavit that due notice of such an election has been given; to be filed in the office of the Secretary of State and from the time of such filing, the provisions of this Act shall be the charter or form of government of such city and shall so remain unchanged according to law, notwithstanding any subsequent increase in the population of such city.

Section 2d. Provides that any city adopting this Act, shall continue to be a body politic and corporate in fact and in name, having perpetual succession, with all the grants, powers and privileges theretofore held by said city and not modified or repealed by the provisions of this Act. The ordinances of the Common Council of any city adopting this Act, in force at the time of such adoption, are revived and kept in full force.

Section 3d simply provides that when the words "the city" or "said city" are used, they shall be held to mean any city which shall have adopted this Act, and the words "the county" shall be held to refer to any county where such city is situated.

Section 4th. Provides for dividing the city into wards, but not to be done within 60 days immediately preceding the annual election of city officers.

Section 5th. Annual elections are to be held on the first Tuesday in December; the City Clerk to give notice.

Section 6th. Provides for the opening and the closing of the polls and the duties of the Judges and Inspectors.

Section 7th. Provides that all persons are entitled to vote, that reside in the city and are entitled to vote by the Constitution of the State, and that the Mayor and Councilmen shall have been residents of the city for at least one year immediately preceding their election.

Section 8th. Specifies the city officers to be elected, their terms of office &c. The Mayor to be elected biennially and serve two years; the City Judge triennially and hold office three years. The Councilmen hold office for one year and are to be elected from the wards, when the city is divided into wards. Two of the members of the Excise board are elected every year, after the first election under the Act. Judges and Inspectors of election to be elected annually for each polling district. The Justices are to be elected according to the law applicable thereto, before the adoption of this Act, and hold office as provided under the Constitution of the State.

Section 9th. Provides that officers elected before the adoption of this Act shall hold office during the term for which they were elected, or until others shall be elected in their stead.

Section 10th. Prescribes the duties of the Mayor. He may appoint, by and with the consent of the Common Council, a chief of police, regular and special policemen, Corporation Counsel, Street Commissioner, Overseer of the Poor and other officers not elected or appointed by the Common Council.

Section 11th. Fixes the time when the Common Council shall meet to organize.

Section 12th. Provides that the Common Council may appoint their own clerk and janitor and that no ordinances or by-laws shall be passed, altered or repealed without the concurrence of the majority of all the members of the Council and having been introduced at a previous meeting.

Section 13th. Gives authority to the Common Council to pass ordinances covering the necessities of the city, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the State, or of the United States; some of the ordinances that may be passed, covering the following points and which are in the old charter, viz.: To provide for the relief of the poor; for the establishment of an Alms House, Hospital and Jail; for regulating the licensing of taverns and saloons and for the prevention of illegal traffic in spirituous and fermented liquors (This is a legislative power and could not be delegated to the Excise board); for the licensing of peddlers, hacks and carts used for hire, hucksters and other street vendors; for the preventing and suppressing of gaming and disorderly houses.

Section 14th. Provides for the licensing of circuses and other shows and exhibitions.

Section 15th. The Common Council may delegate to the Mayor or City Judge the power to grant all licenses except for the selling of liquors, which power is vested in the Excise Board, and all moneys derived from any licenses shall be paid into the city treasury for city purposes.

Section 16th. Under the provisions of this section the Common Council are not to receive any compensation, directly or indirectly. They may fix the compensation to city officers.

Section 17th. The Council Chamber shall be open to the public during the transaction of public business.

Section 18th. Provides for the filling of vacancies whenever they may occur.

Section 19th. Provides that any ordinance passed by the Common Council shall at once be presented to the Mayor for his signature, and, if not approved by him, he must return it with his objections, when it may become a law by the subsequent action of a majority vote of the whole board.

Section 20th. Fixes the title to all ordinances.

Section 21st. This section provides that the Common Council may order to be raised by tax, in any one year, such sums of money as may be necessary for the support of the city poor, and such further sum, not exceeding $10,000, as they shall deem expedient, for the current expenses of the city, and for all other objects and purposes authorized under this act. (The writer will take this opportunity to state that any other provision in this section is intended for the convenience of other cities less favored in a financial point of view; that Plainfield never had a bonded debt, and never will receive his vote or sanction to one in any shape whatever. The language of the act is simple, and can not be misunderstood, so far as it applies to Plainfield. It especially provides that only an amount sufficient for the city poor and $10,000 shall be raised by tax in any one year for the current expenses, and for all other objects and purposes under the act. All that has been said or written about running our city in debt, beyond what it is authorized to borrow in anticipation of the collection of taxes, is under a misapprehension of facts. The bill is a general one, and had to be so drawn under the provisions of the Constitution, and it would have been absurd not to have made some provision for cities situated as Rahway is, with her heavy debt, and for cities having no other fund to run their school and fire departments.)

Section 22d. Provides that an additional amount of money may be raised by a vote of the people—the same provision that exists in the old charter.

Section 23d. Fixes the amount that may be borrowed in anticipation of the collection of taxes ($7500); the same as in the old charter.

Section 24th. Provides that the fixed amount authorized to be raised in sec. 21 may be changed, when authorized by a majority vote of the people at any annual election, to a greater or lesser amount. This was deemed a wise provision by the committee, because of the certainty of more money being required, at some time in the future and because it was believed that the people would prefer, when the present amount was found to be insufficient to run the city, to have another fixed sum adopted, instead of incurring the expense of an election, as has been done in several instances. This section also provides, when authorized by a majority vote of the people, for a prescribed percentage upon the taxable property, in lieu of a fixed sum. This provision was thought to be a good one for cities in debt. During the session of the last legislature, a bill was passed authorizing the Governor to appoint a commission to look into the whole question of equalizing the assessed valuations for a basis for taxation throughout the State. That commission has been appointed and is required to report before the meeting of the next legislature. If this committee can devise such a plan that will meet with the approbation of the people, this percentage clause may be found a convenient one for some cities, if not for Plainfield.

Section 25th. The City Judge shall be an attorney at law.

Section 26th. Provides what shall be the penalties for the violation of city ordinances.

Section 27th. Provides that the suits shall be brought in the name of the people; and for the publishing of the ordinances.

Section 28th. Provides that no person shall be deemed to be an incompetent juror because he is an inhabitant of the city.

Section 29th. Provides that the City Judge shall have all of the rights, powers and jurisdiction that Justices of the Peace have, in the trial of civil action; his court shall be one of record; judgments rendered in the said court may be appealed in all cases in which appeals are allowed in courts for the trial of small causes.

Section 30th. Provides that judgments may be docketed in the office of the Clerk of the County, in the same manner, subject to the same restrictions and with the same effect as judgments rendered in courts for the trial of small causes.

Section 31st. Provides that all cases pending in the City Judges' court, at the expiration of his term of office, shall be continued before his successor.

Section 32d. Provides that the officers empowered to serve processes, issued by the City Judge, shall be the constables and policemen; and other matters regulating the proceedings in the City Court.

Section 33d. Police officers may make arrests, without warrant, of offenders against the ordinances of the city. The same as in the old charter.

Section 34th. Provides that any conviction had before the City Judge, either with or without a jury trial, may be reviewed by appeal to the Court of Common Pleas of the county, in the same manner and upon the same terms as appeals are or may be, taken from justices' courts, but such appeals shall be upon law only.

Section 35th. Fixes the judge's fee for making return to writs of certiorari.

Section 36th. Provides that (no justice of the Supreme Court shall grant or allow any certiorari to remove any order, proceeding or judgment to be had or made by the City Judge unless) the party applying for a writ of certiorari shall give a bond to abide by the judgment of the Supreme Court.

Section 37th. Provides for the payment of costs by the plaintiff in certiorari to the defendant, if approved by the Supreme Court; if reversed, then the plaintiff shall not be liable. The provisions of this and the preceding section shall extend to the Circuit Court of the county.

Section 38th. Provides that the Excise Board shall have the power to grant, or in their discretion, refuse to grant, licenses to sell spirituous or fermented liquors.

Section 39th. Provides that no person shall dispose of liquor without a license, except apothecaries for medicinal purposes. The old charter provides that apothecaries shall not sell liquor except upon a physician's prescription, which is not repealed by this act, and will remain in full force should this act be adopted.

Section 40th. Provides that whenever it shall appear that anyone having a license to sell liquor has violated any ordinance respecting the sale of the same, his license may be revoked, and no part of the license fee shall be refunded.

Section 41st. Requires the Treasurer and Collector to give bonds to the city.

Section 42d. Provides that the Clerks, Judges and Inspectors of Elections, the Assessors, Collectors and Commissioners of Appeal, shall respectively possess the power and perform the duties of like officers in any township of this state.

Sections 43, 44, 45, 46 and 47. Refer to the duties of the Treasurer, the Assessor, the Commissioners of Appeal, the Constables and the Corporation Counsel.

Section 48th. Provides that all officers appointed by the Mayor, with the consent of the Common Council, shall hold office during the term of the Mayor, by whom they are appointed, until their successors are in a like manner appointed. Such officers shall not be appointed except with the consent of a majority of all the members of the Common Council and may be removed by them for proper cause.

Section 49. Requires every officer of the city to subscribe to an oath that he will justly and faithfully perform all of the duties of his office.

Section 50th. Refers to the laying out and opening of streets; the ordinances to be passed in connection therewith and commissioners to be appointed to assess damages and expenses, in proportion to the benefits each said owner shall be deemed to acquire; said Commissioners to report to the Common Council.

Section 51st. Provides that the Common Council shall provide a place for the Commissioners to meet to hear objections and any party, dissatisfied with the decision of the Commissioners and Common Council, shall have the right of an appeal to the Circuit Court of the County.

Sections 52, 53, 54, 55. All refer to the opening, widening, grading, graveling, paving and macadamizing of the streets.

Sections 56 and 57. Provide for the curbing, paving, flagging, graveling or cementing of sidewalks and that the expense of same shall be borne by the parties owning the real estate fronting thereon.

Sections 58 and 59. Provide for the collection of, and sales for, any assessment under the Act.

Sections 60, 61 and 62. Provide for the right of redemption; the course for the city to pursue when no redemption has been made and for the keeping of a perfect record of all transactions pertaining thereto, by the City Clerk.

Section 63. Makes all assessments a lien on the property assessed.

Section 64. Provides that no road, street, or highway, hereafter laid out or opened, shall be recognized as a public street or highway, unless the same be laid out under the direction of the Common Council, as provided by this Act.

Sections 65 and 66. Make some additional provisions, when it becomes necessary to take lands, for laying out, opening, or widening of streets, when the owner or owners are non compos mentis, or not within the State.

Section 67. Protects the tenants in complying with ordinances requiring them to lay sidewalks in front of the premises occupied by them, with a proviso that nothing in the Act shall affect any contract between landlord and tenant.

Section 68. Provides for the laying of cross-walks.

Section 69. Relates to the payment of interest, when the assessments are not paid, in accordance with the provisions of the Act.

Section 70. Provides that no land or real estate shall be assessed for any street or sewer improvements in a greater amount than such lands or real estate shall be benefited by such improvement; the balance, if any, to be paid by the city. (This section was carefully considered and made to comply with the decisions of our Courts; but the tax-payer is fully protected under the restrictions of section 21, which provides that only $10,000, and a sufficient amount for the support of the poor, shall be raised by tax in any one year, unless asked for by the Common Council and assented to by the people through the ballot-box.)

Old things must give place to new—
The old, we'll sell or barter,
And this idea we'll keep in view
In adopting the New Charter.

But that which builds the inner man,

His bread the cheapest! largest size,
So light, so sweet, 'tis a wonder
How he lives:—The secret lies
In paying cash for his plunder.

We strolled within his mart one day,
Feeling a little curious
How one can make so much display
And not be impecunious.

On counters piled before us lay
His Nonpareil Bread, the whitest;
The daintiest loaves one ever saw,
And yet the very lightest.

He bade us take a loaf and try't,
(But we scorn all obligations)—
So found a dime, chewing to buy't,
And complete our daily rations.

CHAPTER LXXXI.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning the registry and returns of marriages, births and deaths," approved April 25th, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That sections two, three, four, seven, ten, twelve and fifteen of the act to which this is a supplement, which reads as follows:

"2. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the physician, midwife, or other person present at the birth of every child born, and in case there be no physician or midwife present, it shall then be the duty of the parent to report in writing to the proper officer, within thirty days thereafter, the following particulars as far as known: the day of the month and year, the precise place of residence, the names of both parents and the maiden name of the mother, the birthplace, residence and occupation of the parents, the sex and color of the child, and its name, if it be named, also the name of the attending physician; any person herein required to make report of any birth and failing to do so, shall be liable to a penalty of five dollars for each offence; provided, that a report made by any one of the persons present shall relieve the others from the obligation of making such report," be amended so it shall read as follows:

2. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the physician, midwife or other person present at the birth of every child born, and in case there be no physician or midwife present it shall be the duty of the parent to report in writing to the proper officer within thirty days thereafter, the following particulars as far as known: the day of the month and the year of the birth, the precise place of residence, the names of both parents, and the maiden name of the mother, the birthplace, residence and occupation of the parents, the sex and color of the child, and its name, if it be named, also the name of the attending physician, under a penalty of thirty dollars; and it is also provided, that any assessor of a township at the time of his annual assessment, in case he finds any return of birth not made as herein provided, may fill out the certificate of the same on usual blank signed by himself as assessor, and marked "special return," and said return shall be valid as record of the birth, but shall not excuse the attendant for neglect of return.

"3. And be it enacted, That no sexton, undertaker or other person shall hereafter bury within this state, or bring into or remove from this state the body of any deceased person, without having first received a permit from the proper authority of the county, city or township wherein such person may have died, or to which he may be brought from another state for burial, and if so doing, said sexton, undertaker or other person shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars," shall be amended to read as follows:

3. And be it enacted, That no sexton, undertaker or other person shall hereafter bury within this state, or bring into or remove from this state, the body of any deceased person, without having first received a permit from the proper authority of the county, city or township wherein such person may have died, and if so doing, said sexton, undertaker or other person shall be liable to a penalty of fifty dollars; provided, that in burying any deceased person who died in any township in this state outside of city limits, or county health board limits, the certificate of any regularly graduated physician of the township wherein the person died, shall be held by the sexton or undertaker as the only necessary burial permit, to be disposed of by him as hereinafter provided.

4. And be it enacted, That in case of any person dying within this state, it shall be the duty of the physician who may have attended him during his last illness, or in case there has been no physician in attendance, of the coroner or county physician, after view or examination had, to furnish, on the application of the undertaker, or any member of the family, a certificate of death of said person, which certificate shall show the name, age, sex, color, nativity, occupation, last place of residence, precise place of death and cause of death of said decedent, according to the best of his knowledge; and if any physician or coroner refuses or neglects to make such certificate, he shall be liable to a penalty of ten dollars; this certificate shall then be delivered to, and filed with the proper officer, as hereinafter designated; and said officer shall thereupon issue a permit for burial to the person filing such certificate," be amended so that it shall read as follows:

4. And be it enacted, That in case of any person dying within this state, it shall be the duty of the physician who may have attended him during his last illness, to furnish the undertaker, or any member of the family applying therefor, a certificate of the death of said person, which certificate shall show the name, age, sex, color, nativity, occupation, last place of residence, place of death and the cause of death, according to the best of his knowledge, and said certificate shall constitute all the necessary burial permit in any township of the state, outside of city or incorporated or county health board limits, and the undertaker shall, within five days after said burial, send the same, by mail or otherwise, to the assessor of the township in which the deceased died, under a penalty of fifty dollars, as herein provided; and furthermore it is provided, that any undertaker residing in an incorporated city or town may present the certificate of death, in case of any burial which he is superintending, to the city clerk or other proper officer of said city, and receive the usual permit as issued by it, on condition that said clerk shall at once transmit said certificate to the assessor of the township in which the person died, and in case there has been no physician in attendance, some member of the family, if there be any present, if not, any one present, shall notify a physician of the death at once, and the physician shall proceed to view the dead body and ascertain all the facts necessary, and, if satisfied of the cause of death, grant the township certificate for burial, and, if not satisfied, shall send at once for the county coroner, or county physician, or justice of the peace, who shall take charge of the body and investigate the same, and if any person present at the death of any person shall refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of this act, they shall be liable to a penalty of ten dollars, and the physician shall receive one dollar for viewing a dead body and granting the burial certificate, providing said physician has not been in regular attendance on the deceased, if so, no extra charge shall be made by said physician.

"7. And be it enacted, That the proper officer to receive the certificates of marriages, births and deaths, to grant permits for burial, shall, in any incorporated city or borough in which there may be an officer charged with these duties, and in any county having a similar officer appointed by a county board of health now organized, be such person as said incorporated city or county board of health has authorized or may authorize, but in every other case shall, for cities, be the city clerk or clerk of the board of aldermen or common council, and, for township, be the assessor of the township," be amended so as to read as follows:

7. And be it enacted, That the proper officer to receive the certificates of marriages, births and deaths, and to grant permits for burial, shall, in any incorporated city or borough, be the city clerk or other officer charged with these duties, and in any county having a similar officer appointed by a county board of health now organized, be such person or persons as said incorporated city or county board of health has authorized or may authorize, and in townships the assessor; but in townships outside of city or incorporate, or county health board limits, the burial certificate given by any regularly graduated physician shall constitute the burial permit as herein provided.

"10. And be it enacted, That each assessor, clerk or other officer, upon receiving a certificate from the secretary of state as to the whole number of marriages, births and deaths returned as aforesaid, shall be entitled to receive from the collector or other disbursing officer, five cents for each marriage, birth or death so returned, the receipt for which shall be attached to the said certificate, and no payment shall be made unless such certificate be produced," shall be amended to read as follows:

10. And be it enacted, That each assessor, clerk or other officer, upon receiving a certificate from the secretary of state as to the whole number of marriages, births and deaths returned as aforesaid, shall be entitled to receive from the collector of the township or other proper disbursing officer, ten cents for each marriage, birth or death so returned, the receipt for which shall be attached to the said certificate, and no payment shall be made unless such certificate be produced.

"12. And be it enacted, That after the publication of the annual report of the board of health, the secretary of state shall send to the clerk of the court of common pleas of each county all the returns received from their respective counties during the year, to which the report relates; and thereupon said clerk shall arrange alphabetically, index and file away for preservation said returns, keeping each class, births, marriages and deaths, distinct and separate, and also the index and returns for each year separate; for this service the said county clerks shall receive three cents for each certificate filed and indexed from the treasury of their respective counties; provided, that in counties where by the laws of this state there are established boards of health and vital statistics, said information shall be transmitted to the clerks of said board, who shall perform the same duties and receive the same fees therefor as the clerk of the court of common pleas in other counties," be amended so as to read as follows:

12. And be it enacted, That at the publication of the report of vital statistics, the superintendent thereof shall have arranged all returns of marriages, births and deaths for the year to which the report relates to be arranged and alphabetically indexed, keeping each class of marriages, births and deaths distinct and separate, and also the index and returns for each county and for all cities of over five thousand inhabitants within said county, and the same shall be kept on file with the archives of the office of the secretary of state, and for the clerical service needed the comptroller is authorized to pay the same amount as is now provided to be paid to county clerks for the same service, payable to the order of the secretary of state; and in the case of any county now having a county board of health, or of any city of over thirty thousand inhabitants, the clerk of said county or of the city board shall also keep an index registry, and shall receive from the proper authorities of said county and city an amount for each name so registered equal to that heretofore allowed for such index and registry.

"15. And be it enacted, That the secretary of state, or the state board of health shall prosecute, by an action of debt, in the name of the state, for the recovery of any penalty or forfeiture imposed by this law," be amended to read as follows:

15. And be it enacted, That in case of any persons designated in this law to make or transmit returns shall fail so to do, they shall be liable at suit at common law to the amounts heretofore named, but said suit must be brought by a state, city or township board of health, or township committee in the state, and one half of the amount recovered shall be paid to the usual disbursing officer of the city or township, and the rest shall belong to the board or committee bringing the action.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

Approved March 12, 1879.

CHAPTER LIII.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to authorize the formation of railroad corporations and regulate the same,' approved April second, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three," approved February nineteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section two of the act entitled "An act to authorize the formation of railroad corporation and regulate the same," approved April second, one thousand eight hundred and seventy three, as amended by the act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to authorize the formation of railroad corporations and regulate the same,' approved April second, one thousand eight hundred and seventy three," approved February nineteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, and which amended section is as follows:

"2. And be it enacted, That such articles of association shall not be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, until at least two thousand dollars of stock for every mile of railroad proposed to be made, is subscribed thereto and paid in good faith, and in cash, to the directors named in said articles of association; nor until the said directors shall have deposited the said moneys so subscribed and paid to them, with the treasurer of the state of New Jersey, who shall be the custodian of the same, and shall hold the same subject to be repaid to the directors of the said company, or to the treasurer thereof, in sums of two thousand dollars for each mile of said railroad, upon the construction of which it shall be proved to his satisfaction that the said company have expended at least the sum of two thousand dollars, nor until there is endorsed on such articles of association, or annexed thereto, an affidavit, made by at least five of the directors named in said articles, that the amount of stock required by this section has been in good faith subscribed and paid in cash as aforesaid, and that it is intended in good faith to construct, or to maintain and operate the road mentioned in such articles of association, which affidavit shall be recorded with the articles of association as aforesaid; provided, that the articles of association heretofore filed in the office of the secretary of state, pursuant to the terms of the act to which this act is amendatory, by any corporation which shall not at the date of the passage of this act have fully completed at least three miles of their proposed railroad, as located and filed in the office of the secretary of the state, shall be absolutely null and void and of no effect whatever, and the corporate powers vested in such corporation by the filing of such articles shall become extinct, and such corporation shall become ipso facto dissolved, unless such corporation shall, within twenty days after the passage of this act, fully comply with the terms thereof; provided, nevertheless, that such corporations organized under the act to which this is amendatory, as shall have completed at the date of the passage of this act more than three miles of their said railroad as originally located, shall continue to exist for the sole purpose of maintaining and operating the said completed portion of their said road, and of exercising all the powers and franchises necessary to the maintenance and operation thereof, but for no other purpose whatsoever, without complying with the requirements of this act," shall be, and hereby is amended, so that the said section shall read as follows:

2. And be it enacted, That such articles of association shall not be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state until at least two thousand dollars of stock for every mile of railroad proposed to be made is subscribed thereto and paid, in good faith and in cash, to the directors named in said articles of association, nor until the said directors shall have deposited the said money so subscribed and paid to them with the treasurer of the state of New Jersey, who shall be the custodian of the same, and shall hold the same, subject to be repaid to the directors of the said company, or to the treasurer thereof, in sums of two thousand dollars for each mile of said railroad, upon the construction of which it shall be proved to his satisfaction that the said company have expended at least the sum of two thousand dollars, nor until there is endorsed on such articles of association, or annexed thereto, an affidavit, made by at least five of the directors named in said articles, that the amount of stock required by this section has been in good faith subscribed and paid in cash as aforesaid, and that it is intended in good faith to construct or to maintain and operate the road mentioned in such articles of association, which affidavit shall be recorded with the articles of association as aforesaid; provided, that the articles of association heretofore filed in the office of the secretary of state, pursuant to the terms of the act to which this act is amendatory, by any corporation which shall not, at the date of the passage of this act, have fully completed at least three miles of their proposed railroad, as located and filed in the office of the secretary of state, shall be absolutely null and void, and of no effect whatsoever, and the corporate powers vested in such corporation by the filing of such articles, shall become extinct, and such corporations shall become ipso facto dissolved, unless such corporation shall, within twenty days after the passage of this act fully comply with the terms thereof; provided, that such corporations, heretofore organized under the general railroad laws of this state, as have complied with the provisions of said section two of said act entitled "An act to authorize the formation of railroad corporations and regulate the same," approved April second, one thousand eight hundred and seventy three, as the same were before amendment, and the total length of whose road, as shown by the filed survey in the office of the secretary of state, shall be less than three miles, shall have until the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, in which to comply with the provisions of said section two of said act, as amended by this act, and two years from said first day of July is hereby allowed to such corporations for the completion of their said roads, and all the rights and privileges existing and belonging to said corporations, at the time of the passage of the said act, to which this is an amendment, approved April second, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, are hereby restored and confirmed to the said corporations; provided, nevertheless, that such corporations organized under the act to which this is amendatory, as shall have completed at the date of the passage of this act, more than three miles of their said railroad, as originally located, shall continue to exist for the sole purpose of maintaining and operating the said completed portion of their said railroad, and of exercising all the powers and franchises necessary to the maintaining and operation thereof, but for no other purpose whatsoever, without complying with the requirements of this act.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act be, and they are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 4, 1879.

CHAPTER CCIV.

An act concerning official fees and rendering an account thereof.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the clerk in chancery and the clerk of the supreme court, of this state, shall severally keep a true record of all the fees and compensation received by them for their own use from all sources, in their respective offices, under the provisions of any law of this state, and shall respectively make a statement, account and report, under oath, to the comptroller of this state, on the first day of July next and quarterly thereafter, of the gross amount of all such fees and compensation so received by them respectively during the next preceding quarter.

2. And be it enacted, That the secretary of state of this state shall keep a true record of all the fees and compensation received or taken by him for his own use as secretary of state, clerk of the court of errors and appeals, clerk of the prerogative court and register in the prerogative office, clerk of the court of pardons and commissioner of insurance, or in any other official capacity, from all sources, under the provisions of any law of this state, and shall make a statement, account and report under oath to the comptroller of this state, on the first day of July next and quarterly thereafter, of all such fees and compensation, showing separately and distinctly the gross amount of each class or particular kind of fees and compensation, under proper headings, received by him in the capacities above mentioned, or in any other official capacity, during the next preceding quarter.

3. And be it enacted, That the sheriffs and surrogates of the several counties of this state shall respectively keep a true record of all the fees and compensation received by them for their own use, in their respective offices, under the provisions of any law of this state, and shall respectively make a statement, account and report, under oath, to the collectors of their respective counties, on the first day of July next, and quarterly thereafter, of the gross amount of all such fees and compensation, so received by them, respectively, during the next preceding quarter, and the collectors of the respective counties of this state shall forthwith file in the office of the county clerk of their county, every statement, account and report, made to them under this act.

4. And be it enacted, That all such statements, accounts and reports, made and filed, under the provisions of this or any other act, shall be kept and remain on the public files of the office in which they are filed, the same as other papers filed therein, and all statements, accounts and reports made to the comptroller of this state under the provisions of this act, shall be by him included in each of his annual reports to the legislature.

5. And be it enacted, That whenever by the provisions of this act, or of any other act, any person holding any office in this state is required to make or render to the comptroller, or other state officer, or to any county collector or other county officer a statement, account or report of the fees and compensation received by him for his use in such office, in detail or in gross, and such person shall refuse, fail or neglect to render such statement, account or report, in the manner and at the time prescribed by law, said person so refusing, failing or neglecting shall, for every such refusal, failure or neglect, be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars, to be sued for and recovered, with costs of suit, by the comptroller or other state officer to whom such statement, account or report is required to be made, for the use of the state, or by the collector or other county officer to whom such statement, account or report is required to be made, for the use of the county, in an action of debt in any court of competent jurisdiction in this state, and it is hereby made the duty of such comptroller or other state officer and of such collector or other county officer, to promptly bring and prosecute said suit; provided, that the fixing or enforcing of any penalty provided for in this or any other act, for such refusal, failure or neglect, shall not prevent or be construed to prevent the supreme court, or any other competent court or any judge thereof, from granting and issuing and enforcing a writ of mandamus or other order, to compel the making of such statement, account or report in every case.

6. And be it enacted, That if any person shall falsely swear or affirm in the making of any affidavit or affirmation provided for by this act, the person so offending shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and on conviction thereof, shall be liable to all the penalties provided by law therefor.

7. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed, in so far as they are inconsistent herewith, and that this shall be a public act and take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

ABOUT EDITORS.

Every editor loves to have his friends, and particularly his readers, call on him. They belong to the same family, as it were. But when you call to see the editor, don't stay too long. Editors are generally very busy in business hours. If you have a suggestion to make, or news to communicate, state it in the fewest words possible. Don't offer any excuses, or indulge in a long preface to what you have to say. Blurt it right out; tell the editor you wish him well, and bid him good-by. Editors dote on such men as that; they love to receive calls from them. Don't argue with them—don't try to do it. They have no time for argument while at work.

When you write to an editor for publication, make it short—boil it down. Pitch right into the middle of your subject, and be sure to stop when you are through. Editors always like something fresh and original in the way of communications, and are especially fond of news. But the editor must always be the judge of what is worthy of publication. Of course, every writer thinks his own publication the best, just as every mother thinks her baby the prettiest that was ever born. But the editor may be so stupid as to have a different opinion. If so, it can't be helped. Don't try to argue him out of his notion, if he is too stupid to remedy his dullness. You may think you are a great deal smarter than the editor, and this may be true; but the editor may be responsible, and you are not. There is no class of people who are so anxious to please a majority of people as editors are. There is no class so covetous of the good opinion of others. It is well to remember that fact.—Exchange.

WHO ARE THE BLESSED.

Blessed is the man who minds his own business and attends only to his own affairs, and not the affairs of his neighbors.

Blessed is the woman who never says to her husband, "I told you so."

Blessed is the man who can sew on his buttons when the baby is crying.

Blessed is the woman who wont marry a widower, provided he's your father.

Blessed is the mother-in-law who never reminds you that you married above your station.

Blessed is the rich relation who never looks down on you—when you are in the gutter.

Blessed is the poor relation who never looks up to you—for money.

Blessed is the old maid that don't hate old people and children.

Blessed is the old bachelor that don't hate cats and pincushions.

Blessed are the married people who do not wish they were single.

Blessed are the young people that are contented to remain so.

Blessed is the husband who never says his mother's pies were better than his wife's are.

Blessed is the wife (formerly a widow) who never calls up the virtues of her "dear departed" for No. 2 to emulate.

Blessed is the man who gives his wife ten cents without asking her what she is going to do with it.

Blessed is the woman who don't scold when the stove-pipe falls down on the dinner table, and—blessed is the man who can fix it up without swearing.

Blessed is the friend who never requires the loan of your umbrella.

Blessed is the neighbor who is so busy with his own affairs that he has no time to pry into yours.

Where are the blessed?

Echo answers, "Where?"

A little Elko girl surprised a company of visitors by her knowledge of the Creators works. At the dinner-table she exclaimed: "God made all this big world in just six days. God made me and everybody else. He made mamma, too; but He forgot to put any hair on her head, and papa had to buy it for her!" When the mother got through interviewing the young miss, after the company dispersed, the little one wished she had been built like a wash boiler.—Elko (Nev.) Post.

Smalley's Defiance Asparagus.

NEW VARIETY.

The merits and claims of the "Defiance," are as follows: It is earlier, a larger grass, softer, more tender, free from woody fibre, sweet and very delicate, far superior to all other varieties: It will produce double that of the "Colossal" and can cut it longer. It will continue to grow longer than any other sorts. It has been tested for the past three years. I know my roots and seeds to be strictly pure, as I am the sole originator of it; shall not put any seed in the market this year, as I intend planting it myself. It is the best Asparagus grown, either for private use or for market. We would recommend it in preference to all others. Price $5 per 100, and $25 per 1000. No charge for boxes or packing.—Purchasers pay their express. Orders must be accompanied by a remittance, or satisfactory reference. Will be sent by express C. O. D.

ABRAHAM SMALLEY, Bound Brook, N. J.

We, the undersigned, have tested the above variety of Asparagus, and unhesitatingly recommend it as all that is claimed for it, in fact it is a marvel in the shape of this delicious vegetable.

LEGAL NOTICES.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, March 22d, 1879.

Mary L. Hotchkiss, Administratrix of Horace Hotchkiss, deceased.

On application of the above named Administratrix, it is ordered that said Administratrix give Public Notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in The Constitutionalist for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administratrix.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County Surrogate's Office, February 8th, 1879.

Maria Fisher, Administratrix of Jeremiah Fisher, deceased.

On application of the above named Administratrix it is ordered that said Administratrix give public notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in The Constitutionalist for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administratrix.

fl1w9 BY JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

In Chancery of New Jersey.

To Kate E. Fuller:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day and date hereof, in a cause wherein Samuel K. Kittle, acting Executor of Stacy B. Barcroft, deceased, is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear and plead, answer or demur, to the bill of said complainants, on or before the fifth day of May next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a certain mortgage given by Moses Rittenhouse and Rebecca L., his wife, to said Samuel K. Kittle, acting Executor as aforesaid, on lands in the City of Plainfield, dated December 26th, 1876, and you, Kate E. Fuller, are made defendant because you hold encumbrances on said lands.

Dated March 4, A. D., 1879.

SHERIFF'S SALE—Union Circuit Court—James Houston, Jr., vs. Benjamin S. Dean. In case. Fi. fa. de bonis et terris.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on

WEDNESDAY, THE FOURTEENTH DAY OF MAY, A. D., 1879,

at two o'clock, p. m. of said day, all that lot of land situate, lying and being in the township of Summit, county of Union and State of New Jersey:

Beginning at a point on the northerly side of Park Avenue, at the southwest corner of a lot of land now or formerly owned by one George Spinning; running from thence northerly along said Spinning's lot 99 feet to land of John Kelly; thence northeasterly along said John Kelly's land 144 feet to land of The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company; thence along their land westerly 79 feet, more or less, to land of one Freeman; thence southerly along said Freeman's land 209 feet to the northerly side of said Park avenue; thence easterly along the northerly line of said Park avenue 10 feet to the point or place of beginning.

Also, all that lot of land situate, lying and being in the township of Summit, county of Union and State of New Jersey:

Beginning at a point on the southerly side of Park avenue, at northeast corner of land of Adam Woodruff; from thence running southerly along said Woodruff's land 60 feet to land of Benjamin S. Dean, recently conveyed to Jonathan Bonnell; thence along said Dean's land easterly 25 feet to land of Sylvester Dean; thence northerly along said Sylvester Dean's land 60 feet to southerly side of said Park Avenue; thence westerly along the northerly side of said Park avenue 25 feet to the point or place of beginning.

Also, the undivided two-thirds part of the following described tract or parcel of land and premises, situate, lying and being in the township of Summit, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey:

Beginning in the middle of the road leading from the Summit, past the residence of the said Dean to Springfield, over the center of a small culvert bridge, it being the southeast corner of the factory property, now owned by said Dean and Houston; thence binding with their line north 16 degrees east 145 feet 9 inches to a stake in the southerly line of a lot owned by Mary S. Wright; thence with her line north 67 degrees 30 minutes west 99 feet to a a stake and corner of a lot owned by Elizabeth Fenton; thence with her line south 20 degrees 30 minutes west 145 feet to a point in the middle of the aforesaid road; thence along the middle of the same south 73 degrees 30 minutes east 99 feet to the place of beginning.

Being land and premises conveyed by deed recorded in Book 35, page 209, &c., of deeds for Union County.

CHAPTER CXLVI.

An act to define the rights of railroad corporations as to the use of their lands lying opposite and across streets and highways.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any railroad corporation chartered by or authorized to exercise its franchises within this state, which now owns or possesses as lessee or otherwise, lots or parcels of land lying opposite to each other, across and each fronting upon said street or public highway, it is, and shall be, lawful for said corporation to construct their tracks across such street or highway and to use the same for all purposes of transportation, provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to enable such corporation to interfere with or to change the grade of such street or highway, or to prevent or unnecessarily impede the use thereof for ordinary travel.

2. And be it enacted, That any acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXLV.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning the sale of railroads, canals, turnpikes, bridges and plank roads," approved March twenty-fifth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six, and to an act entitled "An act respecting railroads and canals," [Revision], approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the organization of any new corporation contemplated by either of said acts, which shall be or shall have heretofore been made or sought to be made by the meeting together of the purchaser or purchasers and their associates, not less than fifteen in number, of the franchises and property of any railroad, canal, turnpike, bridge or plank road corporation, and the election by them of a president and board of directors, the adoption of a corporate name and corporate seal, the determination of the amount of the capital stock thereof, and the filing of a certificate of such organization in the office of secretary of state, and shall be construed to be effectual in law for the formation and constitution of such new corporation, anything in the said first mentioned act entitled "An act concerning the sale of railroads, canals, turnpikes, bridges and plank roads," to the contrary notwithstanding; and no other persons shall be taken as meant or intended by the following words therein, that is to say, "the person or persons for or on whose account such railroad, canal, turnpike or plank road may be purchased," than such purchaser or purchasers and their said associates.

2. And be it enacted, That if there shall be any error or mistake in any statement contained in the certificate of organization of any such new corporation now or hereafter filed in the office of the secretary of state, it shall be lawful for the court of chancery, on petition filed therein for that purpose by such new corporation or any officer thereof, or any person having interest therein, to order the amendment and correction thereof, and said amendment shall thereupon be made by said secretary of state in the original certificate, which shall thereafter be taken and construed to read as amended.

3. And be it enacted, That no error or mistake in the giving of public notice of the time or place of meeting for the organization of any such new corporation, shall be held or construed in anywise to impair or affect the validity or existence thereof.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXXIX.

An act to prevent the making and publication of false or deceptive statements in relation to the business of insurance.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever any insurance company or association doing business in this state advertises its assets, it shall in the same connection and equally conspicuously advertise its liabilities, the same to be determined in the manner now required in making the annual statements to the secretary of state; and all advertisements purporting to show the capital of such companies or associations shall exhibit only the amount of such capital as has actually been paid up in cash; all policies, renewals, signs, circulars, cards, or other means by which advertisements are made, shall be held to be advertisements within the meaning of this act.

2. And be it enacted, That any such company or association, or any agent thereof, issuing or circulating advertisements which are not in conformity with the limitations and requirements of the preceding section of this act, shall be liable to a fine not less than fifty dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, and it is hereby made the duty of the secretary of state to enforce the provisions of this act.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect on the first day of April in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXXX.

An act to regulate the taxing and assessing of lands heretofore sold, or which may hereafter be sold in any city, incorporated town or township of this state, for non-payment of taxes, assessments or water-rents, and which have been or may hereafter be purchased by said city, town or township or by any person in its behalf.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in any city, incorporated town or township of this state, in which lands or real estate have heretofore been sold, or shall be hereafter sold, for non-payment of taxes, assessments, or water-rents, and purchased by such city, town or township or by any person in its behalf, subject to the right of redemption provided for by law, the taxes, assessments and water-rents which continue to be assessed upon said lands or real estate in the hands of such city, town or township or the person holding in its behalf; but it shall not be necessary to advertise said lands for sale for the payment of any such tax, assessment or water-rent now laid, or hereafter to be laid, or to sell said lands or real estate therefor, and said taxes, assessments and water-rents with interest at the per centum per annum [illegible] ed, marked or labeled, not so branded, marked or labeled, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on trial for such misdemeanor proof of the sale, or offer or exposure alleged, shall be presumptive evidence of knowledge of the character of the article so sold or offered, and that the same was not branded, marked or labeled as required by this act.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXXXIV.

A further supplement to the act entitled "An act concerning townships and township officers," approved April twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That nothing in the act approved the nineteenth day of March, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, supplemental to the act to which this is a further supplement, shall be construed to authorize or require an assessment upon the owners of lands and real estate, of more of the costs and expenses of the supply of water in said supplemental act provided for, than is equal to the benefits conferred thereby upon the said lands and real estate; and that such portion of said costs and expenses as shall not, for any reason, be assessed and collected in the mode provided by said supplemental act, shall be a debt or charge against the township receiving such supply, in its corporate capacity; and the township committee thereof shall cause the same to be paid out of any moneys of said township not otherwise appropriated, or shall cause the same to be assessed and collected by taxation in the same manner as other township charges and expenses are raised and paid.

2. And be it enacted, That the said township committee, before they proceed to make any assessments contemplated by this act, shall take and subscribe an oath or affirmation, before the clerk of said township, to make the said assessment [illegible] impartially, according to the best of their skill and judgment.

2. And be it enacted, That the said township committee, or a majority of them, shall make a report, by a certificate in writing, of the assessment so made, and before proceeding to sign the same, shall give an opportunity to the parties interested to examine the same, and shall give at least five days' notice, by advertisement or otherwise, to the parties interested, at what time and place in said township the said report may be examined by them, and also of the time and place, when and where the parties interested, can be heard by the said township committee, or a majority of them; and after hearing the parties, the said township committee, or a majority of them, shall proceed to complete said report, making such alterations as they deem proper, and shall then sign the same, and deliver said report to the collector of said township.

4. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and they are hereby repealed, and that this act take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXCVIII.

An act respecting the salaries and compensation of president judges of courts of common pleas.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the annual salary of the law or president judges of the courts of common pleas in all counties of this state having, by the state census of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, a population of more than seventy-five thousand inhabitants, shall hereafter be the sum of five thousand and five hundred dollars, and no more, which said salary shall be in lieu of all fees, per diem, or other remuneration or compensation whatsoever, for any and all services required to be performed by said judges by any law of this state, or in any of the courts of said counties, and shall be paid to said judges by the board of chosen freeholders of said counties respectively, in quarterly payments, and all fees to which such judges are now entitled shall be paid into the treasury of said counties respectively.

2. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act be and the same are hereby repealed, and this shall be a public act and take effect immediately, saving and excepting that so far as the same increases or diminishes the salary, per diem, fees or compensation of any of said judges now in office, during the term for which such judge was appointed, it shall take effect only upon and immediately after the end of such term.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXXXIX.

A further supplement to an act entitled "An act respecting the orphans' court and relating to the powers and duties of the ordinary and the orphans' court and surrogates," [Revision,] approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in case any bond given by executors or administrators in pursuance of the act to which this is a supplement, which has or shall become forfeited and has been or may be caused by the ordinary to be prosecuted to judgment, in any court of record, and it shall be made to appear to the ordinary, by petition filed by any surety, against whom judgment has been or shall have been rendered, upon such bond that the damages sustained by the non-performance of the condition of such bond, together with the costs of suit and execution thereon, have been fully satisfied so far as such surety shall have been able to ascertain such damages, and that such executor or administrator, who has or shall have caused such forfeiture, has or shall have absconded himself from this state for seven years successively, and has or shall have neglected and failed properly to proceed with the administration of the estate, for the performance of which such bond was or shall have been given, and no administrator has been appointed in his stead, the ordinary, upon application of such surety, may make an order directing such surety to give public notice to the creditors of the decedent and any persons aggrieved by the forfeiture of such bond, to bring in their debts, demands and claims against the estate of the decedent, under oath, within three months from the date of such order, by advertising such notice for six weeks successively, once in each week, in one or more of the newspapers of this state, as may be directed in said order, and any further notice, in case the ordinary shall judge the same necessary, and such notice shall be advertised within twenty days after the date of such order.

2. And be it enacted, That when any order to bring in debts and claims, shall be made in pursuance of the preceding section, all claims and demands of the creditors of the deceased, and of all persons aggrieved by the forfeiture of such bond, shall be presented in writing, specifying the amount claimed and the particulars of the claim, and shall be verified under oath, or the bringing in of the same shall be of no effect.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act for the preservation of fish," approved April fifth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

Whereas, Section one of the act to which this is a supplement, provides "That hereafter it shall not be lawful for any person or persons either by day or night, to put, place or haul any gill, drift or other net or nets, for the taking or catching of fish in any of the waters of this state (except as hereinafter provided) at any time between the fifteenth day of May and the fifteenth day of July in each and every year;" and whereas, the said act is, in consequence of, a construction adverse to the interests of the shad and herring fisheries of the state; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the prohibition in the said act as to fishing after the fifteenth day of May, shall not be held to forbid the operations of the shad and herring fisheries of the state, to the tenth day of June, south of Trenton Falls, and to the fifteenth day of June, north of Trenton Falls, as now provided by law.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

having less than two thousand inhabitants, shall have the full power and authority to [illegible] regulate and grade [illegible] gutters and water courses of the public streets in said boroughs, and shall have [illegible] authority to exercise all such powers as are now [illegible] by law may be vested in township committees in this state, relating to highways.

2. And be it enacted, That any and all additional sum or sums of money to be used for the purposes aforesaid, shall be assessed, collected and paid over in the same manner as other taxes are assessed and collected in townships in this state; provided, that said additional sum shall not exceed one thousand dollars, nor be less than five hundred dollars; and provided also, that no money raised at any town meeting of any township wherein said borough is situate, to be used for road purposes outside of the limits of said borough, shall be assessed upon the persons or property within the limits of said borough; provided further, that no money raised at any town meeting of any township wherein said borough is situated to be used for road purposes within the limits of said borough shall be assessed upon the persons or property outside the limits of said borough.

3. And be it enacted, That every legal voter resident in said borough shall annually be assessed a head or poll tax of one dollar each, which said sum so assessed shall be collected and paid as other taxes are assessed and collected in townships in this state.

4. And be it enacted, That the head or poll tax so ordered to be raised shall be used for the purpose of lighting the street lamps only, all borough taxes shall be assessed and collected by the assessor of the township wherein said borough is situate, by a separate and distinct assessment, in the same manner and for one-fourth of the compensation as other taxes are assessed and collected in townships in this state, which sum of money so raised shall be paid, by the collector of said township upon presentation to him of an order signed by the said commissioners of streets, or a majority of them.

5. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed.

6. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXLVII.

An act to prohibit imprisonment for default in payment of taxes on real estate.

Whereas, It has been held by the court of errors and appeals that taxes duly assessed for and on account of real property are not necessarily first liens thereon, but are to be deferred to mortgages which have been made upon such property previously to the assessment of such taxes thereon; and whereas, the equity of redemption or legal title to real property to a very large extent is vested in persons who, by reason of the depreciation in value of such property or other misfortune, are unable to pay the taxes thereon; and whereas, constables and other officers charged with the collection of taxes, finding it impossible to collect the same from owners who cannot pay and from mortgagees who will not pay, may obtain warrants for the imprisonment of the bodies of such owners as delinquent, under and by virtue of section eighteen of an act concerning taxes [Revision of Statutes of New Jersey, page 1161,] to the great hardship, suffering and disgrace of such owners and their families, and to the discredit of this state; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That hereafter no warrant shall be issued by any justice of the peace or other officer of this state, to any constable or other officer directing or authorizing the arrest or imprisonment of any person for or on account of any default or delinquency in the payment of taxes on real estate; but nothing in this act shall be construed to affect or in any wise to abridge or impair any provision other than arrest and imprisonment for the collection of taxes.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

DID JOHN SHERMAN LIE?

In a speech delivered at Mansfield, Ohio, on Monday evening last, the Secretary of the Treasury gave utterance to the following words:

"There are now members of Congress who hold their seats by fraud and intimidation. In South Carolina more votes were cast last fall than there were men, women and children and cats and dogs in the state." It is only fair to presume that Mr. Sherman fully intended that his audience should accept the above statement as true. Though there might have been some in that audience who, having minds not warped by bitter hatred and partisanship, would perceive this statement to be only a mild hyperbole, yet there must have been many who did not for a moment question its absolute correctness.

Let us examine into this matter and endeavor to ascertain whether or not the statement is worthy of belief. The population of South Carolina in 1870, was 706,000, allowing only a small increase since then, it now must be at least 800,000. The official returns of the entire vote of South Carolina for Congressmen in November, 1878, was 165,000. It will now very readily be seen that Mr. Sherman overstated the matter by 635,000. In making this calculation we have not taken into consideration the dogs and cats which would of course make the discrepancy in his statement still larger. Now, if this is a fair representation of his knowledge of addition and subtraction, he most assuredly is an unfit man for Secretary of the Treasury. If he himself believes the statement to be true we can only conclude that he is a fool and hence unfit to be trusted with money belonging to other people. If he knew the statement to be incorrect then he is guilty of falsehood, and since one who is addicted to falsehood is not to be trusted, hence we again conclude that he is entirely unfit for the very responsible position he now holds.—Here are the three horns of the dilemma, Mr. Sherman, accept which you please.

A PROPHECY.

The Indianapolis Sentinel of Wednesday of last week, says: While in the County Clerk's office, yesterday, a Sentinel reporter picked up a paper upon which was written in a hand he knows to be that of Professor Ryland T. Brown, the venerable seer and scholar, the following prophetic sentences: (It should be remembered that the writer is a temperate Republican.) "The reason of the Democratic defeat yesterday in Cincinnati, Columbus, &c., in Ohio, and Evansville, Indiana, is the secret importation of negroes. This is an arranged programme by Chandler et. al, and will be carried on until Indiana, Ohio, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut are made Republican for 1880. Mark the prediction!!! Cincinnati Rep. majority 1,500. Columbus Rep. first time in 20 years. Michigan Rep. over both Dem. and Nat. fused. No effort will be made to carry any of the old 16 slave States in 1880 by the Republicans, but by importing negroes they will try to carry every one of the old free States, and it looks now as though they could do it. Tilden only carried 4, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana.

MR. VANATTA'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Jacob Vanatta was celebrated Saturday at Morristown. In keeping with the character of the man, the services, while very impressive, were marked with the most extreme simplicity. All places of business in the town were closed, and most of their occupants were actively engaged in connection with the duties of the occasion. A citizens' committee headed by Mayor Mills, welcomed the strangers as they arrived, and conducted them to the Park House, where a substantial lunch was ready. A line of carriages furnished by the residents provided ample accommodation for those who gathered from all parts of the State to show their respect to its greatest lawyer. After services at Mr. Vanatta's residence, a procession was formed and conducted to the First Presbyterian Church on the green. In the procession were almost without exception all the prominent men of New Jersey—Govs. McClellan and Parker; Senators Frelinghuysen and Stockton; Judges Depue, Dixon and Reed: Chancellors Runyon, Williamson and Dodd, the Secretary, Comptroller and Treasurer of the State; Mr. Dennis, President of the United Railways; Mr. Sloan, of the Morris and Essex; Mr. Dixon, of the Delaware and Hudson; Judge Lathrop, of the Central; Receiver McCullough, of the Midland; General Fitz John Porter, Wm. Walter Phelps, Courtlandt Parker, United States Judge Dixon, United States District-Attorney Keasbey, W. S. Sneeden, manager of the Southern Railroad, and hundreds of others prominent in Railway and official circles. The church could receive but a small proportion of those who were anxious to enter. Rev. Mr. Herdman offered prayer; Rev. Drs. Green and White made appropriate addresses. The remains were then carried to the Morristown Cemetery.

The pay of election officers hereafter will be only $2 per day. Reform always strikes in the wrong place. If it isn't worth $5 per day to sit at elections we know some other officials who are greatly overpaid. A paltry $2 is not enough to compensate any man for enduring a long days' vexations always to be experienced by the polling officers.—Hunterdon Co. Dem.

According to the revised statutes of New Jersey, Sunday gunning is punishable with a fine of $5, except for those who observe the seventh day of the week as the Sabbath, and they can gun on their own land only on the first day of the week. Under the old Sunday law of this State, shooting on Sunday is punishable with fine or imprisonment.

EX-GOV. RANDOLPH'S THOUGHTS.

New Jersey's honored son, Senator Randolph, but uttered the truth and thoughts of every patriotic citizen when he said in his grand speech on the Army Bill before the United States Senate, last week:

Mr. President, I have been witness to the use of the troops of the United States, protecting so-called officials of a State government, as they trod upon the liberties of citizens and the rights of the State. I have seen the military power of this Government put forth within three years—the Senator from Maine will observe—within three years, and successfully put forth, and unlawfully put forth, and by the President of the United States, to keep one pretended State Legislature in power and another from its rights; and of that Legislature thus unlawfully and forcibly kept in, scarce one of them to-day is not an inmate of a penitentiary, under indictment for mean crime, or a fugitive from justice.

This was the class of "citizens" that the army of the United States was compelled to protect and defend against the people's own.

Can ours be an idle warning to a free people that have seen and felt the usurping power? Will it be said, sir, that no President of a republic will dare to misuse this power?

I know to the contrary. I had the honor to bear a message in 1876 from Governor (now Senator) Hampton to the then President of the United States, requesting him to withdraw his troops from the State-house of South Carolina in deference to a decision of the Supreme and highest court of that State. I urged the importance of it with all the force of appropriate language at my command. I told the President, that in the judgment of eminent lawyers, the governor then out of office by expiration of his term, had not lawfully invoked the assistance of Federal power, inasmuch as he had made no effort to convene his legislature, though easily done, and obtain their action on a matter, so vital; that the newly-elected governor desired the attendance of the representatives of the people in their state-house, from which Federal bayonets, as I myself knew, kept them; and, finally, that the contest being one of purely State concern, regarding only the claims of State officers, and these having been definitively settled by the highest legal tribunal that could ever take cognizance of the case—i. e., the Supreme Court of South Carolina—I urged that the Federal forces should be promptly withdrawn from the State capitol.

You may imagine, sir, my astonishment and indignation when, in angry tone and uncivil manner, the President replied, "I won't withdraw the troops; I don't regard the decision of the Supreme Court, and if I had any message to send to Gen. Hampton, it would be that his message to me is an impertinence!"

"An impertinence," sir! for the Governor of a State to communicate his wishes, not demand his rights, as he might properly have done to the President of the United States! An impertinence, indeed!

"Upon what meat doth this our Cæsar feed,
That he is grown so great!"

No, Mr. President, we cannot make too much haste to guard the liberties of freemen everywhere in this broad land, from the chance of blotting the pages of our history with a repetition of the usurping act of a President less than three years ago!

I may repeat, sir, in conclusion, in the earnest, forcible, and stirring language of the patriot Jennings, speaker of the New Jersey Assembly, in his address to the Representatives of Britain's Queen more than a century and a half ago: "LIBERTY is too valuable a thing to be easily parted with; and where such mean inducements procure such violent endeavors to tear it from us, they have neither heads, hearts, nor souls, that are not moved with the miseries of the country, and are not forward, with their utmost power, lawfully to redress them."

THE NEW LIBERTY BILL.

The following is the text of the new bill to restore free elections which passed the House on Tuesday, and which Hayes says he will sign:

Whereas, The presence of troops at the polls is contrary to the spirit of our institutions and the traditions of our people, and tends to destroy the freedom of elections: therefore,

Be it enacted, &c., That it shall not be lawful to bring to or employ at any place where a general or special election is being held in a State, any part of the army or navy of the United States, unless such force be necessary to repel the armed enemies of the United States or to enforce section 4, article 4, of the Constitution of the United States, and the laws made in pursuance thereof, on application of the Legislature or the Executive of the State where such force is to be used; and so much of all laws as is inconsistent herewith is hereby repealed.

About the first of April the sound of the whistle of the automatic signal buoy anchored off Brigantine Shoals, on the New Jersey coast, in the neighborhood where the Nederland went ashore, was missed, and upon reaching the buoy, which is eight miles from the beach, it was found that the whistle was gone. It was probably stolen by wreckers—there being many along the coast—in hopes that its absence would be the means of throwing an unfortunate vessel into their grasp. There have been no wrecks at this spot since the buoy was placed there, and business has consequently during that time been dull among the wreckers along that coast. The Government, feeling the importance of this case, advertises by posters all through the district, and in the Eastern newspapers, offering $400 reward for the apprehension and conviction of the person or persons who removed the aforesaid whistle.

The immigration scheme of the Republican leaders, to drain the South of her colored laborers, is a direct blow at the white labor at the North. If it succeeds, the West will be overrun with negroes who will work for almost any price, so low, in fact, that the white man cannot afford to compete. The West is, and always has been, the great field whither the unemployed of the East go to push their fortunes in the struggle for bread. But if the negroes of the South be induced to go there to further the political ends of the Republican leaders, they will fill that field almost to the total exclusion of the white laborer. Let the white mechanics and laboring men of the North look at this question as it concerns them, and then ask themselves how far they can support the views of the demagogues who are willing to build their own political fortunes upon the misery and misfortunes of the people.—Hunterdon Co. Dem.

One of our Western exchanges says: "The sainted Eliza Pinkston is among the Kansas emigrants."

AMERICAN JUTE.

Mr. James Bishop, Chief of the Bureau of Statistics of Labor and Industries, has issued a circular in which he says that "public spirited agriculturists of this State will discover the evidence of an unabated interest in the production of American jute and ramie."

The following circular is attached:

The subscriber will pay in cash, on delivery in Camden, N. J., eight dollars per ton of two thousand pounds, for straight jute stalks, not less than three or four feet in length, and free from lateral branches other than those which form the crown, put up securely in convenient size bundles in a perfectly dry state. Notice of intended delivery must be given two weeks in advance.

The best results in yield and quality will be obtained from rich soil, deeply plowed and finely worked, and the seed thoroughly covered by harrowing. A tepid soaking of the seed for forty-eight hours will advance germination and remove the false seed, which will come to the surface.

Poudrette, or night soil, is one of the best fertilizers for jute or ramie. In the absence of poudrette, stable manure in compost will answer a good purpose.

The seed may be sowed broadcast, but not too thick. Drill sowing is recommended, similar to that of wheat and rye—to obviate branching the seed should not be more than from four to five inches apart either way.

The period for harvesting, to obtain the fibre, is when the pods begin to form, or at an average stage of blooming, which will necessitate to some extent the sacrifice of seed. Seed can always be secured in ample quantity from corner patches and imperfect growths, which may be allowed to mature for that purpose.

The stalks must be cut close to the ground. Uprooting and splitting must be avoided.

Ramie, put up in the same condition and likewise delivered, will be paid for at the rate of ten dollars per ton of two thousand pounds.

ENJOY LIFE.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means for enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worried out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint is the direct cause of seventy-five per cent of such maladies as Billiousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine,

is eminently a Family Medicine, and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.

After over Forty Years trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent physicians commend it for all diseases of the Liver.

AS AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC

Opinion of the Clergy.

Simmons' Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure. If any of our fellow beings are suffering from hepatic disorders and have doubts in relation to the efficacy of this popular preparation, we can only offer them the simple and candid argument of Philip to Nathaniel: "Come and see." Try the proposed remedy and then you can judge for yourselves. Rev. David Wills, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Macon, Ga.

TAKE
SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR

The Symptoms of Liver complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side.—Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for Rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, Debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them, but the liver is generally the organ most involved.

Consumption can be Cured!

This fact has been demonstrated in more than TEN THOUSAND CASES, by

Dr. S. D. HOWE
The Great Consumption Doctor of New York,
PROPRIETOR OF THE

Arabian Medicines,
Celebrated throughout the World for their remarkable Cures.

DR. HOWE'S ARABIAN MILK CURE.
DR. HOWE'S ARABIAN TONIC.
DR. HOWE'S ARABIAN LIVER PILLS.

The only medicines that have ever been known to "Positively" Cure Consumption.

TESTIMONY
Of the Hon. Jos. E. Gary, Judge of the Superior Court, Chicago, Ill.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14th, 1878.

DR. S. D. HOWE,
DEAR SIR:—Permit me to add my grateful testimony to the array of witnesses to the virtues of your justly celebrated Arabian remedies. For a long time my wife was seriously afflicted with hacking cough, oppressed breathing, soreness of the chest, and constant acute pain in the lower portion of the right lung and under the shoulder blade. Her sufferings were intense, and she became extremely nervous and prostrated. Her disease was pronounced consumption by the physicians of Chicago and other cities, whose prescriptions had been taken without benefit. When you visited Chicago in June, 1878, we called on you, having very little hope of deriving help from your treatment. We were inspired with hope by the skillful manner in which your thorough examination was conducted, and the satisfactory explanation with which you closed your diagnosis. My wife determined to take your medicines in accordance with your plain and practical directions. She began to use the Arabian Milk-Cure and Arabian Tonic; their beneficial effects soon became manifest—the cough loosened and soon ceased, respiration became easy, the soreness of the chest was relieved and all pain removed, she began to gain in flesh and improve in strength and appearance. I fully believe that your medicines and skillful advice have saved the life of my wife. She unites with me in this grateful tribute to the merit of your remedies. Very respectfully yours,
JOSEPH E. GARY.

The above letter is only one amongst thousands received from all parts of the United States.

Price of Milk-Cure and Tonic, each $1 per bottle. Pills, 25 Cents per Box. Sold by H. P. Reynolds, Druggist, Sole Agent for Plainfield, N. J.

PATENTS.

Having been for ten years in different official positions in the War, Treasury and Interior Departments, Washington, D. C., which include the Adjutant General's, Pension, Second Auditor's, General Land and Patent Offices, and being in active practice before the Supreme Court, Washington, D. C., as Attorney and Counselor-at-Law just before taking up my residence in Plainfield, I have acquired such a familiarity with the laws, rulings and decisions thereon as enables me to confidently assure all that I am prepared to procure patents and attend to every possible class of work before the different offices above mentioned, and the Supreme Court, Washington, D. C.

Arrears of Pay, Pension and Bounty.

And all other claims of Officers, Soldiers and Sailors and their heirs. I have recently taken up this branch in connection with my law practice, believing that there are hundreds of deserving persons in this section, who are justly entitled to help in account of disability contracted in line of duty, and only want some one to guide them and who would willingly forego all that the government would properly pay them if they could be restored to the health and condition they enjoyed before entering the service.

Having served in the U. S. Army from the commencement until the close of the late war, I make no charge for the work where my comrade or his heirs are dependent.

MONEY to loan on first mortgage. See advertisement in another column.

BOYS call the officer "Chief Engineer." Call him "Chief," and give him his proper title.

FRED CAPAR, of this city, has received a patent for a ventilator to ice boxes, his own invention.

FOR complete and authentic report of Council Proceedings read THE CONSTITUTIONALIST.

MR. BUTTON, a former attache on the editoral staff of the New York World, is a resident of our city, to which he comes for health.

MR. E. A. GRIMO on Tuesday last purchased a fine match for his bay horse "Charley," and has now a team that he is proud of.

MR. WILLIAM MOORE has caused to be repainted the balcony on the Second Street side of the Mansion House. E. C. Morse received the contract.

"GYPSIES" are what they call them, and a band or two are located on the outskirts of the city, where they drive sharp bargains in horse flesh—and chickens.

WHAT was that bright American flag displayed for in front of Cottier's Grocery Store on Tuesday morning last. Could it have been for Hanlan? or—what.

TIER & SON, Plainfield's old Ice Merchants, are delivering their ice in a new wagon. The reputation of this firm for furnishing pure ice at reasonable rates is well-known.

CODDINGTON BROS., Ice Merchants, are out with a new delivery wagon of gorgeous appearance, and "Charley" is proud of his turn-out. Their ice is made from pure spring water.

THE German Singing Society of this city are making extensive preparations for their Grand Concert and Flag Dedication at Vail's Spring Grove, on top of the mountain, June 16th.

OUR CITY painters have determined on an increase of wages from their "bosses," a meeting of the journeymen painters of the city being called to consider that subject last (Thursday) evening.

AND now it is the little girls who play "hop-scotch," and ridiculous figures they make of themselves, too, straddling a chalk mark line of two feet stretch. Give it up, girls, and take to your dolls.

MRS. M. WILL has not removed, and notifies her patrons by advertisement in another column that she is still at the old stand, Front St., opp. Park Avenue. Foreign and domestic fruits, nuts, birch beer, &c. Give her a call.

A NEEDED work of repairing has just been completed by Messrs. Geo. Townley and Wm. Chandler, in taking down and rebuilding the stone area wall on the Park Avenue side of Robert's Livery Stables, and relaying the flagging over the sidewalk.

MR. JOHN RAFFERTY has made repairs in and re-painted and papered his saloon on Park Avenue, which is a great improvement. Mr. Wm. Tobin did the carpenter work.—E. C. Morse the painting and papering.—"John" asks his friends to call and see him.

MANY handsome turn-outs are to be seen on our public thoroughfares the present fine weather, which points to the fact that summer residents are returning to our beautiful city with their gay equipages and that our livery merchants are also liberally patronized.

DR. TOMLINSON is making a decided improvement in his residence on Second Street, by the construction of a consulting room or office in the front part of the same, which will leave him his old office in the rear as a private room for consultation with patients.

CURTISS & GRIFFEN is the name of a new firm who will open a hardware store in Pettibone & Co's old stand on Front Street, about the middle of this month. Mr. Curtiss was employed by Mr. Pettibone and Mr. Griffen is an old employee of Berry & Thorn.

THE preliminary steps toward the erection of Potter & Co's. Printing Machine Works in this city, was started last Wednesday, when Messrs. Wilson & Simpson began the grading of the plot of ground on which the buildings are to be erected. The contracts have not as yet, been given out.

ASK COLLIER, the "boss" Jeweller, of Park avenue, has put a new "head" or dial on our office clock, which was presented this firm in 1872 by the "Central B. B. Club." It was then furnished by Collier, and he or no "other man" has had a chance to repair it since, its time being correct always.

THE finest piece of blue stone flagging laid in the city for many a day is that just completed in front of Martin Bros. new Grocery, corner of Park Avenue and Second Street. The contract was given to Messrs. Vail & Shotwell, and the work performed under the superintendence of one of their trusted workmen, Mr. P. Kiely.

WE understand that Mr. Wm. Bloodgood, of the firm of Taylor & Bloodgood, Felt manufacturers, near Rahway, has taken up his residence for the summer in one of Mr. Wm. Darling's handsome residences on Prospect Avenue. Mr. Taylor also contemplates taking a summer residence here. We welcome them to our beautiful city.

Discipline.

As we last week stated, the teachers in the Primary and Intermediate Departments of our Public Schools are training the scholars to leave the School rooms in such a manner, on dismissal, that in case of a fire occurring in the building, there would be system and regularity which would prevent a panic and probable loss of life. From the tap of a bell the scholars in the Fifth Street building have all passed out with their books and wraps, down two flights of stairs, in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. In the Fourth Street building, one flight, in 58 seconds, which speaks well for the discipline of the school.

Accident to Mayor Harper.

His Honor, Mayor Harper, has been confined to his residence for the past week, in consequence of strained muscles in his right arm near the shoulder. He attributes the cause of same from over-exertion in cleaning up underbrush, &c., in his garden. Mr. Harper has one of the finest lawns and flower beds adjacent his residence that can be seen in the city; and it is his pride to personally see that the same is kept in such a neat and attractive condition. After his arduous daily duties as Sec. of a well-known Insurance Company in New York, it has always been his pleasure and custom to exercise his muscles with the spade or rake in his garden, upon his return to his home in the evening, hence the unfortunate predicament he has been placed in. His Honor went to his place of business in New York for the first time since the accident Thursday morning.

The Retiring Commissioners.

Messrs. Jacob Adams and Wallace Vail, the retiring members of the Board of Fire Commissioners leave behind them a record that they, in common with our citizens, may be proud of, and one worthy to be emulated by the members of the new Board. Mr. Adams, as Treasurer of the Board for the past four years, has faithfully looked after the interests of the people and tax payer. By his judicious actions, many hundreds of dollars have been saved the Department. When the Department was in want of money, Mr. Adams was one to loan them the same, as is evidenced by the fact that the Department owes him over $1,200 upon his retirement from office. No better financier ever controlled the Treasureship of the Plainfield Fire Department. Mr. Vail has been a faithful servant to the public in the capacity as Commissioner for the past 12 years, and through his efforts are to be accredited many of the improvements and facilities now afforded by the Department. When it became necessary to procure a second steamer for Plainfield, Mr. V. was one who in 48 hours raised a subscription of over $1,300, signers of which pledged their money, without interest, to purchase a steamer, to be paid for by the Board when their means would permit. So, too, in the procurement of supplies for the Department, he was always found ready to spend his money and time for the benefit of the public good. The above two named Commissioners were not "left at home" for incompetency, but through malignant hate for doing their duty. Their successors are gentlemen of ability and we doubt not will perform the various functions of their office with credit and honor alike to themselves and the public.

Suicide at New Brunswick.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., May 2.—M. D. Vincent committed suicide by shooting early this morning. Two balls discharged from a gun lodged in the neck under the right ear. He was the head of the firm of Vincent & Co., clothiers, who were recently sold out by a receiver.

Adrian Graff, the absconding City Treasurer, was also a member of the firm. Sickness and financial trouble were the cause of the suicide. Vincent was about 50 years of age, and leaves a family.

Mr. Vincent learned his trade of Mr. John D. Titsworth, of this city.

A Pleasure Trip.

On Wednesday evening last, a compartment palace car was attached to the train leaving this city for New York at 7.01, in which were domiciled for a two week's pleasure trip, Messrs. Ex Councilman Fred Knowland, wife and daughters, Josie and Carrie, E. M. Pope, Esq., wife and son, and Mrs. Kirk Myers, of this city, their destination being Pittsburgh, Pa., first, and ultimately Grand Rapids, Mich., and other places of interest. The excursion was gotten up by Mr. Knowland, who is General Agent of the Kansas & Pacific Railroad Company. We regret that pressing business matters deterred us from accompanying the same.

Personals.

LORENZO or "Renie" Brower, son of Wm. H. Brower, Esq., of this city sails on a school ship this week, for a six month's cruise.

We were favored, on Wednesday last, with a call from brother R. J. Kilgore, editor of that staunch Democratic journal, The Hunterdon County Democrat, and were pleased to have an hour's chat with him.—Mr. K's. son, who accompanied him, is looking about our fair city with a view of opening a Drug Store here.

Dr. Gilbert, the projector and inventor of the elevated railroad plan, was in our city on Friday last. If the Dr. had his dues, the road would have been named after him.

Governor McClellan has removed with his family from Trenton to his residence on the Orange Mountains, where he will spend the summer. He will be at the Executive Chamber, at the State House, on Tuesdays.

Captain Isaac Sofield, an old and experienced seaman, of Perth Amboy, has recently been appointed pilot by the Board of New Jersey Pilot Commissioners.

We are glad—and so is the elder Berry, to welcome back again to his usual haunts, the younger Berry, surnamed "Daniel," of the firm of Berry & Thorn, who has been on a tour through the Southern States the past two weeks. "Dan" looks and feels better than when he started, but is very reticent.

"Mat," or Madison Merrick, well known throughout Warren and Plainfield Townships, died suddenly at his residence in Warrenville on Saturday last, of consumption. His remains were interred on Sunday.

Meeting of the Fire Commissioners.

Last Wednesday evening was the last meeting of the old Board of Fire Commissioners and the organization of the new Board. Promptly at 8 o'clock all the members except President E. R. Pope, assembled in their rooms, Coward's Building, on Park avenue. In the absence of President Pope, Commissioner Jones was appointed to fill the vacancy, with J. W. Murray as Secretary. The regular routine of business was taken up and acted upon, after which the old Board adjourned sine die. The new Board for 1879 organized by electing E. R. Pope, President, R. K. Case Secretary and Jeremiah Van Winkle Treasurer. The returns of the recent Department election were taken up, and by a unanimous vote, T. O. Doane was announced as Chief of the Department, with Andrew L. Carney as 1st and James G. Vanwinkle as 2d Assistant Engineers. A communication was presented from the opposing candidate for Chief, signed "Wm. H. Voorhees, per Greenleaf Voorhees," protesting against the Board certifying to the election of the above named officers, setting forth that Voorhees was elected Chief and Shay 2d Assistant, through the medium of the votes cast by the members of the late disbanded Co. No. 2. The Board promptly rejected the communication, and declared Doane, Carney and Van Winkle elected, their time of service to commence at 12 o'clock "noon" of Friday, May 9th. The returns for Company officers, except that of "No. 2," were also received and accepted. From the report of the retiring Treasurer, there is no money on hand, and the Board is indebted to him for over $1,200 for monies loaned.

Oratorio of "Athalie."

We would again call the attention of our readers to the Concert to be given by the Vocal Society, on the 15th inst., of which the above Oratorio will form a part. That this Concert will be the crowning event of the season in the musical circles of our city, we have no doubt, the management having spared no pains or expense to accomplish that end. The first part of the programme will be devoted to Glees and Part Songs, comprising new and popular selections, among which are Spofforth's "Hail Smiling Morn," Gade's "Spring Message," one of the most effective pieces the Society renders, and the "Stars in Heaven," by Raudenberger, which was so enthusiastically received at the late Brooklyn Concert, in which the Vocal Society took part. Of course the principal attraction will be "Athalie," and as it has not been given here for a number of years, it is looked forward to with great pleasure by those who are familiar with this, Mendelssohn's grand work, and for those who have not heard it, we bespeak an evening of enjoyment such as will not soon be forgotten. In order to give brilliancy to the Oratorio it was necessary to employ a competent reader, which the Society has done in the person of Mr. Chas. Roberts, Jr., who so acceptably filled the same position when the work was given here several years ago. Of the Soloists—Miss Wilkinson is sufficiently well-known and popular, by her several previous appearances under the same auspices, as not to require any extended notice. The two Sopranos, Mrs. Swift and Miss Tooker, are favorably known and highly spoken of in New York and Brooklyn, and we have no hesitation in stating that they will carry out their part of the programme in a most creditable manner. The Orchestra, which takes a prominent part in the programme, is from the New York Philharmonic Society, a sufficient guarantee of its excellence. And when we state that the Chorus will be augmented by the addition of a number of select voices from the St. Cecilia Society, of Brooklyn, all of which will be under the baton of the accomplished Conductor, Mr. E. J. Fitzhugh, we think such a treat has seldom been offered. From present appearances there promises to be a large audience present at this, the closing Concert of the season, and we should advise every one interested in music, who has not as yet secured seats to do so without delay at Shaw's Drug Store, on Front Street.

Opening Day at Waverly Park.

On Saturday last the opening day of the Driving Club took place at Waverly, and was the most successful of any similar event gotten up by this organization. The attendance was very large.

The track was in splendid condition, the Speed Committee having had water carted from Newark with which the track was sprinkled, so that no dust was raised, as is the case during the State Fair. The trotting was fine.

The 2:45 class was composed of Mr. Moore's horses from this city, consisting of "Lady Rehill" and bay horse "Storms," "Lady Rehill," winning three heats in 2:36¾, 2:38¼ and 2:37.

The next race was for 2:36 horses. This brought out Dan Pfeiffer, Dan Rice, Nigger in the Fence, Laura B. and Harvey. This race was very interesting, and had they been trotting for $500 a side they could not have driven any sharper. Dan Pfeiffer was given the first heat in 2:36¾—Harvey winning the second heat in 2:36; Nigger then came to his speed and took the next heat in 2:37¼, the fourth heat in 2:34, and fifth in 2:34½. Nigger was brought in for this occasion and did not disappoint his owner in the least. Laura showed considerable speed in places.

The next was a free for all race, the winner of which was to take the sulky given by George B. Sandford (of I. L. Young & Co., carriage manufacturers on Fair street), for the horse making the fastest heat. For this was entered Cinderella, of East Newark; J. H. Ferry, owned by President Kidder; Fanny Jefferson, owned by Secretary Marvin; Lady Turpin, owned by "Varick;" Duke by Mr. Gaddis and Mountain Maid. The "Maid" was taken sick two or three days before the race and was drawn. The race was won after a close contest by J. H. Ferry in three straight heats in 2:31, 2:32 and 2:30½.

Gen. Brinton's double team, Daniel and Fred, were on the ground, but the club had too much business for the General to give them a trial.

Mr Ross's Adeline B. and Augusta were given a mile in 2:36.

The next wonder of the day was the great stallion "Dexalion," owned by Jacob E. Haring, of Nanuet, Rockland county, N. Y., he being a son of Rysdyck's Hambletonian. He was given a half mile, straight off the farm, without being on a track this season, or in fact ever having been handled, in 1:15. This was considered by good horsemen to be a wonderful performance.

The Speed Committee met at the club rooms, over the Dime Bank, in Newark, last Thursday evening, to receive entries from parties wishing to test their horses and [illegible].

Union County Courts.

The May term of the Union County Courts opened at half past ten o'clock Tuesday morning, and there was the usual stir about the Court House. The inside of the bar enclosure was well filled with lawyers, and the seats outside the railing were nearly all taken up by spectators. Judges Van Syckel, McCormick, Mulford and Bowne were promptly on the bench, and the Grand Jurors entered the Court room at twenty-five minutes to eleven. They were sworn by Clerk Platt, and as Judge Van Syckel said he had no special instructions to give them other than incorporated in their oath, they immediately retired. The following are the GRAND JURORS.

Plainfield, James F. Hubbard, foreman; James Merritt, William L. Jones; Elizabeth, John H. Wolff, George Squire, Francis J. Blatz, Horace F. J. Drake, Wm. McKinlay, James E. Hedges, Samuel D. Bowers, Peter Bonnett; Springfield, Asa F. Woodruff; Rahway, John H. Lafferty, D. W. C. Hough, John Wilson; Fanwood, Charles A. Smith; Westfield, Robert French; Cranford, Alexander F. Purvis; Union, Noah W. Parcell; Summit, Daniel W. Day; New Providence, Henry F. Burrell.

After the jurors had retired, the list of causes were called and dates appointed for trials.

The following are the

PETIT JURORS:

Elizabeth, Smith W. Whitehead, Henry Geiger, John G. Hicks, William S. Potter, Charles Weiss, Charles H. Ross, Robert C. Halfpenny, George W. Valley, Linus R. Marsh, George D. Heath, John McCord, Daniel O'Sullivan, Adam C. Darling, Jacob Stenning, Wynkoop Dederick, Charles C. Stevenson, Marsh M. Foster, John Lyon, Owen Ferrelly, John Freeman, William Carr, James C. Richards, Silas H. Marsh; Plainfield, George W. F. Randolph, Solomon F. Dunn, John F. McIntyre, John Ulrich, F. A. Dunham; Cranford, Jacob Ludlow, W. D. Chandler; Linden, Lewis T. Mulford; Union, Moses Hand, Samuel D. Ball, Simpson McAuley, Edward A. Blake; Rahway, George J. Merrick, Washington I Tier, Jeremiah Garthwait, A. J. Halliday, James L. Bodwell; Westfield, John C. Sandford; Fanwood, Parker B. Miller, Tappen Townsend; New Providence, T. W. [illegible]; Springfield, Joseph Bryan.

The roll of constables was called, and the following answered present: James Glasby, Donald McVicar, Amos Moffett, William Pangborn, James Sickley, Wm. McCracken, Thomas Sloan, William H. Salt, Thomas McCarty.

Firemen's Election.

The election for Chief and two Assistant Engineers, also Company Officers of the Fire Department of this city took place last Monday evening, and more than usual quiet reigned. Up to Saturday night but one ticket was in the field for Chief and Assistants. T. O. Doane, of Gazelle Eng. Co. No. 1, for Chief; Andrew L. Carney, of Warren Eng. Co. No. 3, for 1st Assistant Engineer and James G. Van Winkle, from Gazelle Eng. Co. No. 1, for 2d Assistant Engineer. Inasmuch as no one could be found to serve for 2d Assistant from either Zephyr Truck Co or Alert Hose Co., it was decided to run Mr. Van Winkle, which made two of the officers come from one Company. Like the dog in the manger, the disaffected ones then determined to run an opposition ticket, and accordingly issued Wm. H. Voorhees, from Gazelle, to run for Chief; R. R. Davis, from Zephyr, for 1st and John Shay, from disbanded Co. No. 2, for 2d Assistant. The "knowing ones" insisted that the late members of No. 2 would vote solid for this ticket, and that their vote would be counted by the Board, but in this they were mistaken, as that body unanimously rejected the vote. Had this vote been counted it would have elected the Voorhees ticket by 4 majority, the vote offered being 41 solid for the latter ticket.—The Board announced that T. O. Doane was elected Chief, A. L. Carney 1st Assistant and James G. Van Winkle 2d Assistant Engineer, and were notified to enter upon the discharge of their duties May 9th.—Following is a recapitulation of the vote, also a name of Company Officers:

COMPANIES.	Chief.		1st Ass't.		2d Ass't
	Doane.	Voorhees.	Carney.	Davis.	Van Winkle.	Shay.
Gazelle Eng. Co. No. 1.	45	2	47		47
Zephyr H. & L. No. 1.	1	31	2	31		33
Alert Hose Co. No. 1.	9	12	6	12	6	13
Warren Eng. Co. No. 3.	28	1	30		27	3
	83	46	85	44	80	49

GAZELLE ENG. CO. NO. 1.

Foreman—David Loomis; 1st Ass't.—R. A. Ten Eyck; 2d Ass't.—Aaron V. Kline; Treas.—V. L. Frazee; Sec.—T. A. Sofield; Ass't. Sec.—S. A. Vail; Engineer—R. A. Gibbs; 1st Ass't.—Lewis De Camp. 2d Ass't.—Steve Davis; 3rd Ass't.—Charles Daley; Representatives to Fire Board—Messrs. T. O. Doane and A. H. Martin; Representatives to the Relief Association—Messrs. J. A. Hubbard and A. L. Force.

WARREN ENG. CO. NO. 3.

Foreman—Geo. Kesseler; 1st Ass't.—Hugh O. Donnell; 2d Ass't.—Wm. Harding; Sec—John H. Carney; Treas.—August Smith; Representatives to Fire Board—Wm. Hartfelder and Wm. Krause; Representatives to Relief Association—Wm. Krause and Fred. Caspar.

ALERT HOSE CO. NO. 1.

Foreman—A. Saltzman; 1st Ass't.—S. T. Varian; 2d Ass't.—E. M. Erickson; Sec.—J. E. Terrill; Treas.—F. O. Herring; Steward—W. E. Young; Representatives to Fire Board—A. Saltzman and S. T. Varian.

ZEPHYR H. & L. CO. NO. 1.

Foreman—F. W. Dunn; 1st Ass't.—D. W. Littell; 2d Ass't.—C. L. Davis; Treas.—M. J. Shaw; Rec. Sec.—N. M. Sebring; Financial Sec.—N. W. Conway; Representatives to Fire Board—S. R. Hope and W. Holdloff.

After the election, the members of "Warren" and "Gazelle" were entertained with a collation by the successful candidates, who are officers well qualified to hold such positions as they were elected to. Mr. Doane has served the Department efficiently as Chief in past years. Mr. Carney held the office of 2d Assistant Engineer the past year with credit. Mr. Van Winkle is an old and tried member of "Gazelle." Their greatest drawback during their term of office will be the want of sufficient and good hose. We hope the new Board will provide some way of furnishing the same.

The Duty of Assessors.

As the time for assessing is near at hand, the following, concerning the duties of Assessors, will be of interest: The assessment must be made between the twentieth day of May and the third Monday in August. Real estate means all lands, buildings and permanent improvements. Personal estate, all moneys, credits, debts of solvent persons to the person assessed (except such as are secured by mortgage), and stocks in incorporated companies, not exempted by their charters, or by law. The following are exempt from taxation: The property, stocks and bonds of the United States and of this State, the property of the townships, boroughs and counties of this State; personal property owned in this State, but taxed in another State; colleges, academies and seminaries of learning, public libraries, school houses, churches and the land on which they are situated, not exceeding five acres for each one; stocks of corporations exempted by law or charter from taxation, or which are taxable for their capital stock at the location of their principal office, and cemeteries, not exceeding ten acres in each. Debts secured by mortgage are taxable to the holder, when exemption has been claimed by the debtor in writing, allowed by the assessor, before the completion of the assessment, and the claim filed with the Town Clerk. All such claims must be sworn to by the person making them. When exemption is so claimed and allowed, the assessor must enter the name of the creditor, his residence (which must be in this State), the name of the debtor, and the amount of the debt, in a list separate from the other property he assesses, and entitled "Debts Secured by Mortgages." All poll taxes and taxes on personal property must be assessed in the township where the owner or person taxed resides, on the day when the assessment is begun. Lands must be assessed where they are situated. But if a lot or farm is divided by a township line, the whole must be assessed, to the owner, in the township in which he resides, if he occupies the land himself, or by a tenant who pays a share of produce for the use of it. Executors, administrators, guardians and trustees must be assessed as such, in the township where they reside, for all taxable personal property held by them, in trust for any person, or in settling any estate. Debts due and owing to any resident of this State may be deducted from the assessment of the debtor upon his making a written statement, under oath or affirmation of the several debts, to whom they are owing, the residence of the creditor, and the total amount of his real and personal property, including debt due him from solvent debtors. The assessor must present his assessment to the township committee for revision and correction on the third Tuesday in August. The assessor must be present at this meeting and give such information as the committee may require.

The picket fence in front of Mr. Taylor's elegant summer residence "Edgewood," on [illegible] Street, is being painted a bright [illegible] color. An improvement.

The Chief's Report.

We are compelled, for want of space, to omit from our columns, this week, the annual report of Chief Cornell, of the condition of the Fire Department at the expiration of his term of office. In it he states that there has been 19 fires during the past year and 6 alarms. Loss by fire, $18,750; Insurance, $21,893. He remarks that the Department needs hose. Such remarks are very truthful, as any fireman conversant with the state of affairs of the Department can testify to. His suggestion to the incoming Board that they purchase new hose is commendable and we trust will be heeded. We need the hose, especially when the "big fire" comes. Gentlemen of the New Board, give the Department good hose in place of rotten ones now in use.

Parlor Theatricals,

And a Sociable by the "Parlor Social" of Plainfield at Washington Rock. The last "Social" of the present season of the above Society was held on Tuesday evening 6th, inst., at the Washington Rock Mountain House. A large and brilliant company was present, mostly from Plainfield. The parlors and spacious ball-room of the Hotel were well filled by nine o'clock, when the dancing commenced. A very pleasant feature of the entertainment was a Farce in one act called "A Race for a Widow." Some very appropriate scenery had been arranged in the ball-room with effective light, curtains, &c. The following is the cast of characters:

Cornelius Poggy, a lawyer's clerk with a firm faith in destiny	M. E. Nelson
Adolphus De Cramorne	Mr. F. Mac Donald
Capsicum Pepperpod	Mr. Wm. E. Drayton
Mr. Springwater, a farmer	Mr. John Hall
Mr. Filagree, a Fop	Mr. Eugene Laing
Miss Trixina	Miss Annie Day
Isabella, Pepperpod's wife	Miss Annie Marsh
Mrs. Winnington	Miss Frank Day
Biddy	Miss Annie Laing

Scene—The Druids Inn.

The parts were all well enacted and the play was received with great laughter and applause by the audience.

The music furnished was from New York, and Her Majesty's Ship Pinafore quadrilles and waltzes were especially noticeable.

"Never," that is hardly—! has the mountain house at this place been the scene of a more pleasant and agreeable party than on this occasion. A bountiful collation was served at midnight and dancing was kept up until a late hour. The Committee deserve great credit for the very excellent manner in which the affair was conducted. The Messrs. Steele Bros., as usual were vigilant and active in seeing that the wants of the guests were well cared for, and everything was done to facilitate the pleasure and enjoyment of the evening.

NORTH PLAINFIELD PARAGRAPHS.

Judge Dalrymple, of the Somerset County Courts, on Monday last, appointed Messrs. John Lindsey, John N. Veghte and Laree R. Vredenburgh as Commissioners in the matter of assessments made for improvements on Grove Street Extension and Johnston Drive. Messrs. Suydam & Jackson, Attorneys for the Township, having made formal application for the same to the County Courts on the 28th ult. The property owners objected to the appointment of the Commissioners through their Counsel, Judge Runyon, of Plainfield, and W. A. Lewis, of Jersey City, but Judge Dalrymple decided otherwise, hence the appointment.

THE regular meetings of the Township Committee will hereafter be held on the first Tuesday evening of each month, and not the second, as announced in our last issue.

Voehl, the baker, is now selling his celebrated Vienna Bread at 8 cents per loaf.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

[Under the above head we shall endeavor each week to give items and news of interest to the lovers of fishing, gunning, trouting, athletic and other sports. We shall be pleased to receive contributions or items for this column from all interested in such matters.]

ATTENTION, GUN CLUB!

A meeting of the "Plainfield Gun Club" is called to meet at Force's Hotel, this city, at 8 o'clock, P. M., Tuesday, May 13th.

By Order,
H. C. FITMAN, Pres't.
W. L. FORCE, Sec.

Mr. Wm. Moore has made another purchase of fine horse flesh, this time securing a 2:33 trotter—can do better when necessary, for the modest sum of $2,000. "Uncle Billy" is determined to have only the best.

A large number of young woodcock are annually destroyed by the fires which are carelessly kindled in the Spring of the year along the foot of the mountains where the bird breeds. We hear of one case where an old bird and six young ones were found burned to a cinder in the nest on a tract over which a fire had swept. Parties who burn off their meadow lands and scrubs each Spring should do so by the middle of March at least, which would save many a bird.

A large copperhead snake was killed on the mountains a few days since by a party of citizens strolling along the base of the same.

Dr. Chas. A. Hart has made a microscopic examination of the parasite found attached to the liver of one of the Black Bass which was found dead in the stream in which they were some time since deposited on Warden Ohl's premises, and pronounces it not a cysticercus, as it was first thought to be, but a parasite of unknown species to him. It is 15-1,000th of an inch in length, ovoid body and possesses motion.

H. C. White, of Keyport, challenges any man in New Jersey to shoot at either pigeons or glass balls. We guess he can be accommodated.

The commissioners of Fisheries held a meeting on Wednesday of last week to determine upon their action for the coming season. In view of the extraordinary demand for black bass, trout, and land-locked salmon for stocking the inland waters of the State and the moderate sum appropriated by the Legislature for purposes connected with fish culture, it was determined to omit for this year the artificial propagation of shad in the Delaware and devote the greater part of the appropriation to the distribution of the better class of food fishes throughout the State. The interest manifested by the people of a large portion of the State in the restoration of the trout streams is so great as to encourage the Commissioners to continue this work, and the encouraging prospects with regard to the salmon in the Delaware render it desirable that the State shall continue its co-operation with U. S. Commission to this end. At the same time there will be something done toward increasing the shad supply in the Hackensack, and the bay and coast fisheries will receive attention.

Prof. Baird, U. S. Fish Commissioner, has forwarded to the Commissioners of this State 25,000 eggs of the land-locked salmon (the most desirable of all fishes for inland waters), and these are now in the hatching house at Bloomsbury. The fish will be distributed in suitable waters as soon as they have reached a suitable age.

The interest in fish culture has received a wonderful impetus in New Jersey within a few months past, and the energy of the Commissioners is being taxed to the utmost to supply the demand for fish and respond to the inquiries on the subject from all parts of the State.

New Jersey has been behind some of her sister States in this respect, but bids fair now to awaken to the importance of the subject and take a leading position in this matter, which has in other parts of the world come to be considered to have such an intimate connection with the great problem of the supply of human food.

MESSRS EDITORS:

There is a certain Real Estate Agent in this city, who when he lets or sells a house to a stranger, recommends a certain grocer as the only reliable grocery dealer in Plainfield. Some other grocers would like to know the amount of commission he, the Real Estate Agent, gets from said grocer. Now the said Agent has a perfect right to recommend any grocer he "chooses," but he has no right to imply that all the others are not reliable.

The Odd Fellows to the Front.

Last Tuesday evening, May 6th, Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. of O. F., celebrated the Sixtieth Anniversary of the Order, at their Rooms, Coward's Building, Park Avenue. The room was filled to more than its capacity allows when comfort is taken into consideration. But in spite of the discomfort occasioned by the heat, the audience gained about as much solid information and thorough enjoyment as is usually crowded into the space of two hours. Promptly at 8 o'clock, Mr. T. J. Young, P. G., called the meeting to order and all the brethren, together with the audience, sang the opening ode, "Brethren of Our Friendly Order." Chaplain Eden L. Boice then led in prayer asking the Divine blessing upon the assembled audience and the exercises of the evening. Mrs. Belle Pagels-Collier then sang a Solo in a highly satisfactory manner, after which a humorous song was sung by Mr. Ellis, of Elizabeth. Mr. Lewis Parker, Jr., R. W. Grand Secretary, of Trenton, N. J., the orator of the evening, was then introduced and read an address of merit and instruction, which was in reality a general explanation of the objects of Odd Fellowship. He based the condemnation of this Order by outsiders as due entirely to ignorance with its motives and results. If people would but reserve their decision until they really understand that which they now so readily condemned, they would discover how widely they struck from the mark. The Order recognized its dependence with all mankind upon God, and upon that foundation were all the obligations of the Order based. He then explained the nature of the obligation, and showed the advantages of "Friendship," one of the great principles of the Order, and what a loss we would sustain if there was no such thing as "Friendship." The Order was needful on account the natural disposition of mankind in civilization to the social relations; it points out the duties and obligations as citizens and fosters a spirit of patriotism; it shows every man what his family require of him and makes him a better father, a better husband, a better brother, a better man; it clearly shows a man his dependence upon God, especially when he is perplexed by trial, disappointment and afflictions; this Order favored no particular sect and had no connection with any of the different forms of religion; it believes in the Bible and the dictates of a man's conscience as his spiritual advisers; the Order had been condemned on account of secrecy, secrecy for a bad purpose worked for evil; but the secrecy of this Order was only for charity and no one condemns wise charity; a general explanation of the methods of relief used by the Order, and also the amount of good that had been accomplished was noticed from a computed list; that two million dollars were annually distributed for charity alone throughout the United States, and of this, one hundred thousand dollars in New Jersey alone. When sixty years ago the five noble men in the city of Baltimore founded the first Lodge of I. O. O. F., little could they imagine the immense proportions it would assume and the gigantic strides it would take toward perfection; that to-day there are 7,000 Lodges with a membership of 500,000, and not alone in America was it placed, but in Germany, Australia and Sandwich Islands. The close of the address was rendered effective by reference to the close of life, how gratifying and grand it would be to hear the salutation of the Divine Judge—"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me." Mrs. Collier then sang a pretty Solo, and was deservedly encored. Mr. Ellis also gave something in his line and in response to most enthusiastic applause gave a Dutch song. Rev. Dr. Lowry made a few remarks, which were bright, witty and sparkling, and made a delightful impression upon the minds of his hearers.—Another Solo by Mrs. Collier, and a song by Mr. Ellis, were appreciated as the proper kind of dessert after such a feast. A closing ode and a prayer by the Chaplain closed the exercises. The Lodge has reason to be congratulated upon the decided success of the celebration of the Sixtieth Anniversary of the I. O. O. F.

Common Council Proceedings.

MONDAY EVENING, May 5, 1879.

Council met in regular meeting.

Present—Coriell, Depew, Finch, Lithgow, Mayer, Potts, Rushmore, Redfield, Simpson, Stewart, Stover.

Pres. Potts in the chair.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Mr. Mayer presented com'n. from James Parker relative to his claim as one of the Com'rs. on the widening, &c., of Park Ave. On motion, referred to Law & Ord. Com.

Mr. Rushmore again presented petition of Patrick Day for a saloon license on 2d St., properly signed by Mr. Day. Referred to Com. on Licenses.

Mr. Coriell presented petition from T. J. Pruden asking permission to erect a wooden awning in front of his store on Front St. Referred to Com. on Fire, Water and Lamps.

Mr. Stover presented petition of A. De Bant asking for the privilege to erect a stable on Front St. above Washington St.. Referred to Com. on Fire, Water and Lamps.

By the same—Com'n from Nelson Runyon, Francis S. Runyon, John T. Johnston and others protesting against the running of water through the Southerly portion of Richmond St., asking to be heard before the Common Council or a com. thereof.

Mr. Stover that the Common Council should go in a body and look at this matter and made a motion to that effect. Mr. Lithgow thought the St. Com. should attend to that themselves. Mr. Stover's motion was lost, and a motion to refer the subject matter to the St. Com. was agreed to.

A remonstrance from J. Taylor Johnston in reference to turning water down Farragut Ave. was read, and on motion, referred to Com. on Streets.

Mr. Simpson presented claim of Geo. W. Angleman, one quarter's salary, from March 4th, 1878 to May 4th, 1878, $50; also, claim for work on Sts. amounting to $130. On motion, the former claim was referred to Salary Com. and the latter to the Com. on Sts.

Mr. Depew presented claim of Jno. E. Dowley, repairing of Front St., from Terrill Road to Coles' Hill, $225. A Surveyor's certificate accompanied the claim, as to its correctness. Referred to Com. on Sts.

Mr. Coriell presented the following police claims for month of April: Chas. W. Dodd, Geo. Eaton, Hugh McDonald, regular duty, each $41.67; M. Conway, 50c; Wm. B. Ayres, $1, special duty. Referred to Police Com.

Mr. Lithgow presented claim of N. Y. & N. J. Globe Gaslight Co., gas under R.R. bridges, $38.75. Ref'd to Fire, Water & Lamp Co.

Mr. Stover presented the following from His Honor, Mayor Harper:

Plainfield, May 5th, 1879.

To the Hon. the Common Council.

Gentlemen—I herewith lay before you a copy of letter addressed to the Commission on General Laws for Municipalities in reply to a communication received from them.

Respectfully transmitted,
NATHAN HARPER, Mayor.

Plainfield, Union Co., N. J.,
May 3d, 1879.

Joseph L. Naar, Esq., Secretary Commission on General Laws for Municipalities, Trenton.

Dear Sir:—I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your circular letter of 15th ult., and in compliance with the request therein contained, submit the following data:

Taxable property in this city is as follows:

Real	$3,206,519 00
Personal	870,742 00
Total	$4,077,261 00

The city of Plainfield has the good fortune to be entirely clear of Bonded debt, no obligations of the kind ever having been issued.

The floating debt of the city may be stated at $8,000, being money borrowed in anticipation of tax collections for the current year, and in this connection it is not inappropriate to add that our chief financial drawback is the tardy payment of taxes.

Rate of County Tax is 41 cents on the $100.

Rate of City Tax is 34 cents on the $100.

The Public Schools are under the immediate control of a Board of Education, which derives its authority from a special act of incorporation, obtained prior to the city charter.

Rate of taxation for School purposes is 23 cents on the $100.

There are School Bonds, issued by the Board of Education, outstanding to the amount of $34,000.

The Fire Department is likewise controlled by a specially incorporated Board, anti-dating the city charter, and extending jurisdiction beyond the city limits.

Rate of taxation for fire purposes is 20 cents on the $100.

There are Fire Department bonds, issued by the Fire Board, outstanding to the amount of $14,000.

A portion of both the School and Fire Bonds are paid off and cancelled annually from taxation receipts, and the value of real property possessed by those independent branches of the public service is far in excess of their aggregated indebtedness.

In transmitting this statement, I feel at liberty to express the confident belief, that the sound condition of Plainfield will elicit the Commissioner's favorable comment.

Respectfully submitted,
NATHAN HARPER, Mayor.

On motion, received and placed on file.

Also, the following from His Honor the Mayor:

Plainfield, May 5th, 1879.

To the Hon. the Common Council.

Gentlemen—I submit herewith written charges preferred by Policeman Dodd against Policeman Eaton for neglect of duty.

Action on your part regarding the matter, as Section 36 of the "Ordinance to regulate the appointment and tenure of office of appointable officers" prescribes, is respectfully requested.

NATHAN HARPER, Mayor.

Plainfield, May 5th, 1879.

To His Hon. Mayor Harper.

In order to do my duty to the city of Plainfield, it is of the utmost importance that the limited force at present, constituting the city Police, should use the utmost vigilance and obey all orders that are given which tend to enforce the city Ordinances, and as Chief of said force, I feel called upon in order to perform my duty fully, to prefer charges against regular Officer Eaton.

Specification 1st—That on the evening of March 26th, 1879, between the hours of 8 and 10, said officer, while supposed to be on duty in the neighborhood of 2d and Liberty Streets, was not to be found upon said beat; after my giving it a thorough search, I subsequently learned that he was in the store of John Stewart, on Plainfield avenue, for upwards of an hour on that evening.

Specification 2d—That on the night of April [illegible], while under orders to patrol each hour Central avenue, Front, Second and [illegible] Streets, and to try all store doors at least once each night, said Officer failed to patrol Front street and Central avenue between the hours of 12 P. M. and 4 A. M.

Specification 3d—That on the night of April 20th, between the hours of 8 P. M. and 2 A. M., said Officer neglected to patrol Central avenue, as were the standing orders for the Officer on that beat.

Further I will not specify, but if other evidence is needed as to the general neglect of said Officer, I will be fully able to produce it.

Yours very respectfully,
CHAS. W. DODD.

Mr. Depew moved that the clerk be instructed to forward a copy of the charges to Policeman Eaton. So agreed to.

Mr. Redfield, Aud. Com., reported as correct the following claims: T. J. Gillies, $21.45; A. M. Runyon, [illegible]; Samuel De Costa, $12; Geo. Mohl, $34; Geo. Green, $36; Geo. C. Owen, $8; O. B. Leonard, $12; Edward Connors, $12. Referred to [illegible].

Mr. Depew, from Finance Com., presented report of the city's finances, which shows a balance in Treasury, City Fund, $1,[illegible]; in Poor Fund, $125.07; against which there are unpaid warrants drawn, bills of 1878, $[illegible]; for 1879, $[illegible], showing a deficiency in Poor Fund of $[illegible]. Taxes outstanding Jan. 21, 1879, $[illegible]; collected from Jan. 21, 1879 to May 1879, $1,[illegible], leaving taxes uncollected to the amount of $[illegible]." On motion, report received and filed.

By the same—That the sum of $[illegible] to be granted Mr. Samuel Huntington for his services in drafting a general charter for cities, &c., and referred to Finance Com., that Com. would respectfully report that as the sum contemplated by the Council, viz: $500, as the extent of expense to be borne by the city has already been exhausted, your Com. respectfully return the petition not approved. On motion, report received, and recommendation of Com. adopted. All aye, except Mr. Stewart, who voted in the negative.

Mr. Lithgow from Fire, Water and Lamps, reported favorably upon petition of Sarah Shephard to make an addition to building occupied by her, situated on Front street, and that the petition be granted. On motion report received and recommendation of Com. adopted.

Mr. Stover, from Law & Ord. Com., reported in matter of costs David J. Boice, vs. The Inhabitants of the city of Plainfield; that they have examined the same, and find it to be correct, and would recommend that the same be ordered paid. On motion, report received, and recommendation of Com. adopted.

By the same—In matter of Wm. E. Maxson, Esq., for professional services in the case of "The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield," vs. J. Wilbur Price, beg leave to report that in their opinion Mr. Maxson was lawfully employed to, and did perform the services mentioned in said bill, and would recommend that said bill be referred to the Finance Com.

Mr. Lithgow moved that it lie upon the table.

Mr. Stover stated he did not see why it should lie upon the table. Surely it should be referred to the Finance Com., if any.

Mr. Lithgow thought it had better lie upon the table; we have not the money, &c.

The Pres. then called Mr. Lithgow's attention to the Rules of Order, which states that a motion to lie upon the table is not debatable.

Mr. Lithgow's motion to lie upon the table was agreed to.

By the same—In matter of 4th St., no recommendation in matter of straightening street line, as the property owners were about to fix matters satisfactorily. On motion, adopted.

Mr. Rushmore, from License Com., reported that as the reputation of Mr. Sullivan's house had not been very good in the past, that his petition for a license be not granted. On motion, report received and recommendation of Com. adopted. All aye.

By the same—As to petition of Patrick Day for a saloon license, they find complies with the ord. and would move that his license be granted. So agreed to, all aye, with the exception of Messrs. Coriell, Redfield and Stewart, who voted no.

Mr. Coriell, from Police Com., reported as correct the police claims presented this evening. Referred to Aud. Com.

By the same—Report of City Judge Good for month of April: Number of arrests, 10; men 8, women 2; crimes committed, drunkenness 6, disorderly conduct 1, obtaining money under false pretenses, 1, selling liquor on Sunday, 1, assault and battery, 1; Nationalities, Americans, 3, Irish, 3, Germans, 3, Colored Americans, 1; fined, 5, sent to jail, 5. The fine of $25 obtained from Chas. Zimmer, one-half of said fine was paid over to Wm. F. Jenkins, in accordance with the ord. No tramps during the month, and no new applicants to the Poor Fund. On motion, report received and ordered filed.

Mr. Lithgow, from Salary Com., reported as correct claim of Geo. M. Angleman, 2 mos. salary as St. Com'r, $50. Referred to Aud. Com.

Mr. Finch, from St. Com., reported as to petition of Jas. Lyon and others, its reference to the Law & Ord. Com. Rec'd and recommendation adopted.

By the same—as correct, claim of Street Com'r Geo. M. Angleman, work done on streets, $130. Ref'd to Aud. Com.

Mr. Redfield presented an Ord. repealing the present cesspool ord. Ref'd to St. Com.

Mr. Stover offered a res. in reference to Putnam St., requesting the Clerk to notify the St. Com'r to appear at next meeting of Council, and show cause why he had not put in culverts as authorized by res. at last meeting of Council. Adopted, all aye.

Mr. Stover moved that when Council adjourn it adjourn to meet one week from to-night. Amended by Mr. Depew to two weeks, and adopted.

Mr. Stewart moved that the Law & Ord. Com. be empowered to draft a new bill in reference to the opening and closing of saloons. Adopted.

Mr. Lithgow presented an ord. relative to the licensing of hacks, cabs, express wagons, etc., the license fee to be fixed at $10, $20 and $25. Ref'd to Law & Ord. Com.

Mr. Simpson, from Aud. Com., reported the following claims as correct: Geo. M. Angleman, 2 bills, $180; Platt & Holly, $82.62; Geo. Mohl, $34; O. B. Leonard, $12; Sam. E. DeCosta, $12; Geo. C. Owen, $8; Alex. M. Runyon, $9; Ed. Connors, $12; T. J. Gillies, $23.45; George Green, $36; Chas. W. Dodd, Geo. Eaton, Hugh McDonald, each $41.67; M. Conway, 50c.; Wm. B. Ayres, $1. On motion, warrants were ordered drawn for all the claims, (excepting the Poor Fund, which were laid on the table (no funds) and the claim of Platt & Holly referred to Finance Com. to adjust taxes.)

Mr. Simpson, from Aud. Com., reported as correct claim of Council Com. relative to new charter, $194.75. On motion of Mr. Depew, a warrant was ordered drawn, all aye, except Mr. Simpson, who voted in the negative.

Mr. Depew offered a res. that the City Judge, P. P. Good, be and he is hereby directed forthwith to issue a warrant for the collection of all city taxes in arrears according to the provisions of the city charter, and that the City Clerk at once serve a copy of this resolution on the City Judge. Adop'd.

Mr. Lithgow offered a res. that a warrant be drawn for the sum of sixty dollars to George W. Moore, the full settlement for services rendered as a special officer to the city of Plainfield during the year 1878.

After some discussion pro and con, the res. was adopted by the following vote: Ayes—Finch, Lithgow, Mayer, Potts, Rushmore, Redfield, Simpson, Stover—8. Noes—Depew, Stewart—2. Mr. Coriell was excused by the Pres. previous to this vote, to catch the train.

Council then adjourned.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

Samuel Harris, residing on South Ave., had his henery broken into by chicken thieves on Wednesday night, and all his flock of poultry stolen.

The grounds around the Baptist church on Elm St., have been greatly improved the past week in the setting out of shrubbery and shade trees. They were contributed by Alexander Beck, Esq., from his nursery on Mountain Ave.

Delinquent taxpayers are very much exercised over the circular issued by the Township Com. on Thursday last, regarding the collection of taxes, long past due. They give the section of the law in their circular, on which the Collector is compelled to act. There is nobody to blame but those behind in paying up.

Overseer Pierson of Road Dist. No. 4, has removed the obstruction in front of the residence of the late Corra Osborn, making a great improvement in the road. Now let us have a good plank walk around the corner of Broad St. and Central Ave. Money was raised at last road meeting to pay for the same.

The friends of village improvement and committee on drainage, met at Lyceum Rooms, Saturday evening, May 3, 1879. Committee on subscriptions reported progress, having met with good success among the owners along the line of improvement. Let every one of our citizens interested in the welfare of our beautiful village, contribute something towards the work. Meeting adjourned to Saturday evening, May 10, inst.

Charles Marsh, a resident of Westfield, about 11 years ago, while at work in building a house in this village, hung his vest in a closet of the building, in which was his watch, valued at $100. On quitting work at night, he found his watch had been stolen. He spent considerable time in looking for it. Suspicion rested upon one of his laborers at the time, but nothing positive that would lead to having him arrested. Last week Mr. M. received a letter from a priest in N. Y. City, asking him if he lost a watch some years ago; if so, for him to come in and see him. He immediately went to New York and saw the priest, who asked him to describe the lost watch. There was a private mark upon it which he described, and the priest handed him the long lost watch.

L. H. Dunkin, Esq., residing on Dudley Avenue, has purchased of Jacob D. French a portion of the Clark farm on Central Avenue, on which he proposes erecting a residence for himself. It is as fine a location as any around our village.

Samuel M. Foster, Esq., residing on Central Avenue, who had been very sick, and recovered so as he could be out again, had a relapse of the disease, and has been confined to his bed the past [illegible]. He is slowly recovering under the care of Dr. Harrison.

There was a fine bald eagle shot last Monday on the farm of John D. Mills, near Branch Mills, by his son Benjamin. It measured 7 feet from tip to tip, and weighed 10 pounds. Mr. Mills gave it to our landlord, [illegible], who has taken it to a taxidermist to be skinned and stuffed.

A meeting of the residents of Westfield Township was held at the residence of Wm. Dallis, Esq., on Orchard St., for the protection Game and Fish under the law passed by the last Legislature. Twenty persons signed the articles of corporation to be sent to the Secretary of State, at Trenton. Robert M. Fairbairn was elected President of the Society, Wm. Dallis, Vice Pres., Geo. A. Young, Treas., H. I. Webb, Sec. J. C. [illegible], William Dallas, H. I. Webb, E. C. Lambertson and Robert M. Fairbairn were elected Directors of the Association. A committee of three was appointed to report a Constitution and By-Laws for the government of the Association.

which capital stock when so received by the said consolidated corporation shall be retired, cancelled, and destroyed, the amount of said preferred stock or of bonds secured as aforesaid, as to be issued in exchange for said capital stock, shall be fixed and determined by a vote of two-thirds of the stockholders in amount of the said consolidated corporation, or of the several corporations desirous of effecting such consolidation.

2. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for such consolidated corporation and they are hereby authorized to issue their bonds at par, to such an amount as shall be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act, and to secure the same by their indenture of mortgage upon the property and franchises of such consolidated corporation; and it shall also be lawful for such consolidated corporation to create by a vote of two-thirds of the stockholders, in amount, and to issue for the purposes hereinbefore set out a preferred stock to an amount not exceeding one-half of the authorized capital of the respective corporations so consolidated; the holders of which said preferred stock shall be entitled to receive, and the said consolidated corporation shall be bound to pay thereon a certain fixed half yearly sum or dividend to be expressed in the certificates of such preferred stock, before any dividends shall be set apart or paid to the holders of the general or common stock.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CCIII.

An act in relation to the lighting of streets and public places in certain townships and cities.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That in all cases where the streets or any of them, in any city or township of the said state, have been or are lighted with gas or oil, under or in pursuance of any authority conferred by the legislature upon such city or township, it shall hereafter be lawful for the common council or township committee of any such city or township, by resolution or ordinance, and from time to time to order and cause any street or streets, and any public place or places or any part or parts thereof, in any such city or township, to be lighted with gas or otherwise, and for that purpose to erect and maintain or cause to be erected and maintained all necessary and proper posts, lanterns and fixtures, and to make and enter into any contract or contracts in relation to the same; and to cause the annual expense thereof, after being ascertained and determined by a resolution of said common council or township committee, to be certified by the city or township clerk unto the assessor or assessors of said city or township; and that such annual expense shall thereupon be levied, assessed and collected from all the real and personal property in the said city or township, respectively, in the same manner, at the same time, and under the same penalties, (but without any extra compensation therefor,) as the taxes for the working or repairing of roads or streets in said city or township are or may be; provided, however, that in making such assessment of the tax hereby authorized, the said assessor or assessors shall not be restricted or controlled in any way whatsoever by any limitation in any act of the said legislature contained, whereby the amount of any tax to be raised in such city or township is limited to a certain percentage upon the valuation of the assessed property in such city or township.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXXVII.

An act to repeal section nine of an act entitled "An act respecting executions," approved March twenty seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey. That the ninth section of the said act, which reads as follows:

"9. And be it enacted, That whenever a writ of execution shall be issued against the inhabitants of any township, city or borough of this state, by any court authorized to issue the same, in case there should be no property belonging to said township, city or borough, sufficient to satisfy the same, whereon to levy, then the officer authorized to execute such process shall serve a copy of the same on the collector of said township, city or borough, who is hereby required to pay and satisfy the same out of the first moneys belonging to said township, city or borough, which shall come to his hands," be and the same is hereby repealed.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CCI.

An Act to provide for the support of the state industrial school for girls.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That for the support and maintenance, and to defray the expense of a small addition to the school building, the sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated, which sum the treasurer is directed to pay on the warrant of the comptroller.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXLII.

A supplement to an act entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act to regulate the manufacture and sale of fertilizers,' approved March twenty-seventh, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight."

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey. That the amendment contained in the first section of the act to which this is a supplement, which amendment now reads as follows:

"5. And be it enacted, That any person selling, offering or exposing for sale any commercial fertilizer without any analysis required by the first section of this act, or the act to which this act is a supplement, or with an analysis stating that said fertilizer contains a larger percentage of any one or more of the constituents mentioned in said section than is contained therein, shall forfeit fifty dollars for the first offence and one hundred dollars for each subsequent offence; provided further, that the provisions of this section or the act to which this is a supplement shall not apply to any manure sold at a price not exceeding one-half a cent per pound, nor to any imported guanos," be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

5. And be it enacted, That any person selling, offering or exposing for sale any commercial fertilizer without any analysis required by the first section of this act or the act to which this act is a supplement, or with an analysis stating that said fertilizer contains a larger percentage of any one or more of the constituents mentioned in said section than is contained therein, shall forfeit fifty dollars for the first offence and one hundred dollars for each subsequent offence, to any person who shall hereafter purchase the same for his own use or benefit and will sue for the same and also the costs of said suit; provided further, that the provisions of this section or the act to which this act is a supplement shall not apply to any manure sold at a price not exceeding one-half a cent per pound, or to any special contract made between the buyer and seller.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXXXV.

An Act to support fire organizations in the several incorporated towns in this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for the common council, in any incorporated town in this state, having a population of more than three thousand inhabitants by the census of the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, and at present having no regularly organized department for extinguishing of fires, and whose charter or act of incorporation authorizes the organization and maintenance of a fire department, to issue the bonds to an amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars, to be used and the proceeds thereof applied to the purpose of the organization and maintenance of a fire department, and the procuring of fire extinguishing apparatus and forming fire companies, building of suitable houses, and furnishing a supply of water for fire purposes as aforesaid; such bonds shall be in sums of one hundred dollars each, or the multiples thereof, and shall be denominated "fire department bonds," and shall be payable, the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars in five years, the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars in seven years, the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars in ten years, and the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars in twelve years, or within such other times, not less than the times above named, as the common council of said town shall authorize and direct; that said bonds shall bear interest not to exceed six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually; that said bonds shall be signed by the president or chairman of the common council of said town, and countersigned by the treasurer thereof, and shall not be sold or negotiated at less than par.

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXXV.

An act for the protection of the fishing interests of this state.

Whereas, During the past six years efforts have been made on the part of the fish commissioner of the United States and the commissioners of fisheries of the States of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, to stock the waters of those states with salmon, and particularly to stock the Delaware river, with a view to making that river a salmon producing stream, for which purpose considerable sums of money have been expended by the two states above named; and whereas, the number of salmon taking during the last shad fishing season furnishes evidence that these efforts will meet with the anticipated success, and the revenues from our river fisheries be greatly increased if sufficient protection is afforded to these fish to allow them to ascend the river at the spawning season, and continue by natural process the work of populating the waters; therefore,

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That for the term of three years from the passage of this act it shall not be lawful for any person to take from the Delaware river, or from any of the tributaries of said river within the jurisdiction of this state, any salmon or grilse, with any seine, fike net, gill net, drift net, pound, weir, rack or any other appliance or device, nor in any manner except with rod, hook and line in the manner usually known as angling; nor shall it be lawful for any person to have in his possession any salmon or grilse taken from the said waters by any of the devices herein prohibited; and any person who shall take from the said waters any salmon or grilse by any of the said prohibited devices, or who shall have in possession any salmon or grilse so taken from the said waters, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of fifty dollars, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit the [illegible] from taking salmon or grilse at any time or in any manner for purposes connected with the performance of their duties; and provided further, that the prohibition herein contained shall not be held to apply to the main stream of the Delaware river until an act shall have been passed by the legislature of Pennsylvania containing a similar prohibition.

2. And be it enacted, That the penalty imposed by this act for illegally taking salmon and grilse, shall not be imposed upon such shad and herring fishermen as may, in the pursuit of their avocations inadvertently take salmon or grilse in their nets; provided, the fish so taken shall be returned alive to the stream.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CXXXIV.

An Act to establish a fire patrol in villages and townships in this state.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That wherever there now exists, or may hereafter be formed, a fire department in any village, town or township in this state, by virtue of any local or special law, then it shall and may be lawful for such village, town, township and fire department to organize a fire patrol.

2. And be it enacted, That the members of said fire patrol shall, in all cases, be members of the fire department of such village, town or township, that such patrol shall be, in all respects, subject to the rules and regulations that govern such fire department, and be under the control of the authority governing such fire department.

3. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of such fire patrol to be present at all fires within the limits of such fire department, and take charge of all goods and chattels that may be removed from buildings in consequence of such fire, and keep the same under their care and protection until the same can be delivered to the owner or owners thereof, and that the members of such fire patrol shall, during the continuance of such fire, and until the goods so removed can be delivered to the owner or owners thereof, have the powers of constables, and may arrest, without warrant, any person or persons interfering therewith, and take such person before any justice of the peace of the county where apprehended, to be dealt with according to law.

4. And be it enacted, That the members of such patrol shall have the same privileges as the members of such fire department have, shall have the right to vote for officers of such fire department, and shall be exempt from all jury and militia duty, as such firemen are now exempt.

5. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

THE TEN-DOLLAR CERTIFICATES.

The demand for the new United States ten-dollar certificates now is strong and they will evidently become a favorite medium of exchange. These certificates have an appearance similar to bank or legal tender notes, but are a little shorter and a little wider. A vignette of Benjamin Franklin occupies one corner of the face side, while the figures and the word Ten stands in the other. They bear the date of issue, and certify that $10 has been deposited with the Treasurer of the United States under act of February 26, 1879, this bearing the signatures of the treasurer and register and the treasury seal. The nature of the certificate is explained by this inscription: "Convertible with accrued interest at 4 per cent. per annum into 4 per cent. bonds of the United States issued under acts of July 14, 1870, and January 20, 1871, upon presentation at the office of the Treasurer, Washington, D. C., in sums of $50 or multiplies thereof." On the back of the certificates are the words "ten dollars" in large letters, and the following: "Interest on this note will accrue as follows. For each nine days, or 1 10th of a quarter, 1 cent; for each quarter year, 10 cents; for each entire year, 40 cents.

Soundings in the Atlantic Ocean have shown a depth of 18,000 feet, or about three miles and a half; those taken in the Southern Atlantic, to the west of the Cape of Good Hope, showed a depth of 26,000 feet, or more than five miles and then no bottom was found. At a point 300 miles from the Bermudes 5,700 fathoms of line were payed out, nearly six and a half miles, and no bottom found. Near the same parallel bottom was found at less than half the above depth. Midway between the islands of Tristan d' Acumba and the mouth of the Rio de la Plata, the bottom was reached at a depth of 7,706 fathoms, equal to 42,236 feet, or 8½ miles. The time occupied in running out the line was nearly three hours.

John M. Walters, of Warren county, who was sentenced to State Prison for five years in 1875, has been pardoned and was released on Wednesday. John and a sister and a brother lived together in a little house on the road from Hughesville to Springtown, and one Sunday afternoon during an altercation John struck his brother in the back of the head with a stone and killed him, and subsequently, pleading guilty to manslaughter, was sent to state prison. It was generally considered at the time that the stone was thrown in the heat of passion without any intent to kill or injure.

Spare us. It is now said that Ben. Butler has his eye (which one not stated) on the Presidency, as a candidate on the National ticket. His idea is to fix matters so that there will be no election by the people, and thus throw it into the House, where he can prevent either the Democrats or Republicans from choosing a man.

"Suppose," says the Chicago Journal. "General Grant declines, what then?" Answer by the World: "Not a supposable case. Gen. Grant never was known to decline anything except a bull pup, and that was because the charges on the animal had not been prepaid."

The boss official in New Jersey has been discovered. He is a roadmaster, and lives in Pahaquarry, Warren county. Last year he paid 90 cents tax, and out of the $100 allotted to his district for repairs of the highways he received $98.

Mr. Hayes has pardoned Patrick Boselie, of Brooklyn, who was convicted of illicit distilling in New Jersey, and sentenced to the State Prison at Trenton for nine months.

Mrs. M. J. Chamberlain and her sister Miss Slocum, well known Episcopalians, have created a sensation at Long Branch by joining the Catholic Church.

NEW MUSIC.
48 CHOICE PIECES
For 50 CENTS.

Every number of Richardson's Musical Hours contains 12 choice pieces by the best composers of America and Europe. The monthly is elegantly printed, but on paper [illegible], and is an "ornament to any [illegible]." There are no advertisements scattered through its pages, but the music is entirely separate, and they can be bound at any time into a book. The selections comprise Songs with Chorus, Ballads, Comic Songs, Waltzes, Polkas, Galops, Schottisches, Marches, Mazurkas, Nocturnes, &c., &c., all of which can be played on the Piano or Organ; in fact just the pieces you would purchase at the Music Stores for 35 or 40 cents each. Now we have sold many thousand single numbers at [illegible] each, but in order that every player in the United States and Canadas may see the Magazine and judge of its merits, we will send it postpaid four months for only 50 Cents. Each number contains 12 pieces; thus you receive 48 [illegible] for only 50 cents (cash or stamps.) Eight months (96 pieces) for $1. Owing to the [illegible] manner in which Musical Hours is issued, we cannot afford to send "sample copies."

Smalley's Defiance Asparagus.
NEW VARIETY.
The merits and claims of the "Defiance," are as follows: It is earlier, a larger grass, softer, more tender, free from wood, the fibre is sweet and very delicate, far superior to all other varieties; it will produce double that of the "Colossal" and can cut it longer. It will continue to grow longer than any other sorts. It has been tested for the past three years. I know my roots and seeds to be strictly pure, as I am the sole originator of it; shall not put any seed in the market this year, as I intend planting it myself. It is the best Asparagus grown, either for private use or for market. We would recommend it in preference to all others. Price $2 per 100, and $15 per 1000. No charge for boxes or packing.—Purchasers pay their express. Orders must be accompanied by a remittance, or satisfactory reference. Will be sent by express C. O. D.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County, Surrogate's Office, March 21st, 1879.

Mary L. Hutchkiss, Administratrix of Horace Hutchkiss, deceased.

On application of the above named Administratrix, it is ordered that said Administratrix give Public Notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administratrix.

ap1w9 JAMES J. GERBER, Surrogate.

In Chancery of New Jersey.

To Kate E. Fuller:

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day and date hereof, in a cause wherein Samuel K. Kittle, acting Executor of Stacy B. Barcroft, deceased, is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear and plead, answer or demur, to the bill of said complainants, on or before the fifth day of May next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a certain mortgage given by Moses Rittenhouse and Rebecca L., his wife, to said Samuel K. Kittle, acting Executor as aforesaid, on lands in the City of Plainfield, dated December 26th, 1876, and you, Kate E. Fuller, are made defendant because you hold encumbrances on said lands.

Dated March 4, A. D., 1879.

Laws of New Jersey.

CHAPTER CCV.

A further act concerning taxes, making the same a first lien on real estate, and to authorize sales for the payment of the same.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any and all taxes which shall or may hereafter be laid, assessed or imposed, pursuant to the laws of this state, against any person or persons or corporations for and on account of any lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate situate, lying and being in this state, together with lawful interest thereon accruing, and all costs, fees, charges and expenses in relation to the levy, assessment and collection of said taxes, shall be, become and remain, from and after the date of such levy and assessment, a full and complete first and paramount lien on all the lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate, on account of which such levy and assessment shall be made, for the space of two years from the time when such taxes so assessed were payable, and that any and all estates therein, whether legal or equitable, and any and all mortgages, alienations, devises, descents, liens and incumbrances of every kind and nature, of, in, upon or against such lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate, shall be in every respect subject and subservient to the lien of the aforesaid taxes, interest, costs, fees, charges and expenses.

2. And be it enacted, That in case any taxes, specified in the last preceding section, together with the interest thereon, and costs, fees, charges and expenses aforesaid, shall remain unpaid and in arrears for the space of six months, from and after the time when payable, then and in every such case it shall be lawful for the township committee, or a majority of them, to issue their warrant, which warrant may include the names of any number of delinquent owners and the description of each of their lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate, on account of which such taxes were assessed, under the common seal, if any, of the township, signed by the chairman thereof, and attested by the township clerk, directed to the collector of the said township, therein and thereby commanding him to make said taxes, with the interest, costs, fees, charges and expenses as aforesaid, out of the lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate, on account of which the same were assessed and incurred as aforesaid, by selling the same, or any part thereof, as will be sufficient for that purpose for the shortest term for which any person or persons will agree to take the same, and pay such taxes, with the interest thereon, and all costs, fees, charges and expenses, and further directing the said collector to make return of said warrant, with all his proceedings thereunder, in writing, within four months from the date thereof, to said township committee.

3. And be it enacted, That the said warrant shall be recorded by the clerk of said township before its delivery to said collector in a book provided for the purpose, to be known as the "record of tax sales."

4. And be it enacted, That it shall and may be the duty of the said collector before he sells by virtue of such warrant, to give public notice of the time and place of such sale of any lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate under this act by advertisement signed by such collector in a newspaper printed and published in said township, or in the county wherein such lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate are situate, once in each week, for at least four weeks successively next preceding the time appointed for such sale, and shall cause copies of such notice to be set up in five of the most public places in said township for the same period, one of which must be at or near the lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate to be sold, and shall forthwith mail a copy of such notice to the owner or owners, directed to him, her or them, at his, her or their last known post office address, with full postage prepaid thereon; provided, such sale may be adjourned on application of the owner or other person interested therein, or because of no bidders, from time to time, not exceeding sixty days, in which case a short notice of such adjournment shall be published in the said newspaper.

5. And be it enacted, That it shall and may be lawful for the said collector, at the time and place specified in the above notice, or at the time and place to which he shall adjourn as aforesaid, to sell and strike off such lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate set forth in such warrant, or any part thereof, to such person or persons as will agree to take the same for the shortest term and pay such taxes as may be assessed as aforesaid on account thereof, and the interest thereon, and all costs, fees, charges and expenses touching the same, such payment to be made in all cases before the conclusion of such sale, and if not so made the collector shall re-sell the property; and that within ten days thereafter the said collector shall deliver to the purchaser a certificate of such sale, under his hand and seal, and duly acknowledged according to law; such certificate shall contain a description of the property, the term for which sold, the amount of tax, interest, costs, fees, charges and expenses in detail, the year for which assessed, the time when the right to redeem shall expire, and the date of the warrant under which the sale was made.

6. And be it enacted, That the said collector shall make return of said warrant within the time required therein, together with all of his proceedings thereunder in writing, and he shall annex thereto the copy of the notices required by this act, to be by him given, published, mailed and posted, with due proof of such publication, posting and mailing, together with a true copy of each certificate of sale and acknowledgment referred to in the preceding section, and that he shall annex to said return, on oath or affirmation in writing, that the said return is true, full and complete in all respects, and that the same sets forth all of his acts and proceedings under said warrant, and that true copies of all the notices required by him to be given by this act are annexed thereto, and that the certificate of sale thereto annexed is a true copy of the original given by him to the purchaser.

7. And be it enacted, That the clerk of said township shall record such return (the warrant only excepted) and the papers therein annexed, in the aforesaid "record of tax sales," at length immediately succeeding the record of such warrant, space being reserved for the purpose.

8. And be it enacted, That the purchaser shall cause such certificate of sale to be recorded in the county clerk's office, within the county where the lands are situate, within twenty days from the receipt thereof, and thereupon he shall be entitled to the immediate possession of the property described in said certificate and to all the rents, issues and profits arising therefrom on and after the date of such certificate, and in case the said premises are occupied by the owner or owners thereof, the purchaser shall give notice in writing to such owner or owners, either personally or by leaving the same with some member of his family over fourteen years of age, and informing him of the contents thereof, of such sale and demanding possession of such premises within thirty days after service thereof as aforesaid, and at the same time exhibit to the person so served, the aforesaid certificate, and if at the expiration of the said thirty days the said owner or owners shall not deliver up possession thereof, then and in that case the purchaser may take the same proceedings to gain possession of such lands and premises, as purchasers under decrees of foreclosure and sale of mortgaged premises.

9. And be it enacted, That the owner or owners, mortgagee, occupant or any other person having a legal or equitable interest in any lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate sold for taxes as aforesaid, may redeem the same at any time within two years from the date of such sale by paying to the purchaser or his legal representative the amount of purchase money set out in detail in said certificate with twelve per centum interest thereon, together with such other fees, costs, expenses and charges as may have been incurred by the purchaser under the provisions of this act, and the purchaser upon receiving such payment if made by the owner or owners thereof, shall reconvey and restore to such owner or owners such real estate, and in case the owner or holder of any estate in, lien upon or right of possession of such real estate so sold shall pay to the purchaser within the said two years the aforesaid purchase money, interest, fees, costs, expenses and charges, the sale shall be of no further effect, and the mortgagee or other person so redeeming shall have a lien on the said premises for the amount paid, with twelve per centum interest thereon, in like manner as if the same had been included in his, her or their mortgage, or other lien.

10. And be it enacted, That in case such lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate so sold shall not be redeemed within the time provided for by this act, then and in that case the township committee upon due proof being made by affidavit that such redemption has not been made, and the surrender of such certificate, shall execute and deliver to the purchaser, his legal representatives or assigns, at his or their expense a deed for the same under the common seal of the township, signed by the chairman of such township committee and attested by the township clerk, and acknowledged according to law, which deed shall contain a description of the property, the year of the tax assessment, the fact of advertisement and sale, the date of sale and the period for which the premises were sold, and which deed shall be recorded in the clerk's office of the county where the lands are situate within ten days after date thereof, and if not so recorded, the same shall be of no effect until so recorded as against a mortgagee or purchaser in good faith, and the right of redemption shall also continue until such record, notwithstanding the lapse of the aforesaid two years; and that such purchaser or purchasers, and his and their legal representatives, upon complying with the provisions of this act, shall, by virtue thereof, lawfully hold and enjoy said lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate, for and during the term for which he, she or they shall have purchased the same for his, her or their own proper use and benefit and advantage, against the owner or owners thereof, and all and every person or persons claiming under him, her or them, and against any and all other estates therein, whether legal or equitable, and any and all mortgages, alienations, devises, descents, liens and incumbrances of every kind and nature, as fully and completely as though there were no other estates, mortgages, alienations, devises, descents, liens or incumbrances of, in, upon or against said property or any part thereof until said term shall be fully completed and ended, and the purchaser shall be at liberty at or before the expiration of the said term to remove any building or buildings and material erected and placed by him, her or them thereon, and when said term shall have ended shall peaceably and quietly yield up the same to the lawful owner or owners thereof in as good state and condition as when he took the possession of the same, damage resulting from ordinary use and the elements excepted.

11. And be it enacted, That the aforesaid "record of tax sales" shall be received in all courts as presumptive evidence of the regularity of the proceedings therein recorded, and the aforesaid deed shall be presumptive evidence in all courts and places that such sale and proceedings were regularly made and had according to the provisions of this act.

12. And be it enacted, That no sale of lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate made in pursuance of this act, shall destroy or in any manner affect the lien of any mortgage thereon duly recorded or registered at the time of such sale, unless the purchaser shall give to such mortgagee or mortgagees, within three months from the date of such sale notice in writing, setting forth the date of such sale, the amount of purchase money, the description of the property as contained in the certificate of sale, the date when the right to redeem shall expire, and a reference to this act, which notice shall be served personally or by leaving the same with a member of his family over the age of fourteen years, and if he cannot be found, then by mailing the same enclosed in an envelope plainly directed to him, her or them, at his, her or their last known post office address, with full postage prepaid thereon, and within twenty days after the service of said notice transmit a true copy of the notice with the proof of service to the clerk of the county in which such lands are situate, and which notice shall be recorded and indexed in the same book in which mortgages are recorded, and a reference made in the margin opposite to the record where the original mortgage is recorded or registered, for which service the county clerk shall receive the sum of eight cents per folio to be paid by the purchaser.

13. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the township collector of each township on or about the first day of February in each year hereafter to make return in writing to the clerk of the county in which the township is situate, of all unpaid taxes assessed the preceding year on real estate in his township, setting forth against whose name assessed, the date, description of the property, the amount of tax thereon to which he shall affix an oath or affirmation, in writing, to the effect that the same is just, true, full and complete in every particular, as shown by his tax duplicate, and for such service he shall be paid by his township the sum of two cents for each name so returned; and in case the said collector shall neglect or refuse to make such return as herein provided, he shall forfeit and pay to the said township the sum of one hundred dollars, to be recovered in an action of debt in any court of competent jurisdiction.

14. And be it enacted, That the clerk of said county, upon receipt of such return, shall record the same at length in separate books provided for the purpose, respectively, for each township in the county, and shall properly index the same, which books shall be at all times open to public inspection, free of charge, and the said clerk shall receive for the aforesaid service the sum of five cents for each name so recorded, to be paid by the township returning the same, and it shall be lawful for said clerk in making searches for, or certifying unpaid taxes, to charge ten cents per year for each name searched or certified.

15. And be it enacted, That in case such tax returns shall not have been made in the time herein provided, or in case a name or names shall have been omitted from such return, and filed in that case, such tax shall cease to be a lien upon such real estate as against a purchaser or mortgagee in good faith.

16. And be it enacted, That upon the payment of such taxes so returned, the fees, charges and expenses incurred for services rendered under this act, shall be included in the amount to be paid by the delinquent, and that upon payment of such taxes, costs and expenses, the collector who shall receive the same shall give a certificate of satisfaction thereof, duly acknowledged, to the person paying the same, and that upon presentation thereof, the clerk of the county shall mark such tax return recorded in the said tax return as are by law satisfied, and shall file such satisfaction piece in his office.

17. And be it enacted, That any tax now due on any lands, tenements, hereditaments or real estate in any township of this state may be collected under this act in the manner prescribed herein.

18. And be it enacted, That this act shall not be construed so as to alter, modify, affect, annul or repeal the provisions of any charter of any city, village or borough wherein the collection of taxes is regulated; and the taxes assessed and to be assessed in any such city, village or borough shall be levied, assessed and collected as heretofore, and the lien of taxes on lands in any such city shall be and remain as now regulated, and nothing in this act shall be held to impair, alter or affect the lien in any way whatever; this act being intended to apply to townships in this state and not other municipalities.

19. And be it enacted, That all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, except as aforesaid, be and the same are hereby repealed.

20. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXVIII.

A further supplement to the act entitled "An act concerning elections," approved April eighteenth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any township containing eleven hundred voters and over, which shall not have been divided into two election districts, the township committee thereof may, if they shall deem it for the convenience of the voters therein, divide said township into three election districts; provided, the said division shall be made before the first day of August next; and provided also, that this act shall not apply to counties having a population less than one hundred thousand, and in making such division the said township committee shall be governed by the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement.

2. And be it enacted, That the officers of such election district shall be appointed and elected in the same manner as is provided by the act to which this is a supplement.

3. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXIX.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to incorporate the chosen freeholders in the respective counties of the state," [Revision,] approved April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the eighth section of said act, which is in the following words, to wit:

[illegible]

2. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXXI.

An act for the improvement of the sanitary condition of cities.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That whenever a petition, signed by at least twenty-five freeholders, residents of any particular city in this state, situated in any county of this state having a county board of health, stating that any particular place or district in such city is in a condition detrimental to the public health of such city or any part thereof by reason of insufficient drainage, it shall be the duty of such board of health to forthwith appoint a time and place to meet for the purpose of viewing the district said to be insufficiently drained, at which time and place so appointed said board shall meet and proceed to the place or district designated in such petition, and carefully to inspect and examine the same.

2. And be it enacted, That if the board of health, or a majority of the members thereof, are of opinion that the place or district by them viewed and inspected, pursuant to the provisions of the first section of this act, is in a condition which is detrimental to the public health by reason of insufficient drainage, and that it is advisable and proper that the same should be drained, they shall so certify to the mayor and council, the mayor and aldermen, or other governing body of the city wherein such insufficiently drained place or district is situate.

FREEDOM.

"The presence of troops at the polls is contrary to the spirit of our institutions and the traditions of our people, and tends to destroy the freedom of elections."

The foregoing is the text of a law introduced into Congress by the Democrats to prohibit the employment of United States soldiers at elections, and it proclaims an all important truth.

The greatest danger that can possibly menace Constitutional Liberty is the domination of military authority over the civil. That has ever been the favorite and effectual agent of tyrannical rulers to trample down and finally extinguish popular freedom. History attests the repeated enslavement of nations through the despotic use of the bayonet, and history is wont to repeat itself, even in this enlightened century, unless the people, warned by the past, resolutely watch over and maintain their inherent rights.

The Constitution provides that the military arm of the General Government shall be exerted to repel invasion, and when applied for, by a State Legislature or Executive, to resist domestic violence.

That is the whole limit of authority vested in Congress or President to send troops into any State of the American Union, and to go beyond that, as was done by the Grant dynasty, and as its adherents in the present Congress desire to have repeated, is to defy the sanctity of organic law and inflict harm upon the dearest privileges of freemen.

The American people cannot be too jealous of arbitrary power, and neither can they scan too closely the plausible deception it is constantly inventing for the purpose of decoying the unwary into its meshes.

Elections are State, not National affairs, and abundant local authority and means exist now, as always, to preserve order and guarantee personal protection. To assert the contrary is to frame a trick.

Elections are the shrines of Freedom, where unawed citizens may freely assemble and register their sovereign wills, and the Powers at Washington have no more just right to surround such places with armed soldiers, than they have to drag clergymen from pulpits for not preaching the doctrine of political hate.

The Democratic party, now as ever the defender of the people, is determined to urge continued warfare against partisan tyranny and craftiness of every kind, and that resolve echoes the very life spirit of the Constitution, to obey which is loyalty in positive effect, not empty pretense—

"Strike—till the last armed foe expires;
Strike—for your altars and your fires;
Strike—for the green graves of your sires;
God—and your native land!"

PUBLIC EXPENDITURE.

The public revenue, or to correctly style it, the money of the people, is disbursed by representative bodies possessing the granted power so to act, the Legislature for the State, Boards of Freeholders for Counties, Town Committees for Townships, and Common Councils for Cities. The lawful mode of disbursing governs all alike, the difference being in the magnitude and variety of expenditure.

It is a high misdemeanor to vote away public funds other than in strict accordance with Constitutional, Chartered or Statutory permission, and serious individual consequences attach to any official who knowingly offends in that particular.

Instances no doubt frequently occur when the voting of extra allowances may appear just and proper, or when the payment of extraordinary demands do not clash with seeming propriety, yet, having no specific warrant in law, to take money from the public purse for any such doubtful purposes is not only opening the door to manifold evils, but incurring a dangerous responsibility.

The place of safety is within the enclosure of definite legal authority.—Beyond that peril abounds.

Obey the law, regardless of all other considerations!

After the Ordinance, changing the time of holding the Charter election, had been passed to a second reading on Monday evening last, it was discovered that the date was Nov. 7th instead of Nov. 4th. The complacent countenances of the City Fathers fell and another meeting was ordered for Wednesday evening, when the Ordinance was straightened out and ordered to a third reading. The Fathers lay the blame to the Corp. Counsel who drew the bill. That shows they must have explicit confidence in the "Judge" or they would have examined the Ordinance before presenting it for passage. You can't always, however, sometimes tell about these Non-Partisan Councils. They are liable to err.

At the last session of Congress General Newton was authorized to make a preliminary survey to determine the desirability of constructing a ship canal between New York and Newark bays. General Newton and a party went over the proposed route on Tuesday of last week. The canal would be about a mile long, and would decrease the distance between Newark and New York by twelve miles. It is proposed to utilize the Morris Canal for a portion of the distance, and it is thought a passage can be cut through the peninsula for the passage of vessels at a comparatively small cost. General Newton will present a report and maps to Congress in a short time.

The report of the National Cotton Exchange shows that the cotton movement by rail routes this season is the largest ever known. There has been an increase of 166,651 bales in the direct shipments by rail from producers to Northern mills. The receipts of cotton at all United States ports for the year ending April 30, were 4,363,841, against [illegible] last year.

CHARTER ELECTION ADJOURNED.

At a special meeting of the Common Council, held last Monday evening, it was decided to postpone the election on the adoption of a new City Charter, from June 3d to Nov. 4th, at which time occurs the State election. It was thought best to thus change the date of election so that every voter might become conversant with the provisions of the proposed new charter. In another column we give an opinion of ex-Attorney General Gilchrist on the subject, which is able authority.

ORGANIZATION OF THE NEW BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS.

The new Board of Chosen Freeholders were to meet at eleven o'clock, Wednesday morning last, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, but it was nearer twelve o'clock when the Republican members, who had been caucusing in the Grand Jury room, entered. The meeting was called to order by ex-Clerk Crowell, and all the members answered present to the roll call.

The first order of business was the election of a Director, and Freeholder Hubbard nominated Geo. W. F. Randolph, of Plainfield. The nomination was seconded by Mr. Isenmann, and there being no other nominations, Mr. Randolph was elected unanimously by acclamation.

Messrs. Hubbard and Briant were appointed a Committee to escort Mr. Randolph to the Chair. Upon taking the Chair Mr. Randolph thanked the gentlemen for the mark of esteem shown him, and he hoped he would discharge his duties in a manner that would merit their confidence. He would largely depend upon their co-operation in the proper discharge of of his duties."

Mr. Hubbard then moved that the salary of the Clerk for the ensuing year be fixed at $300. The resolution was adopted.

Nominations for Clerk were then made as follows:

Mr. Hubbard nominated Uzal M. Osborn, of Rahway.

Mr Roll nominated John L. Crowell, of Rahway.

Mr. Parse nominated John Ulrich, of Plainfield.

The first ballot taken resulted as follows: Osborn, 8; Crowell, 8; Ulrich, 1.

Mr. Ulrich withdrew his name, and on the next ballot Mr. Crowell was elected by one majority.

Freeholders Hubbard and Doty acted as tellers.

Mr. Crowell after being sworn in by Director Randolph, extended his hearty thanks to the Board for their continued confidence in him, which in the discharge of his duties he would endeavor to merit.

On motion of Freeholder Hubbard the County Collector's salary for the ensuing year was fixed at $1,000, and the bonds reduced from $50,000 to $30,000.

Nominations for County Collector were then made. Mr. Hubbard nominating Mr. Samuel S. Moore, and Mr. Briant, Mr. Patrick Sheridan.

The result of the first ballot was Sheridan, 8; Moore, 7; blank, 2.

The vote on the second ballot was Sheridan, 8; Moore, 7; blank, 1; Randolph, 1.

Eight other ballots were taken all resulting the same—Sheridan, 8; Moore, 7; blank, 2.

Freeholder Hubbard moved that Board take a recess until two o'clock, and upon the ayes and noes being taken, the motion was carried by a vote of 9 to 8.

The Board re-assembled shortly after two o'clock, and on motion of Freeholder Smith opened under nominations for County Attorney.

On motion of Mr. Hubbard the salary was fixed at $300.

Mr. Hubbard nominated Mr. Frank Bergen, and he being the only nominee was elected by acclamation.

On motion of Mr. Smith the balloting for County Collector was resumed. Three ballots were taken, the result of each being, Sheridan, 8; Moore, 7; blank, 2.

The fourth ballot stood, Sheridan 8, Moore 7, blank 1, Houston 1. The fifth ballot showed the same result.—On the sixth ballot the vote stood, Sheridan 8, Moore 7, Glasby 1, blank 1. The vote on the seventh ballot was, Sheridan 8, Moore 6, Glasby 2, blank 1. Eighth ballot, Sheridan 8, Moore 7, Glasby 1, blank 1. Ninth ballot, Sheridan 8, Moore 7, Houston 1, blank 1. Tenth ballot, Sheridan 8, Moore 6, Houston 2, Glasby 1.—Eleventh ballot, Sheridan 9, Moore 7, blank 1.

Mr. Sheridan having received the majority of votes was declared elected.

On motion the rules governing the Board last year were adopted, and the regular meetings were fixed on the first Thursday of each month.

On motion of Mr. Hubbard the Board adjourned until next Tuesday at two o'clock, P. M.

The Democrats made a clean sweep at the charter election held in Morristown on Tuesday last. They elect James P. Sullivan, Recorder, L. Dayton Babbitt, Alderman, John Hone, Jr., James N. It is the first time they have had the management of the town affairs since its incorporation in 1867.

A LEGAL OPINION.

His Honor, Mayor Harper, having addressed a communication to ex-Attorney-General Gilchrist regarding the validity of the law proposed to be adopted by this city as its Charter, received the following legal opinion:

PLAINFIELD, May 8th, 1879.

Hon. Robert Gilchrist, Jersey City,

SIR:—Will you be so kind as to examine Sections 13, 16, 21, 23, 70, 93, 94, 95, 97, 98 and 99 of "An act concerning cities having less than ten thousand inhabitants and more than six thousand inhabitants," approved March 12, 1879, (being Chapter 24 Laws of New Jersey, 1879) and state whether any of those sections, or all of them, taken together, authorize a city adopting said act as its Charter to borrow money and issue bonds therefor in excess of the amount of $7,500 authorized to be borrowed in anticipation of the collection of taxes. The sections above mentioned are those relating to the general powers of the Council, its power of taxation and of borrowing in anticipation of taxes, the introduction of water, and the establishment of a system of sewers.

I am, with great respect,
Yours, &c.,
NATHAN HARPER,
Mayor of Plainfield.

The Mayor of Plainfield, N. J., requests me to examine sections 13, 16, 21, 23, 24, 70, 93, 94, 95, 97, 98 and 99 of "An act concerning cities having less than ten thousand inhabitants and more than six thousand inhabitants," approved March 12, 1879, a printed copy of which he has furnished to me, and also requests my opinion whether any of these sections, or all of them taken together, authorize a city, adopting the act as its charter, to borrow money and issue bonds therefore, in excess of the amount of ($7,500) seven thousand five hundred dollars, by the 23rd section, authorized to be borrowed in anticipation of the collection of taxes.

I have examined these sections and considered them; and am of the opinion that none of these sections, nor all of them taken together, will authorize such city to borrow money or issue its bonds, except in anticipation of the collection of taxes, in any one year, and then only to the amount of seven thousand five hundred dollars.

This general act, in this respect, seems to me to have been well and carefully considered.

Almost every thing is to be accomplished by the passage of Ordinances or resolutions of the Common Council; but little is prescribed by the Legislature itself, as to the methods to be pursued in executing the powers conferred.

The effect of this is, that whatever the Common Council so does, is open to the citizen and the taxpayer to question, if it is unreasonable.

All such Ordinances and resolutions may be reviewed in the Supreme Court, on the application of any taxpayer interested; and if found unreasonable by that tribunal they will be declared void.

Under other charters, where the Legislature itself prescribes the methods to be pursued in executing the powers of the city, these methods, if pursued, however unreasonable they may be, cannot be interfered with or arrested by the courts.

The provisions of this law, though entrusting much to the people and their officers, guard the taxpayer and bind the officials in relation to the raising of money by very cogent and effective provisions.

The limitation of the power of taxation by the 21st section is stringent. The right to raise by tax, more than is necessary to support the poor and pay the interest on the existing bond debt and the $10,000, for all the objects and purposes authorized by the act, is given by the 21st section; but it is a right to raise more in no other way than by tax, and that only after a vote by the people.

The express power given to borrow only $7,500, in anticipation of the collection of a year's taxes, is as strong an implication as could be, that there was no intention to give the power to borrow more; and no valid bond can be given beyond that amount. Even that amount can be borrowed only in anticipation of a year's taxes.

No duty is imposed by any of these sections on the city requiring the immediate use of large sums of money.

Power is given by the 93d and 94th sections to permit private persons to construct and maintain water works for supplying water; but it is quite plain that the city is not to build the works, and therefore is not to raise the money to build them, either by borrowing or bonding or otherwise.

Nor are the persons who are to construct the works and supply the water to citizens to be compensated therefor, by money to be raised by the city by borrowing or bonds, or otherwise.

It is plain from the 98th section that the citizen has the option to take the water or not; and if he takes it, that he is to pay not more than the rent, to be agreed on between the city and the owners of the works.

As to water which the city itself uses for fires, &c., that is not to be paid for by money raised by borrowing, or on bonds; but under the before mentioned limited powers to tax for city purposes.

The power to purchase the water works given by the 97th section, (at the end of the two terms not exceeding thirty or sixty years) I think, must be accomplished in some other way than by borrowing or bonding the city. No capitalist will loan the money necessary for that purpose, unless an express power shall be hereafter given.

The Courts, as well as the taxpayers, have become very jealous of their power to borrow money; and no lawyer, at this day, would, I think, permit a client to lend money on the language of this act, except to the extent of the seven thousand five hundred dollars.

The power in the 99th section to pass Ordinances for the laying of sewers, &c., evidently contemplates the raising of money by assessment for benefits and taxes; and under the limitations on those powers contained in the 21st, 23rd, 24th and 70th sections, and not by borrowing money or bonding the city.

There is a great protection to the taxpayer and an insurmountable practical obstacle to the lender, in the provisions in this 99th section that every thing is to be done by City Ordinances, which, as I have before stated, is always open to be declared void for unreasonableness.

I think the taxpayers of a city, organized under this act, are hedged round with uncommon protections against the use of the power to borrow money, which is given only in one instance, and in that instance to the comparatively insignificant extent of $7,500.

ROBERT GILCHRIST.

To the Hon. Nathan Harper, Mayor of the City of Plainfield:

The opinion of the Hon. Robert Gilchrist, ex-Attorney-General of the State of New Jersey, relative to the several points in the general law, which may be adopted by our city, having been handed to us for our consideration, we have only to say, [illegible] and Counsellors at law, residing in the city of Plainfield, that we fully concur in said opinion.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

The old Board of Freeholders of Union County, which adjourned sine die on Tuesday last, left a creditable record behind them. Under their careful and watchful management the financial condition of the County is in a healthy state. Director Martine, Clerk Crowell, Collector Sheridan, Attorney Maxson and Physician Terrell were all faithful officers and discharged the duties devolving upon them in a manner reflecting credit alike upon themselves and the County. Their bitterest political opponents cannot say otherwise. The new Board, which organized on Wednesday, although Republican, recognized the ability of Collector Sheridan and Clerk Crowell, to fill the positions occupied by them the past year, in re-electing them, both gentlemen being Democrats. It is unnecessary to say that they are fit and capable men for the offices elected to. The new Director, G. W. F. Randolph, of this city, is a gentleman well fitted for the position. He is a strict parliamentarian, and understands the affairs of the County thoroughly. We believe he will fill the office satisfactorily to the taxpayers. Mr. Frank Bergen, the County Attorney, is a young man, who has made many friends in Elizabeth, since he opened a law office there a few years ago. Mr. Wm. B. Maxson, of this city, the retiring Attorney, has rendered many important decisions coming within his jurisdiction during his term of office, which have all proved of benefit to the people at large in the County.

THE VETO.

WASHINGTON, MAY 12.

The following is a synopsis of the President's message vetoing the "Ladd" bill:

To the House of Representatives:

After careful consideration of the bill entitled "An act to prohibit military interference at elections." I return it to the House of Representatives in which it originated with the following objections to its approval:

In the communication sent to the House of Representatives on the 29th of last month, returning to the House without my approval the bill entitled "An act making appropriations for the support of the army for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1880, and for other purposes," I endeavored to show, by quotations from the statutes of the United States now in force, and by a brief statement of facts in regard to recent elections in the several States that no additional legislation was necessary to prevent interference with the elections by the military or naval forces of the United States. Holding, as I do, the opinion that any military interference whatever at the polls is contrary to the spirit of our institutions, and would tend to destroy the freedom of elections, and sincerely desiring to concur with Congress in all of its measures, it is with very great regret that I am forced to the conclusion that the bill before me is not only unnecessary to prevent such interference, but is a dangerous departure from long settled and important constitutional principles. The true rule as to the employment of military force at the elections is not doubtful. No intimidation or coercion should be allowed to control or influence citizens in the exercise of their right to vote, whether it appears in the shape of a combination of evil disposed persons, or of armed bodies of the militia of a State, or of the military force of the United States. The elections should be free from all forcible interferences, and as far as practicable, from all apprehension of such interference. No soldiers, either of the Union or of State militia should be present at the polls to take the place or to perform the duties of the ordinary civil police force.—There has been and will not be no violation of this rule under orders from me, during this administration; but there should be no denial of the right of the National Government to employ its military force on any and at any place, in case such employment is necessary to enforce the Constitution and laws of the United States.

What About the Incendiaries!

That incendiaries exist among us is very evident after the experience of the past week, and it is the bounden duty of the authorities to take some steps toward the discovery of the scoundrels, even it it is necessary to procure the services of a detective at an expense of many dollars to ferret them out. The fact that there is an inadequate supply of even the rotten hose now in use in the department which must be called into service in case of a fire of even small magnitude, must shortly tend to raise the rates of insurance on property in our city. No property owner will feel safe from the incendiaries, torch until one or the whole gang of them which have infested Plainfield for some time past, have been apprehended and punished. The Board of Fire Commissioners have it in their power to employ a competent detective to work up this matter. Will they do it, and give our citizens some degree of safety against the depredations of these "firebugs." An effort alone toward that object will be acceptable.

THE DEATH-RATE OF

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a Doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

Ice formed in this section last Saturday morning.

THERE was quite a heavy frost observable to the early risers last Sunday morning.

THE Rev. F. B. Pullen, of Vineland, N. J., will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church next Sabbath morning and evening.

THE closing exercises of the Industrial School will be held at the Warren Mission Chapel, Saturday May 17th, at 3 P. M. All interested in the school are invited to be present.

THE large organ for the new Masonic Hall, arrived on Monday last, and workmen are now engaged in putting up the same. The hall will be occupied by the fraternity about the first of next month.

WE noticed Mr. T. J. Pruden out riding for the first time on Wednesday last, since the serious accident which befell him some three weeks since in which he suffered a fracture of one of his legs.

WE are in receipt of The Co-Operator, Vol. 1, No. 4, published at Boston, Mass., in the interest of the colored race, John D. Bagwell, formerly of Plainfield, editor. The Co-Operator is well edited.

THE Plainfield Athletic Club are negotiating for the large room over Rockfellow's store on North avenue, the former Democratic Headquarters, which they will use as their Club Room and Gymnasium.

THE lawns about the depot were made to look handsomer than ever last Monday morning, by watchman Conway deftly cutting off the heads of daisy and clover with a lawn mower. Michael keeps the grounds in fine order.

A LARGE party of Germans, members of a singing society in New Brunswick, visited this city last Saturday, and with a number of their friends here, enjoyed the day in picnicking on the mountains back of North Plainfield.

MAYOR Harper has declined to sign the $60 warrant voted by the Common Council to Constable Moore, because Corporation Counsel Suydam, in a written opinion furnished Council, declared such proposed payment contrary to law.

A HANDSOME stage now makes trips to every train between the Park House, Geo. B DeRevere, Proprietor, and the depot. This popular House has been thoroughly overhauled and re-furnished, and is rapidly filling up with boarders.

THANKS to Mrs. Margaret Brittin, of Scotch Plains for a quantity of delicious cake, reminiscence of the late marriage of her daughter, mention of which should have been made last week. A long and prosperous life to the newly wedded couple.

MORGAN BIRD, Esq., started up the machinery in his mills on Richmond street last Tuesday, and will continue to keep the same in motion hereafter, manufacturing mouldings, sashes, blinds, &c. This mill was lately operated by Pettibone & Co.

MR. Nelson R. Giles, whose milk dairy is located near New Market, proposes establishing a branch milk route at Asbury Park during the coming season, in connection with the one now operated by him in this city. The citizens of Asbury Park may rely on procuring pure milk of him at fair rates.

MR. WM. MOORE, owner of Robert's Livery Stables on Park avenue, has continued his improvements about the establishment, by laying down a hard brick walk at the Park avenue entrance to the stables, over which horses and carriages have to pass upon returning and departing from the same.

THE journeymen painters held a meeting on Thursday evening last, and resolved to do no more unless they received $2 per day, instead of $1 50 which they were then receiving. They agreed to work for $1.75 a day until existing contracts are completed. All the boss painters acceded to their demands except Mr. Adams.

THE tramps are "moving." At last we should judge so from the appearance of two of that fraternity whom we saw on Front street last Tuesday evening. The man carried a mattress and the woman bedding and cooking utensils. Evidently they were of the aristocratic kind, who are afraid of taking cold should they sleep on the bare ground.

THE contracts for the mason and carpenter work of the Potter Printing Press Works in this city, were given out last Thursday evening. Isaac Pangborn secured the mason and M. W. Schenck, the carpenter work. Both firms are responsible and employ capable workmen, which is sufficient guarantee that the mammoth works will be properly constructed.

IT is a miracle that there are not daily accidents recorded of children being run over by vehicles on Park avenue, considering the number of carriages continually passing through that thoroughfare and the children to be seen crossing the same. If parents do not keep their children off the streets they must expect to pay doctor's bill for broken limbs.

ISAAC PANGBORN, mason, has received the contract for the construction of a large brick dwelling house for Councilman Finch on Park avenue, to be situated in about the centre of the property known as "Priest Wooden's Orchard." John Chandler has the carpenter work. When completed this dwelling will be the largest and one of the handsomest in the city.

SHARES of the Union and Middlesex Counties' Association, with the object in view of establishing Fair Grounds on Park avenue, near the city line, are being liberally taken. The object is a worthy one, and should meet with success. Subscription papers are being circulated for the purpose of procuring names of those desiring shares, one of which may be found at this office.

A CERTAIN merchant from Elizabeth desired to come to this city and open an auction shop to sell each evening wares of all kinds such as are kept in the stores of our home merchants. Mayor Harper informed him that his license fee would be $25 each night, and he concluded not to come. All honor to Mayor Harper for his endeavors to protect home trade. Last year the same merchant sold goods here for weeks at a mere nominal license fee.

THE time approaches for the annual cry of "mad dogs" and a raid upon the canines by the street gamins who are exercised about the advancing circus and the necessity of procuring the stipulated entrance fee to the same. Where the Dog Pound will be located is not yet decided. We trust His Honor will locate it outside the centre of the city and appoint some one as "extinguisher" of the canines who understands the art. No more of last year's proceedings.

CARPENTERS are scarce in Plainfield, in consequence of the large amount of building now going on. Besides, a number of mechanics who have been out of work during the winter, have availed themselves of opportunities for work in other quarters before the contracts for the many new buildings now in course of erection were given out. Ten of them went to Manhattan Beach on Monday last to assist in the construction of a large hotel there.

THE finest display in Dry and Fancy Goods ever exhibited in this city, was at the May opening of Edsall & Price; the pot flowers were from the hot house of M. A. Haines' Florist, giving a very fine effect as they were placed on steps reaching from the counter to the ceiling mingled with other goods. Loud commendations were given for the artistic skill in which the store was trimmed. We are happy to say it was witnessed by a throng of our citizens.

THE race track of the U. & M. Co's. M. A. Society, (the contemplated Fair Grounds) adjoining Dunn's Club House, is the scene of many contests for best speed between the fast horses owned by gentlemen in and about the suburbs of the city, for pleasure only. One day last week there was a fine contest between gentlemen's road horses, in which H. S. Little's "Duke" came off victor. Mr. L. now declares his animal the "boss of the road," although other gentlemen look very knowing, as though to say—"wait until I give you a trial."

MR. J. E. Walker, of this city, has associated himself with a gentleman named Scott, of well known hotel fame, under the firm of Scott & Co., and opened a first-class hotel and summer retreat at Locust Grove, Long Island, which is a favorite summer resort, accessible by rail and boat from New York, Newark and Jersey city. The surroundings of the Locust Grove Hotel is not all sand but green sward. Fine bathing grounds are one of the attractions of the spot. Messrs. Scott and Walker will be pleased to receive a call from their many friends in this section.

COLLECT a Sheridan, we congratulate you.

WE see our young friend Edwd. Connell, of the Brooklyn Eagle, is home on a short vacation.

HUNT, the photographer is taking elegant pictures at his handsome studio in Stillman's building, Front street, at very low prices.

NEXT week we shall conclude the publication of the Laws of New Jersey. Our lady readers are no "gladder" of it than we are.

THE Rev. John J. Reed, of Washington, N. J., is expected to preach in the M. E. Church next Sunday morning and evening.

THE Perth Amboy Gazette has discarded the patent out side system, and with its entire new dress makes a very neat appearance.

SPECIAL Policeman Conway, on Wednesday night last took the place of regular officer Hugh McDonald, who is confined to his house by illness.

TWO ladies, while standing on Fifth street, viewing the fire of Wednesday last, had their dresses badly burned by sparks from the burning building falling upon them.

ROBERT FERRIS, of this City, was arrested by C. R. R. Detective Morris on Thursday afternoon for throwing a stone through the caboose window of a passing train, at Evona.

ACCORDING to a recent opinion of County Attorney Manson, a Justice is not entitled to receive a fee in examining arraigned tramps unless that species of humanity is committed to the jail or workhouse.

THE best suspender out is the Murfey patent, manufactured by the Continental Manufacturing Co. 116 & 118 Franklin street, New York. For sale by most dealers in Gents' Furnishing Goods. Mr. Murfey is a resident of Westfield.

MR. Charles Heyder, former proprietor of the "Cosmopolitan Hotel," near the depot, this city, has taken the management of a hotel and billiard saloon at Elizabeth, under the proprietorship of Mr. Philip Sebastble, who is also proprietor of several other large summer retreats and hotels.

WE are pleased to chronicle the fact that Mr. John Van Dyke is once more able to walk about our streets, after his severe attack of lock-jaw occasioned by swelling of the glands of one side of his neck. His condition a few days since was critical. Dr. Chas. Tomlinson attended him.

CAPT. B. F. Depew has returned from his four week's pleasure trip, and is once more domiciled at his old quarters, Chamberlain's Hotel. From his suspicious actions since his return, in overhauling his fishing gear, we imagine his stay with us is short. The weather is not settled enough yet, Captain.

ON complaint of Officer Dodd, May Ann Schumm and Wm. Schorb were arrested yesterday (Thursday) afternoon on a charge of selling liquor without a city license. They were taken before Judge Good, and Schorb plead guilty and Miss Schum not guilty. Trial and sentence set down for Saturday morning next.

IN consequence of the dirt, &c., from the road bed washing into the fire well corner of Crescent avenue and Broadway, on which the steamer lay on Wednesday night, over a foot of mud has accumulated in the bottom of the same. Chief Doane has received instructions from the Commissioners to have the well cleaned out.

CHARLES PRENTICE laid down in a shady nook near Netherwood on Tuesday last and took a nap. When he awoke he found an enormous big black snake lying across the lower part of his legs. In his endeavors to dislodge the reptile, he was bit on one of his fingers. The snake was dispatched with a club, and no serious results are apprehended from the bite.

REV. Father Morris, of St. Mary's Church, Plainfield, received the high honor of being chosen from among the Roman Catholic clergymen of New Jersey, to celebrate the Solemn High Mass with which the proceedings of the 9th annual convention of the Father Matthew Total Abstinence Societies of this State, were opened at Paterson last Wednesday morning the 14th inst.

A Shower of Money.

The old adage of "the early bird catches the worm," was profitably illustrated last Wednesday morning, when several early risers picked up first a roll and then scattering bills of various denominations on one of our most frequented thoroughfares. The police force did not find any of the money.

This is a Fact.

We are confidentially informed that our esteemed bachelor friend, Alexander Shot well has gone and committed matrimony at last, Miss Elizabeth Thys, of Scotch Plains, being the happy bride. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. P. Morris Saturday evening 21st inst. We wish "Alex" and his bride many happy returns.

Personals.

Martin Bros. are doing a fine business in their new Grocery Store corner of Park avenue and Second street, and many congratulations are extended the senior member of the firm. When pressed about the matter "Gus" says it is a girl and became a member of the firm on Monday evening last.

The jolly countenance of Union County's efficient Collector, P. Sheridan, was observable on our streets last Monday morning. He is still the Collector.

We received a call from Hon. John T. Dunn, member of Assembly from the 1st District of this County, last Saturday. Mr. D. has many warm friends in this section.

Thanks to Gen. Wm. H. Sterling for complimentary favors regarding Brinton Range.

Rifle Practice.

General Inspector Sterling has issued the following circular for the information of the members of the National Guard:

I. The rifle practice of the National Guard of New Jersey, will be conducted during the current year according to the rules and forms laid down in Wingate's Manual of Rifle Practice.

II. The days for practice and the manner in which the several organizations of the National Guard are to be sent on the range for practice will be prescribed by the Brigade Commanders, commencing with a day set apart for marksmen, and those sufficiently skilled as to be likely to qualify to practice for Marksman's Badge. Those who qualify will not be required to practice further, but may be detailed to act as instructors. All others must practice through the regular classes as prescribed in the Manual.

III. Brigade Inspectors of rifle practice must be present when the Marksmen's Badges are shot for by any portion of their Brigade, but, if necessarily absent, an experienced Staff Officer may be detailed.

IV. Members of the National Guard when in uniform are entitled to the use of ten targets and necessary markers, without charge at Brinton Range, on Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays, from May 1st to November 1st, for practice, on application to the Superintendent of the Range.

V. Brigade Inspectors of rifle practice will see that timely requisitions for ammunition and transportation are made and forwarded to the Chief of Ordnance through proper channels.

The County Collector's Report.

The report of County Collector Sheridan for the year ending May 1st, was read at the meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders was held on Thursday afternoon, May 8th. The present Board appropriated $115,000 to meet the current expenses of the county, and although the amount was $15,000 less than the appropriation of the preceding year, it is shown by the report to be sufficient to meet all demands. By order of the Board new bonds to the amount of $44,000 was issued to meet accruing bonds falling due Jan. 1st, 1879, and as in a like instance the previous year, the financial credit of the county was maintained, the new bonds bringing a larger premium than was ever before obtained for the county. The bonded indebtedness of the county was reduced the past year $17,500. The uncollected taxes of the county, including interest, amount to $67,794.37, and is confined, as shown in the tabular statements embodied in the report, to the three cities and four townships. The increase in outstanding temporary loans is mainly due to the failure of those cities and townships to meet their tax obligations to the county. There is now outstanding to the credit of the county in unpaid taxes, interest on same, claim due by Sheriff and cash on hand, the sum of $75,281 82. The liabilities are the outstanding temporary loans amounting to $47,000, showing a balance in favor of the county of the sum of $28,281.82. In concluding the report Mr. Sheridan says, "as the assets of the county are mainly available within the year, and considering the considerable reduction of the amount required of the county for State purposes, the facts justify that the appropriation for the ensuing year may with safety be reduced to $100,000. The indebtedness of the county was reduced in the year ending May 1, 1879, $36,645 26, and this on the appropriation and tax levy of $130,000. The debts for the year just ended is about $18,000, on an appropriation of $115,000. THE CONSTITUTIONALIST, being one of the legal papers appointed by the Board of Freeholders to publish the County Collector's Report, that document will appear in our next issue.

The New Public Hall

Which is located in Vandeventer's fine new brick building on Front street, and will be known as "Vandeventer Hall," is nearly ready for initiation. It has a seating capacity of near 700 people. A handsome gallery runs half away around the hall. The stage is commodious and is supplied with all the necessary paraphernalia, foot lights, drop curtain, &c. Cane bottom chairs furnish seats for an audience. Small, but sufficiently large dressing rooms, accessible to actors by a narrow entrance from the main hall are situated on each side of the stage. The main entrance is wide and the stairs easy of ascent. The hall will be thrown open to the public some time this month.

Warrenville's Convicted Pastor Deposed.

On Tuesday of last week a council of Congregational churches was held in Bound Brook, N. J., by invitation of the German Congregational Church of Warrenville, whose pastor, the Rev. George W. Bowers, was recently sent to the New Jersey State Prison for forgery, after he had been followed to Boston and arrested by detectives. The Warrenville church's members had voted to call the council, in order to advise about dissolving its pastor's relations with it, on the Sunday before Bowers was arrested in Boston. Bowers pleaded guilty to the charge of forgery. The Council approved the act of the church in deposing Bowers from the ministry, and expressed sympathy for the afflicted church. The scribe, the Rev. James D. Eaton, was requested to assist the Warrenville church in obtaining another pastor.

State Agricultural Society.

The Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society held a meeting in their office, in Newark, on Tuesday afternoon, of last week, and transacted considerable business. A number of new and needed improvements will be completed prior to the Fall exhibition. The main entrance to the grounds is being altered, new offices will be built, and turn styles with registers attached will be put up, so that there will be an accurate record of the number of persons as well as vehicles that enter the grounds during the fair. The grand stand will be overhauled and put in thorough repair. There will also be a new fence with a rub board put on the inside of the track. These, with many other improvements, will be made at once. Stockholders' and season tickets are now in the hands of the Superintendent on the grounds.

Again in Jail.

Mary Ann Lynch is a damsel of sixty summers, and has a great weakness for that which intoxicates. She succumbed to the powers of Plainfield stimulants, and was consigned to the care of Warden Marsh, for ninety days. The sentence expired on Tuesday, and Mary Ann sallied forth. She was out only a few hours, when she was found on Elizabeth avenue by officer McCullough, very much under the influence as she alleged of pepermint, taken for the "cramps." The Justice harkened unto her sad tale, his heart was melted, and discharged her after exacting the promise that she would leave the city immediately. She went away, praying blessings upon the Justice. Elizabeth has charms for Mary Ann, and she returned not to Plainfield, but was found drunk again at the "Port" depot next evening by officer Dixon. The Justice declined to overlook this third offence, and Mary Ann was re-committed to the County Jail for sixty days.—Elizabeth Herald.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

Excelsior Hook & Ladder Company will meet in their rooms next Monday evening in uniform.

The Rev. Joseph C. Buchanan, late pastor of the Baptist Church, together with his wife and son, spent the most of last week among their friends in this village.

Mr. S. S. Day, the popular Principal of the Public School, has at last "taken unto himself a rib." He went and "done it" last Wednesday evening. He has chosen a "better part," but how about the cake, &c.? We forgive him; he is excusable.

The M. E. Church continues to be supplied with preachers from the Drew Seminary at Madison.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Day have rented the S. M. Ball cottage on Front street, and that they purpose "setting up" housekeeping there at no distant "day."

Dr. J. A. Coles has succeeded in securing tenants for all his houses but one.

Repairs are now being made upon the parsonage property, preparatory to its occupancy by the new pastor elect.

The funeral of Mr. James Coles, late of Plainfield, took place at the Baptist Church on Tuesday afternoon, at three o'clock. The Rev. Drs. Lowry and Yerkes, of Plainfield, officiated. Mr. Coles, who was the youngest son of the late Dennis Coles, was born in this place nearly 68 years ago, at the "Coles Homestead," where Jared S. Stout, Esq., now resides. Some 15 years ago he sold his farm where Mr. Warren Ackerman now resides, to that gentleman, and soon thereafter removed to Plainfield where he died suddenly on Sunday last, of appoplexy. His remains were interred in the "Coles Plot" in the Baptist Church cemetery.

The Baptist Church and congregation have given a unanimous call to the Rev. Uriah B. Guirourd, of Brewsters, N. Y., to become their pastor. Mr. Guirourd, who is a pleasing and attractive speaker, was born in Ely, near London, about 50 years ago. He came to the United States about 25 years ago, since which time he has been pastor of a number of strong and influential churches. He was pastor at one time of the Union Avenue and at another time of the Herkimer Street Baptist churches in Brooklyn, one of which he himself organized. We are informed that the Rev. gentleman is a great worker, and that he has been very successful in his former pastorates.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

Last Sunday morning several of the young roughs of the village repaired to Woodruff's woods, south of the depot, and two of them engaged in a fight, any way to win, and to see which was the better boy, both were considerably punished with bloody noses, scratched faces and torn clothes. Our authorities ought to look after them and not allow such disgraceful rows, especially on the Sabbath.

The meeting of the village drainage powers was postponed from last Saturday, as the committee on subscription have not yet completed their labors.

The Central R. R. engineers were at this village on Saturday last taking measurements and levels at the culvert under C. R. R. track, near the depot, so that they may be able to report how much lower the culvert ought to be, so that it may give the village a proper drainage.

S. M. Foster, Esq., is out again after his severe illness.

An adjourned meeting of the Westfield Game and Fish Protective Society was held at the residence of Wm. Dallas, Esq., on Monday evening last, 12th inst, Robert M. Fairbanks, the President, presided, and H. I. Webb, Sec'y. Minutes of last meeting read approved, after which they adopted a constitution and by-laws similar to those of the Central N. J. Society. A large number joined the Society and paid their initiation fee. Every farmer and lover of good shooting and fishing ought to join it.

On Friday afternoon, May 9th, inst., Arthur Dolbier, a son of E. M. Dolbier, of this village, while at work in Chandler's factory at Cranford, a kerosene lamp used for heating glue, exploded, and burned young Dolbier severely about the head and face; if he had not had the presence of mind to keep his eyes closed, he would very likely have been totally blinded. The lamp had a temporary chimney of tin over the burner, and not having ventilation enough, the lamp became overheat, which was no doubt the cause of the explosion. Very fortunately, two young men named Brower and Fleming, at work near Dolbier, succeeded in putting out the fire or there would have been the loss of a factory to record. The factory is used for turning and scroll sawing.

On last Sunday morning, Dr. S. Cooper and our market agent, F. R. Pennington, started to go to Cranford with the Doctor's horse and carriage; when on North Avenue, near Cranford, about half way to Cranford, a large dog came running out of the underbrush and frightened the horse so that he ran to one side of the road, and striking an embankment, overturned the carriage, throwing both occupants out and injured the Dr. severely, and Mr. Pennington slightly. The wagon was a total wreck.

CRANFORD.

Robert Graves, a very genial gentleman, who boarded at Lamberding's Hotel, Cranford, well known by the name of "Scotty," died very suddenly on Tuesday evening last at 6 o'clock, of appoplexy. The County Physician was summoned and granted a permit of burial. Dr. Terrill took charge of his effects, as he has no relatives in this country. He was born in Scotland, and came to this country when 15 years of age.

George Schindler, James Schindler and Henry Smith, the robbers and burglars, were brought before the Court at Elizabeth, on Wednesday, to plead to six indictments for highway robbery and burglary; they all pleaded not guilty to the whole of the indictments. After taking them back into jail, Smith wished to come back before the Court, which he did, and retracted his plea and plead guilty to the six indictments. [illegible] The trial of the Schindler's takes place on May 22d, inst.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

[Under the above head we shall endeavor each week to give items and news of interest to the lovers of fishing, gunning, trotting, athletic and other sports. We shall be pleased to receive contributions or items for this column from all interested in such matters.]

An adjourned meeting of the "Central N. J. Game & Fish Protective Society" will be held at the Mansion House, this city, on Saturday May 17, at 3 P. M., when officers for the ensuing year will be elected and other business of importance transacted.

By order

W. H. STEBBINS, Pres.

W. L. FORCE, Sec.

The "Westfield Game & Fish Protective Society" is the title of a newly organized association in our sister village, with competent men at its head. Violators of the law will look "sharp."

A young lad, while fishing in Randolph's pond, this city, last Wednesday, caught a fine speckled trout, which had in all probability escaped from a private pond further up the stream. Warden Ott proposes to placard along Green and other brooks, which have been stocked with game fish by the State, warning all persons against violating the law by fishing with nets or set lines.

NORTH PLAINFIELD PARAGRAPHS.

Mr. Wm. Taylor, owner of the beautiful villa "Edgewood" on Somerset street, and a Mr. Livingston, of Plainfield, are about stocking Coddington's Pond, opposite the first named gentleman's residence, with Black Bass, and give notice that no fishing or trespassing on the grounds or waters will be allowed. They will also see that the law on the subject is enforced.

The final meeting of the old Board of Freeholders of Somerset County was held at Somerville on Tuesday last, and was a stormy session. H. M. Gaston, Esq., appeared and requested the privilege of saying a few words to the Board in relation to the resolution passed by the Board and published for the last four weeks, in relation to the suit now pending against Daniel Cory, member from Warren. His remarks were of the most pointed and personal character, charging Cory of defrauding the County of a large amount of money, and also that the fraud had extended through a number of years, and also that the present Counsel of the Board, Mr. Schomp, was and is employed by said Cory to put off and not to prosecute the said suit against the said Cory, and that Schomp was paid by said Cory to prevent the prosecution of said suit. Mr. Cory answered Mr. Gaston in a sharp, scathing speech, occupying about a half hour, and emphatically denied every charge and insinuation and pronounced Mr. Gaston's speech as a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end, and challenged him (Gaston) to produce proofs of his allegation. At the afternoon session the Finance Committee made the following report, which was read and on motion adopted: "We a committee of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Somerset, having been appointed to examine the receipts and disbursements of the County Collector, for the year ending May 13, 1879 beg leave to report that we have performed the duty assigned to us, and find all matters appertaining thereto correct as above reported, viz: $365.60 in the treasury, also due from the Township of Bernards for the years 1875 and 1876, $4,920.50 and an indebtedness of $123,219.70. This report shows that the actual debt has been reduced this year $10,769.56, and the present debt deducting the amount now in the treasury, to be $122,934.10, and the actual debt when the arrears of Bernards Township is paid in, to be $118,013.57 and which shows a reduction of $26,483.90 during the last two years. On Wednesday the new Board organized by electing Wm. E. Jones of North Plainfield as Director and Arthur P. Sutphen Clerk. The salary of the latter was fixed at $50. This is the third term of Directorship for Mr. Jones, who makes a most excellent presiding officer, and strictly and honestly performs the duties devolving upon him.

At a special meeting of citizens, called by the Board of School Trustees last Wednesday evening, held in the school building, to consider the matter of raising by taxation an additional sum of $600 to meet the deficiency in the school appropriation of last year, Mr. Isaac Brokaw was chosen chairman and Wm. A. Schutt, Secretary. On a vote being taken it was decided in favor of raising the appropriation.

The Board of Assessors of Somerset met at Somerville on Wednesday, and decided to make no general reduction in valuations of real estate, but to leave the matter discretionary with the Board.

The monthly examination of Public School No. 38, North Plainfield, of the classes of the three departments of the school was concluded on the 9th inst.

In the Grammar Department, Class A, Fiorella Case stands at the head, having an average of 100. In Class B, Chas. Powlison is at the head, average, 100.

Intermediate Department, 4th Class, Hester Nolan is head, average, 99 2-7. 3d Class, Thomas Waldron, average, 95½. 2d Class, Julia Johnson, average, 100. 1st Class, Katie O. Connor, average, 97¼.

Primary Department, 4th Class, 2d Div., Eliza Gavin, average, 95; 1st Div., John Waite, average, 97; 3d Class, Mary Gebhard, average, 99.

The attendance for the quarter just ended, was 422. The entire enrollment since last September is nearly 500. This is over 60 scholars in excess of last year.

Common Council Proceedings.

MONDAY EVENING, May 12 1879.

Council met in special meeting.

Present—Carell, Mayer, Finch, Lithgow, Potts, Rushmore, Redfield, Simpson, Stewart, Stover.

Absent—Depew.

Pres. Potts in the chair.

On motion of Mr. Stover, the reading of the minutes of the last regular meeting were dispensed with.

The Pres. then stated the object of the meeting by reading the following:

PLAINFIELD, N. J., May 10, 1879.

To the Hon. the Common Council of the city of Plainfield:

Gentlemen:—In view of the fact that many of our citizens feel that the interval between the present time and June 24 is too short to admit of a thorough investigation of the new charter, and being desirous that the voters of Plainfield shall have ample time to analyze it and arrive at an intelligent and honest judgment upon its merits, and to save the expense that will be incurred by holding a special election, we, the undersigned, respectfully request your honorable body to postpone the election ordered for June 24 until the time for holding the November State election. We believe that a careful and thorough examination of the various provisions of the charter will satisfy all who peruse it that there is nothing contained in it that will prove detrimental to the interests of our city, but on the contrary, that it is well adapted to the wants of Plainfield, and that its adoption will prove in every way beneficial to its future prosperity.

(Signed)—C. A. Schermerhorn, Peter [illegible]

After the reading of the above petition, the [illegible] tion for the proposed new charter from June 24, 1879, to November 5th, 1879.

Read, read, and on motion of Mr. Stover, the Rules were suspended and the Ord. read 2d time.

Mr. Lithgow moved that the Ord. be engrossed and ordered to a 3d reading. Adopted, all aye, with the exception of Messrs. Simpson and Stewart, who voted in the negative.

Council then adjourned.

A special meeting was called by the Pres. after the adjournment, for Wednesday evening, May 14, as some defects were noticeable in the Ord. presented this evening.

WEDNESDAY EV'G, May 14, 1879.

Council met in special meeting.

Present—Carell, Rushmore, Stover, Lithgow, Potts, Mayer. Absent—Redfield, Finch, Simpson, Stewart, Depew.

On motion of Mr. Stover, the reading of the minutes were dispensed with.

The Pres. stated that the object of the meeting was to make a correction in the ord. presented on Monday evening as regards the date of holding the election.

Mr. Stover moved that the vote be reconsidered and the ord. put back to its 2d reading. So agreed to. All aye.

Mr. Stover moved that wherever the word "seventh" occurs it be stricken out and the word "fourth" substituted in its stead. Agreed to. All aye. The ord. as amended was then read second time, and on motion of Mr. Carell, the ord. was ordered engrossed and to a 3d reading. All aye.

Mr. Stover moved that the chair appoint a Com. of two to draft resolutions in the sad death of the son of Councilman E. E. Depew. Adopted.

The Pres. appointed Messrs. Stover and Lithgow said Committee.

Council then adjourned.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union Co.

[Official.]

ELIZABETH, May 8th, 1879.

Pursuant to adjournment the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County met in regular monthly session on Thursday, May 8th, 1879, at 2 o'clock, p. m.

Present—Director C. W. L. Martine in the chair, and Freeholders Briant, Crowell, Doty, Forsyth, Hubbard, Irving, Kennedy, Nolte, Pierson, Randolph, Bell, Rankin, S. C. Smith, Thos. H. Smith, Thompson. Absent—None.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read (with the exception of list of bills ordered paid, which was, on motion, omitted) and on motion the minutes as read were approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Opinion of the County Attorney relative to the bill of Justice Osborn for fees in the disposal of cases of tramps brought before him, was on motion of Freeholder Randolph received, and the bill ordered returned to Justice Osborn for correction.

Communication from P. F. Good, City Judge of Plainfield, calling the attention of the Board to the fact of parties carrying on the business of pawnbroker in said city without a license, and requesting the Board to direct the County Attorney to prosecute the party, under the act to regulate and license pawnbrokers.

On motion the communication was received and referred to the County Attorney with instructions to bring the matter before the present Grand Jury.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES AND OFFICERS.

Committee to settle with the County Collector:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Your Committee to settle with the County Collector, beg leave to report that they have carefully examined his annual report, which is herewith annexed, in all its details, having examined each and every amount, and compared each disbursement with accompanying vouchers. They beg leave to report that they find the same correct in every particular, and that a certified check was submitted to the committee for the balance on hand of seven thousand four hundred and thirty-six dollars and nineteen cents. Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH NOLTE,
WM. M. CROWELL,
GEO. W. F. RANDOLPH,
Committee.

Accompanying the committee's report was a detailed statement from the County Collector for the past year, which was read in part by the Clerk.

On motion the report was received and ordered placed on file.

ANNUAL REPORT OF COUNTY PHYSICIAN.

Elizabeth, May 8, 1879.

To the Honorable Director and members of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

Gentlemen:—The undersigned, your County Physician, would respectfully submit the following report of the deaths calling for official notice, and registered in the County Clerk's office during the year ending May 8, 1879.

The total number of deaths recorded are [illegible]. [illegible]

A more particular description of each case is herewith appended. Respectfully submitted,

THOS. TERRILL, M. D.,
County Physician.

On motion, the report was received and ordered placed on file, and no much of the report as relates by the Clerk to be published with the minutes.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Randolph:

[illegible]

On motion of Freeholder Rankin, the Board adjourned to meet Tuesday, May 13th, at 11 o'clock a. m.

JOHN L. CROWELL, Clerk.

May 9th, 1879.

FIRE MATTERS.

A false alarm of fire called out the department on Saturday evening last.

The quarterly meeting of Gazelle Eng. Co. No. 1, held in their parlors, Wednesday evening, May 7th, 1879, was a pleasant one. The Co. is in good condition, and never in better working order than to-day. Remarks and congratulatory resolutions were the main feature of the evening, and after an hour so pleasantly spent, the Company adjourned, hoping that the commencement of another year's duty would be fraught with success in every particular.

An incendiary fired the barn of Mr. John H. Brady, on the Drake Dunn estate, situate just on the southerly outskirts of the city, Friday night of last week, and the building was entirely consumed, together with a horse and calf. Mr. Brady could illy afford to meet with such a loss, and kind friends have since presented him another horse. The Department were on hand, but on account of the distance arrived too late to save the building.

About quarter past nine o'clock on Wednesday evening last, a barn situate in the rear of a dwelling owned by Mr. France Hetfield, on 5th Street, between Peace and Washington Streets, was totally destroyed by fire, together with most of its contents. The stables were occupied by Mr. George L. Garrigue. That gentleman had been out riding alone during the evening, and on his return, when within sight of the barn he saw that the same was on fire. Springing out of the buggy and throwing the reins over a hitching post, although the animal he was driving was a valuable one, he rushed toward the building intent only on rescuing another valuable stallion contained therein. By sheer strength he forced the stable door from its fastenings and endeavored to lead the animal out, finally being compelled to be-labor him with a piece of scantling, and drive him from the stall. In his endeavors to do so the horse reared and plunged fearfully, striking Mr. Garrigue in the breast with his fore feet, and dashing him almost senseless against the side of the stall. Both this, and the animal he was driving during the evening, are valuable and highly prized by their owner. Nothing else was saved from the building, the family carriage, robes, blankets, harness, a ton of hay, &c., being destroyed. Mr. G. had recently broken up housekeeping in consequence of the ill health of his wife, and stored a large portion of his household goods in one part of the barn, including many valuable keepsakes and mementoes. All these were also destroyed. The Department did all in their power to stay the progress of the flames when they arrived at the scene, although the structure by that time was beyond saving. The fire must have been started by an incendiary in the stall next to the one in which was lodged the stallion, as Mr. G. states that the bedding under the animal's feet and the hay in the mow above him was on fire when he entered the stall. He had but three days previous been induced by Mr. Wm. Woodruff, of the firm of Woodruff & Busby, Insurance Agents, this city, to insure in the Fire Association, of Philadelphia as follows; On furniture, $700; on harness, robes, &c., $200; on piano, $150. His horses were also insured for $800. His loss is incalculable on account of the many mementoes, family trinkets, &c., destroyed.

COMMUNICATED.

For "The Constitutionalist."

STRANGE BUSINESS.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

We the common people may not know half as much as Common Councilmen; nevertheless, we certainly possess the privilege of seeing and thinking and the right of expressing thought, however crude.

In our ignorance, we supposed the Corporation Counsel was a lawyer appointed to inform Councilmen what they could legally do and what they must leave undone, and that his opinion was a sure chart to steer by. If wrong in our supposition, we desire to be told the real use of a Corporation Counsel, as we discover, through published reports, that said officer informed the Council they had no lawful power to pay a certain Constable for services rendered more than the law allowed, and yet the Council treated his opinion as so much brown paper, and voted to do exactly what the lawyer said they had no right to do.

The people are watching things, and to them the above named looks like a strange way of doing business.

SENTINEL.

SUDDEN DEATH.

It is our sad duty to record the sudden demise of Willie, eldest son of Councilman Depew, which event occurred at the residence of his parents on Front Street, Wednesday morning last, at about 3 o'clock. Deceased was widely known among the young people of Plainfield, and was beloved and esteemed by all who knew him for his many excellent qualities. In December last he was forced to give up a lucrative position in New York city in consequence of an attack of hemorrhage. A trip to the South seemed to benefit him. The night previous to his death he was in seeming good health, up to half past seven o'clock, when he complained of pain in his chest, and remarked to his parents that his end was near and desired his father to make certain memorandums of affairs which he desired attended to in case of his sudden death. His parents endeavored to divert his mind from such thoughts and summoned Dr. Chas. Stillman, Jr., who at once applied the usual remedies, and afforded his patient relief, although he saw that there was great danger. Willie continued to assert that his end was near, and his sorrowing parents watched by his bedside until about 3 o'clock in the morning, when his father asked him if he should not remove the chair from behind his back and allow his head to rest on the pillow of the bed. He signified his willingness, and as his parents gently eased his head downward, Willie's spirit took its flight, leaving his grief-stricken parents with only the empty casket before them. The heart-felt sympathies of all who knew their promising and dutiful son is extended the bereaved parents. The funeral services will take place at Grace Church, this city, at 3 P. M. on Saturday next.

CHAPTER CLXVII.

An act to enable cities to create and maintain a sinking fund for the redemption of their bonded indebtedness.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That it shall and may be lawful for any city in this state, having a population less than one hundred thousand inhabitants, by resolution of the common council thereof, at any time hereafter, to establish a sinking fund for the cancellation of its bonds, and from time to time, to fix the rate to be annually assessed therefor; provided, however, that the rate to be so assessed for the said purpose shall not in any case exceed one quarter of one per centum of the valuation of real and personal estate for general taxation.

2. And be it enacted, That on application by, or on behalf of the common council of any city in this state, which may pass such resolution as aforesaid, the supreme court of this state, or any justice thereof, shall appoint under his hand, some proper person, to be styled "commissioner of sinking fund," who shall have the management of the sinking fund of such city, and the said court or justice shall also, thereupon fix the yearly compensation of such commissioner, which shall include and cover all the expenses of the said office; and shall also determine the amount in which such commissioner shall give bond, and the number of his sureties; and the said commissioner, before entering upon the duties of his said office, shall execute a bond to such city, in the corporate name thereof, in such amount and with such number of sureties as aforesaid, conditioned for the faithful performance of all the duties of his said office, which said bond shall be approved by the said supreme court, or justice thereof.

3. And be it enacted, That the said commissioner shall reside in the city for which he may be appointed during the whole term of office, which shall be five years, and until a successor shall be appointed: but in case of death, removal from the said city, or other disability, a successor shall be immediately appointed as aforesaid, for the term of five years, who shall give bond as aforesaid.

4. And be it enacted, That when, at any time hereafter, any city in this state shall, by resolution of the common council thereof, determine to assess a certain annual rate for the purpose mentioned in the first section of this act, not exceeding the rate therein mentioned, and shall have procured to be appointed a commissioner in the manner indicated in this act, and the said commissioner shall have given bond, and the same shall have been approved as aforesaid, such assessment shall be added to, and levied and raised with and in the same manner as the general tax levy of such city, and form a part thereof, and the money so raised shall be paid into the hands of such commissioner as, and when, and as soon as the same shall be collected by the collector of taxes (in the ratio that the amount received shall bear to the amount levied), for the purpose of establishing a sinking fund for the payment and cancellation of the bonds of such city.

5. And be it enacted, That all moneys received by such commissioner as aforesaid, shall be invested by him, as such commissioner, for the benefit of the said sinking fund, within three months after the receipt thereof:

I. In the bonds of such city, when they can be purchased at a rate satisfactory to such commissioner, and the mayor and treasurer of such city;

II. In bonds of the United States;

III. In bonds of any county of this state, when they can be purchased at a rate satisfactory to such commissioner, mayor and treasurer as aforesaid.

6. And be it enacted, That all the bonds of such city, the redemption whereof shall not be otherwise provided for, shall be redeemed, paid and cancelled by the means aforesaid, as rapidly as possible; and as soon as the same shall be paid and cancelled, all compensation to such commissioner shall cease, notwithstanding that his term of office may not have then expired.

7. And be it enacted, That such commissioner shall report in writing under his hand to the said common council, every six months, all the transactions of his said office during the preceding six months, and that the finance committee of the said common council shall, at all reasonable times, have the right to inspect the books, papers, vouchers and transactions of such commissioner's office.

8. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXIV.

A supplement to the act entitled "An act to incorporate societies for the promotion of learning," [Revision] approved April ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That, whenever any of the members of any religious denomination, church or sect in this state which has no conference, assembly, synod or other legislative meeting, desire to found any institution in this state, the object of which shall be the promotion of learning, or to conduct and maintain any such institution already founded, the present owners and managers of which shall desire the same to be so conducted and maintained, any number of such members of such denomination, church or sect, not less than nine and not exceeding twenty seven in number, shall meet at a time and place previously agreed upon, and when so met the said members, or not less than nine of them, may proceed to adopt a corporate name and to sign a certificate, which certificate shall contain a statement as to the following particulars;

I. The name and residence of each signer;

II. The name or appellation of the church, sect, or denomination with which the signers are connected;

III. The location of the institution proposed to be founded, or if already founded, a statement of that fact and its location;

IV. The general purposes of the institution;

V. The proposed name of said institution;

VI. The proposed name of the corporation;

And after the said certificate is so signed the execution thereof shall be acknowledged before some person or persons authorized by the laws of the state of New Jersey to take the acknowledgements of deeds, and after being so acknowledged shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the county wherein such institution is or is proposed to be located, for which such clerk shall be entitled to the sum of one dollar, and after being so recorded by him shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, for which such secretary shall be entitled to charge the sum of fifty cents, and thereupon the said persons so signing such certificate shall be and are hereby constituted a body corporate with powers to sue and be sued, to adopt a common seal to make by-laws for their government and regulation, and shall have all the rights and powers and be subject to all the liabilities of the corporations created by the act to which this is a supplement, so far as the same do not contravene the provisions of this act.

2. And be it enacted, That the present owners of any such institution, who shall desire the same to pass under the management and control of any corporation created under this act, may by deed or conveyance, convey the same to such corporation, who shall hold the same in accordance with the terms of such deed of conveyance.

3. And be it enacted, That for perpetuating a line of succession in said corporation whenever any vacancy shall happen by reason of the death, resignation or removal from the state of any of the members of said corporation, the remaining members may, by a majority vote of the whole number of members, elect any member of such church, sect or denomination, residing in this state, to fill the place of such member so deceased, resigned, or removed from the state.

4. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed and taken to be a public act, and shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXVI.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act concerning forcible entries and detainers," approved April sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and forty six.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That at any time after a summons has been issued according to the eighth section of the act to which this act is a supplement, and before the return thereof, either the party, plaintiff or party defendant may apply to a justice of the supreme court, who, if he shall deem the cause of sufficient importance, may issue an order under his hand directing the said justice of the peace to file forthwith the said complaint, and all the other papers appertaining to the proceedings, in the office of the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which said proceedings were commenced, and thereupon said circuit court shall have full and exclusive cognizance of the case; and said circuit court shall always be open for such purpose.

2. And be it enacted, That immediately upon such papers being filed in said clerk's office, the judge of said circuit court shall cause a venire facias for a jury to be issued returnable into said court in not more than two weeks from the time of issuing the same; and which writ shall be executed by the sheriff or other officer according to the practice of said court in like cases, and on the day of the return of said writ the case shall be tried, unless for good cause shown the said trial shall be adjourned, in which case such adjournment and all other adjournments shall be for the shortest periods practicable.

3. And be it enacted, That such notice of the trial shall be given as the said judge may direct, the parties, if they shall agree to do so, may waive a trial by jury, and submit the case to the judge on the law and facts.

4. And be it enacted, That the jurors to be summoned by virtue of said writ of venire facias, shall be such as would be qualified to serve as jurors under the act to which this is a supplement, and shall have administered to them the same oath that is required by the eleventh section of said act, and the trial of said case shall be conducted in all things in accordance with the directions of said act.

5. And be it enacted, That a judgment shall be entered on the finding of the judge or the jury, and if the same be in favor of the complainant, he shall recover treble costs, including treble of all costs incurred before the justice of the peace; and a writ of restitution shall issue to the sheriff of the county, commanding him to cause the complainant to be restored or repossessed, and to which shall be added a clause commanding said sheriff to levy said treble costs of the goods and chattels and lands of the offender, and for want thereof to take the body of such offender and him safely keep in close custody in the common jail of the county, until he shall pay the same, or be thence delivered by due course of law.

6. And be it enacted, That no writ of restitution shall be issued upon any judgment rendered in pursuance of this act until eight entire days, exclusive of Sundays, shall have elapsed after the rendition of such judgment, which writ when issued shall be returned into said circuit court within three months thereafter by the sheriff or other officer to whom the same shall have been delivered, with his proceedings thereon; if judgment be rendered for the defendant he shall have execution in like manner for his costs.

7. And be it enacted, That said circuit court shall have the same power with respect to said proceedings, and the same control over the verdict and judgment as it has in other cases within its jurisdiction, and from the judgment so entered a writ of error shall lie to the supreme court; but such writ shall not stay the execution of such judgment, unless upon an order to that effect endorsed on said writ by said circuit judge, and upon a bond with sufficient surety being given in an amount which he shall designate, conditioned to indemnify the party in whose favor said judgment was rendered against all losses and damages which he may sustain by reason of final process being stayed.

8. And be it enacted, That the same fees shall be allowed for services performed under this act as are given by the act to which it is a supplement, except that the fees of the judge and clerk of said circuit court shall be such as are or shall be allowed for like services in other cases in said court.

9. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

NEW MUSIC.

48 CHOICE PIECES For 50 CENTS.

Every number of Richardson's Musical Hours contains 12 choice pieces, by the best composers of America and Europe. This monthly is elegantly printed, has an engraved cover in two colors, and is an "ornament to any Piano." There are no advertisements scattered through the pages, but the music is entirely separate, and thus can be bound at any time into a book. The selections comprise Songs with Chorus, Ballads, Comic Songs, Waltzes, Polkas, Galops, Schottisches, Marches, Mazurkas, Nocturnes, &c., &c., all of which can be played on the Piano or Organ; in fact just the pieces you would purchase at the Music Stores for 35 or 40 cents each. Now we have sold many thousand single numbers at 25 cts. each, but in order that every player in the United States and Canadas may see the Magazine and judge of its merits, we will send it postpaid four months for only 50 Cents. Each number contains 12 35c. pieces; thus you receive 48 postpaid for only 50 cents (cash or stamps.) Eight months (96 pieces) for $1. Owing to the expensive manner in which Musical Hours is issued, we cannot afford to send "sample copies."

CAUTION!

The undersigned would caution the public against using or sinking driven wells under Nelson W. Green's patent, unless the same are put down by him, as all parties using the same otherwise put down, or sinking such wells will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, he having the exclusive right to sink driven wells in Plainfield. The following is a decision recently rendered by Judge Benedict, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Wm. D. Andrews, owner of a patent granted to Col. Nelson W. Green, for a driven well, sued Theo. A. Carman some time ago to restrain him from the use of the patent in the manufacture of a similar well. The testimony filled over one thousand pages and [illegible] in examining before Judge Benedict in Brooklyn. The patent is worth a million dollars. The well is an air-tight iron tube, driven into the ground until it reaches water-bearing strata. An air pump is screwed on the top of the tube, and the other end is of steel, made sharp and perforated. Many thousands of the wells are in use. Carman is accused of using a similar well. Counsel for the defense contended that the patent was merely a new plan of more easily reaching the water bearing strata, and could not be held patentable. Judge Benedict held that the idea of drawing water from the earth like a well pit by artificial means was new, but was not patentable, but that the method by which the idea is made available was patentable. He decided that the infringement had been clearly proved."

Would call the attention of the public to their New Styles of

PARLOR STOVES,

Of original designs, superior make and finish, with the latest improvements. Special attention is invited to the

Astral and Lagrand

as being the best of this class. Their

Parlor Heaters

are perfect in construction, easily managed and warranted to give satisfaction. Attention is also called to their different kinds of

Cooking Stoves & Ranges

Of the former, their

"Plainfield Cook,"

With heavy durable castings, and extra large oven and low price, is well worthy of inspection. Of the Ranges, their

Sunshine Hot Closet Range

has superior Cooking and Baking qualities, having a reputation equal to the best in Market. Their cheaper kinds, by name—CLARION, ALPINE, MAYFLOWER and BEAUTY, (the last can be furnished with SYMONS' celebrated grate) have been well tested and stand No. 1 with those having them in use.

They are Sole Agents for the justly celebrated

Stag's Head Double Elevated Oven

RANGE. Other elevated oven Ranges have been taken out and the Stag's Head put in on account of their superior qualities.

Smalley's Defiance Asparagus.

NEW VARIETY.

The merits and claims of the "Defiance," are as follows: It is earlier, a larger grass, softer, more tender, free from wood, the flavor sweet and very delicate, far superior to all other varieties: It will produce double that of the "Colossal" and can cut it longer. It will continue to grow larger than any other sorts. It has been tested for the past three years. I know my roots and seeds to be strictly pure, as I am the sole originator of it; shall not put any seed in the market this year, as I intend planting it myself. It is the best Asparagus grown, either for private use or for market. We would recommend it in preference to all others. Price $[illegible] per 100, and $[illegible] per 1000. No charge for boxes or packing.—Purchasers pay their express. Orders must be accompanied by a remittance, or satisfactory reference. Will be sent by express C. O. D.

ABRAHAM SMALLEY, Bound Brook, N. J.

We, the undersigned, have tested the above variety of Asparagus, and unhesitatingly recommend it as all that is claimed for it. In fact it is a marvel in the shape of this delicious vegetable:

[BY AUTHORITY.]
Laws of New Jersey.

CHAPTER CLXXII.

An act to enable municipalities to award compensation for lands taken for streets, and to assess the damages caused by improving such streets, and to provide for the assessment of such costs on lands benefited.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That where any city or village since incorporated as a city, by reason of any supposed right under its charter or from other cause has widened, regulated or graded any street without, by condemnation proceedings or otherwise, having acquired the right to take and appropriate the lands which have in fact been taken and appropriated for such purpose, or without taking lawful proceedings to ascertain and award the damages sustained by owners of real estate by reason of appropriating such lands or regulating and grading such street, it shall be lawful for the corporate authority of such city to apply to a justice of the supreme court for the appointment of three commissioners to review the proceedings had and taken for the improvement of such street.

2. And be it enacted, That the said application shall be in writing, and shall set forth the facts upon which it is founded.

3. And be it enacted, That one week's notice of the time and place, when and where the said application will be presented to the said justice, shall be published in a newspaper published and circulating in said city, and shall be served personally upon the owners of lands fronting upon the improvement who reside in said city, or by leaving the same at their residences, and by mailing the same to non-resident owners at their post office address, if known.

4. And be it enacted, That the said justice upon being satisfied that due notice of the application has been granted, and that the facts set forth in the said application are true, and that they are sufficient under the first section of this act to justify the said application, shall appoint three disinterested persons commissioners to review the said proceedings.

5. And be it enacted, That the said commissioners before they enter upon the execution of the duty required of them, shall take and subscribe an oath before some person authorized to administer the same, that they will faithfully and impartially perform the duties required of them.

6. And be it enacted, That the said commissioners shall view the premises and shall ascertain to the best of their ability the present condition of the street and its condition before it was widened, regulated or graded, and shall examine into the whole matter touching the improvement of said street, and shall ascertain what lands have been taken and appropriated for such purpose, the value thereof, the owner's name so far as practicable, the damages caused by making the improvement, the costs and expenses thereof to the date of their report, including interest, and thereupon the said commissioners shall assess the total amount of the value of lands taken, and the damages, costs and expenses so ascertained in an equitable manner upon all the lands benefited by the widening, regulating, grading and improving of said street, in proportion to the benefit received by each parcel, assessing no parcel however beyond the benefit received by it, and the excess, if any, of such cost, damages and expense shall be borne by the city at large.

7. And be it enacted, That the commissioners shall make a report of the estimate and assessment so made by them, and before proceeding to sign the same shall file it in the office of the city clerk for examination by parties interested therein, and shall give ten days' notice by publication in two newspapers published or circulated in said city that such report has been deposited as aforesaid, and also the time and place when and where the parties interested can be heard by the said commissioners; and after hearing the parties, the said commissioners shall proceed and complete the report, and sign the same and return it with all objections in writing which shall be presented to and left with them by any of the parties interested to the city council.

8. And be it enacted, That every report made as aforesaid and presented to the city council, shall be referred by them to the proper committee for consideration; and in case of any objection in writing being returned with such report, the said committee shall give ten days' notice by publication in two newspapers published or circulating in said city to the parties interested, of the time and place where and when they will meet to hear them on the objections and report; and said committee shall thereupon examine the matter and report to the city council, and return to them the said report of the said commissioners, with the objections of the parties, together with the views and opinions of the said committee respecting the said report.

9. And be it enacted, That the city council shall within thirty days thereafter examine the matter, and may correct said report, if they deem proper, and ratify the same; or they may return such report to the said commissioners who may have signed the same, and the like proceeding shall be had when the report is returned as in the first instance.

10. And be it enacted, That when the commissioners in the said report shall have made an award to any owner for land taken, or damages done or both, and have made no assessment for benefits against the same owner, in such case the full amount of the award shall be paid to such owner; but where an assessment for benefits shall have been made against such owner, only the excess of the award for land taken and damages over the assessment for benefits shall be paid to such owner; such payment shall be made by the city treasurer under the direction of the city council to the owner, if a resident in said city; but if any such owner is not resident in said city, or if upon due inquiry cannot be found therein, or is under age, or if for any other lawful causes he is incapacitated to receive the same, then the city treasurer shall make affidavit of such facts and file the same with the city clerk, and the said city council inquiring into the facts shall cause the amount to be placed at interest or good security for the use of the person for whom it may be due.

11. And be it enacted, That upon the payment of the said awards in manner aforesaid, the land so appropriated for such street shall be regarded as lawfully condemned to the public use, and the assessments for benefits, or in case of awards for lands taken and damages, the excess of such assessment over the awards, with interest at six per centum per annum from the date of the making and signing of said report by the commissioners, shall be and remain a lien upon the lands upon which they are assessed and shall be proceeded with and collected within the same time and in the same manner and under the same penalties as assessments of benefits for regulating and grading streets are directed to be collected under the present laws governing such city.

12. And be it enacted, That in case of the resignation, death, disability or refusal to act of one or more of the said commissioners, it shall be lawful for the said justice upon notice, and the case of the appointment of the original commissioners, to supply by appointment the vacancy or vacancies caused by such resignation, death, disability or refusal to act.

13. And be it enacted, That the commissioners shall be entitled to receive for the services the sum of three dollars a day each, which fees, together with any cost incurred by them for surveying, examining titles, procuring maps, shall be regarded and assessed as part of the costs of the said improvement; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall take away or affect any right to certiorari which any person may have by virtue of any proceedings hereunder.

14. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately, but it shall not apply to any city which contained more than five thousand inhabitants by the census of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLVII.

Supplement to an act entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy," approved March ninth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-seven.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That section one of the act to which this is a supplement, which reads as follows:

1. "Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That from and after the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to open or conduct any pharmacy or store for retailing, dispensing or compounding drugs or medicines, unless such person shall be or shall employ and place in charge of such pharmacy or store a registered pharmacist, within the meaning of this act; and every pharmacy or store kept open for the retailing, dispensing and compounding of medicines, shall be under the direct personal care and management of a registered pharmacist," be amended so that the same shall read as follows:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall not be lawful for any person other than a registered pharmacist to retail, compound or dispense medicines or poisons, or to open or conduct any pharmacy or store for retailing, dispensing or compounding drugs or medicines, unless such person shall be or shall employ and place in charge of said pharmacy or store a registered pharmacist, within the meaning of this act.

2. And be it enacted, That the fourth section of the act to which this is a supplement, and which reads as follows:

"4. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the board of pharmacy to examine all applications for registration, to grant certificates of registration to such persons as may be entitled to the same under the direct provisions of this act, and to such others as it shall judge on examination, to be properly qualified to practice pharmacy, to cause the prosecution of all persons violating the provisions of this act, and to report annually to the governor, on the condition of pharmacy in the state; it shall meet at least once in three months, shall elect a president, a secretary and treasurer, and shall have power to make by-laws for the proper fulfillment of its duties under this act; it shall keep a book of registration open at each county seat in the state, and shall give notice, by advertising in at least one newspaper in each county, of the time and place in said county seat, when and where such book shall be accessible and for what purpose kept," be amended so that the same shall read as follows:

4. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the board of pharmacy to examine all applications for registration: to grant certificates of registration to such persons as may be entitled to the same, under the provisions of this act, and to such others as it shall judge on examination, to be properly qualified to practice pharmacy; to cause the prosecution of all persons violating the provisions of this act, and to report, annually, to the governor, on the condition of pharmacy in the state, which said report shall embrace a detailed statement of receipts and expenditures; it shall meet at least once in three months, alternately in the cities of Paterson, Newark, Trenton and Camden; shall give thirty days' notice of the time and place of such meetings; shall elect a president, a secretary and treasurer; shall have power to make by-laws for the proper fulfillment of its duties under this act, and shall keep a book of registration in which shall be entered the names and places of business of all persons registered under this act.

3. And be it enacted, That the sixth section of the act to which this is a supplement, and which reads as follows:

"6. And be it enacted, That all persons who, subsequent to the passage of this act, shall purpose to establish a pharmacy or store within this state, for the dispensing and compounding of physicians' prescriptions, or for the retailing of medicines, shall, previous to the opening of the same to the public, appear before or apply to said board of pharmacy for registration, and if after examination by said board in its judgment qualified to practice pharmacy, each person shall, on the payment of five dollars, receive from said board a certificate of registration; provided, that nothing in this act contained, shall affect or apply to any person who holds a diploma from any regularly incorporated college or institute of pharmacy, or from a regularly chartered medical college or university," be amended so that the same shall read as follows:

6. And be it enacted, That all persons who, subsequent to the passage of this act, shall purpose to establish a pharmacy or store within this state, for the dispensing and compounding of physicians' prescriptions, or for the retailing of medicines, shall, previous to the opening of the same to the public, appear before or apply to said board of pharmacy for registration; every person so applying for registration under this act, shall, at the time of making such application, pay to the treasurer of the board of pharmacy an examination fee of five dollars, and upon passing an examination satisfactory to said board, such person shall, [illegible]

CHAPTER CLXIII.

An act to authorize cities to establish and maintain free public libraries and reading rooms.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the common council of any incorporated city of this state, shall have power to establish and maintain a public library and reading room for the use and benefit of the inhabitants of such city, and may levy a tax [illegible] on the dollar [illegible] in the city, [illegible] like manner [illegible] and to be k[illegible]

2. And be it enacted, That the common council [illegible] maintain a [illegible] this act, the [illegible] approval of [illegible] a board of nine directors for the same, chosen from the citizens at large, with reference to their fitness for such office.

3. And be it enacted, That said directors shall hold office; one-third for one year, one-third for two years, and one-third for three years, from the first day of July following their appointment; and annually thereafter the mayor of said city shall, before the first day of July of each year, appoint three directors, to take the place of the retiring directors, who shall hold office for three years and until their successors are appointed; the mayor may, by and with the consent of the common council, remove any director for misconduct or neglect of duty.

4. And be it enacted, That vacancies in the board of directors from any cause, shall be filled by the mayor, and no director shall, as such, receive any compensation.

5. And be it enacted, That said directors shall, immediately after appointment, meet and organize by the election of one of their number president, and by the election of such other officers as they may deem necessary; they shall make and adopt such by-laws, rules and regulations for their own guidance and for the government of the library and reading room as may be expedient, not inconsistent with this act; they shall have the exclusive control of the expenditure of all moneys collected to the credit of the library fund, and of the construction of any library building, and of the supervision, care and custody of the grounds, rooms or buildings constructed, leased, or set apart for that purpose; provided, that all moneys received for such library shall be deposited in the treasury of said city, to the credit of the library fund, and shall be kept separate and apart from other moneys of such city, and drawn upon by the proper officers of said city, upon the properly authenticated vouchers of the said board of directors; said board shall have power to purchase or lease grounds, to occupy, lease, or erect an appropriate building or buildings for the use of said library; shall have power to appoint a suitable librarian and necessary assistants, and fix their compensation, and shall have power to remove such appointees, and shall, in general, carry out the spirit and intent of this act in establishing and maintaining a public library and reading room.

6. And be it enacted, That every library and reading room established under this act, shall be forever free to the use of the inhabitants of the city where located, always subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as the library board may adopt, in order to render the use of said library and reading room of the greatest benefit to the greatest number; and said board may exclude from the use of said library and reading rooms any and all persons who shall wilfully violate such rules; and said board may extend the privileges and use of such library and reading room to persons residing outside of such city, in this state, upon such terms and conditions as said board may from time to time by its regulations prescribe.

7. And be it enacted, That the said board of directors shall make, on or before the second Monday in June, an annual report to the common council of said city, stating the condition of their trust on the first day of June of that year, the various sums of money received from the library fund, and from other sources and how such moneys have been expended, and for what purpose, the number of books and periodicals on hand, the number added by purchase, gift or otherwise during the year, the number lost or missing, the number of visitors attending, the number of books loaned out, and the general character and kind of such books, with such other statistics, information and suggestions as they may deem of general interest; all such portions of said report as relate to the receipt and expenditure of money shall be verified by affidavit.

8. And be it enacted, That the common council of said city shall have power to pass ordinances [illegible]

[illegible]

ordered by either branch of the legislature shall be printed on good writing paper, with plain type, each page to contain thirty-one lines; and the prices to be paid for said printing shall be as follows: for printing four thousand copies of the session laws, the sum of thirty-four dollars per sheet of sixteen pages; for printing one thousand copies of the journal of the senate with the minutes of the joint meetings, and [illegible] copies of the minutes of the house of assembly, the sum of twenty dollars per sheet of sixteen pages; [illegible] annual reports of state officers to the legislature.

13. And be it enacted, That Benedict Prieth, of the city of Newark, be employed to print the usual number of the agricultural reports, geological reports, report of labor statistics, board of health, and such other reports as may be ordered printed in German during the current year.

14. And be it enacted, That Sinnickson Chew, of the city of Camden, county of Camden, be employed to print the report of the state treasurer, report of the board of health, and report of the state board of education.

15. And be it enacted, That it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to deliver or cause to be delivered to the person or persons who shall be employed to print the copies of the laws, a copy of every law passed at this session of the legislature within thirty days after the passage of each law, and on failure thereof shall be compelled to pay to the person or persons employed to print the copies of the laws, any sum which he or they may have forfeited by reason of such default.

16. And be it enacted, That all acts or parts of acts conflicting with the provisions of this act, be and are hereby repealed.

17. And be it enacted, That this act shall take effect immediately.

Approved March 14, 1879.

CHAPTER CLXXV.

A supplement to an act entitled "An act to provide for the assessment and payment of the costs and expenses incurred in constructing sewers, and making other improvements in townships and villages," approved March twelfth, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight.

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That the thirteenth section of the act to which this is a supplement, which reads as follows:

"13. And be it enacted, That for the purpose of paying the costs, damages and expenses of constructing any sewer, or laying out, opening, widening or otherwise improving any street or avenue, the assessment for which is provided for in this act, and all other expenses, incident thereto, and the interest upon such expenses, the said board of commissioners is hereby authorized to issue bonds in the name of such board of commissioners, and pledging for the redemption thereof the faith and credit of said board of commissioners bearing interest at such rate as the said board of commissioners can dispose of said bonds at not exceeding legal interest, which bonds shall be made payable at such time or times as the said board of commissioners may at the time of issuing the same determine, not over fifteen years from the date of issuing the same, but so issued that an equal portion of the same shall become and be due and payable in each year after two years from the date of said bonds; said bonds shall be issued in such sums as the said board of commissioners may determine, not exceeding in the aggregate the amount of the assessment as found by the commissioners to be appointed by the court as aforesaid, together with all the expenses incident to said assessment, and the costs incurred, (if any), in setting aside the original assessment, and may be disposed of by the said board of commissioners, from time to time, as may be necessary, at the highest rate for which they can dispose of the same; said bonds shall be issued under the seal of the said board of commissioners, and be signed by the president or other head officer, and treasurer of such board of commissioners, and shall specify the purpose for which the same are issued, and shall be a lien upon the real estate within the limits of the authority of said board of commissioners as well as the property of the said board of commissioners," be and the same is hereby amended so that the said section shall read:

1. Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey, That any two insurance corporations, organized under any law of this state, are hereby authorized to merge in manner following: the directors of any two such corporations may enter into and make an agreement under their respective corporate seals for the merger of one of said companies into the other of them, prescribing the terms and conditions thereof, the mode of carrying the same into effect, the amount of capital and number of shares of the stock into which the same is to be divided, (which capital shall not be larger in amount than the aggregate amount of capital of the two companies), with such other particulars as they may deem necessary, not inconsistent with the provisions of the said last named act, and the acts amending and extending the same, and which agreement shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner of insurance.

2. And be it enacted, That such agreement of the directors shall not be deemed to be the agreement of the said corporations so proposing to merge one into the other, until the assent of one-half of the stockholders owning two-thirds of the stock of each of said companies so proposing to become merged into one, be obtained; and when such agreement of the directors has been sanctioned and approved by one-half of the stockholders of each of said companies, owners of two-thirds of the stock thereof, in the manner hereinafter prescribed, then such agreement of the directors shall be deemed to be the agreement of the said corporations, and such assent in writing, or a duplicate thereof attached to the said agreement, shall be the evidence of the assent of such stockholders.

3. And be it enacted, That upon the making, sanctioning and approving of the said agreement in the preceding sections mentioned in the manner therein required, and the filing of the duplicates or counterparts thereof, and of the assent in writing mentioned in the preceding section, with the approval of said commissioner, in the office of the clerk of the county where the principal office of the said corporation is located, and in the office of the commissioner of insurance, then and immediately thereafter the said corporations shall be merged in the corporation provided for in the said agreement, and the details of such agreement shall be carried into effect as provided therein; and it shall be lawful for said corporation to require the return of the original certificates of stock held by each stockholder in each of the companies, and in lieu thereof to issue new certificates for such number of shares of its own stock as the said stockholders may be entitled to receive.

4. And be it enacted, That upon the merger of any corporation in the manner herein provided, all and singular, the rights, franchises and interests of the said corporation so merged, in and to every species of property, real, personal and mixed, and things in action thereunto belonging, shall be deemed to be transferred to and vested in such corporation as the other of them has become merged without any other deed or transfer; and said last named corporation shall hold and enjoy the same, and all the rights of property, franchises and interest in the same manner and to the same extent as if the said corporation so merged should have continued to retain the title and transact the business of such corporation; and the title and real estate acquired by the said corporations so merged shall not be deemed to revert by means of such merger or anything relating thereto.

5. And be it enacted, That the rights of creditors of any corporation that shall be so merged shall not in any manner be impaired, by any such merger, nor shall any liability or obligation for the payment of any money now due or hereafter to become due to any person or persons, or any claims or demand in any manner, or for any cause existing against any such corporation or against [illegible]

RIGHTS OF STATE AND PEOPLE.

The plainly marked difference between the Democratic party and its more violent opponents, remains to be as it was when Federalism sought to curtail popular rights by concentrating absolute power in the hands of a favored few. We use the term "more violent opponents," because we well know there are thousands of political Republicans who do not believe in the iron rule of Imperialism, so artfully disguised and yet so earnestly sustained by the Grant leaders of the present day.

The true theory of our system of National Government, and its only sure guarantee of preservation, is that it derives vitality from powers specifically granted by the Constitution, a written compact, entered into as a bond of union by the States for their united national protection and equal welfare, and that so far as such delegated authority extends, the Government thereby created is supreme, but beyond that clearly defined limit, all powers and privileges abide with and belong exclusively to the respective States and the people thereof.

That is the Constitution of the United States, and the combined sophistry of all the Chandlers, Blaines and Conklings in existence cannot change its meaning or effect.

That is also a fundamental doctrine of the Democratic party, ably maintained by Jefferson and Madison in the early councils of the Republic, and resolutely defended by Bayard and Thurman in those of to-day.

And furthermore, that constitutes the only foundation on which the American Union could possibly have been reared.

In antagonism to the safeguards thus wisely thrown around free government by its founders in this country, there has, from the time of John Adams and Alexander Hamilton down to the present, existed a purpose to undermine and finally destroy its life giving principle, by filching from the States, and consequently from the People, their just rights and centralizing unchecked power in the General Government, or, as is really meant, in the hands of a President and his immediate followers to be used as their tyrannical and corrupt will may decree.

That was Federalism eighty years ago.

Its spirit now lives under another political name.

It is the same old foe of loyalty to organic law and of personal freedom, and would, if it could, make civil liberty a record of the past.

The Democracy have before successfully battled against it and they will do so again.

There is no safety outside of implicit obedience to the Constitution, both as regards its limitations and its authorities. Beyond that the highway is open to despotism.

THE NEW RAILROAD LEASE.

The buying up of the North Penn and the Bound Brook Railroads, last week, is explained by the following circular, issued by President Gowan:

The Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company this day takes possession as lessees of the railroads, rolling stock, real estate property, plant and traffic of the North Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Delaware and Bound Brook Railroad Company.

The general manager, chief engineer, general freight agent, treasurer and comptroller will at once assume charge of such portions and details of the property and traffic of the said two companies as pertain to their respective departments.

The Philadelphia Times of Thursday last makes matters clearer by saying that "the North Penn part of the lease extends from Philadelphia to Bethlehem some fifty-four miles. The compact also includes all the lateral roads of the North Penn, including the Stony Creek and the North East Penn, also the Delaware and Bound Brook, which is the central link in the road between Philadelphia and New York, in competition with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. It starts from Jenkintown, about ten miles from Philadelphia, on the North Penn, and runs for thirty-one miles, connecting with the Central Railroad of New Jersey, making the connection with New York. The lease was signed in Philadelphia on Wednesday and in Trenton for the term of nine hundred and ninety years. This includes the whole life-existence of the Bound Brook Road. The Reading agrees to pay six per cent. for the next two years on the stock of both companies and assumes their mortgage debts, seven per cent. for the third and fourth years and eight per cent. for all subsequent years. Mr. Gowan by this arrangements cuts off the Lehigh Valley from the Philadelphia market, opens up for himself the Philadelphia and New York markets, and is not forced to prorate with other companies to reach New York. He secures passenger travel for a through line from New York to Ninth and Green, and opens up a shorter and more direct route for the grain shipments from the West, fed by the New York Central and Erie connections, which, within the last few month, have been forced on the roundabout way of the Perkiomen route. The Bound Brook has a capital stock of $1,500,000 and a bonded indebtedness of the same amount. The North Penn has a capital stock of $4,500,000 and a bonded indebtedness of $6,000,000.

The project for a submarine cable from some point on the California coast to the Hawaiian Islands, and thence to Japan, has taken definite shape. A subscription paper has been opened, and CYRUS W. FIELD's name heads the list with $100,000. It is expected that the Hawaiian Government will subscribe $1,000,000, and that the balance of the money necessary can easily be raised in London, Paris, New York and other financial centres. Such a line would complete the direct circuit of the globe, and would command business enough to make it fairly profitable at the outset.

THE SPECIAL TAX COMMISSION.

This Commission has issued the following circular. Communications should be addressed to the Commission at New Brunswick:

The law passed by the Legislature at its last session, authorizing the appointment by the Governor of a Special Tax Commission, prescribes its duties as follows:

"That the said Commission shall make a full and thorough investigation of the manner in which the different kinds of property, and the various industries and occupations of the people of the State are affected by existing laws relating to taxation, together with any defects, discrepancies or irregularities in such laws."

The Commission is also required to advise such changes and improvements in the laws relating to taxation, "as to them shall seem most likely to promote the agricultural, commercial, manufacturing and other interests of the people of the State."

It will at once be seen that the duty imposed upon the Commission is one of the greatest difficulty and delicacy. It affects the interests of every citizen of the State, and presents questions for consideration which can be properly solved only by the combined wisdom and judgment of those who have had practical experience of the working of our present laws, or have devoted special attention to the subject.

In order that the investigations of the Commission may be as thorough and comprehensive as possible, they will welcome information or suggestions from every person who is willing to offer either in writing. The points to which they desire to call special attention, as indicated in the law authorizing their appointment, are the following:

1. The manner in which different kinds or forms of property are affected by existing tax laws.
2. The manner in which different industries or occupations are affected by existing tax laws.
3. Any defects, discrepancies, or irregularities in such laws.
4. What changes in the tax laws are needed—as respects, for example (a) the things to be taxed or exempted from taxation; (b) the rate of taxation; (c) the time or mode of assessment or collection.

Any communcication which you may make, or induce others to make upon these or kindred topics, will be thankfully received and properly considered. We desire especially to obtain the results of official experience, or of special investigations.

JUDGE PACKER'S FUNERAL.

Judge Packer's funeral occurred at Mauch Chunk, on Tuesday last, at 2, P. M. The attendance, from home and abroad, was very large. Business was suspended and every possible respect was paid. Special trains ran from Philadelphia and New York, conveying distinguished persons.

A special train on the New Jersey Central Railroad at 10 o'clock in the morning for Mauch Chunk to convey friends to the funeral. A connection was made with a similar train leaving Easton, Pa., at 11:30, A. M. The train passed through this city at about 10:45 o'clock, and contained a large number of gentlemen interested in railroad and coal matters. Included in the number was Receiver Lathrop of the Central Road.

That New Jersey justice has no loop-hole through which criminals can crawl has again been illustrated.—In the Warren county courts, on Saturday last, Chief Justice Beasley sentenced ex-Senator Cornish to State prison for one year, the crime being for some irregularities in connection with the Board of Freeholders. Both the Justice and the accused were of the same political faith. A strenuous effort was made to release the ex-Senator from the sentence imposed and have a heavy fine substituted, but it was of no avail. Sweeney, ex-Chief of Police of Phillipsburg, at one time a member of the Board of Freeholders, also received sentence of a year.—Three other cases remain to be tried, and they have been carried to the Supreme Court on a writ of certiorari.

The New York Legislature has passed a bill reducing the legal rate of interest in that State to six per cent. This will allay the apprehensions that may have been excited by the arguments that if the Legislature of this State reduced the rate all the money would flow into New York. The farmers of that State had no idea of paying seven per cent. any longer, and it is through their influence that the bill has been passed. Six per cent. is now the rate in the three contiguous States of New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

There is a probability that the obnoxious blue laws of New Jersey will be enforced at Long Branch on Sunday next. On the complaint of a saloon keeper of the place a Jewish fruit dealer was compelled to close his place last Sunday, and now the latter says he will swear out warrants against any and all persons whom he sees next Sunday engaged in any business whatever, and one of the justices says he will receive all his complaints.

Inducing thousands of the colored people to migrate from the South, and thus bringing them to the point of starvation is even meaner on the part of Republican politicians than was the inducing of thousands of the same people to put their savings into the Freedman's Bureau Banks, and then stealing it all away from them. How long will these Republican leaders play these shameful tricks on their ignorant colored dupes?

Hon. Charles B. Moore, who was recently elected Supervisor of the New Jersey State Prison on Tuesday filed his official bond in the sum of $25,000. The sureties are Charles B. Moore, Alexander Bayles, Isaac Bastedo, Roger O. Kane, Charles B. Robinson, William G. Bayles and Alexander Gulick. Governor McClellan approved the bond and signed Mr. Moore's commission.

A bill is now before the House Committee on Post Offices which proposes to establish branch dead letter offices in the principal commercial cities, and thus prevent the great waste of time so often incurred now by sending mail matter all the way from the remotest corner of the country to Washington before it can be opened and returned to the writer. England has over a hundred such branch offices.

The evidence for the defense in the Smith murder trial was closed at Jersey City on Tuesday last after a long examination of Covert D. Bennett, one of the prisoners. He admitted a criminal intimacy between himself and Mrs. Smith, who is accused with him of the murder of her husband. He asserted that he was in Williamsburgh at the time of the murder and that he had no part in the crime. The prosecution tried to compel one of the counsel for the defence to testify about statements made to him.

John De Chandeau, the French barber who claimed to be an heir to a fortune of $1,400,000, was Tuesday sentenced by Judge Davis of Jersey City, to the county penitentiary for three months for disorderly conduct. Two women from New York called at the Police Court in Jersey City and claimed that he agreed to marry one of them, and then defrauded her out of nearly $100.

With reference to recently published statements that the officials of the Senate are removing wounded Union soldiers, it appears that there are but five such. These are Messrs. Bunnell, Wilson, Ball and Merritt, messengers, and Richards, in the stationery room, all of whom are retained, though all of them are Republicans.—This is the official report.

Ex-State Senator Joseph H. Cornish, who was convicted last week in the Warren County Courts of conspiring to defraud the county of $10,000, was on Saturday sentenced by Judge Beasley to one year at hard labor in State Prison. J. H. Sweeney, ex-Chief of Police of the town of Phillipsburgh, convicted of altering a county bill, was also sentenced to one year.

Willie Fuhs, a young lad six years of age was shot in the right breast on Thursday of last week, in in his father's back yard at Rahway and dangerously wounded. The shot came from a small Smith & Wesson targett rifle, in the hands of either Joseph Lamberti, Eddie Marsh or Walter Hall, who were practicing with it in an adjoining yard.

Mad Dogs.

MESSRS EDITORS:

The citizens of Plainfield no doubt suppose they still have legal protection, now the days of dreaded hydrophobia are at hand, against the running at large of unmuzzled curs, but the fact is, by a strange act of the last Common Council, the entire law regarding dogs was repealed and the lives of the people thereby placed in peril.

Investigation into the matter reveals the following extraordinary proceedings:

On the 14th of May, 1878, the Common Council adopted an Ordinance entitled "an Ordinance to Protect the Streets and Sidewalks, and other Protection."

It certainly was an astonishing freak of legislative genius that invented a law to protect protection. Let us see how it aimed to do the work.

Sections 1 and 2 of said Ordinance refers to turf, stones, sand, clay, &c., in streets and on sidewalks. So far all right.

Section 3 provides that all surveying shall be done by contract.

Very well. That has some bearing on streets, but the next and final section declares "that sections 26th, 27th and 28th of an Ordinance entitled 'an Ordinance relating to the Morals, Peace and Good Order of the City of Plainfield,'" approved April 23rd, 1874, be and the same are hereby repealed.

There comes in the animal, as those repealed sections conferred the whole authority of law to prevent unmuzzled dogs running at large between the first of May and first of October in each year.

The query properly arises what had dogs to do with an Ordinance regulating the material of streets and sidewalks, and if mad dogs were especial favorites with the then Council, why was not the dog prohibition openly and honestly repealed, under an Ordinance truthfully entitled, instead of being smuggled through in the unjustifiable manner the record proves.

In artfully protecting protection the Council of 1878 left the men, women and children of Plainfield utterly unprotected against snapping and biting rabid dogs.

Was it a blunder or design?

A thousand times better that every dog in the city were killed than that there should occur a single horrid case of hydrophobia.

We hope the present Council will remedy the evil, and give us protection against, not free trade in canine madness.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., MAY 21, 1879.

To the Firemen of Plainfield:

GENTLEMEN.—On the night when Franse Hetfield's barn was burned, I made some very hasty and severe remarks, because the driven well at the corner of Sixth and Washington Sts. was not used, as it was so near and had always furnished plenty of water. I have seen the well worked since, and am satisfied it does not afford us any protection on account of the very limited supply of water. I take this, the first public opportunity, to say that I was wrong and would have taken the same course you did if I had been in command of an engine.

Yours truly,
J. NEWTON JENKINS.

WESTFIELD, N. J., MAY 21, 1879.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

I see by your last issue, that you are informed of the formation of a Game and Fish Protective Society in our town, but as you can not be aware of the great interest which has been developed in the matter, it occurred to me that a few words bearing on this subject might be of interest to your readers. It has been a notorious fact for years that this section of the State has almost constantly been over-run by Pot-Hunters and Poachers from New York, Newark and Elizabeth, not to speak of a few of this class of vermin who are squatting in this and Fanwood Township. There are in this and the Township just referred to, several parties who shoot for market, who shoot woodcock, quail, partridge, rabbits &c., in broad defiance of the laws made for their protection in the breeding season, until the total extinction of game seemed only a question of a very short time, unless some concerted movement was made for its protection. The gentlemen who conceived and organized the Westfield Society, would have been pleased to connect themselves with your Plainfield Society, had it not seemed almost impossible to awaken local interest by such a course. That the course we have pursued was the wisest one, now admits of no doubt. We have already received more applications for membership than we had charter members, and the public interest in the movement is daily augmenting. Every taxpayer, every owner of real estate, every farmer has a deep interest in this matter, and if the purposes and powers of the organization are but properly presented to them, we shall soon count our membership by hundreds. Our farmers are, if possible, more deeply interested than any other class, for the reason that membership in this Society clothes each person with all the powers of a State Constable in the enforcement of the Game Laws; and those who have for years complained of trespassing, fences broken down, damage to trees and shrubbery, can now protect themselves, for they can rest assured that all or nearly all the injury they complain of are done by Pot-Hunters, &c., before referred to. Our laws are very stringent; all that was wanted was an organized movement for their proper enforcement. For this purpose we have organized, and we say to those who have made defiance of the law their boast, "Beware!" we shall enforce them without fear or favor.

ENJOY LIFE.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means for enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worried out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint is the direct cause of seventy-five per cent of such maladies as Billiousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it.

Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine,

Is eminently a Family Medicine; and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.

After over Forty Years trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent physicians commend it for all diseases of the Liver.

AS AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC

Opinion of the Clergy.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure. If any of our fellow beings are suffering from hepatic disorders and have doubts in relation to the efficacy of this popular preparation, we can only offer them the simple and candid argument of Philip to Nathaniel. "Come and see." Try the proposed remedy and then you can judge for yourselves. Rev. David Wills, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Macon, Ga.

TAKE
SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR.

THE SYMPTOMS of liver complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side.—Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for Rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, Debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them, but the liver is generally the organ most involved.

IN MEMORIAM.

Softly, the weary, patient hands
Fold on the pulseless breast;
Smooth up the brow the silver bands—
Our mother is at rest.

To-day let us all remember
Her many kindly deeds;
How with loving hands and tender,
She has helped us in our needs.

And so in the last sad duty,
Our affection was shown;
And earth in summer beauty,
Shall take her to its breast.

Through our tears, we'll see the smile [illegible]
Of His presence to His own,
And beyond the clouds the sun glow
Where she finds at last her home.

Middlesex and Union Counties Agricultural Association.

By a recent act of the Legislature, the par value of the shares of this Association having been reduced to ten dollars, a sufficient number additional will be issued to defray the expense of improvements contemplated in the erection of buildings, etc., and for establishing annual Fairs for the Counties of Middlesex and Union.

The Grounds are situated on Park Avenue, at Avon Park.

All who are interested in making the proposed enterprise successful are invited to subscribe.

No call for money will be made until 500 shares are subscribed, when a meeting will be called to elect a new Board of Directors.

This is a matter of interest to all the citizens of the two counties, and in order to insure a successful inauguration of a Fair in October the necessary number of shares should be taken promptly.

The greatest bargains in ribbons at Bachman's. 2000 yards of remnants, all colors and widths at less than wholesale prices.

The tickets for the Grand Picnic to be held at Vail's Spring Grove, by the Saenger Bund, June 16th, are going off rapidly.

Business men requiring a unique and attractive style of business card, should call at our office and look at samples. Only $1,25 per thousand.

Neilson's Cornet Band, and members of the Saenger Bund paid a visit to Washington Rock on Tuesday evening last, and had a most enjoyable time.

The Public School Reception will take place the last week in June. Among other notables it is expected that Gov. McClellan will be present on the occasion.

A Grand Concert will be given by the members of the Congregational church, in their church edifice June 5th, at which artists of well-known repute will participate.

Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival in the store building on Front Street, formerly occupied by O. Runyon, under the auspices of the ladies of the Congregational Sunday School, this Friday evening.

We hope in our next issue, to announce that the Board of Health have gone to work in earnest, and rid certain sections in our city of existing nuisances which are dangerous to the health of its inhabitants.

We found on our desk yesterday morning a jar of pickled clams, of friend A. Benedict's famous pickling. The delicious bivalves may always be found at the Avon Park House, of which Mr. B. is proprietor.

The A. O. H. Emerald, is the name of a new paper just started at Springfield Ill., by Jas. E. Dunn, editor and proprietor. It is devoted to the advancement of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. It is a handsome and readable sheet.

If Mr. A. DeBand will read the ordinance bearing on the subject, he will ascertain that the limits prescribed in it prohibiting the erection of wooden buildings, does not extend to his locality, therefore there was no need to apply to Council for a permit.

Why is it our "non-partizan" Council refuses to grant permission to residents on Park avenue to erect wooden awnings over the sidewalk in front of their places of business, after granting the same privilege to Front street merchants. Blunder No. 3,069.

You may do a man 99 favors through a newspaper, and he never thinks of thanking you for it, but just tread on his corns once, especially where he is to blame himself, and he will blackguard you to the seventh generation. Such is newspaper experience.

Among other improvements being made about Netherwood Hotel, which will be formally opened June 21, is the construction of a fine ten-pin alley in the rear of the hotel, and situated some 100 feet from the structure. Shepherd, Johnson & Godown are building it.

Miss Hattie T. Smith, of this place, is gaining for herself laurels as a teacher of Elocution. The lady has now several pupils under her charge at Westfield, and has given the greatest satisfaction. We extend to the young lady our heartiest congratulations upon her success.

The time appointed now by the Adventists, when this wicked world is to come to an end, is July 11th. That will give us another 4th of July celebration, but the ice men are despondent in the consequent loss of a part of the ice crop. Some of them should take it with them. They will need it.

Another law office has been opened in Plainfield. This time it is Walter E. Hetfield, Esq., who has taken rooms in Stelle & White's building corner of Park Ave. and Front Street. Parties who fall into the canal up Front Street, and want damages from the city, should call on him for counsel.

A large pot of tar was found on Wednesday, resting on top of a pile of wood thrown through a side window of the Second street engine house to the cellar below, the wood reaching to the sill of the window. How easy to topple over the tar and throw a lighted match on it. Do the devils mean to fire public buildings?

The "Dog Ordinance," providing for the impounding of all dogs found running at large in the public streets, was repealed by the last Council, therefore curs and mad dogs are at liberty to roam our streets without fear of strychnine from the hands of the "dog pounder." We doubt whether it was wise to repeal the ordinance.

Because the swinging sign in front of Prof. Smith's Tonsorial establishment in Flagg's building, North avenue, reads, "Bath's," it is no "sign" that you cannot get a first class bath inside. "Dave" always had a penchant for the apostrophe. However, you may have the pleasure of a hot or cold bath, with clean and fresh towels at a small cost, by visiting Prof. Smith.

Gov. McClellan on Tuesday last, signed commissions for the following as officers of the N. J. N. G.: Isaac J. Wardell, Assistant Inspector of Rifle Practice with the rank of Lieut. Col.; Andrew Anderson, Captain and Judge Advocate, Fourth Regiment, infantry. At the same time special order No. 12, was issued from the office of the Adjutant General granting Col. Frederick A. De Mott, Judge Advocate General of the National Guard, a four months' absence, for the purpose of visiting Europe.

About 209 shares of the stock of the Union & Middlesex Counties' Agricultural Association have been thus far taken toward the object of holding a Fair on the Association's grounds the coming Fall, and 800 shares are required. We learn that there is every prospect of the project proving a success. It certainly ought to, and would be a grand thing for Plainfield. Mr. John Bishop, of Bound Brook, has been appointed an agent for the solicitation of subscriptions and is actively engaged in the work. A list may also be found at The Constitutionalist office.

Parties seeking a quiet and healthful place to spend a few days, weeks or the summer, cannot do better than to stop with Mr. Henry Abbott, at the Lake House, Spring Lake, N. J., which is situated a short distance below Long Branch, and is a most delightful spot. Mr. Abbott is a gentleman who thoroughly understands the knack of making his guests feel at home. The cuisine department is most admirably managed, and the terms of board reasonable. His card will be found in another column, and we speak from experience in inditing the above.

Messrs. Taylor & Bloodgood, felt manufacturers, between Cranford and Rahway, contemplate building a spur road from their factory connecting either with the Central Railroad at Cranford or the Pennsylvania at Rahway, either distance being about one and a half miles, for the purpose of transporting their goods over the rails to the main line. The Pennsylvania Co. are anxious for the connection, but the firm desire to connect with the Central. They propose to grade the road and build it at their own expense if the Company furnish cost of rails and ties. Their freight bills are heavy in the course of a year. We hope they may make terms with the Central.

We this week conclude the publication of the Laws of New Jersey.

Receiver's sale of a lot of notes, checks, &c., of the late firm of Codington, McNabb & Co., at the Mansion House, this city, on Saturday next, by John R. Emery, Receiver.

The Would-Be Glee Club, will hold their annual Reunion at Washington Rock on Decoration Day, May 30th. Prof. Frazee will furnish the music. A large number of invitations have been sent out.

And now some members of the Council want to spend $50 to find out how pure the water is in our city. Better by far see that some of the pest spots existing in the heart of the city are obliterated. There are plenty of them. That $50 would also help give us a little light.

Stelle Manning, a resident of Perth Amboy, and well known to many of our citizens, died suddenly at his residence in the above city, on Wednesday evening last. He represented a large amount of property in this city and North Plainfield. Messrs. Suydam & Jackson, attorneys, inform us he was their first client when they located in this city.

To Merchants.

We are printing business cards from $1 per thousand and upwards.

Fast Time.

The special train conveying friends and officials to the funeral of Judge Asa Packer, at Mauch Chunk, last Monday, made the quick time of 53 minutes between New York and Somerville, three stops being made on the trip.

Y. M. C. A. Reception.

The next Y. M. C. A. Monthly Reception, the last of the season, will take place on Thursday evening, May 29, at 8 o'clock, in Vandeventer Hall on Front St., near Park Ave. An attractive programme is announced, and will consist of Readings by Miss Mary L. Runyon, and music by Miss Laura C. Fiske, pianist, and Mr. W. W. Howland, bass. The price of admission to this entertainment will be 15 cents. Tickets for sale at the door.

Editorial Excursion.

It has been determined that the Editorial Association of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York, with their guests, shall proceed to Cape May on Tuesday, the 24th of June, and to remain there until the Saturday or Monday following; the programme of festivities is, of course, not definitely arranged, but it will include an editorial dinner, a hop and an evening of Pinafore, besides fishing, numerous excursions, etc., and a good time generally.

Important Decision.

The Chancellor of the State, on Tuesday rendered an important decision in the case of the Dime Saving's Institution of Plainfield vs. estate of Mrs. B. T. Mulford, brought to foreclose a mortgage of $5,000. Wm. B. Maxson appeared for the defendant, and contended that usury had been exacted in the demand of 5 per cent bonus in making the loan. The Chancellor decided that such was the case, and that the Bank should forfeit the two years back interest, the $250 bonus and pay costs of the foreclosure suit.

Amicable Settlement.

In the Union County Courts last week, the slander case of Conklin vs Pearson, of this city, came up, and the matter was amicably settled by the plaintiff requesting the defendant to sign a paper in which it stated that she, the defendant, did not in any way intend to reflect upon the honorable dealing of the plaintiff in her business, but denied that she used any language which, in her judgment, was capable of being so understood. If it had been so construed, she would willingly withdraw the same. The document was signed and the case dismissed.

The "Warren's" Ahead.

The first excursion of the season from Plainfield thus far announced, is that of "Warren Engine Co. No. 3," who propose to go up the Hudson as far as Iona Island, on the 17th of July. Foreman Kesselring on Monday chartered the requisite number of cars and the splendid steamboat "Laura M. Starin," to carry the excursionists. A large barge will be attached to the steamer for dancing purposes. The Tickets will probably be $1. The "Warrens" always furnish an enjoyable time when they give an excursion or pic-nic.

Fire Bugs at it Again.

Last week workmen cleaned up all the loose straw, hay, and other material about the outside of the barn on the premises of Mr. Stetz, on Union avenue. Saturday morning, it was found that a quantity of loose straw had been stuffed under the barn, brush piled up along side of it, and straw so arranged as to touch a match to it. The heavy rain of the night before must have dampened the straw so as to make it impossible to ignite. Should one of these fiends be detected in the act of firing a premises, don't hesitate to make a lead mine of him.

Gone to the Adirondacks.

Mr. W. K. McClure, one of our citizens, started on Wednesday last for the Adirondack region, to take charge for the season, of the "Tupper Lake House." With him went a half dozen of our mechanics who will build an extension to the hotel. This house is situated in a most delightful part of the above above region, and we learn that several of our citizens contemplate making it their headquarters the present summer, when they shall leave their labors for recreation. We commend them to "Mac's" care, who will see that their every want is attended to.

Pinafore.

Decidedly the "hit" of all the numerous representations of Pinafore with which New York has been deluged, is the children's Pinafore, at the Lyceum Theatre, cor. of 14th street and 6th avenue. Every afternoon at 2 o'clock, matinees are held and on Saturday at 11 o'clock. The New York press speak in the highest terms of it, and praise in unlimited terms the efforts of the little ones. The stage setting is the finest yet seen, and altogether it is an excellent entertainment. Plainfield people, who have not yet pinafored, certainly can see no better representation, even by an adult company, than by visiting the matinees at the Lyceum.

Plainfield's Fast Horses.

Almost any pleasant day it is an enjoyable sight to sit on the broad veranda of Dean's Club House, on Park avenue, and witness the trials of speed over the race course adjacent between fast horses owned by gentlemen residing in and about our city. There is Mr Zimmerman who beat (?) Mr. Smith of Netherwood with his very fast sorrel horse "George." Mr. Wm. Darling exercises his new team, a bay and sorrel, who drive very fine together and make excellent time. Mr. Nate Robins, of Metuchen, drives his handsome bay (just off the circuit, so Dean says). R. S. Little with his favorite "Duke," a fine stepper, John Coandler with "Cheerful," friend Cadmus with bay horse "Charlie," E. P. Thorn, with his "Pet," and many others, owners of fast horses. Mr. E. A. Campbell's fine blooded stallion "Knox Chief," from the stables of Billy Dean, gives an exhibition of his splendid trotting qualities. From Holly Grove farm to the county line, past the Club House, the road has been put in almost as good condition as old Harlem Lane, through the efforts of mine host Dean, and there are frequent trials of speed also over this thoroughfare. There are many other horses of promise exercised here, mention of which we shall make in future issues.

The Lost Found.

We last week mentioned the fact that a sum of money was found on one of our public thoroughfares. On Wednesday last a claimant appeared for and claimed the same, it being the property of Miss Mary L. Hotchkiss, who resides on Front St., above Richmond. It seems that Miss H., who is afflicted with deafness, and in consequence carries an ear trumpet with her, had drawn the amount found, $16, from the bank on Monday morning, and stuffed it in a small old-fashioned purse. Having some business at Robert's Livery Stable, she drove up to the Park Avenue side of the stables, and to facilitate conversation made use of her ear trumpet. In her endeavors to draw the same from a side pocket, the money must have been pulled out and fallen to the ground, as she experienced difficulty in disentangling the instrument from her purse. On Tuesday she missed the money, and on making inquiries at Mr. Varian's store, where she had made purchases after drawing the money from the bank, she learned of the finding of the amount stated above. Abraham Frazee, a colored man in the employ of Harry & Thorn, found $4, ex Freeholder Wm. G. Ayres, $8, and Mr. Brown, a colored barber on Park Avenue the other $5. Miss Hotchkiss will receive the whole amount back from the finders.

Amos Packard, a minister of the Society of Friends, to whose thoughtful words a large assemblage listened to in the Friend's Meeting House, on Peace street, yesterday, (Thursday) morning, desires an appointed meeting at the same place this (Friday) evening at half past seven o'clock. All are cordially invited to attend.

Mayor Harper refuses to sign as correct the bills of $60, for special services in collection of taxes, ordered by last Council, or the bill of $194.75, presented to present Council by Committee appointed to go to Trenton and lobby through a general law. He will send a communication to Council at its next regular meeting giving his reasons therefor. In the face of the state of darkness now existing in our city, we think His Honor is right in refusing to allow such bills to be paid out of the Treasury. Give us light.

The Oratorio Concert.

We know not for certain whether the Plainfield Vocal Society is in league with Old Probabilities, but it really did look very suspicious when, after threatening rain for four or five days, the old gent kindly suspended operations until "Athalie" with her attendants were out of the way. An event much talked of, much expected, was the first Oratorio to which Plainfield has listened for eight years. Now that it has become the property of the past, we can congratulate ourselves upon its success in all its entirety, for in no concert which this Society has yet given has so much solid work and real effort been put forth as for this one. But the telling effect of hard work was plainly evident. The services of Mrs. Mary L. Swift, and Miss S. L. Tooker, Soprano, Miss Emma Wilkinson, Contralto, and Mr. Chas. Roberts, Jr., Elocutionist, had been secured, which alone was a guarantee of excellence. The first part of the programme was devoted to Glees, Part Songs and Solos. The chorus, "Spring's Message," by Gade, the most difficult selection of the first part, was rendered doubly effective by the orchestral accompaniment. Miss Wilkinson was particularly successful with her solo—"She wears a Rose in her Hair," and in response to an encore sang—"Always the same, Darby, my own." Mrs. Swift, by her admirably sustained high note at the end of her solo, awakened most enthusiastic encoring, and then kindly sang—"As he's nothing else to do." Of course the general interest centered in "Athalie," and with no delay between the parts, worthy of mention, the orchestra began the overture. Promptly upon the signal of the Conductor the Society rose and with a burst, sang the opening chorus, "Heaven and Earth Display." With no break in the time, every solo, chorus, semi chorus and reading was taken up in turn, making the rendering of the different numbers one complete whole, so perfect in regard to time, so feelingly sung and so precise in technical difficulties. "Athalie" has been termed by enthusiasts, the finest of Mendelssohn's works, and certainly the rendering of the piece last Thursday would warrant the assumption. But just here the query suggests itself: "How much better would it have sounded had it been in a larger building?" Indeed the only fault that could be found with it was the smallness of the room, there being decidedly too much music for the building. The Society is to be congratulated upon the happy selections of its assistants, the soloists and reader, who are acknowledged as fine as the best. A select chorus from the St. Cecilia, of Brooklyn, also added materially to the general success while the orchestra gave the most intense satisfaction. The "Priest's March" was played with skill and decided feeling, and was a beautiful thing. But to Mr. E. J. Fitzhugh is to be ascribed the most generous praise of all, for by him was the Society raised to its present standard. His indefatigable efforts have been the means of making the society rival even the boasted societies of our near metropolis. The members of the Society do not remember how work is required for "the undertaking, but only the success lingers in their minds.

Selling Without License.

The trials of James Muldowney and Mary Ann Schumm, charged with selling liquor without license, came up before City Judge Good on Saturday last, also that of Willie Schorb, who had plead guilty on his hearing last Thursday. Corporation Counsel Suydam asked that sentence be postponed until Monday, as he wished to investigate the charge further, which request was granted. County Attorney Bergen, being present, moved for an adjournment in the cases of Muldowney and Schumm, until Monday afternoon, May 19th, at two o'clock, which was granted, and the Court adjourned.

On Monday, at the specified time, the Court room was filled with spectators. As soon as Corporation Counsel Suydam had moved the case of Mary Ann Schumm be taken up, County Attorney Bergen entered a protest against the jurisdiction of Judge Good, claiming that he was not holding the office of City Judge legally. Judge Good overruled the protest and the trial went on.

Officer Dodd testified that he had seen defendant sell a bottle of beer over the counter in her house to one Longerbein, on the evening of April 25th, he watching through a glass door. Mr. Longerbein testified that he bought for ten cents a bottle of beer of Miss Schumm the evening in question. When he went outside officer Dodd took the bottle away from him.

The prosecution here rested and Mr. Bergen demanded that the complaints be dismissed, as there was no violation of it inasmuch as the beverage sold came under the head of malt liquors, the ordinance not prohibiting the sale of that. Consideration of this point was postponed after a spirited discussion.

Mary Ann Schumm, the defendant, was then called by Mr. Bergen, who testified that she did not sell Longerbein any beer the night in question; did not keep beer to sell; kept a few bottles to treat friends with; had a government license, because she supposed that allowed her to sell by the quart, although she had not done so. One of her sisters or her mother might have sold Longerbein the beer. He was a neighbor and called quite often.

Internal Revenue agent, Van Liew, testified that in his opinion beer was malt and not spirituous or fermented liquor. Here the case rested and that of James Muldowney was taken up.

The same protest against the jurisdiction of the Judge was entered by defendant's counsel.

Mr. Thos. Dunlap, the first witness called by the prosecution was a "know nothing." He could not tell whether he had ever purchased beer or liquor of Mr. or Mrs. Muldowney. He remembered however, of having a drink of ale or porter there. His memory was very treacherous. He seemed to have a fit of "forgetfulness."

William Edmonson and William Kennett, two other important witnesses for the prosecution were called for, but could not be found, although officer Dodd testified that he had subpoenaed Kennett and paid him his witness fee. Although the non-appearance of these witnesses was a direct insult to the Judge and contempt of Court, no bench warrant was issued for their arrest.

Internal Revenue agent Van Liew testified that Muldowney had a government license.

Stephen McIntyre testified that he had been in Muldowney's place and been treated there. Didn't remember whether he was there on the 27th of April or not. Mrs. Muldowney was there, Mr. Muldowney had gone to church. Ed. Vandering, carman, testified that he had taken barrels and kegs to Muldowney's once a week, and took empty ones away. Did not know what was in the barrels, or never had a drink at accused's house.

A long legal argument then ensued between opposing Counsel, the prosecution desiring a postponement of the cases until the absconding witnesses could be found. The County Attorney contended that no postponement could be made after evidence was taken. The Judge decided the trial must go on. Each side then made closing arguments, and the Court announced the case of Mr. Muldowney adjourned to Tuesday, May 27th, at which time a decision in the cases of Schumm and Mr. Muldowney would be given.

Willie Schorb, who plead guilty of selling without license, and whose case was postponed from Thursday of last week, was yesterday (Thursday) sentenced to pay a fine of $10 by Judge Good.

NORTH PLAINFIELD PARAGRAPHS.

Wm. H. Jones the re-elected Director of the Board of Freeholders of Somerset County, and who resides in North Plainfield, was first elected to the Board in 1873 and appointed Director in 1874, serving a portion of 1875. Joseph Walker was then elected. Mr. Jones was re-elected in 1876 and the years following to the present date, during which time the Board has been Democratic. The fact that he is a strong Republican evidences that the Democratic majority regard him as eminently fit for the position of Director by his continued reappointment to that office.

At a meeting of the Board of Freeholders held in Somerville last Wednesday week, Director Jones announced the following Committees:

Finance—Van Cleef, Clark, Cory, Isaac I. Voorhees, Vroom.

Public Buildings and Grounds—John D. Voorhees, Cramer, Van Cleef.

Jail Delivery—Cramer, John D. Voorhees, Vroom.

Lunacy—John D. Voorhees, McMurtry, Vroom.

Supplies—John D. Voorhees, Vroom.

Special Committee—Cramer, Cory, J. D. Voorhees.

The new board walk on Craig Place, in front of Thos. French's residence, is a great improvement over those a little farther south.

Opening of Vandeventer Hall.

This auspicious event is fixed for the Evening of Tuesday, May 27th. The attraction is an admirable and costly one, consisting of the performance by the famous Young Appollo Club of New York, of the popular musical sensation of the day, "H. M. S. Pinafore." The Club is well known here, and the success of these celebrated singing boys in opera, may be judged from the fact that they are this week finishing a five weeks' run of "Pinafore" in Brooklyn. The papers of that city assert that this is the best Pinafore company on the stage. The "Deadeye" of Mr. Macy, the "Josephine" of Master Laurets, the "Ralph" of Master Black are startling personations. The opera will be given with new scenery and costumes, and the full chorus will number twenty singers.

On Friday night, the 30th, (Decoration Day) the opera will be repeated, the cast being varied by the appearance of the Misses Wolverton as "Josephine" and "Buttercup." The price of admission is fixed at 50 cents; reserved seats, 75 cents, at Shaw's Drug store. Secure them early.

FIRE MATTERS.

The fire well, corner of Crescent avenue and Broadway, has been cleaned out by David Martin, and there is now seven and a half feet of water in it.

By order of Chief Doane, No. 2 steamer, was taken to the corner of Sixth and Washington streets, last Tuesday evening, in charge of the "Excelsior," and a trial given the six inch driven fire well in that locality. Although this well has not been tried before in over three years, the steamer had been at work but a few seconds before water appeared at the nozzle. Only about 30 pounds water pressure could be obtained however, a stream being thrown about 75 feet.

The Board of Fire Commissioners held an adjourned meeting last Tuesday evening. Messrs. Pope and Jones were absent. From report of Committee to audit accounts of late Treasurer Adams, it appears that the Department owes Mr. Adams $287.57. Chief Doane reported on the necessity of immediate repairs being made to the truck, more hose was needed, &c. A communication was received from Zephyr H. & L. Co. No. 1, charging irregularities in the vote of Gazelle No. 1 Co., at the late Department election, which was laid over for further action when a full Board shall be present.

One of those pleasant entertainments so common with the members of "Gazelle" Engine Company, and in fact with the whole department, occurred last Friday evening, when the newly elected officers of the Company, David Lesson, Foreman, Ad. TenEyck, 1st Ass't, and A. V. Kline, 2d Ass't, also the Treas. of the Company, V. L. Frazee, invited the members, the officers of the other Companies, and other friends to meet at the engine house, after a "wash" of the steamer, in which "Alert" Hose Co. No. 1 also participated by invitation, preceded by their officers, Foreman, A. Saltzman, 1st Ass't S. T. Varian, and 2d Ass't E. M. Errickson, the two companies making a fine appearance as they quietly passed through the streets on their way to and return from the wash. Arriving back at the house, it was found that "Uncle Steve" Ryder had taken possession of the lower floor of the building, constructed tables, and was busy loading the same down with all kinds of victuals and good things. In a short time the assembled guests were invited to attack the enemy before them, which they did right valiantly, throwing their "throttle wide open," until there was danger of "bursting their hose" under such a "pressure." Finally the order to "avast" was given by Foreman Lesson, and the company "took up" stairs to the handsomely furnished parlors of the "Gazelles." Here were found Messrs. Newt. Spencer with violin and Al Runyon with guitar, upon which they rendered some fine music. Members of the "Would Be Glee Club," (who are also members of the Eng. Co.) sang a song, and then Prof. Sam. Frazee took hold of the violin and brought forth from it such sweet music as he, alone, knows how to do, also singing several songs. His finest effort was singing "The American Boy," playing an accompaniment on the violin. The Glee Club and the whole assemblage then sang "A Thousand Years," after which remarks were made by Chief Doane, Foreman Saltzman, of the "Alerts," Councilmen Stover and Julian Scott, also of same Company, ex Commissioner Force, Foreman Lesson, Augustus Frazee, the wounded member, and others. "Warren" Engine Co. No. 3 was represented by Ass't Engineer, Andrew Carney, whose modesty forbade his making any remarks on the occasion, also Foreman Kesselring, 1st Ass't Donnell and 2d Ass't Harding. For some unaccountable reason "Zephyr" Company was not represented, although receiving invitations. After singing "Should Auld Acquaintance be Forgot," the company separated, complimenting Foreman Lesson and all concerned upon the success of the entertainment. A notable feature was the entire absence of any intoxicating liquor at the festive board or during the evening. "Nothing stronger than lemonade" in the house, is the motto of Foreman Lesson and his officers. Such occasions as the above serve to unite together in closer bonds the firemen of the various Companies and creates a good feeling among them. There ought to be more of such.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

[Under the above head we shall endeavor each week to give items and news of interest to the lovers of fishing, gunning, trotting, athletic and other sports. We shall be pleased to receive contributions or items for this column from all interested in such matters.]

A number of gentlemen met at the Mansion House, this city, on Saturday, May 17th, and organized "The New Jersey Game & Fish Protective Society" with the following named officers:

President—Gen. Wm. H. Sterling.

Vice Presidents—Dr. H. C. Fithian, Percy C. Ohl and E. P. Thorn.

Secretary—Wm. L. Force.

Treasurer—Wm. E. Jones.

Directors—Martin W. Schenck, Isaac L. Brokaw, R. Robertson, James S. Vosseller, H. I. Webb, Dr. Chas. A. Hart, Rinaldo S. Little, Joseph C. Ohl, J. W. King.

This association takes the place of the "Central N. J. Game & Fish Protective Society" which has been in existence over a year, and which was formally dissolved on the above occasion, and new articles of association filed with the Secretary of State at Trenton under the first mentioned title. It was thought advisable for several reasons to change the name of the association, and the Society, which was before in a flourishing condition, has received a fresh impetus by so doing, which insures a large membership before the close of the year. These Game and Fish Protective Associations are springing up all over the State, and materially aid the Fish Commissioners in their labors of stocking the rivers and streams with food and game fishes, by protecting the fish in close seasons, and by prosecuting any infringement of the Game Laws. The headquarters of the New Jersey Game & Fish Protective Society is at Plainfield, where all communications should be addressed. The initiation fee is Two Dollars. According to the provisions of a law under which the Society is organized, every member is empowered to make arrest of any person caught violating the game or fish laws and take him or them before the nearest magistrate for a hearing. The penalty is heavy.

A fisherman named John Nixon, one day lately caught a large cat fish in the pond at Woodstown, and on cutting it open found a baby in its stomach. The body was made of china.

The second annual shooting tournament, in aid of the Monmouth Battle-Monument Fund, will take place on the Agricultural Society's Fair Grounds, at Freehold, on the 30th inst., (Decoration Day). Teams representing the several townships of Monmouth county will contest for the championship. A gold badge will also be contested for by the best shots in the several teams, and a silver cup, open to all marksmen, whether in or out of the county. The shooting will be at plaster balls, under the Bogardus rules. The grand stand will be reserved for ladies, and nothing of an offensive character will be allowed on the grounds. The proceeds from the sale of tickets will be given in aid of the Monmouth Battle-Monument Fund. Further particulars may be obtained by addressing a postal card to the Secretary, James S. Yard, at Freehold.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Frank Herring, we were on Tuesday last shown the handsome silver rod presented him by the Passaic Island Fishing Club for catching the largest fish of any member of the club last season, mention of which was made through our columns at the time. The fish was a striped bass, weighing 60½ pounds, and was taken with a rod and reel at Passaic Island, Conn. We are informed by Mr. H. that there are at present residing in Plainfield six members of the above club. Mr. Herring, who is a son of Silas C. Herring, the great safe man, resides on the corner of Sixth and Washington streets. He proposes to try for the "big fish" again this season. The rod is a magnificent one and cost $75.

The "New Jersey Game & Fish Protective Society" will meet at the Mansion House on Saturday next, at 3 P. M.

The Westfield Game and Fish Protective Society are now fully organized, and are on the alert for offenders of the Game Laws.

Personals.

Thanks to City Clerk Smith for some unique samples of blotters, given out at the office of the Western Union & Pacific R. R. office, New York, where "Billy" has a clerkship.

"Auld Scotia" forever.—This time it is a boy. And his name is David. And Alex. Warnock, his parental guardian says that the price of his excellent bread shall not be raised in consequence of this visitation.

Thanks to Senator Randolph, for public documents.

Common Council Proceedings.

Monday Evening, May 19, 1879.

Council met in adjourned meeting.

Present—Coriell, Finch, Mayor, Potts, Stewart, Stover, Rushmore, Simpson. Absent—Litsgow, [illegible], Depew.

Pres. Potts in the chair.

Minutes of the last regular and two special meetings read and approved.

Mr. Stover presented petition signed by numerous friends of Wm. Sullivan, stating that they never saw anything disorderly in the house kept by Mr. Sullivan. Referred to License Com.

Mr. Finch presented com's from Chas. Schermerhorn and Wm. Hamilton, asking for permission to erect poles in the interest of the Telephone. Referred to Law & Ord. Com.

Mr. Stover presented an Ord. to amend the License Ord. relative to the opening and closing of saloons. Read 1st time, and on motion of Mr. Stover, read 2d time, and ordered engrossed and to a 3d reading. All aye.

By the same—An Ord. relative to the correction of nuisances and better protection of the health of the city. Read 1st time, and on motion, referred to Law & Ord. Com.

Mr. Stewart presented claim of City Physician H. H. Lowrie, salary, $62.50. Referred to Com. on Salaries, etc.

Mr. Finch presented claim of St. Com'r Geo. M. Angleman, work done on Putnam Ave., $38 58. Also, claim of D. Thickston, crosswalk flagging, $48 11. Referred to St. Com.

By the same—Corrected claim of St. Com'r Geo. M. Angleman, salary from Feb. 4 to May 4, 1879, $50. Mr. Stover moved that the claim be referred to the Aud. Com. Mr. Coriell thought that the former claim of St. Com'r A. should be withdrawn, as it had been ordered paid. The former claim was, on motion, withdrawn, and the one presented this evening referred to St. Com.

Mr. Stewart presented quarterly report of City Physician H. H. Lowrie. The report mentions that the sum of $16 25 has been received for permits, which amount has been handed over to the City Treas., and that some thirty persons of the city poor have been visited and prescribed for. Report received and filed.

Mr. Stover presented report of Corporation Counsel Suydam. The following are the title of the cases pending and undetermined:

N. J. Supreme Court, State of N. J.—Peter Randolph, et al., pros., vs. the Inhabitants of the city of Plainfield. Certiorari—sidewalks, Park Ave.; the State—Peter Randolph, et al., pros., vs. the Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield. Certiorari—road bed, Park Ave.; Andrew Onderdonk, who sues for the use of Henry B. Laidlaw, vs. the Inhabitants of the city of Plainfield, impleaded with the inhabitants of North Plainfield, in the county of Somerset.) In case; N. J. Supreme Court—The State, et. rel., James Clinton Bolton, pros., vs. Peter P. Good—Quo Warranto.

The first two cases have not been argued. They are brought to set aside assessments for grading the road bed and sidewalks on Park Ave. In the third case, issue has not been joined. The fourth case has been argued, and a decision therein is expected at June term of the Supreme Court. The following decisions have been rendered since last report:

N. J. Supreme Court—The State, David J. Boice, pros., vs. the Inhabitants of the city of Plainfield—Certiorari—widening of Park Ave. The assessment was set aside; Treasurer of the City of Plainfield vs. Peter P. Good, on mandamus, the Supreme Court deciding in favor of the city. This case was that of R. J. Shaw, selling liquor without license, the fine being $25, which has been paid.

Report received and filed.

The following letter was then read from policeman Geo. Eaton:

To the Hon. the Common Council of the city of Plainfield:

I am in receipt of a copy of certain charges and specifications preferred against me by Charles W. Dodd for neglect of duty as a police officer, and I respectfully ask of your Hon. Body a trial and hearing of said charges at such time as may suit your convenience.

Respectfully,
Geo. Eaton, Policeman.

On motion of Mr. Stover, deferred until Miscellaneous Business.

Mr. Stover, from Select Com., presented the following resolutions relative to the death of the son of Councilman E. B. Depew:

Resolved, That we, the members of this Council, hereby express our profound sympathy with our fellow-Councilman, E. B. Depew, Esq., in the affliction which has fallen upon him in the recent and sudden decease of his son;

Resolved, That we mourn with him the extinction of the prospects and hopes of youth of so great promise so suddenly destroyed, and sympathize with him in the sundering of the ties of affection which bind families together; and in the destruction of these expectations which lead us to look for the prolongation of our own lives in the lives of our children;

Resolved, That we, as christian men, regarding this event as a dispensation of that Providence which controls the affairs of men, and "appoints the bounds of their habitation which they cannot pass," commend our brother to the consolations of that gospel which alone can throw light upon the darkness of the grave;

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, attested by the President and Clerk of the Council, be transmitted to our brother Depew.

R. M. Stover,
W. Litsgow.

Plainfield, May 19th, 1879.

On motion, received and recommendation adopted.

Mr. Stover, from Law & Ord. Com., reported relative to petition of Geo. Smith in matter of Plainfield Ave., that in their opinion no action can be taken, and would move that it lie upon the table. So agreed to.

By the same—Would ask further time relative to hack ord.

Mr. Finch, from St. Com., reported in matter of Water St., that the gutters be cleaned and widened, the cost not to exceed $15. Report rec'd and recommendation adopted.

By the same—Would report on the ord. to repeal an ord. relative to cesspools, &c., that some expert chemist be employed at a cost not to exceed $50, to examine cesspools and wells of the city, and to what depth wells should be dug to obviate impurities, &c. Considerable discussion was had in the premises, pro and con, when on motion, the report was tabled, Coriell, Rushmore and Finch voting in the negative.

By the same—Relative to the drainage of East Front St., would recommend that the water on the northerly side be conveyed down Leland and Netherwood Aves., Farragut Road and Richmond St., to Green Brook, if practicable. On motion, re-referred back to St. Com. for investigation as to the feasibility of the plan.

By the same—as correct, the following claims: St. Com'r Geo. M. Angleman, two claims, $80 50; D. Thickston, $48 11. Referred to Aud. Com.

Mr. Simpson, from Aud. Com., reported the above claims correct, and on motion, warrants were ordered drawn for the several amounts.

Mr. Rushmore called from the table for its 3d reading, the Ord. postponing the proposed new charter election. Mr. Stewart was of the opinion that it could not be done legally, &c. Corporation Counsel Suydam being present, his opinion was asked for. The Corp. Counsel requested a few minutes to examine the charter in this particular.

Mr. Stover called from the table the com'n of policeman Eaton. The Pres. gave notice that he would call a special meeting for next Monday evening for a hearing in the premises.

Mr. Coriell offered a res. that the City Clerk be instructed to have a closet made to keep city records in, the cost not to exceed $30. Agreed to.

The Corp. Counsel, at this juncture, stated that he saw nothing in the charter objectionable to passing, to a 3d reading, the Ord. relative to the postponing of the proposed new charter election. On motion of Mr. Stover, the Ord. was read 3d time and passed, all aye, with the exception of Simpson and Stewart, who voted in the negative.

Council then adjourned.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

John L. Roulston is fitting up the Bayles property, corner of North Ave. and Elm St., for an ale and beer saloon, he having received a license therefor at present term of Court. He applied last October term for a Hotel license, but it was not granted him by the Court.

Geo. Gardener, of the Gardner Plate Co., purchased the factory known as Littell's sash and blind factory at Sheriff's sale last week. We understand Mr. G. contemplates making some decided improvements on the same, by the erection of new buildings, etc.

Last Monday, Edward Bann, son of Thos. O. Bann, about 19 years of age, went to Elizabeth to have a tooth extracted. On his return to the depot he was struck by a portion of the train, knocked down and considerably bruised, but no bones were broken. He is around again, but says he feels very sore.

Tuesday, May 20th, inst., at 3 p. m., the house and lot formerly owned by Mr. Midziol, the Catholic Priest who was located here some 3 years ago, was sold at auction by order of his widowed mother who resides in France, and is the only heir, for $610, cash. James T. Pierson, groceryman, of this village, was the purchaser. The Attorney of the estate, only about a month ago, paid off an $800 mortgage, so as to give a clear title to the property. Result, $190 out of pocket.

A severe thunder shower passed over our village on Friday evening about 7 o'clock. The lightning struck the house of Mr. Lynch, on North Ave.; the house is occupied by Mr. Vanarsdale, the family consisting of himself, wife and two daughters, were all in the kitchen at the time; Mrs. V. was standing by the stove attending to her household duties; the lightning followed the chimney into the room, and the shock was so severe that it completely prostrated Mrs. V.; she was insensible for some time. A physician was sent for who soon relieved her sufferings. She has nearly recovered from the shock to her nervous system.

On Friday last, the house of John Pierson, Esq., on west side of Prospect St., in our village, was struck by lightning. It entered the building about 9 feet above the parlor floor and just under the ceiling; it made a small hole about the size of a silver dollar at its entrance, and passed in a direct line across the parlor, doing but little damage to ceiling, and only tearing the gilt from the cornices in the angle of the room, and made its exit from the opposite side through the front wall, making an aperture about 15 inches square through the wall and weather-boards. The family, who were in another part of the house, did not know anything of it until the next morning on going into the parlor. An eye witness who saw the flash, says it did not explode until it had passed clear of the house.

Assessor John M. C. Marsh has commenced his duties of assessing the Township of Westfield. Get our taxes down, Johnny.

Mr. Berdell has nearly completed his addition to his residence on Fourth Ave. It is a fine improvement to the property. Messrs. W. H. Clark and Wallace Kaylor have the contract.

P. Traynor, groceryman, corner of Broad and Elm Streets, was married on Wednesday morning, May 21st, inst., at 10 o'clock, to Miss Beiler, residing on North Ave. The ceremony took place in the Catholic church on New York Ave., in this village.

Joseph Moffett, contractor, has gone to Greenpoint, L. I., to take charge of the erection of several large oil tanks for the Standard Oil Co.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church will hold a fair and festival during the last week of this month. Proceeds for the benefit of the church.

Mr. Hewitt, of N. Y., has rented and taken possession of John C. Sanford's house, corner of Elm and Picton Sts. Geo. Godfrey, real estate agent, negotiated the transaction.

The Westfield Fish and Game Protective Society have had large posters printed on muslin and posted around our village and vicinity, offering $25 reward for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons breaking the game laws of the State. They mean business. Look out poachers and pot-hunters!

BASKING RIDGE ITEMS.

The Delaware & Passaic R. R. Co. are running 4 trains each way daily to and from New York to accommodate the public. Summer boarders cannot complain of the want of an early train to the city, as one leaves at 5:09, A. M. A newsboy will accompany the early trains hereafter.

Mr. A. A. Gardenier, who has leased the "Doty House," knows how to keep a Hotel, as he has had experience in that line in New York and comes among us highly recommended. He is now prepared to receive Summer boarders at reasonable rates; a fine bar and beautiful grounds attached.

Mr. Reuben Hynes, our Station Agent, while riding on an incoming hand-car, met with quite an accident a day or two since. One of the men on the same became entangled on one of the levers and crowded Mr. H. off, and the car ran across both lower limbs, above the knees, but strange to say no bones were broken. Mr. H. is rapidly recovering from his bruises. There were 6 men on the car at the time beside the tools.

The walking match last week came off with a rather slim attendance. A lad from Morristown, Willie Collins, went—that is "go as you please," 35 miles in 8 hours. A one hour run afterward for a prize, resulted in the favor of one of our town boys, Theo. Alward vs. Thos. Hartwell, of Morristown. Distance covered 7 miles.

A red-headed Amazon, claiming to hail from Madison, came in the Post Office, one day last week, to give vent to her feelings in a storm of epithets, too vile for repetition. She either had too much "steam" up or else not enough "ballast," as she puffed and blowed worse than Al. Bunn's engine in making the Bernardsville grade.

Lewis Schafer, our merchant tailor, says that business is looking up as the farm lads have just received their Spring wages, and begin to be able to dress up after being out of "stamps" so long.

PLEURO PNEUMONIA.

General Sterling, Chief of the pleuro Pneumonia Bureau, has made a report of the work done by him and his agents during the week ending on Saturday last. In Hudson, Union and Essex counties, there were 49 herds inspected, containing 238 cattle, of which 12 were found to be sick. This shows an increase since last report of 9 herds, 28 cattle and 7 sick.

The veterinary surgeons have been engaged during the past week in re-inspecting the herds that are in quarantine. The sick in the two herds had recovered, and the quarantines were raised. The herd of Mr. Aime Dedie, at Marion, Hudson county, was reported by Drs. Corlies, Rogers and Chambon, to be in such a diseased condition that it would be necessary to destroy the animals in order to prevent the spread of the disease. I thereupon communicated with Mr. Dedie, and after receiving his reply expressing his willingness to have the animals slaughtered, and accepting therefore ten dollars per head, and as they could not be fitted for the butcher, I ordered their destruction, and according to my order Dr. Corlies destroyed the animals May 15th, and delivered their carcasses to the offal contractor.

The Police Commissioners, of Jersey City, have failed yet to organize, and the endeavor to enforce a strict observance of quarantine has not been fully realized, though a better feeling is prevailing on the part of the people to regard my orders.

Being notified that sickness existed at South Orange, I ordered Dr. Force to investigate, who reports that he found the herd of Mr. E. T. Church, of South Orange, Essex county, containing twelve cattle, affected; two were sick with the disease, and the premises were quarantined. May 13th, I ordered Dr. Miller to re-inspect the herd of Mr. Wm. Walton, at Dutch Neck, Mercer County, as reported May 5th. One was sick in his herd of thirty-two cattle, and May 13th, seven were reported sick. May 15th, Dr. Miller was ordered to West Freehold, Monmouth county, to inspect the herd of Conover Robinson, who has lost two cows this week and more are sick. Reports of these cases not yet received.

I have every reason to believe that there is no increase, but rather decrease in the disease, in so far as regular inspection has been made.

I am, Governor, with highest esteem, your most obedient servant,

Wm. H. Sterling.

The principal feature of the Northern New Jersey Episcopal Convention at its session on Wednesday last was the reading of Bishop Odenheimer's pastoral address. It opens with reference to his long illness and the many loving kindnesses shown him by his people and by bishops and clergy both of New Jersey and neighboring dioceses. In closing, the Bishop says:—"I conclude my report by saying that in all but the financial condition of the diocese there is everything to indicate encouraging progress, temporal and spiritual; church buildings beautified and extended, new parishes formed and efficient work in all departments." The following members of the Standing Committee were re-elected and the Convention adjourned sine die:—Rev. James A. Williams, D. D., President, Orange; Rev. Robert N. Merritt, Secretary, Morristown; Rev. Fernando C. Putman, Jersey City; Rev. J. Houston Eccleson, D. D., Newark; Mr. Jeremiah C. Garthwaite, Newark; Mr. Alfred Mills, Norristown; Mr. Daniel Dodd, Newark and Mr. Jonathan Edgar, Summit.

Miss Elizabeth Dorsett, daughter of a well known New Jersey patriot who took part in the battle of Monmouth, will shortly celebrate her 103d birthday at Middletown. The venerable lady is the grand aunt of ex-Governor Bedle, and a grand gathering of the Dorsetts of Middletown and Hoboken will assist at the celebration ceremonies.

PATENTS.

Having been for ten years in different official positions in the War, Treasury and Interior Departments, Washington, D. C., which include the Adjutant General's, Pension, Second Auditor's, General Land and Patent Offices, and being in active practice before the Supreme Court, Washington, D. C., as Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law just before taking up my residence in Plainfield, I have acquired such a familiarity with the laws, rulings and decisions thereof as enables me to confidently assure all that I am prepared to procure patents and attend to every possible class of work before the different offices above mentioned, and the Supreme Court, Washington, D. C.

Arrears of Pay, Pension and Bounty.

And all other claims of Officers, Soldiers and Sailors and their heirs. I have recently taken up this branch in connection with my law practice, believing that there are hundreds of deserving persons in this section who are justly entitled to help on account disability contracted in line of duty, and only want some one to guide them and who would willingly forego all that the government would possibly pay them if they could be restored to the health and condition they enjoyed before entering the service.

Having served in the U. S. Army from the commencement until the close of the late war, I make no charge for this work where my comrade or his heirs are dependant.

If you don't wish to get angry never argue with a blockhead. Remember, the duller the razor, the more you cut yourself.

The current coin of life is plain, sound sense. We drive a more substantial and thriving trade with that than with aught else.

A boy was asked what meekness was. He thought a moment, and said: "Meekness gives smooth answers to rough questions."

All men are fond of power. The sweep, with his sooty bag, is a great tyrant over his menials, as an emperor commanding millions.

We are fond of conversing with those we love. Why, therefore, cannot man, who loves himself so well, remain a moment with himself!

Have the courage to speak your mind when it is necessary that you should do so, and hold your tongue when is is better that you should be silent.

Many of us are apt to attribute a bad motive to a good action; but few of us, when one has been guilty of a bad action, ever think of attributing a good motive to it.

JUST BEFORE THE DAWN.

'Ah! heaven does indeed temper the wind to the shorn lamb,' pathetically said old Mrs. Diffendorfer the other evening at a tea fight, after putting away her twenty-eighth cup of Young Hyson.

'Why, what do you mean?'

'You know that young widow, Mrs. Biffin, who lives across the street from us. Well, she has had nothing but trouble, sorrow and distress for the past five years. First, her father was killed by a burglar; then her mother married a nigger minstrel; after that she had the yellow fever and small pox together, and next, her husband failed and she had to take in washing. It was perfectly dreadful. The poor woman nearly went crazy. She was just beginning to bear up a little again when her brother was sent to the penitentiary for life; and, finally, last month her husband died in a fit, and the very next day her baby choked to death on a gum drop.'

'Gracious! the poor thing!'

'Wasn't it just terrible! Everybody believed she'd commit suicide, then, and she would have done so, too, but last week somebody providentially coaxed her to go to a church raffle, and what do you all suppose happened?'

'What! for Heaven's sake, what?'

'Why, she won a sealskin sacque!'

'You don't mean it?'

'She did though—perfectly splendid—came within an inch of the floor—The darkest hour is just before the dawn—after all. Now, isn't it?'—San Francisco Post.

HOW THEY SWEAR.

The stocking says—I'll be blasted.
The doctor says—Plague take it.
The teacher says—Well that's school.
The scholar says—I'll be switched.
The preacher says—Mercy on us.
The farmer says—Land sakes.
The soldier says—Shoot it.
The lawyer says—Hold up your hand.
The merchant says—By the prophets.
The newspaper man say his prayers, for he never swears.

"If the angels had wings, what did they want a ladder for to climb into heaven." This was a puzzler for the bishop. He cleared his throat several times, grew red in the face, and hesitated; but at last a bright thought struck him. Turning toward the school, he said: "As one little child has asked this question, perhaps some other little child can answer it. Now can any one tell me why the angels wanted the ladder?" Back came the answer from a remote corner of the room. "Because they were molting, sir!" The good bishop sat down.—Examiner.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer telegraphs to that paper from Newark, Ohio, that a cow in that vicinity "gave birth to fifty-six calves. One of them was fully matured, and still lives; the other fifty-five were about the size of small kittens and, with the cow, died." Ohio has achieved some wonderful results of late years, and this is not the least of them. We are sure that only an Ohio cow would consent to breed her progeny in a litter, though we hesitate to believe this thing to be a mere literary production of the Enquirer's fruitful mind. It is greatly to the cow's credit that she speedily became ashamed of herself and died.

"Patrick," said the priest, "the widow Molony tells me you have stolen one of her finest pigs. Is that so?" "Yes, yer Honor." "What have you done with it?" "Killed it and ate it, yer Honor." "O, Patrick, when you are brought face to face with the widow and her pig on judgment day, what account will you be able to give of yourself when the widow accuses you of the theft?" "Did you say the pig would be there, yer Riverence?" "To be sure I did." "Well, then, your Riverence, I'll say, 'Mrs. Molony, there's your pig.'"—Irish World.

The Hackensack Republican tells the following quaint anecdote: "One beautiful Sabbath morn, when Nature was all attune with the merry carol of joyful birds, a little boy, scarcely five years old, sat near a window and gazed in silent admiration upon the scene which spread out before him with all its magnificence and grandeur, until suddenly he shouted, "Ain't this nice? Hurrah for God!"

During a dense fog a Mississippi steamboat took landing. A traveller anxious to go aboard, came to the unperturbed manager and asked why they stopped. "Too much fog; can't see the river." "But you can see the stars overhead." "Yes," replied the urbane pilot, "but until the biler busts we ain't going that way." The passenger went to bed.

From the time a boy is eight years old until he is thirteen he devotes two solid hours of every day of his life to learning how to make a new kind of noise. By the time he is thirteen years he has accumulated noise enough to last him the rest of his natural life—and uses three kinds of noises the same day, too.

LEGAL NOTICES

FORECLOSURE SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—By virtue of an execution issued out of the Court of Chancery of said State, in a cause in which the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company are complainants and George V. N. Baldwin and others are defendants, directed to the subscriber, one of the Masters of said Court, I shall offer for sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, on Wednesday, the eighteenth day of June, A. D., 1879, at the hour of two o'clock in the afternoon, at the Court House, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey.

All that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the township of New Providence (now Summit), in the county of Union and State of New Jersey.

Beginning in the middle of the road leading from New Providence to the Summit of the Morris and Essex R. R., at a corner of land of Mrs. Charles D. Fredericks; thence on her line, north, two degrees east, thirty-four chains and twenty-one links to south side of Morris and Essex R. R.; thence on said line, south, sixty-one and one-half degrees east, two chains; thence south, sixty-one degrees east, ten chains; thence on same line, south, sixty-three degrees east, two chains and ninety-five links, to a point of land formerly of Wm. Grogan; thence on said Grogan's line, south, one degree and twenty minutes east, eight chains and twenty-one links, to a point of land formerly of Elias B. Osborn; thence on the said Osborn's line, south, eighty-eight degrees west, eight chains and eighty-three links to a corner of same land; thence on the line of the same, south, forty-two minutes east, sixteen chains and seventy-one links to the middle of aforesaid New Providence road; thence south, sixty-six degrees and thirty-five minutes west, five chains and eight links to the place of beginning; containing twenty-five and one-half acres, be the same more or less.

The premises described above will be sold in the order, and in the manner, and in the parcels, and for the purposes set forth and mentioned in said writ of execution, of which notice will be given on the day of sale.

Given under my hand this seventh day of April, A. D., 1879.

Surrogate's Order to Limit Creditors.

Union County Surrogate's Office,
April 30th, 1879.

Levi Darby, Administrator of Mary L. French, deceased.

On application of the above named Administrator it is ordered that said Administrator give public notice to the Creditors of the estate of said decedent to bring in their debts, demands or claims against the same, under oath, within nine months from this date, by setting up a copy of this Order, within twenty days hereafter in five of the most public places in the County of Union, for two months, and also within the said twenty days, by advertising the same in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST for the same space of time; and if any Creditor shall neglect to exhibit his or her debt, demand or claim, within the said period of nine months, public notice being given as aforesaid, such Creditor shall be forever barred of his or her action therefor against the said Administrator.

JEFFERSONIAN.

Thomas Jefferson, one of the most illustrious statesmen that ever lived, the author of the immortal manifesto of American Independence, and the founder of the Democratic Party, in his inaugural address as the third President of the United States, gave utterance to implicit faith in the following code of political principles and declared them to be the sure guide to "peace, liberty and safety:"

"Equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever state or persuasion, religious or political.

Peace, commerce, and honest friendship with all nations—entangling alliances with none.

The support of the State governments in all their rights, as the most competent administrations for our domestic concerns, and the surest bulwarks against anti-republican tendencies.

The preservation of the General Government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet-anchor of our peace at home and safety abroad.

A jealous care of the right of election by the people.

A mild and safe corrective of abuses which are lopped off by the sword of revolution, when peaceable remedies are unprovided.

Absolute acquiescence in the decisions of the majority—the vital principle of republics, from which there is no appeal but to force, the vital principle and immediate parent of despotism.

A well disciplined militia—our best reliance in peace, and for the first moments of war, till regulars may relieve them.

The supremacy of the civil over the military authority.

Economy in the public expense, that labor may be lightly burdened.

An honest payment of our debts, and sacred preservation of the public faith.

Encouragement of agriculture, and of commerce, as its handmaid.

The diffusion of information and the arraignment of all abuses at the bar of public reason.

Freedom of religion.

Freedom of the press.

Freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus.

Trials by juries impartially selected."

In the foregoing summary of "political ethics, so clearly and pointedly made public by Jefferson seventy-eight years ago, we have the Democratic creed, pure and simple, of the present day.

It has not changed a mite in all those years, and neither has time, nor the bitterest of opposition, been enabled to overthrow a single one of its cardinal truths.

With the exception of the past eighteen years, national affairs in this country were in the main conducted according to the Jeffersonian rule of action, and then prosperity smiled upon the people, enlivened every industry, and peace and sweet content filled the whole land.

When Democratic principles of government find thorough re-establishment, and their legitimate and certain results are experienced, then and not until then, will former good times be our happy fortune.

Men may speculate as freely as they like about modern inventions, yet principles are everlasting, and the proven wisdom of the fathers cannot be set aside by the foolishness of the sons.—The wisdom of the fathers is what we want—

Their honesty.
Their justice.
Their economy.
Their fidelity to law.
Their sound common sense.

Give us the application of those sterling virtues, as promulgated and practiced by Jefferson, and all will be well again.

Democracy and permanent prosperity are identical.

IMPORTANT TREASURY NOTICE.

The following notice has been issued by the Treasurer of the United States: Fragments of National bank notes redeemed by banks of issue for less than their face value will be accepted by the Treasurer only when their valuation is equal to the face value of a note of same denomination issued by the bank or some multiple thereof. The required valuation may, however, be made up of several fragments of notes of same or different denominations. In no other case can such fragments be disposed of under the Comptroller of the Currency requiring the National bank notes to be delivered to him for destruction in sums of even hundreds of dollars. The accumulation in his hands of fragments of which he is unable to dispose of compels the Treasurer to adopt this rule.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD'S APRIL REPORT.

The following statement of the business of all lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company east of Pittsburg and Erie for April, 1879, as compared with the same month in 1878, is made:

An increase of gross earnings of $120,217, an increase in expenses of $33,515, a decrease in net earnings of $153,732. The four months of 1879 as compared with the same period in 1878 show an increase in gross earnings of $746,258, an increase of expenses of $3,223, an increase in net earnings of $742,545. All lines west of Pittsburg and Erie for the four months of 1879 show a surplus over all liabilities of $221,520, being a gain over the same period in 1878 of $13,229.

JUDGE PACKER'S BEQUESTS.

The will of Judge Packer was read on Thursday of last week. The family decline to furnish a full list of the bequests until the attorneys of the estate shall have had time to consider fully the instrument. The will sets aside $1,500,000 for the permanent endowment of Lehigh University, at Bethlehem, and $500,000 more for the University library. St. Luke's Hospital, at Bethlehem, receives $300,000, and St. Mark's Episcopal Church, at Mauch Chunk, $30,000. There are a number of other smaller public bequests and many private ones.

THE CERTIFICATES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., MAY 23.

The following notice was issued by the Treasury Department to-day:

"The Secretary of the Treasury has thus far designated all the public officers invited in the circular of March 12, 1879, who have applied to become United States Depositories for the sale of the $10 United States refunding certificates, but, as it has become apparent that the remainder of the certificates would will not last more than six days, applications for designation hereafter received, will be declined by the Department."

PROSPERITY.

Signs of prosperity are observable in many ways. The merchant shows it by the crowds who visit his place of business after a perusal of his advertisement in THE CONSTITUTIONALIST, or some other equally influential journal. Others show it by their dress and manners.—THE CONSTITUTIONALIST shows it by the neat new dress which it comes out in to-day. Said dress was obtained from the well-known type foundry of James Conner's Sons, Nos. 28, 30 and 32 Centre Street, New York City. We have dealt with this firm for the past ten years, and have always found them to be gentlemen to deal with, and their goods as represented. We are continually adding new type of latest designs to our jobbing department, and can turn out as neat or handsome a job as any office in the State. There is no necessity of any person or firm taking their job work to New York or other cities, when the same can be done equally as good and cheap at home. Patronize home industry.

THE HICKSITE FRIENDS.

In the Quaker meeting house in Rutherford place, New York city, the Hicksite Friends gathered on Monday last in their yearly meeting. A generation ago the Friends were so numerous and important a body that their annual gathering was one of the notable events of the year. Now their numbers have greatly diminished, though there are in that city many persons of Quaker descent who, while attached to other religious organizations, become Friends again, in sympathy at least, during yearly meeting week, and these completely filled the plain wooden benches. Each year the Quaker characteristics are less discernible at these gatherings. There were but few of the traditional broadbrims, and these covered the snowy locks of octogenarians. Two of the speakers in the ministers' gallery wore beards and moustaches, and in their discourses manifested an acquaintance with the doctrines of evolution.—Epistles, or letters from other yearly meetings were read. These abound in expressions of brotherly regard and in exhortations to faithfulness in the maintenance of the testimonies of the society. A proposition contained in the epistle from Illinois was discussed. It suggests the holding at some central place of a conference of delegates from the seven yearly meetings on this continent, for the purpose of deliberation upon methods of advancing the testimonies and general interests of the society. This would be an innovation, as these meetings are entirely independent of each other, and have never yet subordinated themselves to any central authority. There was a great divergence of sentiment upon the question. It was finally referred to a large committee for consideration.

That the flood tide of business has fairly set in is being proved by every day's experience here and by every day's news from the distant sections of the country. Last week there was the greatest move in flannels that has been known for a year or more. More flannels were sold in this one week than the total amount for the six months previous, and manufacturers are declining to fix prices ahead. This is the legitimate result of a settled conviction on the part of business men throughout the country that the flood is coming in strong. Another significant fact is the starting up of the various iron concerns in Pennsylvania and the West. This is, perhaps, the most important industry west of the Alleghany mountains, and its revival after so long a depression is in the highest degree encouraging.

Within the past three months there have been several thousands of miles of new railroads surveyed, and within a very short time a large portion has been put under contract. All these things are indicative of a vast increase of labor employment, and thus emigration to the West from the overcrowded localities of the East becomes another and important factor in the restoration of business. Parties who are in a position to be well informed are of opinion that there will be a large excess of foreign immigration this season, the news of a large prospective demand for labor having already crossed. Still another important feature is the increase of sales of land grants, both by railroad corporations and government. The business tide is evidently rolling inward. Let it roll.—Boston Traveller.

STATE NEWS.

Col. Morrell, of Elizabeth, has resigned from the Third Regiment.

Alexander McLean, of this State, has been nominated as U. S. Consul to Guayaquil.

Twenty thousand herring and 324 shad were caught at one drift in the big siene at Gloucester the other day.

Jennie Smith and Covert Bennett have been found guilty of murdering policeman Henry Smith, at Jersey City.

The New Brunswick Fredonian difficulties have been settled, and Mr. Babcock has resumed full charge, Mr. Johnson retiring.

A drove of twelve cows at Riverside, near Paterson, have been poisoned by eating potato plants on which Paris green had been sprinkled to keep off the potato bugs.

The Union Convention of the editors of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and other States, will be held at the Stockton House, Cape May, N. J., during the week commencing June 23, '79. The full arrangements have not yet been made, but will be announced about June 8th. The price of tickets for the New Jersey editors will be about $12 per head.

The steamboat Kittatiney, which started from the Water Gap on Thursday morning of last week for a trial trip up the Delaware River to Port Jervis, abandoned the undertaking at Milford, eight miles from Port Jervis, on account of the shallowness of the water. On her return trip Friday morning, near Burrell's Rift, she struck a rock and filled with water.

Past Grand Deputy High Priest Geo. B. Edwards, has been appointed Grand Secretary of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons and also Grand Recorder of the Grand Commandery, to fill the vacancies caused by the death of Most Eminent Thomas J. Corson, late of Trenton. It is quite probable that the Order will authorize the publication of a memorial of their deceased brother.

At the ninth annual meeting of the Pharmaceutical Association of New Jersey, at Princeton, the following officers were elected: President, A. S. White, of Mount Holly; Vice President, W. M. Townley, of Newark; Second Vice President, G. C. DeCoy, Trenton; Recording Secretary, A. P. Brown, Camden; Corresponding Secretary, R. W. Vandervoort, Newark; Treasurer, Wm. Rust, New Brunswick. There was a large attendance. This assembly of druggists will meet next year at Jersey City.

Slowly, but unmistakably business is reviving. Every day furnishes encouraging indications. All that is now needed is the exercise of patience.—Prosperity of slow growth is always likely to be more lasting than that which springs up like a mushroom in a single night.

The United Companies for the Detection of Horse Thieves and Other Villains, and the Recovery of Stolen Property, represented by thirty-five associations, held their annual meeting at the Arch Street House, Philadelphia, on Wednesday of last week. The main business transacted was the passage of a resolution pledging the United Companies to pay half the expense in the detection of horse thieves by the various associations, not to exceed $50. Delegates were present from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware.

The new Roman Catholic Cathedral in Fifth Avenue, New York city, whose corner stone was laid by Archbishop Hughes on August 15, 1858, was dedicated on Sunday last by his successor, Cardinal McCloskey, in the presence of a great multitude of people. The ceremonies were very impressive and interesting. A propitious day with bright skies and cool breezes, added to the comfort of the thousands who were present and of those who took part in the ceremonies—a part of which was conducted in the open air. The Cardinal himself was the chief celebrant, and sang the Mass. The services lasted from ten in the morning until a quarter of three in the afternoon. The sermon by Bishop Ryan of St. Louis, consumed an hour and forty minutes of this time. After the dedication there was a dinner, at which the Cardinal, Archbishops Purcell and Gibbons, Bishop Ryan, Charles O'Conor and others spoke. In the evening, vesper services were held.

A verdict of murder in the first degree was rendered on Friday last, against Edward Reinhardt, tried at Stapleton, Staten Island, for killing his wife. The case was a curious as well as a horrible one. Reinhardt's wife suddenly disappeared, and her whereabouts was a mystery until the remains of a female were found in a barrel in a creek. They were identified as the remains of the missing woman. Then it was learned from a person who lived in the same house, and who was a principal witness on the trial, that about the time Mrs. Reinhardt disappeared she had had occasion to go to her room and she there saw a barrel standing in the middle of the floor, which Reinhardt told her contained crockery. He afterwards was seen wheeling it away. The evidence was so clear on this point that the defence did not undertake to contradict it, and the prisoner admitted on the witness stand that he did take his wife's remains away as stated, but said that she had died naturally and he was afraid to say anything about it, and for that reason had tried to hide the body. As for marks of violence on her body he said they were injuries received after death. It was shown on the trial that the prisoner, during his wife's life had married another woman. The jury after forty minutes' absence, found him guilty of murder as charged in the indictment.

Alleged Defalcation.

Joseph C. Letson, late Collector of Middlesex County, is alleged to be a defaulter in the amount of $33,000. He had held the office only a year when a new Board of Freeholders elected ex-Senator Levi D. Jarrard to be his successor. The new Board's Committee of Audit reported, at a meeting on Wednesday of last week, that they had been unable to find Mr. Letson in his office, and were, therefore, not prepared to make a final report. The Committee continued their labors, but instead of finding $31,192.18 in cash in the National Bank of New Jersey, in addition to about $12,000 in the defunct State Bank, they were unable to discover a single dollar belonging to the county. Mr. Letson was called upon for an explanation. He was unable to give it, but begged for time until at 2 P. M. on Tuesday, when he would, he said, square his accounts. The Committee did not favor the proposal, and on Saturday last, under advice of Robert Adrian, counsel of the Board, the Chairman of the Finance Committee went before a Justice of the Peace and made a complaint against Letson as an embezzler. Letson was very quietly arrested on Saturday. He gave bonds in $15,000 to appear when wanted, and was released. At 2 o'clock Monday afternoon he had not made good his promise to replace the county's money. His official bond is good for $50,000. Joe Letson is widely known throughout New Jersey, especially in political circles, having been a member of the lower House of the State Legislature during the sessions of 1872 and 1873, and the Democratic candidate for State Senator against his present successor, Mr. Jarrard, in the following year. The Legislative session of 1873 was one of the most memorable in the annals of New Jersey, owing to the great railroad fight, in which the Pennsylvania Company was pitted against what was then known as the National road scheme, which finally eventuated in the passage of the Free Railroad law, and the building of the Bound Brook road. Thousands of dollars were expended by both parties, and from $1,000 to $5,000 was paid for Assemblymen's votes, Senators' votes commanding from $5,000 to $10,000 each. Letson was the champion of the National road bill in the Assembly, and, on the strength of his championship, he claimed and was given the Democratic nomination for State Senator in Middlesex the following fall, against Levi D. Jarrard, Republican and Pennsylvania road candidate for re-election. Letson was defeated, as Jarrard was three years subsequently, when he ran for a third re-election against George C. Ludlow, one of the counsel of the Pennsylvania Company in New Jersey.

The "Rock" House.

The Messrs. Staats Bros. announce in another column that the popular Washington Rock House, of which they are proprietors, is now open to the public. The house has been thoroughly renovated and the roads leading to the House put in fine shape. There is no more beautiful scenery or healthy atmosphere than that to be obtained at the Rock House.

COMMUNICATED.

For "The Constitutionalist."

A CARD.

MESSRS. EDITORS;

Gentlemen:—In your issue of last week appeared the following item:

"Mayor Harper refuses to sign as correct the bills of $60, for special services in collection of taxes, ordered by last Council, or the bill of $194.75, presented to present Council by Committee appointed to go to Trenton and lobby through a general law. He will send a communication to Council at its next regular meeting giving his reasons therefor. In the face of the state of darkness now existing in our city, we think His Honor is right in refusing to allow such bills to be paid out of the Treasury.—Give us light."

As those remarks may be misconstrued, permit me to make a brief response.

In refusing to sign the two warrants named, I do not impugn the motives of Councilmen, and neither do I call in question the well intentioned labor and zeal of the Committee charged with the preparation of a law for the proposed government of cities and the procurement of its passage by the Legislature.

The ground I take is that the Common Council does not possess the lawful right to vote public money for the purposes specified in said warrants. You were correct in stating that a communication will be presented at the next meeting.

Yours truly,
NATHAN HARPER, Mayor.

THE DEATH-RATE OF

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a Doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

Simmons' Liver Regulator or Medicine.

Is eminently a Family Medicine; and by being kept ready for immediate resort will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.

After over Forty Years trial it is still receiving the most unqualified testimonials to its virtues from persons of the highest character and responsibility. Eminent physicians commend it for all diseases of the Liver.

AS AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC
Opinion of the Clergy.

Simmons' Liver Regulator is certainly a specific for that class of complaints which it claims to cure. If any of our fellow beings are suffering from hepatic disorders and have doubts in relation to the efficacy of this popular preparation, we can only offer them the simple and candid argument of Philip to Nathaniel. "Come and see." Try the proposed remedy and then you can judge for yourselves. Rev. David Wills, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Macon, Ga.

TAKE
SIMMONS' LIVER
REGULATOR.

The Symptoms of liver complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side.—Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for Rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, Debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times very few of them, but the liver is generally the organ most involved.

Middlesex and Union Counties
Agricultural Association.

By a recent act of the Legislature, the par value of the shares of this Association having been reduced to ten dollars, a sufficient number additional will be issued to defray the expense of improvements contemplated in the erection of buildings, etc., and for establishing annual Fairs for the Counties of Middlesex and Union.

The Grounds are situated on Park Avenue, at Avon Park.

All who are interested in making the proposed enterprise successful are invited to subscribe.

No call for money will be made until 500 shares are subscribed, when a meeting will be called to elect a new Board of Directors.

This is a matter of interest to all the citizens of the two counties, and in order to insure a successful inauguration of a Fair in October the necessary number of shares should be taken promptly.

Subscription paper may be found at THE CONSTITUTIONALIST OFFICE.

TESTIMONY
Of the Hon. Jos. E. Gary, Judge of the Superior Court, Chicago, Ill.
CHICAGO, Dec. 16th, 1878.

DR. S. D. HOWE.

DEAR SIR:—Permit me to add my grateful testimony to the array of witnesses to the virtues of your justly celebrated Arabian remedies. For a long time my wife was severely afflicted with hacking cough, oppressed breathing, soreness of the chest and constant acute pain in the lower portion of the right lung and under the shoulder blade. Her sufferings were intense, and she became extremely nervous and prostrated. Her disease was pronounced consumption by the physicians of Chicago and other cities, whose prescriptions had been taken without benefit. When you visited Chicago in June, 1875, we called on you, having very little hope of deriving help from your treatment. We were inspired with hope by the skillful manner in which your thorough examination was conducted, and the satisfactory explanation with which you made your diagnosis. My wife was induced to take your medicines in accordance with your plain and practical directions. She began to feel the Arabian Milk-Cure and Arabian Tonic's timely beneficial effect at once became manifest—the cough lessened and soon ceased, respiration became easy, the soreness of the chest was relieved and all pain removed, she began to gain in flesh and improve in strength and appearance. I fully believe that your medicines and skillful advice have saved the life of my wife. She unites with me in this grateful tribute to the merit of your remedies. Very respectfully yours,
JOSEPH E. GARY.

IF anybody has hard work to please most people, it is an editor. If he omits anything he is lazy. If he glosses over or smooths down the rough points, he is bribed. If he calls things by their proper names, he is declared unfit for his position. If he does not furnish his readers with jokes, he is a mullet. If he does, he is a rattlehead, lacking stability. If he indulges in personalities, he is a blackguard. If he does not, his paper is dull and insipid.

Driven Well Injunction.

The case of Nelson vs. Manning, et. al. in matter of injunction served against using driven wells in this city, came up before Judge Nixon in the United States District Court at Trenton on Monday, May 12. Defendants asked for two week's time to reply to affidavits, which was granted. Monday last, 26th, the defendants again asked for two weeks further time, which was granted. Scudder & Vredenburgh for plaintiffs, Suydam & Jackson for defendants.

Important to Farmers.

Those farmers who have to make a yearly fight upon the alders and briars which insist upon rearing themselves in fence corners and along the roads, should try the experiment of cutting down this notious growth according to the old time rule which is set down as the longest day in the month of June, (21st.) We have been requested to urge farmers to try this by one of our most scientific readers, and a farmer of large experience. His father learned the secret many years ago, and he never had to cut twice in the same place.—Hunterdon Democrat.

The Proposed Fair Grounds.

It is with pleasure we announce that subscriptions are rapidly being made toward the project of holding a Fair on the grounds of the "Union & Middlesex Agricultural Association," at Avon Park, near this city, the coming Fall, mention of which has frequently been made in these columns, and we trust by our next issue to record that all the stock necessary, 500 shares, is taken. The object is one that every citizen of Union and Middlesex counties should take interest in, especially the people of Plainfield, which city will derive benefits by the success of the project, that of holding Annual Fairs on the grounds of the Association, which are admirably situated. Attention is directed to the announcement of the manager of the Association, which appears in another column. The Fair is bound to be a reality and success according to present observation.

The Veteran Zouaves,

Of Elizabeth, General J. Madison Drake commanding, will parade in that city Decoration Day, and on the 16th of next month they will go to Albany, N. Y., to attend the Re-union of Veterans there.—The Zouaves, every one of whom is a gallant soldier of the war, have chartered the steamboat "Blackbird" on which the entire trip will be made. They will take with them their Gatling guns and sixty members, besides a full band. They will disembark at Jersey City early Thursday morning, 19th inst., and proceed to Newark, where they will be reviewed, after which the march to Elizabeth will be resumed. Company C. has tendered itself as an escort, and it is likely that the firemen will join in the welcome home.—This command was mustered last Tuesday evening, and 56 men answered to their names, out of a total membership of 60. The Veterans understanding a soldier's duty delight in performing it.

Death of a Pensioner of the Revolution.

Mr. Phoebe Bond, wife of the late Elihu Bond, a soldier of the Revolution, died at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Cyrus Pruden, near this city, on Tuesday last, the 13th inst., aged 77 years and three months. She was buried at Evergreen Cemetery in this place, and had been a pensioner since the death of her husband in 1830. Elihu Bond was a private in the Patriot Army, under General Washington. He was born at Waverly, in the old homestead about opposite the Waverly depot, and enlisted we believe at Elizabeth. Later in the war that section of the country became overrun with British troops, and it is related of him that despite this fact he would visit his old home and when marauding parties ventured too near he would retreat to a hiding place arranged in the barn for him—a cosy place affording just room enough for his body and reached by removing some closely joined clap boards. He took part in several engagements, served his time, and was honorably discharged, living afterwards at Lyon's farm. During the war of the Revolution he buried a small chest containing some silverware, money, &c., and found it intact when he went to look for it several years after. This chest, together with some silver spoons and a few coins that were hidden with it, are now in possession of the Washington Association and on exhibition at Headquarters. The musket Mr. Bond carried during the war he afterwards retained and it is now owned and is still used by his son, Mr. James C. Bond, of Lyon's farms, who has had it changed from the old flint-lock to a percussion. Four of Mr. Bond's children are still living—Rev. Lewis Bond, a retired Presbyterian minister residing at Plainfield and Mr. David Bond, of Lyon's Farms; they are the issue of his first wife and both between 80 and 90 years of age. He married his second wife when 64 years of age and by this union had four children, two of whom are living, Mr. Jas. C. Bond and Mrs. Cyrus Pruden. He lived some ten years after the second marriage.—Morristown Banner.

Opening of the New Hall.

The Young Apollo Club initiated Vandeventer Hall last Tuesday evening, in the performance of "Pinafore," and to say that this popular piece was well rendered by this popular club, is but doing them justice. The audience, although not as large as anticipated, was a select and fashionable one, their frequent applause at the singing in some particular portion of the play, bringing the actors a second time before them. All of the members of this justly celebrated Apollo Club performed their various roles in a highly creditable manner. The solos and choruses were finely rendered. Perhaps we should not individualize, but we think the characters of Little Buttercup, by Master Percy Coles, Cousin Hebe, by Master F. B. Budworth, and Aunt Penelope, by Mr. Emmet Drew, were particularly well sustained, the charm of the occasion being that the make-up and looks of the two first mentioned young lads were so effeminate that only those who knew the circumstances could distinguish them from the genuine female. The character of Dick Deadeye, by Mr. J. W. Macey, was well taken, as was also that of Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., by Mr. Thomas J. Drew. The difficult character of Ralph Rackstraw was ably represented by Master John Black, while Master Happy, as Tom Tucker, the little Middy, brought down the house by the pompous manner in which he trod the imaginary deck of H. M. S. Pinafore in his part of the performance. Capt. Corcoran was ably represented by Mr. W. Robitsek. The character of Josephine, taken by Mr. Chas. Laurit, although effectively rendered, would have been better received had her or his make-up been more in keeping. Tall, red-headed girls are not favorites in these days of blondes.

Taken altogether, however, the performance was a good one, and received as such by the fashionable audience present. To-night (Friday) the Opera will be repeated, with the change of two female performers, Josephine and Little Buttercup, the characters of which will be assumed by the Wolverton sisters, of New York.

THERE are rumors afloat that the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company are endeavoring to secure a lease of the Central Railroad. Such a combination, with those already made, would give a through route to the South and West long desired.

A LAWN festival for the benefit of the Library of the Mt. Pleasant Sunday school will be held on Tuesday evening next, June 3d, on the grounds of Mr. James E. Potter. Friends of the school in this city are invited.

Heavy Damages.

The New York Times of one day last week contains the following, which has been extensively copied throughout the State papers:

In the Kings county, N. Y., Supreme Court before Judge Pratt and a jury, was yesterday decided the action of Ferris H. Sumner against Corra Osborn and Henry Hosford for conspiracy, the jury giving a verdict for the plaintiff for $12,000. The case is a peculiar one, and familiar to the readers of the CONSTITUTIONALIST.

"On February 7, 1876, Sumner, then residing in Brooklyn, but formerly a resident of California, was arrested in Brooklyn by Sheriff Daggett on a mandate of Governor Tilden, issued on a requisition of Governor Irwin, of California, asking for his arrest for forgery. The bearer of the requisition was Corra Osborn, a Baptist preacher, formerly a resident of New Jersey and Brooklyn, but then a resident of California. Osborn and Sumner had a year or two before exchanged some Brooklyn, New Jersey and California property, and had other business transactions. The requisition of Governor Irwin was issued on the unsupported affidavit of Osborn, charging Sumner with having on or about March 24, 1874, forged the name of John F. Havens, of Alameda county, Cal., to a receipt for a bill for household furniture for $638.75, and in addition demanding the extradition of Sumner constituted Osborn the agent of the State of California making the arrest and conveying the prisoner across the continent. When Osborn presented the requisition to Governor Tilden at Albany in January, 1876, the latter, remarking that it was based on the unsupported affidavit of Osborn instead of on an indictment and that Osborn, the prosecutor, was made the officer to effect the arrest, hesitated to issue his mandate for Sumner's arrest, but finally issued it on January 24 though at the same time he caused a letter to be written to the sheriff of Kings county instructing that officer to "hold Sumner a sufficient time after his arrest to enable him to apply for his release upon habeas corpus and with a further idea to give time to the prisoner to apply to me, if such application should be necessary." This letter, as was subsequently discovered, was given by Sheriff Daggett to his deputy, Colonel Hardy, who arrested Sumner. On February 14, just seven days after the making of the arrest and just fifteen minutes before the arrival of Sumner's counsel with a writ of habeas corpus at the Raymond Street Jail, where the prisoner had been confined.

Sumner alleged that he was hurried over to the State after handcuffing him and refusing to allow him to communicate with his counsel or family. This action of Osborn, Sumner claims was taken to prevent the service of the habeas corpus which Osborn had received intimation was about to be issued. Osborn was accompanied to the Raymond Street Jail by his friend Henry Hosford, who when Sumner objected to being handcuffed laid his hands on him and assisted Osborn in putting on his manacle. Together they brought him to Elizabeth, and here incarcerated him in the County Jail, preventing him, as the complainant charges, from informing his wife or lawyers of his whereabouts.

While Sumner was confined in the Raymond Street Jail, he was, he says, visited daily by Osborn's lawyer, who importuned him to reconvey to the latter certain property in Westfield, and pay $2,500, in consideration of which Osborn was to restore him to liberty. Some time in 1874 or 1875 Sumner, who owned a farm near the white Sulphur Springs in Alameda county, Cal., came East at the advice of his physicians. In Brooklyn he met Osborn, who owned a house and lot in that city and forty lots in Westfield. After some treaty an exchange was effected, Sumner giving his California farm for Osborn's Brooklyn house, which was subject to a mortgage, the forty lots in Westfield and a mortgage for $13,000 on the California farm. Sumner also gave Osborn a written agreement that he would cancel the exchange if Osborn did not find the California property what it was represented to be. Osborn went to California, expressed himself well pleased with the property, settled there and establish a Summer resort upon it. Sumner afterwards visited him there and lent him some money, in all $600 or $700. Subsequently, according to Sumner, Osborn wanted to borrow more money, but was refused and then became hostile to him.

After Sumner's lodgment in the jail in Elizabeth, Osborn's lawyer, he charges, renewed his visits and importunities, and contrived to put Sumner in communication with a lawyer, who in the capacity of his counsel advised him to accede to Osborn's demands. Sumner finally managed to communicate with his friends, and Judge Knapp discharged him on the return of a writ of habeas corpus. In his order Judge Knapp took occasion to say that he was satisfied that the authority of the State of California had been used by Osborn "for private purposes, and not in the interest of public justice." By the same order Sumner was transferred to the Hudson County Jail, to await the further demand of the Governor of California. In the meantime, however, when the doings of Osborn with his prisoner had become public through the habeas corpus proceedings, Governor Tilden revoked his mandate for the arrest of Sumner and communicated this and his reasons therefor to the Governor of California, who at once recalled his requisition, and after being some weeks in Hudson County Jail Sumner was liberated. He at once took steps to proceed against Osborn and Hosford for conspiracy, and the case was brought to trial in Brooklyn on Wednesday last, given to the jury late on Thursday evening, and terminated Friday morning with the result above stated. The counsel for the plaintiff was Mr. Henry Daily, Jr., of New York, and for the defendants Messrs. Fellows, Hoyt and Schell, of New York, were the attorneys, with Mr. Joseph H. Choate as counsel.

The verdict for $12,000 is the largest ever given in New York State in a case of conspiracy, $5,000 having been the highest previously rendered. The counsel for the defendants have given notice of their intention to make a motion for a new trial.

Organ Exhibition.

The new Masonic Hall in Vandeventer's building, this city, will be formally opened on the evening of June 12th, by a Grand Organ Concert, at which the celebrated artist, Henry Eyre Browne, of Brooklyn, N. Y., will preside. In addition the services of Mr. B. C. Bent has been secured as Solo Cornetist, and his brother as second Cornetist. The reputation of the above mentioned artists is sufficient guarantee that the affair will be a grand one. We learn that a lady singer of well-known ability will also appear on the occasion. The tickets for the Concert have been placed at one dollar each, and will be for sale at Shaw's Drug store and by members of the fraternity, the last of this week. As the Hall will not seat comfortably over 300, the number of tickets will necessarily be limited; therefore those who desire to attend must secure their tickets early.

Further announcement will be made through these columns next week.

W. S. C[illegible]s, carriage painter, located at New Market, has all the work he can attend to, since the public has found out his location. He is a thorough workman, and has reasonable charges. His place of business is in the carriage factory near Nelson's Hotel.

MR. DAVID THICKSTUN received severe bruises in consequence of being thrown from a load of flagging on which he was riding, Wednesday morning last, his horse taking fright at the steam whistle of Spicer & Hubbard's Mills and shieing to one side of the road.

Proceedings of Common Council.

MONDAY EV'G., May 26, '79.

Council met in special meeting.

Present—Coriell, Depew, Potts, Rushmore, Simpson, Stover, Stewart, Redfield.

Absent—Lithgow, Mayor, Finch.

Pres. Potts in chair.

On motion of Mr. Stover, the reading of the minutes of the last meeting were dispensed with.

The Pres. then informed the Council that the meeting had been called to hear the answer of Policeman Geo. Eaton to the charges made by Policeman Chas. W. Dodd. The Clerk was instructed to read the specifications, which are as follows:

Specification 1st—That on the evening of March 26th, 1879, between the hours of 8 and 10, said officer, while supposed to be on duty in the neighborhood of 3d and Liberty Sts., was not to be found upon said beat; after giving it a thorough search, I subsequently learned that he was in the store of John Stewart, on Plainfield Ave., for upwards of an hour on that evening.

Specification 2d—That on the night of April 28th, while under orders to patrol each hour Central Ave., Front, Second and Peace Sts., and to try all store doors at least once each night, said officer failed to patrol Front St. and Central avenue between the hours of 12 p. m. and 4 a. m.

Specification 3d—That on the night of April 29th, between the hours of 11 p. m. and 3 a. m., said officer neglected to patrol Central avenue, as were the standing orders for the officer on that beat.

For Policeman Eaton, the Hon. Wm. B. Maxson appeared as counsel, who stated that Mr. Eaton pleaded not guilty to the three charges specified.

Corp. Counsel Suydam took charge of the prosecution, suggesting that officer Dodd be called as a witness.

Mr. Maxson stated that he did not see how any proceedings could be had in the matter; Dodd signs himself as "Chief of Police;" there is no such office as that; if there is he failed to see it in looking over the Ordinances.

Mr. Suydam stated that it did not matter; Dodd might sign his name "President of the U. S.," &c.; the charges have to be acted on, however.

Mr. Maxson responded that it might be signed "Citizen Corporation Counsel."

Officer Dodd was sworn:—He stated that on the night of March 26th, was unable to find Eaton between the hours of 8 and 10, on his beat on 3d St.; learned that he was in a store on Plainfield avenue, kept by one Stewart, for over an hour. As to the second charge, am quite positive that he did not patrol Central Avenue, Front, Second and Peace Sts., as required to do; watched for him but failed to see him; he was not on his beat at the hours charged in the 3d specification; also kept watch for him, but he failed to put in an appearance.

Cross-examination: As Chief of Police was chosen as such by Council of 1878 by the Police Board of that body; have writings to that effect; have'nt them with me; the beat of Eaton was laid out by me, and takes up four blocks; went over his beat on the evening of March 26th, and stood at the corner of Liberty and 3d Sts., should judge over one-half hour, but did not see him; at that time he should have been in that vicinity; he was changed to that beat, in the 2d specification, as per rule of Police force agreed upon in 1878, changing the beats once a month; my instructions were from Mayor Harper, and for me to go on as heretofore; as to trying the doors on Front St., Eaton may have tried the doors on the evening of April 28th, between the hours of 11 and 12 a. m.; stood on the corner of Front St. and Central Ave., in front of Schepflin's building, for 4 hours, viz., from 12 to 4 a. m., but did not see him try any of the doors; did not do it myself—did'nt have to. As to the 3d charge he did not patrol his beat; stood nearly in the same place as on the previous evening, but failed to see him, as he should put in an appearance as directed.

Re-direct examination: The beats are changed monthly. Further questioning of the witness by Mr. Suydam was objected to by Mr. Maxson, as not in accordance with the rules of evidence.

Brittin Higgins sworn: Was in Stewart's store on the night of March 26th; went in there between the hours of 7 and 8; Eaton came in; should judge he was in there twenty minutes before I went out; left him there when I went away.

Cross-examination: Conversation and smoking was being carried on when Eaton appeared; he went out on the stoop several times, but did not go on the street; never heard anything against Eaton; have met him several times in my vicinity, on his patrol.

Geo. Grant sworn: Have been acting as special policeman; on the evenings of April 28th and 29th, was with Dodd on Front St., near Schepflin's building; did not see Eaton pass that point as he should have done.

Cross-examination: Witness was acting as special on the evenings in question, having been detailed to watch Eaton, by Dodd; had always found Eaton a dutiful officer when on duty with him.

Benjamin Wright sworn: Had mentioned to Eaton of his slackness of duty, especially after 12 o'clock, in patroling Front St.

Cross-examination: Have no ill feelings against Eaton; do private duty as watchman, my beat being from Cherry St. to the M. E. Church; at the depot Eaton spent a considerable time, he thought.

The case against Eaton was here closed.

At this juncture, Mr. Maxson made some well directed remarks. He spoke in particular of the abolishing of the ord. relative to the "Captain" or "Chief of Police"; thought that one policeman should not prefer charges against another for petty purposes; Eaton had been a faithful officer going on six years, and never before had any charges preferred against him for dereliction of duty. He would try and show that Eaton is innocent of the charges arrayed against him by Dodd.

Officer Eaton sworn: Have been a policeman going on six years; was detailed for Front St. a year before Dodd came on the force; the length of the beat on 3d St. should judge was easy a good mile; every other month am on duty in this vicinity; March 26th (the evening that Dodd was in quest of me) was called to the residence of one Kline on short 2d St; was again called in that vicinity in regards to some money alleged to have been stolen by one Staats; visited Stewart's in search of Staats; remained there 15 or 20 minutes; as to Front St., on the evening of April 28th, patroled the same; saw Dodd and Grant in conversation near cor. of Grove and Front Sts.; went on Central Ave. and patroled it, notwithstanding that specification 3d says I did not; did not see Grant and Dodd on that evening; neglect of duty has never before been charged to me; visit the depot per Dodd's orders, for the 11.30 p. m., 1.25 and 3.23 a. m. trains.

Cross-examination: Strictly obey Dodd's orders; have walked with watchman Wright quite frequently; spoke to me about being slack in duty; never go off my beat only when hearing strange noises; about 8 or 9 o'clock on the evening of March 26th was called to short 2d St. at request of Mr. Kline; was gone about 20 minutes; the next call was that in reference to money having been stolen.

John Harding sworn: Eaton called at my house on the evening of March 26th, making enquiries about one Staats; always found Eaton to be a good officer.

Cross-examination: Have been on duty with Eaton; am a special officer, and on duty at times with Eaton; always found him prompt to duty.

Steve Hope sworn: Met Eaton corner Cherry and Front Sts. on the evening of April 28th, about a quarter past 12; accompanied him up Front St.; Eaton tried the door of MacDonald's grocery; proceeded down Peace St., I going to my home and Eaton to the depot to meet the 1.25 train.

Edward Kline sworn: Called officer Eaton on the evening of March 26th, as Eaton testified.

Hugh McDonald sworn: Am a regular policeman; was detailed on 3d St. in April last with Eaton; met under Cherry Street bridge at the hours of 3 and 4 a. m., according to orders; found Eaton faithful in the performance of duty.

The defense was here closed.

If it was the wish of the Council, Mr. Suydam said, he would sum up.

Mr. Maxson stated he would submit the case without further ado.

Mr. Depew moved that a vote be taken as to whether the Council would sustain the charges or not preferred against officer Eaton.

The Pres. announced the motion to be, whether the charges should be sustained or not, and upon a vote being taken it resulted as follows:

Ayes—Coriell, Rushmore—2. Noes—Redfield, Stewart, Potts, Simpson, Stover, Depew—6.

The Pres. then announced the charges not sustained.

On motion of Mr. Depew, Council then adjourned.

TO THE RAILROADS OF NEW JERSEY.

The Committee on Cheap and Rapid Transit representing the residents on the line of the New Jersey Railroads, terminating in Jersey City and Hoboken, respectfully represent to the managers and directors of these Roads.

That the time has arrived in their judgment when a radical change should be made in regard to the rates of fare, and the running of their trains so as to meet the facilities of cheap and rapid transit, now developed by the completion of the New York Elevated Railroad, to the great disadvantage of our State.

The Elevated Roads, as far as built, have proved a decided success and are being extended, and in a short time no doubt will be built into Westchester County. Brooklyn also will have her Elevated Roads, thereby affording Cheap and Rapid Transit to the public generally and inducing people from New Jersey to locate along the lines of these roads, thus retarding the development of our State. In order to meet the increasing competition by the Elevated R. R., in N. Y., we are of the opinion, and would advise that our Railroads should adopt such charges and offer inducements to the public to locate in our State, and thus build up our Cities and Towns and thereby increase our wealth and prosperity.

Our healthy climate, variety of soil, mountains, hills, valleys and plains, are such as to satisfy and please the tastes and contribute to the comfort of all.

If our Railways will only adopt an attractive and liberal policy, we have no doubt that it will remunerate them, and New Jersey will thrive and have a growth, in the next few years, unparralleled in her past history. Nearly every great departure in the past, in any enterprise for the accommodation and convenience of the public, has shown that increased profits was the result in the end.

We herewith suggest to the Railways the schedule of charges for local, excursion, monthly and yearly commutation tickets, firmly believing, that if adopted, the Roads will secure such increase of travel as to prove profitable.

The history of Railroads prove that cheaper fares always result in increased travel.

The mechanics, laborers, and others of limited means, will also leave the overcrowded tenements and small apartments in New York and seek the pure and healthy air and comfortable houses that will be opened up to them.

In consideration thereof we recommend;

First.—That the New Jersey Railroads shall do their utmost in every way possible to economize time, thus improving our present system of Rapid Transit and extending its availability to a larger section of country.

Second.—Whatever charges are made from New York, either northward or eastward, that they shall always protect their patrons and the country along their line with the same ratio of charges.

Third.—That the benefits of yearly commutation rates be extended to purchasers of monthly tickets, or that the New Haven R. R. principle, illustrated as follows, be adopted:

The cost per annum to Mount Vernon, 14 miles, is $60; charged monthly, is—

1st month, $8; 2d month, $7; 3d month, $6; 4th month, $5.50; 5th month, $5; 6th month, $4.50; 7th month, $4; 8th month, $4; 9th month, $4; 10th month, $4; 11th month, $4; 12th month $4. Aggregating $60.

Fourth.—That the basis of charge for trip tickets shall be two cents per mile, and for excursion tickets one and a half cents per mile.

Fifth.—That the charges made by the Ferry Companies between New Jersey and New York shall not exceed that of the Brooklyn ferries, and the boats be run every seven and one-half minutes.

Sixth.—The mechanics' and laborers' trains be run, to arrive in and depart from New York between 6 and 7 o'clock, morning and evening, and that the prices charged on these trains shall be at a reduction of 25 per cent. from all regular rates for single, excursion and commutation tickets.

Seventh.—That laborers' trains shall be run between 6 and 7 o'clock, morning and evening, every fifteen minutes, and that during the remainder of the day the number of trains now run be increased as fast as the business will warrant, and that through trains, without stops, be given at such hours and to such stations as will fill them.

In conclusion, we would call your attention to the fact, that the rate of charges are now the same as they were during the war, when prices and incomes were higher, and with the present low cost of labor, material, supplies, in fact of everything that goes to make up the costs of railroad building, renewing and operating, together with the fact that the incomes of the traveling public are reduced in the same ratio, the reduction of charges become not only a necessity but should be a pleasant duty.

Committee of Ten appointed by the meeting of April 10th, 1879, in the interest of Cheap and Rapid Transit in New Jersey.

Supplementary Report of Recommendations, in addition to those in the interest of Cheap and Rapid Transit.

First.—The Committee would recommend that the Railroad Companies be so connected at West End that they can interchange freight, and, by means of an annex train at this point, passengers and their baggage can be transferred from one railroad to either of the others.

Second.—Not only in our own interest, but for the protection of the commerce of the Port of New York, we recommend that the Railroad Companies shall establish this as their settled policy. That on all goods received from or delivered to them at their terminus in New Jersey, they will allow a drawback on their freight rates equal to what they now pay for transportation across the Hudson. This policy adopted, the Railroad companies, without any loss or cost to themselves, have given a bonus that will compel the Warehouse system of Brooklyn and New York to concentrate on our shores. Where the warehouses are the vessels will follow, and thus they will have solved the problem of cheap terminal expenses on all the commerce of this port. The vessel, the warehouse, and the railroad will have been brought side by side, and the enormous present cost of cartage and lighterage saved.

Third.—We recommend that the Railroad Co's. enter into an agreement with each other as to a rate they will charge for bringing a car-load of freight from a warehouse at their terminus and deliver it to either of the other railroads at West End Junction; that is, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company would charge the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, for taking a car-load of freight to or bringing it from a warehouse at Hoboken to West End, the same amount that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company would charge for the same [illegible]tion, from or to Harsimus Cove; every other Railroad Company agreeing to perform the same services for the same charge. This would make the whole water front the terminal facilities of every railroad, and would add to the advantages of each one without taking anything from the other.

Fourth.—That the advantages, as to freight charges, that are given at the terminus at tide water, shall be extended to the manufacturing concerns and all other interests in the locality.

Let us recognize that nature has intended that the greatest city in America, if not on earth, should locate itself around this harbor, and that the best part of the harbor, for a very large percentage of what goes to make up a commercial, a manufacturing, a great city, is in New Jersey; and in the place of working for the terminus of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad alone, let us meet every competition, and unitedly, Railroads and people, bend all our energies to the progress, the development of this locality.

A Grand Concert

Will be given in the Congregational church the evening of June 5th, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the building fund of the church. The management is under the supervision of Mrs. Sheppard L. Stewart, who secures gratuitously the artists for the occasion.—The Concert will be of a high order, and will consist of Madrigals, Quartettes, Trios, Duetts, &c. The object being really a charitable one, our music-loving citizens should patronize it. An announcement of the Concert appears in another column.

Personalia

JOHN TAYLOR JOHNSTON and family have taken up their summer residence again in their beautiful villa on Front street.

HAVING occasion to visit the office of the Comptroller of the State, Robert F. Stockton, at Trenton, a few days since on official business, we were most courteously received by that gentleman and his assistants, who by their strict business manners evidenced to us that the office of Comptroller is filled by a most thoroughly competent person who has a capable assistant in the person of Major Anderson and gentlemanly and obliging clerks.

FIRE MATTERS.

The Annual meeting of "The Plainfield Firemen's Relief Association," occurs Monday evening, June 9th, at which time Officers of the Association for the ensuing year will take place.

There seems to be a determined effort on the part of vandals to work mischief in the Second Street Engine House. A few days since some person or persons gained access to the cellar and broke down the door leading to the apartment wherein is located the heating apparatus which generates steam for the engine.—No damage was done to the apparatus, however.

Firemen from the several cities and towns in New Jersey held a convention in Newark last Thursday afternoon, and organized a State Association. The object of the convention was to arrange concert of action among the treasurers of the different fire department benevolent associations, and the collection of the two per cent. tax levied on all foreign fire insurance companies doing business in New Jersey. This tax is for the support of the widows' and orphans' of firemen, and for disabled firemen. Heretofore the tax has been paid to the Secretary of State, and by him apportioned to the several fire departments. The firemen objected to this, because they believed they could collect and distribute the money more economically themselves; so they secured the passage of an act by the last Legislature, which gives the treasurers of the fire departments authority to collect their proportion of the tax direct from the agents of the fire insurance companies. The convention elected the following named permanent officers of "The Firemen's Association of the State of New Jersey:" President, ex-Chief William H. Brown of Newark; Vice-Presidents, the Hon. John T. Dunn of Elizabeth, Chief Engineer Reilly of Paterson, Charles McGill of Trenton, E. W. Henry of Jersey City, W. W. Slack of Burlington; Treasurer, Col. Spencer of Passaic; Secretary, Frank Tuite of Newark; Corresponding Secretary, P. McGavish of Hoboken; Financial Secretary, W. H. Leonard of Dover.

It is somewhat singular that the Relief Association of this city was not represented at the above mentioned Convention. Ex-Chief Wm. Brown, and others whom we are personally acquainted with, say that notice of the meeting was sent to the officers of our Association, while the officers emphatically disclaim ever having received such notice. It is to be regretted that the circumstance of non-representation should have occurred, as the Plainfield Relief Association is in a flourishing condition and should have been represented by the election of one of its members to an office in the New Jersey Association.

NORTH PLAINFIELD PARAGRAPHS.

In the examination in spelling held on Friday last, in the Intermediate Department of the Public School, the following pupils stood at the head of their respective classes:

Fourth Class, Louise Sellick, average 98. Third Class, Thomas Waldron, average 96. Second Class, Augusta Vochl and Katie Weaver, each having an average of 100. First Class, Abbie Wilson and Lottie Zimmerman, each 100. The enrollment of the school has reached 300.

Mr. H. E. Harris has recently been appointed a member of the Board of Examiners for teacher's certificates in Somerset County.

And now Voorhees Vanvliet is painting up and has chosen white for the house and green for the blinds. The next thing we hope to note is the laying of a new sidewalk. Stone is the best, Van.

Coddington Bros. are delivering pure Spring Water Ice to their customers in large quantities. There is no humbug about it being pure ice.

One of Mr. George Stewart's "colts" died a few day since of old age, the animal being in its 42d year. Mr. Stewart always termed his team "the colts," hence the name of deceased. Friend A. Berry decides that the reason of the longevity of the animal is in consequence of the Jacksonian principles of its owner, who is a thorough-going Democrat of the Andrew Jackson school. If Hunterdon, or any other county in the State can trot out a horse of greater age than the deceased "colt" we should like to hear from them.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

One of the most attractive places of Fanwood is the new residence and grounds of Mrs. Eliza A. Elston.

The Township "Fathers" met at Brittin's Hotel, Saturday afternoon last.

Assessor Tappan Townsend is moving in the discharge of his official duty. Let all "things" be in readiness.

Something over one hundred dollars has been secured toward the purchase of a new church bell.

The Baptist and the M. E. Churches, after being without pastors for a considerable length of time, have at last succeeded in securing the settlement of the same, and we are creditably informed that both ministers are men of extraordinary ability and very pleasing in their manners and address.

Prof. S. S. Day and lady have taken the "West Cottage" on Grand Street, for the season.

It is said that Deacon Henry Redfield, aged 85 years, has the neatest kept lawn and garden (all the work of his own hands) of any one in the village.

An error occurred in these columns some time ago, relative to a donation of $500, said to have been made by Mr. Jno. B. Marsh to the Baptist Church. This gift was from the munificent hand of Levi Darby, Esq., instead of from Mr. Marsh.

The roadway, from Fanwood Depot to Midway Avenue, requires the immediate attention of the Overseers of that District, so that people may not be under the necessity of continually driving from one side of the road to the other, to avoid the rocks laying in the roadbed.

The Rev. Mr. Guirard and the Rev. Mr. Smiley, pastors elect of the Baptist and Methodist Churches, will occupy their respective pulpits next Sunday.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

The Overseer of Road District No. 8, in the village, has at last repaired the crosswalk corner of Broad and Elm Sts., so that wagons can pass over it without danger of breaking their springs.

Freeholder Miller has given John M. Ledly, mason, the contract for repairing the bridge on Spring Street, which needed it very much.

Samuel M. Foster is again confined to his house by sickness.

The Presbyterian Church Festival, Tuesday evening, 27th inst., was lightly attended, owing to the heavy shower during the evening and coolness of the weather. The Committee did not meet expenses.

Foster Conant has arrived home from his trip in the upper part of New York State.

What is the Committee on Village Drainage and Improvement doing? We hope they will not let the much needed improvement die out.

Charles G. Welch & Sons, Painters, was awarded the contract, they being the lowest bidders, to paint the Presbyterian Church edifice, which is very much needed.

The children of Public School District No. 10 have been promised by their principal, Mr. S. Blanier, a picnic at the end of the quarter in June, instead of their regular examination at the end of school year. It will probably be held in Woodruff's Grove, Westfield Ave.

The new dwelling house being erected by Joel Moffett, Contractor, for L. V. Clark, Esq., on Clark Street, this village, is so far advanced as to show its style of architecture, which is very pretty and neat.

The entertainment held in Lyceum Hall, by our "Home Talent," on Thursday evening, 29th inst., was well attended. All the persons interested in getting up the entertainment performed their parts well to an appreciative audience.

Our depot needs a coat of paint.

Ex-Surrogate Addison Clark, is thoroughly renovating the Clark homestead on Broad Street, and has put several fine boats on the Lake adjoining the property. Visitors are always cordially received by Mr. Clark.

CRANFORD.

An attempt to rob the residence of Mr. Elmendorf, Madison Avenue, was made on Monday evening, 26th inst. The robbers were scared away by the servant girl, who was the only person at home, Mr. and Mrs. Elmendorf being on a visit to New York city at the time.

The trial of the Schindler boys, set down for last Friday, was postponed, on motion of the prisoner's counsel, Mr. Spencer, until Monday, June 2d. The State was all ready to try the case on all of the indictments.

THERE will be an evening entertainment at the Westfield Public School, by the children of the Trinity Church Sunday School, on Friday evening, May 30, supplemented by Wonders of Magic, or "The Black Art," by Mr. E. Bedle, of Roselle. Admission 15 and 25 cents.

PATENTS.

Having been for ten years in different official positions in the War, Treasury and Interior Departments, Washington, D. C., which include the Adjutant General's, Pension, Second Auditor's, General Land and Patent Offices, and being in active practice before the Supreme Court, Washington, D. C., as Attorney and Counselor-at-Law just before taking up my residence in Plainfield, I have acquired such a familiarity with the laws, rulings and decisions thereon as enables me to confidently assure all that I am prepared to procure patents and attend to every possible class of work before the different offices above mentioned, and the Supreme Court, Washington, D. C.

Arrears of Pay, Pension and Bounty.

And all other claims of Officers, Soldiers and Sailors and their heirs. I have recently taken up this branch in connection with my law practice, believing that there are hundreds of deserving persons in this section who are justly entitled to help on account disability contracted in line of duty, and only want some one to guide them and who would willingly forego all that the government would possibly pay them if they could be restored to the health and condition they enjoyed before entering its service.

Having served in the U. S. Army from the commencement until the close of the late war, I make no charge for this work where my comrade or his heirs are dependant.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A CHILLING RECEPTION.

Mr. Alfred Ethelridge is bashful; he does not deny it. He wishes he wasn't sometimes, but wishing doesn't seem to help the case much. Everybody in Burlington likes him, except the father of a young lady out on Pond street. With an instinctive knowledge of this old gentleman's feelings, Alfred had forborn to aggravate them and kept out of the father's way as much as possible, atoning for this apparent neglect by seeing the daughter twice as often. The other afternoon Alfred went up the steps and rang the bell. The door opened and—

Papa stood staring at him, looking a thousand things and saying nothing.

Alfred Ethelridge had never felt quite so lost for language in his life. Presently he stood on one foot and remarked:

"Good afternoon!"

"Gooftnoon," grunted papa, which is, by interpretation, also good afternoon.

"Is-ah-is-er-er-Miss Lallipon—is your daughter at home?" asked Alfred, standing on the other foot.

"Yes, sir," said papa, rather more shortly than Alfred thought necessary. Then nobody said anything for a long time. Presently Alfred Ethelridge stood on both feet and asked:

"Is she in?"

"Yes, sir," said papa, not budging a step from his position in the door, and looking as though he was dealing with a book agent instead of one of the nicest young men in Burlington. Then Alfred Ethelridge stood on his left foot and said:

"Is she at home?"

"Yes, sir," papa said grimly, and never taking his eyes off the young man's uneasy face.

Alfred Ethelridge sighed and looked up the street, and then stood on his left foot and looked at papa's knees and said timidly, and in tremulous tones:

"Can she see me?"

"Yes, sir," papa said, but he never moved and he never looked pleasant. He only stood still and repeated a second time "Yes, sir."

Alfred Ethelridge began to feel it. He looked up and down the street, and planned his wondering gaze to the bald spot on the top of papa's head, then he said:

"Will you please tell her that Mr. Alfred Ethelridge called?"

"Yes, sir," said papa, and he did'nt say more. And some how or another Alfred Ethelridge kind of sort of got down off the porch, and went kind out of the gate, like. He discontinued his visits there, and explained to a friend that the old man didn't say anything that wasn't all right and cordial enough, but the manner to him was rather formal.

THE WRITERS OF THE BIBLE.

Moses wrote Genesis, Exodus, Numbers and Deuteronomy.

Joshua, Phinehas or Eleazar wrote the book of Joshua, but it is not certain which of them.

Samuel is the penman of the books of Judges and Ruth. He also wrote the first acts of David; and probably Nathan and God wrote his last acts, and the whole was formed into two books, which were named after Samuel, as the most eminent person, called the first and second books of Samuel.

Jeremiah most probably compiled the two books of the Kings.

Ezra compiled the two books of the Chronicles. He is also author of the book bearing his name.

Nehemiah wrote Nehemiah.

The author of the book of Esther is unknown.

Elihu was most probably the penman of the book of Job. Moses may have written the first two chapters and the last. Some think Job wrote it himself.

David wrote most of the book of Psalms. Asaph penned a few of them.

Solomon wrote Proverbs, Ecclesiastes and the Songs of Solomon.

Isaiah is the author of the prophecy of Isaiah.

Jeremiah wrote the book bearing his name and the Lamentations of Jeremiah.

Ezekial, Daniel, Hosea, Joel, Amos, Obadiah, probably Jonah, Micah, Nahum, Habakkuk, Zephaniah, Haggan and Zachariah wrote the books of prophecies bearing their respective names.

Matthew, Mark, Luke and John wrote the gospels named after them.

Luke wrote the Acts of the Apostles.

Paul is the author of the Epistles to the Romans, Corinthians, Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, Thessalonians, Timothy, Titus, Philemon and Hebrews.

James, the son of Alpheus, who was cousin-german to Christ, and one of the apostles, wrote the Epistle of James.

The apostle John wrote the three Epistles of John.

Jude, the apostle, the brother of James called also Lebbeus, whose surname was Thaddeus, a near relative of our Lord, wrote the Epistle of Jude.

St. John, the divine, wrote Revelations.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

The object of all ambition should be to be happy at home.

Tears are the gift which love bestows upon the memory of the absent, and they will avail to keep the heart from suffocation.

"It is a curious fact that on the track of knavery a misplaced switch will be found somewhere, and it is sure to wreck the train."

Good pictures are great teachers. A fine work of art hanging in one's house, speaks to him constantly in language of tender beauty that wins its way to the heart.

What is difficulty? Only a word indicating the strength requisite for accomplishing difficult objects; a bugbear to children and fools; only a mere stimulus to men.

False happiness renders men stern and proud, and that happiness is never communicated. True happiness renders them kind and sensible, and that happiness is always shared.

Some eyes threaten like a loaded and leveled pistol, and others are as insulting as hissing or kicking; some have no more expression than blueberries. while others are as deep as a well which you can fall into.

HUGGING SOCIABLES.

The hugging sociables which were started in Somerset county some time ago, for private amusement and profit, have taken a different turn in Bergen county, a church at Englewood, in that county, having stated them for the purpose of swelling its exchequer. The plan is simply to charge the men so much for kissing and hugging the sisters. The following rate of charges is very reasonable and just:

Ten cents for kissing a girl between fifteen and twenty; five cents extra for hugging.

Five cents for kissing a girl between twenty and thirty; five cents extra for hugging.

Over thirty, five cents all around.

For kissing a young widow, twenty-five cents; hugging, ten cents extra.

For kissing a married lady, fifty cents; hugging, twenty-five cents extra.

This new plan works like a charm, the receipts being quite large, while the sisters are made supremely happy and the young men—well, they over-exert themselves sometimes but they are anxious to have them kept up.

NEW MUSIC.
48 CHOICE PIECES
For 50 CENTS.
Every number of Richardson's Musical Hours contains 12 choice pieces, by the best composers of America and Europe. The monthly is elegantly printed, has an engraved cover in two colors, and is an "ornament to any Piano." There are no advertisements scattered through the pages, but the music is entirely separate, and these can be bound at any time into a book. The selections comprise Songs with Chorus, Ballads, Comic Songs, Waltzes, Polkas, Galops, Schottisches, Marches, Mazurkas, Nocturnes, &c., &c., all of which can be played on the Piano or Organ. In fact just the pieces you would purchase at the Music Stores for 25 or 40 cents each. Now we have sold many thousand single numbers at 25 cts. each, but in order that every player in the United States and Canada may see the Magazine and judge of its merits, we will send it postpaid four months for only 50 Cents. Each number contains 12 35c. pieces; thus you receive 48 pieces for only 50 cents (cash or stamps.) Eight months (96 pieces) for $1. Owing to the expensive manner in which Musical Hours is issued, we cannot afford to send "sample copies."

CAUTION!

The undersigned would caution the public against using or sinking driven wells under Nelson W. Green's patent, unless the same are put down by him, as all parties using the same otherwise put down, or sinking such wells, will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law, he having the exclusive right to sink driven wells in Plainfield. The following is a decision recently rendered by Judge Benedict, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Wm. D. Andrews, owner of a patent granted to Col. Nelson W. Green, for a driven well, sued Thos. A. Carman some time ago to restrain him from the use of the patent in the manufacture of a similar well. The testimony filed over one thousand pages and counsel were over two years in examining before Judge Benedict in Brooklyn. The patent is worth a million dollars. The well is an air-tight iron tube, driven into the ground until it reaches water-bearing stratum. An air pump is screwed on the top of the tube, and the other end is of steel, made sharp and perforated. Many thousands of the wells are in use. Carman is accused of using a similar well. Counsel for the defense contended that the patent was merely a new plan of more easily reaching the water bearing strata, and could not be held patentable. Judge Benedict held that the idea of forcing water from the earth into a well pit by artificial means was new, but was not patentable, but that the method by which the idea is made available was patentable. He decided that the infringement had been clearly proved.

Would call the attention of the public to their New Styles of
PARLOR STOVES,
Of original designs, superior make and finish, with the latest improvements. Special attention is invited to the
Astral and Lagrand
as being the best of this class. Their
Parlor Heaters
are perfect in construction, easily managed and warranted to give satisfaction. Attention is also called to their different kinds of
Cooking Stoves & Ranges
Of the former, their
"Plainfield Cook,"
With heavy durable castings, and extra large oven and low price, is well worthy of inspection. Of the Ranges their Sunshine Hot Closet Range
has superior Cooking and Baking qualities, having a reputation equal to the best in Market. Their cheaper kinds, by name—CLARION, ALPINE, MAYFLOWER and BEAUTY, (the last can be furnished with Stevens' celebrated grate) have been well tested and stand No. 1 with those having them in use.
They are Sole Agents for the justly celebrated
Stag's Head Double Elevated Oven
RANGE. Other elevated oven Ranges have been tak n out and the Stag's Head put in on account of their superior qualities.

Smalley's Defiance Asparagus.
NEW VARIETY.
The merits and claims of the "Defiance," are as follows: It is earlier, a larger grass, softer, more tender, free from wood, the flavor sweet and very delicate, far superior to all other varieties: It will produce double that of the "Colossal" and can cut it longer. It will continue to grow longer than any other sorts. It has been tested for the past three years. I know my roots and seeds to be strictly pure, as I am the sole originator of it; shall not put any seed in the market this year, as I intend planting it myself. It is the best Asparagus grown, either for private use or for market. We would recommend it in preference to all others. Price $2 per 100, and $15 per 1000. No charge for boxes or packing.—Purchasers pay their express. Orders must be accompanied by a remittance, or satisfactory reference. Will be sent by express C. O. D.
ABRAHAM SMALLEY, Bound Brook, N. J.
We, the undersigned, have tested the above variety of Asparagus, and unhesitatingly recommend it as all that is claimed for it, in fact it is a marvel in the shape of this delicious vegetable:

ABOUT PRINTERS.

I wished I was a printer,
I really do, indeed;
It seems to me that printers
Get everything they need—
(Except money.)

They get the largest and the best
Of everything that grows,
And get free into circuses,
And other kinds of shows—
(By paying an equivalent.)

At ladies' fairs they're almost hugged
By pretty girls who know
That they will praise up everything
The ladies have to show—
(That's so.)

And then they get a blow-out free
At every party feed,
And the reason is because they write,
And other people read,
(That's what's the matter.)

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

"ROAMING ROBERT."

The wild, ungovernable passion a barber has for trimming your hair! On the fourth of December I was in Boston thinking about a lecture I was to deliver in the evening, and so badly scared that I couldn't remember the subject nor what it was about. I went into a Tremont St. "Institute of Facial Manipulation and Tonsorial Decoration" and inquired for the professor who occupied the chair for Medieval Shaving and Nineteenth Century Shampoo. One of the junior members of the faculty who was brushing an undergraduate's coat, pointed me to a chair, and I climbed in. When the performance was about concluded, the barber said to me:

"Have your hair trimmed, sir?"

I believed not.

"Needs it very badly, sir," he said, "looks very ragged."

I never argue with a barber. I said "all right, trim it a little, but don't make it any shorter."

He immediately trimmed all the curl out of it. I never discovered this myself until a few months ago, and then I was very much surprised. I discovered it by looking at my lithograph.

Well, anyhow, he trimmed it.

On the 6th of December I was at Bath, Maine. Again I was shaved, and again the barber implored me to let him trim my hair. When I answered him that it had been trimmed only two days before, he spitefully asked where it was done. I told him and he gave expression to a burst of sarcastic laughter.

"Well, well, well," he said at last, "so you let them trim your hair in Boston? Well, well. Now you look like a man who has been around the world enough to know better than that."

Then he affected to examine a lock or two very particularly and sighed heavily.

"Dear, dear," he said, "I don't know, really, if I could do anything with that hair or not; it's too bad."

Well, his manner frightened me, and I told him to go ahead and trim it, but please not make it any shorter.

"No," he said, "oh no, it wasn't necessary to cut it any shorter, it was really too short now, but it did need trimming."

So he "trimmed" it, and when I faced the Rockland audience that night, I looked like a prize fighter.

In four days from that time I was sitting in the chair of a barber down in New York State. He shaved me in grateful silence, and then thoughtfully run his fingers over my lonely hair.

"Trim this hair a little, sir?" he said; "straighten it up about the edges?"

I meekly told him I had it trimmed twice during the preceding week, and I was afraid it was getting too short for Winter wear.

"Yes," he said, "he didn't know but what it was pretty short, but you didn't need to cut it any shorter to trim it. It was in a very bad, ragged shape at the ends."

I remained silent and obstinate, and he asked me where I had it trimmed last. I told him, and he burst into a shout of laughter that made the windows rattle.

"What's the matter, Jim?" inquired an assistant partner down the room, holding his patient in the chair by the nose.

Jim stifled his laughter and replied:

"This gentleman had his hair trimmed down in Maine."

There was a general burst of merriment all over the shop, and the apprentice laid down the brush he was washing and came over to look at the Maine cut, that he might never forget it. I surrendered. "Trim it a little, then," I groaned, "but in the name of humanity, don't cut it any shorter."

"No," the barber said, "he wouldn't make it a hair's breadth shorter."

When I left that shop, if it hadn't been for my ears, my hat would have fallen clear down to my shoulders. When I reached the hotel, everybody started, and a couple of men got up and read a hand bill on the wall descriptive of a convict who had recently escaped from Sing Sing, and looked from the bill to myself very intently. That night several of the audience drew revolvers as I came out on the platform.

Then I went to Amsterdam, New York. The barber of that sleepy village, who, in the interval of his other duties acts as Mayor of the town and edits the local papers, undertook to shave me with a piece of hoop iron he pulled out of his boot leg. When I resisted, he went out into the kitchen and came back with a kitchen knife and can opener, and he began the massacre, remarking incidentally, that he used to keep a sharp spoke-shave for his particular customers, but he had lost it. Then he said my hair needed trimming, very badly. I protested that it was impossible, it had been trimmed three times within ten days and was as short now as a business man on the first of January.

"Oh," he said, "it wasn't too short, and besides, there was no style about it at all." He could give it some shape, however, he said, without making it any shorter.

So I surrendered and told him to shape it up. And if that fore-doomed, abandoned, Amsterdam son of an oakum picker, did'nt go out in the wood shed and come back with a rusty old horse-rasp and begin to file away what little hair I had left. He allowed a few threads and patches to remain however, clinging here and there to my scalp in ghostly holiness. I rather feared that my appearance that evening would create a panic, but it did not. I observed that the majority of the audience had their heads "shaped up" after the same manner, and were rather pleased with my conformity to the local custom and style.

Well, I got along to Corry, Pennsylvania, rushed in for a shave, and got it in one time and two motions.

"Hair trimmed, sir?" the barber said.

I supposed he was speaking sarcastically, and so I laughed, but very feebly, for I was getting to be a little sensitive on the subject of my hair, or rather my late hair. But he repeated his question and said that it needed trimming very badly. I told him that was what ailed it; it had been trimmed to death; why I said my hair had been trimmed five times during the past thirteen days. And I was afraid it wouldn't last much longer.

"Well," he said, "it was hardly the thing for a man of my impressive appearance, who would naturally attract attention the moment I entered a room (I have to stand on my tip toes and hold on with both hands to look over the back of a car seat), to go around with such a head of hair, when he could straighten it out for me in a minute."

I told him to go ahead, and closed my eyes and wondered what would come next.

That fellow took a pair of dentist's forceps, and "pulled" every lock of hair I had left.

"There," he said proudly, "now when your hair grows it will grow out even."

I was a little dismayed at first when I looked at my glistening poll, but after all it was a relief to know the end was reached, and nobody could torment me again to have my hair trimmed for several weeks. But when I got shaved at Ashtabula, the barber insisted on putting up the holes and giving my head a coat of shellac. I yielded and my head looked like a varnished globe with the maps left off. Two days afterward I sat in a barber chair at Mansfield. The barber shaved me silently. Then he paused with a bottle poised in his hand and said:

"Shampoo?"

I answered with a look. Then he oiled my hairless globe and bent over it for a moment with a hair brush, then he said:

"On which side do you part your hair?"

WEARY WIVES AND UNDOMESTIC HUSBANDS.

It has been said that the reason why children of the present day are less joyous than those of the past is that they are unwelcomed by their mothers. To some extent this is no doubt unhappily true; but for so monstrous and unnatural a thing one involuntarily looks about for some palliating reason. Perhaps it would not be amiss to ask if the father of today, immersed in their business, their pleasures, or their ambitions, do not allow the burdens of life to press so unequally and heavily on the shoulders of mothers as to make the life which should be so joyous and blessed, one of pain and discouragement, and weariness. Is it not true, to a great extent, that the enjoyments and recreations of the father of a family lie much oftener outside of his own threshold than formerly? Is it not too often for him only a place to eat, and sleep, and remain in of a rainy evening, or when there happens to be nowhere else to go? If he has an extra twenty dollars to spend, does he not too often prefer to invest in a luxurious dinner or supper with Joe This or Tom That, than in any diversion or pleasure in which his wife or their children could share?

Is he quick, as he should be, to mark the languid, or falling step, and suggest the well timed and saving reprieve? Because she is too weary and discouraged to complain, is he not too readily satisfied that she is quite contented with the "all work and no play" monotony of her lot? When she has been a close prisoner day after day, does he think, as he should, how invigorating to her would be a little out of door, fresh air pleasure, in the way of riding or walking? Is he not more likely to resent the accumulating of nervousness, whose finale is "low spirits," than to soothe, or pity, or seek a remedy? For one, we can not join those who have only harsh words and harsh judgments for these overtasked house mothers. We blame them not that they shrink from any addition to their unshared cares. We can understand well the dispiriting effect of never being able with the best intentions and most strenuous endeavors, to accomplish any day what is the necessary and pressing work of the day. We can understand how unrefreshing must be the snatched sleep, almost grudged, when so much work remains to be done. We can understand how morbid and wretched a mother may become, as day after day drags on and health fails; and how the grave may almost be longed for, to attain that rest for which she looks vainly here.

As soon should we think of blaming the fever patient for his raging thirst as such a woman for "despondency" or "discouragement." Pity and love are the medicines she needs; sad indeed is it when the voice which of all others at such times should be sweetest and tenderest is either harsh or silent.

Sad indeed is it, when nightfall comes, and the little feet that hasten to welcome "father" are turned slowly back to "mother," or to the "nursery." Pitiful, when he is either too indolent, or too dignified, or too heartless, to share the little innocent joys which make the sunshine of his children's lives. Pitiful, the sad smile with which such an unhappy mother seeks to appease their hungry hearts, like the drops of blood with which the pelican from its own breast feeds its young.

This is a painful picture to look upon; but not for that reason should it be curtained from view. It still remains true that on many a mother's gravestone might be written: "Died for want of a little love and care."

CELLULOID.

"It seems to me," remarked a gentleman in New York the other day, "that about everything we have now, except what we eat, is made out of celluloid." An investigation of the subject almost tends to persuade one that this statement is scarcely exaggerated. Although celluloid was invented nine or ten years ago (by two brothers named Hyatt), its perfected manufacture has been regularly in progress for only about five years, and it is considered to be still in its infancy; yet immense quantities of the substance are produced, and is coverted into a wonderful variety of forms, and new modes of applying it are discovered almost daily.

Celluloid is a composition of fine tissue paper and camphor, treated with chemicals by a patented process. A rather common impression that it contains gun-cotton is a mistake, which arises from confounding it with collodian. Celluloid, it is said, is entirely non-explosive, and burns only when in direct contact with flame. When crude it looks like a transparent gum, and its color is a light yellow-brown. It can be made as hard as ivory, but it is elastic, and can be readily modeled into every conceivable form. With equal ease it can be colored in any tint desired, the dye running through the entire substance, and being, therefore, ineffaceable.

As a close imitation of ivory, celluloid has made great inroads in the business of the ivory manufacturers. Its makers assert that in durability it is much superior to ivory, as it sustains hard knocks without injury, and it is not discolored by age or use. Great quantities are used for piano and organ keys, to the manufacture of which one company is devoted.

Celluloid can be mottled so as to imitate the finest tortoise-shell, and its elasticity renders it less liable to breakage. In this form it is used like imitation ivory, for combs, card-cases, cigar-cases, match-boxes, pocketbooks, napkin rings, jewelry and all sorts of fancy articles. The substance is employed for similar purposes as a good imitation of malachite and also of amber. It is made into mouthpieces for pipes, cigar-holders and musical instruments, and is used as the material of flutes, flageolets and drum-sticks. For drumheads it is said to be superior to parchment, and it is not affected by moisture in the atmosphere.

As a substitute of porcelain, celluloid is used for the heads of dolls, which can be hammered against a hard floor without danger of fracture. Beautiful jewelry is made of it in imitation of the most elaborately carved coral, reproducing all the shades of the genuine article. Most of the coral tints are bright or dark red, however, as the makers, strange to say, have found that excellent copies of the costly pink coral are not in popular demand.

Within the last year and a half another branch of the celluloid manufacture has been developed which promises to reach enormous proportions. This is the use of celluloid as a substitute for linen or paper in the making of shirt-cuffs, collars, etc. It has the appearance of well-starched linen, is sufficiently light and flexible, does not rinkle, is not affected by perspiration and can be worn for months without injury. It becomes soiled much less readily than linen, and when dirty is quickly cleaned by the application of a little soap and water with a sponge or rag. For travelers and for wear in hot weather the celluloid linen is especially convenient. It has lately been much improved by the introduction of real linen between two thicknesses of celluloid. Shirt fronts have been made of it, as well as cuffs and collars, and it is believed that these will prove equally desirable.

AN AWFUL DEAF MAN.

A stylish young lady of about eighteen years, desiring to accommodate a friend, took the baby out for an airing. She was wheeling it up and dawn the walk, when an oldish man, very deaf, came along and inquired for a certain person supposed to live on that street. She nearly yelled her head off trying to answer him, and he looked around, caught sight of the baby, and said:

"Nice child, that. I suppose you feel proud of him?"

"It isn't mine!" she yelled at him.

"Boy, eh? Well, he looks just like you anyhow."

"It isn't mine!" she cried again, somewhat louder, but he nodded his head, and continued:

"Twins, eh? Where's the other one, then?"

Despairing of making him understand by word of mouth, she pointed to the baby, at herself, and then shook her head.

"Yes, yes, I see. T'other twin in the house. Their father is fond of them, of course?"

She turned the cab and hurried the other way, but he followed and asked:

"Do they kick round much o' nights?"

"I tell you tain't mine!" she shouted, looking very red in the face.

"Ah, I think you're wrong there," he answered. "Children brought up on the bottle are apt to pine and die."

She started on a run for the gate, but before she could open it, he came up and asked:

"Have to spank 'em once in a while," I reckon?"

She made about twenty gestures in a minute, and he helped the cab through the gate, and said:

"Our children were all twins, and I'll send my wife down to give you some advice. You see—"

But she picked up a flower-pot and threw it at him with considerable force.

He jumped back, and she entered the house, he called out:

"Hope insanity won't break out among the twins."

ADVERTISING.

In a little book published many years ago, entitled, "How to Get Money," I find the following remarks on advertising:

Whatever your occupation or calling may be, it needs support from the public; advertise it thoroughly and efficiently in some shape or other that will arrest public attention. There may be occupations that do not require advertising; but I cannot well conceive what they are. Men in business will sometimes tell you they have tried advertising, and that it did not pay. This is only when advertising is done sparingly and grudgingly. Some say they cannot afford to advertise. They mistake; they cannot afford not to advertise.

If that was true forty years ago, it is still more forcibly true to-day. Business has thrown off many of the forms that hampered men engaged in it. Retailers no longer tie their trade to one house, nor expect to be personally acquainted with each one of their customers. People buy of the party who offer the best bargains, be he friend or stranger. Although the young firm of Sharp & Beatem are selling goods very low, it is not known around the town, and they have no trade. Slow & Steady have a good stock, are well known, and claim to sell as cheap as the cheapest. Sharp & Beatem must do something to inform the public that they have a better stock of goods and are selling cheaper than Slow & Steady; they must advertise.

To-morrow it will be heralded about the city that Sharp & Beatem are selling goods cheaper than any firm in the city. People will wonder if it is true; they will call "just to price things," buy much or little, and go their way. Slow & Steady notice that a great deal of their old trade is going across the way; what shall they do to regain it? They conclude they must advertise; and in this way advertising is an absolute necessity. To gain customers we must advertise; we must advertise to keep them. We must create a demand for new goods by advertising their merits: we must hold the sale of old goods by keeping their goods qualities before the public.

Every business should be advertised, no matter where or what it is. If a moderate custom was sure among a circle of friends and acquaintances in a given locality, it would still be to the merchant's interest to advertise and increase his trade. The main expense of doing business will be about so much, be the amount transacted greater or less. A large business can be done at a much less percentage of cost than a small one. A man can better afford to sell one hundred thousand dollars' worth of goods at a profit of ten per cent., than fifty thousand at fifteen per cent. A merchant may expect to hold trade by selling low, but he must have first made it known in some way that he is ready to sell low, or he will not get the customers.

Ways of advertising are as numerous as the busy brain of man can invent.

Posters on the wall are good, but they are there only a few days, and then they are covered by another advertiser. Signs nailed to trees along the country roads are effectual while they last, but they soon become old or are rendered of no value by a dozen other things being nailed over and under them.

The most unmitigated humbugs in soliciting advertisements are the men who have hotel cards, depot cards, business cards, maps, and similar abominations. Men will invest in these wild-cat enterprises who think an advertisement in the daily or weekly newspaper is so much money thrown away.

A retailer should advertise in every legitimate way. If by circulars they should contain but a very few lines, and ought to have something about them to attract the reader. But the retailer should invest ninety-nine dollars in the columns of his local papers to every one that he expends for circulars, handbills and cards. His name should be constantly before the public. But a small card of half a dozen lines, paid for by the year, and never changed, is of doubtful value.—Extract from "On the Road to Riches."

Young scions, unless they do well, should be treated liberally with whacks.

Cabbage heads must be kept apart as much as possible. They are troublesome else.

Adam's apples should be protected during these damp evenings with a covering of silk.

Beans at this season do best planted in an earthen receptacle, with a mulching of swine, and set in an iron or brick hothouse.

Send your old sheep to the butcher's. Spring lamb commands high prices. The same as to fowl. Those done laying are in good demand as chickens.

Old stories of mammoth squashes and cucumbers should now be dug about and heavily mulched, in readiness for transplanting in the newspapers in the fall.

There is no crop, probably, more thrifty than the fowl crop. It grows rapidly during the early spring, and arrived at maturity requires no dressing.

Now top-dress your lawns; the more odorous the dressing, the better your neighbors will love you, and therefore the more efficacious will it be for producing an abundant grass crop.

Canker worms do best on apple trees. The trunks of the trees should be protected with some soft substance, to prevent the bark injuring the larvæ as they ascend in the early spring.

The affectionate pair, which have been kept under glass during the winter, may now be set out with impunity during moonlit evenings. They do well trellised on the front gate a few weeks later.

Farmers would do well to employ a bootblack on the farm, as their boots are apt to become soiled while traversing their land, and the farmer, of all men, should present at all times a cleanly appearance.

Now shut up your hens. Don't let them out till they can be of service. Wait till your neighbor has planted his garden, when they will be found excellent helps to bring things up to the surface.

Destroy all the tobacco weeds possible. This is usually done by burning; some, however, adopt another mode. This is the comminuting of the weed between the teeth to a fine pulp. Though somewhat laborious, this method is efficacious.

If any wild oats of last season's sowing spring crop, they should be immediately plowed under. When the sod is well rotted, a second plowing, followed by rigid harrowing, must precede planting. High clover will then do well.

THANKS TO CONGRESS.

The Democratic members of Congress have certainly shown commendable zeal in endeavoring to secure for the people freedom of the ballot, the right to vote as individual judgment deems proper, unmolested by arbitrary power, whether of the bayonet or bludgeon, and should such laudable efforts be thwarted for the time being by the gentleman now occupying the White House, the Democratic Congressional majority will nevertheless have earned and surely receive the thanks of every Constitution supporting citizen throughout the land.

Chandler and Blaine may influence the veto of laws enacted by a Democratic Congress for the securement of free elections, but the day approaches when the popular voice will demand the sovereignty of rights, unprincipled partisans, for corrupt purposes, are plotting to weaken or destroy.

It is the same old contest of civil liberty against mercenary domination, and as in previous battles of the kind, victory will again be on the side of Democracy, because the people of this country are not prepared to forfeit that glorious heritage the Declaration of Independence designed they and their posterity should forever enjoy.

Congress in appropriating money for the government service incorporates therewith the just proviso that armed soldiers and commissioned partisans shall not control elections, which the incumbent of the Presidential chair doggedly refuses to approve.

Congress represents the will of the people, the Powers ruling in the White House do not.

The Democratic majority in Congress yield implicit obedience to the mandates of the Constitution, the other side aim for the success of Party regardless of means.

There abides the difference.

The watchword remains to be Democracy and the People!

On motion of General Johnston, of Virginia, the great military chieftian of the defunct Southern Confederacy, the House of Representatives adjourned over Friday last as, to quote his expression, "it was eminently proper that members of the House should join the rest of the community in doing honor to the dead whose graves were to be decorated." And yet, the Republican party leaders are constantly defaming citizens of the United States who honestly seek—to forget the asperities of war and make permanent the blessings of peace.

The manufacture of ice has at last been reduced to a science, and the South is no longer dependent upon another section for a supply of this Summer necessity. The city of Atlanta, Ga., has three factories in operation and another just ready to start, which will make fifty tons of ice a day, and the price has been reduced to a cent a pound delivered in small quantities, and as low as fifty cents per hundred at wholesale.

Judge Christian of the Hustings Court, Richmond, Va., has addressed a reply to the colored citizens who petitioned him to summon as jurors colored men to act on cases of colored men accused of crimes, refusing to do so. SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

Two important decisions affecting Plainfield, were rendered by the Supreme Court at Trenton, on Thursday (yesterday), one being the matter of "No. 2 Engine Co. vs. The Plainfield Fire Department," the other that of Bolton vs. Good, as to who was City Judge of Plainfield. The public are too familiar with the cases for us to enter into a detail of their circumstances. As we have all along predicted the "No. 2" case resulted in a decision in favor of the Board of Fire Commissioners, who, having the power to create, certainly should have power to dissolve. The decision of Judge Dixon was to dismiss the certiorari, with cost, on the ground that the Fire Commissioners have entire control over the engines and property of the department of the city. Quite correct. And now that this matter is settled, let us offer a word of advice. There are many good men, and brave firemen, who were members of No. 2 Company when the Board disbanded them. Now let these members apply to the Commissioners for the formation of a new Co., composed of said members, and afterward let the Board be more careful in passing applicants for membership to that or any other Company.—By that means the Department may be brought back to its old and honored standing.

In the case of Bolton vs. Good, Judge Van Syckel decides "that in the case of contest for the office of City Judge which arose on a motion by Mr. Bolton for a rule to show cause why a writ of quo warranto should not issue, the Court refused to grant permission that the writ should issue and dismissed the proceeding." This virtually settles the matter and Judge Good is serene.—Suydam & Jackson were Counsel for Good in the interest of this city, and County Attorney F. Bergen, of Elizabeth, for plaintiff, Bolton.

PLEURO PNEUMONIA.

General Sterling has made a report to Governor McClellan of the work done by himself and assistants last week in the matter of extirpating pleuro pneumonia from among the cattle of this State, of which the following is a synopsis:

The number of cattle inspected in Hudson, Union, Middlesex, Monmouth, Bergen and Essex counties were 73 herds, containing 349 cattle. Only five were found to be sick. This was an increase of 4 herds, 22 cattle, and of 11 new cases from the week previous.—Fifteen cases are reported suspicious and will be re-inspected in a few days for the purpose of determining whether they will develop the disease.

Dr. Corlies reports having examined the cows of Mr. John Masterson, No. 352 First street, Jersey City, and found them confined in a small stable. One was suffering from the disease, and as there was no opportunity of isolating it, it was killed, Mr. Masterson receiving fifteen dollars therefor, and the premises were properly disinfected.

"I have received a report from Dr. Miller of the re-inspection of Mr. Wm. P. Walton's herd, at Dutch Neck, Mercer County, in which he states that on May 19th he proceeded to his farm and found the farmers aroused in consequence of his herd being quarantined. Mr. Walton was advised by a non-qualified practitioner that his herd was perfectly healthy and that no notice need be taken of the quarantine order. After a careful inspection, I found four sick with pleuro pneumonia, and three more suspected cases, and so reported to Mr. Walton, who was inclined to think something else the matter. Several of the neighbors denounced my action as unwarrantable, and that Mr. Doyle's knowledge was superior to mine, and should be so considered. In order to show the correctness of my diagnosis, and convince them that the State was employing competent surgeons, I made a proposition to kill any one of the four diseased cattle he might select, which he accepted. Accordingly, a white steer was destroyed, and upon a post mortem examination I found the left lung entirely unsound, and which weighed fifteen pounds and a half.—The right lung was in a normal condition, and weighed two and three-quarter pounds. The steer had been eating heartily just before the killing, and as they had insisted that the animal was perfectly well, they were nonplussed after the results of the killing. Mr. Walton said his advisers had led him to think he had been imposed upon, but he is now satisfied to have any thing done that might be suggested."

Dr. Miller also reports the herd of Mr. Conover Robinson, of West Freehold, Monmouth county, to be infected; he has five bad cases, and lost two cows, one on May 13th, and the other on May 16th.

Dr. Rogers reports the case of Eli Pierson, of Cranford, Union county, as having them sick, with one death, and one death to occur soon.

A tale of horror comes from Newark, Vermont, where some thirty-seven school children were attacked with a malady after drinking water from a brook into which a farmer had thrown the carcasses of a horse and some sheep, also the tops of potato vines which had been sprinkled with Paris Green. Eleven of the children died, one family losing five, another three and another two. Mrs. Aldrich, who has come insane in consequence lost her entire family of five children. A medical examination and investigation of the cases, resulted in showing that diptheria was the cause of the terrible mortality, aggravated by poisoned water. Diptheria in a mild form had been in the vicinity, and four cases were known to exist, so that water poisoned by barnyard drainage and putrid carcasses of dead animals was just the thing to feed the disease into the development of the terrible disaster.

The Annual Convention of the German Roman Catholic Societies of the United States, were in session, at Newark, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The object of the Convention was to discuss measures to promote the interests of their benevolent, religious and educational projects, including the care of immigrants. A procession was formed on Monday morning which marched through the principal streets. Bishop Corrigan declined to allow the Ancient Order of Hibernians to participate in the parade, as that organization is not recognized as a church organization.

The Pennsylvania railroad folks have made satisfactory arrangements with the New Jersey Central railroad authorities for the necessary connections and rates for travel between Philadelphia and the sea-side resorts from Long Branch to Sea Girt. Every year better arrangements are made for Summer travel to the sea-side and this year will be no exception.

In a letter to the President, Secretary McCrary resigns his position as Secretary of War and his appointment as United States Circuit Judge for the Eighth Circuit, to succeed Judge Dillon, has been definitely arranged.—The precise date for Mr. McCrary's retirement from the Cabinet has not yet been decided on, but it will probably take place early in September.

The rumors of the leasing of the New Jersey Central Railroad to the Reading R. R. Company, seems to be premature and unfounded. There can possibly be no lease of the kind made while the affairs of the road is in the hands of a Receiver, and under control of the Court of Chancery. To make such a lease the office of Receiver must be abolished, and the Company be again put in possession of its property. Central stock is looming up, and we have no fears but that the road will prosper and keep up its name of "the best managed road in the country."

At New Brunswick the New Jersey Episcopal Convention closed its sessions Wednesday. The Bishop's address gave a cheering view of the condition and progress of the diocese. The confirmations during the last year were more in number than in any year previous. An anonymous gift of eight thousand dollars has been presented to the fund for aged and infirm clergy. The Standing Committee was re-elected with the exception of Rev. Dr. Stevens Parker, who has accepted the Presidency of Racine College, Wisconsin. The members of the Standing Committee are; Clerical Rev. Dr. Alfred Stubbs, Rev. J. F. Garrison, M. D., Rev. N. Pettit and Rev. L. W. Norton. The lay members are Hon. A. Browning, R. P. Conover and Samuel K. Wilson, Esqrs., and Hon. Benjamin Williamson.

The Convention adjourned to meet next year in Burlington.

Annual Report

Of the Secretary of the "Ladies' Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg Hospital" at Plainfield, N. J.

The "Ladies' Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg Hospital" enters to-day upon the second year of its existence, having been organized temporarily in March, 1878, and regularly on the 28th of May of the same year. Although the long cherished hopes of having the institution, so much needed in the city of Plainfield, erected, or at least, building commenced in the course of the present year, have not been realized, I believe that I can congratulate the members upon the fact, that during the last twelve months considerable progress has been made, and that, looking upon the financial aspect of affairs, the final success of the proposed undertaking seems now almost assured. Quite a respectable sum has been added to the general fund of the Society, and it is a gratifying feature that a considerable portion of such has been secured through the unwearied efforts of the Ladies' Board.

Under their management several entertainments were arranged, which happily proved a great success. They consisted of a "lawn party" on July 11th, 1878, at the Seminary grounds, which were kindly offered for this purpose by our respected President, and a "dramatic performance" on February 13th, 1879, at Assembly Hall, for which members of the "Plainfield Reading Society" volunteered their valuable assistance. The funds realized on these two occasions amounted respectively to $331.71 and $[illegible].75, or a total of $630.96. In addition to these sums the treasurer has received in subscriptions and collected from members for dues and fines, $253.90, so that in all through the influence of this Board, $[illegible] have been received during the past year, and partly placed into the hands of the Board of Governors.

The list of members on the 28th of May, 1878, comprised 21 names. Of these 6 have since resigned whilst 11 have been admitted, so that the "Ladies' Board" now consists of 26 members. A new feature, lately introduced, is the admittance of associate members under certain restrictions, who pay dues but are excused from regular attendance of meetings.

As regards the prospects of building the intended Hospital, it appears that no suitable lot has as yet been secured. A site, which was to be presented to the Society, unfortunately was situated rather too near the railroad track, and the title of the property also being defective, no further action has been taken. It is to be hoped that another lot may soon be found in a suitable location, and that although the original plan of building a hospital not exceeding the cost of $2,000 has apparently been abandoned by the Board of Governors, active operations will begin at an early day.

The officers of this Board elected on the 28th of May, 1878, for the past year, were the following:

President—Miss K. E. Kenyon.
Vice-President—Mrs. Geo. Lindabury.
Treasurer—Mrs. Dr. Burlingham.
Secretary—Miss E. Schipper.

[Those officers were re-elected for the ensuing year.—Ed.]

It is but just to say, that they have faithfully attended to their duties, and entered upon their various labors with all the necessary spirit. The special committees appointed on different occasions, have also acquitted themselves favorably of their arduous task.

In conclusion let us all unite in the wish for the further prosperity of our praiseworthy enterprise, and the hope, that the erection of the "Muhlenberg Hospital" in the city of Plainfield, the want of which was so much felt during last Winter, may soon be an accomplished fact!

EMILIE SCHIPPER,
Secretary.

WESTFIELD WIRES.

On Wednesday night, May 28th, the barn of Chas. Marsh, about half a mile of our village was broken into and a fine young Hambletonian horse, buggy and harness were stolen. The thief was traced to New York, where all track of him was lost. Mr. Marsh has offered a reward for the recovery of the property.

On Friday and Saturday evening last the "Guy Family" gave an entertainment at Lyceum Hall, to crowded houses.—Everybody was pleased with the character of the show.

Friday, decoration-day, the 10.30 train from New York arriving at Westfield at 11.30, was delayed over an hour by the breaking down of the engine; the conductor having to telegraph to Plainfield for an extra engine to take the train to its destination.

The ladies of the Baptist Church held an ice cream and strawberry festival in Lyceum Hall last evening. It was largely attended, and proved remunerative to the church.

A party of young men of our village, created a disgraceful disturbance last Saturday evening, and kept it up until nearly two o'clock on Sunday morning, by their drunken songs; shouting and screaming so that it disturbed the sleep of many of our citizens; in fact, one of our residents got so disgusted with them he raised his window and threatened them with his shot gun. Why does not somebody complain to the authorities. The names of the parties are known.

The village drainage committee on subscription have nearly completed their labors, having almost money enough pledged to the amount of the estimate of the improvement. We hope they may soon have the subscription complete, so that the work may go on.

CRANFORD—

The trial of Geo. Schindler for burglary, committed on the night of Feb. 1st, 1879, by breaking and entering the residence of Wm. Brant, an old farmer living in Union township, took place at Elizabeth court house on Wednesday last, J. A. Fay, prosecutor of the pleas, conducted the case on behalf of the State, and Mr. Spencer that of the defence. Henry Smith, one of the parties indicted with Schindler for the crime, who plead guilty of the same, was placed on the witness stand, and gave a detailed account of the whole transaction; his cross-examination by Mr. Spencer did not shake his testimony in the least. After the examination of Mr. Brant by Chief Keron, J. M. C. Marsh and Mr. Irving, the State closed its case. The defence called no witness but defendant himself he denied all knowledge of the crime, and also that he did not know Smith, and never had met him until in jail, but admitted after a severe cross-examination by the prosecutor that he wrote a letter to his brother Jas. that Smith was a fool for not running away. Mr. Spencer consumed about an hour in summing up the case to the jury. The jury retired at 4.30 P. M., and after being out about half an hour brought in a verdict of guilty, as charged in the indictment. This is the first case of a series of six indictments against the Schindler boys for burglary, breaking and entering and highway robbery, which are to be tried this term.

NORTH PLAINFIELD PARAGRAPHS.

North Plainfield Public School will be closed during the first three days of next week. By a regulation of the State Board of Education the teachers are required to attend the Institute to be held at Somerville, under the direction of the State Superintendent, on the above mentioned days. The school will re-open on Thursday morning the 12th inst.

Ocean Grove is almost entirely a Methodist place, but its neighbor across the lake, Asbury Park, takes in everything and everybody. Mr. Bradley, its leading proprietor, has just given the ground for a Roman Catholic church. The building will be erected at once, under the charge of Father Walsh, of Long Branch.

ENJOY LIFE.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means for enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worried out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint is the direct cause of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Billiousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. For sale at Voorhees' Drug Store, Front Street.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver, or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR MEDICINE.

The Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World! An Effectual Specific for all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen.

Regulate the Liver and prevent Chills and Fever, Malarious Fevers, Bowel Complaints, Restlessness, Jaundice and Nausea.

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

BAD BREATH!

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common as bad breath, and in nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be so easily corrected if you will take Simmons' Liver Regulator. Do not neglect so sure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your Appetite, Complexion and General Health.

PILES!

How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden and robbing existence of all pleasure owing to the secret suffering from Piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. Simmons' Liver Regulator is no drastic violent purge, but a gentle assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION!

Should not be regarded as a trifling ailment—in fact nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulation from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a costive habit of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE!

This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache.

AN ORDINANCE

To amend an ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to License Inns and Taverns and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors," adopted February 22d, 1878, and re-adopted March 8th, 1878, notwithstanding the objections of the Mayor.

The Inhabitants of the city of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. That Section 12th of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance to License Inns and Taverns and to regulate and prohibit the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors," adopted February 22, 1878 and re-adopted March 8th, 1878, notwithstanding the objections of the Mayor be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Section 12. No person or persons licensed under this Ordinance shall, between the hours of twelve o'clock at night and six o'clock the following morning or upon the first day of the week commonly called Sunday, sell or offer or expose for sale, or in such or knowingly permit to be sold, offered or exposed for sale or furnished to any person or persons any spirituous or fermented liquors of any kind or any composition thereof, or at any time sell, offer or expose for sale or furnish, or knowingly permit to be offered or exposed for sale, sold or furnished any such liquors or any compound thereof to any minor, intoxicated or weak-minded person, nor shall such licensed person or persons at any time [illegible] or permit any game or device to be played, practiced or carried on within such licensed place, or in any shed, out-house or other place in the occupancy of such licensed person, billiards or nine-pins if named in such license alone excepted, or any betting or gaming for money or anything of any value whatever and any person convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this section shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars or imprisoned for any term not exceeding sixty days, either or both in the discretion of the court."

Section 2. That the Ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to amend an Ordinance in relation to Inns and Taverns, adopted February 22, 1878 and re-adopted March 8, 1878," which was adopted April 21, 1879 and approved April 22, 1879, be and the same is hereby repealed; and all Ordinances and parts of Ordinances so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this Ordinance be and the same are hereby repealed.

Passed June 2, 1879.

Middlesex and Union Counties
Agricultural Association.

By a recent act of the Legislature, the par value of the shares of this Association having been reduced to ten dollars, a sufficient number additional will be issued to defray the expense of improvements contemplated in the erection of buildings, etc., and for establishing annual Fairs for the Counties of Middlesex and Union.

The Grounds are situated on Park Avenue, at Avon Park.

All who are interested in making the proposed enterprise successful are invited to subscribe.

No call for money will be made until 500 shares are subscribed, when a meeting will be called to elect a new Board of Directors.

This is a matter of interest to all the citizens of the two counties, and in order to insure a successful inauguration of a Fair in October the necessary number of shares should be taken promptly.

T. O. DOANE, Chief of the Fire Department, has received his pension from the government for wounds received in action during the late war, being, we believe, the first soldier in this city receiving such award since the passage of the arrears pension act.

FOR some unexplained reason the Georgia Minstrel troupe advertised to appear last Wednesday evening at Vandeventer Hall, failed to put in an appearance. From their actions, we should judge they are a "snide" company and the bill poster is out and injured by their non-appearance.

THE opening day at Manhattan Beach, one of the most popular resorts on Long Island, has been fixed for June 14th, at which time there will be a grand concert by Gilmore's band, electric lights, balloon ascensions, &c. The great cornetist, Levy, has been engaged for the season. Trains leave for the beach from Brooklyn via the N. Y. & Manhattan Beach R. R. Co., and Starin's River & Harbor Transportation Co.

THE following are the names of pupils who have been appointed to take part in the coming commencement of the Plainfield High School:

The Misses Emma L. Cadmus, Anna D. Cooper, Mary Gardner, Julia R. Runyon, Cora B. Smalley, and Masters Felix G. Fezandie, C. Palmer Hall, Jr., Harry C. Munger, Oscar T. Roberts, and Franklin B. Wiley. The Valedictory is assigned to Miss Mary Gardner. The exercises will take place on Thursday evening, June 26th.

A DANCING platform, 30x50 feet in dimention is being erected in a shaded nook at Vail's Spring Grove, on top of the mountain, adjoining Johnston Drive, for the accommodation of the lovers of dancing on the occasion of the Grand Picnic and Flag Presentation by the Plainfield Saenger Bund (Singing Society) on the 16th of June. This picnic will be a memorable one among our German population, and undoubtedly will attract a large assemblage to the grounds on the occasion. The procession alone, of several invited associations, on the morning of the 16th, will be a grand feature of the day. Remember the 16th.

SPRING LAKE, eleven miles below Long Branch, last season gained an enviable notoriety as a summer resort, and this year the large hotels there situated are rapidly filling up with summer boarders. The Lake House is situated within a few yards of the railway station, just at the head of the beautiful Lake from which the resort gains its name. Mr. Henry Abbott, the proprietor, is a gentleman well calculated to keep such a house, being affable and attentive to the wants of his guests. A regular coach is to run during the season from Long Branch to Spring Lake, a distance of eleven miles, with a relay to Asbury Park. By the way, will the gentleman who wrote to Mr. Abbott from Plainfield a short time since, enquiring the rates for summer board at the Lake house, write to that gentleman again? He informs us that the letter was mislaid and he does not recollect the writer's name.

REV. DR. SMITH, former pastor of the Congregational church, visited this city on Tuesday for the purpose of uniting in the holy bonds of matrimony, Miss Agnes Irving to Mr. Albert E. Bushnell, returning immediately to Brooklyn to perform the marriage ceremony for another couple. Truly, the Dr's forte is to make people happy.

THE Mansion House, under the management of Messrs. Young & Co., is becoming very popular. New boarders are daily arriving, both transient and permanent. Mr. Will Roberts, the gentlemanly clerk of the House, attends to the wants of guests in a manner that has made him a great favorite. The bar and billiard rooms, under the management of Mr. E. P. Thorn, is of course, first class. "Ed." always did conduct business on that principle.

MR. GEO. SHEPHERD, a gentleman afflicted with asthma, has been stopping at the residence of Mr. Andrew Cadmus, this city, for several weeks past, with his two daughters, thinking that the change of air would benefit him. On Decoration day, while out riding with his daughters, they observed his head drop forward on his breast, when within a few yards of Mr. C's residence, on their return. An examination showed that he was senseless. He was removed to his room, and a physician summoned, who pronounced the case one of apoplexy. Mr. Shepherd died in a few hours afterward. He was a former resident of Huntington, L. I., and held a position in the custom house, N. Y.

New Jersey Medical Society.

At the meeting of this Society held at the Palisade House, Englewood, which concluded on Wednesday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, A. R. Rogers, Paterson; 1st V. President, A. N. Dougherty, Newark; 2d V. President, L. W. Oakley, Elizabeth; 3d V. President, John W. Snowden, Camden; Corresponding Secretary, William Elmer, Jr., Trenton; Recording Secretary, Wm. Pierson, Jr., Orange; Treasurer, W. W. L. Phillips, Trenton; Standing Committee, S. Wickes, S. Lilly, J. L. Bodine. The next meeting will be held in Princeton, on the fourth Tuesday in May, 1880.

The Organ Concert

In commemoration of the opening of the new Masonic Hall, in Vandeventer's building next Thursday, June 12th, will be a grand affair. The programme will consist of six pieces performed on the organ by Henry Eyre Browne, organist of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, N. Y., four cornet solos by the celebrated Bent Bros. and singing by a lady artist of well-known ability. Arrangements have been made so that 300 persons can be comfortably seated in the Hall. That number of tickets, and no more, will be sold. Already a large number of tickets have been disposed of. There are no reserved seats. The tickets are $1 each.

The Coming Fair!

Everything now points toward the successful termination of a project advanced a few weeks since of establishing Fair Grounds at Plainfield, the stockholders of the Union and Middlesex Agricultural Association being the movers in the matter. Out of the 500 shares of $10 each, asked for, to insure the project a success by holding the first Fair the coming Fall, over 400 have already been subscribed, and the prospect is that more than the original number asked for will be taken. The enterprise is one of great benefit to Plainfield, and we trust in our next issue to announce the whole amount of shares taken and the opening day of the Fair fixed.

Decoration Day at Washington Rock.

We may say the season at this place fairly commenced on the above day. The visitors began to gather at an early hour and during the afternoon the large and beautiful grove presented a cheerful and animated appearance. The "Would Be Glee Club" of Plainfield, held their annual Reception there, which was largely attended. The dancing during the day took place on the pavilion erected on the brow of the mountain, but in the evening was transferred to the large and gaily decorated ball room of the Washington Rock Mountain House. Prof. Frazee furnished the music, not forgetting the fashionable "Pinafore," or his celebrated "Sleighride" quadrille, a very suggestive contrast to the weather which was quite akin to midsummer. A bountiful supper was served up at 7 o'clock P. M., and the dancing was kept up until a late hour. As usual the Messrs. Staats Bros., the proprietors of the place, left nothing undone to make the day and evening enjoyable in every respect. The floral exhibition in the grove is a very pretty feature of the lawn this Summer, while the accessaries in shape of an abundance of rustic seats scattered plentifully around the place, and about the croquet ground and Central Park swings, make the "Rock" particularly enjoyable to visitors.

The entertainment of the "Would Be's," was a most enjoyable one, and the perfectness of all the arrangements reflected great credit upon the Committee having the matter in charge. A number of the invited guests present were from Elizabeth, Rahway, Westfield, New York and other places. The association is composed of some of the best young men of our city.

Reception at the Park House.

The first Reception at the Park House on Thursday evening last, was a brilliant affair. At least 250 invited guests were present, among whom were many of our most wealthy and fashionable citizens. Fine music afforded pleasure to those who loved dancing, which was kept up until about 11 o'clock, when supper was announced, and the guests marched to the large dining rooms, where was spread before them a feast "fit to set before a King." Mr. DeRevere is a splendid caterer, as all present on the occasion proclaimed and will vouch for. The dining-room was tastefully decorated with flowers, &c., as were also the parlors and other rooms in the building. After doing full justice to the good things set before them, and mutual congratulations had been exchanged between host and guests, the dancing hall was once more sought and enjoyment reigned supreme until about 1 o'clock, when most of the guests had departed, congratulating themselves and the proprietor upon the full success of the occasion. The Park House has been re-fitted in a handsome manner by Mr. DeRevere, the present proprietor, and has a large number of boarders. It is announced that a Reception will be given at the Park House every Saturday evening during the present season.

Trotting.

There will be a trot on the race track adjoining Dunn's Club House, near Plainfield, about the 18th of June, for a prize of $100. Entries will close on the 10th. Advertisement of the race will appear in Wednesday's Herald. The track is being put in fine condition. There will also be some fine trotting on the same grounds July 4th.

Election of Officers.

At the annual election for officers of the Muhlenberg Hospital, last week, the following were chosen: President—Bishop Scarborough; 1st Vice President—Nathan Harper; 2nd Vice President—J. M. Whiton; Secretary and Treasurer—W. R. Cock; Board of Managers—Rev. E. M. Rodman, Mayor Harper, William Patterson, J. M. Whiton and Fred. Chamberlain.

Honors for Plainfield.

At a series of Athletic exercises which took place at the residence of Mr. Value, of North Elizabeth, on Decoration day, by the Athletic Club of 1867, Arthur Varian, of the P. A. C's., won the first prize, a silver medal, in the mile walk, Mr. P. H. Moore, of the same club coming in second. Messrs. J. Hervey Doane and A. Hooley, also of the P. A. C., entered for the 100 yard dash, and R. Johnson in the hurdle race. Young Mr. Value was first in the 100 yard dash and Mr. Hooley second.

Fashionable Wedding.

Grace church was the scene of a fashionable gathering on Tuesday evening last, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Addie L. Mayer, daughter of Councilman Gifford Mayer of this city to Mr. Edward L. Vanderhoef, Jr., of N. Y. city. The ceremony was performed by Dean E. M. Rodman, assisted by Wm. A. Leonard, of the Church of the Redeemer, Brooklyn, N. Y. The bride was elegantly attired in brocade and satin, with Duchess lace trimming and orange blossoms. The bridesmaids were Miss Gorman of New York, Belle Rose, of Brooklyn, and Owens, of Bergen Point. The groomsmen were Messrs. Smith, Rice and Adams. After the ceremony a Reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents on Park avenue, at which were invited a large number of our best citizens. The happy couple started on a protracted bridal tour to the Canadas on the 10:41 train.

Young Apollo Club in Pinafore.

Friday evening last, May 30th, the Young Apollo Club again manned the good ship "Pinafore" and made anchor in Vandeventer Hall, "with a change of caste." But the change of caste was not so pre-eminently successful as it might have been. We rather like the boys better than the young ladies (a sad state of affairs but still true) in their respective roles. But some unpropitious destiny made Mr. Drew sick and at very short notice, his brother took his place as "Admiral." This necessitated the removal of "Aunt Penelope," a much to be regretted omission. The acting was good, the chorus singing was excellent, but the solos were hardly up to the scratch. The intense heat of the room was a great drawback to the evening's pleasure. Those who were so fortunate as to obtain seats in the gallery fully realized this. Would it not be a paying investment to remove that gallery? Certainly more comfort could be had, and that is everything in a crowded room.

Personalia.

By referring to the marriage department in this issue, the many friends of Mr. John Prentiss, in this section, will learn that he has committed matrimony. We extend our congratulations to the newly wedded pair.

Mr. L. V. F. Randolph of this city, has been re-elected a Director of the Chicago & Springfield Railroad Company.

Mr. John H. Thomas, a former salesman in Pope Bros. Dry Goods store, this city, and now with Messrs. Stoddard, Duncan & Van Pelt, New Brunswick, in the same line of business, will please accept our thanks for favors received.

Miss May, daughter of Gov. McClellan, was one of the bridesmaids at the Stevens-Alexander wedding in N. Y., on Tuesday.

Mr. H. F. Reynold, proprietor of Reynold's Pharmacy, this city, is stopping at the "Rock House" for his health. The business of the establishment is under the careful supervision of Mr. Alex Mallison.

Dr. Wm. H. Voorhees and family have taken up their residence for the summer at Asbury Park, where Mr. V. has a branch drug store.

Gen. Wm. H. Sterling and wife, were among the invited guests at the Stevens-Alexander wedding at Trinity church, N. Y., on Tuesday last, afterward attending the Reception at Castle Point, Hoboken, N. J., the residence of the bride's mother.

We acknowledge the receipt of a piece of the bride's cake in the matter of Bushnell vs. Irving, details of which may be found among the marriage items. Our editorial congratulation and benediction are extended to the happy couple.

Mr. D. Boehm sailed yesterday (Thursday) on an extended foreign pleasure trip. He goes to see his aged father in Bohemia. He will also visit Paris and Italy, returning some time in August.

Y. M. C. A. Reception.

On Thursday evening, May 29th, the Y. M. C. A. closed their second season of monthly entertainments in Vandeventer Hall, Front Street. The first-class character of the artists, the fact that it was a new hall and all under the supervision of the Y. M. C. A., gathered together a large audience. Miss Mary L. Runyon, Elocutionist, Miss Laura Fiske, Pianist, Mr. W. W. Howland, Basso and Mr. L. H. Moore, accompanist, were the persons to whom was entrusted the task of pleasing and entertaining the audience. To say they were successful is unnecessary, as that would be but a waste of words upon a foregone conclusion. Miss Runyon, who is always so welcome to Plainfield, read satisfactorily several pieces, among which "The Last Ride," by D. L. Proudfit of this city, was especially noteworthy. The dramatic power exhibited by the lady in her rendering of this piece was simply wonderful, and her interpretation of the fitful moods of the heroine was delightfully real. The audience was made acquainted with the experience of Mark Twain with a newspaper interviewer, in which Mark came off best man; and also with Aunt Polly Grinder's visit to Stewart's. These pieces furnished side splitting material and were so thoroughly appreciated that a little gem for an encore was read entitled "Agnes I love thee." Miss Fiske, with the traces of her recent "bloodless" victory in Brooklyn still upon her, played several selections as well as any person could upon a square piano. We regret the inability to procure the "Grand," as then the lady might have been heard to a much greater advantage, but her performance was first-class and she deserved the hearty encore she received. Mr. Howland is no way spoiled his reputation as a fine singer by his efforts. His last selection "Pity, O Saviour," was rendered, if anything with a little better effect than "Nancy Lee," but no one finds fault with "Nancy" beyond her doubtful age. Mr. Moore, as accompanist has been before the Plainfield public in times gone by and of course the gentleman performed his part well. The Reception Committee of the Y. M. C. A. is to be congratulated upon the happy effect of its efforts this past season, for by it these little entertainments have been made to make a want and then supply it.

The Proposed New Charter.

The following opinion has been handed to us by one who served as a member of the Committee, who prepared the "proposed new charter." Hon. Courtlandt Parker is too well known as a lawyer of large experience and reputation to require any endorsement from us. He is especially fitted to pass upon the questions submitted to him in connection with this charter, because of the fact that he has recently served upon a Committee to prepare a general law for the government of cities in our State, and has probably had a larger experience in preparing and discussing charters for cities than any other lawyer in New Jersey. This opinion with that of the late Attorney-General Gilchrist and the numerous lawyers who reside in Plainfield, who have assisted or expressed similar views ought to satisfy all reasonable men that the proposed new charter is Constitutional, and that any debt on the part of the city beyond $7,500, whether bonded or otherwise, is not only unwarranted but actually prohibited by this new charter.

OPINION.

It is proposed that the city of Plainfield shall adopt as its charter, the provisions of the act entitled "An act concerning cities having less than ten thousand inhabitants and more than six thousand inhabitants" approved March 12, 1879. And my opinion is sought upon these questions:

I. Is the act constitutional?

II. Should it be adopted, could the city create any bonded debt in excess of $7,500?

III. In case of such adoption, what is the extent to which without vote of the people, taxation is authorized?

I.

The amendment to the constitution of New Jersey, forbid the passage by the Legislature of any "private, local or special laws regulating the internal affairs of towns and counties." The Supreme Court has held that cities are included within the word "towns," but they have also held that "a law framed in general terms, restricted to no locality and operating equally upon all of a group of objects, which, having regard to the purposes of the Legislature are distinguished by characteristics sufficiently marked and important to make them a class by themselves, is not a special or local law, but a general law," and they consequently held such a law valid.

Van Riper v. Parsons, 11 Vroom 2 S. C. id. 123.

It seems to me clear that the act under review comes strictly within this decision. The Legislature has defined a class of cities as to which they have enacted this law. It is not a private law, for it concerns the public; it is not special, for all its terms are general; it is not local, for it refers to the whole state. A certain class of cities, those, viz: whose population at the last census was between 6,000 and 10,000, are provided for. The law to repeat the apt language of Judge Dixon "is framed in general terms, restricted to no locality, and operates equally upon all of a group of objects distinguished by certain defined characteristics."

I regard the act as constitutional.

II. III.

The provisions of this act are not, if it is adopted, substituted for those of the old charter. The second section says: "Any city adopting this act shall continue to be a body politic and corporate, in fact and in name, and shall have perpetual succession, with all the grants, powers and privileges theretofore held by said city and not modified or repealed by the provisions of this act "and" all acts or parts of acts in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act when the same shall have been adopted in any city, are hereby superseded so far as they relate to such city, and such acts or parts of acts are to that extent only repealed.

It would seem that restrictions upon powers contained in the old charter would at least be resorted to, in construction of those contained in the adopted act. The power as restricted was transferred, for it was only thus possessed, hence these restrictions upon powers are to be regarded, in determining what authority the newly organized city possesses.

Now the 20th section of the Charter of Plainfield, passed in 1869, expressly says that "It shall not be lawful for the Common Council to borrow money on the faith and in the name of said city except where necessary to anticipate the collection of taxes, and then for an amount never to exceed $5,000, or for more than sixty days after the taxes for the current year are finally due."

The general law now proposed to be taken as part of the charter, does not repeal this provision. If the language had been that the Common Council should have power to borrow money only when necessary to anticipate the collection of taxes, &c., the restriction on the power would certainly be recognized as passing with it, and yet what is said, means the same thing.

Even if this reasoning is doubtful, I think the same result follows. A municipal corporation has no implied right to borrow money; trading corporations have; but no such power is necessary for municipalities.

Hackettstown v. Swackhamer, 8 Vroom. 191.

Any right to borrow money which they possess must be derived by express grant, and if a right to borrow for a special purpose is given, general or other right is interdicted.

Mayor v. Ray 19 Wall 475.

"It does not belong," says Mr. Justice Bradley delivering the opinion of the U. S. Supreme Court "as a mere matter of course to local governments" to raise loans. Such governments are not created for any such purpose. Their powers are prescribed by their charters and those charters provide the means for exercising the powers, and the creation of specific means excludes others.

Indebtedness may be incurred to a limited extent in carrying out the objects of the incorporation. Evidences of such indebtedness may be given to the public creditors, but they must look to and rely on the legitimate mode of raising the funds for its payment. "That mode is taxation."

Looking then carefully at the old and new charters, and even at the new or "proposed" charter without regard to the old, I find no power to borrow money on the faith of the city, except to borrow in anticipation of the collection of taxes in any one year, the sum of $7,500, and by the express words of the section every such temporary loan shall be fully paid and redeemed out of the moneys first received from the year's collections.

I do not omit to notice that by the 21st section it is made lawful to assess and raise by tax such sum as may be necessary for the support of the city poor, and to pay the interest upon any existing bonded debt of said city and the principal thereof when necessary, and such further sum not exceeding $10,000 as they shall deem expedient for current expenses. But this reference to an existing bonded debt, would, I think, be held to relate only to such as may exist in any city adopting the act under its previous charter, and would not be held to give, by implication, a new power to borrow money. If such a bonded debt now exists in Plainfield, the language of this section in that regard, applies, if not, it has no application.

Epitomized; the power of the Common Council as to raising money, should this act be adopted, will be as follows: They may order and assess in any one year, such money as shall be needed for the poor and to pay the interest or principal when necessary of any bonded debt, and $10,000 for current expenses, if more than $10,000 is thought necessary, they must submit the question to the people (sec. 21).

Money may be borrowed every year to the extent of $7,500 in anticipation of the collection of taxes, but no money can be borrowed for any other purpose, or to any greater amount.

It is evident that the framers of this act have sought with unusual care to prohibit the municipalities it describes from borrowing money, and I am free to say that I think they have succeeded.

Proceedings of Common Council.

MONDAY EV'G., June 2, '79.

Council met in regular meeting.

Present—Coriell, Depew, Potts, Rushmore, Simpson, Stover, Stewart, Redfield, Mayor, Finch. Absent—Lithgow.

Pres. Potts in chair.

Minutes of last two special meetings read, and after a slight correction, approved.

Mr. Stewart presented petition signed by Geo. B. DeRevere and others against the renting of "City Park" for picnics, etc., as it disturbs the quietude of residents in that vicinity. On motion, ref'd to Law & Ord. Com.

Mr. Simpson presented petition from E. C. Mulford and others, asking Council to fix up a portion of 5th St. Referred to St. Com.

Mr. Simpson presented claim of Geo. M. Angleman, St. Com'r, work done on Broadway, $246. Referred to St. Com.

Mr. Stewart presented claim of W. L. Force & Bro., advertising and printing, $69.15. Referred to Printing Com.

Mr. Coriell presented the following Police claims for month of May: Geo. Eaton, Chas. W. Dodd, each $41.67; H. McDonald, $38.89, regular duty; Geo. W. Grant, $4.60, M. Conway, $3, special duty; Chas. P. Sebring, re-pointing drive well at station house, $8.25. Referred to Police Com.

Mr. Depew presented the following communications from His Honor Mayor Harper:

To the Hon. the Common Council.

Gentlemen:—After mature consideration, a sense of duty compels me to withhold official signature from the two following named warrants on the Treasurer, viz:

No. 1,754, $60, in favor of George W. Moore, for special services during the year 1878, and No. 1,763, $194.75, in favor of W. Lithgow, Treasurer, for services and expenses incidental to the passage of new charter.

In declining assent to the aforesaid proposed payments, I have the concurrence of the Corporation Counsel, who has emphatically declared them to be unsustained by lawful authority. His opinion touching the first being already on the files of the Council, and a copy of that regarding the other I herewith lay before you, together with copy of my communication to him.

A supplement to the city charter, approved March 18th, 1864, conditions that "no evidence of indebtedness against the city shall be valid unless signed by the Mayor," which makes that official co-responsible for the disbursement of public funds.

I regret the necessity of differing with you in action, but, at the same time, must avow my firm determination to do nothing contrary to ascertained legality.

NATHAN HARPER, Mayor.

Plainfield, May 28th, 1879.

Plainfield, N. J., May 14th, 1879.

GEORGE P. SUYDAM, Esq.,
Corporation Counsel.

Dear Sir:—The Common Council, at their last regular meeting, voted that a warrant be drawn for $194.75, in payment of expenses incurred by a Committee in procuring the passage of a bill through the Legislature entitled "An act concerning cities having less than ten and more than six thousand inhabitants."

I desire to avoid anything like captiousness in the performance of official duty, but, as regards the expenditure of public money, I cannot sanction any outlay that does not carry with it the undoubted authority of law.

The Common Council may possess the rightful power under the charter to do as they have done in this particular instance, still, of that I must be properly assured, and therefore request that you will thoroughly investigate the claim in question and inform me whether, in your opinion, its title for payment is legally clear.

Very respectfully,
[Signed] NATHAN HARPER, Mayor.

Plainfield, N. J., May 19th, 1879.

HON. NATHAN HARPER,
Mayor of the city of Plainfield.

Dear Sir:—I am in receipt of yours of 14th inst., requesting my opinion as Counsel to the Corporation, whether the warrant for $194.75, in payment of expenses incurred by a Committee in procuring the passage of a bill through the Legislature entitled "An act concerning cities having less than ten and more than six thousand inhabitants," is authorized by law.

The $10,000 which the Common Council is authorized to raise each year by tax, must be expended only for the current expenses of the city, and objects and purposes authorized by the charter and its amendments and supplements.

I do not think the expenses for which this warrant is given can properly be considered as one of the current expenses of the city, nor an object or purpose authorized by the charter, its amendments or supplements, and therefore am of opinion that the said warrant is not authorized by law.

It will be observed, that the act for the passage of which these expenses were incurred is a General Law and has not yet been adopted as a charter by the city.

I am,
Very respectfully,
[Signed] GEORGE P. SUYDAM,
Counsel to the Corporation.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—After preparing to make public the customary notification in regards to dogs running at large unmuzzled, the fact was discovered that no such authority existed, the law having been repealed by an Ordinance entitled "an Ordinance to protect the Streets and Sidewalks, and other Protection," approved May 21st, 1878.

I respectfully submit for your judgment, whether personal safety within our city does not demand the enactment of an ordinance similar in effect to Sections 26, 27 and 28 of that "Relating to Morals, Peace and Good Order," approved April 23d, 1874.

NATHAN HARPER, Mayor.

Plainfield, May 26th, 1879.

To the Honorable the Common Council:

Gentlemen:—It having been represented to me by well informed citizens, that sprinkling streets with impure water, as it is alleged has at times been heretofore done, is not only offensive, but detrimental to health, I avail of this opportunity to present the subject for your consideration and such action as may be deemed conducive to the public welfare.

NATHAN HARPER, Mayor.

Plainfield, May 28th, 1879.

To the Honorable the Common Council.

Gentlemen:—I hereby nominate for Special Policemen, Richard Hapenny, for the unexpired term of Hugh McDonnell, appointed a Regular Policeman; and Robert Randolph, (sexton of the colored Baptist Church) for the unexpired term of Wm. B. Ayres, removed from the city.

NATHAN HARPER, Mayor.

Plainfield, June 2d, 1879.

On motion of Mr. Redfield, the Mayor's com's relative to claims of George W. Moore and new charter committee, were tabled.

The com'n relative to muzzling of dogs, on motion of Mr. Stover, was received and placed on file, he having an ord. to present relative to this matter.

The third com'n relative to sprinkling of streets with impure water was, on motion of Mr. Stover, tabled.

The com'n relative to the appointment of Richard Hapenny and Robert Randolph as special policemen, a ballot was had, and both were unanimously elected.

Mr. Redfield, from Alms Com., reported as correct claim of A. V. Searing, $44.50. Referred to Aud. Com.

Mr. Mayer mentioned that a portion of New St. sewer, near its outlet, had partly caved in, and moved its [illegible] to the St. Com. So agreed to.

Mr. Depew, from Finance Com., reported balance in General Fund, $1,499 15; in Poor Fund, $0 15. Amount of bills paid for street improvements, 1879, $1,137 70. On motion, filed.

By the same—Settlement of matters with Platt & Holly. On motion, filed.

Mr. Rushmore, from License Com., reported in case of Wm. Sullivan for a license, that they find the signatures genuine, and no remonstrance having been received, and that Mr. Dodd informed the Com. that Mr. Sullivan had kept an orderly house for the past year, &c. The Com. have no recommendation to make. Report received.

Mr. Stover moved that the license be granted. So agreed to, by the following vote: Ayes—Depew, Potts, Rushmore, Simpson, Stover, Finch, Mayer—7. Noes—Coriell, Redfield, Stewart—3.

Mr. Coriell, from Police Com., reported as correct the police claims presented this evening. Referred to Aud. Com.

Mr. Coriell presented report of City Judge Good for month of May, as follows:

Number of arrests, 13; men, 9, women, 4. Crimes committed—Drunkenness, 6; selling liquor without license, 4; disorderly conduct, 2; larceny, 1. Nationalities—Americans, 8; Irishmen, 5. One applicant to the Poor Fund during the month. The liquor cases are not yet disposed of, but would report progress.

Received and filed.

Mr. Depew, from Salary Com., as correct, claim of City Physician Lowrie, $62 50. Referred to Aud. Com.

Mr. Stover presented the following ordinances: An ord. to vacate a portion of 3d St.; to lay out and open a portion of 3d St., re-advertised on account of an error; and an ord. relative to muzzling of dogs. Those ords. were read 1st time, rules suspended and read 2d time, and ordered engrossed preparatory to a 3d reading.

Mr. Finch, from St. Com., reported favorably upon the petition of E. C. Mulford and others, amount to be expended on 5th St. to be $50, and not to exceed $100. Adopted, all aye.

Mr. Simpson, from Aud. Com., reported the following claims as correct: A. V. Searing, $44.50; H. H. Lowrie, $62.50, and the police claims presented this evening. Report received and warrants ordered drawn for the several amounts, all aye.

Mr. Redfield called from the table the report of the St. Com. on repealing the cesspool ord. Read, and on motion, not accepted.

On motion, the cesspool ord. was referred to Law & Ord. Com.

Mr. Depew, at this stage of the proceedings, was excused by the Pres.

On motion of Mr. Coriell, the claim of H. J. Ackerman was taken from the table and referred to Aud. Com.

Mr. Stover called from the table the ord. relative to the opening and closing of saloons for its 3d reading. Read 3d time and passed, all aye.

The Pres. then presented the following:

Plainfield, June 2d, '79.

Mr. President and Associates in Council:

I feel it is incumbent on me to express to you my appreciation of the kind sympathy extended by you to myself and family in the affliction we are called upon to suffer in parting with a dearly loved son and brother, and I sincerely trust that the spirit which actuates us to extend to each other in times of sorrow, valued words of consolation, may abide with us in all our councils and preserve the spirit of harmony and mutual respect through the term of our official connection.

Very respectfully,
E. H. DEPEW.

On motion, received and filed.

Mr. Stewart moved an adjournment.

Mr. Stover moved as an amendment, that when Council adjourn it adjourn to meet two weeks from to-night. Agreed to.

Council then adjourned.

Public Reading.

The Public Reader has of late years began to supplant the Lecturer to some extent and this would be to the advantage of the public if the Reader would show some taste and judgment in the selection of his subjects. All the literature of all ages is at his disposal, and he can easily make choice of better material than the average lecturer can furnish from his own brain since the usually attainable Fifty Dollar Lecturer does not always possess the profound intellect or silvery eloquence of an Emerson or a Phillips. We said not always, but might have made it stronger. With this advantage over the average Lecturer it seems strange that the Reader does not make broader use of the unlimited wealth offered him by all the brains of all the world, and yet the Readers complain that the most difficult part of their profession is the selection of suitable material. We have heard during the winter Mr. Burbank, Mr. Roberts, Miss Runyon, Dr. Farley and Col. Fuller, all professional elocutionists, with very different characteristics, but all using the same or similar materials. If questioned, these good people would undoubtedly reply that they furnish what the public demands as evidenced by the laughter and applause of audiences. Very well. Let them continue to read the nonsense of the period, but let it alternate with something grand or beautiful. The sublimest thoughts, the most imposing rhetoric, the most beautiful strains of written music that genius has ever produced is ready to their hands. To announce dearth of materials is to acknowledge an amazing ignorance of literature. We warn them that a reader is coming who will look about him a little and then they will be superseded. We do not know who he is nor what he will read, but his or her programme will be unconventional. We should not be surprised if it contained a chapter from the Book of Job. All this is apropos of the last monthly reception of the Y. M. C. A., on Friday evening last, when Miss Runyon, it must be confessed, delighted her audience, though her selections were not different in general tone from those of her predecessors mentioned above. A full-throated and golden-haired young lady has advantages over the prosaic professionals of the other sex, but such prejudices aside, it is but justice to say that her reading is fully equal in finish and acquired technical skill to that of Roberts or Farley, while in native dramatic power she surpasses them all. In humorous representations she lacks the drollery of Burbank or Fuller, but for that we can forgive her. Whether from natural predelection or in the exercise of a good judgment she has chosen the better path. We should like to hear her read a chapter from the book of Job.

FIRE MATTERS.

There will be a Special meeting and "Wash" of Gazelle Eng. Co. No. 1, next Tuesday evening, at 7 o'clock "sharp." A full attendance is desired, as business of importance will come before the meeting.

The Fire Commissioners held their monthly meeting on Wednesday evening last. In the matter of charges against Gazelle Engine Co., No. 1, for illegal voting, by Zephyr H. & L. Co., No. 1, the Secretary was authorized to notify the complainants that specifications must be preferred. The Board decided to make a tour of inspection through the various houses of the Department on Friday evening.

Saturday, June 21st, at 3 o'clock P. M. "Sharp's Match for Military Rifles."

Saturday, June 21st, at 4 o'clock P. M. "Association Match."

Tuesday, June 24th, at 4 o'clock P. M. "Remington Match." Open to all comers.

Thursday, June 26th, at 1:30 o'clock P. M. "Association Long Range Match."

Saturday, June 28th, at 3 o'clock P. M. "Sharp's Match for Military Rifles."

Saturday, June 28th, at 4 o'clock P. M. "Association Match."

The State Gazette of May 30, says: Yesterday morning Major Anderson, of the Fish Commission, received the announcement—officially—that a fine salmon had been caught in the Delaware, at Howell's fishery, Gloucester. When taken from the water, the fish measured thirty-six inches in length and weighed 20 1-2 pounds. It was purchased immediately by a party from Philadelphia, and was placed on exhibition in that city for several days. Major Anderson says that the reason why they have not been caught earlier in the season is because of the temperature of the water, which is owing to the tardiness of the real Spring weather.

This is the time of year when the angler calls at the newspaper office and informs the editor that he caught in the Raritan a cat-fish weighing eight pounds between the eyes and measuring twenty-seven inches in weight. And the editor looks incredulous and mentally observes, "that's a whopper!" because the fish doesn't accompany the angler.

Last year, it will be remembered, large quantities of fish died in the Passaic river near Paterson. The shores of the river, near Paterson, and also of Dundee Lake, are again strewn with the defunct and decaying fish and the stench is almost unbearable. The cause is supposed to be the poisoning of the water by dye-stuffs from the Paterson silk mills.

The pickerel fishing in Budd's Lake is said to be splendid. One party caught sixty fine specimens the other day.

Eugene L. Blackford, formerly of Morristown, has been appointed Fish Commissioner for the State of New York.

Parole has won his fourth race in England, carrying off the Epsom Gold Cup.

The race for the Oaks stakes was won at Epsom by Lord Falmouth's Wheel of Fortune.

Fishermen will bear in mind that it is illegal to take or have in their possession Black Bass until after July 1st. The penalty in each case is $5.00.

One of the best sporting papers published is The Turf, Field and Farm, which gives a complete record of events relating to the farmer and sportsman. Mr. J. Pentz, the field editor, is a true sportsman, a good shot, and understands how to write for the department under his charge.

The law for shooting woodcock in this State does not expire until July 4th, but the pot hunters will be out with dog and gun after them before that time. Let our farmers look after these violators of the law and bring them to justice, and remember also that by becoming a member of any Game Protective Society they are given the power to make arrest on the spot, without a warrant.

THE HEN THAT WENT TO CHURCH.

Quite a disturbance occurred in a Western church, a few Sundays since, the circumstances of which are as follows:

Rev. Mr. Moody was just beginning his sermon, and had uttered the words, "Brethren, I wish to direct your attention this morning to the fourth verse of the twentieth chapter of St. ——," when a hen emerged from the recess beneath the pulpit. As she had just laid an egg she interrupted Mr. Moody to announce the fact to the congregation; and he stopped as she walked in the aisle screeching: "Kuk-kuk-kuk-kuk-to-ho! Kuk-kuk-kuk-kuk-to-ko!" The minister contemplated her for a moment, and then concluded to go on. But the sound of his voice seemed to provoke her rivalry, and so she put on five or six pounds of steam to the square inch, and made such a racket that the preacher stopped and said.

"Will Deacon Grimes please remove that disgraceful chicken from the meeting house?"

The deacon rose and proceeded with the task. He first tried to drive her toward the door, but she dodged him, and, still cackling vigorously, got under the seat in the front pew. Then the deacon seized his umbrella and scooted her out in the aisle again, after which he tried to "shoo" her toward the door; but she darted into a pew, hopping over the partition, came down in the opposite pew and in the side aisle, making a noise like a steam planing mill. The deacon did not like to climb over after her, so he went round, and just as he got into the aisle, the hen flew over into the middle aisle again. Then the boys in the gallery laughed, and the deacon began to grow red in the face.

At last Mr. Binns came out of his pew to help, and both he and the deacon made a dash at the chicken from opposite directions. Then she flew up with a wild cluck to the gallery and perched on the edge, while she gave excited expressions to her cackles a minute. The deacon flung a hymn book at her to scare her down again, but he missed and hit Bill Jones, a Sunday school scholar, in the eye. Then another boy in the gallery made a dash at her and reached so far over that he fell on Mrs. Miskey's new bonnet—whereupon she said he was predestined for the gallows. The crash scared the hen, and she flew over and roosted on the stovepipe that ran along just under the ceiling, fairly howling with fright. In order to bring her down, the deacon and Mr. Binns both beat on the lower part of the pipe with their umbrellas, and at the fifth knock the pipe separated, and about forty feet of it came down with a crash, emptying a barrel or two of soot over the congregation. There were women in that congregation who went home looking as if they had been working in a coal mine, and wishing they could stab Deacon Grimes without being hanged for murder. The hen came down with the stove pipe, and as she flew by Mr. Binns he made a dash at her with his umbrella, and knocked a hole through a fifteen dollar pane of glass, whereupon she landed in the street and hopped off clucking insanely. Mr. Moody adjourned the congregation.—They are going to expel the owner from the church when they discover his identity.—Max Adeler.

Nervous little Bob B. was nearly frightened into fits one day, when bungling old Parson Pew, in his hard unsmiling way, with a voice like thunder, asked him suddenly: "Who made the world in six days and rested on the seventh?" "I did!" screamed the child, bursting into tears; "but—I'll—never—do so—any—more!"

A clergyman in Washington being about to baptize a child, asked the father, "What is your name?" "Thomas Maguire, sir." "Well, Thomas, do you spell your name with a big G or a little g?" "I'd like it middling large, if you please, sir."

A farmer in the neighborhood of Cedarville was met by his landlord, who accosted him thus: "John I intend to raise your rent;" to which John replied, "Sir, I am very much obliged to you, for I cannot raise it myself."

Talmage says: "God thought so much of the Chinaman that He created 300,000,000 of them." By the same mode of reasoning we consider that He thought so little of Talmage that He only created one of him.

Two teachers were disputing about the pronunciation of barrel. One said it was bare-red and the other said it was baw-red. They referred the matter to an old cooper, pointing to a thing to hold beer by way of explanating what they meant. "Tain't nary one," said he, its kag."

A witty lady was once told by a gentleman of her acquaintance that "he must have been born with a silver spoon in his mouth." She looked at him carefully, and, upon realizing the size of his mouth, replied: "I don't doubt it; but it must have been a soup-ladle."

Practical Yankee: "Well, yes, sir, I give in to you. Shakspeare was a genius. But he didn't kinder seem to put it to a practical use. Never benefitted civilization with a washing-machine, nor a patent turnip-peeler, nor anything of that sort, still he was a smart man."

When an old backwoodsman was about to take his first ride on a Mississippi steamer, he was asked whether he would take deck or cabin passage. "Well," said he, in a resigned sort of way, "I've lived all my life in a cabin, and I guess cabin passage will be good enough for a rough chap like me."

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union Co., N. J.

[Official.]

Elizabeth, May 21st, 1879.

Pursuant to adjournment the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union county met at the Court House in the city of Elizabeth, on Wednesday, May 21st, 1879, at 2 o'clock, p. m.

Present—Director Randolph and Freeholders Briant, Bauer, Crowell, Doty, Forsyth, Fisher, Hubbard, Isemann, Jewell, Miller, Parse, Roll, S. C. Smith, Thos. H. Smith, Thompson, Wilcox. Absent—None.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read, and after inserting "the hour for stated meetings to be 2 o'clock p. m.," were on motion approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Communication from the County Physician, asking the Board for instructions as to what disposition he should make of a sum of money amounting to $80, and various articles of clothing, the property of Robert Grieve, who died at Cranford on May 13th, inst., said Grieve having no relatives in this country.

Freeholder Hubbard moved that the property be retained by the County Physician until an administrator is appointed by the Court. Which was carried.

Petition signed by C. P. Davis, J. Harding and thirty-one others, asking the Board to take some action in regard to the contamination of the waters of the Sound by the "Coe's Fertilizing Factory" at Tremley's Point.

Freeholder Hubbard moved that the communication be received and referred to the County Attorney for information. After remarks by different members, a vote was taken, and the motion lost.

Freeholder Thos. H. Smith moved the matter be laid upon the table. Which was lost.

Freeholder Fisher moved to reconsider the vote by which the motion to receive was lost. Carried.

Freeholder Fisher moved that the petition be received. Carried.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Bauer:—Resolved, That the petition of C. P. Davis and others in relation to vitiating the waters of the Sound, be referred to a committee of three, whose duty it shall be to report to the Board the facts in the case, and what action in their opinion, if any, should be taken by the Board.

On motion, the resolution was adopted, and the following committee appointed by the Director: Freeholders Bauer, Forsyth and Fisher.

By Freeholder Fisher: Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to collate the various laws relating to Boards of Chosen Freeholders, affecting the county, and have the same printed in suitable manner for the use and guidance of the Board.

A vote being taken, the resolution was lost.

By Freeholder Thompson: Resolved, That the official minutes of the Board be published in the Daily Herald, Journal, Monitor and Freie Presse of Elizabeth, the Advocate and Times and Democrat of Rahway, and the Central Times and The Constitutionalist of Plainfield, at a compensation of fifty dollars for the year for each paper. On motion, the resolution was adopted.

By Freeholder Thompson: Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to examine the bridge over Robinson's Branch, near Eden Vale's, on the line between the townships of Clark and Fanwood, and report the necessity and probable cost at the next meeting of the Board.

On motion, the resolution was adopted, and the following committee appointed by the Director: Freeholders Thompson, Hubbard, Miller, Crowell, Roll.

By Freeholder Crowell: Resolved, That a committee of three appointed to examine the frame bridge over Rahway River, on Grand Street, Rahway—said committee to report what action, if any, should be taken to repair or rebuild said bridge and the probable cost of the same.

On motion, the resolution was adopted, and the following committee appointed by the Director: Freeholders Crowell, Jewell and Hubbard.

By Freeholder Hubbard: Resolved, That the Director and Collector be authorized to make temporary loans in anticipation of taxes, not to exceed $50,000.

On motion, the resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote.

By Freeholder S. C. Smith: Resolved, That the Elizabeth Freie Zeitung be added to the list of newspapers authorized to publish the last year's County Collector's report.

Vote being taken the resolution was lost.

The Director announced the Standing Committees, as follows:

Committee to take Collectors' Bond—Freeholders Miller, S. C. Smith, Briant.

Committee on Publication—Freeholders Wilcox, Thos. H. Smith, Isemann.

Committee to Discharge Prisoners—Freeholders Thomas H. Smith, Briant, Roll.

Committee to Settle with Collector—Freeholders Miller, Parse, Fisher.

Committee to Audit Accounts—Freeholders S. C. Smith, Thompson, Doty.

Committee on Lunacy, Blind, etc.—Freeholders Hubbard, Miller, Roll.

Committee on Public Buildings—Freeholders Hubbard, Thompson, Briant.

Committee on Jail Inspection—Freeholders Thompson, Hubbard, Isemann.

Committee on Stationery—Freeholders S. C. Smith, Thos. H. Smith, Forsyth.

Committee to Settle with Sheriff—Freeholders Parse, Bauer, Jewell.

Committee on Miscellaneous Accounts, Insurance and Agreements—Freeholders Bauer, Wilcox, Crowell.

On motion, the Board took a recess of fifteen minutes.

Upon being called to order, Freeholder Roll offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Director be added to all committees of the Board. On motion, the resolution was adopted.

By Freeholder Isemann: Resolved, That the Director, Collector and Attorney take the necessary steps to collect all taxes due the county. On motion, the resolution was adopted.

By Freeholder Doty: Resolved, That no bill against the county be paid unless ordered paid by a vote of a majority of the members present, except bills which are certainties, either by law or a resolution of the Board, but the bills thus excepted shall be read for the information of members at the time other bills are ordered paid, and paid at the same time other bills are paid. On motion, the resolution was adopted.

By Freeholder Hubbard: Resolved, That all special committees of the old Board be continued, and vacancies occasioned by retiring members be filled. On motion, the resolution was adopted.

By Freeholder S. C. Smith: Resolved, That no bills against the county be audited or ordered paid by this Board without an itemized account of amount and date accompanying the same. On motion, the resolution was adopted.

By Freeholder Hubbard: Resolved, That no bill presented to the Board for the recovery or burial of a body or for an inquest will be paid unless said bill is approved by the County Physician. On motion, the resolution was adopted.

By Freeholder Thompson: Resolved, That no standing or special committee shall make contracts for any work or for any purpose for the county without first obtaining the sanction of the Board. On motion, the res. was adopted.

By Freeholder Doty: Resolved, That this Board will not order the construction of any bridge until the necessity for and probable cost of same has been reported to the Board. On motion, the resolution was adopted.

By Freeholder S. C. Smith: Resolved, That the Committee on Jail Inspection be authorized to advance five hundred dollars to the Warden of the jail expenses. On motion, the res. was adopted.

COMMITTEE REPORT.

The Committee to take Collector's Bond reported that they had examined said bond and found it correct and satisfactory to the Committee.

Signed,

James L. Miller, }
Samuel C. Smith, } Committee.
Wm. H. Briant. }

Accompanying the report was the County Collector's bond, with names of the bondsmen, which was read by the Clerk.

Freeholder Hubbard moved that the report be received, and the bond be placed in the custody of the County Clerk. Which was on motion, carried.

Freeholder Thompson moved to adjourn. Which was carried.

Whereupon the Director declared the Board adjourned, to meet on Thursday, June [illegible], at 2 o'clock p. m. [illegible], Clerk.

POETRY.

SUMMER AND WINTER.

In the mellow month of June
When the tawny thrushes sing,
And the yellow cowslips spring
From the meadows by the brooks,
When in dusty forest nooks,
Elfin huntsmen wind the horn
And the clover-scented morn
Ripens into cloudless noon,
Then I love to lie alone
In the grass on some cool hill,
While the meadow-larks all shrill,
"Life is music." Care and pain
Fare but ill in summer's reign.

When the hills are wrapped in sleets,
When the snow whirls on the leas,
And the icy-fingered trees
Sparkle in the moon's cold light,
When the clouds in the long night
Weave a pall for the dead year,
And the keen wind hurls its spear;
Right at every one it meets,
Then my heart is never sad,
For I think of merry spring,
And the joys that it will bring—
Of the robins on the lawns
Piping in the dewy dawns.
—W. F. Smyth, in Scribner.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A STORY SUCCESSFULLY TOLD.

Pretty, plump Mrs. Archibald Steele wrote the following paragraph in one of her letters to her husband the other day:

"John must come down here at once, whether you can spare him or not. Our dear little Laura is greatly taken with a tall, thin young man, with a hooked nose and thin lips, called Stuyvesant. It is whispered about the hotel that he is a very good match, and has the veritable blood of the old Dutch governor in his veins. I must say that it has a queer way of showing itself, for the young man is as pale as a specter; and dressed in that white duck, with his sunken eyes and bilious skin, is enough to frighten one. I have grown to hate him, while Laura is growing to be quite the contrary, I am afraid. All the evening he leans up against the wall, never dancing or opening his mouth, save to give vent to some hateful, sarcastic criticism upon the scenes around him, and yet dear little Laura's eyes—as, indeed, all the other pretty eyes about—are perpetually beseeching him for attention. In the daytime he is always with a long black horse, that covers more ground with its legs while it is going than any other animal I ever saw. When Laura goes out to drive behind it, and vanishes out of site with the bony creature, I tremble to think how dreadful it would be if our dear little girl would ever be part and parcel of this wretched man and his beast. So I think John had better come down at once. I quite long to see his handsome face and hear his honest voice, and I think it is about time that John should tell his little story to Laura and have things settled comfortably."

Mr. Archibald Steele smiled when he put the letter of his wife in his waistcoat pocket, and picking up the morning paper, scanned through his gold-rimmed spectacles the news of the day. Finding nothing therein to refine the exceedingly satisfactory condition of his affairs, he put it down, smiling as only a prosperous, contented down-town merchant can smile. He was one of those happy exceptions to the ordinary rule of mortals, with whom everything went well. His whole experience was an exclamation point to that effect. If he ventured a little hazardously in trade, fortune trimmed her sails to favor him. If he set his heart upon anything relating to domestic felicity, all the elements of art and nature conspired to bring it about. So when he stepped to the door of his office and beckoned to a young man with a strip of commercial paper in his hand and a pencil behind his ear, with the general air of briskness and shrewdness about him that betokes a successful down-town merchant embryo, Mr. Steele smiled the third time, with the air of one who was not at all afraid of any bilious, blue-blooded obstacle that might be thrown in the path of a domestic happiness which he firmly agreed had been arranged by an Omnipotent hand.

"John," said Mr. Steele, closing the door of his private office, and looking upon his young clerk benevolently. "I've got an order from Mrs. Steele which I wish you would attend to."

"Certainly, sir," said John; "shall I go out and get the articles myself?"

"Why, the fact is, John," said the merchant, enjoying his joke more and more, "it's only one article—a rather bulky one. It was bargained for a long time ago. I think you will have to go down with it, John."

"Down to the seashore!" said John, getting a little hot and flustered; "is it a very valuable parcel, sir?"

"Well, perhaps your natural modesty may depreciate its worth, John. Mrs. Steele and I think a good deal of it, and Laura, too, I am sure does. The commodity is yourself, John. Mrs. Steele wants you to go down and take a little holiday there."

When the name of Laura was mentioned the young man's face grew more flustered and hot than before.

"You are very kind, sir," he said, "and Mrs. Steele is more like an angel than a woman."

"Rather solid and plump for that," interposed Mr. Steele, but liking the phrase nevertheless.

"But it is a simple madness," pursued John, "to dream of further happiness than I enjoy now—your affection and that of your wife—my position here; I don't dare, I can't hope for anything more. Oh, Mr. Steele, I can't tell her my story. She would turn from me with horror and aversion. She is so young, so beautiful. Let me at least enjoy the present."

"And in the meantime some cadaverous bilious, blue-blooded scoundrel will carry her off from us all."

Then John's face grew pale and stern. "If there is the slightest feeling upon her part for—for any one else, then, indeed, Mr. Steele, my case is hopeless."

The commercial paper fluttered from his hand, the pencil fell from his ear, and he leaned his head against the desk and trembled.

"Why, who would suppose you could be such a coward?" said Mr. Steele, impetuously. "You shall go down with me this very day."

All the way to the seashore John's face wore the look of one who had resolved to storm a deadly breach, but who did not hope to survive the attempt.

Even the ocean, when it confronted them, wore a threatening look. Upon the horizon a pile of clouds formed a background wall and gloomy, a great black mist lay in the zenith, and a dense red vapor almost touched the water.

"A very nasty sea," said Mr. Steele.

John snuffed it in, his eyes dilating and his head high in the sea-scented air.

A tramp on the hard, wet sand, and like a shadow a long black horse shot by, disappearing in the mist, leaving for John the memory of a charming head, crowned with blonde curling hair, two kind eyes bent upon his own, and a white waving hand extended in salutation.

"John," said Mr. Steele, "did you see the face of that man? I count upon your saving Laura. Did you see his thin, cruel lips and treacherous eyes?"

"I only saw Laura, sir," said John, simply.

Later on, Mr. Archibald Steele and his plump, pretty wife were alone together in their private parlor. Her dimpled hand lay loving in his, and her shapely head, fresh from the hands of the coiffeur, rested recklessly on his shoulder.

Suddenly the door opened, and there was heard the rustle of silken drapery. A still shaplier little head, and fresher from the hands of the coiffeur, all unrumpled by the audacious hands of mortal, peeped in at the door. Laura was pale; her little white hands were clasped together and her musical voice trembled.

"Oh, papa, mamma, come directly! Mr. Stuyvesant ventured too far, and—and—"

"Was drowned?" said Mr. Steele, with a queer combination in his voice of pity and relief.

"No, no; how can you suppose so dreadful a thing? He was rescued, but is very weak and ill. He has asked for me, and may I go? Will you not come with me, mamma? Oh, do, I beg of you. Can't she, papa?"

Her blue eyes filled with tears; her little feet seemed waiting to fly through the corridors.

"Certainly not," said Mr. Steele. "Let him wait till he is able to come to you or me. Either the man was drowned or he isn't. Because he was imbecile enough to risk his life, that is no reason for your being the talk of the hotel."

Laura raised her eyes proudly.

"No danger of that, papa; and besides, every one is occupied now with the one that rescued him."

"And what madman was that?" said poor Mr. Steele, who could not reconcile himself to the present condition of affairs.

"I don't know—a stranger, I believe. I was so interested in Mr. Stuyvesant I forgot to ask."

"Bah!" said Mr. Steele, getting upon his feet and walking to the door. "I'll go and find out all about it. Do you stay here till I return."

Before he had gone far, Mr. Steele heard from the excited guests several different versions of the affair; but one and all agreed that the rescuer could be nothing less than a champion swimmer.

"A regular water-dog!" said one gentleman to Mr. Steele; and as the merchant had heard this epithet but once before in his life, and that on an occasion of vital interest to himself, he sought out the hero of the hour, and found, to his unbounded astonishment, it was John Waters himself! He was quite enveloped in the flounces and furbelows of pretty and sympathetic women, who insisted upon knowing every last second if he was sure he felt strong and well, and how in the world could he buffet those dreadful waves in that grand, heroic way, and how did he manage to drag poor Mr. Stuyvesant in to the shore?

John, like any other hero of the hour, enjoyed this adulation, but looked anxiously at Mr. Steele when he approached.

"Hum," growled that worthy merchant; "a pretty fellow, you, to interfere with other people's plans! How do you know he wanted to be rescued?"

"He appeared anxious that way, sir," said John. "He wrapped himself about me like a devil-fish. I thought at one time we'd both go down together. There ought to be a school for teaching people how to be saved. It's the easiest thing in the world; the water itself is an accessory, if you manage it right."

"Oh, do tell us how, Mr. Waters, please," chorused the pretty and sympathetic women; and as John began his lesson Mr. Steele slipped away.

"Oh, papa," began Laura, "how is Mr. Stuyvesant?"

"I don't know—I didn't ask," he replied. "I was interested in the fellow that dragged him ashore. He's an old friend of ours. The way we made his acquaintance was on such an occasion; he saved a lady from drowning."

"Why, papa," said Laura, "he must be a splendid fellow."

"Magnificent!" said Mr. Steele. "You see, we had traveled over considerable of the world together, your mother and I, while you were yet a baby; and we found it rather odd one morning to discover that having crossed the ocean and the Alps, loitered in the Highlands, traveled thence down the Mississippi valley, across the American desert to California, and back again by another route, your mother had never been up the East river as far as Morrisania. It seemed so absurd to have neglected this home excursion, that we determined upon it at once. The morning was wet, but we didn't mind it. Your mother looked prettier in a water-proof and rubbers, with a shovel hat tied down under her chin, than most women would in a ball dress. She wasn't a bit afraid of rain or mud. She was a little too reckless; for, getting ashore to see the institution for vagrant boys, her foot slipped off the plank, and she disappeared."

Mr. Steele stopped a minute; his voice faltered; the plump little hand of his wife slipped into his own; he clutched it, and went on again.

"One minute I saw her as neat and trim a little figure as ever graced a waterproof and shovel hat, and the next she was gone."

"Gone!" cried Laura. "Gone where?"

"Into the water, child; into the hungry green waves that surged up to take her away from the fondest heart in the universe; and if it had not been for one of those very vagabond boys, who had been lurking there for a chance to escape from the island, you would have lost us both, my dear; for I made an agonized plunge after her, though I am ashamed to say I cannot swim a stroke, and should only gone to the bottom like a plummet of lead; but an official standing by caught and held me, and cried out that Johnny Waters had her, safe as a trivet; and presently that vagabond boy came up with your sweet mother on the other side of the boat, and the officer cried out: 'He's a regular water-dog, that Johnny Waters!' and those were the very words a guest here used in relation to John a minute or so ago."

"John!" cried poor bewildered Laura, "our John, mamma? Was John the boy? And is it John, our John, that saved poor Mr. Stuyvesant?"

"The very same, darling John, our John; he is always on hand when there is any trouble or danger."

"Oh, mamma! mamma!" cried Laura, forgetting all the years that had passed since the accident, and crumbling both the coiffeured heads in the most reckless manner.

"Papa," she then said, "we must go and find John; I want to tell him how much—I—"

"Yes dear," said Mr. Archibald Steele, and all the way through the corridors and into the parlors of the hotel, with his plump and pretty wife on one arm and his beautiful daughter on the other, he sailed.

But John was still surrounded by the pretty and sympathetic women, who had cruelly deserted the blue-blooded descendant of the old Dutch governor, lying in his most graceful and languid of attitudes on a neighboring lounge—the descendant, not the governor—and had flocked, one and all, to the handsome and heroic founder of the new school for teaching people the way to be rescued from drowning.

John was almost hidden in flounces and laces; but when his eyes met Laura's he plunged out of those costly billows with his usual ease and trepidity. There was something in Laura's eyes that he had never seen there before—a tempting languor, a bewitching shyness, a bewildering splendor that steeped his soul in a mad, sweet hope.

Laura stopped one moment to whisper to her mamma, and John gasped out to Mr. Steele:

"If I dared—if I only dared to tell her—"

"I have told her myself!" said the merchant.

"That I was a pauper, without home or friends?"

"I told the story in my own way, John," continued Mr. Steele, "and I flatter myself I told it successfully; do not spoil it, if you please. I have managed the past and the present; do you look out for the future, John."

And John did. Laura walked through the parlor that night the envied of all the pretty and sympathetic women and brave and appreciative men that congregated there.

DR. GRAHAM'S COURTSHIP.

Dr. Graham having passed a very creditable examination before the army medical board, was commissioned an assistant surgeon in the United States army in 18–, and ordered to report for duty to the commanding officer at Fort McKavett, Texas. There were no railroads in the Western county at that time, and the usual way of getting to Texas was by the Mississippi river to New Orleans, and the crossing the gulf to stage it up thro' the State. Dr. Graham was desirous of examining the Western country mineralogically, so applied and received permission from the War Department to go by way of Arkansas and the Indian Territory to his post.

On his arrival at St. Louis he shipped the greater part of his baggage by way of the river, and, taking only what he could carry on horseback, started on his journey. While in St. Louis, at the Planters' hotel, he formed the acquaintance of a gentleman who, learning where he was going, gave him a letter of introduction to his brother, who was a farmer living on his route in Arkansas. It is not necessary for us to follow him on his road, or tell what discoveries he made in the interest of science; sufficient it is that one day toward dusk he reached the house of the gentleman to whom he had the letter, and, dismounting, knocked at the door and presented his letter to the judge (even in those days everyone was a judge in Arkansas), who would not have needed it to have accorded him an open-handed welcome; for travelers were a godsend, and news was as much sought after then as now. After a short visit he proposed to go on to the next town, about four miles off, where he intended to put up for the night. The judge would not listen to his leaving, and was so cordial in his desire for him to stay that he would have been rude not to have done so. The judge, after directing one of the servants to attend to his horse, invited him into the dining-room, where he was introduced to the wife and daughter of his host, and also to a substantial Western supper, to which he did ample justice.

After supper they adjourned to the parlor, and he entertained his new made friends with the latest news from the outside world. The old couple retired and left their daughter to entertain him, and he made hot love to her, and finally asked her to be his wife and go to Texas with him; to which she consented. She, being very unsophisticated and innocent, took everything he said in downright earnest, and with her it was a case of "love at first sight."

But I am anticipating. During the night our friend, the doctor, woke up and remembered what he had said, and it worried him; but he said to himself after emptying his water-pitcher, "never mind; I'll make it all right in the morning. I must have made a fool of myself. She's lovely; but what must she not think of me!" and rolled over and went to sleep again. Morning came, and upon his going down to the parlor he found the young lady alone, for which he blessed his lucky stars, and was just about to make an apology, when she said:

"I told mamma, and she said it was all right," at the same time giving him a kiss which nearly took his breath away. "Papa is going to town this morning, dear, an you ride in with him and talk it over; but he won't object, I know."

"But, my dear miss, I was very foolish, and—"

"No, indeed; you are all right."

"Well, I will go to my post, and return for you; for I must go on at once."

"No; I can go with you."

"You won't have time."

"Oh yes, I will. Papa will fix that. It would be such an expense for you to come all the way back here."

"But I have no way of taking you."

"I have thought of that; that does not make any difference. Father will give us a team."

With nearly tears in his eyes he went in to breakfast, to which at that moment they were both summoned; but, alas! appetite he had none. It was not that she was not pretty and nice; but he thought what a confounded fool she must be not to see that he wanted to get out of it. But it was no use. When the judge started for town, Dr. Graham was sitting beside him. The judge saved him the trouble of broaching the subject by starting it himself:

"I always, young man, give Nell her own way; so it is all right; you need not say a word."

"But I've got to go on to-day."

The old judge turned his eyes toward him. He had an Arkansas bowie in each, and one of those double-barrel shotgun looks as he said: "You ain't a-trying to get out of it, are you?"

The doctor, taking in the situation, said, promptly, all hope being gone, "No, sir."

"That's right. I will fix everything for you; give you that black team of mine, and a light wagon to carry your wife's things" (here the doctor shuddered), "and a thousand as a starter. You can be married to-night, and leave early in the morning. That'll suit won't it?"

"Yes, sir," answered Graham, faintly. But on the judge turning toward him, he said, "Yes, sir, certainly."

"After you get fixed at your post I will come down and pay you a visit. I have been thinking about selling out and moving to Texas for some time; it's getting crowded here, and things are a-moving as slow as 'lasses in winter time."

Things were arranged as the old judge said. The marriage took place, and the army received an addition to the ladies in the person of the Arkansas judge's daughter, and Dr. Graham has never regretted the oldgarcy of his father-in-law or the unsophisticatedness of his wife.—Harper's Magazine.

SHE SEWED ON HIS BUTTONS.

Old Blummer is tight-fisted. Several days ago he said to his wife: "Maria, I want you to look over that broadcloth vest of mine and put new buttons on it, 'cause I'm going to a card party to-night."

"But, Ely, I hav'nt any buttons to match that vest, and—"

"Thunder!" broke in Blummer. "The idea of a woman keeping house as long as you have, an' pretendin' to be out of buttons! By George! I b'lieve you'll ask me for money to buy 'em with, next!"

That evening Blummer hurried through his supper and began arraying himself for the card party. Presently he called for the broadcloth vest, and Mrs. B., with marvelous promptitude, handed it to him. He took it, hastily unfolded it, and then as his eye took in its complete appearance, he stood as one transfixed. It was a six-button vest, and there were six buttons on it, and the dazed optic of Blummer observed that the first, or top one, was a tiny, pearl shirt-button, and that the next one was a brass, army-overcoat button, with U. S. gleaming upon it, and that number three was an oxydized silver affair, and that number four was a horn button, evidently from the back of one of the puritan fathers' coats, and then came a suspender button, and then, as the dazzled eyes of old Blummer reached the bottom button—a poker chip (found in Blummer's pocket) with two holes punched through it—he gave a snort that made the chandelier jingle. There is, after all, a fine sense of humor about old Blummer, and he laughed till he cried. And there wont be any button-money grudged in that household hereafter.

DEMOCRACY AND FREEDOM.

From a recent speech of the able and eloquent Senator Voorhees, of Indiana, against unwarranted interference with the freedom of elections, we extract the following well directed remarks:

"Penal codes for the purpose of securing and maintaining party ascendency are familiar to the historian of every age, but none have been more malignant than this.

The Federal Government having usurped full and complete authority over every species of elections, State, County, Township and City, and having given this usurpation in charge to the Federal courts add their officials, to execute, an omnipresent detective corp, clothed with unlimited powers over the ballot box and over the liberties of the voter, was next generated and called into existence by evil and rancorous legislation.

It is held by some that noxious vermin and poisonous reptiles have their origin in the corruptions of nature.

Be that as it may, I come now to deal with a class of Federal officials who have been spawned upon the country through the degenerating processes of party animosity, and who are more offensive to American freemen than anything, however loathsome or dangerous, to which they may be likened in the animal kingdom.

Supervisors of elections!

The dictionaries call them overseers.

Overseers of elections!

A most apt and truthful definition when their duties are considered!

The American people going to the polls and voting under overseers would indeed be a nation of slaves, and if they submit to do so they will deserve their fate.

This whole enactment proceeds upon the assumption that the officers of elections under State authority are predetermined felons, ballot-box thieves, forgers and the like, and that the local communities which select them are accessory to their villianies.

On this false and scandalous pretext the Federal authority has been made to overthrow the most vital and cherished principles of local self-government.

The entire theory of the Constitution has been subverted.

A centralization of power in the hands of the Federal Government over the local rights of the people and the States has been consummated which would have startled Alexander Hamilton in his day, although he believed in a monarchy.

Have the people consented to such an unspeakable degradation?

Have they in fact become slaves in spirit, and willing to receive the yoke of their overseers?

I do not believe it.

On the contrary, I believe that the minds and hearts of a brave people, in love with liberty, will kindle in fierce indignation against such insulting tyranny when the whole subject is fairly placed before them.

I assert, in the hearing of the Senate and the country, that there is not one American voter, from the Atlantic to the Pacific ocean and from the chain of lakes on the North to the Gulf of Mexico, who is not liable to arrest any moment on election day at the polls, without any other accusation than exists in the mind of a supervisor or a deputy marshal, and with no other process or warrant than a club or a pair of handcuffs.

I assert, and challenge denial, as long as this law stands, that every citizen of the United States holds his personal liberty while attending the polls and casting his ballot, solely and absolutely at the mere whim, caprice, impulse, party malice, or private hate of a supervisor, or of his coadjutor, the deputy marshal.

These laws are not the offspring of that great instrument which has descended to us with ever-increasing strength and glory from the days of our revolutionary ancestors.

They emanate rather from that malignant spirit of political oppression and tyranny which preceded the French revolution, and caused its fires at last to break forth; which filled the prisons of France with victims arrested on secret orders, and made every citizen tremble as one who fears a blow in the dark.

In English history there never was a period in which they could have been executed.

Charles the first lost his head, James the second his throne, and George the Third his American colonies in attempting far less encroachments on the liberties of Englishmen than these laws perpetrate on the liberties of Americans."

PEACE AND HAPPINESS.

It was well said by a journalist the other day, that notices should be posted on the desks of certain Republican Congressmen reminding them that war between the North and South no longer existed, that the last battle had been fought, the surrender made and accepted, the armed hosts disbanded, peace proclaimed, and the Union preserved intact.

The soldiers who were in the conflict, both the blue and the gray, know peace to be an accomplished fact, and with honorable avidity would fill up the bloody chasm, veil in forgetfulness the unhappy past, and henceforth live as brethren of a united country. The honest masses of the people, all over our broad land, share a like patriotic sentiment, and it would be permanent and universal, but for the plottings of unprincipled politicians, who, to attain partisan ends and clutch personal gain, hesitate not, through gross misrepresentation and inflammatory invective, to stir up the worst passions of human nature and perpetuate the bitterness of domestic strife.

To use a homely phrase, that political dodge is played out. The Democrats are a unit against it, so are the Nationals, and no small portion of the Republicans as heartily detest the means employed by their party leaders to create turmoil and trouble.

The Democracy of Ohio, in Convention assembled, 4th inst., declared—"That the efforts of the Republican party to open and keep alive the war feeling between the North and South are to be condemned by every lover of his country."

And the National Greenback party of the same State, through its convened representatives, uttered the following distinct language—"We denounce all references to our late civil war of a malicious and insulting nature as revolutionary and wholly inconsistent with the principles of free government and antagonistic to the restoration of the old motto—'United we stand, divided we fall.'"

Those quotations faithfully express the popular sentiment. The people desire repose and an opportunity to cultivate and enjoy the blessings of national harmony and to garner the fruits of peace.

Politicians of the Blaine, Conkling and Chandler stripe want falsehood and contention, because they fear the truth, and know well that a prosperous and happy country is death to their partisan designs. They would flaunt the red rag of malice and insult, and dance with joy around the re-kindled fires of sectional hate.

Democrats, and true patriots of every other political name, seek an entirely different course of action. To them the star clustered banner of perfect unity is the only emblem worthy of national adoration, and a people bound together by the silken cords of charity and love, and cheered by the sunny ray of rewarded industry, the highest object of patriotic statesmanship.

"A union of hearts, a union of hands,
A union that nothing can sever,
A union of lakes, a union of lands,
The Flag of our Union forever."

The following are the three first resolutions of the platform, upon which the Democrats of Ohio will make their fight and win:

Resolved, That the Democracy of Ohio demand free and fair elections, and to that end denounce all interference with elections by the military power; that the experience of this and other countries has abundantly proved that the presence of troops at the polls is destructive of the freedom of elections and incompatible with the existence of free institutions; that the laws enacted by Congress which, under the pretence of regulating the manner of Congressional elections, interfere with the election of State officers and overthrow the laws of the States governing the choice of such officers, are unconstitutional and for that reason ought to be repealed; that they are also instrumentalities of fraud, force and corruption by whom, the party in power uses the money of the people to corrupt, and thousands of irresponsible officers to harrass and coerce, the voters, and especially by force and fraud to deprive our naturalized citizens of the right to vote, and for these reasons also said laws ought to be immediately repealed.

Resolved, That impartial juries are essential to the administration of justice, and thereby to the preservation of liberty; that no man can be secure in his person or property when the juries are packed and controlled by the Government for despotic and partisan purposes; that under the Federal jury laws now in existence juries may be and have been so packed and controlled; and that the highest interests of justice and free government require that the laws be changed so as to secure fair, impartial and independent juries in the Federal courts.

Resolved, That the Republican minority in Congress, by refusing to vote supplies to maintain the Government until the majority would agree to the use of the troops at the polls and also to the maintenance of the unconstitutional, corrupting, violent and unjust election laws aforesaid, and the President of the United States by his unprecedented use of the veto power in order to perpetuate said laws and the use of armed troops at the polls, have shown a spirit of faction and devotion to party success instead of the welfare of the country and the preservation of its constitution and liberties that demand the condemnation of the whole American people.

The President of the Brewers' Convention in session at St. Louis, in his opening address, presented some remarkable statistics. He said:

Official figures show that in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1876, the production of beer had reached 9,159,676 barrels, but enormous as that figure might appear, it was exceeded in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1878 by 313,685 barrels, as the total production in that period reached 9,473,361 barrels. Of the total production, New York State produces 3,285,498 barrels; Pennsylvania 957,069, while North Carolina produces only 4 barrels and Maine 7 barrels. Strange as the decrease in the State of Maine from 7,061 barrels to 7 barrels may appear, which is the consequence of the severe execution of the prohibitory laws in that State, it must not be presumed that the State consumed only seven barrels, for she supplied her wants from other States. The General Government derived from sixteen States with 2,431 breweries, 96.08 per cent. of its total revenue from malt liquors, while all the other States and Territories, with 399 breweries, paid but 3.92 per cent. From 1863 to June 30, 1878, the Government received for taxes on fermented malt liquors the enormous sum of $107,717,543. In the first nine months of the current fiscal year, from July 1, 1878, to March 1, 1879, the aggregate sale amounts, according to the official figures, is 7,262,991 barrels, an increase of 409,929 barrels over the same period of the preceding year, which fact justifies the expectation that the sales in the present year will reach 10,000,000 barrels.

It is also shown that the export of beer from this country has increased from 1,000 doz. bottles and 66,000 gallons in 1870 to 76,000 doz. bottles and 120,000 gallons in 1878.

Frank Walton, a Philadelphia lad, found his father in the yard of his residence in the grasp of a gigantic negro, who had him on the ground, and was choking him nearly to death. The boy told the negro to stop or he would shoot him, and, after warningly counting "One, two, three," fired, inflicting a fatal wound.

ANOTHER HORROR.

Wednesday morning last another horrible crime was committed in New York City, in which one of the principal actors was one well known to many of our citizens. Mrs. Jane L. De Forrest Hull, wife of Dr. Alonzo Grandison Hull, was found in her bed at her residence, No. 140 West 42d St., tied hands and feet to her bed, gagged and smothered to death with a pillow. Her sleeping room had been ransacked and all her valuables, amounting to a considerable amount, carried away. Mrs. Hull slept alone and had retired at the usual hour. When found by her servants in the morning, she was dead as above stated, and was in a nude state. A Sun reporter visited this city Wednesday evening and gleaned the following particulars, which are in the main correct:

"Mrs. Hull's mother, Mrs. Jane De Forrest, was an old resident of Plainfield, N. J., and the daughter was an occasional visitor at her home. Mrs. DeForrest was a Miss Davis, and belonged to an old family in the vicinity of Somerville. She was married to Mr. Lawrence De Forrest, for many years a merchant in Broad street, this city, and on his death, about twenty years ago, she made Plainfield her home. She lived alone there, her only companion being Hannah Davis, a distant relative. She died about five years ago, at the age of 92, leaving a small property. Mrs. Hull attended her funeral. Her will was subsequently filed in Elizabeth. Mrs. H. was appointed the sole executrix.

Mr. John B. Brown, an ex-Councilman of Plainfield, was one of the witnesses to the will, and has been the agent for Mrs. Hull since Mrs. De Forrest's death. Mrs. De Forrest left about $10,000. One-half of it was in Government and Long Island ferry bonds, and the other half consisted of a handsome house and grounds on Park avenue, between Fourth and Fifth streets, Plainfield. She divided the estate into thirds, one-third for Mrs. Hull, and the other two-thirds for her grandchildren by her two deceased sons.

Mrs. Hull hypothecated some of the bonds to pay the funeral expenses of her mother. She called on Mr. Brown about a year ago and told him that she was anxious to sell the house on Park avenue and settle up the estate, so that the other heirs might get their share as quickly as possible. She wanted $6,000 for the house, but could not find a purchaser, and it was rented to a dentist. Mr. Brown said that Mrs Hall was shrewd in money matters, but it was his opinion that she made more display than her income warranted.

A family named Dumont, residing in Plainfield, were distantly related to Mrs. Hull. Young Dumont said he knew very little of Mrs. Hull, having only met her twice. She was a very showy woman and wore a great deal of expensive jewelry. She had two brothers, named Theodore and John B. DeForrest. Theodore was a Superintendent in the old Canal Board, and John B. was an officer in the Custom House. Both died some years ago. Mr. Dumont did not think that Mrs. Hull was rich."

At Burrillville, R. I., Alonzo Anthony was fatally shot by Jas. Driscoll, who "did not know the pistol was loaded, and snapped the cap, holding the weapon at the man,s head, intending to frighten him." At Ridgeway, Ill., Mason Evans "supposed that an old pistol was unloaded, and pointing it at his wife, pulled the trigger, shooting her through the head." At Norwich, N. Y., William J. Hopewell "took down a broken musket, believing it empty, and was horrified when it was discharged, killing his sister."

A woman and her son have lately died in Northbridge, Mass., from what physicians call "cider tremens," and it is thought, the woman's husband will not survive long, being ill with the same disease. It is said that since last Fall this family have drank between forty and fifty barrels of cider! There are one son and a relative in the family besides the persons mentioned.

STATE NEWS.

Col. Morrell, of Elizabeth, has been appointed general superintendent of Asbury Park and Ocean Grove stations. We think the officers of the Central Railroad have made a good selection.

The case of ex-State Senator Cornish, of Warren County, is to be moved to the Court of Errors and Appeals. It will probably be argued at the June term. In the meantime Mr. Cornish will remain a prisoner, either in custody of the county or State authorities.

Hon. Charles B. Moore, the newly appointed Supervisor of the State Prison, entered upon the duties of his office last week. He found in the prison [illegible] convicts.

General Drake's Veteran Zouaves, accompanied by a full band, will attend the re-union of veterans in Albany, N. Y., on the 16th inst

Ex-County Collector Hart Moore, of Middlesex County, was arrested at his room on Saturday last in the Albany Street Hotel, New Brunswick, N. J., on a criminal warrant charging him with embezzlement during the year 1878. Moore held the office of County Collector from 1873 to 1878. After his retirement from office it was discovered that a deficiency existed in his accounts. An expert was employed to examine the books, who fixed the amount missing at $14,030.85. Of this sum, it is alleged, he took $1,000 on March 13, last year, and during the same year overdrew his salary $125. Under the statute of limitation he can only be prosecuted for the alleged misappropriations of the county's funds during 1878. James Sweeney, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board of Freeholders, went before Justice Ford and entered a complaint, charging Moore with abstracting the $1,000 in March, 1878. On Friday Moore paid $1,125 to his successor, Collector Jarrard, and received a receipt therefor. On Saturday Mr. Moore gave bonds in the sum of $5,000 for his appearance before the Court during the September term. His bondsmen are his brother, State Senator Moore, of Kingston, and Richard Hope, of New Brunswick.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

We learn, with pride, that Miss [illegible] B. Smalley, of this village, has not been absent from the Plainfield High School a single school day since the "Commencement" in 1877, and although only about 17 years of age, has attained a proficiency in scholarship that enables her to be among the graduates of the present year. She has also been chosen to the number who are to deliver essays at the Commencement exercises on the 26th inst. These attainments are all the more creditable to this young lady because she resides at such a distance from the school.

The Golden Rule Band, of this village, Miss Phebe Pope, President, and Miss Nellie Shepard, Treasurer, have done nobly in raising for the cause of Foreign Missions during the year ending March 31, nearly $100.

Mr. John Cooper, formerly in the employ of Jno. E. Flannery, Esq., in this village, and who has recently returned from Omaha, has gone in the blacksmithing business with Mr. F. in the "Band" shop, Plainfield. These gentlemen turn out the best of work at the very lowest rates.

THE DEATH-RATE OF Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life—we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a Doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in the country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known. For sale at Voorhees' Drug Store, Front Street.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver, or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR MEDICINE.

The Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World! An Effectual Specific for all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen.

Regulate the Liver and prevent Chills and Fever, Malarious Fevers, Bowel Complaints, Restlessness, Jaundice and Nausea.

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

BAD BREATH!

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common as bad breath, and in nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be so easily corrected if you will take Simmons' Liver Regulator. Do not neglect so sure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your Appetite, Complexion and General Health.

PILES!

How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden and robbing existence of all pleasure owing to the secret suffering from Piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. Simmons' Liver Regulator is no drastic violent purge, but a gentle assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION!

Should not be regarded as a trifling ailment—in fact nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a costive habit of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE!

This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache.

Middlesex and Union Counties Agricultural Association.

By a recent act of the Legislature, the par value of the shares of this Association having been reduced to ten dollars, a sufficient number additional will be issued to defray the expense of improvements contemplated in the erecting of buildings, etc., and for establishing annual Fairs for the Counties of Middlesex and Union.

The Grounds are situated on Park Avenue, at Avon Park.

All who are interested in making the proposed enterprise successful are invited to subscribe.

No call for money will be made until 500 shares are subscribed, when a meeting will be called to elect a new Board of Directors.

This is a matter of interest to all the citizens of the two counties, and in order to insure a successful inauguration of a Fair in October the necessary number of shares should be taken promptly.

STRAWBERRIES are plentiful and cheap.

AND now they call Prof. France grandpop.

THE rush still continues at Whitney's handsome Dry Goods store.

MESSRS. Edsall & Price have a change of advertisement this week. Read it and go examine their fine stock.

THE Rev. Wm. T. Enyard will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church next Sunday morning and evening.

HAVE you taken any of the stock in the proposed Middlesex & Union Co's Fair Grounds? It is being rapidly taken.

JERUSALEM Lodge will work E. A. Degree to-night (Friday) in their new Hall. M. W. F. G. M. Pembrook will be present.

LEDERER, No. 9 West Front Street, reports business good, ascribing the cause to the cheapness and good quality of his Dry Goods, &c.

MR. E. A. Greig drives a smart team of dark brown's, "Charley" and "Dick," which attached to his handsome Brewster side-bar, make a fine appearance.

THE Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital have been presented with a plot of ground whereon to erect a hospital, work on which will shortly be commenced.

SMITH, the tonsorial artist, in Flagg's building, North Avenue, is now dispensing hot and cold baths to customers. Cleanliness is one of Tom's peculiarities.

THE warm nights cause a rush to the Ice Cream saloons. Compton's on Front Street and Tier's Lake House, are nightly thronged with lovers of good cream.

WORKMEN are busily engaged in putting fixtures in the new store next to Whitney's, which will be occupied shortly by Mr. Kilgore, of Flemington, as a Drug store.

LOUIS LAINE, a protege of friend Vanderbeek, has opened a segar store at No. 8½ Park Avenue, where he will be pleased to see his friends and sell them a "Pinafore" segar.

BY the number of handsome new equipages to be seen on our public thoroughfares, conveying elegantly dressed ladies and children, we are reminded that our summer guests have arrived.

THE Plainfield Athletic Club have removed their furniture, gymnasium, &c., to their new quarters over Rockfellow's, corner North and Park Avenues, where they have excellent accommodations.

THERE was a fair attendance at the Saturday evening Reception at the Park House, June 7th. The coolness of the weather undoubtedly kept many away. Those present had a most enjoyable time.

MR. P. H. VANDERHOOF has established an agency for the sale of the Johnson Lawn Mower, in Gaston's Flour and Feed store on North avenue. These machines are pronounced the best in the market. See advertisement.

OFFICER Hugh McDonald, recently appointed on the police force, has been compelled to resign his position in consequence of severe sickness. Special R. Hapenny has been put on in his place, until the vacancy is filled.

THE Plainfield Constitutionalist comes out in a handsome new dress. The Constitutionalist is a large, handsome and excellent paper—edited with Force and ability, and deserving of the success it is meeting with.—Bound Brook Chronicle.

BLACK, the artist, has been engaged for some time in painting portraits of the present and ex-Mayors of Plainfield. He has them about completed, and they may be seen at his studio in Stelle's building, corner Park Avenue and Front Street.

BISHOP Corrigan has issued a circular letter to the Catholic clergy and laity of New Jersey, ordering a collection in all the Catholic churches throughout the State on the last Sunday of the present month for the aid of Archbishop Purcell.

MAY Ann Schumm and James Muldowney who were convicted of selling liquor without licenses, and sentenced to pay a fine of $25 each, the limitation expiring on Wednesday last, have failed to pay the lucre. They ignore Judge Good's jurisdiction.

THE Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival by the ladies of the 1st Presbyterian church, which was advertised to take place last Tuesday evening and Wednesday afternoon and evening, was postponed until next week. We predict for the ladies a good time. See adv.

A SUDDEN bereavement befell undertaker P. Casey on Friday last, in the loss by death of his wife, leaving behind her seven small children. The funeral on Monday last was largely attended, the remains being conveyed for interment to Calvary Cemetery, Brooklyn, L. I.

MR. D. BOEHM, of the firm of Boehm Bros., Dry Goods merchants, No. 7 Front street, who sailed for Europe, Thursday last, will reach his destination about Saturday. His brother, assisted by the firm's large corps of clerks, manage to attend to the wants of their numerous customers in the absence of the senior member of the firm.

A GREAT improvement has been made in the rear of Bachman's store, near the P. O., on Front St. The grounds, which were formerly in a sad plight, being a depository for tin cans, old stove pipe and other rubbish, has been neatly sodded, walks and handsome flower beds laid out. By-the-way, Bachman has 75 pieces of elegant ginghams which are selling for 10 cents a yard.

THE Commencement exercises at the Young Ladies' Seminary, Miss Kenyon, Principal, last Wednesday evening, was a really fine affair, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Feininger were among the principal artistes on this occasion. The Cards of Invitation and Programmes were gotten up in fine style and taste in New York.—Miss Kenyon is to be congratulated upon the success attending her School and Commencement exercises.

OUR esteemed contemporary, the Times, makes mention this week, of several important decisions rendered recently by Supreme authority, which have bearing upon the city of Plainfield, two of which we have already published, that of the Fire Department vs. No. 2 and Good vs. Bolton. Another important one is not enumerated in the list—that of the Dime Saving's Institution of Plainfield vs. Estate of Mrs. B. T. Mulford, where the Chancellor decided that usury was exacted by the Bank in the case by a demand made of 5 per cent bonus on a mortgage loan of $5,000. The Chancellor decided that the Bank should forfeit the one year's back interest, the $250 bonus and pay cost of the foreclosure suit. Wm. B. Maxson for the defendant. Mr. Mulford

THE Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue Church, in aid of the Mission Band, last Monday afternoon and evening, proved a very successful and enjoyable affair, the ladies netting about thirty dollars for the benefit of the mission.

ACCORDING to the provisions of a law passed last Winter, the Courts have power to designate a suitable place and person in any city or town in the State as a morgue and morgue-keeper. Our popular Undertaker, David Leeson has received the appointment as morgue-keeper for Plainfield.

THE cigar stores have closed their doors on Sundays since the police notified them to do so per order of the Mayor, yet the personage known as "The Pilgrim" on Front Street, above Peace, keeps his place of business open every day and evening in the week. Will the police look after this? "What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."

CHARLES Johnson and Clarkson Hope, two of our young townsmen who went a few months since to seek their fortunes in the reported Eldorado, Southern Georgia, where so many Plainfield people went previous, returned to this city on Tuesday. Their accounts are not very glowing of the chances of a poor man becoming suddenly wealthy there, although they report the climate as fine.

Excursion to Iona Island.

Lovers of a delightful sail should not fail to secure tickets for Warren Eng. Co's. Grand Excursion up the Hudson to that delightful summer resort, Iona Island, on Thursday, July 17th.

High School Commencement.

The Commencement Exercises of the Plainfield High School will occur in the 1st Baptist Church building, Thursday evening, June 26th. The occasion promises to be one of more than usual attractiveness and interest.

4th of July

Approaches and we hear of no move being made to celebrate the day in a becoming manner in Plainfield. The Messrs. Staats Bros., proprietors of the "Rock House" propose celebrating the occasion in a right glorious manner. Further particulars next week.

A Disappointment.

We learn with regret that official engagements will prevent Gov. McClellan being at the coming Public School Commencement, as the pleasure of greeting him on that occasion was so generally desired by the citizens of Plainfield. The following letter speaks for itself:

STATE OF NEW JERSEY,
EXECUTIVE DEP'T,
TRENTON, June 9th, 1879.

HON. NATHAN HARPER,
Mayor, City of Plainfield:

DEAR SIR:—The Governor regrets that he will be unable to attend the Educational Exercises to be held in your city soon, owing to official engagements which will occupy the most of his time for the balance of the present month.

He thanks you very much for the invitation.

Very respectfully,
JOHN A. HALL,
Private Secretary.

Sent to Jail.

Willie Schorb, a lad about 12 years of age, who was found guilty of selling beer without a license, by Judge Good, two weeks since, and who was sentenced to pay a fine of $10, was re-arrested on Tuesday morning in default of payment of fine and sentenced by the Judge to 30 days in the county jail. Young Schorb's father refused to have anything to do in the matter, saying that the selling was a voluntary action on the part of his son and that he must take the consequences. This case is a peculiarly sad one, the father, Mr. John M. Schorb, being an old and respected citizen. Judge Good was very loth to send the lad to jail, but the law on the subject was plain, and the case was pushed by the prosecutor for the city. It is a pity that some of the older and more hardened violators of the liquor ordinance were not in the boy's place.

A Pen Worth Recommending.

We have been favored with samples of the celebrated Spencerian Double Elastic Steel Pens, and after trying them feel justified in highly commending them to our readers. They are made of the best steel, and by the most expert workmen in Europe, and have a national reputation for certain desirable qualities which no other pens seem to have attained in so great perfection, among which are uniform evenness of point, durability, flexibility, and quill action. It is thus quite natural that the Spencerian should be preferred and used by professional penmen, in business colleges, counting-rooms, government offices, public schools, and largely throughout the country. Indeed, so popular have they become, that of the "Number One" alone, as many as eight millions are sold annually. The Spencerian Pens may be had, as a rule, from any dealer; but when not thus obtainable, the proprietors, Messrs. Ivison, Blakeman, Taylor & Co., the well-known publishers, 138 & 140 Grand street, New York, will send for trial, samples of each of the twenty numbers on receipt of twenty-five cents.

Grand Picnic and Flag Dedication

By the Plainfield Saenger Bund will be held at Vail's Spring Grove, adjoining Johnston's Drive, on top of the Mountain, North Plainfield, N. J., on next Monday, June 16th, 1879. The above Singing Society will hold a Grand Picnic at above stated date, at which time there will be a handsome Flag presented by Messrs. Schepflin, Baldwin, Tweedy & Co., of Plainfield. The dedication will be made by young ladies. The "Arion," "Aurora" and "Philharmonia" Societies, of Newark; the "Concordia," "Germania," "Teutonia" "Turn-Verein Vorwaerts" Societies, of Elizabeth; the "Aurora" and "Eintracht" of New Brunswick, will join in the line of march to the Grove, forming at headquarters of the Society, (Fred. Caspar's, 2d St.,) at 10 a. m. Voss' celebrated Brass Band, of Newark, will furnish music for the occasion. A String Band will furnish music for dancing on a platform erected for the purpose. A Grand Procession through the principal streets of the city will be a feature of the occasion. Refreshments will be furnished on the ground. Tickets, 25 cents, which can be obtained of the members.

Plainfield Athletic Club.

The above Club have inaugurated something new, by holding a Summer meeting on their grounds. They announce the first to be held on Saturday, June 28th, 1879, commencing at 3 p. m. The following is a programme of the day:

1—100 yard dash—handicap.
2—440 yard run—handicap.
3—One mile walk—handicap.
4—220 yard run—handicap.
5—100 yard dash.
6—Three mile walk—handicap
7—Half mile run—handicap.
8—120 yard hurdle race—handicap.
9—Tug of War
10—Tug of War—individual.
11—Two mile Bicycle Race.

A two hour race, open to any amateur, the competitor to go as he pleases, will take place before the regular sports begin, commencing at 1 o'clock, p. m. A fine feature of the day's entertainment will be a La Crosse match, between the celebrated Champion Teams of the New York and Ravenswood La Crosse Clubs. These two teams elicited rounds of applause from the spectators at the annual games of the P. A. C. last fall by their brilliant performances. Gold medals will be given to first and silver medals to second, in all competitions. The grounds of the club are situated on Washington avenue and Front street. The admission fee will be 25 cents. To the covered Grand Stand, 25 cents extra.

[illegible]! for Ocean Grove.

An ex[illegible] to Ocean Grove, under the man[illegible] of the Muhlenberg Hospital A[illegible]ation, will start from this city Tu[illegible]y, July 1st. See adv.

Grand Excursion.

An ex[illegible]ion under the auspices of the M. E. S[illegible]day School of this city to Oscawan[illegible] Island, per the celebrated fast sailing [illegible]mer "Long Branch" will take place T[illegible]rsday, July 10th, 1879. This excursio[illegible] promises to be a most enjoyable one. [illegible]rther notice will appear hereafter.

Personals.

We are [illegible]d to welcome back to Plainfield as s[illegible]mer residents, Mr. Wm. Tunis and famil[illegible], who have again taken up their abode h[illegible]e.

About [illegible] a year our old friend and former r[illegible]ent, Merwin Hughson, now of Irona, M[illegible]s county, pays Plainfield a visit. H[illegible] advent in our city on Monday last for a [illegible]eek's visit was marked by courtesie[illegible] extended THE CONSTITUTIONALIST-office. He is still a bachelor, reports to t[illegible] contrary notwithstanding.

Gen. F[illegible] John Porter has returned to his summ[illegible] residence in this city.

Mr. Ge[illegible] [illegible]aton and family, who have been stop[illegible]g at the Mansion House for the past [illegible] months, have taken up their summer [illegible]dence at Asbury Park.

We were [illegible]eased to meet a few days since, Mr. J[illegible]n Hughes, a former resident of this ci[illegible]. Mr. H. is now domiciled on a fine far[illegible] the banks of the Chesapeake.

Sudden Death.

Mr. Jo[illegible] Doty, a well-known resident of N[illegible] Brooklyn, dropped dead while wo[illegible]g in his garden on Saturday afternoon [illegible]st. Mr. Doty had but recently r[illegible]ered from severe illness, which for [illegible]ng time baffled the skill of his physi[illegible]s. His wife saw him fall in the gard[illegible] [illegible]d ran to his assistance, but when she [illegible]ched his side, life was extinct. Deceased w[illegible]s universally esteemed by his neig[illegible]rs and all who knew him. Heart dis[illegible] was pronounced the cause of his d[illegible]h. He leaves a numerous family [illegible]d him to mourn his loss. Among h[illegible] children is Mr. Nelson Doty, conducto[illegible] the Central Railroad. Mr. H. F. J[illegible]e, of the Elizabeth Herald, is a nep[illegible] of deceased. The funeral ceremon[illegible] which took place from his late resid[illegible] on Tuesday, was largely attended.

Rutg[illegible] College Commencement.

The fo[illegible]ng is the programme for the Commence[illegible] exercises of Rutgers College:

Tuesda[illegible] June 17—Meeting of the Board of Truste[illegible] 10 a. m., in the Library. Meeting of [illegible]umni in Kirkpatrick Chapel, at 10 a. m[illegible] [illegible]ddress before the alumni at 12 m., by [illegible]is G. Bergen, Esq., Brooklyn. Coll[illegible] in the Armory of Geological Hall a[illegible] [illegible]. m. Address before the societies, [illegible]mediately after collation, by Rev. Jo[illegible] Elmendorf, D. D., of Poughke[illegible], in Kirkpatrick Chapel. After thi[illegible]dress, meeting of the societies in th[illegible] halls and of the decennial classes in [illegible]ms provided. [illegible]e Late Concert.

Plainfie[illegible] has been literally deluged with Con[illegible] this past season, and strange to relate, [illegible]out exception, first class affairs. [illegible] this we mean that the rather bold und[illegible]ing of Mrs. Sheppard L. Stewart w[illegible] no exception to the rule, artistically [illegible]king. This lady, aided by some of [illegible] friends from the Newark Vocal So[illegible], of which she was for several years [illegible]ember, furnished a very pleasing [illegible]ram at the Congregational Church, l[illegible] Thursday evening. We believe that [illegible]h no exception the pieces were rend[illegible] in a fine manner, although it took th[illegible]dience, which was not as large as it [illegible]ght have been, some time to realize [illegible] they must do all the arduous en[illegible]g, which usually falls to the heavy we[illegible] in the back part of the room. H[illegible]ver, when the audience realized its [illegible] everything went "happy as a marr[illegible] bell." Mrs. Stewart has a very swee[illegible]ce, and shows decided culture. Sh[illegible] successful in her efforts and recei[illegible]n encore as her reward. Miss Cam[illegible] contralto was heard to advantage, [illegible] the lady created a pleasing impressio[illegible] Messrs. Preston and Ward performed th[illegible]r part satisfactorily; but Mr. Job [illegible]son more than satisfied. His full b[illegible] voice and queer mannerisms made just [illegible] right combination for a comic son[illegible] Mr. Brown, the organist, did very [illegible], and the entire affair was well worth[illegible] record among the musical events of [illegible] year.

[illegible] Drive Well Trouble.

The matt[illegible] of injunction served upon Messrs. J[illegible]iah Manning, Ex-Mayor Job Male [illegible] and Isaac Melbourne by Judge [illegible]ixon to restrain them from using [illegible]ven wells just down by Chas. Seebring, [illegible] this city, is creating considerable exc[illegible]nt among our citizens who are using th[illegible] kind of well. This case differs from th[illegible] Green extortion of royalty by the fa[illegible] that the plaintiff, Wm. Nelson, br[illegible] suit against Charles Seebring for validity of right to put down said w[illegible]: Nelson claims that he bought the [illegible]ight from the previous owner, Mr. Seebring, dec'd, while Charles Seebring c[illegible] that the right to use and put them d[illegible] was inherited to him by said decea[illegible] his father. The suit is brought by [illegible]son to test the claim. The evidence of th[illegible] administrator of the deceased, Mr. [illegible]o. Vail, was brought into court, and [illegible] seems to be a tangle in a previous [illegible] the last testimony of the witness. The defendants, since the decision of Judge Nixon last Monday, restraining the above mentioned parties from using th[illegible] wells, have taken fresh counsel, and [illegible] matter will be carried to a higher [illegible] if necessary. The case seems to be a complicated one, and we doubt not, but every one wishes with us, that the matter of who has a right to put down a drive [illegible] will be speedily determined by th[illegible] persons that be.

Mr. Elias Allen, of Washington Valley, lost a horse, valued at $250, on Tuesday last, from colic.

Serious Runaway.

Mr. Adam Fritz, Meat Merchant, Front Street, met with a serious accident and loss on Monday last. He had recently purchased a pair of beautiful and high-spirited colts from Canada, paying $500 for them, and they were the admiration of all lovers of horse flesh. Monday afternoon, having occasion to go out into the country, the team was hitched up to his buggy, and everything progressed favorably until he had reached what is known as Green Brook road, which leads from Somerset Street to Rock Avenue.—Finding that the animals were settling into a rather fast trot, he attempted to pull them up, when to his consternation he discovered that the cross lines on each horse had become unbuckled, in consequence of the ends through the buckles not having been run through the loops.—By a sudden movement, he turned the animal's heads against a fence on the roadside, but they were so frightened at this that they began pawing and fretting. Before he could spring from the wagon to catch their heads they became more restless. Mr. Fritz decided in a moment what to do, and that was to jump on the back of one of them and endeavor to seize the bridle reins. This venture he made, but the action so frightened the animals that he failed to grasp the reins, and their plunging soon threw him, with the end of the reins still in his hands, beneath their feet. Before he could recover himself, he was trampled upon and kicked by the now thoroughly frightened animals who broke loose his grasp on the reins and started on a terrific run toward Rock Avenue. Just before reaching there, opposite the residence of a Mr. Allen, a load of manure was being driven from the farm to the road. Before the driver could avoid them, the runaways were on top of the wagon. One of the colts caught a foot between the spokes of one of the wheels and the team came to a halt. It was found that the animal fast in the wheel had his ankle broken just above the fetlock and the other one was gashed and cut about the breast. The first mentioned horse was killed at once, and the other removed home for treatment, with but small chance of his recovery. We learn that there is a possibility now of his recovery. Mr. Fritz was considerably bruised about his body, from the kicks of the horses.

Front Street Improvement.

From time to time we have commented upon the fine manner in which Mr. J. E. Dowley was improving the road bed of Front Street, from Peace Street to the city line at Terrill Road, the contract for performing the same having been awarded him by Council some time ago. It will be remembered that the undertaking of this much needed improvement was brought about through the efforts of certain property owners along the street, who agreed to furnish the most of the money needed for the improvement, the Council contributing the balance. The prime mover in the project was Mr. L. V. F. Randolph, who drew up the plans and specifications, the road bed to be the same as that already completed by Mr. Dowley for J. T. Johnston, Esq., in front of that gentleman's residence. The centre of the road is filled in with stone to a depth of about fifteen inches and then covered with various layers of gravel, beginning with coarse and ending in fine. The top is then carefully raked off, and a beautiful hard, and smooth surface obtained. On Tuesday, members of the Common Council and reporters were invited to a ride over the road by Mr. L. V. F. Randolph for the purpose of inspecting the completed work. All expressed themselves as highly pleased with the road, the only exception to there being over two miles of level road, with good drainage, being that portion in front of Mr. Mulford Cole's property, known as Cole's Hill, Mr. C. failing to contribute toward the improvement. Were this hill cut down, as it ought to be, the grandest improvement of all would be the result. Halts were made along the road to inspect the drainage and especially at Richmond street, was the subject of better drainage discussed. We propose making that subject a matter of future consideration. After the inspection the party were invited to view the fine grounds around Mr. Randolph's premises, corner of Front street and Farragut avenue, and after an inspection of them, were treated to strawberries and cream by the estimable lady who presides over Mr. R's. household. Mr. Dowley deserves great credit for the fine road he has given us in view of the small cost of same. He is a man who thoroughly understands how to build or repair a highway. The liberal handed citizens, who so generously gave their money to do the work, are also to be accorded praise. The $500 of the city's money, as its share toward the improvement was well expended. The whole cost of the road was about $2,000, including that which Messrs. Johnston and Randolph privately expended in repairing the road before the appropriation was made.

FIRE MATTERS.

Mr. Randall, an agent for the Akron Rubber Works, Akron, Ohio, has been in our city for several days past, endeavoring to make a contract with the Fire Department authorities for a quantity of new hose, of which we stand in great need. Tuesday evening last a trial of a length of the hose was given by Gazelle steamer at the brook on Grove street. A pressure of 150 pounds to the square inch was put upon the length with 80 pounds of steam. It is claimed the hose will stand 500 pounds pressure. We speak from experience, when we say that the "White Anchor Rubber Fire Hose," which the above Company manufacture, is the best rubber hose we have ever handled. It is light, yet strong, smooth on the inside, an important requisite, and firmly made, while the price is reasonable. We trust the Board of Commissioners will make up their minds to purchase a new supply of hose before the big fire comes, and if they do so, to purchase of the above Company.

Last Saturday, during the afternoon, the family of Mr. Wadsworth, residing on Union Avenue, in one of France Lee's houses, detected smoke in the building, but could not ascertain the cause. About 5 o'clock, P. M., flames were discovered issuing from the flooring in one of the upper rooms, a beam being nearly burned off. By the prompt application of water the fire was extinguished with but little damage, although some person riding by gave an alarm which brought the entire department to the scene. The fire originated from live coals dropping from a newly put up grate in a fire-place to the cement covering over the floor beneath.—A flaw in the cement allowed the fire to creep downward to a beam. Had the bed beneath the grate been laid with brick, the fire would not have originated.

Previous to the trial of hose on Tuesday evening last, by request of the Board, Gazelle steamer was taken to the Fire Well corner of Fifth street and Madison avenue, which has been recently cleaned out, and a trial given. Although there was plenty of water in the well, a not very efficient stream was secured. This is attributable to the fact that all Fire wells below Madison avenue are affected by quick sand, which interferes with the working of an engine. The formation of the earth above that locality is of a more gravelly nature. The engine worked splendidly when taken to the brook afterward.

There was a singular apathy apparent on the part of the Fire Board, Tuesday evening last, only one of them, Commissioner Jones, being present at the trial of a section of new hose that night.

Several new members were added to Alert Hose No. 1's Company roll on Monday evening last. Foreman Saltzman keeps his Company up to a high standard. The Leader Committee has an efficient Chairman.

No quorum was present at the quarterly meeting of the Firemen's Relief Association, called for last Monday evening, June 9th. In the absence out of town of the President, it is expected the Vice President will call a meeting shortly.—Election of officers to serve the ensuing year will be a part of the business coming before the meeting.

The tickets for the annual excursion of "Warren Engine Co. No. 3" up the Hudson, on Thursday, July 17th, are selling rapidly. Everybody who attend the excursions of Warren, always say they had a good time on their return.

MESSRS. EDITORS;

Have we a City Judge?

Last week it was announced that the Supreme Court had denied the application of Bolton for a writ of "quo warranto" in the matter of the disputed judgeship. The community were pleased that the vexed question had been settled, and that the City Judge would properly dispose of the actions pending before him. The illicit selling of fermented and spirituous liquors had become so frequent during the contest between Bolton and Good, that the patience of our citizens became exhausted, and strenuous and successful efforts were made under the direction of Chief Dodd to bring the offenders to trial and punishment. Warrants were issued against Wm. Schorb, a youth about thirteen years of age, Mary Ann Schumm and James Muldowney. The boy plead guilty, Schumm and Muldowney contesting, were tried before Judge Good, on May 7th. The accused were defended by County Attorney Bergen, who protested against the jurisdiction of the presiding judge. Corporation Counsel Suydam, appeared for the city. The question of jurisdiction was overruled, evidence was heard and the decision reserved. Judge Good afterwards pronounced the defendants guilty, but adjourned sentence until the 6th of June, in order that the decision of the Supreme Court, in relation to his conflict with Bolton, should be first received. On the adjourned day, sentence was announced, inflicting a fine of twenty-five dollars on each of the defendants, Schumm and Muldowney, and grace given to them until Wednesday morning of this week to pay the fine and costs, or stand committed to the county jail until paid. Wednesday came, Muldowney appeared before His Honor, refused to pay a farthing and defiantly asked His Honor what he was going to do about it? He was permitted to leave the Court and no attempt was made to enforce the sentence. The lad, Schorb, failing to pay his fine, was on Tuesday, taken to Elizabeth and placed in confinement. The question arises, how does Muldowney escape the consequences of his deeds, and the little boy suffer? Can defiance set aside the rigor of the law, and submission invite its full enforcement? Does Judge Good still hesitate about his jurisdiction and doubt concerning his title? This cannot be so, or surely he would not have sent the child to jail when he allowed the full grown man to go free. Whatever the cause, the actions of Judge Good is working great injury. It is openly said that he dare not enforce the mandates of his Court when his jurisdiction has been questioned, and all violators of the ordinances will escape punishment if they file a protest as to his jurisdiction. The public demand that fit punishment shall be inflicted on all who are convicted of wrong, and require from Judge Good the enforcement of his sentence against Muldowney.

JUSTICE.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

A special meeting of the Westfield Fish and Game Protective Society was held on Monday evening last at the Lyceum Rooms. There was a large attendance of members present; they made some slight alteration in the Constitution and By-Laws of the Association, and ordered the Secretary to have 200 copies of them printed besides a synopsis of the Fish and Game Laws of the State now in force. Messrs. A. C. Johnson and Geo. A. Young were elected as two of the Directors of the Association.

A meeting of the Township Committee of our Township is advertised for Monday evening, 16th inst.

C. G. Welch & Sons are at work painting the Presbyterian Church. Capt. Fulton, of Elizabeth, has the contract for painting the spire of church, he having had considerable experience in that line.

Samuel M. Foster, Esq., is still confined to his house by sickness.

The ladies of the M. E. Church held a Fruit, Floral and Ice Cream Festival, on Thursday evening last, in the Church Parlors, which were crowded with the residents of our village.

Mrs. William Gale has gone to spend the Summer months at her father's residence in Otsego County, New York State.

Mr. Dunkin, has lately purchased a portion of the Clark estate, situated on Central Avenue, from Jacob D. French.—Mr. D. contemplates building a residence on the same, and otherwise improving it.

CRANFORD—

The continuation of the trial of the several indictments against the Schindler boys, was held at the Elizabeth Court House, on Friday, 6th inst. Geo. and James Schindler, who were jointly indicted for highway robbery committed in Union Township, Jan. 18, 1879. After some time spent in getting a jury the case went on; they were represented by Mr. Spencer, the same lawyer who defended George Schindler for burglary. The defence endeavored to prove an alibi as regards James, who claimed he was in New York city at the time the crime was committed. Mr. Spencer consumed about one hour in summing up the case. The jury retired at 4 P. M., after which the Prosecutor moved another indictment against the same parties for breaking and entering the barn of John Ties, in Union, on same night that the highway robbery was committed, and stealing four setts of harness. After the jury were called and sworn and the Prosecutor was opening the case, the jury in the highway robbery case came into Court and rendered their verdict, which was that the two defendants were guilty as charged in the indictment, at which time the Court adjourned until Monday morning, 9th inst. On the opening of the Court on Monday, George Schindler retracted his plea of not guilty and plead guilty to the indictment for stealing harness, also as to the others of stealing a calf from Mr. Benedict, 4 sets of harness from Mr. Westlake and a lot of chickens from David Townley, of Westfield, after which the Court went on with the trial. As regards James Schindler, he claimed for this case, the same as in the former, that he was in New York city when the crime was committed; but the jury took no stock in the alibi, and after being out about 15 minutes returned a verdict of guilty. James, before the jury had come into Court, retracted his plea to the other indictments and plead non vult, which of course is equivalent to guilty. They were both remanded for sentence, which takes place on Saturday, 14th inst.

On Friday last Rudolphe Giddie, on his way from Rahway to Westfield, stopped at the Cranford hotel; he was so intoxicated that the proprietor refused him anything to drink and ordered him out of the house; he refused to go and threatened the barkeeper and proprietor, Mr. Lamberding. After using considerable force and several shots were fired, he was ejected from the premises, after which he commenced an indiscriminate warfare upon the outside of the building, smashing in windows and breaking the blinds. Nobody made any complaint to the authorities.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union Co., N. J.

[OFFICIAL.]

ELIZABETH, June 5th, 1879.

Pursuant to adjournment the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County met in monthly session at the Court House in the city of Elizabeth, on Thursday, June 5th, 1879, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Present—Director Randolph and Freeholders Briant, Bauer, Crowell, Doty, Forsyth, Fisher, Hubbard, Isenmann, Jewell, Miller, Parse, Roll, S. C. Smith, Thomas H. Smith, Thompson and Wilcox.

Absent—None.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read, and on motion were approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

To the Honorable, the Board of Freeholders, of the County of Union, State of New Jersey:

The undersigned residents and freeholders of the Township of Cranford, would respectfully call the attention of your Honorable Body, to the dilapidated, insecure and dangerous condition of the present wooden bridge, crossing the Rahway River on the line of Union avenue, in said town. Said bridge is old, requires constant repairs, is shakey, and owing to its faulty construction (it having wooden piers or posts standing in the water,) it catches the drift brought down by freshets; thereby damming the stream and causing the water to back, and overflow low lying lands, roads, etc., and is at all times liable to be broken down by heavy, or fast moving loads. We would therefore request your Honorable Body to have erected in place of said bridge, a Single Span Iron Bridge, with proper sidewalks and railing, to the end that the nuisances complained of may be abated, and that we may be relieved from the danger to ourselves and families which is now ever present.

And your petitioners will ever pray.
G. M. Donaldson, R. M. Donaldson, C. W. Goldsmith, and 72 others.

On motion of Freeholder Roll the communication was received.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The committee to whom was referred the petition of C. P. Davis and others, in relation to the contamination of the waters of the Sound, reported that they had visited the place in question and had examined into the matter, and had submitted to the County Physician samples of the substance for analysis. Accompanying the report of the committee was the County Physician's report of the analysis made by him.

Freeholder Hubbard moved that the report be received, placed on file and the committee discharged. Carried.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Freeholder Thompson;

Resolved, That the resolution adopted at the last meeting of the Board in relation to standing and special committees making contracts without first obtaining the sanction of the Board, be and hereby is rescinded.

On motion adopted.

By Freeholder Crowell.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to examine a culvert on Whitier street and Blanche avenue, near the line between the city of Rahway and the Township of Linden, and report as to the necessity and probable cost of rebuilding, at next meeting of the Board.

On motion adopted and the following committee appointed:

Freeholders Crowell, Jewell, Isenmann, Hubbard, Thompson.

At this point Freeholder Hubbard moved that a recess of fifteen minutes be taken. Carried.

The fifteen minutes having expired the Board was again called to order, and the following resolution introduced.

By Freeholder S. C. Smith;

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to examine a bridge in the village of Springfield in relation to the obligations of the county, as called for by Mr. Uzal N. Wade and others.

On motion adopted and the following committee appointed;

Freeholders S. C. Smith, Hubbard, Briant.

By Freeholder Bauer:

Resolved, That the County Physician be authorized, when in his judgment he deems it expedient in case of unknown dead, to have a photograph taken of the remains at the expense of the county for the purpose of identification; and in cases of drowning the person recovering a body to be entitled to the sum of five dollars.

Freeholder Fisher called for a division of the resolution.

Which was ordered.

Freeholder Fisher moved to adopt the first clause.

Freeholder Hubbard moved to amend by adding the words, at an expense of not more than $3 in each case, the amendment was carried, and the resolution as amended was adopted.

Freeholder Fisher moved to lay the second clause of the original resolution on the table.

Which was adopted.

By Freeholder Isenmann:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to report the necessity for and the probable cost of a new bridge over Rahway River in Union and in Cranford, N. J., and report to the Board at its next meeting.

On motion adopted, and the following committee appointed: Freeholders Isenmann, Thompson, Doty, Bauer, Roll.

By Freeholder Hubbard:

Resolved, That all commitments to the Lunatic Asylum be signed by one member of the Lunacy Committee and by one additional member of the Board, and that the County Physician be authorized to sign all certificates of insanity after investigating as to the ability of the insane person, or his or her relatives to pay for his or her maintainence during the period he or she may be confined in the State Asylum, provided the report receives the approval of the Committee on Lunacy.

Freeholder Fisher moved that it lie upon the table. Carried.

By Freeholder Hubbard;

Resolved, by the Board of Chosen Freeholders, of the County of Union, That the sum of one hundred and fifteen thousand dollars be raised by tax, for the use of said county for the year 1879, to be appropriated together with $48,650, now due the county to the following purpose:

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

(Under the above head we shall endeavor each week to give items and news of interest to the lovers of fishing, gunning, shooting, athletic and other sports. We shall be pleased to receive contributions or items for this column from all interested in such matters.)

The shad-catching season in Newark and New York bays has ended. The season was so late that the fishermen have made little profit.

Fish Warden Roe, of Passaic county, accounts for the prevailing fish epidemic in the Passaic river and its tributaries thus: Certain poisonous vegetable matter has grown with unusual luxuriance during the late heated spell, causing the water to "purge," or purify, which takes 8 or 10 days; this has occurred at an unusual season, just after the fish have been spawning, and when they have not strength to withstand the injurious influence of the water. A fungus appears on the surface of the fish, near the tail, causing the scales to decay and become loose. In 8 or 10 days the poison seems to reach the brain, and the fish die. Suckers are first attacked, then cat-fish, roach, chub, sun-fish, perch and pickerel. Persons eating these fish are attacked with cramps and purging. He does not think the sewage has anything to do with the disease. The epidemic is about over in the Passaic river, but is now extending to the tributary streams and lakes.

They caught on Monday the king of turtles in the river below Philadelphia. The monster is eight feet long and five feet broad and weighs 800 pounds. Its head is twice the size of a man's, and its flippers "two feet longer than a man's arm." Great stories are being told of its violent struggles when captured, and its combat at death. Prof. Cope, of the Academy of Natural Sciences, has obtained possession of its shell.

The season for shad fishing terminated June 10th.

At the Brinton Rifle Range on Saturday last, F. H. Holton won the Sharp's improved military rifle, and the following were winners of the ten prizes of the New Jersey Rifle Association: "F. H. Holton, E. M. Squire, H. T. Davids, M. L. Gilbert, J. W. Todd, Homer Fisher, J. R. Miller, J. W. Martin, A. Hubbell, W. A. Mulford."

O'Leary is to go in training for a seventy-two hour walking contest for $5,000 and two-thirds of the gate money. It is to be a heel and toe contest.

Courtney, the oarsman, has again resumed the oars and will row a match against Frenchy Johnson on Silver Lake.

HOW TO MANAGE A HOG.

At midnight the summons came.—Maria Ann thrust her elbows cleverly between two of my ribs, and whispered in ghostly accents: "Joshua, there's a hog in the garden." I have lived with Maria long enough to know that she expects me to catch her ideas instantly, and although she had said nothing about it, I knew she anticipated that I would rise in my might and go for that hog. I accordingly rose in my might, and began groping around for my pantaloons. I felt that without them I could not appear to that advantage that would command the respect of the hog. I had no idea we possessed so much wearing apparel until I began to inventory it in the dark, while looking for my pantaloons. I got hold of articles of edging, and articles with flounces, and with embroidery, and with strings, while Maria kept whispering through the gloom: "That hog will eat up all the potatoes before you get down stairs. You are fearfully slow." I supposed she whispered for fear the hog would hear her and become offended. She never could bear to give any offense, not even to a hog, except me. All this time I was trying on things that did not fit me, but finally I lit into some sort of a garment that had what was intended for a row of buttons on it, and I buttoned it up, although there was a lightness and cheerfulness about it that did not seem entirely familiar. I got half way down stairs, when it suddenly occurred to me that the hog was not in our garden, for the very good reason that we had no garden for the hog to get into, still, we had a cistern, and the hog might get into that. It would be just like a hog.—This thought so startled me that I rolled down to the bottom of the stairs, a feat made easier from the fact that I seemed pretty well tangled up in the garment I had adopted. Maria Ann, who always proves equal to any emergency, soothed me a good deal by coming to the top of the stairs, and calling me an idiot and other pet titles she is in the way of applying in moments of tenderness.

I got out of the front door as soon as possible, and the hog, who was looking at the house from the front yard, apparently with a view of renting it, stood appalled. I did not wonder at this. In my haste in dressing I inadvertently put on Maria's polonaise, and it stands to reason that a man arrayed in a white night-shirt and a blue polonaise, rushing from the front door of a house at the solemn hour of midnight, must present an appalling spectacle to any hog. After recovering from his momentary astonishment, the hog took three more kinks in his tail and scooted three times around the yard. The front gate was wide open, but he never thought of going through that. He seemed to be looking for a good place to jump over the fence. I tangled myself up in the polonaise again and took a flying leap into the yard, landing on my left eyebrow. We do not give the women half the credit they deserve. I am convinced that it requires more downright genius to pilot a polonaise, cut with darts in the back and trimmed with knife pleating, than it does to manage a National Presidential Convention. The hog ran around the house three times more in the opposite direction with four kinks in his tail. I am slow to wrath, but I am afraid I was beginning to get mad, and when I went around behind the house and got a hatchet, I am obliged to confess that it was with a firm purpose to kill that hog or die trying to. I don't think the hog had noticed the woodshed until I went there for the hatchet, but when I returned to the front yard he immediately retired to the woodshed, and then I knew I had him cornered.

Maria had by this time recovered her presence of mind, and had got her head out of a front window up stairs, and was yelling "Fire!" with all her might, and in a way calculated to be of inestimable service to me. All I needed to spur me on to glory was some one to yell "Fire!" I entered the woodshed cautiously and found the hog completely at my mercy, unless he made a hole through the kitchen door, and escaped that way. He did not do that.—On the contrary he rushed right at me. I stepped back rather hastily, not because he scared me any, but to prevent him from tearing my polonaise, I am always careful to keep hogs off my polonaise, so far as it is possible. There was a wash-tub full of suds behind me, and as I stepped back out of the way of the hog, in a fit of absent-mindedness, I sat down in the tub. It may seem curious, but my recollection now is that that tub fitted me a good deal more snugly than the polonaise had, and yet I had never tried the tub on before in all my born days. The only way out of the tub was to tip it over and float out on the suds, and that I at once did.—Maria, still true to me in my affliction, opened the kitchen door, and with her face full of wifely anxiety, and surrounded by a nightcap frill, and her mouth wide open, she really looked like a saint or something, but she was remarking "Murder" at the time, and her voice so startled the hog that he ran over me before I could get out of the suds. How he managed to step on me thirty-two times in running over me once, is a mystery both to Maria Ann and myself; but he did, for we counted the spots his hoofs made. After running over me he walked out the front gate as solemnly as though he were on his way to church, and it is my sober belief that he came into the yard on purpose to run over me, and for nothing else. Maria Ann declares she won't wear that polonaise any more, and I am tolerably sure I shall not; not if I know it.—Stillwater (Minn.) Lumberman.

A LESSON IN TACTICS.

General Hardee, whose manual of infantry tactics was in use in all the Southern armies, visited a rural Georgia town one day during the war, and the commander of a "second-class militia" company sought to do himself and the general honor by parading his command in front of the inn in which Hardee had rooms. The writer upon tactics came out upon the balcony to review the command, and the military officer put his men through their paces. In one of the manœuvres the men became confused and got into a hopeless tangle. Hardee, in telling the story, said that he could think of no possible way in which they might be extricated, and waited with great curiosity to see what the militia commander would do. That rural tactician looked at the confused mass for a moment with a scowl of perplexity upon his forehead; then his face cleared, and he shouted the order:

"Disentangle to the front; march."

Whereupon the men rushed forward and formed a new line without regard to the old one. Hardee said the command was not in his own or any other book on tactics, but that it ought to be.

When does a man smoke a cigar too long? When he smokes it too short.

He was undoubtedly as drunk as a lord, and the ground appeared to roll beneath him like unto the ocean's restless waves. All at once he was seen to reel, endeavor to catch himself, and then sink heavily into a heap on the pround, and when the bystanders ran to his assistance, he said: "Aush shevereser shock fan earthquake ever speciensed, 's I've ben on fush coast shince '50. Mutsch damage done, y' reckon?"

One of the young men belonging to a choir in Danbury had his hair cut by a generous barber on Saturday. Sunday he sung for solo, "Cover my defenceless head," and blushed like a lobster while doing it.

"George has had a great many pull-backs in life," said the young wife to her lady friend. And when the friend said, "Yes, I saw him with one yesterday," the young wife didn't know what she meant by it.

A man who went to Leadville awhile ago and advertised to teach the guitar, was notified by the esthetic residents that if he didn't leave pretty quick he would guitar and feathers. He left.

An urchin being rebuked for wearing out his stockings at the toes, replied that "it couldn't be helped—toes wriggled and heels didn't."

If the very pointed speech made by Judge Davis, of Illinois, in the United States Senate, against military interference in the elections, followed by his vote for the bill to prohibit the intolerable abuse, left any doubt as to his position, he has removed it by a letter addressed to members of the Legislature of this State. We copy it:

UNITED STATES SENATE CHAMBER,
WASHINGTON, D. C.,
May 17, 1879.

GENTLEMEN:—I have had the honor to receive your letter of the 3d inst., covering resolutions of a "joint caucus of the Democratic members of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois." It is hardly necessary for me to say that I am in favor of perfect freedom of elections from the interference or the presence of any part of the army at the polls, because that opinion was emphatically expressed on the floor of the Senate. This is a Government of legal authority, founded on the Constitution and the laws made in pursuance thereof.—One of the grievances of which our forefathers complained was that the king had quartered troops on them, and sought by military power to coerce them into submission. It is a little less than a public scandal after a century of national existence that any party should venture to ask the people's approval of a species of tyranny that is forbidden in England and wherever else the parliamentary principle is respected.

Very truly,
DAVID DAVIS.

At Woodbury Thursday last Michael Tighe for the murder of John W. Burk, on the assembling of the Court, was attended by his wife and four children. He seemed much agitated and careworn, and when told to stand up to receive his sentence he seemed scarcely able to do so. When the Judge concluded by sentencing him to twelve years in the State Prison he shook violently from head to foot and every muscle of his body seemed unstrung, while his wife wept bitterly. Thus ends the most exciting trial that has taken place in Gloucester county for many years.

The death of Roch, the public executioner of France, has been quickly followed by the official appointment of his successor, M. Louis Antoine Stanislas Deibler, the new "Monsieur de Paris," was for many years the assistant of Roch, and has now been promoted to the highest place in his responsible and delicate profession. He is said to be an ill-favored, lame individual. It is not likely, however, that his personal appearance will be generally remarked, as it is probable that a measure will soon become law by which executions will take place within the prison walls, and before a very limited number of spectators.

The decision of United States Judge Hughes in the Virginia case,—that a State may lawfully forbid the intermarriage of whites and blacks, seems to have awakened the Hoosier authorities, and a number of colored husbands and white wives have been arrested at Indianapolis for breaking the law against such unions. Two well known colored ministers have also been indicted by the grand jury for aiding and abetting the law-breakers by performing the marriage ceremony, and the negro population is naturally very much stirred up about it.

The case of Thomas Graham, Hunter's accomplice in the murder of John M. Armstrong, appears to elicit but little interest at present. No action will be taken on it at the present term of the Camden county courts, as a motion is to be argued before the June term of the Supreme Court, which met in Trenton on Tuesday last to determine whether he will be allowed to plead to a lesser degree of crime than murder of the first degree, for which he is indicted. Graham is enjoying excellent health, and has become quite fleshy. He is in cheerful spirits, and believes that he will be finally discharged from custody.

The most sensible contest in the way of a trial of endurance was that between two young farmers in Mercer county, named Hurd and Brown. They were each given ten acres of ground, and the match was to see who should plough, harrow and plant it in corn the quickest and most thoroughly. It took them three days to do it, and at the end Mr. Hurd came out ahead by four hills.—Then he went ahead and planted two more acres to show how game he was. Mr. Brown is credited with a fine movement, however.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mar Jennie R. Smith and Covert D. Bennett, the convicted murderers of policeman Richard H. Smith. A subscription paper was started on Saturday to raise money necessary to secure them a new trial. In less than an hour $70 was subscribed.

On Thursday last Walter H. Morgan, a convict confined in the New Jersey State Prison, who had been ill for about six weeks, died from enteritis. He had been sentenced to three and a half years imprisonment by the Sussex county Courts, on a conviction for grand larceny.

Adrian Izar, the champion finger billiard player, has challenged A. P. Rudolphe to play him for $250 a side, for the title of champion finger player of the world.

Ex-Gov. John T. Hoffman and Sheriff Reilly have been installed as Sachems of the Tammany Society and Col. Edward Gilon elected and installed as Sagamore.

Mrs. Edward McCann dropped dead from heart disease as she was entering a church at Worcester, Mass., on Sunday evening last.

LEGAL NOTICES

FORECLOSURE SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—By virtue of an execution issued out of the Court of Chancery of said State, in a cause in which the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company are complainants and George V. N. Baldwin and others are defendants, directed to the subscriber, one of the Masters of said Court, I shall offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder, on Wednesday, the eighteenth day of June, A. D., 1879, at the hour of two o'clock in the afternoon, at the Court House, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey.

All that tract or parcel of land and premises hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the township of New Providence (now Summit), in the county of Union and State of New Jersey.

Beginning in the middle of the road leading from New Providence to the Summit of the Morris and Essex R.R., at a corner of land of Mrs. Charles D. Fredericks; [illegible] Ellas B. Osborn; [illegible] beginning; containing twenty-five and one-half acres, be the same more or less.

The premises described above will be sold in the order, and in the manner, and in the parcels, and for the purposes set forth and mentioned in said writ of execution, of which notice will be given on the day of sale.

Given under my hand this seventh day of April, A. D., 1879.

WILLIAM PATERSON,
Master Court of Chancery.

F. K. HOWELL, Solicitor.
Fees—$8.80.

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey.—Between the Citizens' Building Loan and Savings Association, of Plainfield, complainants, and Rosina Schneiderwind, and Peter Schneiderwind, et als., defendants. Fi. fa. For sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on at two o'clock, p. m. of said day, all the following tract or parcel of land and premises, hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the township (now city) of Plainfield, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey:

Beginning at a stake in the middle of Fourth street, in the village of Plainfield and in Willow Hill's southeast corner; [illegible] containing one quarter of an acre of land, more or less.

Being the same premises conveyed to the said Rosina Schneiderwind, by deed of Elston Marsh and wife, dated January [illegible].

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

FOUND.

She looked up at him half lovingly, half angrily, and then said with a sigh:

"Oh, Frank, if you were only not such a blundering, awkward fellow!"

"I perfectly agree with you, Bessie, and second the wish, still as you have accepted me for better or for worse, you must be resigned to the inevitable."

"But you may outgrow it; you don't mean to tell me that there is no hope?"

"I am afraid so, Bess; from my boyhood it has been 'ever thus.' I never dropped a piece of bread and butter but that it fell on the buttered side, and I know that if I should fall on my back I would surely break my nose; so bear with me patiently, dear."

"A pleasant prospect I have before me, surely; and, Frank, I do really think that you might improve, if you would only try, for my sake," and again she sighed.

She was a bright, pretty little woman, the only daughter of old Dr. Langdon, and motherless from infancy. She had met Frank Howard at his sister's house, who had been a schoolmate of her own, and now married. He was a young lawyer with a future yet to make. They had known each other for more than a year, and the acquaintance had ripened into love, and fond vows were exchanged, notwithstanding the remonstrances of his sister, who feared Dr. Langdon might blame her for her share in bringing them together, more especially as her brother had no wealth to offer, and Dr. Langdon was a very wealthy man. Still she was not heeded; the lovers met frequently, trusting to Cupid and fortune to bring all things right. They were now walking slowly through the Ramble, and Bessie's pretty features were partially hidden beneath a thick blue vail, which Frank threatened to remove every moment.

"You look like an Egyptian mummy swathed in those yards of blue stuff."

"Another blunder. Why couldn't you have said that I looked like a vailed eastern beauty, instead of a withered old mummy?"

"Oh, Frank, you have so many virtues, now, don't interrupt me. You have graduated with high honors, you are studious and ambitious; they say you have shrewd sense and keen judgment; you are honorable, generous, corteous, in a word, you are almost perfect, and then, besides, you love me so well."

"Ah, Bessie, dearest, how unspeakably devo—"

"Yes, I know; you needn't try to tell me."

"Without you—"

"Yes, I know; life would be a desert. All this I know, but I also know that your helplessness and utter want of tact will get me into trouble, and ruin my very best plans."

"But your quick wit can always find a way out."

"Yes, but how long? My stock of excuses is almost exhausted, and my inventive genius is vanishing."

"Oh, you know your resources are inexhaustible."

"I beg your pardon, sir. You are mistaken. My friends have all been invalids a sufficient number of times. Four times I have been to the dentist's. Five times I have spent the afternoon at your sister's, and papa said the other evening that he thought that the visiting was all on one side; and to-day, this is the seventh birthday visit this year that I have paid my old music teacher. If it wasn't for papa's forgetfulness of trifles, I should certainly be found out. Oh, Frank, I'm afraid you'll never make a good lawyer; see how they have to plot, and deceive, and tell stories, and you really are not equal to the most simple plot; I have to contrive everything, and that, too, at the risk of having everything upset by your awkwardness. If I tell you to meet me at the right entrance of the park, you take the left, and so much time is lost until we find each other. Then if I say four o'clock, you come at five."

"That only happened once, when I could not get away from the office."

"That was a slight excuse; but listen. How precisely I told you the other day, that if the shade in my room was down at eight o'clock, I would be able to meet you the next day at Nellie's, but if it should be up, that I would not come."

"Certainly, that I understood."

"Yes; but what did you do? All you had to do was to pass the house at eight, glance up at my window, and go on. Instead of that, you awful fellow, what did you do but come at six o'clock."

"My impatience, dear!"

"That's very fine. If you had even walked up and down; but, no. You stationed yourself opposite my window like a sentinel, and looked up so pointedly, that any of the neighbors must have noticed it, if they were at the windows. I saw you from the sitting-room where I was reading to papa, and my heart thumped with fear. At last I ran up to my room and waved my handkerchief for you to go away. Unhappy idea! It is scarcely to be believed, but you smiled and nodded so confidentially to me, that I could have shaken you to pieces, I was so vexed. Then I waved my hand imperiously that you should go away, and as you at last started I drew a long breath, when to my horror you deliberately took off your hat, smiling sweetly!"

"It's too bad in you, Bessie, to be so hard on a fellow."

"Oh, my dear, I hav'nt yet finished. You shall hear more of your blunders. To continue: You had gone. I was calm; ate my dinner, and found out from papa that he was going to Brooklyn in the afternoon; then ran to my room and set by the window until five minutes before 8, hoping to catch a glimpse of you; you know the gas lamp is opposite. Then pulled down my shade and went down to papa, with the peaceful conviction that all was nicely arranged for the afternoon. Now, sir, what happened? Some one had blundered, for the next afternoon I was at your sister's; but where were you?"

"But I understood your 'imperious wave' to mean that you could not come, and so I staid at the office and read hard, thinking of you all the time, while you and Nellie were probably abusing me."

"It's too bad, Frank, but we cannot go on in this way. You must go into society, meet me, somewhere, and call on papa."

"Society? I go in your fashionable society? Impossible! I tremble on the threshold of a strange parlor. Not a chair, table, or any article of bric-a-brac would be safe in my vicinity, and think how mortified you would be to see the cups and saucers of your friends in ruins. No, my child, you must think of some other plan."

"Then you must call on papa."

"You forget that you yourself told me that he said you should not marry before you were twenty-five, and that he would have no long engagements, and as you won't be twenty-one in six months, I should receive my dismissal, and you would forget me before your next birthday. Be patient; in a year or two I shall be in a position to ask bravely for my little girl if she is willing to wait for me."

"I will always wait for you, Frank. That is not it, but I want papa to know you and like you. He is a little gruff, I must admit, to young gentlemen; but I know that he would like you. Hav'nt you any acquaintance who knows papa, some steady old lawyer. Be careful or you'll stumble over that stone."

"Thanks, but I saw the stone. The steady old lawyer I don't see."

"Come with your sister."

"She will not bring me."

A silence.

"Oh, Frank, I have it, I have it," and she grasped her own arm excitedly. "How provoking that I should have left it home. Never mind, I'll send it to you to-morrow."

"What is it? What do you mean?"

"Listen," and she whispered something in his ear. "Do you comprehend?"

"Fully."

"And will you play your role with an innocent face?"

"I promise you I will."

"Between Union Square and Thirtieth street."

"You live?"

"Oh, Frank, how stupid. There it was lost. Oh, if you blunder this time, I'll never forgive you. To-morrow between four and five, I will send it to you."

"All right, I'll make no mistake this time."

Soon after the lovers parted.

The next morning Bessie kissed her papa with a very long face.

"Now what's the matter? Are you cross because breakfast is a little earlier this morning?"

"Oh, no, papa; only I'm afraid to tell you."

"Out with it, child. Have you set the curtains on fire, or what?"

"No, sir; but you'll scold when I tell you that I've lost my Roman bracelet."

"What, that expensive thing that you bothered me about last Christmas?"

"Yes, papa."

"Where did you lose it?"

"Between Union Square and Thirtieth street. You know where my old teacher lives?"

"Well, I'm sorry, for you won't get another in a hurry. You must be more careful."

"Oh, papa, you will advertise, won't you? Some honest person may have found it."

"Small chance. Honest people are not over plenty in New York. But I will try."

The next morning's Herald contained the advertisement, and in the afternoon, Mr. Frank Howard's card, lawyer, No.— Nassau street, was handed to the doctor in his office, and Frank entered with a slight air of embarrassment.

"Good-day, sir," said the doctor.

"Good-day, Dr. Langdon. I have been so fortunate as to find a bracelet."

"Ah, yes, the bracelet; that is fortunate! My daughter will be delighted."

Stepping to the door he called Bessie, who was, as can be imagined, not very far distant.

"Mr. Howard, my daughter. This gentleman has found your bracelet, Bessie."

"Oh, how delightful," she said, clapping her hands, and making a demure bow to Frank. "I am impatient to see it."

Frank plunged his hand into one pocket; it was not there; into another, and another, but it was in none.

"Oh, I have left it in my hat," he said, and rushed into the hall.

"Just like him," thought Bessie.

"A queer fellow," said her father.

He came in with a package. "Here it is," said he, and handed it to the doctor, who opened the paper.

Who can describe the consternation of Bessie, the astonishment of the doctor, and the desperation of Frank, when the doctor took from the paper Bessie's Russia leather case marked with her name!

"Your case?" said the doctor, looking sharply at Bessie; "how do you explain this mystery, sir?"

Before Frank could reply, Bessie threw herself in her father's arms, and between sobs and laughter told him the whole story and ended by saying, "But, papa, did you ever hear of such a blundering individual?"

The sequel one can foresee. The doctor forbade any more secret meetings, but allowed Frank to visit the house, and in a year's time consented to the marriage, on the condition that Bessie should not leave him, to which they both gladly agreed.

"We'll be married at home, Frank," said she, "for I never would risk taking you to church. You would stumble up the aisle, and respond 'no' when you were asked if you took 'this woman to be your wedded wife,' and I should die of shame."

"Have mercy, thou woman full of guile, and be sure that I never would make that blunder. Only do let the service be short, please, knowing my impatience to call you my own little wife. After all, innocence and honesty have their own reward, for while you did not lose your bracelet, I have won a jewel worth all the world, and, darling, you will at least admit that in loving you I have not been a blunderer."

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

Those who hope for no other life are dead even to this.

We are as liable to be corrupted by books as by companions.

The great misfortune of all is not to be able to bear misfortune.

Age that lessens the enjoyment of life, increases our desire of living.

Absence destroys trifling intimacies, but it invigorates strong ones.

To the blessed eternity itself there is no other handle than this instant.

Let us search ourselves in the first place, and afterwards the world.

If evil be said of thee, and it is true, correct it; if it be a lie, laugh at it.

Employment is Nature's physician, and is essential to human happiness.

No one will dare maintain that it is better to do injustice than to bear it.

Flattery sits in the parlor when plain dealing is kicked out of doors.

Show may be purchased, but happiness is always a home-made article.

It is right to be contented with what we have, never with what we are.

The silence of a person who loves to praise is a censure sufficiently severe.

Those beings only are fit for solitude who like nobody, and are liked by nobody.

Be severe to yourselves and indulgent to others; you thus avoid all resentment.

Good thoughts, like rose-leaves, give out a sweet perfume if laid up in the jar of memory.

If you propose to serve God at all, have the manliness to begin His service now.

Our dissatisfaction with any other solution, is the blazing evidence of our immortality.

Strength of mind depends upon sobriety, for this keeps reason unclouded by passion.

No indulgence of passion destroys the spiritual nature so much as respectable selfishness.

Human life defined by a line is as uncomfortable as would be the human figure defined by a wire.

Nothing is more amiable than true modesty, and nothing is more contemptible than the false. The one guards virtue, the other betrays it.

Mental pleasures never cloy; unlike those of the body, they are increased by repetition, approved by reflection and strengthened by enjoyment.

The object of all ambition should be to be happy at home. If we are not happy there, we cannot be happy elsewhere.

Ignorance, when it is voluntary, is criminal, and he may properly be charged with evil who refused to learn how he might prevent it.

All skill ought to be exerted for universal good; every man has owed much to others and ought to repay the kindness that he has received.

It is from our hearts, and not from an outward source, that we draw the line which covers the web of our existence.

Keep the head cool by temperance in all things, and the feet warm by actual exercise in the discharge of important duties—deeds of kindness.

What commonly hinders us from showing the recesses of our heart to our friends is not the distrust we have of them, but that we have of ourselves.

Men trust rather to their eyes than to their ears; the effect of precepts is therefore slow and tedious, whilst that of examples is summary and effectual.

No man is ever good for anything until he has found two things—first, something to love, and second, something to reverence.

The Infinite has sowed his name in the heavens in burning stars, but in the earth He has sown His name in tender flowers.

Genius loves toil, impediment and poverty; for from these it gains its strength, throws off the shadows, and lifts its proud head to immortality.

Gentleness which belongs to virtue is to be carefully distinguished from the mean spirit of cowards and the fawning assent of sycophants.

Pride is seldom delicate; it will please itself with very mean advantages; and envy feels not its own happiness; but when it may be compared with the misery of others.

Tears are the gift which love bestows upon the memory of the absent and they will avail to keep the heart from suffocation.

How many useful hints are obtained by chance, and how often the mind, hurried by her own ardor, to distant views, neglects the truths that lie open before her.

If you were as willing to be as pleasant, and as anxious to please in your own house, as you are in the company of your neighbors, you would have the happiest home in the world.

When the flowers are full of heaven-descended dews they always hang their heads; but men hold theirs the higher the more of the world they receive, getting prouder as they get full.

'Tis much easier to meet with error than to find truth; error is on the surface, truth is hidden in great depths; and the way to seek does not appear to all the world.

Times of general calamity and confusion have ever been productive of the greatest minds. The purest ore comes from the hottest furnace; the brightest flash from the darkest cloud.

If we would have powerful minds, we must think; if we would have faithful hearts, we must love; if we would have strong muscles, we must labor. These include all that is valuable in life.

Never has one person forgotten his pure, right-educating mother. On the blue mountains of our dim childhood, toward which we ever turn and look, stand the mothers who marked out to us from thence our life.

It is a great blessing, not often enjoyed, for a people to have men equal to every crisis in their history such as "the children of Issachar, that had understanding of the times to know what Israel ought to do."

If you have talents, industry will improve them; if you have moderate abilities, industry will supply the deficiencies. Nothing is denied to well-directed labor; nothing is ever obtained without it.

There is nothing more pitiful in this world than the appealing look of a man beating carpets in the back yard, as he raises his eyes to the windows in longing for his better half to make her appearance. What sweet music it is to his ears when at last she does come, and when she yells: "That'll do, Henry. You can bring it in now. I guess it's clean enough."

GLOVE LANGUAGE AT VASSAR.

The Vassar College girls have, we understand, adopted the following glove language:

Drop a glove—You bet.

Half unglove the left hand—What are you givin' us?

Tap the chin with the glove—Chew your own wax.

Crumple the glove in the left hand—Never!

Crumple the glove in the right hand—Well, hardly ever.

Turn the glove inside out—Wipe off your chin.

Fold the gloves neatly—I regard you as a bald-headed snipe of the valley.

Put on the left glove—I'll put a head on you.

THE SAFE GUIDE.

There is no safer guide than the experience of the past. We may speculate about the future, and boldly predict what will be the result if this, that or the other theory is carried out, but it all amounts to nothing, unless we base expectations upon the solid groundwork of cause and effect, and seek to be controlled in our calculations by facts and not mere fancies.

In a national point of view, as in every other aspect of human affairs, there remains to be a producing cause for prosperity and a no less certain cause for the opposite. A country superabundantly rich in natural resources may, under the blighting influence of a foolish or venal administration of government, be a hundred fold poorer than another far less favored with material and geographical advantages, but whose public interests are managed with wisdom and integrity and for the general good alone.

The people of the United States were never so prosperous and contented as when honesty and economy swayed each department of government, and exerted a like control over business pursuits and incorporated enterprises, when the prime object of legislation was to foster with impartial hand every worthy industry, and not to deaden any, when capital was left free to enjoy its rightful privileges, but denied the power of despotic monopoly, when small concerns were justly encouraged and labor of every kind received fair and steady remuneration, when gold and silver circulated freely as the joint standards of value and the legal tender of the Constitution, when heavy indebtedness was looked upon with dread and not as a blessing, when extravagance, both public and private, was the exception and not the rule, when moderate gains, derived from legitimate avocations, satisfied all and each individual lived within lawfully acquired means.

Such times once existed in this country and they were emphatically good.—The line of action we have hastily sketched made them so, and would, if faithfully observed, bring them back again. Like causes produce like effects.

Men may prate as loudly as they please about modern advancement, but infallible experience teaches that there is danger in going ahead too fast.

That is exactly what we have been doing and the reason why we are in continued trouble.

The old beaten track, though traveled slowly, led to reliable prosperity, both for the citizen and the nation. The modern style is to rush onward with mad velocity to dishonor and disaster.

That is the distinction and it cannot be argued away, because truth stands ready to attest it.

We need a return to first principles, to the proven efficacy of Honesty,

Economy,
Moderation,
Financial Solidity,
Practical Business,
Political Integrity,
Constitutional Freedom.

Then would good times gladden the hearts and fill the purses of the American people, who by rights ought to be the richest and happiest of mortals on the globe's broad expanse.

The following quotation from a speech made the other day in the Ohio Democratic Convention by General Steedman, makes history contrast rather strangely with the prevalent Republican prattle about "Rebel" Democracy, which, being an immense majority of the American people, is coming into control as rapidly as constitutional methods and the resistance of desperation and frauds will permit:

"I make another statement here today—and there is a living witness in the State of Ohio who was present when President Lincoln made the utterance. The first I ever saw him was after the battle of Chickamauga, when I was ordered by telegraph to report in person to him, and James M. Ashley, who is living heard the conversation.

Mr. Lincoln took me by the hand, greeting me very warmly, and told me he was glad to see me. Still holding me by the hand he said to Mr. Ashley: 'Brother Ashley, what would have become of us in this war had it not been for the fighting Democrats from the North and West?' [Prolonged applause].

With a shrug of the shoulders, Mr. Ashley said: 'Mr. Lincoln, I don't know.'

Mr. Lincoln replied: 'I believe our Rebel friends would have their flag floating at the Capitol, sir.'

He said: 'The truth is, Brother Ashley! that our party is made up, to some extent of the religious and sympathetic, and they don't make first-class soldiers.' [Laughter and applause]."

* * *

How does this sound? All during the war Charles Foster kept a country store, and constantly raising the price of his goods made money and became rich. He is now the Republican candidate for Governor of Ohio. When the war broke out Thomas Ewing was Chief Justice of Kansas. He immediately left the bench to take command of a regiment of Union volunteers. He continued in the service till the close of the conflict, rising to the rank of Brigadier-General, and finally becoming Major-General by brevet. The war over, he returned to Ohio, his native State, and is now the Democratic candidate for Governor. How do our Republican friends like to have this kind of a thing shaken at themselves? It is a long lane that has no turn.

The political outlook in Ohio grows brighter for the success of the Democratic ticket. The stalwarts are afraid of Foster and he is not altogether sound on the financial question. The Republican papers not daring to impeach the war record of General Tom Ewing, are now berating him because he is a Catholic. When party organs have to stoop to attack a man's religious belief, it is a sure sign that their cause is a desperate one.

The wise and patriotic remarks of Wade Hampton in the Senate on Thursday of last week, stamp him as a true patriot and conservative citizen, who fought for what he thought to be right and when defeated, accepted the situation manfully. The country has nothing to fear from such men as Hampton. It is the heartless demagogues and wavers of the bloody shirt who are to be closely watched and dreaded.

The formal opening of the Central Railroad line to the fashionable watering-places of this State on Wednesday last, will be hailed with sincere pleasure by those who may have occasion to use this popular route. Every effort has been made to impart not only speed but safety as well, and whether in its fine cars, or its still finer steamboats, the comfort and convenience of patrons is sought at all times. The Central has been extremely fortunate in securing the St. John, one of the finest steamers floating in New York harbor, and capable of carrying fifteen hundred passengers. Scores of our best known citizens have been aboard this floating palace, and bear testimony to all that has been said in its behalf. In its regular trips between New York and Sandy Hook, it is bound to become as popular as when doing service in Southern waters when it made trips from Charleston to Palatka, Florida.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

Orren Pierson, overseer of Road District No. 8, is at work on North Avenue, mending and repairing the roads.

Prof. A. A. Starr gave one of his microscopic exhibitions in Lyceum Hall on Tuesday last, to a fair audience. He draws a crowded house.

John Pierson, overseer of District No. 7, has made a fine improvement on Prospect Street, near its junction with Broad, turnpiking and grading it in good shape.

If some of our stalwarts had received the Plainfield paper in time on Tuesday evening, no doubt they would have been on hand at the serenade of President Hayes, at Scotch Plains. The President no doubt would have been there if it had not been that he was at his veto messages.

There is now some hope of the drainage of our village becoming an accomplished fact. The Railroad Company having signified their intentions to do their part of it, and there is nearly enough money subscribed to complete the rest. Any of our citizens wishing to subscribe can find the list in the hands of the Committee of which James L. Miller, Esq., is Chairman.

A sad accident occurred on Saturday, June 14th, at 1:10, P. M. Mrs. Mary Warlow, wife of Benj. F. Warlow, residing on Westfield Ave., in our village, had made preparations and started from her house to take the train to New York, where she was to meet her husband and spend the Sabbath with her daughter, in the city; as she was passing from the platform on the South side of the railroad to the depot to get her ticket, she was struck by engine No. 76, which, with one car attached, was on its way to the wreck at Bound Brook; she was killed almost instantly, her thigh, collar-bone, and right arm were broken, and back of head crushed. County Physician Terrill, of Elizabeth, was immediately telegraphed for. He placed the remains in charge of W. W. Connoly, Undertaker, and made a very thorough and careful examination of the circumstances attending the accident. F. R. Pennington, Station Agent, the engineer and fireman, and several other eye witnesses were examined. The County Physician came to the conclusion that no one was to blame, and issued his permit for burial. The funeral services were held in the Westfield M. E. Church, of which deceased was a member, on Tuesday last, after which the remains were taken on the 1.37, P. M. train to York Bay Cemetery, Greenville, for interment.—Mrs. Warlow was 68 years old and has a mother living 93 years old.

On Saturday last at Elizabeth Court House the Schindler boys, together with Henry Smith, one of the members of the gang and one who "gave them away," were brought up for sentence. George Schindler was sentenced on the burglary indictment to 7 years in the State Prison, 4 years on the highway robbery, 2 years on the assault and battery and one year for stealing a calf, one year for stealing harness and one year for stealing chickens, the sentence to run concurrent. James was sentenced to 4 years in State Prison for highway robbery, two years for assault and battery, one year for stealing harness, one year for stealing a calf and one year for stealing chickens. Sentences to run concurrent. Henry Smith two years for burglary, two years for highway robbery, six months for stealing harness, six months for stealing a calf and six months for stealing wagon cushions. Sentences to run concurrent. After the three were sentenced, James Schindler was taken down to the office of the jail, followed by Henry Smith. As soon as they arrived inside of the office James struck Smith a very heavy blow on the side of his head and knocked him against the iron safe, cutting a gash in the side of his head. Judge McCormick, on hearing of it, sent for James and had him brought in the Court House, and after hearing the facts in the case the Court reconsidered their judgment just passed on James and made it five years instead of four. The blow cost him one year's time.

Proceedings of Common Council.

MONDAY EV'G., June 16, '79.

Council met in adjourned meeting.

Present—Coriell, Finch, Lithgow, Mayer, Potts, Stewart, Stover, Redfield, Rushmore, Simpson. Absent—Depew.

Pres. Potts in the chair.

Minutes of last regular meeting read and approved.

Mr. Simpson presented petition of the Justices of the Peace, Clark, Nodyne, Richardson and Wadsworth, asking the use of the Council Chamber, when issues of fact came before them for decision. Mr. Stover offered resolution, that when written application be made to the Janitor of the Chamber, by the Justice desiring the use of the room for jury trial, it shall be opened by him. Laid on the table until unfinished business.

Mr. Finch presented petition from J. J. H. Poillon, Jas. M. Brady and Mrs. L. F. Ridgeway, praying for the location of a street lamp on the northwest corner of Kensington and Putnam avenues. Referred to Com. Fire, Water and Lamps.

Mr. Simpson presented claim of the Street Commissioner, Geo. M. Angleman, for work done on Broadway, Fifth street and for services, civil engineer, $[illegible]. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Stewart presented claim of J. S. Cotter, for rent of Council Chamber and use of gas fixtures, $77.11. Referred to Salaries, Officers and Election Com.

Mr. Lithgow presented claim of N. Y. and N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., $38.75. Referred to Com., Fire, Water, and Lamps.

A communication from His Honor the Mayor, containing Hugh McDonald's letter of resignation as Policeman, on account of ill health, was then read. He expressed regret at the cause that compelled the action of Mr. McDonald—a most efficient Officer—but in view of the facts, recommended the acceptance of the resignation by the Council. Mr. Stover moved that the resignation of regular Policeman Hugh Mc Donald be accepted. Carried. All ayes.

Mr. Redfield presented a report of Overseer of the Poor, T. J. Gillies, giving, as the amount expended since Jan. 1, $940.39. Filed.

On motion of Mr. Stover, the rules were suspended to allow Mr. Lithgow to present claim of Messrs. Spicer and Hubbard, for glass, of $38.35. Referred to Com. on Fire, Water, and Lamps.

Mr. Lithgow, from Com., Fire, Water and Lamps, reported correct the bill of the N. Y. and N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., $38.75. Referred to the Auditing Com.

By the same; A memorandum from Sec. of State, Kelsey, attesting to the fact that there was due to Mr. Smith, C. F. Stillman, M. D., and H. H. Lowrie, M. D., $10.40, for the issuing of burial permits. The money is due them as fees and the certificate represents the fact. Mr. Lithgow did not know who should swear to it and returned it from his Com. for instructions, the bill not being sworn to. The Clerk thought that each one of the three should make out his individual bill and to them all when presented for payment, this certificate should be attached. The clerk's view of the matter was adopted and the certificate was left with him to be attached to the bill of the parties when presented.

Mr. Lithgow, from the Com. on Fire, Water and Lamps, reported back the petition of Mr. Poillon and others praying that a lamp be located on the North-west corner of Putnam and Kensington Aves., with a recommendation that the petition be granted. The recommendation of the Com. adopted.

Mr. Stover, from the Com. on Laws and Ords., reported on an Ord. for the repeal of an Ord. in relation to cesspools, &c., recommending that it be passed.

Mr. Finch desired to know what it was proposed to do when the Ord. was repealed; he would like to know how they were to get out of the difficulty.

Mr. Stover remarked that the present Ord. did not amount to anything, that it could not be enforced and was but a dead letter.

Mr. Finch thought that considering the number who were dying from contaminated water, something should be done to protect life from danger in that respect. The bad condition of Cedar and Green Brooks was spoken of by him in this connection.

Mr. Redfield was not aware that many people were dying in this city, and doubted if they would die any faster from the repeal of this law.

In reply Mr. Finch stated that there were many in Plainfield who had been sick from impure water with scarlet fever, etc., and could get affidavits of Physicians to that effect.

Mr. Simpson thought that the cesspools were dug too deep; 7 feet was as far down as they should go.

After a little further discussion the report was received.

Mr. Stover gave notice that he would call up the Ord. under head of Unfinished Business.

Mr. Stover reported back from the Law and Ordinance Committee, the petition of Messrs. Schemerhorn and Hamilton for permission to erect poles and locate wires for a line of Telephone. The petition was so indefinite that they could take no action on it. They recommended the return of the petition. Report received and the recommendation adopted.

By the same—The petition of Geo. H. DeRevere and others, praying that the City Park be not allowed to be used for picnics, &c. Reported from his Committee with the recommendation that the council instruct the Police to see that the Park is used for only such purposes as it is intended for. The report accepted and the recommendation adopted.

By the same—Reported the bill of J. Parker as Commissioner in making assessment in matter of Park avenue, correct, with the opinion that it should be paid; and the recommendation that it be referred to the Finance Com. Report accepted and the recommendation adopted.

By the same—The Hack Ordinance reported from his Com. with several amendments, and the recommendation that it pass to its second reading. On motion laid over until unfinished business.

By the same—Reported in relation to Ordinance in regard to nuisances, with several amendments, with which changes they recommend its adoption. Laid over to unfinished business, to be read then in connection with the Ordinance.

Mr. Coriell, from the Com. on Police, reported as correct, the bill of Chas. Sebring, for repairs to the Station house well, $8.25. Referred to the Auditing Com.

Mr. Stewart, from the Com. on Printing and Stationery, reported as correct, the bill of W. L. Force and Bro., for $69.15. Referred to the Aud. Com.

Mr. Finch, from the Com. on Streets and Public Health, presented a report in relation to the matter of the drainage of Front street. The best plan that presented itself to the Com., was to lay a pipe through Richmond street to Green Brook, which could be done at a cost of about $400. The Com. recommended that such a pipe be laid, provided that a sufficient amount be subscribed by the property holders to pay all expenses over $200, which amount the Com. recommended to be appropriated for that object. Mr. Stover remarked that the place had been visited by the whole Council and this method was what was decided as the best that could be done in the matter. Mr. Coriell bitterly observed that this was the first that he had heard of the Council visiting the place; was sure that he had not done so. He asked if the grade of Front street at the present time was the established grade. Mr. Finch explained that the grade of the street had been recently changed by an Ordinance of the Council, and owing to that change the water cannot now flow into the brook on Leland, Netherwood or Farragut avenues. Mr. Redfield thought, seeing that the "pond" was there, that they had better make the best of it and get it away. Mr. Coriell found out that he had voted for the Ordinance, but thought it strange that the Street Com. should recommend to the Council an Ordinance that was defective and likely to produce a "pond." He had voted for the ordinance on the Com.'s recommendation. The report of the Com. accepted and the recommendation contained therein adopted. All ayes but Mr. Coriell.

Mr. Finch, from the St. Com., reported as correct the two bills of the Street Com'r. for $211 and $114, respectively. Referred to the Aud. Com.

Mr. Finch requested further time on two or three other bills. Granted.

Mr. Stewart offered a Res. that the Com. on Laws and Ords., be instructed to prepare an Ord. in relation to sinks and cesspools. Adopted.

Mr. Lithgow offered a Res. that the Com. on Fire, Water and Lamps be granted the sum of $[illegible], to be used in the repairing and re-painting of the lamps. Adopted.

Mr. Rushmore presented an application from Mr. Breslin, Proprietor of the Netherwood Hotel, for a license to keep an Inn and Tavern and to sell spirituous and fermented liquors. Referred to the License Com.

Mr. Stover offered a Res. that the Clerk be authorized to make the proper publication of the two Ords. in relation to the opening and changing of Third St. Adopted.

Mr. Stover called up dog ordinance and moved that it be ordered to its third reading. Read at the request of Mr. Lithgow, who wanted an ordinance that would provide for the muzzling of dogs the year round. It was moved by him that the ordinance be returned to the Law and Ordinance Com. with the recommendation that they frame an ordinance in conformity with modern views. Not seconded. On a call for the previous question, the ordinance was passed to its third reading, all voting aye but Mr. Lithgow. Mr. Stover then moved the final passage of the ordinance; all ayes but Mr. Lithgow.

Mr. Stover called up sink and cesspool ordinance and moved its second reading. Read. Ordered engrossed for the third reading.

Mr. Stover called up hack ordinance. The several amendments offered were then discussed at considerable length until about half through the document, when Mr. Lithgow moved that the ordinance with its amendments be laid on the table, and that the whole Council meet some evening on invitation of the Law and Ord. Com., at the office of the Corporation Counsel, to discuss the matter as a Com. of the Whole. So ordered.

Mr. Stover called up nuisance ordinance, which, on motion of Mr. Lithgow, on account of the lateness of the hour, was laid over until next meeting.

Mr. Finch presented bills of J. E. Dowley for work done on East Front street, $275, and for work done on Front street between Cole's Hill and Terrill Road, $125. Both bills endorsed by the Street Com'r. Referred to Com. on Streets.

Mr. Finch, from Com. on Streets, reported as correct bills for $275 and $120 of Jno. E. Dowley. Referred to Auditing Com.

Mr. Stover called up resolution in relation to the use of Council Chamber for giving trials before Justices of the Peace. After amendment, so that the Justices shall meet expenses of the opening, lighting and heating, the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Simpson, from Aud. Com., reported as correct the following bills: J. E. Dowley, $275 and $125; N. Y. and N. J. Globe Gas Light Co., $38.75; H. J. Ackerman, $37.55; Chas. Sebring, $8.25; G. M. Angleman, $211 and $114; W. L. Force & Bro., $69.15. Warrants ordered drawn. Meeting then adjourned.

ENJOY LIFE.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means for enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often do the majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worried out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof that Green's August Flower will make them as free from disease as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint is the direct cause of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottles, 10 cents. Try it. For sale at Voorhees' Drug Store, Front Street.

Fifty Per Cent. Saved

by using HIGGINS' GERMAN LAUNDRY SOAP because it is pure. Ask your grocer for it, and give it a trial.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly, poor appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver, or "biliousness," and nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as to take SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR MEDICINE.

The Cheapest, Purest and Best Family Medicine in the World! An Effectual Specific for all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen. Regulate the Liver and prevent Chills and Fever, Malarious Fevers, Bowel Complaints, Restlessness, Jaundice and Nausea.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR

BAD BREATH!

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common as bad breath, and in nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be so easily corrected if you will take Simmons' Liver Regulator. Do not neglect so sure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your Appetite, Complexion and General Health.

PILES!

How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden and robbing existence of all pleasure owing to the secret suffering from Piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. Simmons' Liver Regulator is no drastic violent purge, but a gentle assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION!

Should not be regarded as a trifling ailment—in fact nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulations from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a costive habit of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE!

This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache.

Middlesex and Union Counties
Agricultural Association.
By a recent act of the Legislature, the par value of the shares of this Association having been reduced to ten dollars, a sufficient number additional will be issued to defray the expense of improvements contemplated in the erection of buildings, etc., and for establishing annual Fairs for the Counties of Middlesex and Union.
The Grounds are situated on Park Avenue, at Avon Park.
All who are interested in making the proposed enterprise successful are invited to subscribe.
No call for money will be made until 800 shares are subscribed, when a meeting will be called to elect a new Board of Directors.
This is a matter of interest to all the citizens of the two counties, and in order to insure a successful inauguration of a Fair in October the necessary number of shares should be taken promptly.

ow Fair grounds. The 500 shares deemed necessary by the management for the commencement of the work has been, within a few shares, subscribed; and the manner in which the energetic business men of the place are encouraging and abetting the project, predicts even a more flourishing institution than it was at first hoped it could be made. The affair throughout has met with fine success, and the hearty manner in which it has been endorsed by the farmers, show that it will receive their support in a practical way on its opening. We should not like to rival Waverly too much in its heretofore unchallenged glory, though it will be impossible that Plainfield should not somewhat divide honors with it hereafter.

Monument Association.

At a meeting of the Washington Monument Association held June 13th, the President, Mr. Harper, in the chair, on motion of Judge Good, it was

Resolved, That the customary celebration of American Independence at Washington Rock, under the auspices of this Association, be arranged for the approaching 103d anniversary of that ever to be honored event, and that a committee of thirteen be appointed to carry this resolution into effect.

The President named as such Committee:

ter P. Good, Wm. L. Force,
lfred Berry, John H. Van Winkle,
ephen G. Horton, Alex. Titsworth,
m. J. Leonard, Joseph M. Mather, ufus K. Case, Dr. M. B. Long.

John H. Staats.

Mr. Gillies offered as follows:

Resolved, That our fellow-citizen, Wm. Maxson, Esq., be invited to deliver the oration at Washington Rock on the coming Fourth of July.

Which was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Gillies, L. V. F. Randolph, Esq., was elected a member of the Association and invited to read the Declaration of Independence on the Fourth.

On motion of Mr. Horton, the thanks of the Association was voted to Gazelle Engine Company for the use of their room.

Then adjourned.

T. J. GILLIES, Rec. Secretary.

Railroad Accident.

out half-past six o'clock last Friday ing, an accident occurred on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, which had a singular result, seriously interfering travel and causing a loss of thousands of dollars. An oil train was passing the junction of the Delaware and d Brook Railroad, about two miles of Bound Brook, when the Engine k a cow which was crossing the track. animal was turned around by the of the concussion, and falling under an oil car caused it to jump from ails. In another instant there was a fic explosion of one of the tanks on second car. Stanley's Great Work.

The accounts of the adventures and trials of African explorers are no less interesting than instructive. "Everybody," as Rev. Leonard Bacon, D.D., of Yale College says, "knows something and would like to know more of Stanley's explorations and wonderful achievements in the interior of the African continent." The story of his travels are interesting in the extreme; they read like a novel. No one after once sitting down and reading the work can help being struck with the vivid descriptions and the deepening interest in the book by the reader; such a work is that by Hon. J. T. Headley; he has the reputation among good critics of being an elegant writer and an attractive narrator; he certainly has maintained his reputation in this work, which is published by Messrs. Hubbard Bros., of Philadelphia, at the low price of $2.75.—The Publishers have been very fortunate in procuring the services of Mr. W. L. Heineken, as an agent for this city and vicinity for the above work. Mr. Heineken is a young man of good moral character and comes well recommended. The work has already received the endorsement of the various clergymen of this place, and it is hoped will have a large sale.

Strawberries.

We have lived luxuriously the past week. Kind friends, who took pity on the poor, starving editor, have sent to our sanctum baskets of delicious strawberries, which were eagerly devoured by ye editor and family to their extreme gratification, and we feel very much refreshed, and trust that others will bear in mind that an editor and his d—l must live, even if they have to do so on strawberries. The fact that a grand rush of the "stalwarts" went to Scotch Plains and scared Brittin out of a dozen or so of drinks, on the pretense that R. B. H. was a guest at the mansion of one of the residents of that ancient village, has nothing to do with the case. First came ex-Freeholder Wm. B. Ayres, with a basket of his own growing, the "Seth Boyden, No. 30" variety, picked from a patch on his premises, 20 x 25 feet in dimensions, from which he has already gathered 91 quarts the present season. They were large, plump, sweet, and we wish we had more of them. Halstead Compton, of Evona, was next in order. They were fine and large. "Halsey" has a shot gun ready loaded for violators of the law. Denton, the well-known florist and nurseryman of Plainfield, then sent us a basket of his fine "Cumberland Triumph." The "last call," however, was from our ancient Democratic English friend, Prof. John Barker, who for the past 12 years has dwelt on top of the mountain, near Washington Rock, and is a professor in strawberry culture. His specimens were designated as "The Cedar View" variety, and were the largest and sweetest lot of the whole. Some of them measured six inches in circumference. Mr. B. has brought about this prolific growth by careful study and work. We await future developments in the way of samples.

A "Stalwart" Uprising.

Tuesday afternoon last a rumor gained credence in our city, through a source where the party interested was anxious to gain notoriety, that Rutherford B. Hayes, now acting as President of these United States, was visiting at Mr. A. D. Shephard's residence, Scotch Plains.—Forthwith, there was a great stir made among the "faithful" and reporters of Republican "trash" and ere long, Uncle Dan Roberts and other liverymen had their hands full in filling orders for "brets," "landaulets," "coaches," "sundowns," anything, the crowd said, "so that we can get there first." The Chiefs of the great "moral party" were soon busy spreading the information that "Hayes is up to the Plains," and even the much talked of excursion to escort Grant home from his European, &c., &c., tour, could not have created greater excitement. A few of the "knowing ones" immediately secured the services of the Plainfield brass band, (who, by the way, are always ready for business and furnish excellent music,) unearthed a number of old campaign torches, and in a short time the procession was started toward the point where "His Excellency" was supposed to be quietly enjoying the balmy air of "the Plains." In one of the most expensive vehicles were seated several of the dignitaries of the party who aver that R. B. Hayes was elected President of the United States. On the box, along side the driver was perched a reporter. In the band wagon was another. The rival organs of the great moral party were represented fully, pencils and brown paper being furnished gratuitously for the purpose of giving the event a "good account." Arriving at the residence of Mr. Shephard, the "advance guard" rang the bell and announced the object of their visit. Instead of Mr. Hayes they found that a [gallant] soldier of the late war, General R. Hastings, and a relative of "His Excellency," was the honored guest of Mr. S. Before the cavalcade following them could be warned of the terrible mistake, the band, obedient to orders, struck up "Hail to the Chief." Mr. S., in response to the call for the President (?) stepped outside the doors and explained that there was no President there; it was another man. Then there was a general laugh (?) all around, and the procession started backward toward Plainfield, the members of the band being the richer (in prospective) for their night's work.—Promises were made that Mr. Hayes should be informed of the demonstration intended for his benefit, and several anxious ones are looking for appointments, the Post Office being an objective point. However, if the "organs" of the "stalwart" party will only receive proper compensation for their efforts to write up the fiasco in a suitable manner to ease the minds of all concerned, we have no objections to give our humble mite toward it, in writing these few lines. The youthful reporter who was disappointed in not securing a first-class lunch on the occasion has our sympathy. P. S.—"Gep" was not there as he was engaged in writing his "card" to certain members of his party, previous to his departure for the "better lands." "Bulkey," you ought to have been there.

[illegible] though Mr. Sutton suspecting one Cornelius Quinlan, a workman in the employ of Wm. S. Darling, Esq., of having committed the act, caused that person's arrest on Friday, on a charge of having shot the dog. The accused was brought before Justice Nodyne, and a suit instituted by Mr. Sutton for $100 damages. Michael Quinn became Quinlan's bondsman in the sum of $200, and the case was called for trial in the Council Chamber, Monday, June 9th, Suydam & Jackson appearing for plaintiff. It was expected at that time the case would be tried by jury, but defendant announced that he would abide by the decision of the Justice. Mr. Wm. S. Darling, employer of Quinlan, argued the case for the latter. Two witnesses swore that they were working in the vicinity where the dog was shot, and heard a shot fired, also saw a man whom they recognized as Quinlan, running away from the point where the shot was heard. Quinlan swore he was not in the vicinity at the time, and produced witnesses to prove an alibi. Here were witnesses on either side swearing positively the reverse. The Justice reserved his decision until Wednesday, when he rendered a verdict of not guilty. Mr. Sutton has the sympathy of his numerous friends in the loss of his dog, which was a valuable and favorite one. It is to be regretted that a person who would wilfully shoot such a dog cannot be discovered and punished.

[The above article was unavoidably crowded out last week.—ED.]

The Masonic Concert.

The brethren of the mystic tie and their friends, assembled in large numbers to dedicate their new and handsome rooms in Van Deventer's building, last Thursday evening. We can safely say that the occasion was one of the finest and most enjoyable Organ Concerts ever given in Plainfield. The comfortable Hall was filled to its utmost capacity, the seating room being limited to 300 persons. Mr. Henry Eyre Brown, Organist of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, was entrusted with the task of showing off the good points of the new organ, (the gift of one of our fellow citizens, Mr. Henry Latimer) and did it in such a manner as to assure him that his proficiency in that line was appreciated by a Plainfield audience. The programme was well selected and each artist performed their various roles to the entire satisfaction of the fashionable and appreciative audience present. Mr. Browne opened the evening's exercises on the organ with "Grand Toccata," In F. from Bach, which did honor to the player and maker of the organ. Mr. Fred. Bent, the celebrated Cornet Soloist, followed with the "Exiles Lament," and received an encore. The Soprano Solo by our local songstress, Madame Herminie C. Butts, entitled "The Message," received the applause it should and she was the recipient of a handsome boquet of flowers. Next came the "Fantasia in D. op. 11" by Mr. Browne, on the organ, which was rapturously applauded. Then the Messrs. B. C. and F. Bent gave one of their inimitable performances on the cornet in different rooms—"Miserare from Trovatore," which received a gratifying encore. After "Le Roi d'Yvetot," by Mr. Browne, Past Master Wm. B. Maxson, made a few very pleasing remarks, in which he alluded to the munificent gift to the Masonic order by Mr. Henry Latimer—the organ, from which Mr. Browne had just drawn such sweet music. Then followed "Nocturne" (Flute Solo,) on the organ. Following came a cornet solo—"Favorite" by B. C. Bent, one of the best productions of the evening. He was loudly applauded and responded by playing "The Sweet Bye and Bye." Following the "Wedding March" on the organ, came Mrs. Butts "with La Marseillaise." To say that the same was most rapturously received, is but expressing a faint idea of the fact. An encore followed, and she was the recipient of a basket of beautiful flowers. The Messrs. Bent Bros.' followed with the cornet duet "You and I," and after Mr. Browne had rendered an organ Overture—"Figaro," the Concert was over, and all present, upon their retirement, pronounced the occasion, "the best of the season." The new rooms of the masonic brethren are furnished in a tasteful and elegant manner, and will vie with any other lodge in the State for comfort, ventilation and appointments.

The Saenger-Bund Picnic.

Monday last was a gala day among the Germans of Plainfield, the occasion being the picnic under the auspices of the Plainfield Saenger-Bund (Singing Society). Early in the morning the visiting Societies from New Brunswick, Newark and Elizabeth began to arrive, until about half-past eleven o'clock a. m. When the procession formed there was an immense crowd in front of headquarters at Fred. Caspar's on Second street. The line of march was then formed as follows: Marshall of the day, Mr. George Bremer, assisted by Mr. Adolph Korman, both mounted on gaily caparisoned horses. Voss' Brass Band of Newark. P. Rickert's large truck, drawn by 4 horses, containing twelve young ladies, the wheels of the vehicle trimmed with the German national colors. Officers of the various Societies on foot. "Arion" Society of Newark, 80 members, each wearing linen hats with sprig of green attached. "Germania" Society of Elizabeth. "Philharmonic" Society of New York. Mr. Becker, of New Brunswick, seated in a pony phaeton, drawn by two milk white ponies. Jefferson Brass Band. "Aurora" and Eintracht Society from New Brunswick, 50 members each. "Concordia" Society of Elizabeth. Then followed a large number of stages and other vehicles, some drawn by four horses, and trimmed with green boughs. After the procession, the line of march was taken up for Vail's Spring Grove, on top of the mountain, just off the celebrated Johnston Drive.—Here a large dancing platform was found, 30x50 feet in dimensions, on which the "light fantastic" was kept up to a late hour. About three o'clock p. m., the twelve young ladies, designated for the purpose, presented, to the Plainfield Saenger-Bund, through their leader, Miss Louise Krausse, a young lady of blonde complexion and pleasing address, a handsome blue silk flag with gold fringe border. In the centre appeared the words, "Plainfield Saenger-Bund," in gold letters. Below is a shield, bearing the American colors. The staff is surmounted by a lyre. This magnificent gift came from the firm of Messrs. Schepflin, Baldwin, Tweedy & Co., our well-known clothing manufacturers, on Front Street. The banner, or flag was received on behalf of the Society by Herr Smith, of Elizabeth, who in a neat speech accepted the same, eulogizing the donors, and congratulating the assemblage upon the success of the occasion, after which the various societies each sang a song, all the ceremonies being conducted in the German language.—The young ladies representing the presentation committee were Misses Louisa Krausse, Louisa Schmidt, Augusta Keller, Katie Mobus, Emilie Weigel, Minnie Day, Annie Schuck, Maggie Rickert, Annie Schulein, Sophia Newburg. (from Dunellen.) Immediately after the presentation, dancing was commenced and kept up until about nine o'clock in the evening, when the immense assemblage dispersed to their various homes greatly pleased with the day's enjoyment. Everything passed off successfully, and our German citizens, especially the Saenger-Bund of Plainfield, are to be congratulated upon the success attending the same.

Go to Peck's.

the public to call at the establishment and investigate the matter themselves. Mr. Pound claims that there is no "nuisance," and that being a law-abiding citizen of 40 years' business standing in Plainfield, he should be entitled to a hearing and "seeing" in the matter before judgment is passed. He courts an investigation of the premises and less sensational newspaper talk. The Board of health, of which Dr. Burlingham is President, have already accorded Mr. Pound that honor, and express themselves as satisfied that it is not a nuisance. They also expressed themselves surprised at the cleanly condition in which they found the establishment. We have also visited the locality and found it as above stated—under the supervision of Mr. Edward Laing, who has charge of the institution. Mr. P. states that all boiling or rendering is done after 11 o'clock p. m., and that no putrid meat or bones are put in the kettles; on the contrary they are taken from his business daily.

P. A. C.'s Take Notice.

Weston is ahead in the Grand International Pedestrian match, in London. Our latest advices, per cable, report Weston as lively as a cricket, five miles ahead of his competitor, Brown, with every chance of winning the match. Selah!

P. S.—As we go to press we learn that Brown's physical condition was such, that he was ordered from the track by his physician.

Personalia

Mrs. A. Vanderbeek, wife of our Park Avenue Music dealer, is visiting at the residence of her father, Mr. Green, at Saratoga.

Our esteemed friend Capt. B. F. Depew is getting his lines, hooks and rods ready preparatory to his departure for his annual Summer, fishing tour. We wish him grand success and an enjoyable time.

Mr. Thos. Green, of The Home Insurance Co., N. Y., and wife, have returned to their old quarters in Plainfield, for the Summer at Chamberlin & Co's (formerly Laing's) hotel.

We, on Wednesday last, received a call from our young and rising limb of the law, Thos. J. DeLaney, whose place of business is in one of the numerous offices in the "Tall Tower," N. Y. City.—Mr. D. was in Plainfield on official business.

Our congratulations are extended to the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church, this city, Treasurer Wm. Shotwell having recently paid $1,000, the last payment due on their handsome new Sunday School building, which cost about $5,500. The above amount was raised by voluntary contributions.

To-day (Friday) Gershom Frazee, an old "forty-niner," leaves our city for the gold fields of California, where he will once more try his luck with Dame Fortune. We wish "Gep" success in his venture, and trust he will return to our city with a pocket full of gold and ready to vote a sound Democratic ticket.

NORTH PLAINFIELD PARAGRAPHS.

Mrs. Austin's Craig Place School

Closed a very successful term yesterday (Thursday). The exercises were of a varied and highly interesting character, and proved most satisfactory, alike to teacher, pupils and parents. The following is the programme:

Repeating Scripture.
Lord's Prayer.
Singing by the School.
Examination in Botany.
Recitation—"Kate and Bess," Mabel [illegible].
Recitation—Jennie Dunham.
Recitation—"New Year's Eve," Ella Smock.
Composition—Trees. Read by Addie Barnes.
Singing—"Kind Words," Lizzie Force.
Recitation—"Three Wise Women," Theresa Stine.
Recitation—"The May Queen," Mary Adams.
Composition—The Hen. Read by Mary Brunson.

Recitation—"Jennie Douglas," Mary Brunson.
Composition—"Happy Vacation." Read by Emma Adams.
Report of Examinations.
Singing by the School.

The examinations were satisfactory, comprehensive and thorough, showing faithful work on the part of the scholars, the standing of the pupils in the different grades averaging 94.

The attendance during the last term has been the largest for several years, which fact alone is sufficient evidence of careful training and general satisfaction to parents. We wish her continued success in future efforts.

Some thief or thieves stole every article left over night on the back porch of the residence of Mr. Daniel Pierson, cor. of Duer street and Park Place, last Saturday night, consisting of pails, kettles, plates, wash basins, soap, towels, &c. This should be a warning to housewives to either take their utensils inside the house at night or else persuade their husbands to practice in a pistol gallery, and keep up their practice in the night time—when thieves are about. The former preventative is preferable.

One day last week Mr. Daniel Van Winkle observed some young lads around the fire well corner of Holyrood Place and Grove Street, apparently excited over some circumstance. Upon his approach the youngsters ran away. He found that they had raised the heavy iron cover to the well, and had been unable to replace it. Had a horse or individual been so unfortunate as to step upon the covering, as it lay partly over the mouth of the well, serious consequences would have resulted. A man would have been precipitated into the well and a horse probably suffer from a broken leg. The Fire Commissioners should impose a heavy penalty upon any one tampering with the fire well covers.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

The old hotel, De Baud, by Thos. Paff, proprietor, has been newly roofed. Mr. James B. Farley did the work.

Commissioner Vanderhoff, has made a grand improvement, in working Park avenue from Midway to the depot.

Mr. Edward Maher is having a substantial and comfortable residence built upon his premises on "Narrow Gauge" drive.

Mr. Geo. Squier, who is doing a very lucrative business in the coal trade, has been quite unwell for several days past, but is now slowly improving.

The Rev. Dr. Maxson of Plainfield, preached a sermon of great depth of thought and feeling, at the Baptist church last Sunday. Next Sabbath, the Rev. N. B. Guirerd, the pastor-elect, will occupy the pulpit.

A Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival was held in the M. E. church on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week, in aid of the Helping Hand Society of that church. The attendance was good and the proceeds satisfactory.

The annual meeting of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Co., for the election of Officers, was held last Monday evening. The attendance was large. J. M. Baker was elected Foreman, C. M. Berry, 1st Assistant, J. McNair, 2d Assistant, F. C. Gibbs, Secretary, O. M. Putnam, Treasurer and Max Griebel, President. The President read his "Annual Message," an important document, which, being interspersed with considerable wit and humor, was the occasion of not a little hilarity during its reading. The membership is constantly increasing, and the treasury is in a plethoric state. The annual Fishing Excursion will occur next Saturday, in the waters of Arthur's Kill or Staten Island Sound.

The revised statutes of New Jersey make Sunday gunning an offence punishable by a fine of $25.

A MEETING of the Board of Directors of the New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society is called for 8 p. m., Saturday, June 21.

A MEETING of the New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society will be held at the Mansion House, this city, on Saturday afternoon, June 21, at 4 o'clock.

The law regulating shooting woodcock in the States of New York and New Jersey, do not harmonize, which is to be regretted. New Jersey opens up July 4th, and New York August 1st.

Complaint is again made that the fish in the river are being killed by the dye stuff emptied into the river by the Raritan Woolen Mills. Is there no way to remedy this evil?

The law for shooting woodcock in this State does not expire until the Fourth of July, but the pot-hunters, as usual, will be out with dog and gun after them before that time. Let our farmers and others who are interested in the protection of game, look after these violators of the law and bring them to justice.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The steamship Zeal, which arrived at this port last Sunday, brought 3,000 migratory quail, consigned to Howie P. Tobey, of Boston, Mass. The birds were shipped by the American consul at Messina, and will be distributed among the sportsmen's clubs in Canada, Maine, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Maryland.

An unusual sight was witnessed by the family of Fish Warden Ohl, in front of their residence in this city, one day last week, a mother woodcock with her three little ones, alighting on the beautiful green lawn and making a visit of some two hours duration, their motions and actions being watched with interest by several spectators. After their siesta, Mrs. Woodcock and family flew to their feeding ground in the adjacent lowlands. Percy says that brood shall not be destroyed if he can help it.

THE New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society, have issued posters offering $25 reward for the arrest and conviction of any party or parties found violating the Game or Fish laws.

FIRE MATTERS.

The "Gazelle" boys have secured the services of Mr. Ed. Vanderweg, who, for a consideration, will hereafter hitch his pair of horses to the steamer of the above Company when an alarm of fire occurs and take it to the same.

It is stated that the Plainfield Fire Department needs new hose. We believe it.

Sparks from a passing locomotive set on fire the roof of the old candy manufactory, next to the gas house, on Church street, last Wednesday morning. It was discovered by Mr. John Daly, an employee at the works, who with the aid of another person extinguished the fire after a hole about four feet in diameter had been burned in the roof. Just below the flames was a large pile of oakum. It was a close call.

The Best is the Cheapest.

The announcement that a new edition of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary has just been published, containing many new and valuable features, suggests the thought that buying a Dictionary is a good deal like buying an egg or a watch; a bad one is not cheap at any price. Webster being the standard authority for the English language, he naturally has many imitators, but imitators are usually held at their true worth by the public; who wants a wooden nutmeg, though it may look ever so much like the genuine article? The popularity of Webster is based upon this principle. If you want a handy thing to carry with you, a companion that you can always rely upon, and one that will never tire you, a really vade mecum, we recommend that you get a copy of the pocket edition of Webster, with its 18,000 words and meanings, rules for spelling, tables of weights and measures, abbreviations, words, phrases and proverbs from the ancient and modern languages.

It is printed from new type, and bound in morocco, with tucks, and bright gilt edges, and, when not otherwise obtainable, will be sent by mail, on receipt of one dollar, by the publishers, Ivison, Blakeman, Taylor & Co., 138 & 140 Grand St., New York.

The Symptoms of Pleuro-Pneumonia.

The first indication of the disease is shown in the animal lagging behind its fellows, becoming indolent, and standing apart from the rest of the herd. The thermometer will now show a temperature of 103° to 104° Fahrenheit, and if the ear be applied to the chest the sounds in one or both lungs will be found harsh, quick and labored—the breathing being more rapid than usual in this stage. The flow of milk will usually be lessened, though in some cases it is increased from fever making the cow drink more than usual. The next symptom is a husky, suppressed cough, and now the animal will be seen to breathe from the abdomen; it stands in a stiff position, with the elbows turned out, saliva drips from the lips, and there may be an occasional grunt or moan; the appetite is lost, and the pulse quick. The animal when lying down rests on the breast bone. Tapping with the fingers over the lungs gives a dull, flat sound very different from the drum-like sound of health. In a few days, if the cow doesn't die, she will begin to improve; the appetite returns, the flow of milk increases, the animal grows more spirited, and often lays on more flesh. This, the chronic form of the disease, is apt to deceive, as all symptoms of illness save a slight cough, are absent, and a cow with very badly diseased lungs will often thrive and grow fit for the butcher.

It is most important to know this as these cases are as capable of giving the disease to other cattle as are acute cases, as from their sleek, healthy appearance, they are turned out among other cattle, thus spreading the disease and causing great loss to the owners.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

AN ERIE-DICULOUS SKETCH.

Last night, while taking our usual moonlight stroll, we noticed the gate that shuts the world out from the sacred home of a Republican friend mysteriously strapped up, the blinds of the windows down, and everything looking as if he had packed up things expecting an earthquake regularly every hour for the next month. Before getting out of eyeshot of the house, our fiery orbs rolled toward the woodshed, and we saw an object peeping out.

"Hi!" cried the trembling wretch.

Bounding lightly over the fence, we soon reached the shed in question; but he closed the door in our faces unceremoniously.

"What's the matter, my friend?"

"Go away."

"Been lingering too long at the flowing bowl?"

"Go 'way, you," he cried.

"Tornado struck this portion of the city?"

The click of the lock of a gun was the reply.

"Your spouse been bull-dosing you again?"

The gun was brought up to a double-cock.

"Have they got to Erie, yet?" he asked, with his eye at a knot hole.

"Who?"

"The — the —Oh! — the terrible — the terrible gigadiers?"

"Brigadiers?"

"Ye-ye-yes — the Confederate gigadiers."

"No, you miserable coward!"

"Garfield said there was to be a revolution right away."

"Garfield is an ass, and you are his cousin. Come out of that and be a man."

Just then the gun went off accidentally, and he bounded out of the back door of the woodshed and ran down a lane, yelling:

"Don't fire! Don't fire!"

We laid down on the turf and began to laugh, but a window was raised in the house, and a very silvery voice sang out:

"What's the matter, pa?"

"He has gone to be a figadier," we answered, laughingly.

"O, terror! Gone! Why he said there was to be a revolution right away, locked us all up in the house and said he would mount guard, and he has cruelly deserted us."

Her sisters and her cousins and her aunts appeared on the scene, and a grandmother or two, and there was a tornado right there and then—of questions.

"Have the rebel brigadiers burned Washington yet?"

"Have they really torn down the dear starry flag and run up the Southern banner?"

"O dear! O dear!"

"Horror! Horror!"

Satisfying them that all was quiet on the Potomac, and getting Cherry out of the window and under the porch long enough to kiss her, the scene ended.

* * * * *

A note received from Cherry this morning informs us that "Pa is in Canada," where all good Republicans go, when the cry of war is heard in the land.—Erie Herald.

YES, HE COULD.

"New bonnet, new bonnet—twelve dollars for a new bonnet!" exclaimed Mr. Slick the other evening as his wife suggested a change from the Winter styles.

"Yes, only twelve dollars," she humbly replied.

"Twelve dollars for a bonnet is an outrage and I know it!" he went on.—"Why, I can buy two fine silk hats for that money and have some strawberry change left! It's a dead swindle to ask $12 for a bonnet."

"Well, I can't do any better, Mr. Slick. That's the price, and I must pay or go without."

"You don't know how to buy—that's what ails you!" he growled. "I'll bet money I can buy a $12 bonnet for $8.—It's all in knowing how to handle the salesmen."

"I wish you'd try it," she suggested.

"I will—by George! I will! I'll bring you up a new bonnet in the morning, and I'll get it four dollars cheaper than you dare to!"

Mr. Slick was as good as his word.—He went into a millinery store next afternoon with his eye-teeth all sharpened, and with the idea in his mind that every bonnet in the store was priced at exactly twelve dollars. He looked around a little, selected a bonnet that pleased him, and pointing his cane at it and calling up his deepest voice, he inquired:

"Are you asking twelve dollars for that bonnet?"

The woman flushed, looked from the bonnet to the man, and was trying to reply, when he said:

"These are not the times for outrageous prices, and the buyers realize it. I'll give you eight dollars for that bonnet, and not a cent more."

"That—that bonnet—"

"Eight dollars and no more!" he interrupted; and she put the article in a box and took his money.

"What'd I tell my wife, eh?" he whispered, as he went out, "I tell you it takes a man to buy goods, no matter whether it's fence-posts or paper cambric!"

When he sat down at home and took the cover off the box and held up the bonnet, Mrs. Slick inquired:

"How much did she charge you?"

"Eight dollars, madam; while you would have paid twelve!"

"Richard!" she said, as she tried to laugh all over at once, "I was with the lady next door when she ordered that bonnet for her cook, and the price was to be four dollars. You see, it—"

He held up his finger, counted three fives out of his wallet and left them on a chair for her.—Detroit Free Press.

There was once a clergyman in New Hampshire noted for his long sermons and indolent habits. "How is it," said a man to his neighbor, "that Parson ———, the laziest man living, writes those interminable sermons?" "Why, said the other, he probably gets to writing, and is too lazy to stop."

At this season the average young man is a good deal "shorter" than the cake he pines for and a good deal redder than the half-dozen strawberries in it, when his "girl" says, "Oh, Charley! How I do love strawberry shortcake! Don't you?"

It will again be fashionable this season to wear striped stockings while bathing, and the innocent little catfish mistaking them for barber poles will come wiggling around to get their whiskers trimmed.

Extremes—A lady clutching her dress to raise it from the mud, meeting a gentleman grabbing his hat by the crown in order to bow.

GLEANINGS.

Strange mischances with fatal results are daily happening here and there. A Boston butcher ran against a knife that lay on a block, severed an artery, and bled to death. A Denver woman caught her foot in a railroad frog, and could not get loose before a train ran over her. A Vermont farmer sneezed with a straw in his mouth, drew it into his lungs, and died choking. A horse kicked a Michigan boy into a deep well, where he was drowned. The shoe flew off the foot of a kicking mule, in Nashville, and fractured the skull of a baby. An Oregon girl swallowed her engagement ring, and lived only a week afterward. While standing on his head, on the top of a high fence post, an Iowa boy lost his balance, fell into a tub of hot water, and was fatally scalded. A stone, thrown by a playfellow, broke a glass from which a St. Louis boy was drinking, driving some of the pieces down his throat, and he died a few days afterward in great agony. Looking up to watch the flight of an arrow, a Nashville woman did not see it descending directly over her head, and the sharp metal point penetrated her brain through one of her eyes, killing her instantly.

The destruction of wild beasts and snakes is one of the duties undertaken by the authorities of the East Indies; but, though the struggle has been carried on for centuries, man has not yet triumphed in it. Last year no less than 22,851 wild beasts and 127,295 snakes were destroyed, at an expense of 100,000 rupees, or $51,400. Nearly 17,000 persons were attacked by snakes during the year, and 3,000 persons were victims of tigers, leopards, wolves, and other ferocious quadrupeds.

Two boys at Monroe, Maine, who had seen their father kill a hen, by chopping her head off, thought they would like to try an experiment in the same direction, substituting a human being for the hen. So a little boy about their own age was laid on a plank, and one of the others went after the axe, which he secured and was returning to deal the fatal blow, when he was discovered and the axe taken from him.

A rural bride of considerable beauty went to Indianapolis on the honeymoon tour. Her husband was manifestly proud of her good looks. While they were going about the city she was struck in the face by a falling signboard, and her nose broken. The attending surgeon said that she was badly disfigured for life. "Just my darned luck," the husband exclaimed, "property always goes to ruin in my hands."

A rejected suitor made a last and ineffectual appeal to the girl of his choice, as they were riding together near Newark, Ohio. She told him that she certainly would never change her mind.—"Then I want to die," he said. He got out of the wagon, took the check rein from the horse, walked a short distance into the woods, and hanged himself.—The girl, after waiting awhile, went to look for him, and found him dead.

A FARMER GIVES A LESSON IN LAW.

The average American farmer certainly knows how to look after his interest, and he has a keen wit that is hard to get over. For example: Some days ago the conductor of a freight train saw a couple of fine-looking ducks on the river near the track. He had a shotgun in the caboose car, and stopping the train for a few minutes, he got off and shot both of the birds. He thought this was something to congratulate himself on, and when he reached his home he invited a little party of friends to partake of the fruits of his prowess. A couple of days after this the conductor happened to be stopped at the place where the ducks had been shot. He got out his gun and walked down to the river with the intention of bagging a couple more, if possible. He had scarcely reached the edge of the river before a man, who looked like a farmer, approached him and said:

"Are you the man who shot those two ducks here day before yesterday?"

"Yes, that was me," said the sportsman, rather proudly.

"Well, those ducks belonged to me.—They wasn't any of your wild ducks, but were tame ones."

"Oh, pshaw! you can't fool me. I guess I know a wild duck from a tame one."

"Will you pay me for the ducks?" said the farmer coolly.

"No, sir, I won't. You can't prove the ducks were not wild ones."

"All right," and the farmer started off to the nearest village.

"Where are you going? What do you intend to do?" asked the conductor.

"Well," said the farmer quietly, as he leaned against a tree, "I am going to a 'squire to make an information against you for killing wild ducks out of season. If you insist that them ducks was wild, it'll cost you five dollars a duck. If you come to the conclusion they were tame, it'll only cost you two dollars and fifty cents a duck. Now, what'll you do?"

The conductor stared at his tormentor, scratched his head, said something about ducks generally, and these ducks in particular, and then paid the five dollars. He does not carry a gun in his car any more.

THE KIND OF CHAPS THEY ARE.

The regular annual editorial tirade against girls who spell their names with a diminutive ending in 'ie,' such as Sophie, Minnie and Lillie, has begun with unabated vigor and sarcasm. We have investigated this matter a little, and have examined seven exchanges that are utterly disgusted with the girlish practice, we find that of the seven editors, one of them is a crusty old bachelor, forty-nine and ugly, with a bald head and a glass eye, who was jilted by three girls before he was twenty-five years old; one of them calls his wife 'Lizzie'; another calls his wife 'Sal'; the fourth calls his wife 'old gal;' the fifth married an 'Injun' woman whose name we can't pronounce at all; and the sixth calls his wife 'Nancie,' because her name is Nellie, and allows her two calico dresses and one pair of cowhide shoes a year. And the seventh is a young man, twenty-two years of age, who recently wrote a letter to his sweetheart, and called her his 'own 'ittle darling ducksome duckie dearie, and his 'precious 'ittle tootsie tootsicums,' to that extent that the old married man who picked the letter up in the street and tried to read it was seized with violent convulsions and fell down in the street frothing at the mouth, and was taken to the hospital in great agony. That's the complexion of the opposition, girlies; write your names just as you (omission) please.—Hawkeye.

A lover once wrote to a lady who rejected him, saying, that he intended to retire "to some secluded spot, and breathe his life out in sighs." To which the lady replied, by inquiring whether they were to be medium or large size. The man has not since been heard from.

Smalley's Defiance Asparagus.
NEW VARIETY.

The merits and claims of the "Defiance," are as follows: It is earlier, a larger grass, softer, more tender, free from wood, the flavor sweet and very delicate, far superior to all other varieties: It will produce double that of the "Colossal" and can cut it longer. It will continue to grow longer than any other sorts. [illegible]

NO TRUST.

BY WM. HENRY VAN DEVENTER.

We should not try with trust to buy,
It leads so oft to sorrow;
But pave the way to save each day,
Some cash for needs to-morrow.

Our hands may soil by honest toil,
Suppose they do, who'll mind it?
If we want cash to buy our hash,
By honest toil we'll find it.

If we put aside what labor gave,
How soon we'll need no credit;
No wallet lean, like we have seen,
But fat, because we fed it.

'Tis then we'll find if we're inclined
With honest purpose tending—
At our command, or cash on hand,
Instead of borrow—lending.

Resolve to pay, have no man say
"You owe me for that basket;"
I think it just, refusing trust,
And hope no man will ask it.

IN THE GARDEN PICKING PEAS.

I.

I've gone the rounds of Saratoga,
And Summered at Cape May,
When catching husbands is in vogue,
At least when it will pay;
But never thought to change my state,
A bachelor at ease,
Till blue eyed Nellie sealed my fate,
In the garden picking peas.

II.

For folly's flounce and furbelow
I never cared a pin;
They are but silken nets to throw
To catch a husband in;
But how it was I cannot tell,
She won my heart with ease
When first I strolled with bonnie Nell,
In the garden picking peas.

III.

I firmly vowed there should be none
To spurn a woman's thrall;
Though beauty's self should tempt me on
I'll tease and shun them all.
But why should I the truth deny?
'Twas on my bended knees,
Sweet Nellie bound the silken tie,
In the garden picking peas.

IV.

Ye bachelors, take my advice,
And you will quickly prove
That man is never truly wise
Till he is deep in love.
And would you know the surest way
To fall in love with ease?
With some sweet Nellie take a stray
In the garden picking peas.

MISCELLANEOUS READING.

BLANCHE ROY'S DIAMONDS.

"See them sparkle, Minnie! How beautiful they are—like tiny drops of fire! And they must be worth—oh! ever so much money!"

Blanche Roy had thrown herself impulsively on her knees, at the invalid sister's side, holding up in one hand the jewel case of black velvet, against whose sombre background the sparkle of the gems was plainly visible.

Minnie was older, darker, paler, yet there was still a strong resemblance between the two sisters. Upon Minnie Roy's shoulders had fallen all the grief, and pain, and sorrow that were studiously kept from overshadowing Blanche's pathway; little wonder, therefore, that the roses had withered long ago from her cheeks, and the light gone out from her melancholy eyes.

"Stop, Blanche," said the elder sister, a little gravely. "Were these diamond ear-rings sent to you by Harry Berkeley?"

"Harry Berkeley, indeed!" Blanche Roy gave the auburn curls a haughty toss. "The idea of his giving me anything like this! No, indeed—Harry's a great deal too fond of his money for that."

Minnie looked grave.

"I wish you would not speak of him in that manner, Blanche."

"I can't help it, Minnie. You must know yourself that Harry is rather inclined to—well, it will out—penuriousness. No, he did not send me these sparkling beauties."

"Who did, then?"

"Blanche slyly drew a card from the pocket of her blue muslin dress, and held it close to Minnie's eyes.

"Percy Melton!" exclaimed the elder sister, as she deciphered the characters. "Blanche, you never would receive so costly a gift from one who is almost a stranger?"

"He isn't a stranger, Minnie."

"You must send them back at once, Blanche," said her sister firmly. "If you keep them, Mr. Melton can draw but one inference from your conduct."

"And that?"

"Will be, of course, that you look favorably upon his suit. A lady can receive diamonds only from a man who is to be her husband."

The dimples had all vanished from Blanche Roy's cheek—driven away, perhaps, by the scarlet dye that suffused the delicate surface.

"Are you willing to regard Mr. Melton in the light of an accepted lover Blanche?" asked Minnie.

"No—yes—I don't know," faltered Blanche, turning the glittering stones mechanically round.

"You don't know! Blanche, I thought—I had hoped—that you loved Harry Berkeley."

"He is so parsimonious, Minnie,"—pouted Blanche. "He never gives me anything—and all the girls think it so strange. And Percy Melton is all generosity. I just happened to mention that I admired diamonds last night, and see how promptly and delicately he has responded."

Minnie shook her head in quiet disapproval.

"I don't like Percy Melton."

"Oh, but Minnie, he is so noble—so magnanimous!"

"I would send the diamonds back, dear Blanche."

Blanche looked longingly at the sparkling jewels.

"Put them up, dear. They are a tempting bait; but Harry Berkeley's honest heart is worth all the diamonds that ever glittered in the mines of Golconda."

"Harry Berkely again!" replied Blanche petulantly. "Do you know, Minnie, I asked him if he would join that party to the lakes this summer, and what do you think he said?"

"What?"

"That he couldn't afford it."

"A very sensible answer, according to my way of thinking, Blanche."

"But, Minnie, just reflect; if a young man of twenty-four is so very fond of money—"

"Gently, little sister; what right have you to make that sweeping assertion?"

"I know that his income is large, and that he has no pressing calls upon it. As I said, if a youth of twenty-four is so fond of money, there is danger of the man of forty being a confirmed miser. Of all things I detest penuriousness! I did fancy I liked Harry, but I am getting rapidly disenchanted."

Minnie only sighed wearily.

"What's the matter, my dear sister?" whispered Blanche, laying her velvet cheek close to Minnie's pallid face. "Is the pain at your heart worse?"

"It is a pain at my heart, Blanche, but beyond the reach of medicine.

"Did you receive letters from Canada? Oh, why doesn't Charles come back to you? If my lover were to stay away in that sort of fashion—"

"Hush, Blanche! You are not acquainted with the circumstances of the case. He cannot come back—at least for many years. I have not much hope of ever looking upon his face in this world. Perhaps in heaven—"

But Blanche's passionate, impulsive tears interrupted her sister's low, quiet voice.

"Oh, why don't you tell me about it, sister? Why am I kept in ignorance of your trouble? I am only a silly child, I know, but I am your sister, and I love you."

"There is not much to tell, dear; and we have only kept it from you lest your young life should be over-clouded with the darkness of other existences. Mr. Rossley was involved in a terrible financial catastrophe—he became somehow entangled in the snares of designing villains. A frank nature seldom doubts the integrity of those that surround it. Charles was ill-fitted to cope with intriguers, and before he was aware of it, he had somehow become responsible to a frightful extent. I shall never forget the morning he came to me, pale as death, to tell me that the bright castle of promised wealth had fallen in ruins—that flight was the only escape from liability actually appalling. Now you have the whole story, my dear. Charles Rossley is a ruined man; but not a guilty one!"

* * * * *

"The rain will soon be over, Miss Blanche—just take a seat and wait; I'll be back in half a second."

Blanche Roy cast one regretful glance from the side window upon the white, blinding sheets of rain that were eddying through the narrow street, and sat down close to the curtained glass door that led into Obadiah Green's hair-dressing shop. It was a snug, thrifty little house with plants in the windows, two plump babies in the cradle, a tortoise-shell cat curled up under the centre-table. Katy Jones had not done a foolish thing when she left her situation as nurse to little Blanche Roy to become the wife of honest Obadiah Green, the barber.

While Blanche stood wishing she had brought an umbrella, a name spoken carelessly in the other room sent the roses to her cheek.

"Melton—Percy Melton!" said one of the gentlemen waiting in the shop for the shower to terminate, "of course I know him. A smart fellow he is too; a little too smart that's all."

"I don't understand you," said the lethargic old gentleman in the corner, whose gold-bowed spectacles gave him such a pompous appearance.

Blanche could see them all, as she stood behind the sheltering white curtain.

"You don't? Does he owe you any money?"

"Not he. I don't lend to every adventurer who comes into my office with empty pockets."

"So much the better for you, Mr. Dudley. He is a gentleman who lives by his wits entirely. Paying particular attention to a young lady of the West End, I am told. He is quite a connoisseur regarding the fair sex."

The old gentleman looked quickly up from behind his spectacles.

"Ah, indeed? That explains a little business operation of his with a client of mine—Rand, the jeweler—that rather puzzled me at the time. He hired a set of diamonds for three months."

"Hired them!"

"Yes. Rand was a little uneasy about them, and he keeps a sharp look-out on the gentleman."

"I should advise him to do so. Why, Dudley—of course I don't want to interfere with any amusement Melton may have on hand—but he happens to have a very interesting French wife in Paris."

"The scoundrel!"

"An appropriate appellation. I happen to know, moreover, that this is not the only flirtation he has on hand at present. He—"

But Blanche Roy heard no more. Mrs. Green's hand was on her shoulder.

"Dear me, Miss Blanche, how pale you are! I'm afraid you're tired out. Do let me get you a glass of wine."

"No, Katy—I—I—only want to borrow an umbrella. It does not rain much now."

"Miss Blanche, just look at the windows!"

"Yes, but I must get home."

Mrs. Green saw that appeal was quite useless, and wisely bustled away to get Obadiah's best silk umbrella.

"I don't like to let you go, Miss Blanche, you are so pale," she said.

But thanking her, Blanche hurried away, leaving good Katy in the very flood-tide of advice and counsel. And she would not have thought Miss Blanche pale could she have seen the angry crimson mantling her cheeks as she walked through the driving sheets of rain.

Blanche Roy's spirited nature was up in arms, and a very stormy, tempestuous little nature it was sometimes. There was no danger that she would break her heart for the dashing lover who had proved so faithless. She was too angry for that.

She threw aside her dripping bonnet and drenched shawl the moment she reached her own room, and ran up to see Minnie.

But Minnie was not alone. The first person on whom Blanche's eyes fell was no other than Harry Berkeley.

"Harry!"

"Blanche!"

"Come here, my dear sister," said Minnie, holding out her slender hand, and drawing Blanche close to her, "and let me tell you how very, very happy Harry made me to-day."

There was a new light sparkling in her sad eyes—a faint tinge of color glowing where the lids had lain so whitely. Some unseen influence had transfigured Minnie's face into something almost radiant.

"Listen, Blanche," she said, "and you shall hear what makes my heart throb so joyously. For two long years Harry Berkeley has devoted his time, thought and money to obtain my poor Charlie's liberation from the galling bonds of his exile. At last, by the payment of a sum of money that I am almost afraid to name, Charlie is free, and within two months I shall see him again, Heaven willing."

Her face was bright with the old glow and bloom of her girlhood as she spoke.

"Now, Blanche, do you understand why Harry Berkeley was forced to economize—to deny himself every luxury, and become as you phrased it, 'parsimonious?'"

Blanche put her hand on Minnie's lips in agony of shame and remorse.

"Minnie! sister!"

"Darling, it was because my happiness was at stake—the happiness of Blanche Roy's sister. Harry, make your peace with her—my joy is too great for further words. Go now, and let me rest awhile."

And as Harry Berkeley led Blanche away, she looked up with eyes that shone through tears.

HOW NOT TO GET THE LOCAL NEWS.

The other day an old and respected citizen came into our office, and after paying his last year's subscription, took a seat and remarked:

"I guess you needn't send me the paper any longer; I have just subscribed for a Philadelphia paper which suits me pretty well, and it doesn't cost as much as the Observer.

Here he handed us the paper for inspection. We found it to be a neat looking sheet, handsomely printed, with a large engraved head, containing about forty-eight columns of miscellaneous reading matter.

"Fair looking paper," we remarked, and handed it back to him; "but did you ever see anything in it concerning our town or county?"

"Well, I don't know as ever I have."

"Anything in regard to this State?"

"Nothing."

"And yet you give up a paper that contains the local market reports, the state of the crops, the deaths and marriages, and the thousand and one happenings from week to week which make up the history of the region in which you are most interested, and which you can get from no other source, and take instead a city paper, simply because it comes a very little cheaper."

"Yes, and it contains more reading matter," he added.

"Certainly, we remarked, "but what is the character of the matter? Nothing in regard to your own village—your schools, your churches, your local improvements, and the thousand and one things that happen in your county. There is nothing that helps build up your county and support home institutions. It is as foreign to you as the city in which it is published. It may contain more reading matter, but your neighborhood is not represented in its columns."

"But why can't you furnish your paper cheaper, if they can afford a much larger one in the city at a low price?" he queried. "Labor is certainly cheaper here."

"For the reason that a country paper has a small circulation compared with a city paper, and the labor expended upon a 1,000 papers is about the same as on 50,000, especially when it is taken into consideration that the city weekly which is furnished for a dollar per year, is 'made up' of the type set for the daily.

"That's enough," exclaimed the old gentleman, as he pulled out his wallet, "just send me the Observer for another year!"

As he bade us good morning, and passed through the sanctum door, we heard him remark: "It's my belief that a man who stops or refuses to subscribe to his local paper simply because it doesn't contain as much reading matter as one 'made up' from a daily and published in the city, should be supplied with medical almanacs at the public expense."—Waterloo, (N. Y.) Observer.

Mrs. Hull's Funeral.

The funeral of the murdered Mrs. Hull, of New York city, took place on Friday 13th inst., the remains being buried in the cemetery at Bound Brook. There were but few present at the interment. The New York Herald in its account of the burial has the following:

When the procession arrived at the gate the coffin was carried to the grave by six neighbors of Mrs. Hull's mother. They were Messrs. D. G. Somers, R. R. Field, John McBride, A. C. Mollison, Daniel Conover and H. K. Ramsey. Twenty-two mourners followed the casket, among whom were the party who went from New York—Mr. De Witt De Forrest, Mr. Peter Dumont, Mr. and Mrs. Dumont Frelinghuysen and Mr. Rynear H. Veghte. The coffin was placed on two bars laid across the top of the pine box or outer case. This in turn lay on two bars placed across the open grave. The six pall-bearers stood close around for a few moments while the mourners came up and stood looking on at the preparations. Dr. Hull, with his sister-in-law on his arm, stood close to the foot of the grave. He was apparently calm, and his face wore the curiously impassive expression so often commented on during the last three days. Suddenly the earth at the head of the grave caved in. One of the crossbars fell and the end of the box dropped to the bottom of the grave. The bar under the head of the coffin slipped and the coffin itself was thrown with a dull crash down into the grave. It lay for a moment at an angle of about forty-five degrees, the foot still supported by the crossbars and the head on the fallen box below. Mr. Mollison and Mr. Field had fallen partly under the coffin and partly into the grave. A small monument over the grave of one of Mrs. Hull's nephews was upset by the starting back of one of the pallbearers. A shudder of irrepressible horror passed over the entire company. For an instant every one was paralyzed. Several of the women wept and turned away their faces. Dr. Hull stood as if rooted to the ground. He moaned and wailed with awful grief. The tears rolled from his eyes, and as he wept he repeated again and again: "Oh, dear! oh, dear! oh, dear!" Apparently he could not stir, and he stood absolutely still while the coffin was lifted up by a dozen quick hands and placed on a grave near by. It was slightly broken, though it retained its shape and held together. The seams at the head had sprung apart about a quarter of an inch, and the lid over the plate was partly displaced, though fortunately not enough to disclose a view of the rudely shaken corpse. It was replaced at once, and preparations were again made for lowering the coffin to its last resting place.

The San Antonio Herald gives this accurate bit from a scene in Texas life: "How did you enjoy yourself at the ball last night?" asked one Texan gentleman of another. "Oh, it was a very tame affair," he replied; "very little fun. Two men were killed and a woman was stabbed in the back—that was all!" And he sighed as if the "good old times" were gone forever.

It is a great mistake to suppose that man is the only order of creation that is compelled to be economical and to pay up what he owes. Every intelligent early riser has noticed that even the grass of the field has something that is dew on it every morning, while the happy birds that float in the air have their own little bills to look after as well as we.

A small boy in Belfast, whose deportment at school has always ranked 100 per cent., came home one day reduced to 98. "What have you been doing my son?" asked the mother. "Been doing," replied the young hopeful, "been doing just as I have all along, only the teacher caught me this time."

If you catch a darkey lifting the sheets off the fence where they have been placed to dry, allow him to explain. In nine cases out of ten you will find he was merely moving them to see if the fence did not need a coat of whitewash.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

No legacy so rich as honesty.

The greatest prayer is patience.

One has only to die to be praised.

It is easier to blame than do better.

Would you be strong, conquer yourself.

The less that men think, the more they talk.

Money is a good servant and a bad master.

Better cut the tongue out entirely than not to govern it.

Love gives insight, and insight often gives foreboding.

The more we praise virtue the dearer it becomes to us.

It is easy to find reasons why others should be patient.

Of all noble qualities, loving compassion is the noblest.

There is no vice so covers a man with shame as falsehood.

Life is a comedy to him who thinks, and a tragedy to him who feels.

All things are admired, either because they are new or because they are great.

When a man has forfeited his integrity, nothing else will serve his turn.

There can be no peace in human life without the contempt of all evil.

Despair gives the shocking ease to the mind that mortification gives to the body.

If rich, be not too joyful in having, too solicitous in keeping, too anxious in increasing, nor too sorrowful in losing.

No matter how purely and grandly we live to-day, there is no denying that we may live more purely, more grandly to-morrow.

Style is only the frame to hold our thoughts. It is like the sash of a window—a heavy sash will obscure the light.

Dandies may become useful in the same manner as those slaves of Sparta, who were made drunk in order to inspire the children with a horror of intoxication.

Friendship does not display itself in words, but it acts unremittingly; those pretended friends who talk of nothing but their hearts, are like those cowards who are continually vaporing about bravery and battles.

MIRACULOUS.

An almost miraculous cure is reported from Maine street, the patient being the wife of a well-to-do citizen. She had been ailing, or thinking she was ailing, and recently took to her deathbed, and kept her husband unhappy by lamenting that she was going to die. Yesterday her husband went out and got a buxom young widow, who is her particular abhorrance to come in and look over the house. The dying woman heard him opening the door and explaining things, and lay with indignation and curiosity. Presently the buxom young widow departed and the husband returned to the sick room. No sooner had he entered than she accosted him:

"Peter Whitehead Hollingsworth, what have you been doing?"

"Nothing, my love, nothing. Don't excite yourself. Be calm. Only as you were complaining that you could not get up to see after things, and that the house was going to wreck and ruin, I thought I would ask Mrs. Dasher in to let me know what could be done to save you trouble, and relieve your mind of anxiety."

"Oh, you did?" she murmured, with a deep inspiration.

"Yes, and I showed her all over the house."

"And the beds not made, and everything like a pig-sty?"

"Never mind, my love. I told her that she must excuse it, as you were sick, because you were a very good housekeeper. And she said you must be."

"Oh, she did?"

"Yes; and she said that if she had her way she'd have a new set of parlor furniture in, and less vulgar wall paper, but that some people had no taste any way, and—by the way, Maria, you and Mrs. Dasher are pretty near of a size, ain't you?" Then he fell into a trance that lasted for some minutes, then muttering: "Well, perhaps they'll fit; if not, they can be made over," departed.

When that husband went home that night he was surprised to see his dying wife up and dressed, bossing things with a metallic ring in her voice and a glitter in her eyes such as he hadn't seen for years, and when he innocently remarked, "Why, Maria, I had hardly expected to see you up again!" She said: "I know it, you bald headed old reprobate, but I'll live to bury you yet; and if that painted Jezebel comes into this house again, I'll tear her into cotton waste and jute strings."

Elizabeth's Indebtedness.

A meeting of the tax payers of Elizabeth, N. J., was held last Friday 13th inst., to consider how to relieve the city from financial embarrassment. The city is $6,000,000 or more in debt and defaulted on the interest on her bonds some months ago. The Singer Sewing Machine Co., which had advanced nearly a million dollars upon the city securities, began recently suit to recover them. Then the Mutual Benefit Insurance Company, of Newark, and other creditors also sued the city. The Common Council met without taking any definite steps and then the Board of Trade met and denounced the Council. Finally the Council and the Sinking Fund Commissioners agreed upon a plan, and it was to consider this plan that the meeting was held. Ex-Mayor James S. Greene presided. Dr. L. W. Oakley, the secretary of the meeting, read the proposition, which was as follows: To secure power to issue forty-year bonds, to be called the ten-forty adjustment bonds; no interest to be paid in 1879, but the amount to be added to the principal at the rate of 1 per cent.; the interest for 1880, 1881 and 1882, at the same rate, to be paid as it accrues; then for four years at 2 per cent., four years at 3 per cent., four years at 4 per cent., ten years at 5 per cent., and sixteen years at 6 per cent., the interest to be raised by taxation. Mr. Pease offered a resolution that the proposition be sent to the creditors and their assent asked. Without action the meeting adjourned until the 20th inst.

NO DEBT.

The people of Elizabeth are sorely troubled about the bankrupt condition of their city, and well they may be, for the amount of bonded indebtedness pressing for payment is fearful, and how to meet it puzzles even the most astute.

Several other cities in New Jersey share the financial embarrassment of Elizabeth, and in fact, the greatest drawback to returning prosperity, the country over, is now the crushing weight of municipal debts and taxation, with little or nothing to show for the money spent or squandered.

Plainfield enjoys the grand good fortune of being free from the debt scourge, and for that her citizens cannot be too thankful.

Stand by the motto—NO DEBT!

FOURTH OF JULY.

We are on the eve of again commemorating a national event, which for dignity of inception and value of purpose, stands unexcelled in the history of any people.

The decree of July 4th, 1776, boldly defying as it did the tyranny and power of Kings and treading under foot their century riveted shackles, by proclaiming to all the world the freedom and independence of the thirteen American Colonies, and reverentially appealing to Heaven for the rectitude of the act, will forever remain a monument of human greatness, as the subsequent contest, carried on through years of toil, privation and bloodshed, to make liberty on these shores a reality, portrays patriotism and fortitude of the loftiest character.

To honor such an anniversary with becoming spirit, and to gratefully appreciate the results of achieved nationality is the duty of every patriotic American citizen.

The fearless popular outbursts for Independence, which led to its formal declaration by the peoples' representatives in Congress, and the heroism of a consequent Revolutionary struggle, guided and guarded by Washington, the greatest of earth's great, throw around our country's past the purest ray of glory, and indite a page worthy of thoughtful perusal by the present and each succeeding generation.

To perpetuate remembrance of the noble deeds that established the American Republic is the true object for observing the Fourth of July, and nothing of higher interest can engage the attention of the countrymen of immortal Washington.

The Blue Jacket Consolidated Silver Mining Company of Big Cottonwood mining district, Salt Lake county, Utah, was organized June 19, 1879, under the laws of the State of New York, with a capital stock of $300,000, divided into 60,000 shares of $5 each full paid. This company has five valuable mining properties four of which have U. S. patents. The officers selected are C. C. Suydam, president; F. Knowland, vice-president; W. Euclid Young, treasurer; Thomas A. Massett, secretary. Board of directors, John V. Bouvier, Chas. C. Suydam, W. E. Young, F. Knowland, Thos. A. Massett, and L. Thompson, Thos. B. Stillman.

This mining property is located on the mineral belt running easterly from Little and Big Cottonwood mining district, to Uintah district, where the Ontario mine is situated.

The company propose to sell 10,000 shares at two dollars per share for the purpose of developing the mines. Subscription books open at the office of W. Euclid Young, 60 Broadway.

The murderer of Mrs. Hull has been found. He is a mulatto, named Chastine Cox, and was formerly in the employ of Mrs. Hull. He says his object was not to murder but to rob, and he did not know that his victim was dead until the next day. He was arrested in Boston last Monday. The detectives who were in search of the murderer, found some of the jewelry stolen from Mrs. Hull, in a pawnbroker's shop in Boston. The pawnbroker gave an accurate description of the party who pawned them. A reporter of one of the newspapers, who had carefully read the description, saw the mulatto walking along the street, followed him to a church, and being convinced he was the man wanted, sent a note to a captain of police, who arrested Cox. The prisoner at once made a full confession. He was brought to New York on Tuesday.

The floor of the United States Senate was the scene on Thursday morning of last week of a violent personal controversy between Senators Conkling and Lamar, growing out of a charge by the former against the latter of bad faith in voting with his party against adjournment while the army appropriation bill was under discussion. Senator Conkling claimed that Senator Lamar had tacitly consented to a proposition to adjourn at the usual hour, if the Republicans yielded to a desire on the part of the advocates of the Mississippi levee bill to have it take precedence of the army bill, and his irritation was occasioned by their persistence in opposing an adjournment. The wordy warfare was violent on both sides, and was characterized as without precedent in the United States Senate. The Washington correspondents talk of a duel between the two men, but such a result is not believed probable.

Prince Louis Napoleon, son of the ex-Empress Eugenie, of France, has been slain by the Zulus. Both in Paris and London the Press lament his tragic fate, which, however, they regard generally as a death-blow to Imperialism in France. Two troopers were found dead with the Prince, who was unable to mount his horse when surprised by the Zulus, and thus fell into their hands. It is reported that the Empress Eugenie has called a council of her adherents to assemble at Chiselhurst.

It is announced that the negotiations begun eighteen months ago for the purpose of securing to the city of New York the grand obelisk now standing at Alexandria, in Egypt, have been brought to a successful termination, and that the Khedive has offered this magnificent monument to the commercial metropolis of the New World.

Seven men were killed by the explosion of a boiler in a Pennsylvania coal mine Saturday last. Carelessness of the engineer in allowing water to get low in a rotten boiler was the cause.

To conspire by force of arms against the freedom of elections is to rob the citizen of his dearest privilege. Infamy is not black enough for men who advocate such an outrage.

THE LATE PLAINFIELD TOWNSHIP.

On Saturday last, a petition, signed by twenty-six freeholders of this city, praying for the appointment of experts to examine into the affairs of the late Township of Plainfield, was presented to Judge Van Syckel at Elizabeth. His Honor set down the 9th of July as the time when the petition would be heard before the District Supreme Court at Trenton. The filing of this petition is in accordance with a law passed last winter. It is time the affairs of the late Township were wound up, and as the Finance Committee of Council do not seem to be able or won't do it, the only other resource is the above. If things are "crooked" let them be straightened out.

The great six day's walking match in London, for Sir John Astley's International belt, ended on Saturday night last, at 10:45 o'clock, Weston being the winner, he having made 550 miles to his competitor, Brown's 453 miles. This is the best time on record. The belt will now come to this country, and will be again contested for this Fall. Weston, the American champion, also won his bet of $2,500 to $500 with Sir John Astley, that he would make 550 miles in the six days. Let the American eagle scream. Three great victories over our English cousins within so many months—Parole, Hanlan, Weston. Selah!

Miss Olive Holmes, a daughter of Judge Holmes, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Alfred L. Sandford, son of Prof. Sandford, of Chicago University, were drowned by the upsetting of a boat in Onondaga Lake, N. Y., on Saturday last.

The Democrats in Congress insist upon free and fair elections by the people, unmenaced by either bayonets or partisan bullies. Democracy remains as ever the defender of popular rights.

Mrs. A. Rolland, a French woman, while viewing Niagara Falls, in company with her husband, on Saturday last, fell into the river and was carried over the falls.

We possess a national domain of magnificent extent and boundless resources, yet richer than all is the boon of civil and religious liberty.

Our City National Banks render excellent financial statements in another column, showing them to be in a healthy condition.

Let us ponder well the patriotism that laid the foundation and reared the mighty fabric of the American Republic.

THE END OF THE SCHOOL YEAR.

Parting words of the Principal.

The opening exercises of the last day of the school year were witnessed by the largest number of visitors that has ever favored such an occasion with their presence. Mr. Gross expressed his satisfaction with this state of affairs and his desire that it might be repeated. The attendance of scholars was unusually large, and the evidence of a strict course of discipline in chapel order was strong. For the first time in a long acquaintance with the school we detected symptoms of an effort on the part of the scholars to keep time with the music when marching in and out. When the usual exercises had been closed with some excellent singing, Mr. Gross made a few closing remarks to the school, and especially to the senior class.

"The consciousness of duty performed," he said, "is like a rainbow in the soul. This thought may be realized in the work you have been doing in the past year. To such (and there are many) as leave the school with this consciousness, a measure of enjoyment is in store, fuller than any wish of mine could express. You will feel as you feel when you see the sun burst forth after the shower, and set the rainbow in the sky. To those who for any reason have failed of their duty in the past, I hope a kind providence will make up to them their loss.

"And now the time has come to say the parting words to the class of '79. The best and kindest words I could use would fail far of expressing the better and kinder thoughts that are in my heart. You leave this school carrying with you all the wishes, words and thoughts which may be expressed, and many which language fail to convey to you. One thought I ask you to bear away with you this morning: as you cultivate your estate—and you have chosen Time your estate—let the manner of its cultivation be based on the principles of fidelity and accuracy. I was once standing by one of those cathedrals whose massive proportions, graceful lines and lofty towers so command the admiration of the world. I was told that every block in that building had been cut a long distance from its final resting place. If any block failed by the slightest inaccuracy to fill the niche for which it was intended, it was not re-cut, but simply broken to pieces and thrown aside. Now in this structure of which God is the architect and you are the builders, the drawings are accurately made; and if your work be faithfully performed, your life will not be a rejected block in the eternal fabric. In every sphere of life, whether in business, social relations or moral conduct, let accuracy and fidelity be your aim.

"There's the marble, there's the chisel;
Take them, work them to thy will;
Thou alone canst shape thy future,
Heaven give thee strength and skill.'"

The Central Railroad of New Jersey has secured the transportation of the oil which comes through the Tide-Water Pipe, a distance of 115 miles, to Williamsport, Pa. The oil is there transferred to tank cars connected with the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, which connects with the Central Railroad of New Jersey at Phillipsburg, and is delivered at Bayonne, N. J. The line has a present capacity of 6,000 barrels of crude oil daily, or 250 barrels an hour, from the oil districts to Williamsport, and it is intended to lay a second pipe soon.

The State Agricultural Society met at Newark last week, there being a large attendance. The questions under consideration were regarding the approaching Fall Fair at Waverly in September. Several important improvements on the grounds are contemplated, some of which are now under way. The grand stand is being moved back from its old position some distance. Where it formerly stood will be a quarter-stretch for horse owners. The stand itself will be much improved and the road in the rear carried farther back and widened considerably.

All aboard for the salt air trip next Tuesday. Tickets only $1. See adv.

NORTH PLAINFIELD PARAGRAPHS.

There will be a meeting held in the School building, at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, July 1st, for the purpose of electing a School Trustee and hearing the annual report read.

A fine flag-pole will be erected in front of the residence of Wm. Spencer at Washingtonville, on the Fourth.

Rev. J. Judson Pierson has been presented with a handsome "Album" by his bible class. Elder Pierson has a pastorate at Jordanville, N. Y., and is beloved by his congregation.

Mr. George Lewis lost a number of sheep by dogs last Friday night.

Mr. James McGee, a resident of Grove street, and one of the Yosemite excursion party, has met with a severe accident. A stage load of the excursionists were precipitated over a mountain side, while riding down the same, a portion of the road giving way.

Road Master Smalley has put the Dunellen road leading to the "Rock" in fine condition. It is as smooth as a macadamized road.

Rev. T. Logan Murphy of the Church of the Holy Cross, has taken Mr. Pott's house on the corner of Seventh street and Plainfield avenue, city of Plainfield.

SCOTCH PLAINS SCRATCHINGS.

The ladies of the Scotch Plains M. E. Church, will again celebrate the Fourth of July, at E. M. Johnson's grove, near the bridge of the Fur Mill. The ladies are putting forth every effort to make it enjoyable, as well as a grand success, therefore, trust that all their friends will cheer them by their presence, and help on the good work. The proceeds are in aid of the church. Among the attractions are games, a bazaar, New England supper and plenty of ice cream. Grounds open at 2 o'clock. Admission to the grounds free. Three cheers for the ladies!

Excelsior Hook & Ladder Co. No. 1, of Scotch Plains, enjoyed their annual excursion to Boynton's Beach, on Saturday, June 21st. The committee of arrangements, with commendable foresight, chose the longest day of the year, and were favored with a bright one. The order of the day seemed to be "go as you please" and as everyone of the half a hundred members and guests were pleased to "go" for a good time, it is needless to say that another success was scored for Excelsior's social record. This was the first regular entertainment of the kind that has been held at the Beach this summer, and friend Boynton appreciated the "send off" given his popular resort by this energetic Company.

President Max Griebel exerted himself nobly in devising means of enjoyment for his loyal charge. He also gave the assemblage an astonishing personal exhibition as to how heavily one can be loaded with roasted clams, and Messrs. Fithian and G. Duernberger, acting as stevedores. The former champion in this delicate gastronomic art, was forced to hide his head in jealousy and mortification behind an ineffectual pyramid of shells. Foreman, James A. Baker, was certainly fatherly in his watchfulness over the lager department of supplies—if anybody obtained an over-supply, it was positively not his fault.

Dr. Fithian, of Fanwood, spent half a day with the company; he seemed very solicitous about the physique of many of the young members, and his examinations were of a praiseworthily athletic, if not strictly professional character.

Our stalwart citizen, Mr. Wm. H. Brower, mercifully refrained from capturing an immense string of elegant bass and weak fish, though he went fully caparisoned for the encounter.

It is to be presumed that the next time Assistant Foreman Berry wants to sit and muse over the honor of the "white front," lately conferred upon him, he will choose some other place than the fluttering end of a sail boat's jib:—

"For overboard went he."

Commodore Cooper conducted the aquatic portion of the day's sport with his usual masterly maritime sagacity—made the "other fellows," including Col. Brittin, do the work.

There were several attempts at song by the musical members and guests including Mr. T. J. Nicholl, S. S. Day, L. P. Town and E. Flannery, but unfortunately there was no period when the gifted ones could be got together with empty mouths, and much melody was consequently missed. Music, however, was agreeably represented by Prof. G. Duernberger, who performed a number of popular pieces upon the cornet with eminent taste.

We were pleased to see our former neighbor, Mr. Geo. F. Thomas, a respected ex-member of Excelsior, so recovered from his recent severe illness as to be one of the merriest of the party.

During the day regrets were frequent on account of the inability of Mr. Geo. Squier to attend. He responded, however, very heartily for an invalid, to the serenade given him by a truck-load of the returning revellers.

Prominent among the invited guests we noticed Messrs. Stites Parse, E. C. Treadwell, Mr. Hozinger, of this village, and Mr. R. Howland, of Brooklyn, all of whom endorsed the affair as one to be remembered with delight.

The M. E. Church, of this village, devoted last Sabbath to the children. A more attractive service has never been held here. A threat of rain thinned the audience considerably, but, as it was, there was a good gathering that must have been encouraging to the zealous Superintendent, Mr. W. H. Cooper, and his staff of painstaking teachers. Affectionate and instructive addresses were given by Mr. Cooper, Mr. L. Raymond, the Rev. Mr. Smiley and a visiting Superintendent of a Boston Sunday School. The School sang a number of Praise Gems led by Mr. S. S. Day, and accompanied by Miss Ella Pond as Organist. Miss Lula Nodine read with fine effect a slight but pointed poem showing that creed was no barrier to christian success. A very pretty ceremony was performed by the children, one by one they placed an offering of flowers at the altar, each reciting before leaving a Scriptural verse, which referred to the beauties of the field and garden. The Church was tastefully decorated with floral tributes for the occasion, and after the services were over, boquets were generously distributed among the audience.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER.

[Under the above head we shall endeavor each week to give items and news of interest to lovers of fishing, gunning, trotting, athletic and other sports. We shall be pleased to receive contributions or items for this column from all interested in such matters.]

Black Bass fishing commences July 1st.

The law against shooting woodcock is up July 4th.

Last Friday eight thousand young trout fry was placed in Cedar Brook, Robinson's Brook and tributaries of Stony Brook by order of the Fish Commissioners of the State. The fry, which were about five weeks old, came from the celebrated fish hatching establishment of Mrs. Slack at Bloomsbury, N. J., and were deposited in the streams intended for them by Mr. A. A. Anderson, who has charge of the above establishment. The "baptism" of the "darlings" were under the supervision of State Fish Commissioner Maj. E. J. Anderson and Fish Warden Peter C. Ohl, of this County, which was witnessed by a number of invited guests, among whom were State Comptroller R. F. Stockton and John A. Hall, Private Secretary of the Governor. The party were hospitably entertained during their short stay at Warden Ohl's residence. These fish were procured through the efforts of Warden Ohl at the solicitation of The New Jersey Game and Fish Protective Society, who are doing everything in their power to see the proper streams for trout and black bass are stocked with these game fish. The law does not allow the fish to be caught within three years after they are put in the streams. It is hoped that farmers and others residing along the stocked streams will aid the Society in seeing that the stringent law on the subject is obeyed and enforced. Do that, and in a few short years New Jersey will be one of the finest fishing grounds in the country.

A NOVEL MATCH.—A shooting match for the one-armed championship of the United States and a purse of $500 will take place at West Side Driving Park, Marion, New Jersey, July 9, between W. S. Canon, of Newark, N. J., and L. M. Boughton, of Cassville, Wisconsin. Mr. Canon is a member of the Jersey City Heights Gun Club; physically of fine figure, pleasant address, and a favorite among his club members; about 5f. 11in. in height, and weighs 175 lbs.; is an excellent shot. Mr. Boughton is a gentleman of culture, being the teacher in the place of his residence; is of fine form and physique, standing over six feet in his stockings, and has attained some celebrity at the West as a wing shooter. As the contestants are both gentlemen amateurs, the match will be conducted honestly, and bids fair to be one of the most interesting, as it will be the most novel, of the season. The conditions are: 30 birds, 30 yards rise, 5 traps, 80 yards boundary, both barrels; otherwise American rules.—Forest and Stream.

A number of new species of quail, imported by the Brooklyn, N. Y. Gun Club, have recently been turned loose in Warren and other counties of this State. They are much smaller than our American quail, although of the same color and resembling them in general appearance. They are migratory in their habits and go to a warmer climate at the approach of winter, returning again in the spring. They also differ in this respect, that they do not mate as our quail, but are polygamous. It is hoped that farmers who may discover them on their lands will give them protection and thus aid in an experiment which may prove of great advantage in the future.

NEW JERSEY STATE ASSOCIATION.—As there seems to be a probability of there being plenty of wild pigeons soon, the committee on the State tournament are hurrying matters, and the tournament will come off as soon as the birds arrive, which will be the latter part of this month or early in July. The committee have been somewhat embarrassed in the selection of grounds, but have finally settled upon West Side Driving Park, Marion, N. J., as the most convenient and accessible. Due notice of the days determined upon will be given.—Forest and Stream.

WESTFIELD WISPS.

Joel Moffett, carpenter and builder, has been awarded the contract for erecting the residence of L. H. Dunkin, Esq., on Central Ave.

The Children of the Public School are making great preparations for their Picnic on Tuesday next, to be held at Woodruff's Grove, on Westfield Avenue.

Town Committee met on Monday evening last in Town Rooms—all members present. Very little business was transacted, except providing funds to meet the payment of the school bond and interest, on July 1st.

Friday afternoon, June 20th, Albert Day, son of E. J. Day, while attempting to get on a coal train, at west end, above the village, slipped and had his toes crushed. He came very close to losing his leg. It ought to be a warning to the small boys and young men of our village, who attempt so often to board the coal trains while passing through our village. This is the second accident of the kind within a month.

On Sunday night the residence of J. W. Beebe, on South Ave., was broken into. The thieves gained entrance by prying the lock from the cellar door. Not being able to get up stairs, they ate a hearty lunch of cold roast meat, vegetables, &c., then departed, fully satisfied.

The suit of B. McGowen, vs. J. J. Marsh, which was to have been tried by a jury on Saturday last, before Geo. Godfrey, Justice, was amicably settled between the parties by J. C. Bolton, Esq., who acted as counsel for both parties.

Louis Budell, residing on 4th Ave., who has been absent in Europe for the past two months, arrived home on Saturday. He looks well and hearty.

Mrs. John Darsh and Mrs. F. Heinecke, who left here for Germany some two months ago, was to sail on their return trip, from Bremen, on Saturday last, aboard the steamer Gen. Weder. They are expected home before July 4th.

Tuesday Evening last the infant class of Mrs. Ladd's Seminary, on Broad St., gave a very pleasing Exhibition in Lyceum Hall. The duett by the Misses Hosford and Towle was loudly applauded, also the recitation by Master Hosford. The Class in Calisthenics executed their part splendidly.

Mr. Benj. Warlow, who lost his wife last week by a railroad accident, has removed to N. Y. City.

J. M. C. Marsh, our Assessor, has nearly completed his list of assessment for this year. He says everybody complains of too high taxes.

The gang of loafers who made Saturday night last hideous, by their cursing and swearing, also destroyed the glass in the large lamp in front of Dr. Cooper's residence, on Central Ave. They are known and ought to be punished for it.

LA CROSSE.

There will be from thirty to forty of the finest LaCrosse players, from all the different LaCrosse Clubs of the country, in the game on the grounds of the Plainfield Athletic Club next Saturday.

THE DEATH-RATE OF

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a Doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in the country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known. For sale at Voorhees' Drug Store, Front Street.

Regulate the Liver and prevent Chills and Fever, Malarious Fevers, Bowel Complaints, Restlessness, Jaundice and Nausea.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR

BAD BREATH!

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common as bad breath, and in nearly every case it comes from the stomach, and can be so easily corrected if you will take Simmons' Liver Regulator. Do not neglect so sure a remedy for this repulsive disorder. It will also improve your Appetite, Complexion and General Health.

PILES!

How many suffer torture day after day, making life a burden and robbing existence of all pleasure owing to the secret suffering from Piles. Yet relief is ready to the hand of almost any one who will use systematically the remedy that has permanently cured thousands. Simmons' Liver Regulator is no drastic violent purge, but a gentle assistant to nature.

CONSTIPATION!

Should not be regarded as a trifling ailment—in fact nature demands the utmost regularity of the bowels, and any deviation from this demand paves the way often to serious danger. It is quite as necessary to remove impure accumulation from the bowels as it is to eat or sleep, and no health can be expected where a costive habit of body prevails.

SICK HEADACHE!

This distressing affliction occurs most frequently. The disturbance of the stomach, arising from the imperfectly digested contents, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache.

TESTIMONY
Of the Hon. Jos. E. Gary, Judge of the Superior Court, Chicago, Ill:
CHICAGO, Dec. 14th, 1876.

DR. S. D. HOWE.

Dear Sir:—Permit me to add my grateful testimony to the array of witnesses to the virtues of your justly celebrated Arabian remedies. For a long time my wife was seriously afflicted with hacking cough, oppressed breathing, soreness of the chest, and constant acute pain in the lower portion of the right lung and under the shoulder blade. Her sufferings were intense, and she became extremely nervous and prostrated. Her disease was pronounced consumption by the physicians of Chicago and other cities, whose prescriptions had been taken without benefit. When you visited Chicago in June, 1876, we called on you, having very little hope of deriving help from your treatment. We were inspired with hope by the skillful manner in which your thorough examination was conducted, and the satisfactory explanation with which you closed your diagnosis. My wife determined to take your medicines in accordance with your plain and practical directions. She began to use the Arabian Milk-Cure and Arabian Tonic; their beneficial effects at once manifested—the cough lessened and soon ceased, respiration became easy, the soreness of the chest was relieved and all pain removed; she began to gain in flesh and improve in strength and appearance. I fully believe that your medicines and skillful advice have saved the life of my wife. She unites with me in this grateful tribute to the merit of your remedies. Very respectfully yours,
JOSEPH E. GARY.

The above letter is only one amongst thousands received from all parts of the United States.

Middlesex and Union Counties Agricultural Association.

By a recent act of the Legislature, the par value of the shares of this Association having been reduced to ten dollars, a sufficient number Additional will be issued to defray the expense of improvements contemplated in the erection of buildings, etc., and for establishing annual Fairs for the Counties of Middlesex and Union.

The Grounds are situated on Park Avenue, at Avon Park.

All who are interested in making the proposed enterprise successful are invited to subscribe.

No call for money will be made until the shares are subscribed, when a meeting will be called to elect a new Board of Directors.

This is a matter of interest to all the citizens of the two counties, and in order to insure a successful inauguration of a Fair in October the necessary number of shares should be taken promptly.

Subscription paper may be found at THE CONSTITUTIONALIST Office.

E. C. PEARSON, Secretary.

AN ORDINANCE
To vacate a portion of Third Street.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

Section 1. That all that portion of Third Street, as now opened, between the northeasterly side of Madison Avenue and a line parallel with Park Avenue passing through a point in the center of Third Street, distant seventy feet at right angles from the center line of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, be and the same is hereby vacated, pursuant to the provisions of the act entitled "An Act to amend the Charter of the City of Plainfield," approved April 4th, 1872.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance whereof the above is a true copy, is now pending before the Common Council of the city of Plainfield; that said ordinance has been read twice and ordered to be engrossed and read a third time; and that it is the intention of the said Common Council to enact the said ordinance.

Notice is further given, that on the 7th day of July, 1879, between the hours of eight o'clock and nine o'clock p. m., the said Common Council will meet in the Council Chamber in said city, and then and there proceed to consider the said ordinance, and all persons interested in said ordinance or owners of property affected thereby, are notified then and there to appear before the said Common Council and show cause and reason why the said ordinance should not be enacted and passed.
WM. E. SMITH, City Clerk.

AN ORDINANCE
To lay out and open Third Street from the Northeasterly side of Madison Avenue to the Southwesterly side of Union Street.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield by their Common Council do enact as follows:

Section 1. That a public street, to be known as Third Street, the center line of which begins at a point on the northeasterly side of Madison Avenue, distant one hundred and twenty-four and thirteen one hundredths feet, along said side of Madison Avenue from the southerly side of the Central Railroad of New Jersey; thence, running in a magnetic course of north, fifty-three degrees and twenty-two minutes east, over lands of Levi Hosford and Catharine Flynn, two hundred and sixty-one and sixty-five one hundredths feet, to a point on the southwesterly side of Union Street, as now opened; said point being distant two hundred and sixty-five and three-tenths feet along said side of Union Street from the northerly side of Fourth Street, as now laid out, and there to end. The width of said street is to be forty-nine and five tenths feet; that is to say, twenty-four and seventy-five one-hundredths feet on each side of the herein-described center line. That this street is to be laid out and opened in conformity with a map made by J. R. & F. A. Dunham, engineers, which map is on file in the city clerk's office, be and the same is hereby laid out and opened, and that the lands and real estate, with the appurtenances necessary therefor, shall be taken and appropriated for the street aforesaid, pursuant to the provisions of the act entitled "An Act to amend the Charter of the City of Plainfield," approved April 4th, 1872.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that an ordinance, whereof the above is a true copy, is now pending before the Common Council of the city of Plainfield; that said ordinance has been read twice and ordered to be engrossed and read a third time; and that it is the intention of the said Common Council to enact the said ordinance.

Notice is further given, that on the 7th day of July, 1879, between the hours of eight o'clock and nine o'clock p. m., the said Common Council will meet in the Council Chamber in said city, and then and there proceed to consider the said ordinance, and all persons interested in said ordinance, or owners of property affected thereby, are notified then and there to appear before the said Common Council and show cause or reason why the said ordinance should not be enacted and passed.

Are You aware of It?

The particular attention of claimants for pensions whose applications have not yet been filed in the pension office, is called to the fact that under the act of Congress, approved January 25th, 1879, pensions will commence from the date of the discharge or death of the soldier; but only a few short months are allowed claimants in which to avail themselves of the benefits of said law, and failing to file their applications within the prescribed period, pension can only commence from the date of filing the application. The importance to this class of at once filing their claims is apparent, as Congress may at the next session lessen the period within which claimants may avail themselves of the pecuniary benefits of said law.

Under the law above referred to, a soldier discharged in 1862, and who would be rated in 1879, at $8 per month, would draw over $1,600 at first payment; but if he allow the limited prescribed time to pass by without filing his claim he loses that amount.

I have the necessary blanks and instructions, and during the coming summer months I can give this matter attention. I make no charge until pension is allowed and the money received thereon, then only in accordance with the labor and trouble in each particular case as the law directs.

THE Johnson Lawn Mower for sale by the agent for this section, Mr. P. Vanderhoef, in McIntyre's building, North avenue, is a good thing, and is meeting with a ready sale.

AN excursion to the famous Water Gap, Aug. 7th, under the auspices of the 1st Pres. Church, has been decided upon and tickets will soon be ready for sale, the price of which will be $1.50.

TWO New York detectives were in this city last Monday looking for a man who had absconded with $28,000 of another person's money. They failed to catch him although the chap had been here.

AUSTIN & CANADA'S Celebrated Combination Minstrel Troupe will give an entertainment in Van Deventer's Hall the evening of July 3d. Grand street parade before performance. See advertisement.

LADIES who contemplate shopping eagerly enquire—"How is the weather signal on the Mansion House?" and shape their plans accordingly. Billy Hedden has the signals flying correct nine times out of ten.

TOM Hood is almost inexcusable for such a description of music as this:—"Heaven reward the man who first hit upon the very original notion of sawing the inside of a cat with the tail of a horse." We never thought that he could have been guilty of such violins (violence).

PIATT WILLIAMSON, who was removed to the Morristown Asylum, a few months since, in consequence of the sudden derangement of his mind, has returned to his home in this city, considerably improved.

NETHERWOOD Hotel furnishes many handsome turn-outs, through its Summer boarders, which attract attention as they pass through our streets in the cool of the evening. Many of the guests also indulge in horse-back riding.

A FINE improvement has been made in the bar room of Chamberlin & Co's Hotel (formerly Laing's). The old bar fixtures of 40 years standing, have been removed and more modern appliances and fixtures put up. Even "Uncle John" says it is an improvement.

PARK AVENUE, from Front Street to North Avenue, is blocked up every morning by the numerous vehicles passing to and from the depot, so that it is sometimes a difficult matter for a driver to thread his way among them, requiring skillful manipulation of the reins.

A PLEASANT time is anticipated by the children of the Congregational Sabbath School this Friday evening, in the lecture room of the church, the occasion being the yearly anniversary of the school. Short addresses, singing, &c., by the children, after which ice cream, cake, etc., will be served.

THE Veteran Zouaves, of Elizabeth, Gen. S. Madison Drake commanding, received a flattering ovation by the citizens of Elizabeth, upon their return home from Albany last Thursday evening, where they had enjoyed a four day's visit. Gen. Drake is to be congratulated upon the success attending the Zouaves on their visit.

THE Netherwood Hotel has more summer guests than it had last season; the young people predominating. It is not the intention of manager Mower to give any public Receptions like last year, as there would not be room for invited guests in the mammoth building. The regular Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening's musical entertainments for the accommodation of guests, will however, be a feature of the season at this popular summer resort. Lander, of N. Y., furnishes music for the occasion.

A HANDSOME three-sheet Bill Board has been placed in front of Van Deventer's New Hall, on Front Street, by Force Bros. It is oval shape, so that posting can be done on either side of it. On the top arch appears the words "Van Deventer's Hall," each letter, sawed out of wood, tacked on the surface of the board, edges painted red with gold face. The builder and designer of the board was R. E. Davis, who is a thorough mechanic, and the painting was executed by our well-known carriage painter, John Dunning. The whole management of construction and painting being left to these gentlemen, we think they have executed a creditable piece of work.

MESSRS. Schepflin, Baldwin, Tweedy & Co. our extensive Clothing manufacturers, have nearly completed all their arrangements for the construction of a large extension to their already mammoth building on Front street. The extension will be erected on the vacant lot purchased by them, between the engine house and their present location. The old revolutionary land-mark, an ancient wooden building adjoining their present manufactory, will not be torn down, but will be removed by Mr. Newton Jenkins to the rear of the lot adjoining the engine house. The extension will be four stories in height, the same as the present factory. The firm will occupy the [illegible] upper floors. It is rumored that [illegible] & Co., furniture dealers, will [illegible] the lower floors.

ALL persons mutilating or posting bills of any description on the bill boards of Force Bros. will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

A FEW more shares left of the Union and Middlesex Mutual Agricultural Association. Who will take them. It is a good investment.

THE Warren Union Mission School propose to hold their usual Summer Picnic some time during the season, and as more or less money is needed and of course eatables of all kinds, all who feel an interest in the Warren Mission are asked to aid them. Contributions of money may be handed to Messrs. E. St. John, C. E. Tyler or James R. Perine, or a postal card addressed to either of them will receive early attention.

THE tramp business is gradually becoming less and less attractive. The vigorous action taken in a number of States, making tramping an offense against law, punishable with imprisonment, has robbed the vocation of many of its charms, and will doubtless have the effect of inducing many of those who had adopted vagrant life as a profession to reconsider their determination, and in future turn their attention to some more commendable method of securing their living, which, proverbially, the world owes to every man.

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement of the Excursion of the M. E. Sunday School, which will occur on Thursday, July 10th, to Oscawana Island, on the Hudson. A special train will leave Plainfield at 7:30 A. M., and connect at Elizabethport with the elegant steamer Long Branch, arriving at the grove about 11:30 A. M., returning, will leave the grove at 4 P. M., enabling the train to arrive at Plainfield befor 8 o'clock. No effort has been spared to make this a very enjoyable occasion. The steamer is so well known that it is unnecessary to call particular attention to it, further than to say thot it has ample capacity for 1,500 passengers, so that no fears of overcrowding need be entertained. The grove (which is just opened as a Summer resort) is delightfully located on an Island in the Hudson, and is amply provided with every requisite for a large excursion party, including swings, &c. Boating, bathing and fishing may also be enjoyed if desired. A large Hotel has been erected, provided with every convenience, where a hot dinner may be obtained at reasonable cost. There is also a large pavillion provided with tables for private dinner parties, and affording ample shelter in case of showers. Refreshments may also be obtained on the Boat, a competent caterer having been engaged. A baggage car will accompany the train and be in charge of a Committee, who will care for all baskets, &c., plainly marked with owner's name, transferring them to and from the Boat at Elizabethport. To add to the enjoyment a band of music from New York has been engaged. Friends of the School are invited to participate in the pleasures of the day.

Personalia.

Jacob Adams, Esq., ex-Fire Commissioner, is spending a few days at the South for the benefit of his health.

We sympathize with Mr. D. D. Vermeule and family in the loss of their youngest son, Percy M., whose sudden death last week is a sad bereavement to them.

The New Plainfield Directory.

The old and reliable publisher of the Plainfield Directory, R. S. Dillon & Co., are now making a thorough canvass of the residences for a work more complete than ever. In addition to the Directory of the citizens, it will embrace all organizations, societies, churches, &c., with their officers and other miscellaneous information. We have not had a regular town Directory in two years and hope this work will receive the patronage it deserves.

Distinguished Guests in Plainfield.

Comptroller Robert F. Stockton, Assistant Comptroller, Maj. E. J. Anderson, who is also one of the Fish Commissioners of the State, and John A. Hall, Governor McClellan's private Secretary, visited our city last Friday, the guests of Gen. Wm. H. Sterling. Maj. Anderson came on official business, distributing a large number of trout fry in the streams in this vicinity. Before their departure they, in company with several of Gen. Sterling's friends from New York and this city, sat down to an elegant dinner at the residence of the latter named gentleman.

Ice Cream by Steam.

Mr. John H. Tier has recently made extensive improvements about his Ice Cream Garden on the banks of Tier's Lake, and the place is thronged night and day by lovers of the delicious cream made by him. He now freezes his cream through steam power, a small engine furnishing motive power to turn the freezers. By this means he can freeze 30 gallons in 18 minutes. Another new idea is that of putting up cream in half pint, pint and quart boxes in the shape of a brick, which are delivered to customers' residences in that form. He will commence running a wagon through the city Saturday evening next. It is worth your while to visit his place and note the improvement, and try his cream.

Honors for Plainfield.

At the recent College Commencement, we notice that several of our High School graduates have come in for a share of honors: Among them we make mention of Mr. Arthur Kimball, who graduated in '72, and who is now in class of '81 at Princeton College. He took the first prize of $60 in mathematics.

Herbert Kingsbury, class of '73, graduated this year at Columbia College, with the honor of Valedictorian.

Mr. Wm. A. Dunning, of class of '74 captured the first prize of $100 in the Sophmore Examination on Constitutional History, at Columbia College.

In the Cornell University last week, Frank Willetts Runyon, class of '76, passed a highly creditable entrance examination.

Mr. S. D. Vere Burr, last week received the degree of A. B. at Rutgers College, an honor that few attain under the circumstances, he being compelled to sever connection with the college before the last year of the course.

Too Noisy.

Sunday afternoon last, officer Dodd intercepted three young men in a buggy at the corner of Front and Somerset streets, who were driving recklessly and uttering foul epithets in a loud voice. Upon their promising to abstain from the same the officer released his hold of the horse's bridle, when the trio drove rapidly off, but continued their boisterous language, and cursed the officer, who, jumping into a vehicle started in pursuit, overhauling them on Prospect avenue. One of the gang, the more sober of the three, alighted, and made for Short Hills. The officer got in the buggy with the other two and started toward the Station House. The one who had caused all the noise, uttered the most blasphemous oaths, and in attempting to wrap the lines about the officer's body, was thrown out of the buggy for his pains. Charley bouncing out on top of him and putting the "nippers" on his wrist, leading him thus manacled to the lock-up. His companion drove away. Monday morning the culprit was brought before Judge Good, who fined him $25, or 30 days in the County Jail. Having no funds he was sent to Elizabeth in the afternoon. His name is Danser, of Rahway. Officer Dodd is to be commended for his capture after such a "stern chase."

IN our article last week about Pound's Fat Rendering establishment, we used Dr. Buckingham's name in connection therewith. It should have read "Dr. Lowery," who is City Physician. Mayor Harper is President of the Board of health.

Ho for the Ocean!

The excursion to Long Branch and Ocean Grove next Tuesday, July 1st, offers delightful health giving recreation to our citizens, and at very moderate cost. Everything will be done to make it an affair of real comfort and pleasure, and the growing popularity of these ocean breeze excursions renders it advisable to secure tickets at once, as the number issued must necessarily be limited.—Leave Plainfield at 7.30, A. M. Tickets only $1.

Fourth of July.

The anniversary of our National Independence, July 4th, 1879, will not be observed in Plainfield by any public demonstration. We learn, however, of many private exhibitions of fireworks in the evening in honor of the event, which will cause our citizens to think that the "Fourth" is not forgotten. The grand centre of attraction during the day, will probably be at Washington Rock House, 2½ miles from this city, where the day will be properly observed. In another column will be found the programme. Some fine trotting on the race track at Avon Park, will undoubtedly attract many thither.

Re-organized.

The members of the well-known "Would-Be Glee Club" of this city, with a number of their friends, met in the parlors of "Gazelle" Eng. Co. No. 1, Tuesday evening of last week, and determined to re-organize the Club under a new name. It was decided that hereafter the name should be "The Would-Be Social Club." The following named gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, David Leeson; Vice President, Fred. McDonald; Secretary, A. V. Kline; Treasurer, Greenleaf Voorhees. The Social Club which now numbers about 50 members, meets the first Tuesday in each month. Arrangements are about perfected for rooms in Coward's new building on Front street to be the headquarters of the Club, which is composed of many of our respectable young men.

The Muldowney Case.

The case of James Muldowney, of this city, convicted before Judge Good, of selling liquor without a license, and to pay a fine of $25 and costs, which he refused to do, and was in consequence sent to Elizabeth jail in default of same, came before His Honor, Judge Van Syckel in the Union County Courts last Saturday. County Attorney Bergen, counsel for Muldowney, made application for the prisoner's release on three grounds—first, that ale and beer, (on the charge of selling which his client was convicted) not being spirituous liquors, Muldowney had not violated any city ordinance; second, that Good did not legally hold the office of City Judge of Plainfield; third, that the commitment was for $28 and costs, while the judgment of the Court only called for $25 and costs. Judge Van Syckel answered that he would overrule the first point; the second, he said, there was something in, but it was not policy for the Court to deal with it at this time; the third point he argued, was well taken, and he therefore discharged the prisoner. Does this make Judge Good's title clear is now another point raised? Judge Van Syckel did not decide that he had a clear title, nor did he say that he had not. Oh! for some vast wilderness to hide in where we would be rid of the questions asked us on the subject.

Athletic Games.

To-morrow afternoon the eighth outdoor sports of the Plainfield Athletic Club will take place on their grounds at 3 p. m., and every evidence has been shown that these gentlemen are determined to make it a successful and entertaining meeting. Those who have attended in past years, will remember the interest they have felt in these games, and we can assure others who have never been present, that they will not regret going tomorrow. Everything possible has been done towards the comfort of the spectators, and there need be no fear that the slightest indelicate word, action or appearance will be allowed upon the field. Carriages will be permitted to drive inside, and those in them may remain comfortably seated and view the competitions. The Grand Stand will be entirely covered, protecting from the sun, but not interfering with the pleasant breeze that these grounds are noted for. The entries number nearly one hundred and fifty of the brightest lights of athletic amateurdom, and to see these gentlemen engaged in their friendly struggles, with their healthy frames, swelling muscles, and straining nerves, all exerting together for a superiority over their opponents, and the many different colors of their suits flashing in the sunlight, is a sight as intensely exciting to manly feelings and womanly sympathies as it is possible to ever experience.

"Dinna Ye Hear the Slogan?"

Quite an excitement was created around the depot about six o'clock last Tuesday evening, the occasion being a slight tilt of arms between our worthy ex-Street Commissioner John Wilson and the notorious John Bete Holmes, of Washington Valley, who, if he had his deserts, would be in a securer retreat than his "mansion" in the Valley. To summarize the affair, (Commencement exercises are more important matters) Mr. Wilson had been attending a trial at Somerville as a witness in the case of Holmes vs. Gorb, the latter having been arrested at the instance of the former on the charge of enticing a laborer from Holmes' farm. There was the usual billingsgate and vile language from John B. in open Court, he calling witnesses and others, vile names, insulting even the grey-haired dispenser of justice, our respected North Plainfield townsman, Esquire James Verdon, and the fusilade was kept up in the cars until they reached the depot in this city. Here Holmes continued his vile language, until "virtue ceased to be a forbearance," and our plucky Scotch representative "went for" "Bute," knocked his hat over his eyes instead of knocking him down, and then retired from the scene. Immediately John B. sought redress at Justice Richardson's office. That functionary being absent, Justice Wadsworth gave it to him in the shape of a warrant for Mr. Wilson's arrest. Constable Wm. Pangborn served the notice and Mr. W. was proceeding quietly toward the Justice's office, when, at the corner of Park Ave. and 2d St., he encountered Holmes, who again uttered a vile epithet. Whereupon the valiant Scotch blood of John again asserted itself, and he grasped John B. by the arm and raised his brawny fist,—but alas, it fell not where it ought to, and he let his tormenter go. At the justices' office a large crowd gathered, and it was thought for a time that scenes of eight years ago was to be re-enacted, when this notorious character was driven from our streets and city, but the crowd contented themselves with hoots and cat-howls. Mr. Wilson gave bonds to appear at court to answer to a charge of assault and battery. Mr. A. Berry became his bondsman in the sum of $100. Mr. Wilson had the sympathy of all upright citizens in the matter, while Holmes had not, we believe, that of the one "friend" he called into the justices' private room to recount his wrongs (?) to. To the credit of Union county, we trust that no such disgraceful scene will be witnessed in Court when this case comes off as that enacted at Somerville court last Tuesday.

THE CLASS.

The first year of the present decade witnessed the first regular commencement exercises of the Plainfield High School. At that time the youths and maidens who last night bade farewell to school life were pondering over the heart-rending tales of the third reader, and getting hopelessly entangled in the intricacies of long division. Reader, learn below what nine brief years and an able, systematizing Board of Education have been able to effect! The class of '79 can now read at sight as high as the fifth reader, and duodecimals have no terrors for them. This class has a strong foreign element in its composition. Of the eighteen graduating, one is from France, two from Scotch Plains, one from "Canada" (sometimes called North Plainfield), one from Westfield, one from the Short Hills, and one from the indefinite locality known as "up the road." The girls predominate (as girls always will) by a score of 10 to 8. Only three of the class have come all the way through from the primary department of their Alma Mater. In intellectual ability, it is maintained by at least eighteen of the Alumni that '79 is superior to every other class that has graduated. All the members are exceedingly handsome. The class is ninety feet long and weighs about a ton. The number of its years is fourteen score years and ten. A clairvoyant, employed by THE CONSTITUTIONALIST at an enormous expense, to read the future of the class, gave forth the following, to us, unintelligible, responses: "In spite of elevated roads, they will always cling to the 'bus car. One is peculiarily frank; beware! for he'll ever be wily; there is a tendency to hector; this will in time become confined to a single individual. A gard'ner and a cooper will not always remain such. Happy the fate of one who shall be vexed by a lion. Though joyous hopes in May I see, I ne'er should say let Cor a B.—Have a care lest old Harry Ketch'em."

~~With this synopsis of the present, past and future of the class, the points of interest in the exercises at the 1st Baptist Church last night may be more clearly understood.~~

The members of the class, with the subjects of their graduating essays are as follows:

MARY L. BOLTON—Norse Mythology.
EMMA L. CADMUS—Unfinished Work.
ANNA DAVIS COOPER—The Sea.
MARY GARDNER—Harmony.
ADELAIDE GILLETTE—The destruction of Pompeii.
ANNA B. GILLIES—Voices of Nature.
CARRIE W. KETCHAM—Whither.
M. ALINE RANDOLPH—School-girls.
JULIA R. RUNYON—Patrons of Art.
CORA B. SMALLEY—The Ballad.
J. D. HECTOR ALLIOT—France.
CHARLES BULLMAN—Lessing said, "If I were given Truth, or the search for Truth, I should choose the search for Truth."
FELIX G. FEZANDIE—Mirabeau.
COURTLANDT P. HULL, JR.—The Sunbeam.
HARRY C. MUNGER—The Knight "sans peur et sans reproche."
OSCAR T. ROBERTS—Martyrs to Liberty.
G. B. TITSWORTH—American Antiquities.
FRANKLIN B. WILEY—New Jersey.

THE COMMENCEMENT.

The audience that assembled to witness the final exercises of '79, found themselves comfortably packed into a very full church, and listening to a rustling of fans like the sound of many voices. The air was hot, and the man who wore a celluloid collar spent all his spare moments in shaking hands with himself as he watched the starch of his neighbor's growing beautifully less. The decorations of the church were simple—only a rustic basket of flowers at each end of the platform. The audience was somewhat apathetic, perhaps on account of the heat. Applause and floral tokens were bestowed with moderation, though not always with unerring judgment. The thankless and somewhat vexatious task of ushering was gracefully and thoroughly performed by the following alumni and former members of the school: Messrs. Dunn, '74, McGee, '76, Buttman, '79, Milliken, '78, Heysinger, '79, Montgomery, '78, and Runyon, '78. The elegant ease with which they handled the great masses of flowers was the subject of numerous comments. The music was by Grafulla, and consisted of exceptionally pleasing selections, rendered in Grafulla's best style. At 7.45, sharp, the class, in all the glory of multiform trains and unwrinkled broadcloth, swept up the aisle and seated themselves at the left of the platform. The Board of Education sat immediately in front of the speakers, and Mr. Gross, in evening dress, occupied a chair on the rostrum, and introduced the parts.

The first speaker announced was a young gentleman with a voice suited to mighty utterances. His theme was "Martyrs to Liberty." In common with several of the other speakers, Mr. Roberts began with classical times and carefully sifted all the centuries down to the present day. He alluded to the apotheosis which was the reward of heroes in ancient times, and found in the lack of honors to heroes, an evidence of degeneracy. The Spartan three hundred, Wallace, Bruce, Hampden, Tell, Winkelried, Hofer, and sundry other martyrs and heroes, real or mythical, were reviewed. The speaker pleaded that the triumphal arch on which history records the names and deeds of her heroes should not be suffered to be covered with the dust of forgetfulness, or disfigured by the scorching sun of criticism. He concluded with a fervent tribute to him who crowns the list of martyrs in liberty's cause, our own Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Roberts declined to respond to a recall, until he perceived that only by so doing could he obtain a number of bouquets, which a shrewd usher had placed on the platform. The flowers were procured and the audience was satisfied.

V. PALMER HULL,

was excused from rehearsing his analysis of "The Sunbeam."

CORA B. SMALLEY,

of Scotch Plains, read an exceedingly creditable essay on "The Ballad." Miss Smalley's enunciation was clear and very distinct, and the persons near the door, who generally pass the time in conversation, stopped for a few moments to listen. Ballad poetry, she said, was the seed from which grew the mighty epics of Homer and Virgil. The Iliad and the Odyssey are but groupings, by a master-hand, of the ballad lays of wandering Rhapsodists. The bards of medieval times, whose songs are yet extant, were a sort of musical tramps. We may deeply regret that the modern tramp has not the social and literary standing of his great predecessor; and the tramp probably regrets it, too. The attempt to deny the antiquity of the Ballad has been fully refuted by the statements of Scott, Tennyson, Woodsworth, and others. Love, literature—life itself, takes its tone from the Ballad.

This young lady evinced great taste and skill in handling her subject, and illustrated her statements by aptly chosen and well rendered passages from Chevy Chace and other celebrated lays.

HARRY C. MUNGER

declaimed on the virtues and valor of the Chevalier Bayard. A biographical subject is a difficult one to manage, unless the hero is the representative of some great living principle. The "chivalry" of which the Chevalier was the ideal type, is of little account now-a-days, though some young ladies admire it intensely, in the abstract. Mr. Munger treated the audience to a clear description of the great knight's strong points. He related how Bayard on one occasion held at bay 2,000,000 of the enemy (those figures seem somewhat large, but that is the way we understood it) till assistance came. The conclusion of the oration was a comparison of Bayard with Sidney, in which the latter came off second best.

There are undeveloped possibilities in this last speaker which a different theme might discover.

JULIA R. RUNYON,

the next name on the programme, was excused.

ANNA D. COOPER,

of Westfield, now saluted the Principal and the audience, and in her first sentence gave evidence of a rare treat to follow. She proclaimed herself a pupil of "The Sea." She listens to the voices of the waves. She descends to the depths and views the dwelling places of the sea nymphs, veiled from sight by "those beauteous folds, which, though sparkling with gems, hold treasures yet more rare." No handiwork of man is there, "nature is in her native purity." The speaker continued with exquisite imagery to depict the beauties and delights of the deep. Her fancy brings to view a fairy land, with strands of pearl, and vocal with the music of the shells. Her mood changes. She hears in the murmurs the story of loved ones who lie wrapped in a drapery richer than that of earth's proudest kings. The sea is heartless; the wave laughs as it refuses to give forth its secrets. The sea is benevolent; it sends the sunbeam, laden with a drop of water, to carry refreshing to all the flowers of hill and plain, enabling them to cheer all things with their loveliness.

Miss Cooper proved herself the possessor of a rich imagination and diction of a high order. Her production, taking into consideration all points of composition and delivery, was undoubtedly the best of the evening.

EMMA L. CADMUS

spoke in a pleasant, didactic style of the "Unfinished Work" that is continually presenting itself to our notice in every department of human affairs. Even in the blanks and missing links in examination papers of the Plainfield High School the presence of this inevitable feature manifests itself. Miss Cadmus typified the incompleteness of a life-work by the empty derrick which spreads its useless arms on the towers of a noble but unfinished cathedral. In drawing the lessons from unfinished work, the speaker developed the ingenious idea that Chaucer purposely left the Canterbury Tales unfinished to point the moral of all life's incompleteness.

The essay was carefully written, and its effectiveness was enhanced by the dignified bearing of the reader.

The hit of the evening followed the appearance of

M. ALINE RANDOLPH.

Her theme was an ever interesting one—school girls. The piquant, sparkling grace of the young lady created the impression that part at least of her remarks were auto-biographical. She contrasted the condition of the school-girl of Andromache's and Penelope's time, with the astronomy-and-geometry-haunted girl of the present day. Her epitome of the qualities of the average school-girl of to-day is worthy of the eternal marble,—"A lover of learning, a daring, dashing flirt, a plodding, earnest worker, a happy medium, a slangy, hap-hazard, self-indulgent, thoughtless girl." Miss Randolph by an ingenious turn, brought a modern school-girl into the presence of Socrates, and the racy replies of the maiden to the grave questions of the famous philosopher, formed the most diverting episode of the exercises. The essayist's summation of the attainments of the modern school-girl was—in Astronomy, sufficient to make a sleigh-ride interesting by star-gazing; in physiology, enough to recognize a distressing neuralgia acquired by exposure to a damp air in attending a party which social relations made necessary. Her music would not "raise a mortal to the skies, or bring an angel down."

Quotations will give no idea of the irresistibly funny tenor of the essay, which was brought out strongly by a natural, unaffected delivery.

This production was followed by the oration of

FELIX G. FEZANDIE,

who chose for his theme, "Mirabeau," the Demosthenes of the French Revolution. An eloquent tribute was paid to the man, who, reared amid the aristocracy, lent himself to the cause of the people. Mirabeau and Gambetta were contrasted, the former being ideal, the latter, practical as well. They represent different stages of French republicanism.

Mr. Fezandies' oration betokened a thorough understanding of the leading principles of French politics, and marked him a staunch republican in that respect. His delivery was earnest and, though somewhat affected by the French accent, nevertheless very effective.

The last of the young gentlemen to occupy the rostrum was who rehearsed the history and proclaimed the glory of "New Jersey." In a polished style he sketched her settlement by "the fair-haired Swede and the phlegmatic Dutchman"—her career of territorial acquisition, accomplished, as in the case of no other states, by fair means—her revolutionary record, glorified by the names of Trenton, Princeton, and Monmouth—and her subsequent unblemished history. In the list of her famous sons we may note the names of Morgan, Pike, Stockton, the erratic Burr, the heroic Lawrence. The speaker held up to view the advantages of situation possessed by the "Garden State," lying as she does so that every impression of the "Quaker City," every throb of the Metropolis, makes itself felt in her life. He entered a manly protest against the slanders of those who, "moved by local prejudice and gangrened by state jealousy," continue to hold her in contempt.

Mr. Wiley's effort will probably carry off the palm among the young men, for elocutionary merit, as that of Mr. Fezandie for depth of thought and soundness of judgment.

delivered the valedictory address in a swelling "Harmony." This young lady has long enjoyed the reputation of a consummate pianist; and her successes in scholarship have equalled those of her musical genius. As she spoke the parting words to-night, the thoughts fell from her lips with all the melody that is wont to mark the dainty tripping of her shapely fingers over the ivory keys. Her subject was aptly chosen. The harmonies of school-life were touched upon, now about to melt away into the mystic murmurs of memory. The chords are broken; but to those through whom their various notes were blended into melody, all grateful thanks are tendered. To the Board of Education, whose efforts deserve an honored recognition by the community,—to our Principal, whose hand has struck the keynote by which the varying chords were tuned to one harmonious strain,—to all our teachers, whose patience and sympathy forgave our many faults, we speak a last farewell. [illegible] there is none whose memory makes a sweeter [illegible] the name of Miss Bulkley, than whom we have had no kinder teacher, no truer friend. And now, my classmates, for you remains the saddest parting word of all. The melody of our happy school days dies away; but to our listening ear there comes a grander music,—the music of the future. Life is but the passing of the seasons. As spring is the keynote of Nature's song, deepening and broadening as succeeding seasons roll, so in youth we strike the keynote of all our future life. May that note be an earnest, joyous one, so that in manhood's noon [illegible] wondrous modulations shall glow [illegible] the very poetry of music; and in a serene old age, the joyous harmonies of youth, and the fuller tones of maturity shall blend in faint, sweet murmurs, to die away in a last weird echo as the "Psalm of Life" is finished.

After the applause, tears, and bouquets with which the valedictorian's words were greeted, had subsided, and the last notes of "Mignon" had melted into the evening air, a profound silence ensued, and expectation and some small boys near the door were on tip-toe to catch the names of the prize scholars. His Honor, Mayor Harper boasts the merit of being a man of few words; otherwise the nerve tension among the competitors might have resulted fatally. The fortunate scholars as their names were announced, came forward with faltering steps and an air of distrusting their good luck.

The following are the awards:

Stillman prize in Mathematics; offered by Dr. C. H. Stillman, to that member of the senior class who passes the highest examination in all the Mathematics of the course:

1st prize, $15 in gold,—Mary Gardner.
2d prize, $10 in gold,—Geo. E. Vincent.

Brown prize in Composition; offered by Mr. E. M. Brown, formerly of this city, now of New York, to that scholar of the High School writing the best English Composition:

Prize, $20 in books,—Winfield S. Angleman.

Honorable mention,—Franklin B. Wiley, J. D. Hector Alliot.

Committee of award: Col. M. W. Tyler, Rev. Dr. K. P. Ketcham, Wm. J. Leonard.

The following extract from the letter of the committee speaks for itself: "The committee report recommending as worthy of honorable mention, for the astronomical knowledge and research in it and especially the remarkable proficiency in the use of English language which it shows, the essay entitled "Evening calls among the Stars," by J. D. Hector Alliot, who has studied English but for six months and has been in attendance upon the school for too short a period to be regarded as a regular competitor for the prize."

Prize in Spelling; offered by Mr. Jacob Kirkner, to that scholar of the Grammar School passing the highest examination in spelling:

Prize, a handsome book,—Charles S. Baldwin.

Honorable mention,—Victoria Hand.

Prize in U. S. History; offered by Mr. J. W. Murray to that scholar of the 1st class, Grammar School, passing the highest examination in U. S. History:

Prize, a handsome volume,—Alice G. Williamson.

Honorable mention,—Mary L. [illegible].

Prize in Botany; offered by Mrs. [illegible] to the scholar of the 2d class, High School, showing the greatest proficiency in science; this year assigned to Botany:

Prize, $25,—George M. Kirkner.

Honorable mention,—C. Frank Goddard.

Committee of Award:—Wm. M. Stillman, B. S., of Rutgers College, Frank Tweedy and D. L. Thompson, of the Torrey Botanical Club, N. Y.

The happy recipient of this botanical prize announced through Mr. Kirkner his desire to share the prize with his less fortunate rival. The arrangement was promptly agreed to by the latter, and a ten dollar bill found its way into his pocket, amidst the applause of the interested spectators.

When his Honor's words had found a final resting place in the minds and the prizes a secure position about the persons of the prize-takers, the badges of the Star Roll of Honor were presented, with appropriate remarks, by Mr. J. W. Murray. The Star Roll embraces the names of those pupils who have stood on the monthly roll all the year. As the qualifications for the monthly roll are perfect deportment and an average in scholarship of over 9 out of 10, it will be readily understood that the "Star" badge means something. Especially honored are those who have secured the trophy for two successive years.

STAR ROLL OF HONOR—ONE YEAR.

Emma L. Cadmus, Mary Gardner, C. Palmer Hull, Jr., May M. Grace, Louisa F. Ketcham, Lizzie Gardner, Foster Milliken, C. Frank Goddard, L. Ashley Grace, Charles W. Sandford, M. Lillie Newman, Heyward Cuthbert, Harry L. [illegible], Leonard W. [illegible], Florence M. Clark, Mattie Breen, Victoria Hand, Carrie B. Lowrie, C. Lee [illegible], Percy C. Stewart, Emily A. Williams, Wallace L. Serrell, Carrie Tingley, E. Louis Wain, Frederick W. Wain, Harry A. [illegible], Nelson T. Hull, Herbert W. Ford, Arabella Hartpence, Theodore J. Gillies, Florence D. Fuller, Clarence [illegible].

TWO YEARS.

Cora B. Smalley, E. Henry Depew, Laura A. Randolph, Mary E. Robinson, Augusta A. Quaas, Frank B. Heysinger, Irving Daniel, Alice B. Holmes, Florence G. Hawkins.

The graduating class now filed into the space in front of the platform, and received their diplomas from Dr. Stillman. The Dr's brief remarks were of great value to the graduates, and were uttered in a tone of confidential communication. He said:

YOUNG LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:—You have now completed the course of study of the Plainfield Public Schools. Indeed, it has been step by step from infant years, to this auspicious anniversary when we make public recognition of faithful service by giving each of you the well merited diploma.

Through the twelve long years required, you have plodded through Summer's heat and Winter's cold, your often weary and tiresome way to our halls of Science. There we watched over your early efforts; we rejoiced with you in success and sympathized with you in failure. No efforts have been spared to smooth the difficulties of your way. Skilled and faithful teachers were provided, and though times have been hard, salaries have not been reduced. The city of Plainfield has indeed been famous through the State for its liberality in providing so generously for the free education of its children.

To me, personally, these anniversaries are a source of the highest gratification. More than thirty years of my life have been devoted to the supervision of these schools, and I may point to you, young ladies and gentlemen of the graduating class, with the pride of the Roman matron and say, "These indeed are our jewels."

Young ladies and gentlemen, our most earnest and anxious wishes are that you may be happy and successful in whatever sphere duty may call you, and that our diploma which you now receive from me may be an honor as long as you live.

The class of '79 was a thing of the past—a memory—a happy dream. The severed classmates now performed their last united act. The notes of the class song arose from throats that choked and lips that quivered. The words are by Mr. Wiley:

Not wholly thoughtless of earnest endeavor
Come we, this evening, to utter farewell;
Strong are the ties that this parting will sever,
Long will regrets arise, These cannot quell.

Beams of the future, though, brighten the present,
In their fair promise each shadow is gone;
Glimmering faintly, fades youth's waning crescent,
Full orb'd maturity's day-spring comes on.

Distance may darken the scenes we have cherished,
Feelings may alter, and pleasures depart;
Youth will remain, when its blossoms have perished,
Fresh in each fancy, embalmed in each heart.

In the long vista of years yet before us,
Hope reveals garlands we'll gather, elate;
Actions will spring from resolves, until o'er us
Deeds make an [illegible] of "Time, Our Estate."

A very decided improvement over former Commencements was observed in the matter of the class song. It was accompanied on a piano by a player who was familiar with the music, and the air was no mighty strain by a polysyllabic German, but a simple melody of exquisite sweetness. This is as it should be. A class song will never be a complete success so long as it is sung by the whole class; for class feeling can never compensate the inability to strike the right note at the right time. But it is a long step in the right direction when simple music is chosen and a familiar accompanist is substituted for a quartet of assorted players whose able efforts seem devoted to the total obliteration of all traces of vocal participation.

The audience was dismissed to "Pinafore" music, a happy idea, and one which caused many a fond couple to yearn for more room, that nimble feet might beat the auto-biographic time of "Dear little Buttercup."

THE RECEPTION.

One of the several points in which this year's exercises at the church showed a decided improvement over preceding commencements, was the length of the programme. People who had been accustomed to remain in their seats in a semi-comatose condition till 11 o'clock, were delightfully surprised to find themselves dismissed at 10 o'clock from as enjoyable a treat as they ever experienced. This will account in part for the large number who availed themselves of an opportunity to be "received" at the same time with the graduates. A galaxy of pretty girls, with a modicum of useful young men, under the auspices of '77 and '78, had been busy all day decorating the school hall, and the result of their labors as disclosed in the evening was a most tasteful display of floral ornamentation. Besides the garlands that drooped in festoons about the wall, two urns on the floor furnished odorous turning posts for the promenaders. The walls were hung with pictures and adorned with handsome brackets holding what Mrs. Partington calls "articles of virtue." The scene from 10.30 to 12 o'clock was most animated. Every spot that could by any stretch of courtesy be called a seat, was occupied, while the middle of the floor was filled by a never quiet ring of promenaders, who were constantly put to the exercise of their utmost agility in avoiding the total wreck of some fair one's train. Flitting about among this miscellaneous concourse of alumni, under-graduates, teachers, members of the Board, substantial citizens, "Star" pupils, with their Murphy badges, and a large assortment of the unclassified, were the wearily-smiling members of the receiving classes, bearing glad tidings of great joy in the shape of cake and cream. The band on the platform discoursed excellent music, and took its refreshments with perfect equanimity. Every one seemed happy, and the success of the Reception was proclaimed by every feature of the scene that struck the eye or ear. If, as Mr. Gross said, "The consciousness of duty successfully performed is like a rainbow in the soul," the souls of the Misses Dunn, Holmes, Smith, Winslow, and others must be like Joseph's coat for assorted hues.

The Reception crowned and completed as happy and successful a Commencement Day as Plainfield has ever known. The class of '79, the classes of '77 and '78, Mr. Gross, Miss Bulkley, the Board of Education and the citizens at large of Plainfield have reason for an interchange of congratulations such as could never be surpassed in heartiness and fervor.

An Important Measure.

The board of Fire Commissioners have held two private caucuses, or meetings, the past week, to consider the matter of what should be done with the steamer of the disbanded No. 2 company. Chief Doane, however, who is ex-officio member of the Board, failed to receive any notification of the caucuses, which was a flagrant breach of etiquette. Petitions were sent to the Board, in the interest of the members of the late Company, asking that a new Company be formed from among their old members and the steamer turned over to them. Others, signed by many prominent citizens, petitioned that the steamer be sent to "Warren" 3 Co. in North Plainfield, to take the place of their hand engine. It was justly claimed by this move the department would be saved the sum of at least $500 a year, the "Alert" Hose Co. taking the house now occupied by the steamer, which is department property, while the building now occupied by Alert is leased for the purpose. At the first meeting the Board stood 3 to 3, at the second meeting Mr. Murray being absent it stood 2 to 3 in favor of forming the Company on this side of the brook from among the old members of 2. The controversy became so warm on the subject as to cause Commissioner Murray, who was in favor of the retrenchment, to offer his resignation, which was laid upon the table. The regular meeting of the Board occurs next Wednesday evening, when, we presume the matter will be definitely settled.

COMMUNICATED.

MESSRS. EDITORS;

In the recent driven well case in Iowa (Andrews vs Harvey) in which the complainant applied for a preliminary injunction, Judge Dillon, before whom the case was argued, peremptorily refused to grant the same, and took occasion to say openly on the Bench, "that in concurring in the opinion of Judge Nelson in the case against Wright in Minnesota he had grave doubts about the patent, and that he advised Wright's Attorney to appeal, and wondered that they did not do so." It will be remembered that Judge Dillon is the first Circuit Judge to pass upon the matter, and his decision has been looked for with much interest. All that is needed in this matter to secure success, is that all persons interested make a determined opposition to Green's demand for royalties. A.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY.—To Ella A. Webster and Frank M. Webster, Administrators of Nelson Webster, deceased.

By virtue of an order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein William H. Laing is complainant, and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainant, on or before the Twelfth day of August next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by Sheppard L. Stewart to William H. Stewart, Administrator of Abel Laing, deceased, dated June 1, A. D., 1872, on lands in the city of Plainfield, and you Ella A. Webster and Frank M. Webster, are made defendants, because you are the Administrators of Nelson Webster, deceased, and by virtue thereof hold encumbrances on said lands.

Dated June 11, 1879.

NEW JERSEY'S FAVORITE.

No railroad on the continent of America is more popular than our own Central. Within a comparatively few years it has risen from a dwarf to a giant, and to-day it has no superior, if an equal, in successful management. It has passed through vicissitudes, but is now rising from its troubles. It never lost, and therefore has not to regain, the confidence of the public. It has been of immense benefit to our city, and it is a matter of rejoicing to all who join in any evidences of prosperity to know that its stock recently touched 54, the highest point reached since the decline. Many of our citizens are interested in this, because many of them hold shares, and the Central's prosperity was always theirs. It is not of this we wish to speak. All are not stockholders or directors of the road, but all are more or less interested in its welfare. The condition of the road was never better, nor its facilities for the transportation of passengers and freight more complete. At this time everything is being put in order for the Summer campaign. Cars are being repainted, new ones are being constructed, and everything done that can be done to conduce to the comfort and happiness of thousands who travel over its lines. And all this, too, without accident, for on what line of travel do less casualties happen? Last summer tens of thousands of men, women and children were carried from distant parts of adjacent States to Long Branch, Ocean Grove, etc., and where did a loss of life result? This season the road has additional responsibilities on its hands, and in the lease which it recently took of the Southern Railroad, new facilities are offered for reaching New Jersey's great camp-meeting resorts. The road from Sandy Hook to Toms River, and even beyond, is being greatly improved, and the result will be an increased amount of travel. The fine steamboats Jesse Hoyt and St. John are being thoroughly overhauled, and a person need want no more delightful sail than through the "Narrows" from New York to Sandy Hook. Extensive preparations are being made to accommodate the thousands who will attend the Monmouth Park races in July. The Park has been fitted up and improved, and is now the most extensive race course in the country, and with the new arrangement of the Central, by which cars land passengers direct at the gates, in little more than an hour's ride from the city of New York, and a less time from this city, will find persons enjoying the sports of the turf. The Central does all this and more. Its route to Schooley's Mountains, a famous resort, is much preferred to the tedious way of reaching that place a few years ago. Everything connected with the road is first-class, not forgetting its accommodating and polite conductors. A few days since Superintendent Moore, Assistant Superintendent Stearns, and the other officials connected with the road went on an official tour of inspection the entire length of the newly-acquired territory, from Long Branch to Toms River, and expressed themselves highly pleased with their trip. Some of the party had never been in that section of the State before, and predict a successful season for the Central. Mr. W. W. Stearns, as he formerly so ably done, manages the Long Branch Division in a creditable manner. The trains are to be increased, and every facility afforded the public in their efforts to seek health and happiness.—Elizabeth Herald.

HOME ENTERPRISE.

Spend your money at home. Your mechanics are your neighbors and your friends; they stand by you in sickness—are your associates. Without your trade they cannot keep up business.—No stores then, no one wanting to buy property to settle on, and build up your place.

It is your home, you cannot improve it much by taking your money away to spend or invest.

There is no way of improving a place so much as by encouraging good mechanics, good schools and good people to settle among you, and this cannot be done unless you spend your money at home.

Spend your money at home for there is where you get it.

Spend your money at home, because when it is necessary to get credit it is of your own town merchants you have to get it, they must wait for the money, spend it at home.

Spend your money at home. It will make better business for the merchants; they can and will keep a better assortment and sell at lower rates than if the only business they could do is what is credited out, while the money goes to other places.

Spending your money at home is the only way to make your town prosperous. Get your groceries, dry goods, boots and shoes, clothing, etc., at home and show a little interest in home enterprises.

Get your printing at home. It can be done as cheaply and much better than is usually done by the runners of establishments who try to undermine their neighbors, and in a few months fail and pay 0 on the dollar.

Extract from a young lady's letter—"And do you know, Maud and I are quite sure that Captain Popple had taken far too much champagne at the ball, for he took out his watch and looked hard at the back of it, and then muttered: "Blesh my shoul! I hadn't any idea it was that time o' night."

Another boy murdered. They all called Lewis S. Miller, aged 13 years, nicknames, and so Lewis ran into the house, seized the shotgun and fired into the crowd. Charles Norris, a lad, was instantly killed, and there are two wretched families in the little town of Rohrsville, Washington County, Md.

A man coming out of a Texas newspaper office with one eye gouged out, his nose spread all over his face, and one of his ears chewed off, said to a policeman who interviewed him, "I didn't like an article that 'peared in the paper last week, an' I went in ter see the man who writ it, an' he war thar."

Mr. Charles K. Landis, of Vineland, has been granted a divorce on the ground of desertion. This is a startling sequel to the killing of Carruth his wife's defamer.

It has been discovered that young men are more bashful in summer than in winter. You can't get some chaps within fifty yards of a girls during the ice cream season.

Colonel McDaniel's chestnut filly, Lulu P., sired by Harry Bassett one year ago, died at the farm, at Princeton, on Tuesday of last week, from breaking her jaw while being halter-broken.

Reform is necessary. There must be more lemons and less water in this season's picnic lemonade.

Smalley's Defiance Asparagus.
NEW VARIETY.
The merits and claims of the "Defiance," are as follows: It is earlier, a larger grass, softer, more tender, free from wood, the flavor sweet and very delicate, far superior to all other varieties; it will produce double that of the "Colossal" and can cut it longer. It will continue to grow longer than any other sorts. It has been tested for the past three years. I know my roots and seeds to be strictly pure, as I am the sole originator of it; shall not put any seed in the market this year, as I intend planting it myself. It is the best Asparagus grown, either for private use or for market. [illegible]
ABRAHAM SMALLEY, Bound Brook, N. J.
We, the undersigned, have tested the above variety of Asparagus, and unhesitatingly recommend it as all that is claimed for it; in fact it is a marvel in the shape of this delicious vegetable: Hon. Alvah A. Clark, John H. VanCleef, John F. Babcock, Geo. W. Ribble, John F. Staats, [illegible]

LEGAL NOTICES

SHERIFF'S SALE.—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between John Smalley, complainant, and Jacob M. Stiger, et als., defendants. Fi. fa., for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias to me directed, I shall expose for sale by public vendue, at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on at two o'clock, p. m., of said day, all that tract or parcel of land and premises, hereinafter particularly described, situate, lying and being in the city of Plainfield, in the county of Union, and State of New Jersey, bounded as follows:

WEDNESDAY, THE TWENTY-THIRD DAY OF JULY, A. D., 1879,

Beginning at a point in the cross-road (from Centre avenue to Short Hills by Elkanah Randolph's) and corner of Clawson's land, and runs thence along her line north three degrees and forty-five minutes west, fourteen chains and forty-four links to the line of Martine's land and a corner of Clawson's; thence with Martine's line north eighty-nine degrees and five minutes west twelve chains and twenty-three links to the line of Manning Stelle's land; thence south one degree east fourteen chains and sixty-two links to the middle of the aforesaid road; thence with the middle east twelve chains and ninety links to the place of beginning; containing eighteen acres and twenty-two one-hundredths of an acre of land more or less. Excepting and reserving from and out of the above description, three and one-half acres of land in the northwesterly corner of said tract, heretofore conveyed by Gideon Wooden, in his life time, and now owned by Susan M. Compton.

The above mortgaged premises being a portion of the property of which Gideon Wooden died seized.

Also excepting and reserving therefrom the following described tracts of land which have been released by the complainant from the lien of his said mortgage, viz:

The first tract—beginning at a point in Martine's line, being a corner in the northeast side of Orchard street; thence with Martine's line easterly one hundred and twenty-five feet more or less to Clawson's line; thence with Clawson's line southerly about two hundred feet more or less to lot No. 5; thence with lot No. 5, westerly one hundred and twenty-five feet to Orchard street; thence with Orchard street two hundred feet to the beginning. Being lots Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 in block C; and was sold to Joseph C. Randolph, April 1, 1878.

The second tract—Being all that lot situated on the east side of Arlington avenue, formerly Orchard street, or Wooden Place; known as lot No. 12, on block C, on Stiger's map of Wooden place, being fifty feet front and rear, and one hundred and twenty-five feet deep from the eastern edge of Arlington avenue to Clawson's line, and was conveyed to George T. Young, September 18, 1878.

The third tract—Being lots Nos. 18 and 19 on the east side of Rose street, and the north side of Randolph road, in block B, on map of J. M. Stiger's, [illegible]

[illegible] easterly side of Rose street, one hundred feet to a corner of lot 17; thence easterly and at right angles with Rose street and along line of lot 17, one hundred and twenty-five feet; thence southerly and parallel with Rose street one hundred and eight feet, more or less, to a point in Randolph road; thence westerly along Randolph road one hundred and twenty-five feet, more or less, to the place of beginning. Being lots Nos. 18 and 19 in block B of said map. Also the land in front of the above described premises to the middle of Arlington avenue and Rose street. The 4th, 5th and part of the 6th tracts were conveyed to George T. Young by deed dated October 1st, 1878.

The eighth tract—Being lot No. 30 as shown on Stiger's map. Beginning at a point in the centre of Arlington avenue, said point being distant three hundred and sixteen and five-tenths feet from the intersection of the centre lines of said Arlington avenue and Randolph road; thence running south eighty-six degrees and thirty-three minutes west, at right angles with said Arlington avenue one hundred and fifty feet to a point; thence north three degrees and twenty-seven minutes west and parallel with Arlington avenue fifty feet to a point; thence north eighty-six degrees and thirty-three minutes east and parallel with the first mentioned line one hundred and fifty feet to a point in the centre of aforementioned Arlington avenue; thence south three degrees and twenty-seven minutes east along the centre of said Arlington avenue, fifty feet to a point and place of beginning; and was conveyed to John C. Runyon by deed dated April 1st, 1879.
